BANKING COMMISSION GETS UNDER WAY

FRANK JOPLING LEADS IN POINTS AT JUNIPER ISLE

TANNER GETS OAK CUP.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Stoney Lake Regatta held on Monday afternoon at Juniper Island registered another success in the long list which are year by year added to the records. The high wind restricted the attendance considerably as neither Upper Stoney Lake nor Lower Stoney Lake was represented. Proportionately the entry list was especially large in the male and mixed mixed events. The ladies' single events only brought three entries in each case.

The regatta committee was on the job and the events were run off with surprisingly little delay.

The judges were Messrs. Gordon K. Fraser (chairman of the committee), J. R. Dodworth (secretary), J. W. Renwick and Clark Acton. The announcer was F. W. Jones and the starter was Gordon Hall, who spent the afternoon in a state of perpetual motion as his craft was tossed up and down by the heavy wind. An excursion from Peterborough and a large delegation from Chemong augmented the crowd. Passing years alter the list of competitors and this year's program with its group of young people who are making a name in athletic events, some of whom are taking part in adult athletics for the first time constituted the difference between this and other years.

The points prize was won by Frank Jopling of Chemong who was high man at last year's regatta. Ruth Gouinlock, a former junior regatta champion, was the high girl. Frank had thirteen points and Ruth eleven.

Wins Oak Ridge Cup

The Oak Ridge cup is a handsome trophy to boys of sixteen years and under for a long paddle A large number entered but only fully obeyed the instructions in regard to round the red buoy off the "Y" Camp and to him (Charlie Tanner) was awarded the trophy which is eagerly sought by the boys.

The mixed tandem canoe race was run in heats and was a particularly good race. Fouling was rather rare this year which was remarkable with the high wind.

Mrs. Morris kindly consented to present the prizes. J. M. Gouinlock announced the winners of the events.

Mary MacPherson and partner

Farm Laborer Is Injured About Chest

HASTINGS, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—John King received painful injuries to his back and chest on Friday afternoon while repairing a binder while employed on the farm of Alfred Metcalfe. King and Mr. Metcalfe were both working at the binder when in some manner a key became loosened, letting the binder down, pinning Mr. King beneath. After some difficulty Mr. King was released and at once taken to Hastings, where he received medical attention.

Too Much

CHICAGO, August 8 (C.P.).—As a taster of soup George Ververka was busy, because that's his business.

A canning company pays him a salary for tasting soup.

But, his wife, Jeanette, charged in a bill for divorce, when she set down a plate of her own soup for him to eat, he looked at it and shouted:

"What, more soup?"

It was after that, she alleged that he picked up the plate and threw its contents in her face.

Accused Waiting in Dark for Prowler Opens Fire as Victim Flees.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 8 (C.P.)—Shot in the back by a householder who mistook him for a prowler, George Lammond, 22, 7 Paradise Road lies in hospital here to-day with a bullet wound in his back. It is expected he will recover.

The shot is alleged to have been fired by Evan Thomas, 438 Dundurn, who it is said mistook Lammond for a man who had been prowling about his garage for some time. Thomas is being held by authorities on a charge of "shooting with intent."

The shooting is said to have occurred before dawn to-day. Mr. Thomas had retired when he was awakened by a noise of someone moving about in his garage which fronts on the lane near his residence.

It is reported that Thomas phoned for police then went to investigate for himself. When he reached the garage he heard someone run away. The police arrived and searched the building. There was a gasoline can and a syphon which, it is thought was intended by the prowler to take the fuel from Mr. Thomas' car.

Started to Run

Mr. Thomas is then said to have returned to bed and within a few minutes a noise was heard again in the vicinity of the garage. He is then said to have arisen and gone into the lane armed with a .22 rifle. The youth saw Thomas and shouted "Don't shoot mister." Lammond was ordered to follow Mr. Thomas

FRIENDLY NOTE SENT TO ITALY

Germany Assures Effort Will Be Made to Stop Austrian Incidents.

BRITAIN WATCHES.

LONDON, Aug. 8 (A.P.). — The Italian Government has received assurances from Germany that every effort will be made to put a stop to such incidents as the dropping of propaganda leaflets from aeroplanes over Austria and the broadcasting of attacks on the Austrian Government, it was learned to-day.

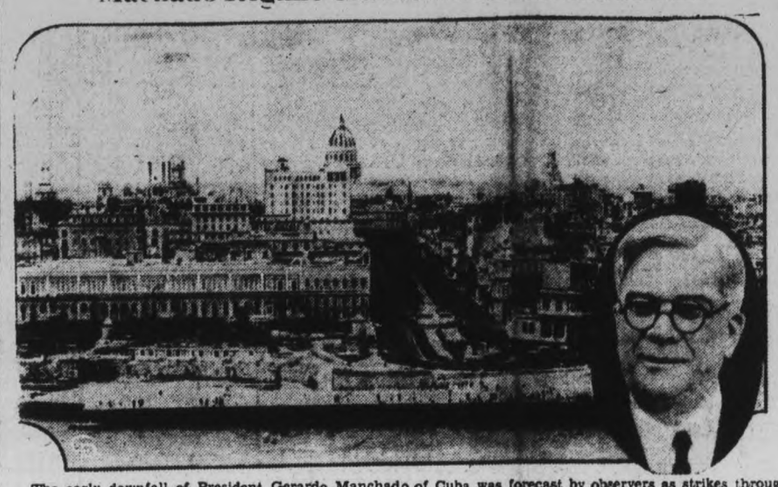
Italy approached Germany in a friendly way last week on the subject of Austro-German tension.

Yesterday the British and the French made representations to the Berlin Government on the same topic. In usually well-informed quarters it was said to-day that Great Britain is sitting back waiting to see if anything further develops.

The British Government, it was said, knew that verbal assurances had been given to Italy before it raised the question in Berlin yesterday. That action was taken merely to indicate British interest in the matter, informed sources asserted.

Britain now is waiting to see that the assurances are kept, it was explained, and is overlooking the German communique of last night which described British and French interference as inadmissible under the four-power peace pact. The view of the British is that this communique was intended only for internal consumption in Germany.

Machado Regime Cracks When Havana Strikes



The early downfall of President Gerardo Manchado of Cuba was forecast by observers as strikes throughout Havana reached the proportions of a major political crisis. Havana virtually was paralyzed as laborers of all classes joined transportation workers in what began as a bus strike and developed into a mass demonstration against the Machado regime. ABOVE is a general view of Havana harbor and the Cuban capital with picture of President Machado, inset.

TORONTO PAIR TAKES HONORS DINGHY EVENT

McClean-Connor Boat Leads Field in Crowe's Landing Regatta Race.

LARGE ENTRY LISTS.

Reg. Dixon, 1932 Olympic Representative, is Easy Victor in Canoe Sail.

(By a Staff Reporter.)

CROWE'S LANDING, August 8.—A dinghy piloted by William McClean and Claire Connor of Toronto from Sturgeon Lake crossed the finish line a winner by five boat lengths in the dinghy sail at the Crowe's Landing Regatta on Saturday afternoon. A field of ten raced in the sail, the premier event of the regatta.

The contest was over a six-mile distance made up in two laps over a three-mile quadrangular course. Allan Woodcock and Jack Morris of Stoney Lake headed a closely packed field over the finish line for second place. A stiff breeze providing excellent sailing conditions prevailed.

From the standpoint of competition the regatta was one of the most successful in years. Almost every event was heavily contested with as many as fourteen entries in some of the paddling and swimming events. Although a large contingent from Chemong was on hand and figured here and there in the prize-list, they failed to take their usual number of prizes against the native talent of the Crowe's Landing district.

An Easy Victory.

Reg. Dixon, Canada's sailing representative at the 1932 Olympics in Los Angeles, proved an easy winner in the canoe sail. In a field of four craft, he crossed the line with a one-third mile lead over Perrin Rork of Crowe's Landing, his nearest rival, Turner Chapman, followed Rork to the finish 300 yards behind for third place, nosing out Dan Star on the last leg.

The race was three miles, once around the course. Some clever handling of the tricky little craft was demonstrated. All four entrants were Toronto men.

By a margin of about one-third of a mile, Gordon Matthews piloting the Bootlegger from Chemong won the sloop sailing event. With clever strategy, he and his crew piled up an increasing lead over the Cutty Sark, Ellsworth Flavelle's craft from Sturgeon Lake, from almost the starting gun. The Skidley of Chemong with Jimmy Matthews at the helm gave the Cutty Sark a good battle for second place but failed to head it after it lost an advantage early in the second lap.

Heavily Contested.

The crab race was one of the most heavily contested events of the day. Twelve competitors zigzagged their way over the 200-yard course in their bow-heavy canoes, providing a highly amusing spectacle for the onlookers. Perrin Rork of Crowe's Landing, a crab race champion of numerous other re-

Blank Cartridge Turns Out To Be Live One Blows Hole In Bottom Of Starter's Boat

JUNIPER ISLAND, August 8.—The next time Gordon Hall, 532 Weller Street, of Peterborough acts as starter at a regatta, he is going to make sure his gun isn't loaded with live cartridges.

Mr. Hall officated with a heavy shotgun at the starting line of the Juniper Island regatta yesterday. The last event had been run and he decided to fire off a couple of "blanks" he had left, pointing the shotgun at the bottom of the motor launch in which he had been working. It seems that one of the cartridges was not a blank and the load of heavy buckshot blasted the bottom out of the stern of the craft.

The launch sank despite efforts to dry dock it and Mr. Hall scrambled to safety. The owners of the launch, the Stoney Lake Cottagers' Association, doubt if it will be worth while raising it as it is of an old vintage and has given many years faithful service.

FAMOUS FRENCHMAN FORESEES NON-STOP WORLD PLANE FLIGHTS

Limited to 10,000 Miles Until Electrically Driven Motors Are Used.

—OR OIL FOR FUEL.

PARIS, Aug. 8 (A.P.) — Louis Bleriot foresees a plane capable of encircling the globe without stopping.

And Louis Bleriot should know whereof he speaks. From the memorable day in 1907 when he made a successful flight at Issy he has occupied an important place in French aviation. He designed the Joseph Le Brix in which two compatriots, Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, flew from New York to Syria and set what may be a new non-stop distance record.

He was happy as a child about the Rossi-Codos exploit. Their plane, he said, was built on the same basic principle as the machine in which he flew across the English Channel 24 years ago—the first man to accomplish that feat.

"No plane can compete with the record of the Joseph Le Brix," he maintained.

"With more than 800 hours of flying time, and fully loaded, it withstood violent tempests and beat successively the world's duration and distance records.

"I think the earth will be encircled non-stop, either by a craft using a heavy oil or as soon as a means is found for utilizing electrically driven engines.

"At present, however, I think non-stop flights are limited to 10,000 miles."

Beach Tragedy

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (A.P.).—Chief Inspector John J. Gallagher of Queen's received a report to-day that 15 persons had been drowned at Rockaway Beach.

Inspector Gallagher said he had no information of the nature of the drownings, but presumed a boat had capsized. He left Queen's police headquarters immediately with a detail of police.

NINE MEN SAVE THEIR VILLAGE

OVER 100 FLEE.

GRANDON, Wis., Aug. 8 (A.P.).—A village was saved from Destruction because nine men flatly refused to leave their forest fire fighting posts, but dozens of fires continued to menace property to-day in widely scattered sections of Northern Wisconsin and the uppper peninsula of Chigan.

When a fire swept through the village of Nelma on the Wisconsin-Michigan State line in Forest County yesterday, 100 persons were forced to evacuate, but nine men remained. They hauled a pump to the Brule River, and for two hours played streams of water on the houses and business structures as the flames swept up to the edge of the village, then with a roar sped over lawns and across balsam thickets to the other side.

Police here to-day were given information concerning what were described as "the city's meanest thieves." Thieves, police were told by several unemployed men, have been making nightly raids upon the gardens in the north-end of the unemployed. Probe No Reflection On Canadian System Says Lord MacMillan

REPORT WILL BE MADE AS HUMAN DOCUMENT NOT TECHNICAL TREATISE SAYS CHAIRMAN

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.—(CP)—"While a sound banking system is one of the most valuable of national assets, it is not itself productive; it is merely the subject of production and distribution," declared Lord MacMillan, chairman of the Royal Commission on Banking and Currency, launching today the inquiry to be conducted by that body in Canada.

Appointment of the Commission was no reflection upon the Canadian banking system, Lord MacMillan declared, and he proceeded to speak in the highest praise of the system that had so happily withstood the unprecedented demands of the recent world difficulties. He took some racial pride in the suggestion that some of this success might be due to the similarity between the Canadian and Scottish systems, and the prevalance of Scottish blood among those who guide the destinies of Canada's banking institutions.

"J. A. McLeod in his two briefs on the history and working of the Canadian system, also took pride in the successful stand of the banks of the Dominion had taken against the depression and business stagnation.

"There has been no failure of a Canadian bank during the past ten years," said Mr. McLeod, "and in the depression years the banks have been fortunately free from confidence-destroying rumors and runs." This was due largely, he said to the facts that the system operated under a single legislative authority, free from hampering detail controlled as to size and strength, and to the smooth and orderly distribution of banking funds under the branch system.

Human Document.

The report of the Royal Commission on Canadian banking and currency will be a "human" document and not a technical treatise suitable only for those versed in the language and science of the profession. This was the assurance given by the chairman, Lord MacMillan, at the opening hearing in the Senate Railway Committee room today.

Given Two Months For Stealing Wheat

Having pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing 15 bushels of wheat from a neighbor's barn in Asphodel Township, Albert Hie, of Westwood, was sentenced to-day to two months in the county gaol by Police Magistrate Langley. Hie said he sold the wheat to the Norwood elevator for $11.00.

Carl Nicholson, no fixed abode, had a brief but glorious career here, according to police. Nicholson, police explain, posed as a big road operator and had hired several large gangs of men to work on his imaginary road construction jobs. That was all right, but Nicholson did not stop there. He is alleged to have cashed several forged cheques. He pleaded guilty to-day to cashing one such cheque on J. C. O'Carroll. Other counts will be laid against him, and he was remanded until Saturday.

Gang Leader Held In Nash Shooting

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—(AP)—Federal authorities announced today they were holding Louis (Doc) Stacy as the man who plotted the attempted delivery of Frank Nash, a convict at Kansas City, and that they had learned the identity of the gunmen who killed five persons in the attempt.

Melvin H. Purvis, chief of the United States Bureau of Investigation here, disclosed that Stacy was arrested on a federal warrant issued at Kansas City charging conspiracy to deliver Nash.

Purvis named Verne Miller, notorious South Dakota outlaw, as one of the gunmen who killed Nash and four police officers in a wild shooting fray at the Union Railway depot in Kansas City. He said the other gunmen were known to federal authorities.

Strike Spreads and Political Situation Darkens—President Refuses to Resign.

(By John P. McKnight)

HAVANA, Aug. 8 (A.P.)—Strife-torn Cuba to-day counted the cost of a widespread strike in terms of a mounting death toll and a tense political situation complicated by demands for President Machado's resignation and his efforts to re-establish peace by armed force.

Machine guns and heavy guards at public buildings were withdrawn after upwards of 20 persons were killed and 120 wounded during a demonstration last night which followed a report that Machado had resigned, but hundreds of army reserves were held ready in their barracks to-day for any emergency.

The ABC opposition society had broadcast a report that the President had agreed to withdraw, whereupon thousands rushed into the streets in an hilarious mood. Thousands gathered at the Capitol. Fifty uniformed policemen hurried to the scene, to be joined by mounted officers.

In a blaze of rifle, pistol and submachine gun fire scores fell, dead or wounded. Similar scenes occurred in other parts of Havana, and demonstrations in which several were killed took place in nearby towns.

Almost immediately Machado appealed to the nation to "defend the Republic's independence at all costs," and declared his government had always been well disposed to-

Fractured Ankle While Moving Shack

Cherney and McIsaac had loaded the shack on Cherney's truck and were transporting it along a lane on the east bank of the Otonabee River below the waterworks. In going up a steep grade on a railroad siding, the heavy load slipped back on the truck causing it to stall and lifting the front wheels in the air. McIsaac climbed out on the front of the vehicle in an attempt to bring it back to an even keel. His effort failed, and in jumping clear he landed on the railroad tracks, twisting his ankle so severely that he suffered a compound fracture.

Dr. A. Moir attended him and he was removed last evening to hospital.

Despite the heavy holiday traffic on all roads about the city, police reported to-day that there were no accidents. Highway Patrol Officer Hornick reported one case of speeding and another of reckless driving. It was a very quiet week-end so far as city police were concerned.

BALBO ARMADA OFF FOR AZORES OVER ATLANTIC

Plans Brief Halt Before Heading For Lisbon and Rome.

WEATHER FAVORABLE.

SHOAL HARBOR, Nfld., Aug. 8 (C.P.)—The Italian air armada was out over the Atlantic to-day, bound for the Azores on the fourth leg of the homeward flight to Italy.

Confident of completing the 1,500-mile hop in about 11 hours, General Italo Balbo led the 24 flying boats off Shoal Harbor at the break of dawn. He lifted his plane from the water at 2.45 E.S.T. and the others followed gracefully. The entire squadron was on the wing at 3.10.

The weather was fine and clear with a light westerly wind as the bird-like machines disappeared off the coast and reports from the Azores were considered favorable.

Previous plans for flying direct to Ireland had been abanadoned because nearly two weeks of waiting had failed to bring reports of favorable conditions along the route. The armada had been here since July 26 when it arrived from the Century of Progress Exposition by way of New York and Shediac.

Lisbon Next

After a brief stop at the Azores, General Balbo intends to press on to Lisbon, thence homeward to Italy to be honored with the title of Air Marshal by Premier Mussolini for his achievement in bringing the squadron safely over the hazardous northern Atlantic route to Chicago and capturing the spotlight for Italy at the World's Fair.

Honors are also in store for the General's 96 brave aviators. Although it was rumored that one man was to be taken out of each plane for the Atlantic flight, the full crews were carried with an extra pilot in the General's machine.

Bright and early this morning, the crews were standing by their

FROM BROOKLYN AIRPORT.

BROOKLYN, N.A., August 8 (C.P.). — Two Polish-American brothers, Benjamin and Joseph Adamowicz, who hope to fly from New York to their ancestral country, Poland, took off from Floyd Bennett Airport early to-day on what they said was merely a "test flight" to Harbor Grace, Nfld.

Airport attendants believed, however, that there was a strong possibility they might continue on across the ocean with or without a stop at Harbor Grace.

Taking off unexpectedly at 5.06 a.m. (E.S.T.) without making any announcement of their intention until just before the nopoff, they took more than 500 gallons of gasoline with them, attendants said.

Previously they had announced they would not make the transatlantic hop until the third week in August.

Their big monoplane "White Eagle," powered with a 300 horsepower motor, was formerly "The Liberty," in which Otto Hillig and Holger Hoirlis flew to Denmark two years ago.

Emil Birgen, another pilot, accompanied the two brothers, it was learned. They did not announce whether he would accompany them on the eventual hop across the ocean.

The Adamowicz brothers are short stocky and uncommunicative men who have evinced more interest attending to their plane than to talking about themselves or their plans. They live in Brooklyn and have been making preparations for the transatlantic flight for several days.

$1,000,000 BLAZE SWEEPS CORNWALL

One-Sixth of City's Downtown Section Lies Mass of Ruins

Thirty-One Stores And At Least 15 Apartments Counted Among Wreckage—Montreal, Ottawa Rush Aid As Whole Town Is Threatened.

6 CITIZENS, FIREMEN HURT DURING BATTLE; HUNDRED HOMELESS—STARTS IN GARAGE PIT

(By J. F. Sanderson, C.P. Staff Writer.)

CORNWALL, August 8 (C.P.). — "Cornwall will come back again," exclaimed Mayor Aaron Harovitz as he stood back with hundreds of people to-day viewing the charred and twisted remains of a solid block of fire-razed business places and apartment houses. One-sixth of the city's business section was destroyed by a fire that broke out midday yesterday without loss of life, but with damage close to $1,000,000. To-day Cornall started on the "come back" trail.

Three firemen, Chief George Hunter, Deputy-Chief Gory Moore, and Arthur Conliff were overcome by the dense smoke that billowed up from the 31 business places, eight homes, and at least 15 apartments that were burned. Each man returned to his post after first-aid treatment. Three other persons were injured. Harry Plumley, attempting to remove his mother from a blazing apartment house, tumbled down a flight of stairs, but escaped with minor injuries; Leo Caron, a telephone lineman, fell from a half-burned pole some hours after the fire, his head being cut deeply. Mrs. Robert Hill, one of a milling crowd of thousands that thronged the downtown section was bowled over by the runaway faucet of a hoseline that ripped away from a hydrant. She was washed 100 feet along the street by the force of the water, but her injuries were not serious.

According to police and firemen, the blaze started in a pile of rubbish behind a garage on Pitt street owned by R. J. Rursey. Fanned by a west wind, the flames jumped to the oil-soaked garage and to the gaunt, frame Victoria Skating Rink front on Third street. In a matter of minutes the blaze was beyond control, darting and leaping from building to building.

Outside Assistance

Reinforced by pumpers from Ottawa and Montreal, Cornwall firemen fought the blaze for five hours, finally gaining the upper hand, but not before the entire downtown section had been threatened.

Every available hose line in the city was brought into play and finally the flames were conquered. To-day Cornwall gazed on twisted, charred wreckage of most of the block bounded by Pitt, Second and Third street. Along Pitt street north from the post office and the brick-walled Royal Bank, every building was levelled to Third street, west on Third street, several residences on the north side and ten business places and eight homes on the south side, were razed before the flames burned themselves out.

Yesterday was Civic Holiday here or probably there would have been a serious loss of life in the stores and offices. Most of the business places were topped by apartment houses, but every occupant escaped without injury. At least 100 people were made homeless.

KING CONCLUDES TOUR IN RIDING

Hopes Means Will Be Found to Settle Railway Dispute.

TOUR ALBERTA.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Aug. 8 —(CP)—After a strenuous fortnight in his constituency, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader today left for Saskatoon. There he will speak at the Jubilee Celebration of the Saskatchewan Exhibition before motoring to Wilkie, Sask., for a night meeting.

Last night the Liberal leader addressed a great farewell mass meeting here on the anniversary of the day on which he handed in his resignation as Prime Minister three years ago.

It was also the 14th anniversary of his being selected leader of the Liberal party, and Mr. King seized the opportunity to thank his fellow Liberals and the people of Canada for the help given during those years. His services were at call as long as they were required.

He expressed the hope that means would be found for averting a general strike of the railways of Canada, and drew attention to the fact that statutory methods exist for adjusting disputes between capital and labor.

The Liberal leader will make a brief tour through Alberta before returning East. He will also address two or three meetings in other parts of Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Huge Wave Sweeps Down on Denver as Dam Breaks

Here is a remarkable picture of the huge wave that broke through the business section of Denver, Colorado, after Castlewood dam had broken during a cloudburst. The flood which threatened the entire city drove more than 500 people from their homes and did damage estimated at $1,000,000. The torrent advanced on Denver in an 11-foot wall of water, carrying tons of trees and wreckage and carrying six bridges before it.

CAMPBELLFORD REMEMBERS ITS WAR DEAD ON DECORATION DAY

Rev. J. L. Hughes of Peterborough Makes Passionate Plea For World Peace.

Church Challenges World.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Ex-servicemen and citizens of Campbellford and Seymour Township on Sunday afternoon honored their war dead when the annual decoration day was held under the auspices of the Canadian Legion. Commencing with the decoration of graves in the local cemeteries, the parade was formed at the Armouries, under the command of Major J. M. Bygott, V.D., and President Reg. McCulloch, and headed by the band of the Northumberland Regiment, under the baton of Acting Bandmaster Jim Mitchell, marched to the Cenotaph, where wreaths were deposited at the base of the memorial, and a service held, at which the guest speaker was the Rev. J. L. Hughes, rector of St. George's Church, Peterborough.

The service was conducted by the Rev. H. P. L. Seymour, pastor of St. John's United Church. Campbellford, the prayers being led by Captain Pedlar of the Salvation Army. The Rev. Mr. Seymour read the lesson, the band leading in the singing of the hymns, which were congregational. The Last Post, the two minutes' silence, and the Reveille were observed, the band also playing the traditional Scottish dirge, "The Flowers o' the Forest."

Comrades of the Legion met at the Armouries at 1 p.m., and in a convoy of cars, donated by Campbellford citizens and arranged for by Comrade Harry Redden, visited the three town cemeteries and deposited flowers on the graves of veterans, both old and new, which had been marked with Union Jacks.

The following comrades, who were buried in France, but to whom headstones have been erected to their memory, were also remembered: Fred Massie, Ferris Stewart, Lieut. G. U. Dolman, Lieut. G. Durran, M.M., D.C.M., C. Potter and Lieut. Walter Govan.

Burnbrae.

Graves of departed returned men in Burnbrae cemetery were flagged and decorated by Comrade Wallace, the Warkworth cemetery being looked after by comrades from that point, who afterwards motored to Campbellford to participate in the service at the Cenotaph. Comrade Frank Ruttan looked after the graves in Trent Bridge cemetery, where Comrades Frank Pollock and Charles Cowan are buried.

SAY PACT NOT INVOLVED

BERLIN, Aug. 8 (A.P.)—Germany has told Great Britain and France that their interest in the German-Austrian impasse is not welcome.

British and French Ambassadors handed the German Foreign Office identical notes saying German propaganda activities in Austrian politics violated the spirit of the four-power peace treaty, and were advised that meddling in the situation was "inadmissable."

The Berlin Government, the envoys were told, fails to see any reason for applying provisions of the pact the three nations and Italy recently signed in Rome, and why they should interfere in the present situation.

An official communique did not mention the Italian stand, but merely said the Italian Ambassador was not on the Wilhelmstrasse yesterday, and pointed out that Germany had not violated provisions of the accord.

"Germany considers the incident closed," the statement asserted.

The representations arose from the circulation of pamphlets by Nazi aviators attacking the Austrian Government under Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss and broadcast speeches in Germany of a like character. These moves, the British and French Governments hold, are not compatible with Germany's obligations under the Versailles Treaty, in which Germany agreed to respect Austria's independence, nor with the four-power agreement for European peace.

REGINA OFFICER SHOT TO DEATH

Constable Mowed Down as He Questions Skulkers Near Warehouse.

BUSH COUNTRY COMBED.

REGINA, Aug. 8 (C.P.). — The Royal Canadian Mounted Police last night went into action in a determined effort to exact justice for the slaying of Constable George Lenhard, ruthlessly shot down by three unknown assailants as he patrolled a city beat.

Zealous performance of his duty led to the shooting of Lenhard. Suspicious of the actions of three men loitering in the shadow of a north side warehouse, the constable approached the trio to question them. Passers-by heard three shots and found the officer mortally wounded. He died shortly after in hospital.

Search for the unknown killers last night extended to the brush country surrounding the city where police believe the trio fled after the shooting. A fair description of the slayers was obtained from Donald Campbell and Miss Leona Anny who were driving nearby at the time of the shooting. They saw two of the men run east and the third disappear to the west.

LARGE ENTRY AT KAWARTHA PARK REGATTA

Madeline Charlton and Douglas Zimmerman Are Leaders in Point Honors.

KEEN CONTESTS.

KAWARTHA PARK, Aug. 8.—(By Staff Reporter).—With twenty-five entries in the crab race and as many as twenty in several other races, a new record for regatta competition was set up at the Kawartha Park regatta Saturday afternoon. Swimmers and paddlers gathered from the length of the Kawartha shore, from the Kawartha Boys' Camp and all sections of lower Stoney Lake, for the big event which shared the spotlight of the day, with the Crowe's Landing regatta on upper Stoney Lake.

Signal honors were awarded to Madaline Charlton, of Lakefield, as the grand champion of the day of aquatic sport. With a total of 17 points awarded on a basis of three points for a first prize, two for a second and one for a third, she was given a cup donated by Edward Ship, of the Ryrie-Birks-Ellis Company, for annual competition. Douglas Zimmerman, of Toronto, was a runner-up with 15 points.

Keen Contests.

An excellent standard of sportsmanship prevailed and all of thirty-six events on the program were fought to a finish by the many contestants. Despite the length of the schedule, the regatta was completed within two and one-half hours. A contingent of young athletes from the Kawartha Boys' Camp across from the park, under the leadership of Doug. Loomis, added zest to the day.

One of the features was a tug-of-war between a crew of husky lads from the camp and a crew representing the park shore. In two war canoes linked by a stout rope, the two groups strained their muscles in defence of the honor of their respective shores. It was a long pull, but the Kawartha Park boys managed to tug out a decision.

A mixed canoe race and a mixed skiff race for the older people at the regatta, who were eligible only if they had won no other prizes during the afternoon, were successes. Each race drew a dozen entries and the younger crowd of competitors were shown a thing or two about the art of paddling and rowing. Joy Jamieson and Ken Dawson won the canoe event, followed closely by Florence Adams and Doug. Loomis. The skiff race was won by Dr. and Mrs. George Zim-

ATHENS, Greece, Aug. 8.—Authorities at Cyclades informed the Greek Government to-day that Italian naval officers had hoisted the Italian flag on the Greek islets of Cynaros, Mavria, Garos and Dyadi,—claiming the islands in the name of the Italian Government.

The protest from the Prefect of Cyclades said an Italian torpedo boat and destroyer were cruising in the region when there landed a company of men and claimed the islets were Italian territory.

The Government had given permission for the Italians to make soundings for ocean charts in the region.

FRENCH FLIERS LAND IN SYRIA

Record is Broken by 594 Miles by Two Frenchmen.

IN AIR 57 HOURS.

(Associated Press Cable)

DAMASCUS, Syria, Aug. 8.—The aeroplane Joseph Lebrix, piloted by the Frenchmen Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, landed at the Military Airfield at Rayak, 79 miles from here, at 6.10 o'clock last night, Greenwich Mean Time (1.10 p.m., E.S.T.), with the proud claim of having shattered the world distance record by about 594 miles.

The aeroplane, which left New York on Saturday morning, crossing the Atlantic, passing over Paris and Central and Southeast Europe, was in the air 57 hours.

The French airmen abandoned their plan to fly to India because of the more rapid consumption of gas than had been anticipated, which was thought to be due to evaporation in the unusually hot weather.

Make Fine Landing

Reports received here, said Rossi and Codos made an excellent landing and still had gasoline in their tanks when they came to earth.

While flying over Latakia, Syria, the Frenchmen sent a message which said:

"In one hour we will land at Rayak as the result of very abnormal gasoline consumption. Nevertheless, the Joseph Lebrix, despite 1,000 hours of flight and eleven departures with full loads, has linked New York and Beirut in 55 hours. Long live French wings! Long live Syria! Long live France!"

Worn out by the intense heat, the fliers shed their flying clothes immediately upon reaching Rayak, bathed and then went to bed.

They sent telegrams to their wives in Paris telling of their arrival, but forgot officials and everyone else in their haste to retire.

HYDRO REDUCTIONS HASTINGS VILLAGE

$320.00 Saving in Total Cost of the Street Lighting System.

HASTINGS, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—The local Hydro Commission received the following Hydro reductions on Saturday. The taxpayers will receive the benefit of a big reduction in the street lighting cost. One-hundred watt lights have been reduced from $29.00 a year to $24.00, and 200-watt from $38.00 to $30.00. This will mean a saving of $320.00 for this year as the reduction dates back to January 1st this year.

Domestic lighting has been reduced from 6c for the first 50 hours to 5c for first 45 hours, with 2c for the remainder, with a minimum bill of $1.75 a month.

Commercial rates are 5c for 100 hours' use of installed capacity, 2c for remainder. The old rate was 6c for first 100 hours.

The local Commission intend getting some of the hot water heaters that the Hydro are now installing free of charge.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

NOW THAT PETERBOROUGH housewives are busy preserving fruits and vegetables and home canning is at its height, the consideration of containers is timely.

* * * * * * *

Of prime importance is the tight fitting of jar tops. This comes with secure fastening down of screw and clamp tops.

* * * * * * *

The correct adjustment of the metal part of clamp tops when they get out of shape through expansion and usage is something every woman who does canning should know.

* * * * * * *

The metal can be made to fit like new, if it is removed from a jar and the top part, which goes over the cover, is pressed firmly down in the centre.

* * * * * * *

To do this, grasp the sides of the metal so they will not spread and with the thumbs press down the centre piece of metal until it is straight, not curved. Replace the metal on the jar being careful to avoid this top portion from curving.

* * * * * * *

The metal will now work with the desired little click when partially clamped down over the glass cover, and give another little decided click when fully clamped down. Be sure to hold the metal as described.

* * * * * * *

The rubbers which are put about the jar tops and which come between jars and covers must have good elasticity. Old rubbers which have lost this elasticity will probably fail to keep contents of jars airtight because they have lost their resistance.

* * * * * * *

To test a rubber, it can be stretched to twice its width of circumference and then released. If it goes back to its original size of circumference, it is all right to use.

* * * * * * *

Foods should not be canned in jars which are cracked even though the crack is not sufficient to cause leakage. They may break with handling, and the contents be lost since any possibility of there being even one sliver of glass in the contests makes it hazardous to eat the food.

* * * * * * *

Jars which have chipped rims on the outside can be used if the part is not so deep that it prevents covers fitting securely.

In treating colitis, several forms of the disease must be considered. One is spastic colitis, which sometimes becomes mucous colitis, and the other is ulcerative colitis.

Before the treatment of mucus colitis is started, it is advisable to try to find the cause. This sometimes lies in dietary indiscretions or the habitual use of purgatives. Sometimes the general bodily form induces it; very frequently mental states, and nervousness, and an excitable, emotional condition will induce it.

The general indications for diet in these cases are, first, to irritate the colon as little as possible; second, to keep the general nutrition of the patient at par; and, third, to provide adequate elimination. No one single diet can be prescribed for all such cases. Some patients have to have an absolutely smooth non-irritating diet. The essential feature of this is that coarse foods with fibre, seeds, skin, and gristle should not be allowed, nor should salads, tomatoes, pineapple, cucumbers, raw fruit or too much sugar. Frequently, however, one meets the patient who, on this smooth, non-irritating diet, does not obtain enough elimination, and fruits and salads have to be added. Drugs should play little part in the treatment of the disease, and purgatives and laxatives absolutely withheld.

In the treatment of ulcerative colitis, dietetic regulations play an important part. There have been some modifications of our views within the last few years. Whereas formerly we gave an absolutely non-residue diet of late years it has been found that a high vitamin content of the diet is valuable. Therefore, tomato juice and cod liver oil, oranges, orange juice and lemonade are sometimes added.

The use of acidophilus milk is also beneficial in both these types of colitis. Careful studies have been made upon the number of bacteria in the intestines before and after using acidophilus milk. The milk, if properly given and sufficiently potent, will usually change the putrefactive organisms into a more beneficial aceturic form. It also reduces fermentation and gas.

In the atonic type of colonic disease—ordinary atonic constipation—which is usually symptomless and produces few, if any, changes in nutrition, the type of diet should be entirely reversed. A diet consisting of an increasing amount of roughage in the form of fruit, bran, and green vegetables, and sometimes accompanied by mineral oil, is indicated. Salads and such vegetables as contain a large amount of fibre, such as cabbage, celery, radishes, corn and all fruits are beneficial. The use of bitter chocolate, as advised by Cannheim, has been recommended as being extremely helpful in the correction of constipation. Three or four ounces should be consumed daily for this purpose. The patient is given one and one-half ounces in the morning before breakfast, and a similar amount at bedtime, to be followed by three or four ounces of water.

WHAT CAN NORTH MAKE AT SPADES?

Yesterday we saw South bid and make just 4-odd at hearts, with his partner holding the cards now shown in East's hand, and those now shown North being in East's hand. With the rearranged hand bidding would go: South, 2-Hearts; North, 2-No Trumps, to show absence of quick tricks; South, 3-Hearts; North 3-Spades; South, 4-Spades. The opening lead must be the K of diamonds. After which East may lead what he pleases. How many can North score against any strategy?

Suppose East's second lead is a winning diamond, to force the strong hand to trump. Play may go as follows: Trump with dummy's ♠; declarer will lead a low heart, and trump the trick. Lead back a heart, and let declarer trump. Lead a club. Win with dummy's K. Lead a heart for declarer to trump. Let dummy trump declarer's last diamond.

The declaring side has won 7 of the 8 tricks played. Declarer and West hold 2 spades each. The dummy has no more spades, but it contains 3 high hearts, the Ace of clubs and one losing club. Opponents cannot win another trick. Lead a good heart. If West discards either a diamond or a club, North will discard one of his 3 small clubs and this process will continue as long as West makes discards. At the end the declarer's J-9 of spades will pick up West's 7-4 of spades. If West trumps a heart, at any stage of proceedings, North will over-trump and pick up the last spade held by West. He has West in a grand coup position from which there is no escape from allowing the declarer a small slam.

In case the second lead by East is a trump, instead of a diamond, that spade lead is just what the declarer himself made at the fourth trick, after dummy had been ruffed by a second lead of diamonds, and declarer had led and trumped the lowest heart from dummy. The declarer will have dummy trump two diamonds, thus clearing his own hand of that suit. The declarer will trump three of dummy's hearts thereby establishing three good hearts in dummy, just as was done in the first case, when East forced dummy to ruff a second lead of diamonds. Step by step the declarer and dummy will repeat the movements described in detail, with the dummy ruffing the second diamond lead. The result will be a small slam.

If East leads a club, instead of having dummy trump a diamond at the second trick, a small slam will result from taking the steps followed with the trump lead by East. After that first lead of diamonds a small slam cannot be avoided.

BE BEAUTIFUL

BY GLADYS GLAD.

Karen Morley, that well-known screen star, who usually plays the sophisticate so perfectly, says that she always keeps her astringent bottle in her ice-box. Karren believes that all astringents and skin tonics, to have a proper refining and tonic effect, should be cold when applied. And there's a good bit of wisdom in her words.

Of course, no skin lotion of any sort should be cold enough to shock the nerves or chill the skin. But just as cold water is more stimulating than warm, so an astringent or skin tonic is more effective in its results when cold than when tepid.

During the summer, a properly cooled astringent is especially necessary. For the heat of this season is inclined to enlarge the pores, induce the exudation of excess perspiration and oil, and relax the skin. A good, cool skin lotion tends to counteract these effects of the summer heat, and to cool and refresh the skin.

The woman whose skin is abnormally oily is the one who has the greatest need for a good astringent during the summer. For the heat usually aggravates the moistness and oiliness of such a skin. There are, of course, a good many effective astringents for the use of oily-skinned individuals now on the market. But I've recently discovered a new one that is not only refreshing, but is also effective in refining enlarged pores and in correcting an oily or flabby skin condition.

To prepare this lotion place one and one-half ounces of strained cucumber juice, one ounce of cologne water, and five ounces of elderflower water in a bottle, and shake the combined ingredients thoroughly. Then add to this half an ounce of tincture of benzoin, and again shake the mixture. There will be some precipitation of benzoin in this mixture, but it may be strained out through cheesecloth.

An astringent lotion of this type of course, should be used only after the skin has been thoroughly cleansed. It is not generally advisable for use on a dry, sensitive skin. But it is highly recommended for toning up an oily, coarse-pored, flabby skin. If you possess this latter type of skin, try the astringent I have described, and see if it doesn't have described effect if it doesn't help to keep your skin looking firm, cool, and fresh during the heated days of summer.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

Face.

Jackie: Facial exercises are effective for rounding the face. However, they can prove harmful if incorrectly done. It's best to do them only as prescribed by an expert.

Blonde Hair.

D.E.M., E.D., and Betty: The special shampoo and rinse designed to help keep blonde hair light are too long to describe here. However they are described in my "Beauty Culture" booklet. This booklet also contains the remedy for your skin problems.

Cosmetics.

V.B.: I think that a soft peach shade of powder, soft orange rouge, and light lipstick would blend well with your coloring.

Blonde Hair Rinse.

Rita: The blonde hair rinse is made by adding the juice of one lemon, one tablespoon of vinegar, and one tablespoon of peroxide to a pint of clear water.

ASSISTED IMMIGRATION OPPOSED BY NATIVE SONS

OTTAWA, Aug. 8.— (C.P.)—Entering the second day of its sessions of the 12th annual convention, the National Assembly of the Native Sons of Canada met here again this morning with representatives present from the various provinces, discussion will be given further to subjects affecting the Dominion.

Already the convention has gone on record as opposed to assisted immigration to Canada. With native-born Canadians in many parts of the country seeking work, speakers yesterday a. the initial sitting were in accord in voicing opposition to any policy of assisting immigration.

Of those who came to this country without assistance through government, railway and steamship services, the convention expressed no objection.

"One hundred per cent Canadianism" was the slogan of the delegates who have addressed the meeting to date. The three-day convention will close to-morrow.

DON'T TRIFLE WITH COMMON CONSTIPATION

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brings Relief

Constipation gets its grip on a person almost unawares. It often starts with such little things. Headaches. Listlessness. Bad complexion. Unpleasant breath. If unchecked, it may seriously impair your health.

Fortunately, you can avoid this danger by eating a delicious cereal. Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides two things needed to overcome common constipation: "bulk" and vitamin B. ALL-BRAN is also a rich source of iron for the blood.

Biological tests demonstrate that the "bulk" in bran is similar to that in leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much better than taking unpleasant patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Serious cases, with every meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

IMMIGRATION NOT OPPORTUNE.

The opinion of Edward W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that "the time is opportune for Canada to enter upon a definite policy of immigration, particularly from Great Britain" must be based upon keener perception of immediate improvement in Canadian business than the lesser optimists possess. It will certainly receive no endorsement from the thousands of Canadians who are out of work and desire no additions to the ranks of job seekers until their own imperative need has been filled.

Mr. Beatty knows the ships of his company and other lines are leaving Canadian ports with deportees and other men and women of comparatively recent immigration from the British Isles, happy in the prospect of return to the homeland, and while that trend continues any encouragement of immigration under existing conditions would be opportune only for the steamship companies, and Hon. Mr. Rhodes' comment that the Beatty idea has not entered into governmental discussions is only what might be expected in the circumstances. Money is more seriously needed for assistance of Canadians than of newcomers.

Immigration is extremely desirable in a young country like Canada providing it can be smoothly and immediately absorbed by industry. The hope of everyone should be that the day of a fresh influx from Great Britain will not be long delayed.

F. G. SANDY'S SUGGESTION

F. G. Sandy, ex-M.P.P., suggests in a letter to The Examiner that the erection of rural Hydro power lines might be undertaken as an unemployment relief scheme. He points out that the Provincial Government already grants as a bonus to farmers fifty per cent. of the cost of the power distribution lines, and also mentions that further financial assistance would be available under the Government's assumption of part of the cost of unemployment relief work.

Mr. Sandy expresses the belief that by combining the advantage of both these contributions from the provincial funds rural power rates would not be higher than the charges to urban consumers.

"This would be an investment of relief money that would not only lessen unemployment but would increase the comfort and happiness of the oppressed agricultural population," Mr. Sandy observes.

It would also return to farmers direct benefits from the large sums expended in relief which they have been helping to pay for three years. Premier Henry in his address at Bobcaygeon last week acknowledged the large part which the rural citizens of the province have borne in meeting the cost of direct relief and unemployment projects, huge sums that have been mostly distributed in the cities and towns. From the Premier's statement it might be expected that the Government would welcome any practical proposal that would provide for farmers' permanent utilities corresponding with the relief schemes that have been carried out in the cities.

However, the Government contributes only towards the cost of labor in the various public unemployment relief undertakings, and in power line construction labor represents considerably less than half the capital cost. Materials, such as poles, wire, transformers and so on, comprise the major expense, and no relief monies could be applied to these collective items.

And part of the labor would have to be done by experienced linemen at their regular rates of pay, leaving only a comparatively small part of the total cost to fall within the Government's unemployment relief regulations.

Mr. Sandy's proposal may be recommended to the Government for official, expert and sympathetic consideration in the confident belief that if it is practicable it will be put into effect. Obvious limitations of his idea have been mentioned, but there may be means of reducing them.

If the rural service charge of $2.50 a month could be lowered it would perhaps be of more financial assistance in enabling farmers to use electric power economically.

MENACE OF JAPANESE WAGES.

To the girl tending a loom in a Canadian textile mill the economic struggle is an abstraction beyond her little world of dreams and worries, possibly beyond her comprehension. And yet she is as involved in that struggle as really as the soldier of a battalion of shock troops in a front line trench.

If the product of her work is only for domestic sale and consumption this girl in a Peterborough factory, if you will, remains far removed from the larger arena of industrial conflict, but once that product moves out into the world markets she is involuntarily drawn into a relentless competition that gives no quarter, even to girls. Her wages and her standard of living are thrust forward into the line of fire, and if she could visualize the scene she would soon comprehend the sacrifice that would be demanded of her, how her job would be made insecure, in a contest that is finally decided by her and her companions along the front line of noisy, clacking factory machinery.

A capable and industrious girl in a Peterborough textile mill may earn approximately $25 a pay, or $50 a month. The amount may be more or less. But her Japanese competitor, equally industrious and technically capable, is content with a wage of 45 cents a day. The labor costs in the respective goods or articles they produce becomes a salient factor in their marketing and thereby in the maintenance of their rival plants at opposite ends of the earth.

Throw open the Canadian market to low cost textiles manufactured in Japan and in a short time the Peterborough girl and her loom would be idle. The fact that she is employed to-day and earning probably an average wage of $2 a day is due to the protection of the domestic market against Oriental competition based on what we regard as an inferior standard of living.

Ward Price Bell, correspondent of the London Daily Mail, tells of visiting a Japanese textile factory in which men were paid from one shilling to three shillings six pence a day, or from twenty-five cents to little more than seventy-five cents. Twenty-two girls operated 520 looms. Two smart girls tending 40 looms each received 1s 10½d, about 35 cents a day. Four overseeers got the samee wage. Four beginners running 20 looms each were paid 9d (18 cents) a day. By the Japanese standards of living these wages are quite good.

"The girls, in fact, come to the mill to save money for their dowry," Mr. Bell writes. "They live in dormitories belonging to the company, just as comfortably as in any Japanese middle-class home."

They have rest-rooms, a hospital and class-rooms where lessons in cooking, dressmaking, ordinary school subjects—even English—are given daily. The cost to the company of boarding and lodging the staff works out at just over three shillings per head per week, which must be added to the average wage bill of seven or eight shillings per head per week.

"The secret of their advantage lies in the combination of low labor costs with high technical efficiency," Mr. Bell concluded.

Recently a member of the British House of Commons held up the other side of the picture of Japan's inroads into the textile markets of the world:

"In 1930, Great Britain exported to all parts of the world, including Empire markets, 59,750,000 square yards of rayon pieces. Rayon is a commodity which is taking the place of our cotton goods because of its cheapness. In 1932, we only exported 46,250,000 square yards.

"Compare that falling off of 20 per cent. with the alarming Japanese increase. In 1930 Japan exported to countries in the Empire market alone 45,250,000 square yards, and in 1932 76,250,000 square yards, an increase of nearly 70 per cent., while to the whole world in 1932 she exported 152,636,000 square yards. She is relentlessly crushing us out of markets which used to be especially our own customers, and what is more significant, the markets of our own kith and kin."

No political group in Canada would tolerate the thought of debasing our standard of living to a level with the Japanese scale of 4 cents an hour. Against such competition the necessity of closer understanding between the British nations and united protective action to safeguard industries and homes against such a menace from the Orient becomes a sheer necessity.

THE PRICE OF SUCCESS.

"The most obvious fallacy of our time is the belief that renown can be obtained by anybody who is willing to go to a school or take a correspondence course," writes St. John Irvine in Good Housekeeping, London. "Our book-shops are full of outlines of this or that, and everyone assumes that fame can be acquired on the installment system.

"There are people who believe that this pathetic fallacy is due to the new psychological methods in education. In the past children were made to stick at tasks and to exercise their memories. To-day this is termed uneducational. The slogan has become 'make everything easy for the child,' especially in America. The result is that thousands of people are in a state approaching nervous prostration, because they cannot understand why they are not appreciated or do not occupy prominent positions, after taking twelve lessons in a 'Course' or attending a school for the manufacture of geniuses, for a couple of terms.

"In defining genius as an infinite capacity for taking pains Carlyle did not, perhaps, state the full truth, because he implied that genius was the result of mere industry. But he said enough of the truth to make people understand that the magic wand does not exist, that dullards cannot be turned into geniuses, and that success is won, not awarded.

"There was a time when Joseph Conrad almost despaired of ever obtaining a public for his books. Mr. Somerset Maugham despaired of any success on the stage four months before fortune opened four theatres to him.

"In politics the tale is the same. The young Disraeli was almost laughed out of the House of Commons. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald had terrible times before he found his place, and even Mr. Stanley Baldwin knew deep distress before he could make people believe in his statesmanship.

"Nelson was put on half pay and might easily have been put out of the navy altogether by people who had not one-tenth of his ability.

"Thomas Hardy was violently attacked for writing 'Jude the Obscure,' and the great Russian writer and dramatist, Anton Chekhov, was howled at by the press and the public and nearly driven to suicide, when his first play was performed in St. Petersburg. Oliver Goldsmith was called a common fellow by his contemporaries, because he put characters on the stage in the similitude of life. There was violent abuse for Sean O'Casey when his plays were put on at the Abbey Theatre in Dublin.

"The last word shall be with Henry Irving who, speaking of Edmund Kean, another great actor who had known violent abuse, said:

"'The road to success lies through many a thorny course, over many an obstacle, from which the fainting heart is often tempted to turn back. But hope and a sense of power within inspire the struggling artist still to continue the conflict, till at last courage and perseverance meet with their just reward, and success comes.'"

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Eskimos come in large numbers to see the Lindbergh plane in Greenland, but they remain away back and just stare at it. Of course, they are not cultured like we are, or they would be hopping right in and taking away souvenirs.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

We don't think the people of Canada would stand for "socialization of industry" under any circumstances. We don't believe they want a costly army of bureaucrats telling them how they should work and when, and what they should eat and wear and read and think. Their instincts are against such things.—Ottawa Journal.

The greatness of England was founded upon its peasantry, even if they were unable to buy their land. In this respect Canadians are more fortunate. Every man can buy his land if he can pay for it, there being no overload or archaic laws to prevent him. So long as agriculture is prosperous Canada is prosperous.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Reading that the Nazis are now marrying 50 couples at a time leads one to believe that there may be some truth in those German atrocity stories after all.

JILTED

INSTALMENT 23.

Ethan's car stopped before Helen's house ceremonially Tuesday evening; Ethan, in his evening clothes, tall and distinguished, rang Mrs. Birch's door bell to call for Helen.

Helen herself felt a little as if things weren't real. An engagement dinner at Nina's. And for herself and Ethan Kingsway.

In spite of herself Helen felt a little apprehensive as to how Nina would act. Nina could have a sharp tongue when she wanted to.

Tacy, unchanged as the Sphinx, tall and brown and solid, opened the door in place of the housemaid; and greeted Helen with a warmth of affection—for her—which swept Helen along to Nina, warmed and encouraged.

But there was nothing, at first glance, which needed warming or encouraging in the situation. So much had happened to Helen that she wondered half childishly if Nina would look like a different person. But the five months since Nina had gone away had added and taken away nothing.

Her evening gown was, of course, from Paris; one, Helen knew without being told, of a big trunkful, acquired of "a little dressmaker" who had a secret and immediate wire into three of the big showrooms.

"My darling child! How clever of you—and how delightful for me! Now I'll have my little cousin in the same town with me always. She's a household treasure as well as a bad little flirtatious Southerner like me, Ethan I know, I've had her two years!" And then to Ethan, whose hand she held with the one that wasn't holding Helen's, in a so ter voice, "You don't know how glad I am that you're going to be happy at last, dear Ethan!"

Ethan's quick and pleasant smile, his equally quick and pleasant words of thanks, showed nothing of what he thought or felt. Even Dr. Gaynor, a little jaded from what he confided to Helen later had been a hard day, smiled with more than his usual professional cheeriness from behind his gold-bridged eyeglasses at the two of them.

"I wonder if I wasn't present at the beginning of the romance," he said, leaning back and sipping his cocktail appreciatively. "When this young person who looks so blooming now stunned herself against Mrs. Kingsway's pet walnut tree."

"Oh, do tell me all about it!" cried Nina with enthusiasm.

"There isn't much to tell. I gathered that Ethan had picked her up and carried her into Kingsway House, like a hero of romance. When I got there she was unconscious in old Mrs. Kingsway's bedroom, with the whole family gathered around her. I must say I never saw anything prettier."

"It must have looked like a deathbed scene," said Helen with an uneasy flippancy.

"Instead of being the prelude ——" began Nina lightly, "to ——"

"As a matter of fact," Ethan spoke across whatever Nina had been about to say, "you are a little wrong there, Gaynor, but not much. My mother and little Patricia did fall in love with Helen then and there. But I'd begun before that."

"Now we're going to get dates and places," said Nina, with glee.

"Not one," said Ethan cheerfully. "You asked us here, my dear cousin-to-be, to give us a good time, and we hope because you loved us. We refuse to make a Roman holiday for you."

The amusement over this carried them into the dining room, where Helen, sinking into her old seat, found herself beginning secretly to keep an eye on Mattie's serving, so that Nina could be free to lead the conversation. Nina did.

"And what have you been doing?" from Dr. Gaynor, elicited a stream of Nina's talk at its most amused.

"Well, there was a Russian count on the Riviera," she began.

"And I suppose there was a French one in France and an English baronet in England," said the doctor in a despair that was very nearly real. Nina shrugged her white shoulders under the demure black satin bows. The evening gown was a deceptively plain, tight black chiffon, whose cut alone told what it had cost even from the "little dressmaker."

"It's possible!" she told him, with a look that conveyed memories of a whole Burke's Peerage to good innocent Dr. Gaynor. "At any rate, you never saw anything as marvelous as he was. Our American men don't have that something. That is, of course," Nina added, with a flattering glance at her two guests, "except a very small minority . . . I choose my friends from that minority."

Dr. Gaynor looked flattered.

Helen listened and wondered. Nina seemed to have shrunk, somehow. Her manners, her phrases, her methods, even her looks, seemed further off and less important. Helen felt like the little boy in the fairy-tale who felt that the emperor had no clothes on. She wondered again and suddenly realized that she was seeing Nina now through Ethan's more sophisticated eyes. His entirely charming "we hoped so" yet had a note of casually accepting Nina as she was, and not taking what she was seriously. Helen need never worry any more, she knew that, from just those three words, as to whether Nina's spell could move Ethan ever so slightly. Dr. Gaynor believed in her. Not Ethan.

She went on about the Russian count.

"There was such depth, such tragedy, in every thing he said and was. Nothing left at all, of course. He said to me, 'I live a living death of course, as you would know, being as understanding as you are wonderful' . . . but it does not matter. After all, what are we but bubbles on life's cup?"

Was she really in earnest? Yes—she was. Or she was in earnest for the moment. Playing up to somebody, Ethan or Dr. Gaynor or both.

"I hope you tried to argue him out of such an unhealthy frame of mind," said the good doctor.

"I did what I could," said Nina gently, and Helen saw that she was playing up to Dr. Gaynor. Well . . .

"Where did you get those wonderful sapphires?" Helen interrupted.

Nina brightened.

"I have their absolute attested guarantee, one of the best jewelers in England. My dear, aren't they stunning? Straight from an old English estate. War-poor, you know. And the family had had them five hundred years. You've no idea what a bargain they were. Cartier appraised them. Worth just two hundred dollars less than twice what I paid for them! The settings are about eighteen-ninety. They were to be reset for this man's bride, but they couldn't afford to keep them. I'm going to leave them set just as they are. Talk about luck!" She stripped them off to show them about the table—the brooch, the marquise ring, the diamond and sapphire necklace, a pair of bracelets and an agraffe to hold feathers for court presentation day. They became her, as she put them back on; her unshaded, hard good looks. Helen thought that foreigners would call her a typical rich American woman of the better kind. Perhaps she was. . . . She looked down at her own lovely ring, and hoped that nobody had been unhappy at parting with it.

"And what do you hear," said Ethan politely, "of young Ronny? Helen and I caught a glimpse of him a few weeks ago."

"Here in Kingsway? Then you know more about him than I do," said Nina. "I haven't heard a word from him since before I left home. Neither has Mr. Powell. Helen was always his confidante. You know something about him, I'm sure, Helen. Tell us, like a good girl."

Ethan looked at Helen attentively. She wondered if she was right in feeling that his face darkened slightly.

She had to put Ronny right with Nina, even if Ethan was hurt at her not saying anything to him before.

"I heard—through someone else—that he was earning his living in New York City," she said. "I'm sure he's doing the very best he knows how."

It was Nina's face which darkened now—unmistakably.

"That boy spends his life trying to put me in the position of a cruel stepmother," she said, not quite as lightly as she intended. "And I really do not know how to control him. He forfeited all chance of graduation. He spent his money like water and refused to give an account of it—which is rather tragic, you know, in its implications."

Helen wondered if Nina would believe in the financing of the young poetry magazine, and decided she wouldn't. Nina really shouldn't tell things about Ronny to people who were no relation. But Nina continued inexorably.

"Finally he brought a girl up to his dormitory. He picked out a little sneak for a friend, and the friend told on him, of course. He wouldn't explain. I have done my duty by the boy, and after all he is no relation. As I told him, unless he changes his ways I am through—simply through."

"But, oh, Nina, he's so stupid about money—if he hasn't any till he's twenty-five it may make all the difference in the world."

"Not to me," said Nina with her quiet firmness. "I am so sure that he is worthless that I feel I owe it to myself to explain to my friends that Ronny is no longer under my control, financially or personally."

"Oh, Nina and the poor boy's so impractical!" Helen pleaded.

Nina laughed lightly.

"You incorrigible little flirt! I thought that was all over, now you were the captive of Ethan's bow and spear!"

Helen looked at Nina, aghast. The inference was unmistakable.

And there was scarcely any way of answering that would not make things worse.

RELIEF MONEY FOR RURAL HYDRO.

To the Editor, Examiner:

During the past two years the Government and municipalities have spent large amounts of money for unemployment relief. Although we have completed some works of a permanent character, much of this expenditure cannot be classed as productive outlay, but must be added to our national debt.

Our Governments are planning to provide work for the unemployed this autumn. Toronto is to have a new Armouries. Hamilton is seeking a building program. This will bring relief in spots to the province of Ontario.

The Hon. W. G. Martin suggests the beautifying of unkept areas as a means of unemployment relief in rural districts. The beautifying of unkept areas would no doubt pay aesthetic dividends to the passers-by. But the condition of rural communities demands a more practical solution of the problem. On farms discouraged men and women are toiling long hours, and look with envy upon those who have the advantage of electric power. They could and would use much of the unused power that is developed in this province. But they cannot afford to use it at the rates now asked by the Hydro Commission.

If, however, the money that is being spent for unemployment relief were used to build rural Hydro lines, with the additional fixed provision of 50 per cent. of cost given by the Government, lines could be built so that the rate to the farmer would not be higher than that charged to the urban dweller. Thus the farmer would obtain light and power at a price he could afford to pay. This would bring encouragement and contentment which is much needed to-day.

This plan would also provide for all future time a revenue to pay the interest charges on unused power, thus lessening the cost of Hydro to all users.

As houses are wired demand would be made for electric appliances, which in turn would give increased employment to our artisans and mechanics.

This would be an investment of relief money that would not only lessen unemployment but would increase the comfort and happiness of the oppressed agricultural population.

In my judgment the solution of our economic and social problems lie in bringing about better living conditions to these classes.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE STEELES OF SIMCOE

On this date in 1865 there took place the funeral of Commander Elmes Steele, R.N., founder of one of the best-known families of the County of Simcoe, Ontario. It was, indeed, a distinguished family, both in England and in Canada, for in addition to the great sailor, the subject of this article, it gave to the British army three brothers, who fought in the Peninsula and at Waterloo. One of them, Henry, leading the 11th Hussars on the entry of the Allies into Paris after the victory of Waterloo. And an uncle fought with Wolfe at Quebec. And, in later years, the family gave to Canada the famous Sam. B. Steele, who was an original of the Mounted Police in 1873, commanded cavalry in the campaign in Saskatchewan in 1885, was in charge of the Mounted Police posts at the summit of the White and Chilkoot Passes during the rush to Yukon in 1898, and commanded the Strathcona Horse in South Africa, dying Sir Sam, and on duty to his death.

When in 1832 lands were offered in Upper Canada to British officers, Captain Elmes Steele and his son, John, left for Canada in the ship Branches. She was caught in the ice and threatened with destruction by an iceberg. The skipper lost his head; Captain Steele took command and saved the ship and passengers. After landing at Quebec, father and son came up the St. Lawrence, walking part of the way, the batteaux being towed by oxen. At Cornwall they took coach for Prescott where they embarked for York on the only steamer then plying on the lake. At York arrangmenest were made to take up land at Adelaide, Middlesex, but at Hamilton the captain met a Mr. Durand who persuaded him to go instead to Medonte. He was joined next year by Mrs. Steele and the rest of the family and the founding of a great Canadian family was begun.

From that time to his death Commander Steele took a prominent part in public affairs as magistrate, soldier (doing his bit in the rebellion) and as member for Simcoe in the Assembly of the Province of Canada, 1841-44.

One of the incidents of his first election, which, of course, lasted several days, was the arrival over the ice from Thorah at the polling place in Barrie of a number of Highland Scots, many of them old soldiers with the Cameron brothers, former officers of the Cameron Highlanders at their head. Each sleigh had in front an axe with a rock-elm handle, signifying Elmes Steele. After the election Captain Steele was driven at once to Toronto by J. A. Irving, a former officer of the 18th Light Dragoons, who had fought at Waterloo and settled at Newmarket and was afterwards the first Warden for the District of Simcoe and later a member of the Legislative Council.

Captain Steele's first wife died in the 40's, and in 1847 Captain Steele married Anne, the second daughter of Neil Mac Ian Macdonald, a grandson of Captain Godfrey MacNeil, chief of the MacNeils of Barra, and nephew of Colonel Donald MacNeil, who commanded a Highland regiment during the Napoleonic wars. There were six children by this marriage, the first being our Sir Sam.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

536 Stewart Street, City.

The outlines of your handwriting though not quite as clear in pencil as they would have been if written in ink, indicate a changeable disposition. You are likely to be very happy one moment, then suddenly sink into the very depths of despair. You expend a great deal of force and energy on your work, but never seem to arrive anywhere. Perhaps this is because you act first and do your thinking afterwards. For one of your age, you possess a remarkable amount of will power. This, if led in the correct direction, would bring you distinction As it appears now, you are either afraid of your own opinions or not certain of your ability to carry out your wishes. You have imagination and you are a little romantic. You enjoy a good time, but do not wish to undertake any proposition which necessitates much effort. You are sensitive and self-conscious, but appreciate the fellowship of a few really worthwhile friends.

Mrs. Olgascee Spencley,
429 Bethune Street, City.

The handwriting as discerned on your sample for analysis delineates a desire for perfection. You are very careful and neat, positive and exceptionally exacting. You want everything done in your own methodical manner or you will demand the reason "why," even though you have no excessive desires. You are thrifty and conservative, ingenious as to household appointments, but do not like your furniture disarranged or upset carelessly. You insist upon preparing meals on time. In face, your life is so well ordered that you should enjoy a period of rest once in a while, away from it, where you could cast care and discretion to the winds and be carefree and happy A mental vacation is essential at times, and you appear to require one now. A hobby would create an outlet, but it most not be a hobby of any description, needing the meticulous care you already bestow on everything else. Perhaps gardening or swimming might help you a little.

Mrs. S. L. Connell,
Ida, Ontario.

Your handwriting shows an overgenerous disposition at times then decided change to reticence and conservativeness. You are particular about your household appointments and desire proficient management. You are discreet and understand the intricacies of the human mind, therefore, you make allowance for mistakes. Some times your patience is sorely tried, but you always rally with a good-natured, courageous spirit. You have a pleasing simplicity of manner and seem to invigorate others who are dependent on you, with that infectious jollity which is yours. You never disappoint a friend if it is within your power to grant a request. You are an ardent lover of harmony, either in colors, flowers, music, clothing or in the home.

Frank Gray,
207 Stewart Street, City.

Your handwriting as signified on your sample for anaysis shows persistence and endurance. You actually appear to "grit" your teeth and make up your mind to finish anything which you deem necessary to commence. You are not slovenly by any means, but you seem to need a mental "why" at this stage in the game, so perhaps you will not be offended if I tell you to choose your path, then follow it because yours is an inventive brain, and there is an extensive store of material tucked away in your head, thoughts which, if brought to the fore would mean advancement to you. In order to attain any lasting benefit from these thoughts, you will of necessity have to concentrate and study ways and means of attaining the desired objective. You are rather too susceptible to flattery. Apart from these attributes you are well liked- observing and intelligent. You are incapable of mean-ness of any kind, quite bashful at times and not overdemonstrative in affections.

Janet E McIntosh,
R. R. No. 3, Peterborough, Ont.

Your handwriting, interesting in its formation, indicates you to be one who is receptive of surrounding influences. If people are gay in whose company you are, you are happy and gay, but if they are the reverse, you are moody and subject to blame your condition on anyone whom you can find with an attentive ear. However, apart from that you are quite vivacious and claim your share of praise and excitement. Your long, decisive crossing of the "t" bar indicates that you like to get the best of an argument, but it also expresses your views as quite logical. Your tall, graceful letter "J" represents a romantic and idealistic turn of mind and shows that you are not always practical. You are gifted with a keen imagination, with offers a picturesque, though dignified side to your otherwise versatile personality.

AIMEE COLLAPSES

LOS ANGELES—Aug. 8—(C.P.) Weak from her abdominal operation and from over-exertion in conducting services in her Angelus Temple, Aimee Semple McPherson Hutton, the evangelist, was taken from the church in a state of semi collapse Friday night. Physicians reported her condition was not serious and that she needed rest.

Quotations For To-Day

A desire for knowledge is the natural feeling of mankind; and every human being whose mind is not debauched, will be willing to give all that he has to get knowledge.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 8.—(CP)—Although the Wall Street market moved slowly forward today, mining shares refused to get excited and dragged along within a narrow range, showing more losses than gains at the close. Firmness however ruled in the high-priced list, both golds and base metals.

International Nickel and Noranda gave the base metal group strong leadership and both closed higher, Nickel up 55 cents 20 06 and Noranda up 1.35 at 34.35.

In the gold group Hollinger, Dome and Teck Hughes showed no change from last Friday's closing prices but McIntyre gained 85, Lake Shore 50 cents and Wright Hargreaves 10 cents. Reno ran into heavy selling and fell back to 1.60 but recovered to 1.72 before the close. Eldorado developed a weak spell in the morning session and worked down to 3.80 but recovered to close at $3.95 off 20 cents. Mining Corporation lost 9 to 2.06 and Nipissing 5 to 2.40.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—(AP)—The stock market followed a quiet upward trend today for advances of one to three points in the late dealings. Auburn advanced three points while other issues advancing one to two or more included United States Steel, American Telephone, Western Union, Cerro de Pasco, New York Central, United States Industrial Alcohol, General Motors, National Distillers, American Can, Allied Chemical, Liggett & Myers 'B', Santa Fe and Celanese Transfers approximated 1'100'000 shares.

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Aug. 8— (C.P.) — Prices eased off a little before the close to-day on the Toronto exchange, but still, however held narrow gains over the previous close. Distillery issues nished a fraction to nearly 3 points higher. Nickel was also a strong spot, but volume was light over the rest of the board.

Nickel was pushed up to $20 for a gal nof 55 cents and Smelters did nothing. A single share showed a gain of 3. Walkers common was strong and the close at 43¼ was up 2¾. Distillers Seagram gained ¾. Industrial Alcohol ½. In the beer group Canada Bud lost an early gain and Canada Malting at 31½ gained ½.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 8 (C.P.).—Several factors combined to send wheat prices lower in the early trading on the grain exchange here to-day. With both offerings and support on the light side, values slid off for maximum losses of 2¾ cents, but later rallied to settle at levels about 1¾ cents under Saturday's close.

At mid-session October delivery was selling at 82 1-8, December at 84¼ and May at 88 3-8 cents. Lack of export business over the long week-end, coupled with weak cables and easiness in the Chicago market yesterday, appeared to be the main bearish influence.

Good rains in many sections of Southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan were disregarded as the session wore on, but had a depressing effect on the initial transactions. The scattered selling was credited mostly to commission houses. At bottom levels a little buying for New York account was uncovered, and though not in large volume it was sufficient to rally prices a little.

Liverpool wheat near the close was about 1d lower.

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, August 8 (C.P.). — The Toronto wholesale cheese market was rather quiet to-day with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and Government grades at 10¼c.

New — Large 11¼c twins 11¾c, triplets 12c.

Medium — Large 15c, twins 15¼c triplets 15½c.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.)—The following quotations on produce delivered at Toronto were supplied by the United Farmers Co-operative Co., to-day: eggs extras, doz 14c; eggs firsts, doz. 12c; eggs seconds (cracked) doz. 10c; churning cream, No. 1 lb. 21c; churning cream, No. 2 lb. 18c; butter No. 1 solids 20¾c; butter No. 2 solids 20¼c.

Ontario cobbler potatoes per bag $1.50.

WHEAT CRASH IN VESTIGATION INCLUDES MIDWEST EXCHANGES

REPORTS UNDER AUDIT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8—(C.P.)—The Tribune said to-day that the investigation of the recent wheat price crash will be one of the most sweeping ever undertaken by the United States' Department of Agriculture and will include operations of the Chicago, Minneapolis, Duluth and Kansas City exchanges.

All phases of the advance in wheat between June 15 and July 18 and the drastic decline of 30¾ cents between the latter date and the inside level of 39¾ cents for December delivery by July 20 will be delved into," the paper said.

The trade in all markets was reported to have received official instructions as to the information desired. The Tribune said the reports would be submitted to a careful audit.

The Tribune said every operation in the wheat market equalling 200,000 bushels or more between the beginning of business on June 15 and July 31, regardless of character, must be shown.

"It was also anticipated," the paper added, "that the real cause of the debacle in the wheat market on July 19 will be shown to have been largely due to an over-extended 'long' position which found few buyers when general selling started. Whether there was any short selling will be determined by the investigation, which calls for all accounts to be designated whether 'hedging,' speculative, spreading or commission house."

DOME

Dome Mines has become the pivotal issue as influencing the market price of practically all other gold issues on the market. This may be responsible for the fact that with a capital of only a million shares this stock acts as a barometer showing Wall Street's attitude toward the Canadian golds.

BUNKER HILL

FALCONBRIDGE

It is anticipated that the report of Falconbridge for the second quarter of 1933, ending June 30th, slated for release August 8th, will reflect results of increased scheduled which went into effect with new concentrating in April last. Metal production from Falconbridge for second quarter amounted to 3,750,000 pounds, including about 2,500,000 lbs. of nickel and around 250,000 lbs. of copper.

McINTYRE

McIntyre is pushing development in the Platt Vete section and obtaining good results from exploration in this area, according to word from Kirkland Lake. Shaft sinking is proceeding and it is stated that by end of the year new levels will be ready for development on a large scale. Diamond drilling revealed the continuation of good values around the 4,300 foot horizon and that the management is giving special attention to this section. While a few high grade sections are said to have been located within the past few months the average grade compares favorably with that opened up some months ago. McIntyre is maintaining a milling rate of 2,000 tons a day and it is said that new ore is being placed in sight more rapidly than it is being milled.

MARKET OUTLOOK

New York and Montreal security markets did little while we holidayed. U. S. dollar showed new strength in Europe and when this happens security and commodity prices slump. Cotton and wheat were off and gold is again below $30. We are expecting the gold stocks to do something—how soon we do not know, but it should be reasonably quick. London is still optimistic and we are advised that the price of gold will certainly swing higher.

Liquor Stocks.—Another wave of wet optimism is loose in the U. S. and was reflected in a swing up in wet stocks in New York on Monday.

Nickel. — Last week's details of naval contracts were released by the U.S. Total involved was $278,000,000. We would expect that Nickel will get 10 per cent or more of this.

Base Metal Lines.—This subsidiary of Mining Corporation will soon have its mine and plant operating. It can show a nice profit with present prices of metal.

Baltimore and Ohio July loadings were 195,497 cars against 170,258 in June, and 133,356 in July, 1932.

Steel Ingot output in July, 3,203,810 gross tons, the largest for any month since June, 1930, when the output was 3,418,535 tons, compares with 2,597,519 in June, and 806,722 gross tons in July, 1932. Seven months' output was 12,193,002 tons against 9,503,932 tons of first seven months of 1932.

200,000 Mile Car

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 8 (C.P.). —A 21-year-old automobile, believed to be the oldest in Ontario in regular use, is owned by John Hormann, of Tavistock, near here. The antique auto, generously decorated with polished brass, is still in good working order, Mr. Hormann says, and he often takes it on long drives. It has gone more than 200,000 miles.

AIR OF TRAGEDY LIES OVER CUBA

ward laborers, thousands of whom are now on strike, called in some circles a passive revolution against the Government.

Machado Stands Firm

His secretary, Ramiro Guerra, later gave out a statement which said Machado had not resigned and that "it is equally untrue that the Liberal, Popular and Conservative Parties had agreed that President Machado's resignation is the only way to settle the Cuban political difficulties."

The Department of Interior in a statement added that:

"The responsibility for the blood spilled fall entirely on those who put out false notices . . . with the perverse and false intention of provoking the troubles which were produced, headed by criminal elements, to encounter the public forces obliged to maintain order and uphold the institutions. . . .

"Should the Government abdicate in the face of this riot, leaving anarchy to enter the capital with incalculable consequence for the great national and foreign interests and the life of a great part of its inhabitants, or should it battle these disorders in carrying out the duties which are entrusted to it?"

Tragic scenes were enacted as hundreds of weeping persons fought to enter the emergency hospital to see and try to identify the dead. Quickly an air of ominous quiet fell over the city.

Meanwhile the strike that started nearly two weeks ago with a small walkout of omnibus drivers and since has gained adherents in nearly every trade developed further to-day with the announcement that employees in the public instruction and treasury departments were prepared to strike. The former ask eight concessions, including wages overdue the last nine months.

Other departments said they would meet this afternoon to consider striking.

Asked To Quit

Despite denials by governmental officials that members of the president's liberal party had asked that he withdraw, it was learned on reliable authority that such a request was made. Persons assisting in mediatory efforts said they were hopeful he could be persuaded today to ask for a leave of absence from Congress, which yesterday began a permanent session to consider the situation.

The legislature yesterday gave the president authority to suspend constitutional guarantees of personal liberty in an effort to curb the spreading strike. Immediately military forces took over Havana and heavy firing rang through the streets.

In Santa Clara province riots occurred at Esperanza, Camajuani, and Manicaragua. In those towns three persons were killed and 20 injured.

It was understood on high authority that Machado told five Liberal party representatives he was ready to leave office if the people so willed, but that he would not quit as the result of any "foreign intermeddling."

Political circles took this as a reference to United States Ambassador Sumner Welles' attempts to mediate the political differences. Mr. Wells was understood to have suggested a peace formula in which it was provided that Machado take a "leave of absence."

Omemee

The August meeting of the "Women's Guild" of Christ Church was held Thursday afternoon in the church basement with a fair attendance of members present. As there was no business to discuss the afternoon was spent in sewing after which the hostess, Mrs. Weir and Mrs. Sawyer served dainty refreshments and a social hour was spent together.

Mr. White of Millbrook called on friends in the village on Friday.

Mrs. George Boates of Peterborough spent a few days this week with Mrs. J. Magee.

Mrs. William Henderson spent Saturday in Peterborough.

Mrs. William Lamb of Toronto is visiting the Misses Blaylocks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Moncrief spent Saturday afternoon and evening in Peterborough.

Provincial Police Stop Mid-Nite Frolic

Provincial police, at the request of Reeve A. B. Mann, of Smith Township, stepped into the Chemong Pavilion about 1 o'clock Monday morning and stopped the mid-nite dancing frolic that was then in progress. It is understood that Harry Forler, manager of the pavilion, had neglected to get permission to run the frolic and that there is a township by-law prohibiting the operating of such dances.

ABANDONED.

CHICAGO. — Two baby girls, one two and a half years old and the other 17 months, were abandoned in a railroad depot by their father, who left a note reading:

"I am unable to take care of my two children any longer, as I am out of work and alone.

"My wife hates the children and will not care for them."

They were taken to an orphanage.

THE LADIES' TURN

MARION, Ind.—The men having told their quota of fish stories, Mrs. Willis Sisson and Mrs. Marie Miller have returned from a fishing trip on the Mississinewa River with this one:

A bass weighing one and three-quarter pounds jumped into their rowboat and was followed a few moments later by another that weighed a pound and a half.

CONNY SMYTHE'S Caryldon is working up to a winning effort as his good second yesterday clearly shows. He certainly is worth stringing along with. We have been impressing on you right along about how good Spey Crest was and he ran to our expectations on Thursday when he took Frumper, Flyat and all the good ones into camp.

• • •

SINCE THE inauguration of horse racing the last Pittsburg Phil was acknowledged as the greatest plunger the sport ever knew. He was working as a waiter in a Pittsburg hotel when one day happening to go into a bookmakers' club he spent some little time idling around watching the turf followers placing their bets. He played a dollar on two and succeeded in winning a few smackers. He did this from time to time and one day he decided Pittsburg was too small and that he would go to Chicago where his scope would be greater. Packing his few personal belongings he told his mother he would come back some day as a millionaire.

• • •

IN CHICAGO he gradually built up a good sized bankroll and one Saturday when he was in bookmaker's place there was a two-horse race at one of the tracks and business was not very brisk on this particular race on account of only two starters. The bookmaker finally got up on a chair and announced that he would bet one hundred and fifty thousand dollars against twenty-five thousand on the favorite. Immediately Pittsburg Phil snapped up the bet and staked his all and his horse won giving him a neat pile to start off on his gambling career. From then on he won more and more and became the greatest plunger in the racing game. Asked one time whether he ever lost money on fast horses, he replied, "No its the slow ones that I lose on." He never married and when he died, he left an estate of over two million to his widowed mother and sister who never saw a horse race in their lives. It has often been remarked that all gamblers die broke but the life history of Pittsburg Phil discounts this.

into the house but is said to have started to run away.

According to police officials Thomas fired in the direction in which the youth had fled and the bullet struck him in the back bringing him to the ground.

Police again were called to the scene and Lammond was removed to hospital after inquiries had been made. Thomas was placed under arrest.

Investigations revealed that Lammond had been visiting friends in a nearby house. He had left by the back door, intending to reach the street by walking along the allyway.

Thomas appeared in police court and was remanded for one week. He

FLAVELLE WINS ARDIEL TROPHY

AT MOUNT JULIAN.

MOUNT JULIAN, August 8 — With a clever display of seamanship, W. D. Crouse of Cleveland nosed out Alan Woodcock of Toronto on the last leg to win the McCracken's Cup in the annual dinghy sail at Mount Julian Saturday afternoon. He crossed the line with an advantage of four boat lengths after a neck-and-neck battle with Woodcock and William McClean of Toronto in a dinghy from Sturgeon Lake over the entire course.

Ellsworth Flavelle of Toronto piloting the Cutty Sark from Sturgeon Point, won the Harris Ardiel Cup in an open sailing race the same afternoon, finishing scarcely a boat-length ahead of the Bootlegger from Chemong, piloted by Gordon Matthews.

Ten dinghies sailed for the McCracken's Cup over the three and one-half mile course buoyed in front of Mount Julian. A stiff breeze gave the contestants full opportunity to demonstrate their skill. Although other lakes were represented, the first two boats in the running were Stoney Lake craft.

The field remained closely bunched during the first two miles of the course. Woodcock, his boat manned by Jack Morris, of New York, took the lead after the turn of the third leg but was followed closely by Crouse and McClean. At no time in the lead until the finish, Crouse passed McClean nearing the turn for the last leg and then Woodcock to finish first. Crouse's dinghy was manned by Beatrice Johnson and McClean's by Claire Connor.

Dinghies piloted by Bill Willoughby and Betty Livingston Mary Crouse and Doris Johnson and Otto Gliddon and George Summerville, were well in the race until the final mile. The Gliddon boat hailed from Chemong Lake.

Battle all the Way

The open sail for the Ardiel Cup was a battle all the way for the four sloops entered in it. The Skidley of Chemong, piloted by Jimmy Matthews, and Don Fitzgerald's Ace offered strong competition to the Cutty Sark and the Bootlegger until late in the race. Dinghies which competed for the McCracken Cup, also sailed in the open but failed to offer any serious threat to the swift dinghies. The Bootlegger, the Skidley and the Ace all followed over the line only a few boat lengths apart, for second, third and fourth places.

The crew of the Cutty Sark consisted of Stuart Flavelle, Arnold Massee and Douglas Stuart besides the captain Ellsworth Flavelle. Graham Eastwood, Karl and Jerry Duffus with Gordon Matthews manned the Bootlegger and the Skidley, piloted by Jim Matthews, was manned by Allan Cameron and Gordon Dobbin.

CAMPBELLFORD HONORS DEAD

the significance of this annual observance, when ex-service men met to remember and honor their dead and the dead of all countries, and at a time when thoughts go out to all who paid the supreme sacrifice and not only to those known in the flesh. Many of these were known but there was a vast host of unknown warriors buried in unknown graves in 108 countries of the world, all war heroes, and to these honor was given.

There were many, he said, who questioned if the future generation would continue with this observance or that of Remembrance Day. "This," he said, "we do not know, but as long as the present generation exists, this act of memorial will continue. This generation does not, will not, and cannot forget."

A nation was wise he declared, to honor its heroes, for they are the inspiration of future generations. It was wise to honor both dead and living, the greater and the lesser.

Those who went had but a hazy vision of their going, Mr. Hughes said, but they had a high regard for the plighted word given them. They were just men.

ANN DVORAK

Pretty Ann Dvorak has been chosen by Richard Barthelmess to play opposite him in "Shanghai Orchid," his forthcoming picture. Ann has just returned to Hollywood after a year in England.

FRANK JOPLING LEADS IN POINTS

Gunwale race, twelve entries — G. Stubbs, P. Strickland, Ted Hiland.

Ladies single canoe, three entries —Ruth Gouinlock, Lilian McClellan, Patricia McClellan.

Men's canoe fours, eight entries— Charlie Tanner, Bill MacPherson, Allan Coulter, and R. Pulkinghorn; Frank Jopling, Reg. Dixon, Arthur Wood, and Ted Hiland; Terry Hall's crew.

Girls' fours, four entries— Lilian and Patricia McClellan, Margaret Bilkey, and Mary MacPherson; Ruth Gouinlock, Eleanor Morris, Misses Scholtz and Gray.

Mixed canoe fours, four entries— Lilian and Patricia McClellan, P. Jopling and A. Wood; Mary MacPherson, Margaret Bilkey, Jim Parker, and Jim Bilkey.

Ladies' swimming — Ruth Gouinlock, Margot Bardwell, Elizabeth Sibley.

One of the high lights of the regatta and one which intrigued the spectators tremendously was an amusing incident in one of the heats of the mixed tandem canoe. One very youthful contestant lost her paddle, but undaunted she vigorously used her hands and did her part to win the first position.

The Children's Regatta will be held on Saturday afternoon of this week, and interest in the event is already strong on the lake.

Sailing races this year are being run as separate events, which seems to be a satisfactory way of settling a difficulty.

WILLIAM SMITH LAID TO REST

Large Attendance at Christ Church for Funeral of Noted Campbellford Citizen.

BAND IN ATTENDANCE.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Mourned by the whole community, the remains of the late Charles William Smith were laid to rest Monday afternoon in the family plot in Warkworth Cemetery, following the funeral service in Christ Church, Campbellford, which was choral, and conducted by the rector, Rev. T. H. Floyd, who paid a touching tribute to the deceased. A member for many years of the Northumberland Regimental Band, the members of this organization turned out in full strength and played the cortage to the church and out of town to the strains of The Dead March, paying their last tribute to a fellow bandsmen and comrade.

The late Mr. Smith died suddenly on Friday afternoon of acute indigestion, while visiting at his brother-in-law's cottage at Crow Bay. Born in Warkworth 63 years ago, he was connected in early life with his father, the late Charles Smith, in the operation of the Campbellford flour mill, later being connected with the flour and feed business in Belleville.

Prominent in Masonic circles, he was a member of the Warkworth Lodge A.F. and A.M., and a member of the Warkworth Chapter, R.A.M., and at one time a member of the I.O.O.F.

Active in town life, he was one of the first members of the Campbellford Water and Light Commission Board, serving in that capacity for over seventeen years and for several terms was chairman of the board. All his life active in Militia circles, he had been for the past thirty years a member of the Northumberland Regimental Band, of which he was assistant bandmaster at the time of his death. A keen sportsman, he was a hunter and trapper of note and featured as his favourite sport fishing. An Anglican in religion, being a member of Christ Church, he was also a staunch Liberal.

Surviving are his wife, two sons Charles and Gordon McKenzie; and one brother, Frederick, of Campbellford. Pall bearers at the funeral were T. E. Hall, John Gay, Samuel Clegg, Harry Lowery, Samuel Covert all of Campbellford and Robert Dawson of Warkworth.

The funeral was very largely attended, the church being filled for the service. Many friends came from different parts of the province to pay their last respects to their old friend, and the many floral tributes evidenced the respect and esteem in which the late Mr. Smith was held.

gattas, was an easy winner. Roy Whetung crossed the line in second pace, followed by a closely-bunched field.

Chemong Pair Takes Honors.

Nine entries in the boys' tandem canoe paddled a hard race. Doug. McPherson and Ross Pulkinghorn of Chemong took the honors by a boat-length margin. Two other Chemong paddlers, Ward Wright and Sam Patte, nosed into second place with only a couple of inches to spare.

The number "13" failed to put a jinx on the gunwale race. Despite the fact that there were thirteen competitors, there was not a spill. By two canoe lengths, Clarence McIlmoyle of Crowe's Landing took the event followed over the line by Doug McPherson. It was a good race.

Win Mixed Tandem Event.

Ted Hiland of Chemong and Molly Clarkson provided a good demonstration of fast paddling in winning the mixed tandem canoe race. They competed in a field of eight. Mary Roxburg and O. Roulston placed a good second, a foot behind the winners.

Judges were Bruce Howson and Fred Craig of Crowe's Landing. Dan Lees acted as starter. The announcers megaphone was handled by Perrin Rork. The Upper Stoney Lake Campers' and Cottagers' Association sponsored the regatta.

The prize list follows:

Mixed tandem canoe—1, Ted Hiland of Chemong and Molly Clarkson of Stoney Lake; 2, Mary Roxburgh and O. Roulston of Crowe's Landing.

Ladies' tandem skiff—1, Mary Roxburgh and Elizabeth Thompson of Stoney Lake; 2, Christine Carlisle and Mhora Howson of Stoney Lake.

Ladies' tandem canoe — 1, R. Roulston; 2, Annie Glassey of Stoney Lake; 2, Babette and Pat Blomfield of Crowe's Landing.

Boys' swimming, 16 and under—1, Lyn Sivan of Crowe's Landing; 2, Allen Gray.

FRENCH FLIERS

stop flight of two countrymen from New York to Rayak, Syria, prepared today to crown Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos with fitting glory.

The pair are expected to remain for a two or three-day rest in Syria where they arrived in their silver monoplane, the Joseph Le Brix last evening with the claim of having surpassed the world distance record by about 560 miles.

At Le Bourget Field near Paris a grand welcome awaits them. Their hop one fourth of the way around the globe, the French press predicted, would stand for a long time.

News of the successful completion of the flight came as a relief to the entire country which felt French aviation was being outdistanced by recent adventures of Capt. James A. Mollison and his wife Amy, British trans-Atlantic flyers, General Italo Balbo's squadron of Italian seaplanes and Wiley Post, American round-the-world record holder.

The progress of the Rossi-Codos jaunt was watched tensely from hour to hour and nervousness developed here yesterday because no messages had been received from them between midnight Sunday when they were over Austria and their appearance over the Island of Rhodes yesterday afternoon.

Paris meanwhile, was waiting for the aviators to awake from the exhausted sleep they fell into immediately after they had bathed and sent telegrams to their wives in Paris, their first acts upon arriving at the Rayak Military Airfield, 79 miles from Damascus, at 12:10 p.m. E.S.T., 56 hours after leaving New York.

Officials in their Air Ministry were up all night, hoping for news of the landing, the route followed and the exact mileage. Beirut, near Rayak, has a powerful wireless, but communication between Rayak and Beirut is slow. The solitary military and aviation outpost where the Frenchmen landed is linked with Beirut and Damascus by a narrow gauge railway which operates at desert speed.

The aviators' wives kept the three day vigil together. They were up early today, eminently awaiting word from Rayak.

Mme. Codos, she said, expects to ask her returned husband to take her along on his next trip as "it is too nerve wracking to sit and wait for days at a time."

Air officials began checking figures given them which showed Rossi and Codos covered about 5,900 miles or about 560 miles farther than the previous distance record of two British officers. O. R. Gayford and G. E. Nicholetts, set last February.

Reports were that Rossi and Codos made a perfect landing at Rayak. They seemed fit, but tired from the intense heat.

Generally a generation is regarded as being from 30 to 30 1-3 years in length, there being about three generations in a century.

Hen Raises Family Of Puppies

When six hound puppies were born in Mrs. Hen's home at Ridgeville, Ont., one day, Mrs. Hen decided that she was equally well qualified to mother them as she was to mother chicks. The puppies took to her like a duck to water, and soon their real mother was forgotten, save for brief feeding spells. After two months, mother hen still answers to their sharp barks and runs to them when they get into trouble. Here is shown the puppies playing with their adopted mother.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 8 — Trading was quiet on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market to-day as a result of the Civic Holiday in Ontario and the Bank Holiday in the United Kingdom. A continuation of the easy trend displayed toward the close of last week was recorded on the butter market as No. 1 grade in cartels or less, was quoted at 19¾ cents a pound. Transactions were light, and receipts totalled only 495 boxes.

Conditions in the cheese market were similar to the butter market. Ontario cheese was quoted over a range of 10 to 10¾ cents a pound and Quebecs at 9½ to 9¾ cents. Arrivals amounted to 727 boxes.

No changes were reported in the egg market, as graded shipments in cartels or less of extras held at 18 to 18½ cents a dozen, firsts at 15 cents and seconds at 12½ cents. A firmer market is expected next week by dealers following reports of higher prices in the West. A total of 627 cases was offered for sale.

Potatoes were firmer with new Quebecs at $1 per 80-pound bag and $1.30 to $1.35 per 80-pound bag of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains. New New Brunswicks were not quoted.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, August 8. — Awaiting developments in the recovery plan wheat prices averaged a little lower yesterday, affected somewhat by liberal enlargement of the domestic wheat visible supply.

The country's stock of wheat in sight showed 3,057,000 bushels increase during the past week, compared with 992,000 increase a year ago. With holidays at Winnipeg and Liverpool, speculative interest was restricted, and the market responsive to any good buying or selling, but displayed no pronounced trend.

Wheat closed easy ¼ to ¾ nuder Saturday's finish. Corn ½ to 1 cent down, oats ¼ to ⅜ cents off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 15 cents.

Juniper Island Dance Is Successful Affair

JUNIPER ISLAND, August 8. — Pretty zulu maidens, grass-skirted Hawaiins, Mexican caballeros and a host of other characters unusual to the Stoney Lake region revelled at the Juniper Island Pavilion as the annual masquerade, the big social event of the Stoney Lake summer colloney, took place Saturday evening. Costumes were as varied as they were realistic, and the affair was an unqualified success for the two hundred dancers attending.

Masquerading as an organ grinder, Marion Spaith of Toronto was awarded the first lady's prize. Ruth Guinlock and Jessie Torrence, both of Toronto, won second and third prizes, representing May West and a madhatter. Having achieved the required dusky effect with a liberal use of several cans of cocoa, Harold Burnham, Toronto, took the first men's prize as a nubian. Second prize went to Malcolm McKenzie for his rig-out as a lady of the harem. Barbara Beck and Mark Berwick, both from Toronto, won the honors as best pair representing a Mexican and a wild Highlander.

craft, and General Balbo was studying reports of weather conditions along his route. It was still dark when he was rowed out to his plane through a handful of fishing smacks whose owners were astir for the takeoff.

Starts With Sunrise

As the sun broke through a patch of dark clouds, Balbo's plane roared down the calm harbor waters and took off into the gentle wind at the tip of the first triad. Three minutes later, General Aldo Pelligrini led his three boats off the water, and they circled overhead with the leaders as the remaining planes rose from the water in quick succession.

Captain Umberto Nannini took off at the head of his red formation two minutes behind Pelligrini. Captain Girorano followed swiftly with his white planes, and close behind him were Captain Biani and Colonel Longo. As unit after unit left the water, they formed into place behind the three leading planes.

When all 24 planes were off the water, General Balbo led the formation upward for altitude. Then, at a signal from him, the squadron swung about and headed out across the coast just south of St. John's in a bee-line course for the mid-Atlantic islands.

Valuable Prizes.

Ranging in nature from rustic chairs to paddles, lazy-backs and canoe cushions, the lay-out of prizes awarded at the conclusion of the regatta by Mrs. Douglas Townsend was unusually good. They were made possible by generous contributions from the cottagers on lower Stoney Lake and the Kawartha shore.

Judges were Claude Rogers, W. A. Richardson, C. Staunton, all of Peterborough, and J. W. Williamson, Toronto. Dr. G. F. Zimmerman, of Toronto, acted as starter and Harry Rogers announcer. Douglas Townsend, Hamilton, president of the Kawartha Park Cottagers' Association, served as recorder.

The prize list follows:

Boys' single canoe, 10 and under —1 John Ricker, 2 Bob Parnell, 3 Bill Loomis.

Girls' single skiff, 10 and under —1 Doris Ricker, 2 Olive Scott, 3 Happy Lambton.

JESSE W. VALLEAU.

HASTINGS, Aug. 8.— (Examiner Correspondence.)— Death on Sunday afternoon removed another of the village's old and highly respected citizens in Jesse W. Valleau, in his 81st year.

The deceased came to Hastings thirty-six years ago as cheesemakes at the Ormonde factory, which position he held for a number of years before retiring. His wife predeceased him a month ago.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon with service at the family residence at 3.30. Rev. H. J. Bell, of Trinity United church, conducted the service.

Interment was made in Trent Valley cemetery.

NINE-POUND LUNGE.

Tipping the balance at nine pounds, a lunge which took half an hour to land, and which twice got free of the gaff hook in the process, was caught by George W. Green over the holiday. Mr. Green caught the lunge in Burleigh Channel in the vicinity of St. Peters-on-the-Rock Church.

A BIT DIFFERENT.

A carrot, growing through a small iron washer, was found a few days ago in George Robertson's garden, 702 Westcott street. FIREMEN WERE CALLED TO SAWDUST PILE FIRE

Persistent rumours of a drowning fatality in the vicinity of the locks bridge over the Civic holiday, had their foundation, it is learned in a run that was made by the City Fire Department to a fire, caused by spontaneous combustion in a sawdust pile at Perdue's Mill on the river bank.

The fact that the firefighters had to use a punt to get across the river to the scene of the fire, probably strengthened the ill-founded belief that the river had taken toll of life.

It was explained by Fire Department officials that to get to the scene of the fire the trucks had to be routed through East City, due to the fact that the tonnage of the trucks is too heavy to use the locks bridge.

Obituary

MRS. ALBERT CARPENTER, Sr.

Many gathered to pay tribute to the late Mrs. Albert Carpenter, Sr., as she was borne to her rest in Little Lake cemetery last week. The funeral proceeded from the home, 572 Rogers street, to St. Luke's Anglican church and thence to the graveside, Rev. G. Bousfield conducting the simple service.

Mrs Carpenter was born in Portsmouth, England, seventy-five years ago, coming to this city as a small child with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dunning. She was well known about Peterborough. Her husband, four sons, two daughters and twelve grandchildren survive.

Pall-bearers at the funeral were Frank Adams, Albert Dunk, Robert Beavis, John Stenton, Harold Fitch and Thom - Sargent.

MRS. ROBERT EAGLETON.

Mrs. Robert Eagleton, aged 81 passed away at her home, 493 Bethune Street, after considerable illness, yesterday afternoon. She had been a resident in the city for twenty-five years.

She was formerly Rossana Hilton, born in Norwich, Norfolk, England the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hilton. Surviving are her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Rossana Croft, Peterborough, and three sons, Robert William Eagleton, Reginald Sidney Eagleton, and Arthur Ernest Eagleton, all of this city.

The funeral will be held from the family residence to Little Lake Cemetery to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. G. E. Tyler will conduct the services.

OPINIONS DIFFER.

CHICAGO. — Delegates to the Association of Women Dentists advanced a few theories.

Dr. Willa Yeotsky, Grand Rapids said men patients didn't dare to "cuss" when a woman dentist hurts them, but Dr. Josephine Wolff, of Chicago, said she wasn't convinced of that.

Others said patients aren't so afraid of women dentists because they don't believe they're strong enough to hurt.

DIED

EAGLETON— At her home, 493 Bethune street, August 7, Mrs. Robert William Eagleton, formerly Rossanna Hilton, 65 years of age.

Funeral August 9 from home to Little Lake cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

YEOTES— In loving memory of Jim Yeotes, who died 6 years ago to-day:
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day.
Remembrance keeps him near.

AUSTRIA WANTS TO STRENGTHEN ARMY FORCES

Claims Treaty Restrictions Reduces National Spirit Among Youths.

SHORTEN TRAINING TIME.

Sends Plea to Governments of Britain, France and Italy.

ROME, Aug. 8 (A.P.)—Austria wants to increase her military strength and has privately asked the governments of the United Kingdom, France and Italy for permission to do so, it was learned from an authoritative source yesterday.

Her present long-term professional army, the Austrian Government explained in making the petition, limits the number of young men doing military service very narrowly and thus reduces the national spirit among uAstrian youth.

A much shorter enlistment period is desired by the Vienna Government in order that a larger number of men may serve in the army in successive classes, thus considerably increasing the number of trained men at any given time. The army strength of 30,000 prescribed by the treaty of St Germain, would not be enlarged.

If permission were granted Austria to make this army service modification, commentators believe it would be a significant move having important bearing upon the armament limitations clauses of the the Paris peace treaties, as regards Germany, Hungary, and Bulgaria.

Provisions of Treaty

The treaty of St. Germain which embodies the war settlement as regards Austria abolished compulsory military service in that country and limited the army to 30,000 men. It provided that Austrian army officers must serve actively for 30 years and fixed 12 years as the minimum enlistment period for soldiers.

The Austrian authorities expressed the belief that building up the national spirit would assist Austria to maintain her independence and prevent the growth of sentiment toward anschluss, or union with Germany.

The anschluss argument, it was believed in well-informed circles would be a strong argument with Great Britain, France and Italy in favor of granting the American petition.

Chancellor Hitler of Germany favors abolition of Germany's long-term professional army and the return to universal compulsory service.

Czechoslovakia is understood to have entered objections to the Austrian request.

BURKE AMONG LEADERS.

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 8 (C.P.)—Scoring picked up as the Ontario Rifle Association's big annual meeting continued to-day with several possibles recorded in the first distance of the Duke of Cornwall and York Match, calling for seven shots at 200 yards.

Lieut. Desmond Burke, former King's Prize winner, other Bisley veterans and one of the English Public School Cadets were among those getting highest possible score of 35 at this distance; the second distance, 600 yards, is being fired late in the afternoon, and results will not be available before night.

Bankers' Match

The other feature of the day's program, also a two-distance shoot, was the Bankers' Match, at 300 and 500 yards, and like the Cornwall and York Match, results in the Banker's will not be known until evening. The first distance was being fired this afternoon.

Cadet-Sergt. T. Wisner of the English Public School team went into the front rank at the first distance of the Cornwall and York Match when he plugged seven consecutive bulls at the 200-yard distance. Capt. Dave Fyfie of Victoria, squadded early, also returned a perfect score, and as the match progressed possible were recorded by Lieut. Burke, Sgt. Bass of Windsor, Sgt. J. Borland of Toronto, Cpl. C. Iddiols of Calgary, Sgt. T. A. Jensen of Calgary, Cadet A. Saunders of Calgary, and Lieut. M. C. Upper of Hamilton.

A large number of 34's were recorded at the first distance. Among those missing a possible by just one point were S.M. M. J. McLeod of Toronto, winner of the All-comers' Aggregate at Bisley last month. Lieut.-Col. C. W. Gibson of Hamilton, who was one of the leading Canadians in the Empire classic at Bisley also scored 34, getting an inner on his second last shot.

The veteran Emslie of Toronto, Sgt. T. R. Davis of Vancouver, Sgt. J. H. Regan of Victoria, Sgt. A. Eashe of Victoria, Capt. W. Bishop of Ottawa, Sgt. A. M. Hunter of Hamilton, and four other Toronto men: Capt. W. C. Leggett, Arm.-Sgt. A. Woods, Corp. M. Millar, and Sgt. G. Dudley—also had 34's.

Woman Has a 31

Miss Gwen Spencer, of Victoria, the only woman competing in the meet which has brought nearly 300 of the best shots in Canada to the Long Branch ranges, included three bull's eyes in her total of 31. Major C. R. Crowe of Guelph, one of the oldest marksmen in the Dominion, got a string of bull's eyes, but finished with 33.

Squadded early in the first distance of the Banker's, Lieut. Burke equalled his score in the Cornwall match with another perfect 35 to get him off to a flying start in both. Several others posted 35's as the match progressed, including Lieut.-Col. Letson of Winnipeg, Capt. D. Newton of Toronto, and Sgt. H. Ashling of Toronto.

Many 34's were recorded in the first distance of the Banker's, fired under a broiling sun. Young Cadet Huff of Hamilton, Fred Watson of Winnipeg, and Capt. Dave Fyfie returned early with 34. Others with the same score included C.S.M. G. Crouch of Brantford, Sgt. P. Osler of Toronto, Sgt.. F. Wallace of Mount Dennis, Ont., A. C. Young of Toronto, Corpl. C. Willoughby of Burnaby, B.C., Lance-Cpl. G. Massey of Toronto, Capt. A. R. Mendimbel of Sarnia, Ont., Lieut.-Col. Gibson of Hamilton, Capt. C. Galbraith of Hamilton, Sgt. Jensen of Calgary and Sgt. W. J. Woods of Hamilton.

FRENCH FLIERS ARE HAPPY PAIR

Whole Post Turns Out to Welcome Record Breaking Plane and Pilots.

COVER QUARTER OF GLOBE.

RYAK, Syria, August 8 (A.P.)—"We are immensely happy," said the French distance flyers, Maurice Rossi and Paul Codos, when they arose to-day refreshed after a long sleep.

Officers and men of the little French military airfield, crowding about them, renewed the congratulations given last night to the tired men who in about 36 hours flew a fourth of the way around the globe.

Their plane, the Joseph Le Brix came to a beautiful landing at 3.10 p.m., G.M.T. yesterday (12.10 P.M. E.S.T.), an hour after they had informed military commandant by wireless that they were coming The whole post was out to greet them.

When the monoplane stopped rolling, Rossi and Codos stiff and tired, clambered out of the great ship and greeted their own countrymen with great joy.

They said they wanted three things—to report their success to the air ministry; to send their greetings and love to their wives and to sleep.

But before sleeping they wanted a bath, and they got it. Then they stretched out on army beds in the desert barracks just as the sun was going down.

The blistering heat subsided and the aviators were comfortable in the sheltered room. They complained that even over the Atlantic the cabin of their plane became hot.

Rossi and Codos to-day calculated they had travelled about 9,400 kilometres (5737.4 miles) or 856 kilometres (531.57 miles) beyond the record.

They said they were grateful to air minister Cot of France for entrusting to them the world record mission.

Pure Food Company Reports Increase

COBOURG, Aug. 8.—A one-third increase in business this year as compared with last year is reported by the Canada Pure Food Company in Cobourg. The company is now working on a prosperity scale.

The largest single shipment in the company's history, 9,000 cans of peas and corn, left the plant for Calgary and Vancouver over the week-end. As an economic experiment the shipment will be made by boat, carried on the City of Kingston to Montreal and then transhipped for Vancouver via the Panama Canal. Future shipments will be made in the same manner if the present experiment is successful.

MANION DENIES CANAL CLOSING

Farmers in Lindsay District Guard Chicken Pens as Thieves Grow Active.

THREE RAIDS MADE.

LINDSAY, August 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — After having been shown clippings from The Peterborough Examiner relative to the closing of the Trent Valley Canal and the protests being registered all along its route, Hon. Dr. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, has written an important announcement to T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., Lindsay. The Minister writes that it is not the intention of the Government to close the canal to traffic next year.

G. E. Johnston, general foreman of C.N.R. bridge and building, and who resides on Kent Street, is in the hospital here as the result of injuries sustained a few days ago at Campbellford. He was superintending the unloading of timber off flat cars at that point, when a piece of timber fell on a loose boarrd on which Mr. Johnston was standing. He lost his balance and fell from the car, breaking his collar-bone and sustaining other injuries.

Many farmers in this district spent night vigils around their buildings during the week-end as a result of the activity of chicken thieves. Provincial Constable Nelson has been kept on the jump for the past few days in an endeavor to secure clues that would lead to the apprehension and arrest of those who are guilty of the thefts. Walter Thurston who resides near Omemee, is one of the heaviest losers, 25 of his birds having been stolen. Harry English, who lives west of Reaboro reported to Constable Nelson the loss of thirty-eight spring chickens, and Mrs. Parker, of Oliver's Lane, Lindsay informed the officer that she had been deprived of a number of her fowl. The police believe that an organized chicken-stealing ring is in operation, and that the loot is being taken to Peterborough.

Florence May Langley, formerly of Hastings was laid to rest in the Riverside Cemetery on Saturday afternoon. The deceased, who came from Hastings to Lindsay with her parents when she was fifteen years of age, was most popular and was beloved by a wide circle of friends. Besides her parents, she is survived by four sisters and two brothers.

Rev Father Butler, parish priest at Kinmount, held his annual social yesterday, and the event attracted a good crowd. Clergy were present from Peterborough, Lindsay, Downeyville, and other parishes in the district. The ladies of Kinmount and Galway provided an excellent supper for those who took in the event.

The heaviest highway traffic in the history of the district was recorded during the week-end. All day on Saturday the highways leading into Lindsay from Toronto and other points swarmed with cars and the traffic was so heavy at times as to cause congestion. The traffic on the roads leading to Bobcaygeon, Fenelon Falls, and other lake points was never so heavy, while a record number wended their way to resorts in the northern parts of Victoria County and on into Haliburton. Reports from the different tourist centres are to the effect that all were crowded with holiday visitors. In fact, at some of the centres it was impossible to secure accommodation. Regattas were held to-day at Sturgeon Point, Pleasant Point, Rosedale, Casarea, and other centres, and these attracted large numbers.

COMMISSION GETS UNDER WAY

The opening ceremonies were conducted by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, who welcomed the commissioners, and by Lord MacMillan, who set forth some of the hopes and desires of the inquiry body.

All members of the commission were present, including, in addition to Lord MacMillan, Sir Charles Addis, London banker, Rt. Hon. Sir Thomas White, Toronto, former Canadian Minister of Finance, Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta and Beudry Leman, general manager of the Banque Canadienne Nationale.

J. A. MacLeod, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, was the first witness, giving an account of the workings of the Canada Bank Act since its inception in 1871.

Among others present were Rt. Hon. Sir George Perley, Acting Prime Minister, Sydney H. Logan general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Jackson Dodds, general manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, H. B. Henwood, general manager of the Bank of Toronto, and Henry Ross, secretary of the Canadian Bankers' Association.

The commission will leave tomorrow for Victoria to open a series of public hearings and private discussions in most important centres from coast to coast, ending at Halifax, to be followed by closing sessions in Ottawa.

Bandits Get $1,500 In Montreal Bank

MONTREAL, Aug. 8 (C.P.)—Two armed men held up the Caisse Populaire de Ste. Cecile, savings bank attached to the Parish of Ste. Cecil here to-day and escaped with a sum estimated at $1,500. According to Fernand Blache, cashier, who was alone at the time, the two men entered and told him to put his hands up. They then tied him and took all the money they could see, escaping in a car which was waiting outside.

The alarm was given by Blache, who managed to untie his hands, and news of the robbery was broadcast to radio cars.

ISLAND ABLAZE

SUDBURY. — Ontario Forestry Branch officials here to-day stated smoke had been reported on Fitzwilliam Island, south of Manitoulin Island, and apparently a forest fire was burning there. The authorities, however, had no information as to the extent of the blaze. Fitzwilliam Island is not in any organized forestry district.

GOOD INFIELD WORK

Les Burton Stars in Locals' Outer Garden, Having Five Putouts.

Russ Kitchen won his ninth game out of ten starts this season at Stevenson Park Saturday before eight hundred fans when he pitched the Petes to a 5-3 win over Oshawa. The Central League's ace hurler let the Dukes down with six hits as he sent nine back on strikes and issued three walks. Mathews, his opponent, also went good, to fan five and give just seven safeties, while walking three. Hits at the right time gave the locals the victory and their defensive play was much superior to that of the losers.

Les Burton starred in left field for the Lee gang, having five putouts, several being beautiful catches. The four infielders all went good as the Petes turned in an errorless card to back Kitchen up with fine support. The Dukes booted the ball around for a couple of bad frames, while Hurst and Peacock were the fielding stars.

Foley Leads Hitters

Tommy Foley led the hitters, blazing out three singles in five trips. Whatley came through with a triple, Burton, Scully, and Kitchen being the other hitters. Rowden and Mathews got two each for the visitors, Doc getting a double and single. Claus and Wallace were the only other binglers.

The Petes got three in the first on singles by Burton, Scully and Foley with a wild pitch, an error and fielder's choice thrown in. Oshawa got one back in their half, Rowden doubling to right, moving up one on Claus' infield hit and racing home on Mathews' drive to centre. Hollingsworth tallied the fourth local counter. First up in the third, he was hit by a pitched ball, went to second on Foley's single, third on a misplay and scored on an out. The Liftlockers got their last in the fourth, Whatley tripling to right and scoring on Burton's long fly which Hurst ran back to snare in deep centre.

Dukes Count in Fifth

Kitchen and his teammates were running back the Dukes in order, except for the fifth when they counted twice. Wallace, first up, hit safely, was sacrificed and reached third on an out. Hurst then drew a walk, stole second, and the two runners scoored on Rowden's sharp hit through third. The local twirler was getting better from then on, fanning six in the next four frames and holding them to one hit as the rest of the team took everything that came their way to subdue the Dukes.

GROCERS BEAT OMEMEE 17-5

Harrison's Take First Game in Men's Softball Semi-finals.

HEAVY SLUGGING.

Percy Harrison's Red and White men had little difficulty in walking off with the first of their three game series with Omemee for the right to meet Sugar Bowl for the city series and the Taylor Cup. The villagers, evidently suffering from stage fright got away to a bad start and a flock of errors in the first with a walk and a couple of hits gave the Northenders five big runs, and the Highway boys were never able to catch up, although trying hard all the way. Harrison's played nice ball afield with Cadd, Dorrington and Starr and Chambers looking especially good.

The heavy hitters were Cadd and Foley for the Redmen and Stevenson and Reid for Omemee. Shine was hit hard all the way and twice gave way to Gallagher. Price was also hit freely in the early innings but finished strong.

Following is the box score:

OMEMEE TAKES SENIOR HONORS AT BRIDGENORTH

Villagers Eliminate Sugar Bowl in Semi-Finals 16-8—Beat Harrison's 12-5.

SUCCESSFUL TOURNAMENT

Bridgenorth Captures the Honors in Intermediate Section.

Nineteen teams from Peterborough and district were attracted on the Civic Holiday to the monster softball tournament held at Bridgenorth under the auspices of Bridgenorth United Church. The ninth annual event of its kind, it was successful, not only by reason of the calibre of the teams it attracted, but also from the standpoint of attendance.

The well arranged program kept three games in progress from the start of the tourney at noon until the final game in the men's class B between Ridney's and Bridgenorth was called in the fourth innings on account of gathering darkness, with the score 3 to nil in favor of the villagers.

Ingmeters Win in Junior.

The teams were divided into five classes, the first being the junior boys for contestants under sixteen years of age, which attracted six entries. The laurels, consisting of a silver cup and a softball bat and ball went to Bridgeenorth, who defeating Mike O'Leary's East City Magic leafs in the finals, 14-10.

In the men's senior section, in which five teams competed, four of which were from the City League and the fifth from Oshawa, the classiest ball of the day was produced. The Sugar Bowl, last year's cup winners, were eliminated in the semi-finals by Omemee to the tune of 16-8. Omemee copped the group honors by beating Harrison's with the lopsided margin of 12-5.

The group which collected the greatest number of entries was the men's intermediate section which chalked up nine crews of eager softball artists. Bridgenorth captured the honors, defeating Ridley's in the final on a declared score of 3-nil in the third frame.

There was an intermediate class for girls, which was won by default by Selwyn team, the only entrants. The captain of the team received a softball glove.

Parkhill Wins in Girls'.

Honors in the girls' senior section, which had an entry of three teams, was won by the Parkhill maidens. They beat the 6th Line in the finals by 330-22.

The four silver cups and other prizes were presented by the Rev C. C. Miller, pastor of Bridgenorth United Church. Acknowledgment was made of the assistance given to the effort by those who had donated prizes and in this connection the names of the following were mentioned as having given softball bats, balls, gloves and masks: J. J. Duffus, Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., Bridgenorth United Church Committee, Mr. L. Lebarr and William Bradburn.

OUTSIDERS WIN TENNIS TOURNEY

Tweed and Oshawa Pairs Capture Mens' and Ladies' Doubles Respectively.

HEAVY ENTRY LIST.

Outsiders carried off all the honors in the highly contested tennis tournament for Central Ontario held yesterday afternoon on the courts of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club. Tweed captured the men's doubles, Bill McGee and Borden Rollins, of the eastern village, defeating Ross Strike and Stuart James, of Bowmanville, in the finals, while an Oshawa pair, Miss Ruth Fishleigh and Miss R. Pickard, of Oshawa, showed true championship form to win the ladies' doubles, defeating Miss V. Kindred and Miss D. Bowers in straight sets.

Sixteen pairs competed in the men's doubles and brilliant tennis was displayed in the gruelling play, the finals not being concluded until nearly dusk. Wilson and Cotton were the only Peterborough pair to get into the semi-finals, Strike and James eliminating them after a testing struggle, 6-4, 7-9, 6-3. McGee and Rollins pushed their way to the finals after defeating Cathcart and Thomson, of Kingston, in the semi-final round, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Pickard and Miss Fishleigh left no doubts as to their superiority in the ladies' doubles, going through without losing a set. In the first round they downed Miss A. Lees and Miss E. Hodgson, of Lindsay. In the same round Miss Peggy Scott and Miss B. Scott, of Peterborough, defeated Miss E. Baker and Miss M. Kelchert, of Lindsay, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, while Miss V. Kindred and Miss D. Bowers defeated Miss K. Caddy and Miss A. MacDonald, of Peterborough, 6-0, 6-2.

In the semi-finals the Misses Scott fell before Miss Pickard and Miss Fishleigh, 6-0, 6-1, and Misses Kindred and Bowers won their semi-finals by default. Maintaining the brilliant net play, Miss Pickard and Miss Fishleigh easily disposed of the Tweed pair in the finals, 6-1, 7-5.

ALEX MORRISON says:

Very often a player is completely baffled by the roughness of a putting surface or perhaps the slope of it.

He just can't get his ball to hold the line on which he has started it. If it bounces along obviously it will be deflected somewhat by each bounce.

One way of offsetting this is to put a cut on the ball when it is hit. Open the face of your putter and swing the clubhead so that it cuts across your intended line of play from the outside in.

Be sure to strike the ball with an open clubface and you'll get a spin that will keep your ball on the line.

Lacrosse Notes

Barry Tudhope has notified the Dinty's Inn team of the Inter-County Lacrosse League that he would not act as manager. Following a uniform practice of all the players Tuesday evening at 6.30 at the Bowl rink, President Fred Goodfellow will have a meeting during which a manager will be voted upon, and other business discussed. Eddie Fisher, new coach, will conduct to-night's practice. Dinty's Inn must win their four remaining games to be assured of a play-off berth.

Referees have been appointed for the following games: Aug. 9, Dinty's Inn vs. Port Hope—Fred Goodfellow and Pete Thebencher; Aug. 9, Millbrook vs. Cobourg—B. Reynolds and Geo. Wilcox; Aug. 14, Dinty's Inn vs. Millbrook—Reynolds and W. LeBarr; Aug. 16—Cobourg vs. Port Hope—Wilcox and Thebenche; Aug. 18, Millbrook vs. Dinty's Inn—Reynolds and Goodfellow; Aug. 23—Port Hope vs. Cobourg—Thebencher and Wilcox; Aug. 30, Cobourg vs. Millbrook—Reynolds and LeBarr. If referees cannot act on dates appointed, they should notify Geo. Smead, Port Hope, or Arnold Hall, Cobourg.

In the game in Millbrook Saturday, the homesters took a 4-3 decision from Port Hope. It was a fast, clean game and witnessed by a large crowd of Millbrook rooters, with the winners having the edge to pull out a neat victory over their battling opponents.

PACKERS LOSE WHITE TROPHY TO SMELTERS

DELORO 3, PACKERS 1.

A real sporting spirit was shown by the Packers on Saturday evening when they fielded only nine men against the Deloro's full eleven in the final of the White Challenge Cup. They held the visitors to the last minutes of the game with a 1-1 tie but Brown and Brooks settled the argument with clever goals to win the trophy, by a score of three goals to one. Captain Brown accepted the cup on behalf of the Deloro club and made a fitting reply to the presentation. Port Hope won the silverware last season.

Visitors Open Scoring

The Packers lost the toss to face the sun with only seven men lining up against the full quota of Deloro. Right from the kick off, the visitors indulged in the long swinging passes to test out the steady blockade of the locals who were putting up a brilliant defensive against odds in every department. Time and again, the Brown, Brooks, Hart combination wrought havoc in the Packer's goal to test out Foster with close in drives. After Hart broke away on the left wing, he drew out the defense on the pretense of travelling right into goal, instead, he shot the ball across the goal mouth where Brooks made certain that it found the rigging. The treat of the game reverted to the outstanding display of George Downers, on the left wing, with his deadlly centres that O'Neill found hard to handle as the attacking forward tore right upon him. No less than three times did he land the ball into the goal where scrimmage ensued but the visiting custodian was safe as a bank. Just before the interval, Asa Downer, at left full back, took the ball right down the field to introduce a smart combination play with his brother George, as the latter sent a lightning drive past the far corner post. Deloro 1, Packers 0.

Brooks Rattle Cross Bar

On resuming, the Packers forced the Deloro boys to fall back on the defense to hold their meagre lead. Cousins relieving the pressure in the nick of time to let Bradley dribble his way right through the Packer's defense and just as he was set to shoot, Buchan took the ball right off his toe. The Packers centre half worked like a trojan in an endeavour to get the equalizer and was successful when he converted from a foul kick. A ding dong style of play run from end to end with neither team getting within shooting distance. With ten minutes to go, Brown accepted a pass from Hart on the left wing to give his team-mates greater confidence. With greater energy than ever, the visitors bombarded the Packers goal to add to their total when Brooks broke through himself. He sent a fast drive into the far corner of the net to put the game on ice. Deloro 3, Packers 1.

Goal scorers—Deloro, Brooks (2) and Brown. Packers, Buchan.

Deloro—J. O'Neill, goal; R. Smith and T. Cousins, full backs; P. Gray, E. Bradley and J. Sproul, halves; W. Hart, W. Cuddy, G. Brooks, W. Brown and J. Hart, forwards. Subs—S. Smith.

PETES HUMBLE TERRIERS 12-3

GRAHAM LEADS BATTERS.

The Petes had little trouble humbling Terriers, 12 to 3, in yesterday afternoon's exhibition ball game before a fair crowd at Stevenson Park to make it a clean sweep of the double-header. The first half the game was good, but the locals began hitting and taking advantage of Toronto's errors to pile up the count. Terriers could get just seven hits off Calladine and Deyell, and five went back on strikes. Bi. Archie, after twirling the morning game, relieved Calladine—who is being saved for Wednesday's contest in Kingston—and had an easy time subduing the visitors once more.

Graham had three hits for the Petes, while Burton, Rogers, Hollingsworth and Calladine got two apiece. The locals went fair in the field, Scully and Batten in particular, while Hollingsworth pulled a neat double-play by himself. Terriers gave Purdy poor support most of the way.

Teams	Won	Lost
Peterborough	15	5
Kingston	15	5
Belleville	5	15

By shutting out Toronto Terriers here yesterday morning under the staggering score of 17 to 0, the Petes finished their league schedule in a tie for first place with Kingston. A fair-sized crowd saw Terriers make a pitiful showing against the local clubbers who hammered two pitchers unmercifully, and gave good support to Archie Deyell who hurled masterly ball. He let them down with just five hits and fanned six, only three reaching second base.

Terriers could not hit, pitch nor field enough to make it a good game, whereas the Lee crew shone in all three departments. They ran in four runs in the first, three in the second and six in the third to make it a walkaway. Burton starred in the field while Foley had a triple, double and two singles in four appearances at bat.

YANKEES SLASH SENATORS' LEAGUE LEAD TO ONE GAME

Sluggers, Moundsmen Come Through to Give New Yorkers 6 5, 5-4 Wins.

NATIONAL LEAGUE OUT.

(By Edward J. Neil, Associated Press Sports Writer)

Every time the Yankees skid swerve and knock off a wheel or two in a tangle with some routine opponent, chuckles sweep the baseball lands and the boys nod wisely at the indisputable signs of an aged hard-to-inspire machine about to fly apart all at once like the fabled one-horse shay.

Everyone chuckles but the baseball men who have to tackle the Yankees next. It has long been their adage and it stood forth truer than ever to-day, that when the checks are down and the issue is man to man with the title at stake, Babe Ruth and his "Destroying" brethren are the grimmest toughest foes in all baseball.

45,000 See Duels

Perfect as to detail in every point, this very scene was pictured in the Yankee Stadium yesterday to 45,000 rooting fans in the great horseshoe stands, the high riding Senators, three games in the lead opening a four-game series with a doubleheader. The Athletics had left town only Saturday with three straight victories and the Red Sox might have made it four Sunday but for a jittery infield defense. The checks were down the pressure was on.

So the Yankees climbed right up out of the resin like a hurt Dempsey. Babe Ruth belted one. Lou Gehrig hit another. The pitchers pitched as they're capable of pitching, Red Ruffing, Herb Pennock, Russell Van Atta, old Wiley Moore. The hitters hit, the defense was tight. The Yanks swept both games, 6-5 and 5-4, and the Senators lead was shaved to a single game.

National League Out

With two more games left in this series, one to-day and another to-morrow, it is possible for the Yanks to swing into the final third of the season this week with a one-game lead.

The battle of the Yanks and the Senators overshadowed the major league battlefronts yesterday with action totally suspended along the National League front.

The Browns won their first series for Manager Rogers Hornsby as they shut out the White Sox 6-0 for a 3-1 edge. A five-run assault in the fourth gave the Tigers enough runs to beat Cleveland 6-3 despite six errors. The home folks gave Bucky Walters, Red Sox third baseman, a chest of silver and a loving cup at Philadelphia, and he in turn gave the Athletics a headache by driving in five runs with a homer and triple as Boston won 8-5.

Bowling Tourney Is Held At Hastings

HASTINGS, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—Five rinks entered the local mixed bowling tournament, held on Civic Holiday. H. G. Fairman's rink won first prize, R. Dodd's second and Dr. W. N. Campbell third.

The following were the rinks:

Miss P. Runnels, W. J. Lavoie, Mrs. R. Johnson, H. G. Fairman (skip).

Mrs. M. J. Baker, B. Lemoire, Mrs. A. J. McKinty, H. Dodd (skip).

Mrs. J. R. Chapman, F. G. Runnels, Miss C. Dorsee and Dr. W. N. Campbell (skip).

Mrs. W. J. Lavoie, A. J. McKinty, Miss W. Huycke, M. J. Baker (skip).

Mrs. Dr. J. H. Mess, W. W. Knight, Mrs. C. W. Lynch, George Lynch (skip).

First games—Dodd 20, Lynch 4; Fairman 18, Campbell 8; Baker a bye.

Third games—Fairman 18, Dodd 8, Campbell 14, Baker 4.

LOCALS BEATEN BY 247 TO 200 TORONTO MATCH

CLEVER BOWLING.

Peterborough County lost a most exciting game to Lincoln County by 47 runs. Lincoln County, winning the toss, elected to bat, and sent in Mix and Whitelaw to open the innings. Runs came slowly at first, and the first wicket fell for 26, when Mix was finely taken by Mawhood at the wickets off Dyer, the second wicket falling for 68. The third wicket fell for 77, when Williams was taken at the wickets by another fine catch by Mawhood. The fourth fell for 107, and the fifth for 175.

In the meantime Whitelaw was scoring steadily by fine aggressive cricket, and had 114 to his credit when the local captain finally decided to give Hamilton an over. His first ball found Whitelaw's stumps. By this time the score was mounting rapidly, when Hamilton secured his second wicket in his third over. The score was now 247 runs for seven wickets, when Lincoln County declared their innings closed.

Hamilton bowled well, getting two wickets in three overs.

It was nearly 5.30 p.m. before Peterborough opened their innings, and it looked a hopeless task. Lawrence and Rev. E. Worrall opened and only 6 runs had been scored when Lawrence was bowled by Powell for four. Mitchell followed and was taken at point almost immediately without scoring. Worrall was run out, and three wickets down for seven runs was not a pleasant outlook. Hamilton, who was batting steadily, was joined by Mawhood, and the score was taken to 71 before Hamilton lost his wicket to Mix. Mawhood did not last long after Hamilton left, being bowled the next over before the score was increased. His 43 was a fine exhibition of good sound cricket. Rhodes and Dyer were now partnered, and runs came rapidly, and the score was taken from 71 to 150 before Dyer lost his wicket to Powell. The seventh and eighth wickets fell for 150 and 154 respectively. The light was now getting bad, but Smith and Langhorne hung on until Smith unfortunately hit his wicket after a well-played and patient innings of 13.

Bonarlaw Girls Win 17 To 16 Decision

BONARLAW, August 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Playing a seven-innings game on the Evergreen baseball diamond near Stirling on Friday of last week, the Bonarlaw girls' softball team defeated the Evergreen girls' softball team by a very small margin, the score being 17 to 16. Verna Baker was on the mound for Bonarlaw and R. Stapley for the homesters and both pitched a good game. The visitors piled up a steady lead in the first four innings, weakened in the fifth, and in the sixth frame with a flock of errors nearly lost the game by allowing the Evergreen girls to come in with eight runs. Four runs in the seventh, however, gave them the victory.

The teams:

Bonarlaw — Mary Jones, 2b; Evelyn Peters, cf; Verna Baker, p; Evelyn Neal, 3b; Ruth Frost, lf; Hazel Neal, c; Roma Mumby, ss; Laurena Neal, 1b; Kathleen McComb, rf.

Evergreen — H. McMullen, 1b; L. Stapley, lf; R. Stapley, p; K. Stapley 2b; D. McMullen, rf; M. Heath, c; M. Stapley, 3b; P. Stapley, ss; M. Danford, ss.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Lots of action over the holiday in sports around here. You could get all kinds of baseball, softball, boxing, water sports, and what will yours be? We started off with a good ball game at Riverside, the Petes wreaking vengeance on Oshawa, 5 to 3. The tilt was marked with fine pitching by Russ Kitchen, snappy local infield play, and some great work in left garden by Burton, who galloped miles to take everything hit in that direction. The Dukes didn't look so good, though Mathews hurled steady ball. It was Kitchen's ninth win in ten starts. Several of the local batters didn't go so hot, being just batters instead of hitters.

The merry men of Harrison took the first of three three-game softball series from Omemee at Central Saturday evening before a big crowd, 13 to 7. Wild Bill Gallagher and Frank Shine, shuttling back and forth on the mound in dizzying manner, fed them a straight diet of speed, and the Grocers took to it like an Irishman to stew. They earned the win and are figuring on cleaning this series up Wednesday and then tackling Sugar Bowl in the finals. When Harrison's bend all their well-known scrappiness on opponents and cut out fighting among themselves, it's just simply too bad for the said opponents.

• • • • • •

And was it too bad for Toronto Terriers Monday a.m. or was it a shame? The locals cleaned up the deck with them, 17 to 0, to end the C.O.B.L. schedule tied for first place. How do you like that, Kingston? Archie Deyell pitched excellent ball, received fine support at bat and in the field, and the Terriers slunk off the grounds with a whole string of tin cans tied to their tails. They were terrible in every way imaginable—if you've got a good imagination! Burton again looked smart in left field, while Foley pasted out four nifty hits in four times to bat. The rest of the dope may be dug out of the box score. We didn't write very much on the game as it wasn't worth more than a few paragraphs.

• • • • • •

Just a word or two concerning Fred. Batten, the Petes' third baseman. The hot corner was a sore problem to Knotty Lee this spring and he tried out several there. Batten, whom some of the wise guys were calling "washed up," was finally put on third steady. And he's rewarded the couch and put himself in solid with the fans by playing a bangup game at this, the toughest spot in the infield. While not around the top in hitting, still he's clouting the old apple pretty regular and obeying orders every time he totes the wagon-tongue up to the platter. We're glad to see Ike staging a comeback in senior ball and solving the third base problem as well.

• • • • • •

Monday afternoon's ball game wasn't so hot either, the Petes romping home in front, 12 to 3. Calladine tossed 'em in for three and then dropped out to rest up for Wednesday, Deyell finishing in good style. The Petes did some hard hitting in this tussle, Graham especially, but Terriers continued to look terrible. There was a pretty fair crowd, showing the boys will get support if they hustle and win ball games. Umpire Walsh, the Toronto arbiter, proved to be one of the best men sent here this year to officiate a game. We hear Vern Deavis is sick in bed and will be for some little time. Tough luck for Vern, and it's certainly no break for the team either.

Flying fists were the magnet that drew something like five hundred people—many from Peterborough—to the Lindsay Armouries last night for an amateur fight card. It was a pretty fair one, too, when you remember this is not the boxing season and some of the ivitiners aren't in the proverbial pink. Six of Louis Yeates' Alpha Club boys appeared in the ring and three copped their fights while the other half lost in a good showing. Gord Chapman, Norm Bowler and Ned Minicola (though we think the latter earned a draw with Ripley of Oshawa in the main bout) saw the decision go against them, while Roy Hope, Norm McIlmoyle and Tony Minicola won.

Three last three left no room for argument. Tony slapped Barry of Toronto around hard to take all three rounds, Norm hung a clean kayo on Buchan of Lindsay in the first round, and Hope battered Lodge of Oshawa into insensibility inside of three minutes. They all looked good, Hope in particular never appearing better. He's in fine shape, has his timing perfect and his punching is as deadly as ever. This youth will be running the Alpha Club here this winter, with Louis Yeates backing it.

• • • • • •

Several dope-bucket upsets marked the Bridgenorth softball tournament on the holiday. They had quite a crowd of fans and the games dished up were good for the most part, with nineteen teams in—not as many as last year. Omemee ankled through to take the event's Class A, Bridgenorth teams won the Class B and the Regal Park Hill showed 'em all how in the girls' Class A event, while the girls' B went to Selwyn by default—there being no other entries in this class.

FOSTERS NEED E.P.L. VICTORY

Must Win Either Tuesday or Friday to Cop Play-off Berth.

Meet Crescents To-night.

Crescents play Fosters in to-night's E.P.L. game at 6.15 down at the Exhibition Grounds. Fosters must win either to-night or Friday to cop a playoff berth with C.O.B.L. otherwise Cogs have a chance for second place. Hence, the Foster aggregation will be at full strength and prepared for a mighty fight against the scrappy Crescents to-night. The game has been shifted from to-morrow to this evening.

Lefty McIlwaine or Joe Bailey will do the flinging for Fosters, while Lefty Field is the likely starting choice for Crescents. If the two young southpaws hook up on opposite mounds, fans may look for a lefty portsiders' fight, backed by the two teams playing their hardest. Regardless of the outcome of this contest, it promises to be a classy game from start to finish, and a large crowd of loyal E.P.L. rooters are expected, if the weather is right, for this game. The play-offs are just about a week away, first and second team meeting in a three-out-of-five series for the league title, the Tip Top Tailors' trophy, and the right to represent Peterborough in the Intermediate O.B.A.A. play-downs.

ALPHA BOXERS ARE WINNERS LINDSAY SHOW

LIVELY 8-BOUT CARD.

Flooring Noel Lodge, 137-pound Oshawa scrapper, five times with terrific right hooks to the jaw in the first round of the sixth bout on a Lindsay boxing card last night, Roy Hope of the Peterborough Alpha Club won on a kayo. Some five hundred fight fans saw six boys from Louis Yeates' club split even; Tony Minicola, Hope and Norm McIlmoyle winning their bouts; while Ned Minicola, Norm Bowler and Gord Chapman lost.

Lindsay, Oshawa, Toronto and Peterborough mittsters made up a lively 8-bout card to provide the fans with several good fights. Hope and McIlmoyle, of the Alpha stable, looked very impressive with their one-round knockouts; Tony Minicola had little trouble winning his scrap on points, and Ned Minicola should have at least earned a draw in his bout. Herschel Osborne of Toronto was referee.

Dick Harding of Oshawa won the opener on a technical kayo over Maurice Murphy, 112. The next one went to Scotty Moir of Lindsay, 125, over Gord Chapman of Peterborough. The latter was cool and a better boxer, but a furious aggressive attack by the rugged young Moir gave him the nod on points. Jack King, 130, Lindsay, nosed out a decision in four rounds against Norm Bowler, Alpha, after they had bored four tame spasms, trading light lefts, neither appearing willing to mix it.

Technical Kayo

In the fourth setto, Eric Scott, Lindsay lightweight, licked George Boreback, Oshawa, getting his hand lifted on a technical kayo in the second round of a rough old battle, when he opened an old cut over George's eye to blind him with gore, the referee finally stopping it. Tony Minicola, Alpha 122-pounder, outpointed Jack Barry of Toronto, with a hard right smash to the jaw, his footwork and experience in tying up the other making Barry look slow.

A Game Battler

Lodge of Oshawa scaled 137, one pound heavier than Roy Hope. They squared off sparring and then Hope shifted in close and nailed him with a dynamite right hook to the chin. The Motor City gladiator took a seven-count. He took another immediately when Roy hung a one-two to his whiskers again. The next time he hit the deck it was from a short swishing right uppercut and he staggered up at "eight." Hope came across the ring fast to hammer him down with a barrage of rights and lefts to the head for a seven-count. Lodge gamely climbed up, but Roy set himself and hung a hard right hook squarely on the point, and Noel slumped to the floor cold.

Norm McIlmoyle, Alpha 151-pound scrapper, put Scotty Bunchan, 150, off himself, away in two minutes of their first round. The local husky softened Scotty up soon with a hard smashing two-handed attack upstairs, knocking him kicking with a wicked left smash to the jaw. Norm was built better, moved faster and hit both offener and harder to win in decisive fashion.

Ripley Gets Decision

Burt Ripley, 139, of Oshawa, was handed the decision over Ned Minicola, 138, of Peterborough, in the lively main scrap, though Ned appeared to have at least gained a draw verdict. He took the first round with several hard rights to the head, crossing the odd left hook. The middle setto appeared even, first Ned doing the charging and then the Oshawa fighter, who was hard to hurt. They mixed it up in the third, Ned hanging several nice ones on the other to start it off, but Bert coming through strong at the finish to have his mitt raised.

LEAFS DIVIDE WITH SKEETERS

Roger Hanlon and Mike Meola Give Great Performances on Jersey Mound.

BEARS BLANK WINGS 4-0.

(By Orlo Robertson, Associated Press Sports Writer)

Although Jersey City Skeeters are mired deep in the International League cellar, manager Mike Kelly has developed a mound staff that is attracting the attention of big league scouts.

While splitting even with Toronto Maple Leafs yesterday, the starting Jersey City pitcher went the route for the sixth successive game. Younger Roger Hanlon Fordham University alumnus, gave up only six hits in the first game but his opponent held the Skeeters to four blows and the Leafs won the opening fray, 2-1. It was a different story in the abbreviated nightcap, however. While Mike Meola was hurling five-hit ball, his teammates collected 16 off Keith Frazier and Earl Cook to win 10-1. One of the 16 hits was a home run by Rosenfield.

A pair of sparkling pitching performances featured the pair of night games as Johnny Broaca the bespectacled Yale collegian who belongs to the Yankees, tossed his third victory for Newark. Broaca shut out Rochester 4-0 with six hits as the Bears nudged Sheriff Blake at opportune times counting two doubles and a triple among their seven hits.

Ray Prim was just as effective as Broaca as Albany shut out Buffalo by the same count, 4-0. Prim allowed but four hits as the Albany hitters touched Phil Gallivan for a dozen.

Soccer Notes

A very important soccer game will be played to-night on King Edward Park. Kick-off at 6.30 prompt.

A special meeting of the P. and D. F. A. will be held to-night in the Chamber of Commerce Rooms after the match. Business important.

Rooters' Bus For Kingston Ball Game

The local Senior Baseball Club has made arrangements for a 35-passenger bus to go to Kingston to-morrow for the Petes' first C.O.B.L. play-off game. Provided enough are willing to make the trip, it will leave opposite the Empress Hotel at 12.45, and the return fare will be $3.50. The club is anxious to have a number of Peterborough rooters on hand, as this first game is very important. Reservations should be made to-day or this evening. Call Ed Riley at 328.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Canadian Press)

Ben Chapman and Joe Sewell, Yankees.—Hit singles in ninth innings to give Yanks double victory over Senators.

Bucky Walter and Dusty Cooke, Red Sox.—Former drove in five runs with homer and triple. Latter hit two doubles and triple.

ALL OF US

LAUGHING AT FATHER

You go into such a home and five minutes after you've stepped through the front door you discover that father has none of that enormous, unwieldly dignity that some fathers of the antique type still possess.

He's one of them. They may not call him by his first name, but they might as well. The children make jokes about him openly. In fact, feather's weaknesses and failibilities seem to be a standing joke in that group of people.

Father always is forgetting things. Father can't remember where he put his keys. The children can always get an ice cream cone out of father when mother might remind them that dinner is only half an hour away. When mother's out and the kids are at home with father they can always manage to stay up at least half an hour later than usual. Father has no control. Even the dog and the cat have no respect for his authority. He's not the one who feeds them; he may earn the money, but he doesn't take the food actually out of the ice box. Who is this big guy, anyway?

And, what's more, father accepts the situation. He knows his place and fills it contentedly. To be sure he's the one who earn the money that keeps the family together, but he knows full well that his wife is the one who keeps it together in every other sense. She raises the children, arranges the meals, trains the little savages to be civilized beings, checks them in this respect, gives them full freedom in that respect, puts them to bed when they have colds, makes them scrub their teeth and is responsible for the thousand other details of family life. She's the boss of all that and the children know it and so does he.

He, father, can be and ought to be just the Big Friend. And in the happy family that's what he is . . . And you can always tell that he is by the way the children treat him. The instant you hear them laughing at him and the instant you see how he takes it you know in any family whether it is rounded and happy and healthily centralized into a serene and joyous unit. These are not enemies bound sadly together in mutual distrust and hatred. These are friends, contentedly living together in kinship and love. . . Look around you and count the families, known to you, that are like this—the ones in which the children laugh at father and father knows it's because they love him.

Wednesday, August 9.

The Lunar transits bearing rule of the conditions and events of this day hold augury of unusually active and interesting developments, particularly in all pertaining to writings printing, publishing, and commercial promotion. The mind will be stimulated to creative and original work in these lines. General business talents may be keen although employment for others has some slightly adverse aspect. Litigation may be successful and good news or letters may assist to progress.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of unusual liveliness and interest.

VINES' STATUS AS AN AMATEUR IS UNDER FIRE

Investigation Under Way By Rules Committee of U.S. Lawn Tennis Association.

Vines Denies Pro Rumors.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 (A.P.)—The amateur status of Ellsworth Vines, United States tennis champion, is under investigation as a result of widespread reports linking his name with professional offers, Louis J. Carruthers, chairman of the amateur rules committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, told The Associated Press to-day.

Carruthers made it plain no action had yet been taken by his committee and that none would be until he ascertained "all the facts" in connection with the much-discussed intention of Vines to forsake amateur ranks after the close of the 1933 season.

Explains Situation

He explained the situation as follows to The Associated Press:

"We have the situation with respect to Vines under very serious consideration. I have read all the newspaper comment about professional proposals and so-called offers. I also have obtained other information on the subject and the amateur rule committee will make a thorough investigation.

"So far as I know, Vines is the only American player whose name has been associated with these stories and offers. Naturally we are not concerned with what Henri Cochet or any other foreign players do. Until we have all the facts and a clear picture of just what the situation is, I cannot venture any statement as to what action, if any, may be justified.",

Informed of Carruthers' statement by The Associated Press, Vines declared:

"I think it is a good idea. It will save me denying rumors every day."

Denies Pro. Rumors

Vines said that the only definite professional offer made to him so far involved a proposition to manage a chain of sporting goods stores, with headquarters in New York.

"I didn't follow that up and I haven't any intention of doing so. Since I returned from Europe, I have not talked with anybody about turning professional. All I know is what I have seen in the papers."

Vines said he had not yet heard from Carruthers or the U.S.L.T.A., but would welcome a hearing to clear up the entire matter.

Pearce And Phelps Start Training For Race

TED PHELPS BOBBY PEARCE

Here are the two men of muscle who will battle at Toronto early in September for the World's Professional Sculling title. Phelps, at LEFT, above, is at present the pro. champion, while Pearce, recently turned pro., holds the world's amateur championship. Phelps won his title by defeating Major F. Goodsell at Los Angeles. Pearce has won both Olympic titles and the Diamond sculls. The match race for a $5,000 purse will take place on Lake Ontario. The two oarsmen are seen above as they met in Toronto.

Carl Hubbell and Roy Parmelee between them have fanned nearly 200 opponents of the New Giants. Hubbell has the edge on Roy in number of whiffs but the youngster has been creeping up on him in recent games.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

(By Herb Martin.)

Over two hundred bowlers and tennis players took part in the activities of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling and Tennis Club held on the greens and courts yesterday.

The men bowlers held their tournament on the west greens, while the ladies played their games on the east greens and then over on the tennis courts the tennis section held their tournament. An account of these games is reported in another column.

There have been bigger local tournaments held but when you consider that it was put over for those who did not care to go away for the holiday, the entry of sixteen rinks was very gratifying, and then again there was so much opposition of other sports on the double holiday.

The games were very fast and also very interesting to watch. When the day's play was over it was found that J. J. Howden and Geo. Cairns were tied for first place and they were asked to play four ends to decide the winners. A large gallery stayed to see the finish which ended up in a win for the "J. J." by a score of 5-3.

First Winners.

L. Cann, W. Greenslade, W. Flannery, J. J. Howden skip. Each secured a woollen sweater.

Second Winenrs.

H. Frise, C. Taylor, E. Sackville, G. Cairns skip. Each received a broadcloth shirt.

Third Winners.

W. Jeffries, Dr. Mahood, H. Coleman, D. Smith skip. Each received a broadcloth shirt.

To-night's draw was published in the Saturday issue of The Examiner.

TAX RATE SET FOR HASTINGS

Public School Supporters to Pay 48 Mills, Separate 50.

UNPAID TAXES $1,019.37.

HASTINGS, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The tax rate for the village was set on Friday evening at the regular meeting of the council held in the council chambers with Reeve G. B. Stevenson in the chair. Councillors Doherty, Fairman, Fleming and Hatherly present.

Public School supporters willl pay forty-eight mills and Separate School fifty. The rates are made up as follows: County rate 11 mills, street lighting 6 mills; debentures 10 mills, general 8 mills, paying off overdraft 3 mills, Public School 10 mills, Separate School 12 mills.

In spite of the fact the assessment is down $5,500 the council has been able to reduce the general rate from 10 mills down to 8, the county rate is also reduced 2 mills, Separate School is down 1 mill and the Public up one. The three mills for overdraft will go towards paying the overdraft which has been brought forward from previous years.

The total assessment amounts to $320,365.31 with the exemptions deducted the two schools have the following assessment Public Schools $186,789 at 10 mills amounts to $1,-858.79 in taxes while the Separate School is $78,985 at 12 amounts to $947.82.

Since March 31st of this year the council has put forth great efforts with the tax collector in getting in back taxes and the report on Friday night shows Hastings well up with any place its size in Ontario in regards to having almost a clean sheet. On March 31st, 1933 old taxes unpaid amounted to $1,495, this has now been reduced to $435.17; 1932 taxes have been reduced from $2,195 to $584 fo make a total of unpaid taxes of $1,019.37. The reeve expressed that he thought he would be able to collect in another three hundred in a few days, which will bring it down to what he believes is a record for the village in spite of the hard times.

Mr. A. S Spooner, secretary of the Public School addressed the council and explained their financial requirements.

The following accounts were read —Municipal World, 50c; Bell Telephone, Town Hall, $2.69; Bell Telephone, Fire Chief, $2.05; Walter Pugh, lumber, $4.85; H. Simpson, streets, $3.25; Norwood transport, $3; Merkle and Co., calcium, $23.05; E. R. Simpson, sanitary, $1.25; James Calberry, Jr., streets, 50c; M. P. Simpson, streets, 30c; P. Lemoire, streets, 80c; George Lynch, salary, $7; William Boyle, salary, $8.33; William Killingbeck, salary, $20.

Moved by Fairman, seconded by Hatherly that accounts as read be paid and orders drawn on the treasurer in the usual way for the several amounts.

Weston Shoe Plant Is Offered For Sale

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 8.—(By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The bondholders of the Weston Shoe Company of Campbellford, at an adjourned meeting held on Friday evening, accepted the deeds of equity of redemption of the chattels and land of the concern and the release has been made to N. Alex. MacColl, trustee for the bondholders. This throws the business on the hands of the bondholders, with the exception of raw material and unfinished projects, on which the bank asserted its claim. The situation cleared up this far, the bondholders are now faced with the disposal of the business, ways and means of which are being considered by their committee. A likely buyer for this business, which at one time was one of the industrial mainstays of Campbellford, is now being sought, and with the increase of late of the shoe trade, it is felt that there is a possibility of the factory again being operated.

Obituary

MRS. FANNIE CLEMENS

BONARLAW, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The funeral of the late Fannie Clemens was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Russell, Front street, Campbellford on Thursday, Aug. 3. Interment being made at Sterling cemetery. The late Mrs. Clemens was beloved wife of the late James Clemens, who predeceased her a number of years ago. She was the oldest daughter of the late Philip Brown and Margaret McMurray and lived to the age of ninety-one years. She was of sterling character, kindly disposition and dearly loved by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn her loss three daughters, Mrs. A. Johnson of Napanee, Mrs. John Mumby of Brandon and Mrs. Thomas Russell, where she lived at the time of her death she also leaves two sisters, Mrs. William Cook of Manitoba and Mrs. Wallace Woodrow of Toronto.

She was born on the 8th Consession of Rawdon Township where she spent most of her life. In religion she was an Anglican and in politics a Conservative.

CHARITY EMMA BILLINGS.

MARMORA, Aug. 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—At midnight, on Saturday, August 5, the death occurred in Marmora Township of Charity Emma Billings, widow of the late William Billings. The deceased celebrated her eighty-fourth birthday on June 20. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Cole and was born near Brighton. Her mother, whose maiden name was Lydia Whitney, was of U.E.L. stock, her parents coming to Prince Edward County from Massachusetts. Her husband predeceased her on Sept. 8, 1924, and a son, Byrnum, predeceased her in 1894. She was the last survivor of ten children born to her parents. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Fred. Burns, of Marmora, and three sons, Wellington, Jesse and Frank, all of Marmora Township.

She was a lifelong member of the Methodist, later the United, Church and was held in very high esteem by her neighbors and a wide circle of friends, owing to her many kind qualities. Her end was hastened by the heat of a week ago when her condition became weaker. She enjoyed the use of her faculties to the last, and her passing was peaceful.

The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon, service in St. Andrew's United Church being followed by interment in the family plot in Marmora Protestant Cemetery.

MISS LANGLEY.

HASTINGS, Aug. 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The death took place in Toronto on Friday, August 4, after a lingering illness of Miss Langley. The deceased was born in Hastings twenty-five years ago where she lived with her parents for a number of years before the family moved to Lindsay to reside.

She was a member fo St. Paul's Anglican Church, from where the funeral was held on Saturday afternoon, and was very largely attended.

There are left to mourn her loss her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Langley, Frederick and Thomas and Mrs. Annie Mlackbourne, all of Lindsay; Mrs. Rose Joyce, of Detroit; Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson, of Lindsay, and Miss Violet Langley at home.

MRS. GERALD OITMENT.

HASTINGS, Aug. 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Following a two weeks' illness in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, the death occurred on Sunday morning, August 6, of Agnes Jessie, beloved wife of Gerald Oitment, and elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fleming, of the Norwood road.

Deceased was born in Percy Township twenty-two years ago and was always popular among the younger set.

Besides her sorrowing husband and parents, she leaves an infant daughter of two weeks, one sister, Eva (Mrs. Dean Kelley), and two brothers, Lloyd and Vernon.

Weddings

ALLEN—ACKERMAN

The wedding took place quietly to-day, at one o'clock at St. John's Church, of Frances Louise Ackerman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ackerman of Park street, and Mr. Jack Charles Leighton Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard B. Allen of Wychwood Park, Toronto. Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave officiated.

The chancel was prettily decorated with gladioli and ferns. The wedding music was played by Miss Lily Bacon, A.D.C.M.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a beautifully-fitting Chiaperelli model developed in suede velvet of oyster hue, the long frock ending at the ankles. A short coat with puff sleeves was in dark brown crushed velvet and her large hat was of brown velvet. She wore pumps and hose in oyster shade and a corsage bouquet of tinted pink gardenias.

There were no attendants.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, only the members of the immediate families in attendance.

Mrs. Ackerman, mother of the bride, was in chartreuse green chiffon with leghorn hat trimmed with green, green shoes and flat bouquet of roses.

Mrs. Allen, mother of the bridegroom, wore a frock of flowered chiffon and a large straw hat and carried a bouquet of roses.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Allen left by motor for Montreal, en route to Bermuda, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return, they will live in Toronto.

DUDGEON—BOLDRICK.

PLAINFIELD, Aug. 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The parsonage at Plainfield was the scene on Saturday afternoon of a very pretty wedding when Ethel Sarah Boldrick, daughter of the late John and Mrs. Boldrick, Thurlow Township, became the bride of Ralph Horace Hudgeon, Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Dudgeon, Thomasburg.

The ceremony was performed at four o'clock by the Rev. J. F. Everson, pastor of the United Church, in the presence of the immediate friends.

The bride was attired in royal blue flat crepe with grey hat and shoes. The young couple, who were attended by Miss H. H. Donald, of Toronto, and James Cowan, of Belleville, left for a motor trip to Lake Simcoe and Toronto, and upon their return will reside in Belleville.

HERD—SOUTHERN.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 8. — (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — A very pretty wedding was solemnized at Christ Church, Campbellford, on Saturday afternoon, when the Rev. T. H. Floyd united in the holy bonds of matrimony Dorothy, eldest daughter of Mrs. Southern and the late Mr. Ernest Southern, of Campbellford, to John Mayes Herd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Herd, of Peterborough.

The bride looked very pretty in a gown of white organdy with hat and shoes to match, and carrying a bouquet of pink gladiolas. She was supported by her sister, Miss Elsie Southern, who was attired in a dress of yellow organdy with white hat, and carried a bouquet of pink gladiolas. Mr. William Herd, brother of the groom, was the best man.

The church was filled for the ceremony, the wedding march from Lohengrin being played by Miss G. Maynard, who presided at the organ.

After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served to a large number of guests at the home of the bride, Queen street. Mr. and Mrs. Herd, after a wedding trip, which will be taken by car, will reside in Campbellford.

McBRIDE-WAY.

HASTINGS, Aug. 8.—(Examiner Correspondence). — A very pretty mid-summer wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in Trinity United Church when Hazel Helen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilcot Way, was united in marriage to Joseph McBride, of Toronto, with Rev. H. J. Bell officiating. To the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Marjory Scriver, the bridal party entered the church, which was beautifully decorated with ferns and summer flowers. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white point dispret with long veil and accessories to match, and carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and baby's breath. The bride was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Cecil Way, of Toronto, who was matron of honor, and was becomingly attired in pink georgette with hat to match and carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses and baby's breath. Little Miss Anna McBride, of Toronto, niece of the groom, was flower girl and looked lovely in pink organdie. She carried a basket of sweet peas and ferns.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of the bride's parents on Water street where a wedding dinner was served to immediate relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. McBride left by motor on Saturday night for Muselman's Lake where they will spend their honeymoon at the groom's cottage, Mrs. McBride going away in a grey crepe dress with hat and accessories to match. The happy couple will reside at 214 Earlscourt avenue, Toronto.

PAINFUL PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Itching, bleeding, or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases, he named it HEM-ROID Mc-Dermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee they will end your Pile misery or money back.

RECORD BASS CATCH.

MACHADO BALKS AT U.S. PROPOSAL HE TAKE HOLIDAY

Will Not Ask For Leave of Absence Deemed Necessary to Secure Peace.

STRIKE NEARS END.

Violence Continues—2 Police Slain By Fire From Unknown Car.

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT

HAVANA, Aug. 9 (AP)—President Machado considered mediators' proposals to-day that he leave a political scene of bloodshed, strikes, and passive revolution, while his followers raised a cry of nationalism and independence.

"I am and I continue being president of Cuba in the plenitude of all my constitutional prerogatives," said Machado in reply to a formula presented to him by United States ambassador Sumner Welles, acting for a commission seeking to settle political differences.

But Mr. Welles said meditation was not ended, even though the president was reported as having told his Liberal party leaders he would not ask Congress for a leave of absence, deemed necessary by the mediators for re-establishing peace.

In the face of a chaotic condition induced by a general strike and the resulting food shortage, furthermore, the House of Representatives was scheduled to meet at 6 p.m. to consider a resolution by Salvador Garcia Ramos, a Liberal, condemning Welles' consultations about peace with government and opposition representatives as prejudicial to Cuban autonomy and asking Latin American nations to support Cuba's ideal of independence.

See U.S. Intervention

Many Liberal leaders were frank in saying Machado's rejection of the peace plan might invite American intervention.

Meanwhile, the government announces it had granted labor's de-

STEALS HER SON, MOTHER HUNTED

TRAIL LEADS WEST.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Aug. 9.—Search for a 22-year-old mother and her son whom she kidnapped yesterday from the summer camp of his father extended throughout the Middle West and Canada to-day while two men who confessed their participation in the case were in jail facing abduction charges.

Involved by the confessions of the two men now in Coustody as having taken the three-year-old boy yesterday while he was playing in the vicinity of his father's camp at Oneida Lake, warrants for the arrest of Mrs. Geraldine Reynolds Dutton of Collins Center, near Buffalo, were sworn out last night by her estranged husband, Richard A. Dutton, aviator.

The mother and son were believed by police, on information supplied by the men who confessed they aided her, as proceeding to Chicago and the West by way of Canada.

The men arrested here on warrants charging kidnapping are Harold L. King, chauffeur, and William L. Bugbee, unlicensed private detective.

They said they picked up Mrs. Dutton, attired in a pair of overalls, a sweater coat and cap, at a Syracuse home in the morning and drove her to the Dutton camp. Here she lighted from the machine, walked to a yard near the camp where the boy was playing, talked to him a moment, and then returned with him to the car. They said they drove her to Cape Vincent, where she doffed her disguise and took a motorboat to Kingston, Ont.

CHARGE WOMAN WITH MURDERING FARMER TENANT

Is Alleged to Have Fired Point Blank as Man Passes Ambush.

LEG ALMOST TORN OFF.

Squabble Over Lease Blamed —Case Set For Barrie Court.

ELMVALE, August 9.—Shot from ambush early yesterday morning as he was setting out to milk the cows, Harvey Barnes, a 42-year-old Flos Township farmer, died last night in St. Andrew's Hospital, Midland.

Mrs. Rose Cadeau, the dead man's landlady, who was arrested by provincial police shortly after the shooting on a charge of intent to do grievous bodily harm, was arraigned to-day in Barrie police court on the more serious charge of murder, the authorities say.

An altercation of several days' standing over the terms of the lease under which the dead man operated Mrs. Cadeau's farm property is believed by police authorities to have culminated in yesterday's barnyard shooting.

Ambush Alleged.

The woman is said to have lain in wait for Barnes and as he passed close by her place of hiding, to have turned the shotgun on him. So point-blank was her alleged firing that one of the man's legs was almost completely torn away below the knee by the heavy charge.

Mrs. Barnes found her husband in a pool of blood and notified Dr. Corcoran of the district. Applying a tourniquet and administering an anaesthetic, the physician had the injured farmer transferred in a fast car dash over 30 miles of road to the Midland hospital. A blood transfusion was given; then the shattered leg was amputated by Dr. Swan with Dr. Corcoran's aid.

All day long Barnes fought for his life, but the shock of the wounding and the loss of blood proved too much for him.

Woman Arrested.

Immediately after the shooting provincial police under District Inspector Putnam of Barrie were notified and Constables Wright and Clark arrested Mrs. Cadeau at the home of friends in Elmvale. The woman has since furnished a statement in which she is alleged to have attributed to Barnes the responsibility for the disappearance of several of her rings. Admission that she visited the farm yesterday morning with the shotgun—an old 12-gauge of German make—for the express purpose of "waking him up" is also said to be embodied in the statement.

The farm on which the affair occurred is Lot 11, Concession 7, Flos Township. Mrs. Cadeau is 46 years of age and is reported by the police to reside in Montreal. Several days ago, it is said, she came to Elmvale to stay with acquaintances.

DESMOND BURKE SCORES 1ST WIN IN RIFLE MEET

Captures Gibson Rapid Fire Competition With 34 Out of Possible 35.

WINS C.R.A. SILVER MEDAL.

RIFLE RANGES, Long Branch, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP)—Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa, former King's prize winner, scored his first win in the 59th annual meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association this afternoon when he captured the Gibson Rapid Fife competition with a fine score of 34 out of a possible 35.

Burke, one of the finest exponents of rapid fire shooting in the world, plugged six successive bull's eyes at the 300 yard mark and only fell to the inner on his last shot. He won the C.R.A. silver medal and $15.

Three scores of 33 were posted in the match, which called for seven shot in one minute. These were recorded by Corpl. B. W. Beaumont of Vancouver and Rifleman H. D. Whitehead and Lieut. J. B. Smith of Toronto. Eight 32's were scored and Company sgt. Major N. J. McLeod of Toronto, who led the Canadians at the recent Bisley meeting, was among them. Among a number of 31's was young Private James Borland of Toronto, son of Sgt. John Borland, Bisley marksman who is also competing.

TRIO NEW BILLS READY FOR DAIL

Aim at Amending Constitution of Irish Free State.

TROUBLE FOR SUNDAY.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 9 (C.P. Cable).—The Government announced to-day it will introduce three bills in the Dail Eireann to-night seeking to amend the constitution.

In the first bill the Government will ask the Dail to give its consent to transferring from the representative of the Crown to the Executive Council the function of recommending appropriations of money. The second bill will seek to abolish the right of the King's representative to withhold consent to bills passed by the Legislature. The third would end the right of appeal to the Privy Council on the part of Free State citizens.

Two other bills will be presented dealing with unemployment and allied subjects.

Meanwhile authorities pondered what to do next Sunday when General Owen O'Duffy's "Blue Shirt" Fascist National Guard will parade the streets of the capital, despite announcements from the Irish Republican Army and the Communist Party that they would hold counter-demonstrations.

In some circles clashes were feared.

RADIO-THERAPY INSTITUTE TO BE OPENED IN LONDON

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.).—The Telegram to-day states plans have been completed for the establishment of an Institute of Radio-Therapy in London, Ont., to be in operation early next year. The Ontario Government, the paper adds, is thus implementing one of the chief recommendations of the Royal Commission investigating cancer.

Institutes of Radio-Therapy have already been established at Toronto and Kingston. The third, at London, will collaborate with Victoria Hospital. It is proposed, the paper states, to erect a new building for laboratories and treatment clinics and to provide 20 extra beds in the hospital. Building operations will commence shortly.

TOKYO ENJOYS SHAM BATTLE

15,000,000 People Watch as Army, Navy, Air Forces Put on Manoeuvres.

THREE-DAY SPECTACLE.

TOKYO, Aug. 9 (A.P.).—Fifteen million people in Tokyo and surrounding prefectures tasted wartime life to-day as a three-day sham battle for possession of the capital was launched by the Army and the Navy.

Three times during the day "enemy" aeroplanes roared overhead and sirens screamed warnings to the populace. Smoke bombs and vari-colored vapors were loosed in the streets, simulating poison gas and incendiary explosives.

Emergency hospitals were set up and to them stretcher-bearers wearing gas masks carried the supposed wounded, while from public parks and the roofs of big department stores anti-aircraft guns and machine-guns boomed and chattered.

There was one genuine casualty. A girl watching one of the air raids from a roof fell and was killed.

The assumption was that the air raiders came from enemy battleships approaching Tokyo Bay from the mid-Pacific. The whole show forms the second phase of the grand air manoeuvres of the Navy.

Two Doctors' Cars Are In Collision

Glass was broken and fenders were crushed but no one received serious injuries in a three-car accident which occurred at the corner of Aylmer and Hunter streets shortly after eleven o'clock this morning.

Jim Elmhurst of Port McNicholl admitted to police responsibility for the accident. He was proceeding west on Hunter, and, a stranger in the city, failed to see the stop sign at the Aylmer street intersection. Dr. D. W. Clark, 319 Stewart street, moving south on Aylmer, crashed into Elmhurst's car at the middle of the intersection, slewing it over to a car belonging to Dr. F. P. McNulty, 389 Hunter street west, which was stopped at the stop sign on the west side of Aylmer. If it had not been for the collision with Dr. McNulty's car, Elmhurst's car would have rolled over, police state.

John Connelly, also of Port McNicholl, a passenger with Elmhurst, sustained a minor cut on the wrist.

THIRST LESSON.

WINDSOR.—Fred Truman, eight, was in hospital critically ill here to-day from drinking contents of a bottle he found in the basement of a neighbor's home. The bottle was one of a number the neighbor's son had gathered to sell to a junkman.

CITY COUNCIL PASSES NEW CAR FOR FIRE CHIEF

New Four Cylinder Ford Car Will Be Purchased for Fire Chief.

MUST BE PAINTED RED.

Alderman Tuggey Opposes Purchase of Car For Fire Department.

Fire Chief George Gimblett is to have a new car. The question of the purchase of a new chief's car for the Fire Department, which has caused several rifts and heated argument in the City Council for the past two years, was settled definitely last night when the Council with only one dissenting voice—that of Alderman Tuggey—voted to buy the car.

It will be a new four-cylinder Ford and will cost the city $537, with the turn in value of $175 allowed on the old car. However, it was decided that the new vehicle must be painted a brilliant red and for this job of painting there will be a further charge of $40.

The purchase of the car was not settled without a plentiful amount of debate and heated discussion. Throughout Alderman Tuggey maintained definitely, on principle, that he was opposed to the purchase.

Alderman McNabb, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light committee, reported that a committee formed of himself, Alderman McIntyre and Fire Chief Gimblett, at the request of the Fire, Water and Light committee, had spent two days in getting prices on cars suitable for use of the fire chief.

He brought in prices on twelve cars and he and the small car committee recommended the purchase

Arizona Joins List In Favor Of Repeal

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 9 (A.P.)—Arizona to-day had blasted another stone from the constitutional dam that holds back the flow of legal liquor in the United States.

Citizens of that State voted three to one yesterday in favor of repeal of the 18th (Prohibition) Amendment.

Arizona, christened in honor of its aridity, thus followed the course of twenty other States which, led by Michigan, April 3, have decided against prohibition.

City Council Named Special Committee To Conduct Inquiry

Alderman Stocker Asked City Council To Appoint Committee to Investigate City's Public Health Administration

COMMITTEE TO START WORK IMMEDIATELY STOCKER REFUSED TO COMMENT ON MOTION

New Building By-Law Prohibiting Erection Of Garages To Be Used For Hire Or Gain In Restricted Areas Passed By Council.

Full investigation into the city's public health administration was decided upon last evening by the City Council at the request of Alderman Walter Stocker, chairman of the Board of Health.

Announcing that "certain things in connection with the administration of public health are not satisfactory and need straightening out," Alderman Stocker asked that the Council delve fully into conditions. He moved the following motion: "That a select committee be appointed to look into public health administration in the city to make such recommendations as the committee will deem advisable and that the committee be composed of Mayor Denne, Aldermen McIntyre, Macdonald, Holland, Fitzpatrick and Stocker."

Alderman Holland, who is a member of the Board of Health with the Mayor, Alderman McIntyre and Dr. T. W. H. Young, City M.O.H., seconded the motion. It was carried unanimously without further discussion by the Council.

It is understood that the committee will get busy on its investigation immediately. Alderman Stocker refused to comment further on his motion, when interviewed later by The Examiner.

Dr. Young, when seen by The Examiner, declared: "They can do all the investigating they want."

The request of the Chamber of Commerce for a substantial grant from the City Council, or otherwise the Chamber will have to close its doors due to lack of finances, was shelved temporarily.

Members of the Council stated that they desired to assist the Chamber but the question they asked was, "Where is the money for such a grant coming from?" It was suggested by Alderman Cotton that further consideration of the Chamber's request be held up for a month. "Let's see what they can do themselves," he said. This course was agreed upon.

Pay Wood Cutters.

Men on relief who cut wood at the city's wood yard will receive two days' pay a week, similarly to the unemployed working for the Board of Works, it was decided on motion of Aldermen Tuggey and Holland. The wage payments to the men for cutting the wood will be charged up to the cost of the relief wood and in that way the city will secure the two-for-one grant from the governments.

A request was received from the

BURGLAR SHOT FLEEING STORE

Second Man Escapes Posse of Citizens Surrounding Scene.

VICTIM DIES.

RATISCAN, Que., Aug. 9 (C.P.).—Allegedly caught in the act of robbing a Ratiscan grocery, Jean Barbeaux, 30, of Motnreal, was shot and fatally wounded early to-day. He died an hour later, but is reported to have made a statement to the police on his deathbed implicating another Montreal man.

G. Marquis, proprietor of the grocery, told police that he heard a noise in the store next door to his house. Waking Emery Norbert, his chief clerk, Marquis armed himself and went to investigate. Norbert called a few neighbors and the posse surrounded the store.

They opened the door and saw two men within. The burglars fled by the rear, leaving the cash register partly broken open. As they fled through the back door which they had forced open to gain entrance to the shop, Marquis fired several shots at them, according to police. Barbeaux fell to the floor with a bullet in his back, but the other men evaded the posse and escaped.

An inquest will be held later to-day.

GENERAL BALBO REACHES LISBON ONE SHIP SHORT

3 OTHERS HURT.

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 9 (AP)—General Italo Balbo's air armada, minus one ship which overturned at the takeoff, killing one man and injuring three others, completed another leg of the journey home to Italy to-day by flying from the Azores to Lisbon.

The seaplanes arrived here in three groups. The last a formation of three which remained behind to care for the three men injured in the accident in the Azores, flew over Black Horse Square just as General Balbo, the first to arrive, was reviewing his guard of honor.

The vanguard of the armada began to alight on the Tarus at 2.30 p.m., G.M.T. (9.30 a.m. EST) and one hour, 15 minutes later all 23 planes were at their mooring places.

The Portugese capital had made elaborate plans for the reception of the flyers, and all of the seven hills of Lisbon and the seafront were crowded with countless thousands who had waited for hours to welcome them.

Fourteen Portuguese planes and two destroyers went out a considerable distance and returned as an escort of honor.

At 7.30 a.m. (2.30 a.m., E.S.T.) General Balbo's group got away, and five minutes later the fleet stationed overnight at Horta left, to rejoin the others at an intermediate point.

The quayside and breakwater here were thronged with eager

Joseph H. Douglas Given Two Months

"Wife beaters need not look for any sympathy from me." Magistrate Langley told Joseph H. Douglas, Romaine Street, in police court to-day in sentencing Douglas to two months in the county gaol on a charge of assaulting and doing actual bodily harm to his wife. Douglas had previously pleaded guilty to the charge and to-day he reiterated his claim that "she brought it all on herself." His wife told the court that Douglas "spent all his money in poolrooms and on beer." He and his family are on relief.

BANKING PROBE MOVES TO COAST FROM OTTAWA

Possibility of Friction Between Provinces and Ottawa on Currency Comes Up.

OTTAWA, Aug. 9 (C.P.)—The Royal Commission on Banking and Currency concluded the public sessions in Ottawa for time being, at noon, and will proceed to-night to Victoria to open the trans-continental series of public and private hearings. The Victoria hearing will open on Aug. 14.

Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Minister of Finance, and C. S. Tompkins, inspector general of banks for the Federal Government, were the witnesses this morning and the information covered an interpretation of the functions of the government in relation to the banks as laid down in various dominion statutes.

This afternoon the same witnesses will be before the commission for confidential discussions.

The commission will proceed direct to Victoria, B.C., arriving there Sunday evening, August 13th. On the 14th the commission will hold a public hearing at Victoria, then sit in Vancouver on the 15th and 16th. Calgary will be visited on the 18th and Edmonton on the 21st. The commission will then proceed to Saskatoon, Regina and Winnipeg, in the order named. The precise dates for the hearings in the latter places will be announced later, when a better idea may be had of the time which will be required for the hearings in these places.

To Sir Thomas White Dr. Clark said that since 1926 only high grade securities were held against advances to banks under the Finance Act, and went on to the activities of the Department of Finance as a whole.

Friction.

Lord MacMillan brought up the question of possible friction between provinces and the Federal government in respect to banking and currency.

"Would it be possible to evolve an economic policy that would be applicable to all Canada and not subject to conflicting provincial policies?" the chairman asked.

Dr. Clark asked that he be excused from giving evidence on that point, suggesting that an officer of

STRIKE BALLOTS RETURN SEPT. 15

Will Be Sent Out From Montreal To-night to Each Railway Lodge.

NOT A "YES-NO" VOTE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 9 (CP)—September 15 has been fixed as the returnable date for strike ballots of the 24,000 members of the railroad running trades unions from coast to coast, it was announced by union officials here to-day. The ballots will leave Montreal to-night in time to reach engineers, conductors, trainmen, telegraphers, and enginemen within the next few days.

According to union chiefs the ballot will be made secretly, probably by each separate lodge, and the results will be sent by the lodge to the regional general chairman who will bring the results of each lodge in his district to Montreal as soon as possible after the final returns. The plan of sending the ballots to each lodge is not definite yet, however. The only information on the ballot that could be obtained from the union heads was that it would not be a straight vote of yes or no.

Meanwhile there is no chance in the fight of the shop trades for removal of all cuts and re-establishment of original basic rates. Company officials reported to-day that no request has been sent as yet to the minister of labor for a board of conciliation. The brotherhood of railway clerks, steamship and station handlers of the Canadian Pacific Railway, however, have stated that W. P. O'Connor, their appointee to the board of conciliation asked for by the company is in communication with the railroad representative George P. Currie, in an effort to decide on a third member of the board.

HENRY ORDERS FOUR TORONTO DETECTIVES INDICTED

BLUENOSE PARTY LAUNCHES SUIT AGAINST OWNER

Canadian Schooner May Be Tied Up at Chicago Pending Action.

$5,000 ASKED.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9 (AP)—A Federal court suit threatened yesterday to becalm in a Chicago harbor the Canadian schooner Bluenose, pride of the North Atlantic fishing fleet.

Addison Stillwell complained that a yachting party found itself on a voyage of annoyance and grief after he chartered the Bluenose for a mid-July sail up Lake Michigan.

He asked $5,000 damages from the owners of the schooner and its skipper, Captain Angus J. Walters, and demanded that the ship be seized if the judgment were not otherwise satisfied.

Stillwell, a lumberman and broker, charged that his guests were kept awake by early morning deck swabbing, fed unpalatable rations and generally subjected to indignities allegedly because the skipper wanted to hurry back to the Chicago dock to take on another charter party.

He asked the refund of $2,500 charter fee and an equal sum for damages.

His contract, Stillwell asserted, called for exclusive use of the vessel for a party of his friends for ten days to two weeks, sailing at least to Mackinac Island and return. "Reasonably palatable" food was specified, he said.

Complaints

But, the suit alleged:

No palatable food was served.

Decks were swabbed with a dirt that made sleep impossible.

Berths were not made up, and pillows were removed.

Decks were painted, reducing "le[gance]" available for his party.

The crew refused service and addressed his guests discourteously. Stillwell charged Captain Walters and other members of the crew entered into a conspiracy that would make the party disgusted and return. "They treated us with extreme discourtesy and heaped indignities upon us," he said.

The schooner, Stillwell said, stopped at Milwaukee where Stillwell and his friends disembarked, informing Captain Walters they would board it again at Chicago for another cruise within the two weeks' period the charter called for. At Chicago, Stillwell said, he found another party had chartered the Bluenose.

The action was filed under provisions of the Admiralty Law.

John P. Harding, agent for the Bluenose, said it was "all 'boys' play" and that 90 per cent. of Stillwell's guests have condemned Stillwell for his attitude.

Too Fiery

NEW YORK, August 9 (C.P.). — Catherine Clark, a telephone operator, got a wrong number to-day when she sank her pearly white teeth into a traffic policeman's little finger. It cost her $25.00 in Yorkville Court, where she was arraigned on a disorderly conduct charge.

Miss Clark said she was on her way to work and was exasperated at the delay when the automobile in which she was riding was stopped for passing a red traffic light.

DORLAND CASE ABOUT TO HAVE COURT SEQUEL

SHOOTING WITH INTENT.

Main Recommendation of Kingston Report in Recent Investigation Implemented.

TORONTO, Aug. 9. — Instructions have been issued by the Provincial Government to th Crown Attorney of Toronto and York County that the four police officers, Detective James Thomson and Detective-Sergeants George Tuft, Patrick Hogan and Archie McCathie, who figured in the Wellesley Street gun battle with Albert Dorland and William Toohey in April, 1930, be indicted before the Grand Jury at the next Toronto Assizes for an offence under Section 273 of the Criminal Code.

Implement Recommendation

These instructions implement the main recommendation of Mr. Justice Kingstone in his recent report on the Royal Commission investigation of the Dorland case. Of the two avenues of action against the four officers which the commissioner suggested be followed by the government—Section 264, attempting to commit murder, and Section 273, attempting to maim, or do grievous bodily harm—the Attorney-General's department has chosen the latter under which to proceed.

Announcement of Queen's Park's move in the case was made late yesterday afternoon by Premier Henry following a conference with Hon. Charles McCrea, Acting Attorney-General, and a subsequent brief parley with Edward Bayly, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General.

The formal statement of policy contained, however, no reference to other findings of Mr. Justice Kingstone. There was, for instance, no mention of the latter's depreciation of the idea of a magistrate being a member of a Board of Police Commissioners. This point, Mr. Henry told the press afterwards, had not yet been considered by the government. Nor had the matter of Magistrate Emerson Coatsworth's resignation from the Toronto Police Commission, a resignation which was tendered Queen's Park almost two years ago, been given any further consideration, declared the Prime Minister.

Million Dollar Fire Sweeps Cornwall

Said to have started when careless persons left some rubbish burning in a backyard, fire on Monday swept the entire business section of Cornwall, Ont., doing damage estimated at $1,000,000. Fanned by a high wind, the fire soon got out of control, and firemen were called from Ottawa and Montreal, although volunteer firemen, after five hours' battle, succeeded in mastering the flames before the out-of-town brigades arrived. Above, at top, is shown Pitt street, with the fire at its height. In centre is seen a section of the ruins, and below, the tangled wreckage of several stores, still smouldering.

JOLSON'S SWING AT WINCHELL REAPS $500,000 DAMAGE SUIT

Columnist Claims He'll Prove in Court His Scenario Not About Ruby Keeler.

SAYS ACTOR DUCKED OUT.

(By Charles E. Harner).

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (A.P.).—The pass Al Jolson made at Walter Winchell two weeks ago in Hollywood has been passed right back to him in the form of a $500,000 suit for damages.

Winchell, Broadway gossip columnist, said to-day the singing comedian was served with a formal notice of the suit last Thursday night. When or where the suit will be heard, Winchell doesn't know. "That's all up to my attorneys," he said.

Thousands of eyes turned from the paid pugilists at an outdoor fight in Hollywood, on the night of July 21, when the actor and the columnist mixed at the ringside. What most everyone saw was a group of police, ushers and friends milling in the seats. Out of the melee emerged Winchell, freely ad-

CROSS YESTERDAY ... HAPPY TODAY

And for a very good reason

Yesterday a whiney, peevish baby. Didn't want to play. Didn't want to eat. To-day bubbling over with good nature and ready for his meals. Two little BABY'S OWN TABLETS worked the magic change.

How did they do it? They simply removed the intestinal poisons and the excess bile that were upsetting his digestion and irritating his nerves.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS are more than an ordinary laxative. They have a triple action—stimulate the liver, cleanse the kidneys, sweeten the intestines. And children who drink a lot of milk need an occasional liver stimulant, as the physician who prepared the original formula for BABY'S OWN TABLETS well knew. Furthermore, the ingredients in these tablets are absolutely SAFE for children, and the dosage is correct.

The next time your baby is cross, sleepless, doesn't want to eat, has coated tongue, bad breath, colic, constipation, teething troubles, give him BABY'S OWN TABLETS in place of an ordinary laxative, and just see how much more effective they are. As easy to take as candy. Complete directions with each 25-cent box. 13E

OVER 100 SLAIN ON IRAQ BORDER

Government Forces Still Engaged With Assyrian Christians.

HEAVY WOUNDED LIST.

BAGDAD, Iraq., Aug. 9 (A.P.) — Fighting between Assyrian Christians and the Iraq frontier army on the Syrian-Iraq border took more than 100 lives over the week-end, and was still in progress yesterday.

A threatening situation flared into warfare when the Assyrians, who recently left their territory in Iraq and crossed into Syria and engaged in battle with the Iraq army. Casualties so far have been on the Iraq side, 20 dead and 45 wounded, while the Assyrians lost 95 dead and an undetermined number of wounded.

The cause of the trouble was stated to be dissatisfaction among the Assyrians with the arrangements made when the British mandate over Iraq was terminated. Recently 1,300 Assyrians, when requested to surrender their arms, left their mountain homes and marched into Syria. The Iraq Government announced they must be disarmed before they return.

The disarming was announced as accomplished and the rebels were ordered to withdraw from the frontier, but an outbreak of hostilities followed nevertheless.

CROWDS STONE IRISH GUARDS

Gen. O'Duffy's New Force Meets Trouble Outside Ballroom.

POLICE KEEP CONTROL.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 9 (CP and AP Cables)—The "Blue Shirts"—General Owen O'Duffy's newly-organized national guard—were stoned and hooted last night by crowds who waited for them outside a ballroom in O'Connell street.

Several of the guardsmen were cut by the stones, none seriously.

The missiles smashed in a window of the automobile that brought William T Cosgrave, former President of the Republic, to the "Blue Shirts'" dance. The driver was hit.

The crowds made several attempts to surge through police lines and rush the prominent persons assembling at the ballroom, but were held back.

Remember, girls, make your gowns slim and sheathlike, with your fullness below the knees, but let them break out into ruffles at the shoulders and hemline, if you'd achieve the season's silhouette.

PAINFUL PILES

Why go on suffering any longer with the agonizing torture of piles, when there is an amazing healer that will give you marvellous comfort in double-quick time? Just ask your druggist for a 50c box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT, apply a little right now, and presto! in 5 minutes all soreness, pain, itching disappears—you can sit, stand, walk in comfort. Most painful piles often vanish in a few days. Money back if it fails.

WOMAN DOCTOR FACES MURDER

Physician in Death Bed Statement Claims She Poisoned Him.

DOPE IN WHISKEY.

GREENWOOD, Miss., Aug. 9 (A)—A deathbed statement from Dr. Preston Kennedy accusing an associate woman physician, Dr. Sara Tuth Dean, with poisoning him was disclosed here yesterday by District-Attorney Arthur Jordan.

The District Attorney said the dying man told his two brothers that Dr. Dean, 33-year-old woman specialist in children's diseases, had given him poison in a drink of whisky in her home on the night of July 27.

Dr. Kennedy was quoted as saying he recognized the taste of the poison in the drink and left the woman doctor's home as quickly as possible. On a street, he said, he attempted to rid himself of the poison.

For five days the doctor fought a silent battle to save his life with his own medical knowledge, but on Aug. 1 he called in other physicians, who sent him to Jackson for treatment.

District Attorney Jordan made an affidavit charging the woman doctor with murder after he had attended Dr. Kennedy's funeral at Jackson.

Given Three Months For Operating Still

When Mounted and Provincial Police descended upon L. Keech's home, Wollaston Township, Hastings County, on Sunday they found a still in full operation. The still and several gallons of moonshine were seized and yesterday Keech appeared before Police Magistrate Casement at Marmora. He pleaded guilty to operating a still contrary to the Inland Revenue Act and was given the choice of paying $200 fine or spending three months in jail. He took the jail term. Provincial Constable W. Warren, this city, and Constable T. J. Wood, R.C.M.P., of Lindsay, made the arrest.

HASTINGS.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Espie and baby James of Rochester, returned home after a two weeks' vacation with the latter's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clark, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlan and son Keith, of Toronto, were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Waters.

Friends of the Family

LOOK at the packages on your pantry and bathroom shelves, and see what a multitude of brand names you recognize. Some of them have been familiar for years. You may have made the acquaintance of others only a few weeks ago. But even these are not suspected strangers. You have bought them confidently because they were advertised. And it is the same with your sheets and towels, your shoes and clothes, your electric appliances, the car in your garage—nearly everything you use.

Advertised products have a standing that commands respect. They are not nameless, but vouched for by responsible firms. The fact that they are advertised is in itself an indication that their standards of quality are strictly maintained, that they represent honest value —As science and discovery go on, newly developed products are constantly being advertised—ready to help you save money and improve your standard of living. Every advertisement of such a product you read in your daily paper is a letter of introduction to a new and possibly useful friend.

It will pay you to read the advertisements in this paper every day. By so doing you will meet many choice products—worthy to become friends of the family.

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The danger which results from broken glass in roads, on beaches, picnic grounds and highways is beginning to be fully appreciated.

• • • • • • •

At a certain resort there is a sign which says "Caution" in large letters. It is in the parking area before a much frequented beach. It stated that as accidents to persons in bare feet on the beach and to tires of autos when parking result from broken glass, those who came to the beach were requested to refrain from leaving bottles or glass containers about.

• • • • • • •

The word was gracious but insistent. Few, if any persons, who saw it would neglect the kindly caution. Only the reckless would be heedless.

• • • • • • •

Every motorist dreads to note broken glass in the pathway of his or her car, either in the roadway or along the side where wheels might be obliged to turn. Persons are more aware of the dangers of broken glass since blow-outs in tires have been so frequently the direct result of running over such fragments.

• • • • • • •

It is somewhat regrettable that impaired tires should be the immediate cause for the effort to clear roads and other places of broken glass. But let us be thankful something has stirred up the public to the dangers.

• • • • • •

It is a comparatively easy matter for motorists and persons on picnics to dispose of such glass containers as they have no further use for, since along many highways there are rubbish barrels for such refuse.

• • • • • • •

Should one of these not be discovered there are roadside stands at frequent intervals along highways and each one has such a container.

• • • • • • •

Do not leave glass on beaches, nor throw bottles in the water where they can be washed up by the waves. Never leave glass exposed to the sun if even a scrap of paper is under it.

• • • • • • •

Forest fires are said to have been caused by such carelessness as this.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Most diabetic patients can carry on treatment by diet alone without the use of insulin. This statement recognizes that there are two types of diabetes—one the severe type which occurs mostly in young people, the other the severe type which usually afflicts those over 50. The first type almost always needs insulin. The second type is the one to which I refer as being capable of treatment by diet alone.

The physiology of the body in diabetes is so changed that no patient should attempt to formulate a diet for himself. The conditions are too complicated, and differ too much from one patient to another. No two patients are alike.

Essentially the condition in diabetes is due to an inability of the body to utilize starches and sugars. The great variation in the disease from patient to patient consists in the difference in the amount of carbohydrate utilization that can be accomplished. This is the so-called glucose tolerance. The body of one patient is able to burn 150 grams of glucose, while the body of another patient is able to burn 250 to 300 grams per day. The amount of restriction which has to be made in the first case is much greater than that in the second.

The first duty of the physician, then, in studying such a patient, is to determine the amount of carbohydrate that can be utilized in 24 hours. After this is done, planning the diet is relatively simple. An adult of average weight has to use about 2,500 calories a day. A little over half of this is furnished by the the carbohydrates (starches and sugars). The average healthy individual consumes about 300 grams of carbohydrates per day. If the diabetic patient can only utilize 200 grams, the rest of the nutritional needs will have to be made up by increasing the fats and proteins. In the mild type of diabetic this is easy and safe, as the fat can be increased from the normal of 100 grams furnishing 900 calories to 150 grams, or even 200 grams.

It is not easy for the diabetic patient to learn how to measure the proper diet without beginning with food scales. These are annoying, but after the lesson has been learned they may be abandoned. Such patients find that if they cut out concentrated carbohydrates such as bread, sugar, potatoes, desserts, and especially sweet fruits, the diet can be quite abundant in variety and amount.

In general, for any diabetic the foods containing small proportions of carbohydrate are better than those which are concentrated carbohydrate. Green vegetables, such as lettuce, spinach, cucumbers, asparagus, rhubarb, sauer-kraut, brussels sprouts, watercress, okra, eggplant and artichokes are better than bread and cake and sugar. Among the fruits, grapefruit, strawberries, lemons, peaches, pineapple, blackberries have much less sugar than apricots pears, apples, cherries, plums, bananas and prunes.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

Johnny Weissmuller, famous swimming champion and motion picture hero, asserts that swimming tends to rob a girl of her femininity and sex appeal. Johnny, of course, being the holder of numerous swimming championship awards, should know a bit about the effects of this sport. Personally, however, I'm very much inclined to disagree with him in the matter. For I consider swimming the best all-around exercise going.

Many women, however, seem to share Tarzan Weissmuller's opinion. They apparently believe that swimming will overdevelop their muscles and make their bodies bulgy and masculine. As a consequence, they fear to indulge in this healthful and enjoyable sport.

If you like swimming, and have the opportunity to indulge in it, by all means, don't pass it up. And forget the idea that this sport might make your muscles as bulgy and knotted as a prize fighter's. For I can assure you that it won't. Look at the lovely Eleanor Holm, if you desire any proof. Eleanor is one of the newest of the Wampas Baby Stars. She'll be flaunting her lovely figure on the silver screen soon now. In addition to a flawless figure, she's the possessor of more swimming championships than any other femme of her age.

As you and I both know, physical beauty is basically dependent upon good health. And swimming tends to lay that basis of health so necessary for loveliness. It strengthens muscles and give contour to under or over-developed bodies. It is a balanced form of exercise that brings into play the muscles of virtually the entire body. Consequently, it does not over-develop muscles or induce awkwardness. Indeed, it has quite the opposite effect. For because of its balance, it tends to develop muscles evenly, equalize the distribution of weight, and give suppleness.

Swimming develops not only beauty of contour, but beauty of movement, as well. It makes the body supple and graceful, in addition to giving it harmonious lines. So swim whenever you have the chance during this season, and reap your share of the benefits that this sport extends to all participants.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Thighs

Myrna: It is indeed possible to develop the thighs so that they meet evenly, and at the same time reduce the knees, calves and ankles. Full information on this is too long to print here, but is contained in my article on "Care of the Feet and Legs."

Henna

Agnes: The pure, Egyptian henna made of the leaves of the henna shrub, is not harmful to the hair. The chemical henna, however, contains metallic salts, and may be harmful to the hair health.

Superfluous Hair

Joan: The superfluous hair bleach to which you refer is composed of two teaspoons of peroxide, and half a teaspoon of ordinary household ammonia.

Sylvia Walks Out

SYLVIA SIDNEY

While Hollywood studio officials fumed over $100,000 spent on an unfinished picture, Sylvia Sidney, the feminine star, walked out and headed for New York on the plea that she needed time to recuperate from a recent throat operation. She is shown arriving in Chicago by plane just as her fellow actors wired her a plea to return and "be a good trouper and let the show go on."

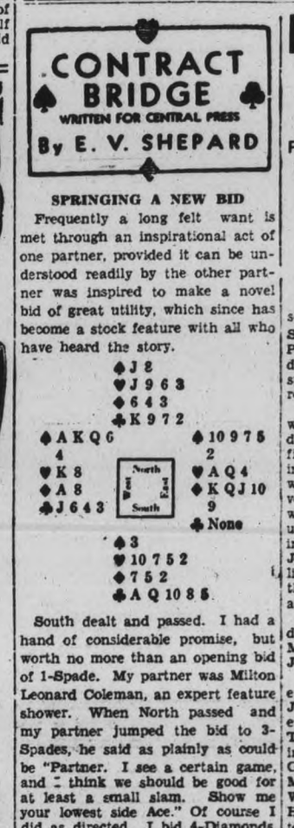
SPRINGING A NEW BID

Frequently a long felt want is met through an inspirational act of one partner, provided it can be understood readily by the other partner was inspired to make a novel bid of great utility, which since has become a stock feature with all who have heard the story.



South dealt and passed. I had a hand of considerable promise, but worth no more than an opening bid of 1-Spade. My partner was Milton Leonard Coleman, an expert feature shower. When North passed and my partner jumped the bid to 3-Spades, he said as plainly as could be "Partner, I see a certain game, and I think we should be good for at least a small slam. Show me your lowest side Ace." Of course I did as directed. I bid 4-Diamonds, thereby denying holding the Ace of clubs.

There is a very important point to remember in showing features. The one whose partner gives the slam signal, as Coleman did to me, is obliged to show features in rotation, commencing with the suit of lowest rank. The one giving the slam signal is at liberty to show his features in the manner best calculated to elicit the information he requires from his partner. I was obliged to follow regular order in disclosing what I held. My partner was at liberty to skip about as he pleased.

Coleman said nothing about clubs. He bid 4-Hearts, to show possession of the Ace of that suit, and inquiring if I held the K of hearts. The first bid of a side suit, after one partner has called for feature showing, states that the Ace is held. The second bid of that side suit shows the K. Were a third bid of that suit to be made it would show the Q. As my partner had bid 4-Hearts, to show possession of the Ace, my response of 5-Hearts told him that I held the K.

Then the surprise bid of 6-Clubs was made by Coleman. Of course I knew that my opening spade bid, with my announcements of holding the Ace of diamonds and the K of hearts made him certain of a small slam, or he never would force me to bid a small slam in spades. But what particular significance did a suit bid out of its normal order have? It must mean that he held no losing cards of that suit; that he wanted to know how goood my tops were in spades; that I had to fix the final contract. Having figured this out I bid 7-Spades.

The newest capes do not extend all the way around. Sometimes they are merely capelets over sleeves, or sometimes they are slit in the back and caught in to give a flatter line to the back.

LAWN SOCIAL AT LAKEFIELD

Parishes of St. Mary's Young's Point and St. Paul's Lakefield, Join for Event.

RAIN PLAYS HAVOC.

(Examiner Correspondence)

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 9.—The lawn social of the combined parishes of St. Mary's, Young's Point and St. Paul's, Lakefield was held on Monday afternoon and evening and in spite of the weather, registered a real success.

The ladies served a fowl supper which was very appetizing and drew a large crowd. The tables were filled again and again. The booths in the grounds at the bowling green where the social was held were very popular and the bingo booth was even more in demand than usual, with a waiting list. This was in charge of Harry Armstrong and John J. Charlton, while Dennis Sullivan and John Sabatino managed the "Horses" which were a counter attraction to the bingo game.

Ice cream, soft drinks, etc. were dispensed by Mrs. Elmer Johnston, Misses Lottie Keanny and Veronica Johnston and Thomas Sullivan.

The premier attraction of the evening was the Fancy booth where Joseph Jacques spent a strenuous evening with his wheel of fortune. This booth had a corps of workers, inside and outside. Inside were Mrs. G. J. Elmsley, Misses Mona Fortier, Mary Armstrong and Marguerite White and outside were William Hamblin, Martin Sullivan and Victor Young.

The crowd largely made up of people of Lakefield and vicinity drew a good quota from Peterborough, Douro, Ennismore and other points. There were a large number of neighbouring clergy present, many of them old friends of the social whose attendance is an annual event. Among these was Rev. J. V. McAuley of Ennismore.

When the wheel was well away and "Joe" Jacques was in his best form a shower scattered the crowd who, however rallied again when the rain ceased, but alas the rain meant business and the evening's fun had to be curtailed. Nevertheless the proceeds were very gratifying.

Rev. Father Rishea, who is in temporary charge of the two parishes during Rev. J. J. Garvey's absence on vacation was present and Mr. Wilfrid Penard acted a secretary treasurer of the general funds.

Ladies who were in charge of the serving were: Mrs. A. G. Lawless, Mrs. J. A. Johnston, Mrs. J. Maloney, Mrs. S. J. Gibson, Mrs. Carroll, Mrs. W. Young. At the gate were: Laurence Fanning, John Coughlin and G. A. Charlton. Assisting at the tea table were six boys: George Charlton, Bernard Johnston, Martin Coughlin, Pat Lawless, Jerome McFadden, James Maloney. There was a committee of the younger ladies who acted as waitresses at the tea tables. Misses Coughlin and Francis Nolan sold tickets on the grounds. Tickets on a large doll were sold by Kathleen Lawless and Assunta White. The ticket was drawn for by Maxime Hunter and Mrs. Elmsley held the lucky number. Tickets on a beautiful fernery are still being sold and it will be drawn for at a later date which will be announced.

SWASTIKA IN TOLERANT TORONTO.

To account for the Swastika demonstrations in Toronto it must be that the Queen City is more Aryan-minded than the rest of Canada.

This midsummer silliness is not due to a lack of that British sentiment and tradition which the Mother Country is extending to victims of German Hitlerism. For Toronto is the most British city in the Dominion. She admits it.

London may express concern about some of the harsher manifestations of the Brown Shirts' consciousness of their Aryanism, and frown on the frightfulness of the Nazis, but what will British opinion think of the pale reflection of that spirit in its Toronto flaring? The tolerance of Mayor Stewart's town seems to have slipped a little of late, or its temper strained to a testiness that snaps among its beach and park crowds.

Something has come over our former residents of Peterborough and Petherick's Corners and all the other towns and townships who have become domiciled in Toronto, something foreign to the goodwill and sense of liberty they once promoted in these local communities.

DANGER IN THE TAKE-OFF.

The fuel capacity of airplanes is obviously essential to non-stop record flights, but how many groundlings who only read about these achievements pause to think of the volume and weight of gasoline that must be carried and the skill and risk required in a successful take-off?

The „Josef Le Brix," French single-motored plane, that has just flown from New York to within 79 miles of Damascus, filled its tanks with almost 1,700 gallons of gasoline, weighing more than five tons. And the total weight of the plane as it slowly lifted from the Floyd Bennett field exceeded eight tons, the greatest load ever lifted in America by an airplane of that type.

No minute of the fifty-seven hours of Cados and Rossi's flight was more exciting or dangerous than that first one when the big monoplane started down the 4,200-foot runaway toward the sea. The management of the field, anticipating the danger of a crash and perhaps a doubt of whether the machine would take the air or not, had two complete fire companies standing by their hose lines stretched to the nearest hydrants, an ambulance with two physicians, and the U. S. navy's "crash wagon," its motor running, was close to the runaway.

The skill of Lieut. Paul Codos is testified by the fact that he used all but 150 feet of the runaway, or in time only one-tenth of a second from the end of the field, before the wheels spun clear of the ground. In the first three miles he had gained an altitude of about one hundred feet and the "Josef Le Brix" disappeared in the mist.

Major J. Nelson Kelly, manager of the air field, described it as "just about the finest bit of flying I have seen in five years of watching trans-Atlantic take-offs." Fifty-seven hours later the plane glided smoothly to a safe landing on the military air field at Rayak, Syria.

Popular interest in aviation loses none of its keenness, especially when achievements follow so closely as of late, and experience and mechanical efficiency reduce fatalities. Balbo's Italian squadron reaches the Azores, the Lindberghs are over Greenland, and the exploits of the Mollinsons, Wiley Post and Jimmy Mattern were recent news.

EQUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY.

One of the clauses in the C.C.F. program enunciates the idealistic objective of "equal economic and social opportunity without distinction of sex, nationality or religion."

The preamble to the platform checks the full sweep of that phase of the proposed reconstruction of society. It uses the qualifying weasel word "approximate" in affirming that the C.C.F. council was agreed on "the achievement of approximate economic equality among all men in place of the present glaring inequalities."

Wm. Irvine, M.P., said in his Keene address that it would take two generations to bring about the realization of the C.C.F. dream of "the socialist state," but how he could expect the levelling process to be effected even after that long period of assumed transition must surely strain the imagination of those who observe mankind in their present and historic desires and reactions.

Our own order of society with all its imperfections attempts to provide at least a measure of economic equality by requiring that every child shall attend school to the age of sixteen. But, even there, the element of inequality arises out of the disparity of natural talents and aptitudes. That fact is such a common experience it needs no elaboration. It is the first obstacle in the path of clause five of the C.C.F. program.

School children graduating in any year are presumed to be starting out in life equal in the educational training the state has given them. Then other factors enter the race, at least it has been a race or scramble so far. The influence of the child's family comes into play, and preferences are exerted through so many channels that it would be impossible to close up them all.

What! No nepotism, no "pull" of any kind. Imagine such a lofty dream as that.

One of the complaints against J. J. Morrison was that he stuffed the headquarters of the U.F.O. with members of his own family, and the hosts of other good citizens who use their influence in some form or other for the promotion of the welfare of a relative or friend quote the old bromide "that's only human nature."

Economic equality is a beautiful ideal, but against its attainment is a second tremendous obstacle, human nature. Everybody knows children of poor parents whose abilities have been frustrated by their family's lack of money to open the way for them to the higher places for which they were intellectually equipped by nature. On the other hand, of course are the innumerable successes of poor boys in contrast with failures of sons of wealthy homes.

When one thinks of the psychologist's classification of men and women, too, and can point out the various types in the walks of life, some soaring high on wings of conceit, self-confidence, presumption, while intellectual superiors are held to the ground by deficiencies, even excellences, of temperament, Mr. Irvine's two generations seem entirely too optimistic an estimate.

As far as "equality of social opportunity" enters into this C.C.F. plan we recall the apposite lines from the history text book account of Jack Cade's revolt:

"When Adam delved and Eve span,
Who then was the gentleman?"

We may affirm that there has been a long stride since then toward "equal social opportunity," and the emphasis is on the word opportunity, but the human element is too diverse and unchangeable ever to hope for that aspect of Utopia to materialize. Social opportunity must even depend upon the attitude of society, and while such innate factors remain as family pride, and also intellectual pride, for instance, and there is absolutely no doubt about their continuing to the end, how can the perfect socialist state be evolved?

Does Miss MacPhail believe that she could persuade one of the racial groups in Canada to acknowledge that it was not superior to all the others? Racial pride—another obstacle to opportunity of both social and economic equality!

It is easy to agree with some clauses of the C.C.F. program, but in regard to this equality clause five let us leave something to our anticipations of the amenities of that other Eden beyond the skies.

DON'T FORCE THEM TO SWIM.

A recent news item told of a mother who dipped her year-and-a-half-old baby in the surf at a beach resort, with the result that the baby died of fright. Whether fright caused the death or not, there is a lesson in the story that parents of young children should heed.

Many youngsters are timid about going into the water, and the well-meant efforts of older persons to teach them to swim frequently frighten them so thoroughly that they never learn to enjoy the sport as they otherwise would.

The former system of throwing a boy in over his head and letting him find his own way ashore worked in some cases, but it probably was responsible for more childish nightmares and injuries to young nervous systems than any torment that could be devised.

Left to himself, with proper supervision, it is a rare child that does not soon learn to swim.

Wise adults will let their juniors work out their own problems, ashore as well as afloat—not try to "break them in" with no more tact or consideration than a cowpuncher uses in breaking in a horse.—Detroit Times.

VIMY RIDGE MEMORIAL.

The memorial on Vimy Ridge, which four Canadian divisions and the Thirteenth British Brigade of West Kents and Scots stormed in April, 1917, is not yet completed fifteen years after the Armistice. But it is an undertaking massive in conception, on 240 acres 200 feet above the Douai Plain, and designed to be worthy of a victory of which Sir Douglas Haig said: "The capture of the renowned Vimy Ridge is an achievement of the highest order and of which Canada may well be proud." It was fitting that the sculptor should be a Canadian, Walter S. Allward, who won an award that was open to the British Empire. Since 1925 he has been engaged on the work in a London studio. "All the time," he says, "I have sought to avoid any semblance of drum-beating. Canada mourns her dead in the way I have endeavored to show in the Mother Spirit, which stands with drooped head on the wall, brooding over the plain on which her sons fell. Sorrow but not vainglory is there." Blocks of from twelve to twenty tons were required, and they were found in an old Roman quarry in Jugoslavia, from which the stone to build the Palace of Diocletian in Spalato in the third century was taken.

The common cause of France and Canada is to be represented by twin pylons 138 feet high. Below them will be seen the Spirit of Sacrifice in twenty heroic figures grouped at the ends of a wall 237 feet long, the base of the memorial. Surmounting the pylons will appear in relief Peace, Justice, Truth and Knowledge. The design calls for the covering of mouths of guns along the base by olive branches and laurel. The memorial should be ready for dedication on Dominion Day next year. The approaches will be by avenues of pines grown in Canada and France. In F. A. McKenzie's "Canada's Day of Glory" may be read the breathless story of the capture of Vimy Ridge. A Canadian correspondent, he does justice to the part the men of Kent and Scotland played in that immortal feat of arms. The dedication would not be adequate without the presence of the commander of the troops engaged, Sir Julian Byng, Governor-General of Canada from 1921 to 1926.—New York Times.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Now that we've got Chief Gimblett's car deal settled, let us get on to some other major problem.

Transport of a cargo of canned goods from Cobourg to Vancouver by water seems both an insult and injury to our railways.

Hundreds of Peterborough people visited Rochester Monday. Not so long ago many of us were satisfied with a sail on the river or a round trip on the street cars.

Just a little word of welcome to Agnes MacPhail, M.P., who is attending a township picnic today. Miss MacPhail has many admirers in Peterborough County, but they are not all enamored of her C.C.F. proposals.

Come to think of it, the divinity that shapes our ends has nothing on the lady who tries to park immediately behind us.

Legislature of British Columbia having been dissolved, Premier Tolmie announces a provincial election for about the middle of October. Apparently the Doc doesn't realize the proper strategy is to deny there's going to be an election and thus keep the people guessing.—Border Cities Star.

INSTALMENT 24.

Ethan's voice, quieter than Nina's even, took up the conversation. There was tension in the air, and Dr. Gaynor, who felt something but did not know what, began to move a little uneasily, and crumble bread on his plate. Helen noticed mechanically that one of the candles was guttering, and of old habit signaled to Mattie to get a fresh one.

"I hope you haven't made Kingsway at large feel that he's quite a pariah, Nina," he said carelessly. "That's the impression I seem to get from people."

Nina's voice was a little sharper and louder as she answered.

"I am not to blame if he does things which make him one. He is, so far as I am concerned."

She had thrown him, quite deliberately, then, into the hands of the Kingsway gossips, Nina, who owed everything she had or was to the boy's old father.

"He'll never be a pariah to me," said Helen, speaking on a passionate impulse.

Ethan looked at her steadily across the little luxurious dinner-table. He could not know that it was out of her own remembrance of how it felt to be humiliated in all Kingsway's eyes that she spoke. To him it must seem a championship built on affection—Ethen, who must be sensitive still, jealous still, because of Nina's own treatment of him ten years before. Helen wished he would speak. But he said nothing. He only watched her out of those immutable steady gray eyes. They could be cold eyes. They were now.

"But of course, child. Anybody knows that. Ethan will always have to share your heart with Ronny, I suppose, even if the first fine careless rapture's over. Never say you weren't warned, Ethan!"

The buttons were nearly off the foils. Helen, hurt, surprise at bay, did not know what to answer. "Ethan!" was all she could find to say.

Ethan responded swiftly to her call for help. His face changed to a careless expression of amusement, and he answered Nina as if they had been laughing over some veriest trife.

"Naturally," he said. "I've decided that the only thing to do will be to keep her so busy that she'll have no time to respond. Patricia is my scheme for occupying her most of the time I have to be gone, you see; and from now on I shall work out an intensive schedule for her after hours. We're beginning with golf tomorrow afternoon."

Nina answered him in the same light key, and the evening ended in a pleasanter note. Nina had said all she had to say, and was her most amusing self till the end; which Helen made as soon as possible. There was nothing out of the way in the farewells. Ethan was silent after the door had closed behind them. Silently he put Helen in the car. It was not for full five minutes after they were alone that he spoke — urgently, almost angrily.

"Helen, promise me to have no more to do with the boy."

"Ethan, I can't quite promise that. I'm the only person he has to turn to for sympathy or help. And I know what it's like myself to feel that nobody has sympathy or belief for you. Ronny needs that in me."

"And he's half in love with you."

Nina's virus had worked.

"Oh, Ethan, no!"

"You haven't any way of knowing that," he said.

Helen couldn't betray Doris and Ronny. She was silent. After a few moments, Ethan spoke, with an obvious effort at control.

"Look here, darling. You say he needs belief and sympathy and help. If you'll leave the boy alone—pass him over to me when he's in one of his scrapes next time—I promise to take over the charge of him. A man a little older than he is can do a lot more with him than a girl. I promise to be everything that is kind and understanding to him."

"I promise," she said, smiling a little. "It's no treat to me, Ethan, except that I am fond of him. I've lived in the house with him on and off for a long time, and I can remember him a forlorn little boy of fourteen when I was sixteen and Nina brought him down to visit mother."

"You can remember me as a forlorn little boy of all ages," said Ethan more lightly. "Mother and Marietta are always giving you data—I've heard them. And trust me to handle young Higginson."

He kissed her, and they laughed about it, and the problem passed over. Helen let her burden drop with a light heart. Surely, after so many years of taking care of people, she was entitled to be taken care of a little herself!

She was beginning to learn to know Ethan better. She liked the man she discovered even more than the man she had supposed she knew. But he was very different.

The steadiness, almost coolness of manner, was not in the least the real Ethan. As he had told her once, it was simply a method of managing a very headstrong and emotional temperament. Under the control there was a too great intensity of feeling; a tendency to dash to extremes and take things too hard, which he held in check only by his ability to laugh at himself, and his knowledge of the necessity control.

And so the happy days went on. It was nearly decided now that Helen and Ethan would be married in the spring.

In the middle of this a letter came from Helen's sister Jessica. Jessica had planned to come up for the wedding, but she wrote in distress now it seemed she'd got mixed up about the baby—it was coming two months earlier than she'd thought. (It was like Jessica even to be inaccurate about that!) And wouldn't Helen come down and stay with her? She was all alone, and so frightened. She thought it would be only fair, as she wouldn't be able to come to the wedding after all.

Helen went to Mrs. Kingsway about it.

"I know there's Patricia," she said, "but it would be only a couple of weeks' vacation for her. And I can be sewing while I'm down with Jessica."

"Of course, go, child," Mrs. Kingsway told her. "We'll all miss you horribly. But I can't see that Ethan will have to go on lending you to people in trouble all his life, and he might as well begin learning now. Only"—the kindly red-brown eyes lost their young look for a moment and became wise—"your little sister will have to learn some time that she can't depend on you all her life."

"But this isn't the time," Helen said ardently. "She's so little and so scared—I can just see how she looked when she wrote—and I've always mothered her."

"Oh, my dear, I didn't mean to suggest that you shouldn't go. You must. As for the sewing, leave that to me."

Helen demurred at that.

But, backed up by Mrs. Kingsway, and Ethan's own sense of fairness, Helen made arrangements to go to Jessica with very little protest from anybody but Patricia, who was frankly unwilling for Helen to feel any affection or duty for anybody outside the Kingsway family, and said so.

"I'll have run completely wild by the time you get back," she predicted.

"No, you won't," Ethan put in. "I shall put in all the time taming you that I'd otherwise spend missing Helen!"

She thought this over for a little while, and then suggested going down to Baltimore with Helen herself. Which was also vetoed.

Ethan saw Helen off, as a matter of course. They stood on the little platform waiting for the train. He had been silent a moment, looking down on her as she stood, slim and straight and graceful in the same red furred coat Jessica had sent her so many months ago. She was counting over the things she was to take Jessica.

"Do you think I ought to have remembered a pretty negligee?" she asked him earnestly. "Jessica loved them so, and I know she won't have saved enough to buy a new one. And she'll be so unhappy if she hasn't any."

He looked at her, as she stood, intent and unconscious, her whole mind on what her sister would want; her bright head in its close red felt helmet lifted to him.

"You're the best—the dearest—the sweetest ——" he said passionately. "I don't know how I'm going to stand having you away two weeks. . . . Oh, yes, get it for her—only remember that I'll duplicate every pretty thing you give anybody else as soon as we're married!"

She laughed. "Why, Ethan, you act as if I were going forever. I'll be back in a fortnight."

"I feel as if it were forever!"

"So do I," she said softly.

There was a click of brisk footsteps behind them.

"Oh, Helen, I'm in time to say good-bye," said Nina. "I'm so glad—and here are some things of mine for Jessica. "She's just my size, as she reminds me now and again. Give her my love."

The train was coming; Helen just had time to take the parcel, thank Nina, and turn to go. Nina spoke again, scarcely heard in the noise of the train.

"By the way, I heard some gossip. It seems Tommy Delamater isn't settled in Wisconsin for good after all. He's coming back to Kingsway."

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE ASHBURTON TREATY

On this date, in 1842, there was signed at Washington a treaty between Great Britain and the United States which satisfied neither country and, according to Canadian contention, deprived Canada of a large section of territory which is now part of the State of Maine. The boundary line between New Brunswick and the State of Maine had long been a matter in dispute. Almost from the signing of the treaty of Paris in 1873 the United States claimed that the boundary should be at the headwaters of the Saint John river, to which Britain would not agree. In 1830, the matter was referred to the King of the Netherlands for arbitration, but when his decision was rendered the following year the Washington government refused to accept it. Things dragged along for eight years with exceedingly bitter feeling on both sides, until in 1839 the lumbermen in Maine and New Brunswick came to blows. Governor Fairfield of Maine called out the state militia and Sir John Harvey, governor of New Brunswick, sent two regiments to the frontier. For a time war was imminent, but the good common sense of Sir John and of General Winfield Scott, the commander of the Maine National Guard, prevailed and the quarrel was settled by compromise. This little emergency has been called by some writers "The Arostook War."

When the diplomats took a hand and for three years more the boundary was the subject of parleys which culminated in what is known as the Ashburton treaty. The commissioners were Lord Ashburton and Daniel Webster. The line as defined by that treaty satisfied nobody. The people of New Brunswick claimed that they had been deprived of much northern territory; Maine was furious because concessions were made and had to be placated by a payment of $150,000 by Congress. By the final arrangement Great Britain got 5,012 miles and the United States 7,015,900 miles less than they would have received by the award of the King of the Netherlands.

The treaty was bitterly denounced in the British parliament. Lord Palmerston characterizing it as "The Ashburton capitulation" and it has since been a cause for unpleasant reference by students of Canadian history. The late Sir Sanford Fleming declared that the treaty "converted undoubted British territory into foreign soil, alienated the allegiance of thousands of British subjects without consent and made a direct connection on our own soil between Central Canada and the Atlantic an impossibility." It is through a large portion of that territory that the C.P.R. short line to Saint John runs.

The matter also illustrates the habit of history repeating. When in 1861, at the time of the Trent affair, hostilities seemed imminent and British troops were sent to Canada, 2,000 of them were compelled to march in the dead of winter along the bleak shore of northern New Brunswick and Eastern Quebec, because the natural route which Ashburton had given away, was barred. Half a century later when the war with Germany came, we had to use the circuitous route with men and munitions and gold, but then it was over a well managed Intercolonial railway and not by on foot and by sled.

Some commentators describe the Ashburton treaty as the "Champagne treaty" because it was floated through the United States Senate by free and frequent libations of the sparkling wine of France; but that may be a libel upon American statesmen.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner.

Ruby Jones,
521 Gilmour street, City.

Your handwriting is indicative of determination and organizing ability. You are most happily blessed with full development of all your talents, and can 'turn your hand' to good advantage in almost any line of endeavor. You will not argue, but like to have you own say, then draw discreetly to the background. You seem to know that your words have been well expressed and have 'made an impression,' so remain adamant in your decision. You are secretive and perhaps not quite as humorous and outspoken as you might be. Yet were you to give people an insight into your true feelings, many times it would prove disastrous for you. It is just as well that some of us can hide our emotions, for there are far too many as it is, who literally 'wear their hearts on their sleeve.' You belong to the type who would carry on at any price, no matter how sore you were at heart or perhaps deeply grieved. You work especially well in an emergency and surprise even yourself, by your resourcefulness.

Anne Devlin,
Indian River, Ontario.

The handwriting as denoted on your sample for analysis expresses indecision. You want to do things, but you do not know how to accomplish your desires. I am afraid that you do not find it an easy task to settle down to determined study. Perhaps you have not the time in which to apply yourself. You seem to be pulling in two different directions—your honest wish to succeed and your lack of concentration. No doubt with a little encouragement, you can overcome the characteristics which deter you from your purpose. You are good natured, happy and agreeable. You are courageous and disregard 'matter of fact' convention. You can work diligently and well, when in the mood, although it would appear that you act with the utmost complaisance most of the time. You judge your friends from their outward appearance and often find that you are mistaken in your judgment.

E. H. Page,
George street, City.

The handwriting as depicted on your sample for analysis shows a keen, calculating mind. But, although your mind is clear and observing, you are afraid lest you make mistakes or be criticized. Your kindness of heart is frequently misunderstood, and you suffer acutely. You are humorous and yet temperamental. At one time too happy at another too sad. You do not appear to be able to concentrate on a happy medium. You have a propensity to crowd too much into the space of twenty-four hours. At present you are wondering if I shall tell you what you want to know. That is, whether or not you are doing the work you desire most to do, or whether you will in future realize the secret ambition you set for yourself. You are in your right place. The ambition can only be realized by sheer determination and will power. Try not to argue, reason things out for yourself. The crossing of your 't' bars indicates a combative nature. This, you will never overcome, but if led in the right direction would assist you greatly in attaining your goal.

Helen McMartin,
R.R. No. 11, Peterborough, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis indicates that you are a very conservative person. You do not let others know what you are thinking about. You can keep a secret as closely locked up in your heart as though in a vault. You are kindhearted and tolerant but not too generous. You know where to draw the line and just when it is most necessary too. You're a diligent worker, but have not the strength to carry out all your preconceived plans. You are very fond of beautiful things, and you are intelligent enough to make them perfectly with your own hands, provided you have the time at your disposal in which to relax and take the pleasure of pretty work upon yourself. You resent being 'bossed about,' or intrusion into your private affairs. You have a good mind of your own which usually carries you over difficult places. You are interested in all things of an occult nature. You are also interested in psychology and palmistry. I do not mean that you undertake this for a living, but generally want to know what is ahead of you, if you can.

Quotations For To-Day

Solitude is the nurse of enthusiasm, and enthusiasm is the true parent of genius. In all ages solitude has been called for—has been flown to.

DESMOND BURKE SCORES 1ST WIN

got no thanks from the marksmen, who found the wind a bit difficult and the light, coming back of the targets and across their sights, very hard to fathom at times.

"The worst I ever did," ruefully commented Miss Spencer, only woman competing in the O.R.A.'s 59th annual meeting, as she wound up the first distance of the Lieut-Governor's with a total of 29 out of a possible 35.

300-Yard Shoot

The first distance called for seven shots at 300 yards. The second distance will be fired at 600 yards tomorrow afternoon and the best 60 shots go into the second stage of 10 shots at 900 yards, longest range of the meeting.

Youthful Lieut. C. E. Matchett of Hamilton was one of those getting off to a flying start in the O.R.A.'s biggest match with a perfect score of 35. Others were Sgt. T. A. Jensen of Calgary, a Bisley shot; Sapper O. O. Lewis of Toronto; Pte. J. N. Varley of Toronto; Pte. Dawson of Toronto; Sgt. E. H. Armitage of Windsor; Sgt. T. R. Davies of Vancouver; Capt. A. R. Mendizabel of Sarnia, and Cpl. A. C. Ross of Hamilton.

Lieut. Desmond Burke, former King's Prize winner, and Company Sgt. Major G. M. Emslie of Toronto, another Bisley veteran, finished the first distance with 34's. A large number of competitors also had this total, making it likely that scores of 32 or worse would eventually be counted out in the big match.

Young Lieut. Roger Sweet of Hamilton and Cadet Winser of Winchester, one of the English Public School's team who has been shooting remarkably well the last two days, were also in the 34 notch. So was Private Tommy Vamplew of Toronto, who ranked tops in both of yesterday's events.

Others finishing with 34 included C.S.M. Rusk and Capt. H. W. Bishop of Ottawa, Lieut. Col. H. P. Letson of Vancouver, Cpt. R. A. Kerr of Toronto, Sgt. J. Freeborn of Hamilton, Capt. W. C. Leggett of Toronto, Sgt. J. G. Coles of Weyburn, Sask., Leiut. M. C. Upper of Hamilton, Capt. H. E. Rowlands of Hamilton, Lieut. Col. F. W. Utton of Toronto, a Bisley shot, and Lt. R. Storrar of Toronto.

Major C. R. Crowe of Guelph, who has been shooting at Long Branch, Ottawa and Bisley for a great many years, found the wind and light tough and wound up with a 30.

A large entry then went back to the 300-yard range to fire in the Gibson Memorial Match, a rapid-fire event calling for seven shots in one minute.

Chicago Exchange

Confidence as to the future of the grain market is apparently being slowly restored. Much less pessism was noted on the Chicago Exchange floor yesterday and in addition good public buying was in evidence in corn and oats. However, the aggregate trade was much below normal and small buying or selling orders continue to cause rapid price changes. Winnipeg reported bids on wheat good for all next week sold at 15 cents under the current price of futures, while offers sold at 27½ cents over. Trading in privileges in American markets is banned and the permanent elimination of this class of trading is expected to be proposed in the grain trade code to be submitted. There is a strong undercurrent of bullish sentiment in statements by leading traders on all grains. One of the best posted observers say the markets may hold within the narrow limits until the NRA codes' have materially stimulated business. The trade has no question in it's mind as to this years' grain crop and the belief is unanimous that it will fall below normal domestic requirements.

Trading is Light

The holiday spirit has completely seized New York and Toronto markets. Traders and operators seem to have all deserted the street for bass or gold and little can be expected in the next few days. Stricter marginal requiremens will have a sobering effect upon trading but in the long run will accomplish a great deal toward respect of markets even if it is a limitation to trading. No word has yet been issued here as to any change in Canadian requirements but the member houses are gradually leaning toward stiffer requirements for their own good. I doubt if Canadian banks or exchanges will take any drastic steps in this direction.

Of yesterday's market all that can be said is that Walkers was under steady accumulation. One third of the day's trading was confined to this issue. It was the only trading possibility though Ford was well bought.

RENO

Liquidation on Reno would appear to have carried the stock down to a very good buying level.

CITY COUNCIL ORDERS PROBE

Unemployed Workers' Fraternity that the city donate the facilities to remove J. Cain, 477 Bolivar Street, and his family to the Red Deer district in the West. It was explained that Mr. Cain had lived in the West previously and that frends would supply him with work there. He is on relief here. The matter was referred to the Special Relief Committee for full investigation.

That proper signal lights be installed at the corner of Park and Charlotte Streets was the request received from the local Automobile Club. The letter from the club stated this corner "is recognized now by motorists as being the most dangerous in the city." The matter was referred to the next meeting of the Board of Works.

Contract Awarded.

W. W. Cole, of Peterborough, was given the contract to erect the new smoke stack for the incinerator. His tender was $1,470.00 for the erection of new stack which will be constructed of ¾-inch steel, have a height of 100 feet and a diameter of 60 inches. It was estimated that the new stack will permit the city to more than double the existing means of disposing of garbage. The erection of the stack is to be completed by September 15. Cost of the removal of the old stack is included in the tendered price.

A new building by-law prohibiting the erection of garages to be used for hire or gain, in the restricted area of the city covering all residential districts, was passed. This by-law repeals the former by-law which was found in police court to be not properly worded according to the Municipal Act. The new by-law also supplied a maximum penalty of $50, no penalty having been in the old by-law.

The light at the corner of Park and Charlotte Streets will be suspended from the centre of the curb. Alderman Cotton said that such altering of the location of the light would make the corner better lighted and help in removing some of its hazards.

MANYQUESTIONS ARE ASKED KING

ENJOYED QUESTIONS.

(By Ray Brown, C.P. Staff Writer)

WILKIE, Sask., Aug. 9 (C.P.)—Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal leader, ran into a barrage of questions here when he referred at some length to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation in addressing one of the largest mass meetings he has spoken to.

It was his final meeting for the present in Saskatchewan. To-day he crosses into Alberta. Questions flew fast for a few minutes especially toward the end of the Liberal leader's speech last night, but he seemed to enjoy them and answered readily. The crowd was good natured and there was no trouble.

Mr. King said he had come to lay the position of the Liberal party before the people in the rural sections of western Canada in spite of "come let us reason together" but he was not attacking any party he wanted to make that clear.

Mr. King said he was not surprised at the C.C.F. coming into being. Third parties spring up under Conservative governments, he said. They faded out under Liberals. I am asked if we are going to co-operate with C.C.F. but it is pretty hard to co-operate with a party which says it is out to destroy you. The C.C.F. has said it is out to destroy both the Liberal and Conservative parties.

A new party probably would not last long once the Liberals came into power because the sun of prosperity would soon rise and the new party would disappear, he said.

The C.C.F. program declares an adequate income will be provided for all with leisure, continued Mr. King.

"Do you consider that is impossible?" a feminine voice asked.

"My dear friend," replied Mr. King, "the life of a man is three score and ten. You could not accomplish that in six times three score years and ten."

Private property will be swept away under the C.C.F. said Mr. King. He felt it would be much wiser for such people to wait and see how the Russian experiment turned out before "jumping from the frying pan into the fire."

Mr. King will speak at Wainwright this afternoon and probably Vermilion and Vegreville to-night.

Judge Wearing To Address Convention

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of the Province of Quebec, will be the guest speaker at the opening luncheon meeting of the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime District Convention at the Windsor Hotel on Monday noon, September 18. For the first time in 10 years, this important convention is being held in Montreal, under the auspices of the St. Lawrence Kiwanis Club of Montreal, and will open for registration on Sunday, September 17, concluding on Tuesday night, September 19.

Judge J. Wearing of London, Ontario, will deliver the inspirational address at 10.40 a.m. on Monday, September 18. Owen J. Callary, Governor of the District, will repay to the address of Premier Taschereau at the luncheon meeting on this date. A very colourful event, namely the Governors' Ball, is scheduled for the same evening, President Paul Ethier announces, in discussing the comprehensive program.

Hamilton Taximan Has Cab, Cash Stolen

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP)—A gun pointed at his head, Karl De Marchi of Hamilton was robbed of his taxicab and money when he drove a lone passenger to the village of Rockton late last night. Police today were seeking the stolen car and the gunman.

De Marchi was hailed at a busy street corner in Hamilton by the passenger and started the 14 mile drive along the Galt highway to Rockton. Just after passing through the village the man in the back seat pulled his revolver and ordered De Marchi to stop. He was bound with a rope the gunman had brought along for the purpose and gagged.

Bundling the taxi driver out of the car and leaving him by the roadside, the thief drove off in the direction of Galt. De Marchi finally wriggled out of his bonds and walked to Rockton where he notified police.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.). — The majority of Standard Mining Exchange listings hesitated to-day to follow the buoyant market in New York, although buying was better in the interlisted group this afternoon, particularly Nickel, Noranda and some of the gold leaders. The general tone was the firmest the market has shown in more than a week.

Buying was active all day in International Nickel and the close at 20.50 showed a net gain of 50 cents. Noranda held a 40-cent rise at 34.90 and Falconbridge gained 5 to 4.15.

In the senior gold group gains of 75 cents to 1.25 were held by Dome, Lake Shore and McIntyre, and Hollinger, Teck and Hargreaves advanced 5 to 15 cents each.

Eldorado firmed to $5, and Mining Corporation about 8 cents, but Nipissing surrendered an early gain, closing at $2.30.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(AP)—The stock market pressed steadily upward today from the opening. Slight resistance was encountered at any time and gains of 1 to more than 3 points included industrials, rails and utilities alike. Advances of around 2 to more than 3 were registered by United States Steel, Columbian Carbon, American Telephone, New York Central, Delaware & Hudson, Case, Consolidated Gas, Allied Chemical, United Aircraft and Industrial Rayon. Lesser gains were shown by General Motors, Western Union and General Electric Transfers approximated 2,500,000 shares.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.)—Improved buying demand gave Toronto stock listings a steady upward push to-day and the close of the market registered a preponderance of gains in all sections. Strength developed first in the distillery and metal stocks and spread to other groups. Volume was the best in several days.

Oil shares firmed well in the late trading, Imperial, British American and International Pete closing ¼ to ⅜ higher. Distillery shares chalked up a gain of 4½ points for Walkers Common, Distillers Seagram, and 10 for Brewers and Distillers.

Nickel in active trading advanced 50 to 20.50, and Smelters added 3 to close at 132. Fractional gains were registered for Brazilian, C.P.R. and Ford of Canada.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—(CP)—Liverpool cables, which came better than expected, coupled with strength in stock markets and soaring temperatures in Western Canada sent wheat prices into the ascendancy here today. Offerings were extremely lilght in the initial hour and it took only small buying to send the market up for gains of 1 to 1⅛ cents near mid-session.

October was quoted at 81½, December at 83⅜ and May at 87⅝ cents. Most of the scattered buying appeared to come from a large prominent commission house.

Volume of trade was thin and traders failed to show much interest in operations. Liverpool quotations near the close were fractionally higher.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.).—Trading on the Toronto livestock branch this afternoon was at a standstill, with less than half the offering sold up to 2 p.m. Prices on butchers and steers were mostly 4¼ cents lower.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion livestock branch were: Cattle 450, calves 475, hogs 800, sheep and lambs 850.

There were no price changes recorded on calves, hogs, sheep and lambs.

Quotations:

Light steers good and choice $4.50-$4.75; medium $4-$4.40; common $2.50-$3.75. Heavy steers, good and choice. $4.75-$5; medium $4.25-$4.50; common $3.25-$4. Heifers good and choice. $4.50-$4.75; medium $4-$4.40; common $2.50-$3.75. Fed calves good and choice $6-$6.75; medium $5-$5.75; cows, good $2.50-$2.75; medium $2.25-$2.50; common $1.75-$2. Canners and cutters $1-$1.50; bulls, good $2.50-$2.75; common $2-$2.25. Stocker and feeder steers, good $3-$3.25; common $2.25-$2.75. FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (C.P.) — Wholesale prices on fruits and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., were reported unchanged to-day with the exception of outdoor tomatoes No. 1 which were quoted from 40 to 45 cents.

CHEESE UNCHANGED

TORONTO, Aug. 9 (CP)—Prices on the Toronto wholesale cheese market was reported unchanged to-day.

GAS BOMB LEADS TO INDICTMENTS

STOCK EXCHANGE CASE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (A.P.) — Three indictments were returned by a Grand Jury to-day aainst Eugene S. Danielf, Jr., Boston lawyer, charging him with malicious mischief as a felony, assault in the second degree and possession of a noxious liquid gas bomb.

The indictments were returned in connection with the tear gassing of the New York Stock Exchange which caused a suspension of trading on the Exchange shortly after noon Friday.

One of the indictments supercedes a similar indictment charging malicious mischief returned by a Grand Jury yesterday. A conviction under the three indictments would carry a maximum penalty of 16 years' imprisonment.

Daniell has been held in Tombs Prison in default of $10,000 bail on a charge of malicious mischief made in Tombs Court. To-day Magistrate Jonah J. Goldstein dismissed the charge and Daniell was arrested on a bench warrant to face the indictments.

STEALS HER SON, MOTHER HUNTED

Seen in Kingston

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 9 (CP)—Mrs. Richard Dutton, alleged to have kidnapped her own son from his father's camp near Syracuse, N.Y., passed through Kingston Tuesday afternoon, it was learned from immigration authorities today, and proceeded by bus for Toronto.

Apparently Mrs. Dutton and her son had crossed by motor boat to Wolfe Island from Cape Vincent, N.Y., reaching the island at what is known as Horn's Landing, where she was passed through immigration, nothing having been heard at the island as to the woman being wanted. She came across to Kingston on the steamer Wolfe Islander about 2.30 p.m., yesterday and took a bus for Toronto immediately.

During the afternoon B. O. Smith of the Canadian Immigration Service here, received word the woman was wanted in Syracuse. He notified immigration officers at other points between Kingston and To-

$5,000 SUIT ENTERED AGAINST OWNERS OF SCHOONER BLUENOSE

WOULD SEIZE BOAT.

CHICAGO, Aug. 9. —(AP)— The Nova Scotia schooner Bluenose was "at sea" on Lake Michigan today and apparently its crew and skipper had not received news of the $5,000 suit in admiralty fyled by a wealthy clubman who alleged his voyage aboard her had been deliberately spoiled.

Addison Stillwell, who sponsored a yachting party aboard the ship, international champion fishing schooner, alleged in an action fyled in United States district court, that he and his guests were forced to undergo "indignities" during the cruise.

Stillwell, a lumberman, asked the refund of $2,500 which he paid to charter the boat for two weeks and an additional $2,500 for damages. The complaint was fyled against owners of the ship and its skipper, Capt. Angus J. Walters. He demanded the boat be seized if the judgments were not satisfied.

Fed Unpalatable Food

Stillwell's' party was on a mid-July sail on the lake when, his bill charged, they noticed a sudden change of heart on the part of the crew. The guests were fed unpalatable food, Stillwell said, kept awake by early deck-swabbing, confined to a small area by the painting of the deck and forced to sleep in berths which were not made up.

The suit alleged the skipper wanted to hurry back to dock here in order to take on a more lucrative charter party. "It was an ordeal rather than a pleasure trip," the bill said. "In fact the party was led to fear violence."

Finally, the suit charged, it became unbearable. Stillwell and his party left the boat at Milwaukee, but announced they would board it again at Chicago before the charter was completed. At the Chicago dock, however, Stillwell said he found others comfortably established on the boat.

Persons connected with the boat could not be reached early today. At the navy pier, where the Bluenose docks, it was said there was another cruise underway. The boat formerly docked at a pier on the world's fair grounds.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY

(Special to Examiner.)

POWDER MONKEY finished a bang up second to Omareen on Monday at Hamilton, in fact he led until the last fifty yards and was only beaten by a length. Remember him when he next goes postward. Georgia Lily is another that is in the proverbial pink and should have no trouble grabbing a purse in the near future. We also want to recommend Try It. This one suffered a lot of interference his last start and the next time out it will be a lot different.

• • •

PROTRACTOR IS a sprinter of some class and will win many a purse from now on. He has been down around Montreal way all summer and winning about every other day but has been beating only cheap platers. Up around Fort Erie next week he will be entered with some good ones and then you will see him walk his beat. The nag can certainly turn on the juice when required.

• • •

DEVOUT IS another sleeper that will wake up one of these days. If you remember about this time last year, he was beating Broadway Lights, Khorasan and others of the same breed of horse flesh, which should be recommendation enough. Princely Attention is still at Hamilton, having been there since May when he went slightly lame. They tell us he is just about ready now, so we can look for him to be coming down in front any day now, probably at Fort Erie which opens on Saturday.

• • •

PLATINUM BLONDE finally won a race yesterday and may go on and win a few more now that he has broken the ice. Don't forget Bold Bendigo has yet to do the trick for us but he is moving up a notch all the time and it won't be long now. C. V. Whitney has a two year old called Holligan which they say just burns up the track in his morning trials so don't be caught napping when you notice this trick in a maiden juvenile race.

• • •

REFINER WON the last race on the holiday and from now on this hide can be relied upon to get his share of the spoils. He always comes to hand about this time of the year and is strictly a fall horse. We think Gilded Casino will be a winner in one of these Canadian bred races in a few days. The hoss is in grand condition and is a consistent winner. Young Kitty has had two openers now after her long lay-off so you can get serious from now on.

• • •

DEDUCE IS another that we expect to come to life during the Fort Erie meeting. His efforts of late have been very dull and he is about due to wake up. Before bringing today's column to a close we want to remind you not to layoff of Higher. He will do it for you.

Want Machine Guns In Milk Strike War

ALBANY, N.Y., August 9 (C.P.). —Machine guns will protect milk trucks against New York State's striking dairymen if authorities approve the recommendation made to-day by Captain Stephen McGrath of State Police.

Hero of the Auburn Prison riots, Captain McGrath to-day called upon Major John A. Warner, superintendent of State Police, to authorize the use of the machine gun after reports had been received that troopers convoying a "train" of tank trucks had been fired upon from ambush near Little Falls last night.

A dozen shots came from the bushes, puncturing milk trucks and barely missing two state troopers when one bullet went through the rear of their car. Troopers were said to have fired approximately 300 rounds into the underbrush, but no one was hit. This was the second time trucks have been fired upon.

Mother Love

SWASTIKA BEACH, Puslinch Lake, Ont., Aug. 9.—(CP)—The love of a hen pheasant for her young brought about her death in a minor tragedy of the highway, here.

The young chick crossed a driveway leading to the beach, was struck by a car and killed. The hen pheasant went into the road after the tiny form and had just reached it when struck by another automobile and killed. T. Ross Barber, who raised the pheasants, told the story.

BANKING PROBE MOVES TO COAST

the Department of Justice be secured as a witness.

Lord MacMillan recognized that the question was premature, but he decided to keep it to the forefront in the minds of commission members, believing it would be one of the most important to be considered.

In this connection Sir Thomas White instanced the practice of towns and municipalities issuing bonds payable outside Canada, having a direct bearing on Dominion banking and currency but beyond government control.

Considerable controversy arose over the liability of banks or the Dominion to redeem silver currency or the paper money of the chartered banks, in Dominion notes. Dr. Clark said the banks were legally obligated to give customers Dominion notes for the notes of their own issue, but there was not legal obligation for the redemption of silver money in Dominion notes.

Dr. Clark described the actual legal tender of Canada in complete detail, and also described the operations of the Mint and replacement of currency.

"Has the Royal Mint operated at a profit?" asked Beaudry Leman.

"Figures will have to be prepared," replied Dr. Clark. "The Assay Office at Vancouver has operated at a slight loss, but I think the Royal Mint as a whole has made a profit."

No Way of Telling Value

"There is no way of estimating the value of the Mint," Sir Thomas White interjected. "It has proved a most essential and valuable part of the Government and particularly during the war it was of inestimable value."

During the description by Dr. Clark of the returns made by banks to the Government, Lord MacMillan and Sir Charles Addis observed that the Canadian system of records and returns passing from banks to Government were exceptionally full and complete.

"They are said to be unsurpassed in any other country," Dr. Clark replied.

Among the returns Dr. Clark was asked to have ready when the Commission return to Ottawa, was a statement setting forth the revenue derived by the Government from the operation of the Finance Act since its inception in 1914, and the revenue from excess circulation during the same period.

C. S. Tompkins, Inspector-General of Banks for the Federal Government, gave evidence on the history and operation of the Bank Inspection Act since its enactment in 1924.

PLEASING REPORTS READ AT MEETING

Roseneath Institute Invites Baltimore Branch to Attend September Meeting.

ROSENEATH, Aug. 9.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Institute was held in the Town Hall, with Mrs. Earl Thackeray and her sister. Mrs. Marcus Radley, acting as joint hostesses.

The president, Mrs. Frank Nichol, presided over an attendance of 34 members. 14 visitors and many children.

Favorable reports were read by the secretary, Mrs. Charles Sandercock. A vote of thanks was tendered by Mrs. Robert Mouncey, seconded by Mrs. Beecher Hogg, to the Roseneath Agricultural Association for their kindness in giving the Women's Institute the use of the check room on Field Day when they served refreshments.

On motion, it was decided that the secretary write an invitation to the Baltimore branch to come to Roseneath for the September meeting, and also for them to provide the program. Mrs. Lily Turner and Mrs. C. W. Varcoe will be in charge of the meeting.

Mrs. S. Ryan made a suggestion that the Institute purchase a swing or two to be placed on the agricultural grounds for the amusement of the children. The matter will be looked into before another meeting.

Interesting Program.

A pleasing and interesting program was given, including a piano duet by Mrs. A. Comfort and Miss Joey Morrison. Mrs. M. Davey gave a two-minute talk on our motto, "Flowers are the sweetest things God ever made and forgot to put a soul in." Mrs. Davey's talk was most interesting and educational. Mrs. Turner gave a tongue-twister piece of poetry, each word beginning with the letter "S". Mrs. Neil Brisbin sang sweetly a solo, "The Voice in the Old Village Choir." Humorous readings were given by Mrs. Albert Halstead. Mrs. T. A. Tucker, "The Twins Aged 9 Years Old," and Mrs. M. D. Brown, "Dieting," each one causing loud applause. A tree contest by Mrs. Ryan gave silence to the gathering for a few moments while the brains were active, and was won by Mrs. M. D. Brown and Mrs. Moore. Mrs. Robert Mouncey was awarded a prize for holding the lucky chair. An oral contest on old-time sayings was put on by Mrs. M. D. Brown. The winners for the table bouquet were, first Mrs. John Baxter, second Miss Jessie Johnston and third Mrs. T. A. Tucker, each receiving a dainty prize.

A vote of thanks was given the hostesses and the singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close, after which delicious refreshments were served and a social and enjoyable half-hour was spent.

COUNCIL OF EMILY THREATENS ACTION

OMEMEE, August 9. — Harry McElwain, Emily tax collector, will be instructed to collect all the outstanding taxes for 1931, and return the roll before the next meeting of the Emily Council, according to a decision reached at a sitting of the council last week. The council will look to the collector and his bondsmen for any loss which may result from his failure to collect the taxes due.

The clerk was instructed by the meeting to have notices posted at the eastern end of the fifth line, near Lancaster's Bridge, forbidding any person to build on the premises or fence in any portion of the property without first obtaining permission from the council. Permission was granted Peter Perdue to put out 35 cords of stone at Ranson's corner before September 15, for the sum of $100. Instructions were given to the clerk to write to the council's insurance company and urge that the company pay the claim of Robert Sullivan for damages to his car, the township road overseer reporting that a culvert where Mr. Sullivan had an accident was in a dangerous condition at the time of the accident.

Action against the Department of Highways will be taken unless satisfaction is given in regard to a ditch dug recently by Department men on the township boundary, just north of Highway No. 7 at Fowler's Corners. The council claims that the ditch was dug in attempt to carry surplus waer over the boundary road, and that it will damage the road. The Department will be asked to install a regular culvert.

The reeve and clerk were appointed as a committee to get legal advice with regard to the outstanding 1931 taxes against the Evans Storey Property, and given power to act.

Weddings

SYKES—CLYSDALE.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the parsonage in Hastings on Monday at four o'clock, when Agnes Helen Jean, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Clysdale, of Hastings, became the bride of Mr. Wilfred Ray Sykes, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sykes of Toronto.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. J. Bell. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite frock of white silk organdie, with shoes, hat and gloves to match. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Eva Clysdale, of Hastings, who wore a dress of peach silk organdie, with matching accessories.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left amidst the good wishes of their friends by motor on a trip to Niagara and points west, the bride travelling in a frock of navy silk crepe.

On their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Warkworth.

TRUCK DRIVERS PAY INCREASED

Seymour Council Grants Five Cents an Hour Increase in Pay.

ACCOUNTS PASSED.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 9 (Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Protesting against the reduction to 80 cents an hour in their pay, truck drivers employed by the Township of Seymour will be increased to 85 cents an hour, or $8.50 per day, following action by the Seymour Council when a resolution covering this action, sponsored by Councillors Frank Rowe and Thomas Fry, was passed.

An original motion was presented by Deputy-Reeve W. S. Milne and Reeve W. J. Duncan, that a ten-cent increase be allowed, but an amendment was moved in favor of the five-cent increase, which, when put to the ayes and nays, carried. Councillor Frank Lee, however, who move that the pay remain as it is, received no seconder and voted nay against the amendment.

A by-law calling for the appointment of a tax collector for the township for 1933 was not passed, as no application had been received. Applications for this position will be advertised for immediately. The accounts, amounting to $1,610.75, were presented and passed.

JOLSON'S SWING AT WINCHELL

mitting he had been hit, and Jolson, freely admitting he had done the hitting.

The actor said he punched Winchell in retaliation for writing a movie scenario which he had heard reflected upon his actress wife, Ruby Keeler, of Halifax, N.S.

"The only thing that makes me feel badly," said Winchell to-day, "is that public opinion has been deceived into believing me guilty of the charge.

Not Enough Worrying.

"Mr. Jolson said he was worried over his wife's condition; he didn't worry about my wife's condition.

"Right after the affair Jolson was quoted as saying, 'I lost my head. I didn't know what I was doing. I'm going to demand to see Winchell's scenario, and if I find it's all a mistake, I'll apologize.'

"Well, did he ever ask to see that script? No. He beat it out of Hollywood and came back to New York and there I was, holding the bag.

"Mr. Jolson accused me of slandering Mrs. Jolson and jumped gallantly to his wife's defence—without knowing what it was all about.

"I couldn't prove to him there is nothing in that picture about him or his wife. He wouldn't give me a chance. So now I'm going to prove it in court.

Winchell's picture is called "Broadway Through a Keyhole." He said the producers will start production next Monday, with Russ Columbo in the role of an orchestra leader.

PLANE UPSETS BALBO LOSES FOUR AVIATORS

crowds as the aviators made ready as dawn was breaking. With military precision the machines taxied out of the harbor, took the air, and circled over the channel between Fayal and Pico and the town at a low altitude. The siren of the Italian base ship, Citta di Catania, sounded a mournful note of farewell.

Carries 15 Extra Men

ROME, Aug. 9.—(AP)—In a report to Premier Mussolini today about the flight of his 24 seaplanes from Newfoundland to the Azores, General Italo Balbo said he took 111 men from Shoal Harbor to the Azores.

These included eight non-commissioned officers and four reserve pilots from the supply ship Alice stationed in Newfoundland. The regular roster of pilots and mechanics comprised 96 men.

The flight towards Europe yesterday, the Air Minister reported, was made mostly above a stratum of clouds and at an average speed of 150 miles an hour.

A triumphal reception has been planned here for the homecoming of General Balbo and his squadron. It was hoped the armada could be welcomed Sunday.

More than 500,000 persons were expected to crowd Rome's new seaport at Ostia to welcome the flyers. Special train and bus service has been organized to carry the crowds from and to the capitol. If Premier Mussolini does not go to Ostia, he will receive the airmen immediately upon their arrival in Rome.

The flyers will be brought here in automobiles after an elaborate ceremony at Ostia, including a parade of automobiles through the decorated streets of the seaport.

CAMPBELLFORD BODY PROTESTS CANAL CLOSING

Council Passes Resolution to be Forwarded to Federal Member, W. A. Fraser.

FAVOR ONE CONSTABLE.

Many Applications Received For Position—Want Provincial Officer.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 9 — (By Examiner Staff Correspondent.) — Strongly protesting the action of the Department of Railways and Canals in the closing of the Trent Canal system two months earlier this season than in previous years, a resolution was passed last evening by the Campbellford Town Council, to be forwarded to the Federal member, W. A. Fraser, voicing this protest. The resolution which was sponsored by Councillors A. C. McKeel and F. F. Long, read: "Moved that a letter addressed to the Department of Railways and Canals be forwared to the Federal member, W. A. Fraser, strongly condmening the curtailment of employment and salaries of Trent Canal employees in as much as this will create hardship to such employees; have a detrimental effect on the town generally, and be unfair to the majority of these employees in view of most of them being returned soldiers. We would also draw attention to the fact that the canal is a substantial revenue producer from its power development, and that this should be considered as well as any transient canal traffic." This resolution was unanimously adopted by the Council.

Although twenty-five applications for Chief Constable for the town were received and opened, and three applications for the position of night constable, no appointment was made, but on motion of Deputy Reeve N. A. MacColl and Councillor F. F. Long, all applications were referred to the Police Committee for examination and report at the next regular meeting of the Council.

Favor One Constable.

Opinions differed in regard to the police situation in Campbellford, there being some members of the board who were of the opinion that one officer would be sufficient to look after the town. This question was not settled, no division being taken, but coming near to a course of action that has been considered by local citizens for some time, the Council instructed the clerk to make application to the Provincial authorities to have a Provincial constable stationed in Campbellford. This action was, on motion of Councillors John O'Sullivan and E. C. McKeel.

Thos. Peake addressed the Council requesting that a water main and sewer be laid to his house on Kent Street. This would require 190 feet of piping. This matter was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee, to report back on.

A by-law governing the production and sale of milk and cream for domestic consumption in the town of Campbellford, was presented by Councillor J. R. Battisby and referred to the Provincial Minister of Agriculture for approval. This calls for a fee of $2 for all vendors, the inspection of herds and the keeping of all cows, stables and utensils in a sanitary condition besides the proper handling of all milk and cream. A penalty of wrom $1.00 to $50.00 for each offence against the by-law is attached.

Endorse Resolution.

The Council also went on motion as endorsing a resolution from the Percy Council requesting that all recipients of the old-age pension, when admitted to hospital as patients, should have their pensions diverted to the institution to cover the cost of their keep for as long as they remain in the institution, and that this resolution be forwarded to the Old-Age Pension Commission. Deputy-Reeve MacColl spoke in favor of this action and sponsored the motion, supported by Reeve C. H. Davidson.

The town treasurer, F. W. Wood addressed the Council relative to properties, to be sold by the town for arrears of taxes, and it was decided that a special meeting of the Council be called for Tuesday, August 15, to consider the list.

Councillor O'Sullivan reported regarding the Rathbun store house to the effect that it be left standing as it is until such time as it is sold. The clerk was also instructed on motion to write two parties notifying them that nothing can be removed from the building until the taxes are paid.

The matter of young lads of the town damaging a sign at the English Church hall was referred to the Police Committee for action. Throwing stones at a large checker-board sign had not only damaged it, but was becoming a nuisance to the residents of the locality.

Deputy Reeve MacColl reported regarding the salary owing the late tax collector, J. D. Cumming, to be paid to the Cumming Estate, stating that the sum of $176.67 was due, the same being added to the pay sheet.

The council also went on motion as being in favor of assisting the bondholders of the Weston Shoe Company, to finance the advertising of the plant which has now come into their hand, for sale. They will subscribe one-sixth of the cost, with a $25 limit set.

Councillor Long brought up the matter of painting the markings on the town streets, at the no-parking signs and safety zones, and this matter was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee for action.

Mayor Carr, Reeve Davidson and Deputy Reeve MacColl were appointed a committee from the council, to merge with a committee from the town, to wait on the Hon. J. R. Cooke, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, in Toronto to-day (Wednesday) in an endeavor to secure a contract from the Commission to buy power from the town of Campbellford.

CITY COUNCIL PASSES NEW CAR

of a Pontiac car. He stated it would cost extra to paint it red.

Alderman Cotton suggested that it was not necessary to have the car red, but the rest of the Council declared definitely that the new car must be red.

Alderman Tuggey then voiced his opposition to any movement to purchase a new car for the chief. He stated that a committee had been appointed to find how much it would cost to rent a car for the chief during the fire chief's convention here and that that committee had never reported. He charged that the Council had no right to expend money for the purchase of a new car when such a purchase was not included in the estimates of the Fire, Water and Light committee. "I don't think it is fair," he stated. "If there is any money in that committee not required for the fire department it should be returned to the people."

Alderman McIntyre said that he had opposed the purchase of a new car previously, but he said the proposition had been put up that sufficient savings would be made in the operation of the fire department to practically fully pay for the new car. "I think that is good business," he explained. "We will have to buy a chief's car next year. I have been informed by reliable mechanics that the present car is not fit to be on the road and I think it is good business to get a new one under the proposition offered."

Alderman Cotton stated that the Council had been informed that it would cost $140 to make necessary repairs at once to the present car. Mayor Denne said he was opposed to such large expenditures for repairs to cars and trucks.

Alderman McNabb pointed out that the saving in the fire department's estimates were as follows: $208 on insurance on the apparatus, $72 on caps and shirts, $61.50 on clothing, $100 on the fire alarm system, making a total saving of $425. He assured Alderman Macdonald that these savings did not impair the efficiency of the department in a single respect.

Alderman Macdonald said that while he had consistently opposed the purchase of a car for the fire chief, his view had changed on information that the present car was in such bad mechanical condition and would require so much to repair.

Discussion followed, all the aldermen except Alderman Tuggey voicing the opinion that the purchase of a new car was necessary and was good business at this time. However, the recommendation of the committee to purchase a Pontiac was thrown out. It seemed that the Council was prepared to pass the purchase of a Ford V-8, when Alderman McNabb declared, "I don't want an 8-cylinder car. Give the department a four-cylinder car and we'll be satisfied and happy."

It was decided to purchase the new four-cylinder and that it be painted red.

Elgin Garden Party Is Successful Event

HASTINGS, Aug. 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — The annual garden party of Elgin Sunday School was held on Friday evening, August 4th, at the beautiful farm residepce of Mr. and Mrs Willis Preston, Asphodel, a few miles out from the village.

A moonlight night and fair weather, the evening was all that could be desired, permitting the annual event to be carried out successfully, the hundreds attending including many from outside points.

The supper tables, set on the spacious lawn decorated with flags and plants, looked lovely with snowy white linen and well laden with appetizing dishes of all descriptions. A nearby booth provided further refreshments and did a thriving business.

During the supper hours an exciting ball game was played between the Elgin boys and Cobourg Road boys. The game resulted in a score of 12-8 in favor of the Cobourg Road. The line-ups were:

Cobourg Road — V. Oliver, A Beamish, M. Fitpatrick, Ed. Fitzpatrick, Gordon Gibson, R. McGuire, R. Williamson, J. Gibson and K. Cochrane.

The large verandah proved an excellent stage for the lengthy program. H. Thistlewaite making a capable chairman and making a few remarks as an opening item which was followed by instrumentals from the O'Grady Orchestra.

Little Miss Ruby Preston in clear voice sang sweetly "If I only had a Home Sweet Home," with Miss Edna Richardson at the piano.

Miss Hazel and Ruth Kerr rendered a duet "Just a song at Twilight."

Hearty applause was accorded Master Walter Buck when he sang a comic song "Yoddle your troubles away" followed by his encore "When Dad was a Little Boy."

Westwood quartet with Mr D. Cameron, Mrs E Sargent, Mrs Charles Breckenridge and Mr P Warr were most generous with many songs "We'll ever we'll ever agree" being the most popular.

A duet "When It's Lamp Lighting Time in the Valley" by Misses Alice Elmhirst and Florence Scott was accompanied by Miss Lena Dickson, so also was the encore "In the Valley of the Moon."

A reading by Miss Burgess was followed by a musical trio from Hastings Miss McCauley on the piano, Mr Clifford Scriver guitar and Mr. James Montgomery on the banjo.

"She's the Lass for me" was sung by Philip Kingsley. Rev H J Bell, pastor of Trinity United Church Hastings gave a very helpful address.

A very pleasing duet "Moonlight and Roses Bring Memories of You" by Mrs. Gordon Faux and Mrs. Alex Fleming was followed by a most humorous reading "A Trip to New York" by Miss Laura Metcalfe with a short encore.

"Grumblers" was so greatly applauded when given by Messrs. Learle and Hamilton Humphries that it resulted in another comic encore.

Edgar Clark on behalf of the Sunday School and community moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Preston for their kind hospitality and to all who assisted in making the affair such a success. J. Stinson seconded the motion.

Boatload Narrowly Escapes Drowning

OMEMEE, Aug. 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—A boatload of Omemee young people narrowly escaped a wetting in Pigeon River early Monday morning as they were returning from Bobcaygeon. In the rough sea which was running at the time they had the misfortune to strike a rock off Grenadier Island. Fortunately they were able to make shore with their water-logged craft where they attracted the attention of some tourists on the mainland, who came and took them off the island. The party had to proceed to Omemee by car, leaving the motor boat beached on Grenadier Island.

FEAR TRANSIENT HAS DIPHTHERIA

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL..

Strongly suspicious that a transient, William Pratt, 20, no address, who spent Monday night in the police cells may have diphtheria, caused Dr. T. W. H. Young, city M.O.H., to send the youth to the Isolation Hospital and order the cells thoroughly fumigated.

Pratt was picked up by police on Monday evening as he lay in the bushes at Riverside Park. He complained then that he was ill. Yesterday morning, when it came time to clear out the cells, Pratt said that he was too sick to get up, and complained of a very sore throat. Dr. Young was called and after an examination the youth was conveyed to hospital by ambulance.

Dr Young said to-day that he had taken several swabs of the young man's throat and sent them to Toronto to be diagnosed. While he could not say definitely whether or not the patient had diphtheria until results of the swabs were received, he said: "The condition of his throat is very suspicious."

Yesterday afternoon the police cells were sealed up tightly and were fumigated to kill possible germs.

FIRE IN SAWDUST PILE

A new outbreak of fire in the sawdust piles at Purdy's Mill near the Lock's Bridge gave the city firemen two hours' work last night. As there was no approach for their own pumper, a portable gasoline fire pumper was borrowed from Johnston Motor Company to put out the blaze. The call was received at 9.10 o'clock, but it was not until after 11 o'clock that the stubborn blaze was conquered.

CHAS. WILLISON PARK CARETAKER RESCUES SIX

Two Possible Fatalities Were Averted at Inverlea on Tuesday.

BOYS WERE EXHAUSTED.

Charles Willison, park caretaker at Inverlea Bathing Beach, has six rescues from drowning to his credit for this season.

His presence of mind and prompt action was the means of averting two possible drowning fatalities yesterday afternoon. In the second of the two rescues, he was assisted by Vernon Janeway, Harold Mesley and Jack Hunter.

It was learned by The Examiner that Morris Hines of Elm street while out swimming in about eighteen feet of water, found himself in difficulties. His cries of distress attracted Mr. Willison, who at once launched the punt and rushed to the rescue. When he reached Hines, the youth was on the point of exhaustion, and was in a very weak condition when brought safely to shore. He was later removed to his home in an automobile.

The excitement of the first rescue had barely subsided, when another cry of distress arose farther down the river on the section known as the Goose Pond.

Sensing the serious consequences that might attend a moment's delay, Mr. Willison put his whistle to his lips and blew for assistance, even as he pushed his punt into the water and started off downstream. Vernon Janeway and Jack Hunter plunged from Smith Street bridge, while Harold Mesley plunged into the river from the east bank below the bridge.

With the help of the swimmers, Mr. Willison succeeded in rescuing the boy, whose name is believed to be Brady. He was being supported by his two young companions, but all three lads were about played out when taken from the water.

NAVAL RESERVE YOUTHS MISSING

FOUR IN PARTY.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—(C.P.)—Airplanes and boats joined yesterday in a search over the southern end of Lake Winnipeg following discovery of an overturned whaleboat in which four members of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve had set out for a trip.

It was feared all four were drowned. The missing were: John Wilfred Burch, William Burt, Frank Collingwood and Francis Gould, all of Winnipeg.

They set out from Grand Beach late Sunday night, despite the fact a strong wind had churned up high waves on the lake. Early yesterday came word the boat had been found empty and floating at the mercy of the waves. Its sails were still set but indications were efforts had been made to take them in.

Asphalt And Gravel Used To Lay Road

Experimenting with a new method of laying a permanent road, said to have been tried out successfully on ten miles of road in Brant County, the Peterborough Suburban Roads Commission has decided to give the new method a trial on six-tenths of a mile of road, lying on Park street between the Owaltine plant and the Otonabee River. A. E. Chalmers, county road superintendent, said that a mixture of asphalt and gravel will be used. He expressed optimism that the road will stand up well, cutting down maintenance and dust laying costs. He estimated the experiment over the stretch of road will mean an expenditure of $1,300.

FLOWER SHOW ON THURSDAY

EDUCATIONAL SHOWS.

Day by day in the daily press, and the district gossip the theme of all news and conversation has been "the drought"; "Will it rain?"; Potato crop fails"; Feed for cattle all scorched up," etc., etc.

Yet through all the difficulties of keeping growing things going ahead because of the intesive heat of this summer of 1933 and the scarcity of rain throughout the district, the gardeners, those pesky individuals who believe the "hoe is better than the hose," are about to let the public see what can be done by staging a show of flowers and vegetables under the trying circumstances, giving some idea of the plants, flowers and vegetables best adapted to withstand extensive drought and intensive heat.

This display will be under the auspices of the No. 4 District, Ontario Horticultural Association, and will be opened to the public by His Worship the Mayor of Peterborough, Roland Denne, Esq., at 1.30 p.m. D.S.T., on Thursday, August 10th, in the Legion Hall, Peterborough. T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., will be in attendance to make a naddress in the evening.

The district show is being held here this year at the express invitation of, and the arrangements are being carried out by The Peterborough Horticultural Society, under the presidency of A. J. Madill, Esq., the chairman of the show committee being Frank Biddle, Esq., assisted by the Society's secretary, G. P. Benton, Esq.

The aim of such displays as this, is to enable individuals to derive benefits from studying the cultural efforts of fellow gardeners, to gain knowledge of the necessary points to measure up for quality, to acquire skill in the staging of exhibits, to develop an artistic sense by entering the classes for decorative displays, thereby cultivating an eye for design in floral work, to foster that spirit of camaraderie for persons linked together by the common interest in gardening; also to enable the public to see what is being done by the gardeners and so educate them into calling for better quality when they buy plants and flowers; further they also provide opportunity for the professional seedsmen and florist to see the new varieties and show their own wares.

In short, these flower shows are indeed educational from many points of view and are not to be written down, as is so often done, as merely the means to win prizes.

A good set of exhibits is expected, many district societies competing; we therefore urge the public to give their attention and pay the show a visit. Ten cents per person is the charge for admission.

Well-known local specialists on flowers, will be in attendance prepared to give advice on horticultural difficulties, also to explain the various classes of exhibits. The secretary will also be glad to answer enquiries about membership of the societies and their privileges.

FIRE DESTROYS MORRISON BARN

LINDSAY DISTRICT NEWS

LINDSAY, August 9 (Examiner Correspondence). — The barn on the farm of Neil Morrison, of Eldon, was destroyed by fire on Monday. Mr. Morrison had just taken his threshing outfit out of the barn, and it is thought that a spark from the engine started the blaze. Nothing could be done to save the building. The stock was rescued, but a quantity of hay and some implements were also destroyed.

On Tuesday evening at the session of the Town Council honor was paid the late Frank Wellington, who lost his life trying to save young George McNally from drowning in the Scugog River last spring, and Jack Walton, who saved the McNally youth, and then tried in vain to rescue Wellington. Medals were presented by Mayor Armstrong to Walton and to Frank Wellington's mother.

A fine residence on the farm of A. E. Tiers, of Fenelon Falls, situated on his farm in North Verulam, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning. The house was occupied by Ernest Telford. The fire started from a chimney spark. Most of the contents were saved. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The death occurred on Monday of a highly esteemed resident of the town in the person of Mrs. Mary E. Brimmell, wife of Harry Brimmell, local merchant. She was born in Parkhill, Ont., and has been a resident of Lindsay for thirty-eight years. She is survived by her husband and one son.

A left rear tire blowing out on a large touring car, driven by E. C. Tripp of Toronto, and occupied by his wife and George Neelands, also of Toronto, caused the car to crash into the ditch and turn over three times near Saintfield, on the Whitby-Lindsay Highway on Monday. Mr. Tripp had a bone broken in his right foot and received bad body bruises. The other occupants of the car received lacerations about the head and face and body bruises. The car was completely wrecked.

HOLLYWOOD

Sense and Nonsense

In a new picture, "Broadway and Back," Barbara Stanwyck will top all the other stars who have portrayed roles requiring them to advance from youth to the declining years.

Barbara Stanwyck

She will appear first as a young girl, next as the mother of Ann Dvorak and finally as the grandmother of Patricia Ellis.

To accomplish this evolution, the Warner Brothers make-up experts will have to achieve even greater miracles than won acclaim when Irene Dunne grew old in "Cimmaron," when Norma Shearer lived through the years in "Strange Interlude" and when Mary Pickford became a gentle old lady in "Secrets."

Barbara's three generations story is told against the background of the theatre. In it, the heroine, disappointed in her own career, tries to guide her daughter to footlight success. But the daughter rebels against becoming an actress. It isnt until the third generation that the aging heroine sees her ambitions satisfied.

"The Kiss Before the Mirror," the second feature starring Nancy Carrol, Paul Lukas and Frank Morgan has more drama, human interest and art packed in its reels than any film received in recent months.

Obituary

ROBERT MULLIGAN

Robert Mulligan, 262 Sherbrooke street, died at his home this morning following a short illness. He was 70 years old.

Mr. Mulligan was well known in the city, having resided here 56 years. He was an active member of the City Relief Board and had been recording secretary of the Court Little John C.O.F. for many years. For the past 24 years he was secretary of Knox United Church. He was employed as foreman of the moulding shop of the Peter Hamilton Company.

Born in Scotland, Mr. Mulligan was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mulligan. His wife and three brothers, James and Samuel of Toronto and Thomas of Preston, survive him.

The remains will rest at his home until one o'clock on Friday. The funeral will follow at 2 o'clock from Knox United Church, with the Rev. Wm. McDonald officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

"Gossip and Such"

JUST WHEN Mr. Carl Hubbell of the New York Giants is receiving all the plaudits, which is his due, as the THE pitcher of the 1933 season, along comes a garrulous youth in a baseball monkey suit decorated with two little birds playing teeter-totter with a bat, and shoves himself right into the limelight.

Close inspection quickly identifies—by ear as well as eye—this youth as Jerome Herman Dean, nationally famed as Dizzy.

Just as Hubbell was setting a new National League record for consecutive scoreless innings, Dizzy up and fans 17 members of the Chicago Cubs. The Cubs, mind you, who are current National League champions because of their prowess at bat last year.

Dizzy's remarkable efforts tied a record set as far back as 1887. In other words, his was the best strikeout performance the senior circuit has seen in 46 years.

Move over, Mr. Hubbell.

• • •

ALREADY THE boys are hailing Dizzy as another Christy Mathewson and a second Walter Johnson. No matter how great Dean becomes that cannot be 100 per cent. true. Mathewson and Johnson were quiet, unobtrusive chaps whose light gleamed brightly, but gleamed nevertheless under the proverbial bushel. They were that type.

But not Dizzy.

He became a St. Louis Cardinal regular on April 12, last year, and since that date Dean has been telling everyone just how good he is. Few believed him. But who looks foolish now? Not Mr. Dean, at any rate.

Dean laughed with scorn when he first beheld the battling efforts of such National League heroes as Chuck Klein, Bill Terry, Lefty O'Doul, Babe Herman, et al.

It would be interesting — in light of recent events—to learn what is his opinion of National League heroes now.

• • •

Only 22, he has been in baseball but three seasons and this is his second year in the majors. Big—six feet three and three-fourth inches tall, brawny—189 pounds, Dizzy seems to have everything, including that choice gift of the gods, pitching brains.

Last year, in his first full season with the Cards, Dizzy led the old circuit in strikeouts, fashioning 191 of these important events. He also hurled the most innings, 286 stanzas, which would indicate that he is a horse for work.

This year Dizzy has appeared in 33 games and probably will have seen service in 50 and exceed his 1932 inning record before the season concludes.

Yes, sir, this Dizzy is worth watching. He says so himself —and we believe him!

Big Six Averages

(By the Canadian Press.)

Ike Boone, Toronto's hard-hitting outfielder, regained leadership of the International League Big Six yesterday when he slammed out two hits, including his ninth homer, in four times up, while Julius Solters went hitless. Boone now has a five-point margin over his Baltimore rival. The batting leaders:

BAILEY HOLDS PRINDIBLE NINE TO EIGHT HITS

Fosters Must Win Against C.G.E. To-night for Assured Place in Playoffs.

PITCHERS HIT HARD

E.P.L. Standing To Date.

Teams	W.	L.	T.P.
C.G.E.	7	4	1
Fosters	6	5	1
Cogs	6	6	0
Crescents	4	8	0

A seventh-inning rally, in which they scored four runs, gave Fosters a 7-3 E.P.L. win over Crescents before a small crowd at the Exhibition Grounds last night. It practically assured Fosters of a playoff berth, though they must win to-night's game against C.G.E. or they will be deadlocked in second place with Cogs, and will have to play another game to settle that position.

Joe Bailey hurled good ball for the winners last night in a tidy tussle, holding Crescents to eight hits, mostly scattered, as he struck out eight. Jack Crary, on the other mound, left in the fourth when Fosters began hitting him and was replaced by Westbrooke, the latter being clouted hard. Their support was only fair.

Lead Crescents at Bat.

Nicholls, with two in four, led Crescents at bat, while Weir had a triple and Delahaye a double. Maudsley topped the Foster hitters with three in five, Gilmour, B. Bailey and McIlwaine getting two apiece. Cadd hit a triple and B. Bailey and Gilmour doubles. Jones, Nicholls, McIlwaine and Williamson all went good in the outfield.

Delahaye doubled in the second, went to third on a wild pitch and tallied on Nicholls' single. Hits by Young and Hartley and a steal gave them another in the sixth; and Crescents got their last in the eighth, Weir tripling to right and running home on an out.

Fosters got two in the fourth on an error, steal, single by Williamson and Bert Bailey's double. They broke through for four in the seventh on two misplays, a sacrifice, singles by Maudsley and Gilmour, and a hard triple to right by Cadd. The last run was counted in the eighth canto when Maudsley clouted one to right for his third hit in a row, pilfered second and third and jaunted home on Gilmour's two-base drive to centre. Two of the three last Crescent batters in the ninth went out on strikes.

Looking over the reinforcing of the outside layer and adjustments in the hull of Miss America X at Detroit, are Gar Wood, famed speedboat builder and racer, and his mechanic, Orlin Johnson. The improvements are expected to increase the speed of the craft by several miles per hour. It already holds the record.

JOE CRONIN'S CREW REGAINS TWO GAME LEAD OVER YANKEES

Earl Whitehill Silences New York Guns While Senators Hit Johnny Allen for Seven Safeties and 5-1 Victory.

(By Orlo Robertson, A. P. Sports Writer)

Just when it appeared New York Yankees in general and Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig in particular had swung back into their devastating ways, along came Earl Whitehill, leader of Joe Cronin's mound staff at Washington. As the result, the Senators today held a two-game advantage over the champions with one game to be played in the current warfare at the stadium.

The Yankees yesterday were meek as a lamb before the southpaw shoots of Whitehill as the Senators won 5-1. With Whtiehill silencing the Yankees' heavy guns, the Senators opened up a short but effective bombardment off Johnny Allen. The league leaders connected with only seven hits but two of the blows were home runs by Buddy Myer and Heinie Manush and three of them were successive singles by Goose Goslin, Manush and Manager Joe.

The Washington-New York fray again overshadowed the remainder of the major league's abbreviated program that included the Athletics 7-6 decision over the Red Sox in the American League and the Dodgers 1-0 victory in 11 innings over the Giants and the Cubs 4-2 triumph over the Cardinals and Dizzy Dean in the senior circuit.

Wins For Athletics

Robert Moses Grove, appearing for the first time since breaking the Yankees shutout streak, won his 17th game of the season as compared to six defeats as the A's turned back the Red Sox but he needed the help of three home runs, one of them Jimmie Foxx's 32nd circuit clout of the season. Foxx's blow and homers by Mickey Cochran and Roger Cramer accounted for five of the Mackmen's runs.

Dodgers Win in 11th

The Dodgers and Giants put on another of their epic struggles, featuring a pitching duel between Ray Benge and Hal Schumacher, before Brooklyn emerged with the winning run in the 11th. It was an error by Johnny Vergez, just when the Giants appeared on their way out of a hole, that let pinch runner Danny Taylor cross the plate. Taylor was caught flat-footed off third by Catcher Gus Mancuso's throw, but Vergez juggled the ball and then hit Taylor in the back as the Brooklyn player dashed for home.

The Cubs, who last week helped Dan establish a new strike out record, avenged themselves by defeating the Cards in the opening game of the series. The Cubs, paced by Kiki Cuyler and Gabby Hartnett, collected eight hits, however, one more than the Cards were able to get off Charlie Root.

AMATEUR REGULATIONS WILL BE AMENDED SOON

FORT WILLIAM, Aug. 9 (C.P.)—Greater elasticity of rules may be developed by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. Officials of that body and other Dominion-wide sports organizations met here over the week-end in connection with the Canadian championship track and field meet.

It is understood there is a possibility rules may be relaxed to permit pros and amateurs to play together, but it is likely this will be left to the affiliated bodies governing the different sports.

The week-end meetings, in which officials of the A.A.U. of C., the Canadian Olympic Committe and the British Empire Games Association conferred, served to clear the ground for the annual conclaves of these organizations in November at Winnipeg.

Organization matters pertaining to the Olympic Committee and the Empire Games Association suggested changes in the Amateur Code and proposed amendments to the constitution of the A.A.A.U. of C., were discussed.

KEENE TAKES DECISIVE WIN FROM LEAF NINE

Rurals Hammer Out 27 Hits, Including Homers, Triples and Doubles.

FOR 27-16 VICTORY.

Keene's colorful clouters gave the fans a real sample of their ability last night at the Bowl when they took the field against the Maple Leafs to replay a protested game, and hammered out twenty-seven ringing hits, which included three homers, two triples and three doubles to win a decisive victory by the count of 27 to 16.

The visitors performed in tip-top style, playing great ball in every position, and showing plenty of speed and head-work on the bases. They hit both of the opposing pitchers freely and gave plenty of evidence that they intend to carry off the silverware in their series with the Westclox for the third consecutive time.

Mary McCarthy pitching for Keene, was not as effective as usual, and came out of several dangerous situations only through splendid fielding of her teammates who seemed at their best with runners on. Helen Nelson at short was easily the fielding star of the game, with Lois McCarthy at third also playing smart ball. Verna Dixon, Dot Gainor and Irene Short all connected for home runs, while the pitcher was next with a triple and a double.

Easy To Hit.

Genevieve Mann started for the losers and although she pitched steady ball, the Rurals found her easy to hit and pasted the horsehide for nineteen hits. Elsie Gates followed her in the seventh and was nicked for eight hits in the two frames. Dorothy Byers and Hazel Mann were the hitting and fielding stars for the Leafs with E. Austin behind the plate and Betty Goldie at first also turning in nice cards.

The teams

Keene: D. Gainor, c; M. Brown, 2b; G. McCarthy, cf; H. Nelson, ss; M. McCarthy, p; I. Short, 1b; R. Gainor, rf; L. McCarthy, 3b; V. Dixon, lf.

HOWLEY CLAN IS OUTBATTED SLUGGING BEE

Royals Edge Out 6-5 Victory Over Orioles in Night Game.

WINGS STOP BEARS.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer)

Newark Bears and Rochester Red Wings, who have a more or less "crucial" series every time they meet in the current International League campaign, are at it again. But so far the minors are even for the series and the Red Birds haven't seriously threatened Newark's big lead.

The second place Red Wings won a slam-bang battle by an 8-6 count yesterday and still were eight games behind the pace setters. It did serve, however, to make their hold on second place somewhat more secure as Montreal Royals edged out Baltimore 6-5 in a night game.

Homer Settles Issue

Montreal's victory was due largely to a home run. Manager Oscar Roettger hit it with one on in the fourth to send the Royals into a lead which the Orioles couldn't quite cut down although they managed to knock Roy Phelps out with an 11-hit attack.

Buffalo Bisons took the same route to a 4-3 victory over Albany Senators and stuck right to Montreal's heels in the pennant chase. Ollis Tucker accounted for all four Bison runs with his 22nd and 23rd circuit drives of the season.

11-7 Win Over Leafs

Jersey City Skeeters continued their revival to the extent of going in for some serious slugging as well as good pitching. Young St Siapen couldn't hold Toronto Maple Leafs but Joe Bloomer and Eddie Pipgras did a fair job of it and the tail enders hammered out an 11-7 victory over Toronto.

FINAL SCHEDULE FIXTURE TO-NIGHT

Fosters and C. G. E. Tangle This Evening at Exhibition Grounds.

The final game of the East Peterborough Baseball League schedule will be played this evening at 6.15 between Fosters and C.G.E. at the Exhibition Grounds. Fosters must win it to be assured of second place in the loop standing and a playoff berth. If they should lose tonight, they will be tied with Cogs for second and another game will be necessary to settle the issue. If C.G.E. loses this evening, Fosters will finish the schedule in a first-place tie with them.

Jeff Hardill or Lefty McIlwaine will pitch for Fosters, with Jack Barry or Lefty Dunkerley doing the Electrics' hurling. Both outfits will be at full strength, and as these two teams are the likely playoff opponents next week, a fine ball game is assured. It will give fans a good idea as to whch team to lay their money on in the championship series.

This game tonight, first announced as for Friday, is a replay of a 3-3 deadlock a week and a half ago between these outfits. It is Fosters' home game and will see this crew battling furiously to grab the decision and cinch the playoff position. But they will have a fight and fans will recall that C.G.E. beat them handily the last time they met.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX MORRISON says.

The strength a player feels on the practice ground very often fools him when it comes time to play on the course. This was born out by Gene Sarazen's performance at Chicago during the national open.

I talked to Gene as he was practicing about the weight and size of his wood clubs.

I told him that I thought them to be too heavy for regular use.

Gene said they felt light to him at the time. No doubt they did, but they must have felt quite heavy to him on the course, judging from the difficulty he had in controlling them.

The tension that accompanies even a friendly game cuts down your strength.

Govern your play accordingly!

Next: Closing Clubface.

PTE. VAMPLEW LEADS FIELD IN BANKERS'

Toronto Regiment Marksman Posts a Perfect 70 to Take Silver Cup.

TIE IN CORNWALL MATCH.

LONG BRANCH, Ont., Aug. 9 (C.P.) — Intensive shooting got under way to-day as the Ontario Rifle Association's 59th annual meeting neared the climax.

Hundreds of marksmen here from all parts of the Dominion and the team of English Public School Cadets started shooting in the Lt.-Governor's, the "King's Prize" of the Ontario meeting, which incidentally is only eleven years younger than the Empire classic at Bisley.

Also on the day's card were the Gibson Memorial Match at 300 yards, and the City of Toronto at 500 and 600 yards, which will not be cleaned up until evening.

The conditions were changed for the Lieutenant-Governor's Match this year by addition of a second stage, calling for the highest 60 competitors in the first stage (the first stage is at 300 and 600 yards and only the first of these distances was being fired to-day), the 600 yards and the second stage being left for Thursday afternoon.

Leads Marksmen

Pte. T. Vamplew of the Toronto Regiment had a good start in the Aggregates by his fine shooting Tuesday, when he won both individual matches of the day, the Bankers' Match and the Duke of Cornwall and York. He posted a perfect 70, to take the silver cup in the Bankers', but in the Cornwall match three other men—Col. M. Millar of Toronto, Sgt. J. H. Regan of Victoria, and Sgt. J. Borland of Toronto equalled Vamplew's total of 69 out of 70 to gain the right to shoot off with him for the silver and bronze medallions. The placings for the cash prizes, however, were in that order, with Millar and Borland splitting second and third.

PETHERICK'S WINS BY SINGLE COUNTER

BURNBRAE, Aug. 9 (Examiner Correspondence) — As a test of strength between the Seymour and Rawdon Leagues, Saturday evening's game between Hoards and Pethericks proved that these teams at least are very evenly matched Both squads are finalists in their respective leagues and while neither were at full strength for this exhibition encounter only a couple of substitions were made. Pethericks led 12 to 9 at the fifth, when umpire Farrell decided play should be called, but the players wished to go on and in the gathering darkness Hoards ran in 8 counters to Pethericks 4 to finish ahead.

Former Big Leaguers Are Playing Bang-up Brand of Ball in Minors

By LES CONKLIN.
Special to The Examiner.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Scattered throughout the minor leagues are half a dozen ball players who have been mighty big frogs in little ponds, but were unable to stay in the swim in the big show. The outstanding specimen of the lot is Joe Hauser, the first baseman with the trick knee. Joe used to hit plenty of homers for Connie Mack in the days when the Athletes used to think they were going great guns if they won one game a week. He also played with Cleveland for a spell, but has spent most of his time in the minors.

Now with Minneapolis, Hauser is the sensation of the American Association and may get another try in the majors. He has hit more than 50 home runs, is on the verge of breaking the Association record of 55 and will probably shatter his own all-time mark of 63 four-baggers in a single season. He set that record while playing with Baltimore in the International League.

Baltimore misses Hauser, but they have a carbon copy of him in Buzz Arlett, the burly outfielder who used to knock the cover off the ball for the Phillies. Buzz has smacked about 30 homers for the Orioles and is well up in the list of the league's hitters.

The International circuit is a favorite stamping ground for old war horses from the majors. Ike Boone, formerly one of the hardest hitters in the big league, is still a terror with the willow. He enjoyed an extended hitting streak in June and July and was leading the league for a spell.

Boone is with Toronto. Also on the Maple Leaf roster and pitching good ball is Ervin Brame, the tall hurler who was with Pittsburg for many years.

PACKERS LOSE TO ELECTRICS IN GORDON CUP

C.G.E. 3, PACKERS 1.

The Canada Packers were eliminated from the G. N. Gordon soccer cup play last night, by the Canadian General by the score of three goals to one, before a good attendance of spectators. The losers had an off night and their rearranged eleven failed to function properly. The winners now meet either Lindsay or Caledonians in the final.

Offensive Tactics Keen

The C.G.E. won the toss and selected to play with the sun at their backs. Right from the kick off, the Packers were on the defensive through the lack of the full quorum. Time and again McMaster worked hard to get the opening counter but Foster and Hakin were punting and intercepting passes at the logical moment. After a continuous seige by the C.G.E., A. Downer broke away on the wing to let his brother George rap a terrific drive into goal. Bolton, Electric's goalie, had to jump up in below the cross-bar to save his charge. A barrage of shots rained upon the Packer's goalie through the efforts of Burgess, Quinn and Jones who was driving from twenty yard range. Then a beautiful combination play by McMaster and Quinn resulted in Green, goalie, making some spectacular one-handed saves at point blank distance. At this point, Mayette and Newt Downer strengthened the Packers and their presence was made known by the systematic attack laid down by the Packer's attack led by Westwood, who was on the alert to accept an opening to score but Blowers and Mitchell were well nigh impregnable. Bolton saving anything ranged at him.

Two Goals in 3 Minutes

The Packers kept up the pressure to be caught napping when Jones transferred the ball to the other end where Quinn evaded the defense cleverly on the run to gain a successful flag kick. His placed shot landed on the head of McMaster who picked the corner of the goal but Green saved to clear but not sufficient to prevent A. Mitchell selecting the other far corner. On the next visit by C.G.E., Hotston dribbled his way through to let Burgess tap the ball across to his centre man who did the rest.

Canadian General 2, Canada Packers 0.

From the kick off, on resuming, Jones slipped the ball up centre to his scoring ace who baffled the full backs when he shot the ball against the foot of an opponent that was diverted into the net. As time wore on, it was evident that the Packers couldn't function in combination also their individualism was overdone to their own detriment whenever in front of the goal. Their full backs also halves would feed the attack properly but the forwards seemed to lack cooperation when combination plays should have clicked to perfection. Instead, they replied with attacking tactics after the C.G.E. had a session in their territory. A complete re-arranged team added pep and vigor to the Packers line-up as A. Downer and Hakin went up on the attack. Just before the finish A. Downer saved his team from a white-washing by heading a smart goal into the net. Canadian General 3, Canada Packers 1.

Canada Packers—D. Green, goal; T. Foster and E. Hakin, full backs; J. Buchan, N. Downer and J. Dart, halves; J. Calbran, J. Mayette, T. Westwood, A. Downer and G. Downer, forwards.

C.G.E.—J. Bolton, goal; G. Blowers and J. Mitchell, full backs; S. Clark, E. Jones and W Bolam, halves; J. Quinn, A. Mitchell, B. McMaster, A. Burgess and H. Hotston, forwards.

Referee—W. Harrington.

SUGAR BOWL PRACTICE

All Sugar Bowl players are requested to attend a practice Thursday evening at six o'clock at the Oval. However, if Harrison's win to-night's game, then Sugar Bowl and Rye's will play an exhibition game at six tomorrow at Central.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse
Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Fosters and C.G.E. finish the E.P.L. schedule tonight at 6.15 down at the Exhibition Grounds. It's a replay of their 3-3 tie game, and Fosters need the win to be assured of a playoff position. If they lose they must then play a sudden-death game with Cogs to settle which team meets the Electrics in the playoffs next week—or maybe starting Friday. Both these teams have been playing good ball lately, and as they're the likely finalists, this evening's contest ought to be worth seeing. Hardill or McIlwaine will do Fosters' pitching with Barry and Dunkerley ready for the C.G.E. crew.

* * * * * * *

Fosters kept themselves very much in the running last p.m. by taking Crescents over the bumps, 7 to 3, a big seventh-inning doing the trick. Crescents can hang up their spikes for the year now, and maybe Cogs can after tonight. Joe Bailey hurled good ball and had pretty fair support in the victory. There was quite a bit of heavy slugging by both sides to give the fans—not too many of them, either—something to cheer about. Begley turned his ankle and Fosters may be minus the services of this classy second-sacker for a while.

* * * * * * *

The men's softball semi-finals continue tonight, Omemee and Harrisons tangling again at Central at six bells. The Grocers took the first tilt Saturday e'en and if they can repeat tonight, the O's will be hauling themselves back to the village with that 'left out of it" look. If Omemee wins this evening, a third game will be necessary Thursday night. The winner of this series tackles Sugar Bowl in the city finals. Can't say who the twirlers will be up there this game, but it should be quite a battle, boys and girls.

* * * * * * *

In the Dominion Soccer Cup final in Winnipeg last week, Hector McDonald scored the two goals for Toronto Scottish in a 2-all match, getting the equalizers twice in playoffs. He played here a long time ago for the Caledonians, the first year he arrived in Canada. His first season with a Toronto eleven, he won a Dominion trophy, Glebe Cup, Ontario Cup and other trophies to add to his large collection. Must have been some shucks at footer.

Red Hollingsworth, fiery-thatched Petes' shortstop, has been playing some good ball recently in the short field. He has been bothered most of the season with a charley-horse which slows him up, but at that he's covering quite a bit of territory to snare fly-balls or pick up grass-burners and throw over to first in time for the out. The fact that Red often has an error or two a game means nothing, the best shortstops in the Big League having as a rule far more errors than any other player on the team as they are supposed to, and do, go after every kind of a tough chance. Red's hitting is below par while his fielding has improved lately, his chief fault appearing to be a tendency to get off balance when the pitch is coming over. However, he is a valuable all-around player and will have a lot to do—as any shorstop has—with the locals' winning or losing the playoffs.

The Petes-Kingston play-off game tonight in the Limestone town will begin at 5.30, Daylight Saving Time, and a bulletin sent back shortly after the conclusion. Knotty Lee and his boys are very anxious to take this first contest and quite a bunch of local fans are motoring down in private cars. Not enough fans evinced interest in going down by bus to make one pay for itself. The biggest crowd of the year will be jamming Stevenson Park Saturday for the second game. It's three out of five, the Petes playing away Wednesdays. Winner goes on against the West Toronto loop champ. Babe Sheppard and Joe Oswin of Toronto are the umpires.

Here's a letter from the Keene management to the gals' softball president: "Dear Sir: I beg to request that the executive of the league will grant Keene the right to play the second game of the play-offs on home grounds. I feel this request should be granted in order to (1) Allow Keene fans in general the privilege of attending one game, and (2) Allow Keene the playing morale advantage of one home game. We would much prefer that Thursday and Tuesday evenings be used so that some of our players will not have to lay off work an undue amount and impose on the generosity of their employers. We suggest Thursday and Friday of one week and three dates the following week, or vice versa. We had an exhibition game booked three weeks for Aug. 16th. We trust this will not interfere with playing dates."

Lots doing at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club links this month. The big Ont. Golf Association open tournament will be staged there Aug. 26th and should mean a large entry list and plenty of interest. Then on Aug. 16th, a week from today, Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood, two big shots in the golfing world, are billed to play an exhibition match here. Gene was British Open and U. S. Open champion last year, licking the best of them, while Joe is rated one of the best tournament players in the game today.

BROUILLARD FAVORED

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (CP)—Lou Brouillard, 22-year-old native of St. Eugenes, Que. was a little better than an even money favorite to-day to win New York State recognition as world's middleweight champion from Ben Jeby, Eastside Jew, when the pair clash tonight in a 15-round joust at the Polo Grounds.

JOHNNY NASH IS QUALIFIER U.S. AMATEUR

London Golfer Scores 152 to Qualify for Michigan District.

GOODMAN-DOLP IN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (A.P.) — Three names stood out to-day among all the amateur golfers who expect to have a shot at bringing back to the United States the national crown which is now being worn by C. Ross (Sandy) Somerville of London, Ont.

Johnny Goodman of Omaha, the United States open title holder, Frank Dolp of Portland, Ore., former Walker Cup player, and Lawson Little, California star turned in the outstanding par-cracking feats in yesterday's sectional qualifying tests over 22 courses through the country. Dolp had a remarkable score of 68-70—138 at Tacoma to lead Albert "Scotty" Campbell, Canadian title-holder, for the two places available.

Goodman recorded 63-71—139 and Little, making his trial at Denver instead of in his home district, also had a 139 score for 36 holes.

Somerville qualified automatically. Two other Canadians qualified. John B. Nash, also of London, Ont., playing at Detroit, scored 152 to place as one of the five qualifiers from the Michigan district. Micol Thompson of Toronto carded rouds of 77-75 to place second among the five qualifiers from the Buffalo district.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

Over at Bowmanville on the holiday Peterborough was represented at their annual tournament by two rinks, skipped by H. Freeman and G. Gimblett. Freeman was eliminated in the semi-finals of the Consolation, but Gimblett's quartet coasted along till he reached the finals in the Goodyear Trophy competition. As luck would have it, he was drawn against our old friend, Hank Rosevear of Port Hope. The final game was played in a downpour of rain, but the boys from the lake town proved the better mud horses and won out by five shots. Hank is an honorary member of the Peterborough Club, so it looks like a Peterborough victory both ways. Our boys each received a beautiful silver-plated flower basket for a trouncing and a good soaking.

The Leads and Seconds games will be continued to-night and also on Thursday.

4TH ANNUAL OPEN TOURNAMENT WILL BE HELD ON AUGUST 16TH

Series Will Be Run Under Elimination System—Many Rinks City and District Are Entered in Three Competitions.

(By Herb Martin)

The fourth annual open tournament of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club will be on Wednesday, August 16th, commencing at 10 o'clock, D.S.T.

This is the event that all local bowlers and many from outside have been anxiously waiting and faithfully training for. Ever since the bowling season opened on May 24th the boys have been asking, "When is the big open tournament?" and now it is only about one week away.

That Peterborough is gradually becoming recognized as one of the leading centres of bowling in Ontario is without a doubt, and that is why this tournament is looked upon as the bowling classic of this district.

This year the committee has decided, and wisely so, to run this series on the good, old-fashioned elimination idea. Under this system it is a case of the survival of the fittest and in nine cases out of ten the best teams win. Luck does not enter into this system with the same high percentage as it does in the plus system. You have to go out and win the game yourself and not depend on what someone does to somebody else. There is no halfway mark in this—it is a case of winner take all.

Although the date is less than a week away many entries from outside have been received, besides many local rinks having signified their intentions of going after the silverware.

There will be three competitions with a silver cup going with each one. The first draw will be for the Stratton Trophy, donated years ago by the late Hon. J. R. Stratton, and has during its lifetime travelled to every club in this district. Then comes the C.D.S. Trophy, donated by the Canadian Department Stores of Peterborough, and then the third trophy is the one presented by Warne Bros. In each case there will be two sets of valuable prizes to go with cups.

The draw will be made at 10 o'clock a.m. D.S.T., and the fee has been set at $6.00 per rink. Lunch will be served in the Club House by lady members of the club. All those who are considering playing should send their tries to J. W. Mayneord, Secretary, 219 Simcoe street. Phone 1773W.

A cordial invitation is given to all sister sporting organizations who like sport for sport's sake, and to the general public to come and witness, especially at night, this outstanding bowling event for the season of 1933.

PETERBORO WINS IN CRICKET TEST

Takes 94-85 Decision From St. Edmunds in an Exhibition Match.

Peterborough journeyed to Toronto on Monday for their return game with the St. Edmund's Cricket Club. St. Edmund's batted first and the first wicket fell for 29 and when the second fell for 69 it looked as if they were in for a big score. Dyer was evidently bowling well at this juncture. He put on Hamilton, and between them they dismissed the balance of the eleven for a total of 85. Dyer had four wickets for 28 runs and Hamilton five for 14 runs. Mawhood made a fine catch at the wicket to dismiss Lister.

The outstanding batsmen of St. Edmund's were Lister, Wright and Mackenzie, who scored 19, 19 and 27 respectively.

Peterborough opened their innings with Langhorne and Smith. When he had scored only 4 runs, Langhorne was badly hit on the head and required several stitches. Hamilton 11, Dyer 28 and Montgomery 27 were the principal scorers for Peterborough.

DUTRA AND HINES QUALIFY FOR PLAY

Gene Sarazen Among Golfers to Qualify for U. S. Pro Honors.

(By Paul Mickelson, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 9.—Thirty-one survivors of the closest qualifying test in the tournament's 16 years of battling squared away with Olin Dutra in the grueling hand-to-hand struggle for the United States' professional golf championship to-day at Blue Mound.

Grouped in the surviving field, which assaulted par so furiously yesterday that a pair of 73's were necessary to escape elimination in the 36-hole qualifying test, were many of the golfing world's greatest shotmakers, among them Gene Sarazen and five other members of the United States' Ryder Cup squad.

Heading the bracket, deadlocked in the fight for the championship medal with par-breaking totals of 138, were Mortie Dutra of Detroit, older but less famous brother of the champion, and Jimmy Hines, 29 year old professional, with a magic niblick from the Timber Lake Club, Long Island, New York. They were matched against each other to-day in the first engagement of the 36-hole match play battle.

Several interesting clashes were in prospect to-day with Olin Dutra facing Reggie Myles of Ashland, O., and Sarazen matching shots against Vincent Eldred of Pittsburgh.

Browns' New Boss Talks Over Plans With Team

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, August 10

A splendid day for employment and currying favor with those in place and power is presaged from the ruling astral influences. It is a propitious time for reaching high for the fulfillment of cherished hopes and ambitions, but an element of contention, strife, impetuosity or rash judgment might prove a detrimental force to such happy fruition of well-laid plans and projects. Restraint and an alertness to spiteful or vicious tongues is admonished.

A child born on this day will be steady, industrious and ambitious and should find high favor with superiors, but may provoke enmity by rash and tempestuous words and deeds unless calmly self-controlled.

PENTECOSTAL ASSEMBLY MAY ERECT NEW CHURCH

While contemplated plans for the erection of a church are held in abeyance due to inability to locate a suitable site, the members of the Pentecostal Assembly are still hopeful that the work will proceed shortly.

The Rev. G. A. Chambers, pastor of the Pentecostal Assembly, who has just returned to the city after an absence of some weeks, told The Examiner "everything is held up at the present time." By that he explained that plans for a new church which had been contemplated for some time past had failed to materialize, "because we cannot find a suitable location."

"Yes," he remarked hopefully, "there is still a possibility that we might go ahead with the work this summer."

The congregation is growing so fast, it is learned, that the need of a church building has become imperative.

JOHNSTON FAMILY HOLDS REUNION FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 25 YEARS

CAME FROM IRELAND, 1842

United for the first time in twenty-five years, the family of Mrs. Grace Johnston, 19 Dennistoun avenue, gathered in reunion over the Civic Holiday week-end. Five sons and daughters and nine grandchildren were included in the number present.

Rev. W. A. Johnston, who has just returned from six years' service as a missionary at La Union, Colombia, South America, was the member of the family who came the greatest distance to the reunion. Others of the immediate family present were Mrs. M. R. Hilford, Ashville, North Carolina; Mrs. W. W. McMordie, Toronto; Mrs. Gordon Beamish, St. Catharines, and Mr. A. H. Johnston, Mimico.

A reunion picnic was held in Jackson's Park on Saturday and on Sunday the group attended Bethany Tabernacle in a body. On Monday another picnic was held at the camp of Mr. and Mrs. Beamish on Lake Catchawanooka.

Came From Ireland.

The Johnston family has been long in this district. The original settlers of the family came out from Drum in County Monaghan, Ireland, and settled in Millbrook in 1842. The great-grandfather of Mrs. Alice Johnston's family came to Peterborough and built one of the first solid brick and stone houses in the town in 1851. He was well known in his trade as a tailor. About that time George Johnston, one of the family, was chief constable of Peterborough.

Mr. A. J. Johnston, husband of Mrs. Grace Johnston, died two years ago.

District Churches

AT MILLBROOK

MILLBROOK, Aug. 8 (Examiner Correspondence).—"A grain of love in a human heart, if it be of God, will overcome and overmaster all life's difficulties." This axiom was enunciated by Rev. Dr. Mahood, of Peterborough, in beginning his sermon on "The Supremacy of Love," in St. Andrew's United Church on Sunday morning, when he supplied for the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, who is absent on vacation.

The inspiring discourse was based on the book of Ruth, with special emphasis on the words, "Entreat me not to leave thee," and following verses, with the suggestion, "This is a little book to soften the sublimity and grandeur of the Old Testament; it may be read in a few minutes, and has much in it that is true to the real qualities of human nature."

"After all, to be human is to be great; and this book, which tones down much of the afarness of the Old Testament, is great because it tells of the forerunner of Christ, the greater David, and brings assurance of the redemption and the reconciliation of mankind with the Father."

Outlining the story of Ruth, the speaker urged the truth that "times of stress are worth more to humanity than any times of prosperity have ever been; both history and the Bible reveal that there have been periods when mankind has lost its footing on the things that are essential, and nations and individuals alike have gone down because the heart has been set just on things. The church has been regarded as a luxury and not as a necessity, and permanent prosperity will never be with us so long as the people are considering first their own pleasure rather than the things that please God."

The need of self-denial being taught to the younger generation to-day was strongly urged, with the reminder, "God will have something to say if the people forget Him," other lessons from the book being that Ruth was blessed in becoming an ancestress of our Lord because she never turned back; also that, from personal knowledge, Dr. Mahood could assert that inter-racial marriage brings about a stronger and more capable people than where this blood-blending has not taken place. "This is more noticeable in the United States, where I lived for thirty-five years, and not so much in the British Empire. It is climate that has made all the difference of color, became permanent through the centuries; God didn't do that."

Clinging to the things for which the church stands was urged in closing, with the reminder, "This quality of standing firm to the highest is not found by spending Sunday at the lakes and resorts; you cannot do that and grow into a rich Christian experience."

A quartette, "Just Beyond," by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. M. McDowell, fittingly preceded the sermon. Evening worship is withdrawn in St. Andrew's for the two Sundays the pastor is on his holidays.

No more WORRYING

YOU don't have to wonder whether children will eat Kellogg's Rice Krispies. As soon as they hear those toasted rice bubbles crackle in milk or cream they always "pitch in" and eat.

So nourishing and easy to digest. Fine for the evening meal. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

ONTARIO GRAIN.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 9.—A dull day was experienced on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market yesterday, with butter, potatoes and eggs holding unchanged, and cheese easing slightly, No. 1 butter in carlots or less held at 19¾ cents a pound, with an occasional quotation of 19½ cents. A total of only 227 boxes was offered for sale.

There was no change in the egg market, quotations being 18 to 18½ cents a doen for extras, 15 cents for firsts, and 12½ cents for seconds for graded shipments in carlots or less. Dealers continue to expect some improvement and a firmer price trend some time next week, but the demand has not yet quickened perceptibly. Arrivals totalled 1,170 cases.

On the cheese market, dealers quoted 10 cents a pound for Ontario white and colored, and 9½ cents for Quebec white and colored. Receipts were 6,017 boxes.

The potato market remained at $1 per 80 pound bag for new Quebec, and $1.30 to $1.35 for new Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains in similar quantities. Sales in new New Brunswick potatoes, which were introduced last week, were too light to set any prices.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 9. — A small volume of hedging sales provided sufficient pressure to crumble wheat values in yesterday's listless session of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. At the close prices had slipped to levels 3¼c to 2¾c under Saturday's final quotations.

No support was forthcoming to check the downward movement and closing prices were at the low points with October at 80¾c December at 82¼c, and May at 86¾c.

Cables from Liverpool offered no encouragement and there was no confirmation of export sales. Trading was light in volume throughout the session, and there was nothing noteworthy in any of the operations.

Liverpool reported a very restricted demand, with Russia, the Balkans, France and Germany all offering wheat. At the close of the Liverpool market quotations were 1¼d lower.

Demand for various cash grains was dormant. Trading in all coarse grains commodities was dull and featureless, and prices were lower in sympathy with wheat.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.— Fluctuating nervously, wheat prices here made a last minute quick recovery yesterday from skidding that accompanied New York Cotton Market weakness, and Winnipeg wheat quotations unsettlement.

The sudden rally of wheat values at the last indicated to pit observers that the market was in an oversold condition. Earlier, wheat at times showed decided strength parallel with reports that President Roosevelt and various economic advisers were to discuss the commodity dollar, and that a major development in administration currency plans appeared probable.

Wheat closed irregular, ¼c off to ⅝c up, compared with yesterday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅞c down, oats at ¼c decline to ⅝c advance, and provisions showing 7 to 20 cents setback.

Miss Agnes MacPhail Addresses Peterborough U.F.O. Picnic.

C.C.F. Manifesto Finest Political Document in Canada Speaker Says.

SOUTH DUMMER, Aug. 10.—(By Staff Reporter).—"Security of tenure for the farmer on his own farm will be one of the first considerations of the C.C.F. in putting its agricultural policy into effect," Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P. for Grey South East, promised during the course of a lengthy address before a gathering of about fifteen hundred farmers here last evening.

Miss MacPhail, only woman member of Parliament in Canada and president of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation of Ontario, discussed among other things the agricultural policy of the Federation as outlined in the fourteen-point manifesto of the Regina convention, from an improvised platform erected in the drive-shed at the farmstead of R. J. Girven, of Asphodel Township.

The occasion was the annual picnic held under the auspices of the U.F.O., with E. N. McDonald, president of the Peterborough County branch, presiding.

Taxed to capacity, the drive-shed seated over two hundred persons, while the adjoining barnyard was filled to overflowing with an intent audience. Introduced by Mr. McDonald after a lengthy program of entertainment had first been presented, Miss MacPhail spoke without interruption for an hour and twenty minutes. When she had concluded at ten-twenty, "farmers' time," the order was passed around to clear the yard of automobiles in preparation for a barnyard dance, after which the crowd gave themselves over to merriment, in the

ROUTED FROM INTERIOR.

SHANGHAI, China, Aug. 10 (AP)—A threatened Communist invasion of Amoy, an important seaport on Formosa Strait, came appreciably closer to that southern Chinese city to-day.

Despatches from foreign sources in Amoy said the invaders number 40,000 hungry Reds, who were forced out of Kiangsi Province in southeastern China by General Chiang Kai-Shek's relentless drive.

The Communists were believed headed for Changshow, 35 miles west of Amoy with the purpose of establishing a sea outlet there in anticipation of an attack on Amoy.

Reports said the situation in Lungyen was obscure although it was believed General Tsai Ting-Kai's 19th Route Army had fallen back as a result of its inability to oppose a superior Red force, allowing the invaders to occupy Lungyen and continue eastward.

Feared U.S Ambitions Japs' Plea In Court

TOKYO, Aug. 10 (AP)—Lieutenant Horishi Yamagishi, leader of ten naval officers undergoing court martial, charged with the assassination of Premier Supeshi Inukai and other terroristic acts, testified to-day that they acted because they feared "America's ambition."

Testimony was produced to show that Yamagishi commanded the naval officers who invaded the Premier's residence, and that he gave the command "fire" which loosed the fatal shots.

After he had made his anti-American statement, the court-room was ordered cleared and the hearing continued in secret. The proceedings are being held at the Yokosuka naval base.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Aug. 10 (C.P.).—A zealous policeman slipped up and hung a tag on the collar of a horse hitched to a buggy, standing patiently in a no-parking zone.

The owner, half an hour later, rushed to police headquarters. "Don't arrest the horse," he pleaded. "He isn't accustomed to it." Both horse and driver were dismissed.

This remarkable action photo, taken at the height of the Havana massacre, shows a member of the Cuban mounted police brigade, with club and pistol in hand, riding into a crowd of 2,000 citizens which engaged in a premature celebration following a false report that President Gerardo Machado had resigned. The crowd was first dispersed by police machine gunners who killed 30 and wounded more than 100. This picture was rushed by special plane to Atlanta and relayed to Cleveland.

BRACKEN LIKES U.S. MOVE.

Action Expected Upon Bennett's Return From London Trip.

Conversations embracing a new recovery plan and reported to be of such proportions that would interest the whole country have been in progress for some time between representatives of the federal and Ontario governments.

Intimation of this was forthcoming when Premier George S. Henry was informed last night that two Western Canada premiers had suggested policies, which would stimulate trade, increase employment and raise commodity prices, might well be adopted in Canada.

"We haven't got far enough along with it to announce anything as yet," the premier said in disclosing the fact both governments had been exchanging views. "But I have been discussing with Ottawa for some time something in the way of a campaign to stimulate activities."

At Stratford H. W. Strudley, president of the Imperial Rattan Company, Limited, expressed the opinion that action along this line would be instituted upon Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's return to Canada.

"I'm all for it," said Mr. Strudley. "If the manufacturers haven't enough sense to get together, the government may force them to."

FLOWER SHOW IS BEING HELD IN LEGION HALL

Alderman J. A. McNabb Formally Opened Show This Afternoon.

GREAT ARRAY OF BLOOMS.

In the course of his brief remarks, Alderman McNabb took the opportunity to congratulate the horticulturists upon the splendid array of blooms.

The display now open, until late to-night only, is put on under the auspices of No. 4 District of Ontario Horticultural Society, and is being held here this year at the invitation of local horticulturists. F. Rickard of Newcastle is general director of the Show, while Frank Biddle, well-known local flower enthusiast is chairman of the show committee, with W. George P. Benton working in the capacity of secretary, and G. A. Clarke, as his assistant.

Gladioli Most Numerous

The show committee, which includes most of the members of the local society, spared no effort to make the display beautifully and appealingly attractive. Masses of green foliage provides a natural background for the array of the numerous species of flowers now in season. And, despite the severe drought of past weeks, the general appearance of the show is on a par with anything ever put on in the nature of a flower show in this city previously. Gladioli take precedence over other flowers, and according to William H. Young, past president of the local society, they are of fine quality.

The committee was generously assisted in the work of preparing the display by Mr. and Mrs. George Benton.

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., is to be present at the show this evening.

JUDGE DENTON YORK COUNTY DIES IN SLEEP

IN 68TH YEAR.

TORONTO, Aug. 10.— (C.P.) — Judge James Herbert Denton, Senior County Judge of the County of York, died in his sleep at a summer hotel in Metis, Que., during last night, Mrs. Denton telephoned to her family here to-day.

Word of the death came as a great shock to Judge Denton's relations in Toronto as he was apparently in the best of health and was enjoying his vacation at the noted province of Quebec summer resort.

The body will be brought to Toronto for burial. Wilfred and Samuel Denton, sons of the Judge, will meet Mrs. Denton in Montreal to-morrow morning to accompany the casket on the journey here.

Mr. Denton, appointed Senior County Judge on March 9, 1929, was born near Richmond Hil, Ont., December 4, 1865, and was educated at Orangeville and Collingwood Collegiate Institutes and University of Toronto. In 1890 he graduated in law and was called to the Ontario bar the same year. He was an honor student and won medals of the Ontario Law Society.

On Bench 22 Years.

A president of the Toronto Liberal Association 30 years ago, Judge Denton was elevated to the bench in 1911, one of the last acts of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration. But for the tradition a County Judge never attains the High Court bench, Toronto lawyers to-day expressed the opinion Judge Denton would long ago have been at Osgoode Hall.

During his many years on the bench Judge Denton was chosen to head a number of Royal Commission investigations. Among these were the Holland Marsh probe of February, 1932., whe ninquiry was made into the allegedly fraudulent signatures in connection with a $250,000 drainage scheme. He also presided over the "salary grab" investigation in Toronto municipal affairs in 1930 and headed the York township relief probe earlier this year.

Judge Denton married Miss Elizabeth W. Gundy of Toronto in 1894. He was author of "The Law of Municipal Negligence Respecting Highways," a much quoted text book. A warm supporter of the British connection, he has lectured on "The Jurisprudence of the Empire." He was a member of the United Church of Canada.

Out of the Race

TORONTO, August 10 (C.P.).—Though father of 12 beautiful children, Concetta Mably, tailor, favors birth control. Even the Italian Fraternal Society's award of a blanket and two boxes of macaroni for having the largest family at the annual picnic this week cannot change his opinion.

In an interview Mably emphatically proclaimed his right to limit his family as he saw fit. "Why should lot of people come and tell me I should have more children?" he demanded. "After all, I have to take care of them."

It was pointed out if his wife had a couple of sets of triplets before 1936 she would probably cinch the $500,000 Millar Prize. "Oh no, we are not in the running; it's too late," he said. "Twenty years ago we could have won that prize."

RADIO SESSION PROVES FAILURE

MONTH OF DISCUSSION.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10 (CP) — The Regional Radio Conference attended by delegates from Canada, the United States and Mexico, today had adjourned after failing to reach an accord in the matter of distribution of broadcasting channels.

The Canadian delegation, headed by Laurent Beaudry of the Department of External Affairs, entrained for the north. Other members of the group are Lieut.-Commander C. P. Edwards, Director of Wireless, Department of Marine, and Lieut.-Col. W. A. Steel, technical member of the Canadian Radio Commission.

The conference adjourned yesterday after a month of deliberation. The Mexican Government, in a formal statement, said that an understanding had been reached in some minor matters relative to radio control.

The statement added that the matter of allocation of broadcasting channels, for which the conference was called, could perhaps be discussed at a later date. Agreement was reached not to widen channels and to limit stations to their assigned wave lengths, it was said. No formal agreements were signed because of the informal character of the conference.

It was reported the conference failed because Mexico asked for six of the available 96 broadcasting channels for border Mexican stations, several of which have been barred from the air in the United States.

Roosevelt Delays Intervention Pending Session At Havana—U.S. Foreign Committee Assures President Of United Support In Any Action He Decides.

FOOD LOW--STRIKE HOLDS--SHOOTINGS GO ON; "ON VOLCANO" IS BRITISH CONSUL'S OPINION

By John P. McKnight

HAVANA, Aug. 10.— (A P)—A state of war gripped Cuba today, its purpose being peace.

Military forces controlled the island under decree of President Machado who said the general strike, paralyzing industry and trade, had given "enemies of the public peace" a chance to "create a revolutionary state in the country."

Conflicting and unyielding attitude of numerous elements involved in the growing crisis increased the public tension. Machado has been deaf to suggestions that he resign and that his Secretary of State, Crestes Ferrara, also resign.

United States Ambassador Sumner Welles moved swiftly in his efforts to restore normalcy. Governmental and political leaders sought in conferences today to bring the several factions into agreement on some program of solution.

The declaration of a state of war came as the administration's answer to the suggestion of mediators that Machado and Ferrara resign and permit a new Secretary of State, acceptable to all groups, to accede to the presidency.

Grave concern was expressed for the welfare of citizens unless the strike could be brought to a quick termination. There is little bread, and the distribution of milk is being made under armed guard. Stocks of foodstuffs are being exhausted rapidly.

Marines, Troops Ready.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—Although President Roosevelt has indicated every effort would be taken to avoid intervention in the badly-stirred Cuban situation, informed quarters here to-day disclosed that should it be necessary the Marines now stationed at Quantico, Va., probably would be the first to land about 1,000 men at Quantico, only a few miles from Washington capital, are equipped as expeditionary forces for quick action.

They could be landed in Cuba within a few days.

Unofficial estimates showed today that probably 2,000 or more marines and sailors could be rushed to Havana if necessary from other points on the Atlantic coast, landing shortly after the Quantico group.

At least 5,000 regular army troops also would be available, mostly from the first division, composed of four regiments of infantry and auxiliaries stationed in and around New York.

Although army officials declined to divulge how the mobilization would take place, no secret was made that it is army and navy policy to have a "plan for every possible emergency."

POLICE INVESTIGATING.

NORTH BAY, Ont., Aug. 10. — (C.P.).—The charred body of an adult, so badly burned that it was impossible even to determine the sex of the victim, was taken to-day from the ruins of the farm house of Thomas Hicks, Wisa Wasa, 11 miles from North Bay. Neighbors were satisfied the absence of Mr. Hicks indicated he perished in the blaze.

Mrs. Hicks spent the night with friends at Callander, a neighboring village. Fire in the home was first noticed early this morninf. The house was enveloped in flames. No fire fighting equipment was available, and it was many hours later before anyone could venture into the smoking ruins.

The body was found near the outer door, showing the victim made a strenuous effort to escape but was overcome. Coroner Dr. Dafoe of Callander and Provincial police are investigating.

Hicks was 48 years of age, and a life-long resident of the Wisa Wasa farming community.

Roosevelt Fires 900, In Reorganizing Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—President Roosevelt's modified reorganization plan went into effect to-day, involving around 10,000 employees, of whom about 9900 have to look for other jobs.

There was, first, the prohibition bureau with 1,900 workers. This was transferred into the Justice Department's new division of investigation. Six hundred employees, 200 in Washington, 400 in the field, were stricken from the payrolls, the rest re-employed in the new agency.

Next was the merger of the bureaus of investigation and naturalization in the Labor Department. All the 3,907 employees in these save 275, were re-appointed temporarily for four months. The 275 were allowed 10 days' notice of retirement or discharge.

HEAT, DROUGHT CONTINUE HAVOC PRAIRIE CROPS

Grasshopper Plagues Still Menacing Dominion Bureau Statistics Find.

THRESHING STARTED.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10—Heat, drought and plagues of grasshoppers combined during the past week to cause further damage to Canadian crops, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports yesterday in a crop survey.

Heat and drought damage, said the report, was sustained chiefly by crops in areas which have previously suffered these elements. The damage was chiefly sustained by crops which reached the filling stage during the last few days of July and the first week in August. It may be stated that, with very few exceptions, crops that are now filled have matured without adequate moisture and with consequent damage in respect to both yield and quality.

Grasshoppers have made further inroads upon crops in the southern districts of the Prairie Provinces, and, in some cases, have become so threatening as to cause the premature cutting of crops.

During the latter part of the past week moderate to heavy rains were received at many points throughout the West with benefit to late wheat crops, feed crops and pastures. In Saskatchewan and Alberta there is evidence of frost damage, but the full extent of the damage will not be known until threshing is under way.

Threshing Started

About half the crop of Southern Manitoba is now cut and threshing has commenced in the earliest districts. Cutting is under way in Saskatchewan and the Central and Southern areas of Alberta, but will not be general for another week. Crops in the Northern areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta have maintained their condition, but, owing to their lateness, a distinct frost hazard exists.

Heavy showers were reported at many points in Manitoba during the past week, but general drought conditions still prevail. Heat and drought during the past two weeks have reduced prospective yields in the Province and have adversely affected crops in the northern part of the Province where a good stand of all grain exists.

Harvesting is well under way with about one-half the crop in Southern Manitoba being cut and threshing has commenced in the Red River Valley. Crop conditions throughout Southern Manitoba are spotty and oats and barley crops are generally poor. Grasshoppers are still active and are damaging late wheat crops and feed crops. Pastures reflect the prolonged drought and are in a poor condition over about one-half of the Province.

NAVAL FLIERS DIE IN SMASH

Craft Plunges Into Sea With Five Men Off Honolulu.

ONLY ONE SAVED.

HONOLULU, T.H., Aug. 10.—Five navy aviators were killed yesterday when a large plane crashed at sea and submerged a mile off Fort Wheeler.

The craft turned upside down before striking the water and only one of the six occupants escaped death.

The victims were: Lieut. T. G. Marshall, Lieut. C. P. Hill, pilot; C. C. Stewart, aviation mechanists' mate; V. C. Hovey, radio operator; Seaman S. B. Bitt.

Machinists' Mate M. A. Tuft, the only one to escape, said the tail surface material was torn off during flight, this causing the ship to noseover.

Lieut. Marshall, who was being given piloting instructions, was recovered from the submerged wreckage, but was pronounced dead when taken to a hospital at Fort Wheeler.

GRILLS FAMILY STAGES PICNIC

FINE RACE PROGRAM.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 10 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—With ideal weather prevailing and an attendance of 144 members and guests coming from Oshawa, Belleville, Trenton, Campbellford, and other points, the seventh annual picnic of the Grills family was held on August 2 at Presqu'Ile Point, and proved to be an outstanding success.

After a delightful lunch, the president, W. P. Scott, of Campbellford, addressed the gathering, the secretary's report being read by Miss Violet Dunk of Campbellford. All officers were re-elected by acclamation, the place set for the 1934 event being Oak Lake.

An interesting feature of the event was the presentation of prizes which went as follows:

Oldest lady present, Mrs. William Grills of Seymour, 79, pair of silk hose; oldest man present, John Grills of Thomasburg, pair of socks; youngest baby present, John Ross Bradshaw of Belleville, ratt'e; largest family present, William Grills of Warkworth, with six children, dozen bars of soap.

Girls up to 9 — Gladys Grills, bracelet.

Boys, 5 years and under — Jack Grey, ball.

Boys, 5 to 9 years —Oscar Bennett, ball.

Girls, to 12 years—Doris Ingram, autograph.

Boys, to 12 years—Carman Huffman, ball.

TWO BEAUTIES

SANDWICH—The rival charms of Miss Fannie Thibault, 17, and of Miss Helen McLeod, 15, so appealed to judges of a beauty contest that no decision could be reached. Consequently they share equally the title of "Miss Sandwich" and will jointly represent the county town in the Miss Western Ontario contest, to be held at Windsor next month.

FISHERS DRIFT FOR 20 HOURS

RESCUED BY COLLIER.

SYDNEY, N.S., August 10. — A fishing party of seven young men and women were at their homes last night recovering from an ordeal of drifting at sea for 20 hours in a disabled motor launch. Rescued by the collier Watuka, the group comprised: Alexander and Joseph Marsh and their sister Mary, John and William Keating and their sister Lois, and George Beck, well-known Sydney runner.

The launch left Sydney early on Tuesday, and the engine went out of commission a short distance out of the harbor. Gradually drifting to the open Atlantic, the craft was sighted late in the afternoon by a fishing schooner, which stopped alongside, but decided to report the party's plight instead of giving a tow to shore.

When the launch had drifted to the vicinity of Flint Island its distress signal was next sighted by the Watuka, which took the seven persons aboard and headed back toward Sydney.

PACIFIC TRADE BOUNDS AHEAD

Review Shows Favorable Trade Balance for Canada Each Year Since 1920.

BIG PULP, WHEAT OUTLET.

BANFF, Alta., Aug. 10 (C.P.) — Spectacular growth of Canada's trade with countries bordering on the Pacific Ocean and with British India is reviewed in an outline of Canada's trans-Pacific trade prepared by Prof. James M. MacDonald of Dalhousie University, Halifax, for the Institute of Pacific Relations which meets next week.

The review deals with British India, Ceylon, Straits Settlements, other British East Indies, Hong King, Australia, Fiji, New Zealand and other oceania in the British group; and China, Dutch East Indies, Japan, Siam and the Philippine Islands. In 1910 Canada imported from these countries goods to the value of $8,708,000. A peak of $55,201,000 was reached in 1930, but the figure in 1932 was $27,450,000.

Exports from Canada across the Pacific have exceeded imports in each year since 1920. From 1910 to 1919 Canada had taken more than she had sold. Exports climbed from $7,224,000 in 1910 to a peak of $124,000,000 in 1929, the favorable balance that year being $70,000,000. In 1932 the exports were $37,403,000, Prof. MacDonald shows.

Trans-Pacific trade is still quite a small proportion of Canada's total foreign trade, the figures reveal. In 1932 imports to this country from the Pacific were 4.7 of total imports, and in exports the figure was 6.3.

In a survey of 1931 trade movements Mr. MacDonald, assisted by H. Douglas Pyke and Ralph Ells of Dalhousie shows most of Canada's Pacific trade is in the fully manufactured state, 65 per cent of imports being of that nature and 52.9 of exports.

Pulp and paper, wheat and manufactured wood were Canada's principal selling products across the Pacific in 1932, Prof. MacDonald showed. Largest import was in tea, with sugar and silk coming next in order.

Fashion threatens to make a monkey out of a woman this fall. At any rate, monkey fur is one of the trimmings stressed for fall millinery, shaggy effects being the proper thing in autumn headgear.

"I WOULD BURST OUT CRYING"

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Steadied and Quieted Her Nerves

"I had a nervous breakdown. I could not sleep, worried all day and hardly knew what I was doing. If anyone asked me how I was, I would burst out crying. I have taken six bottles of the Vegetable Compound and it has built me up so I can sleep at night. I am in good spirits and I am not half as nervous."—Mrs. R. Poos, 1717 Donald St., Fort William, Ontario.

This must be a good medicine when 98 out of 100 women say, "It helps me." Get a bottle from your druggist today. Let it help you, too.

Ancient Roman Triumph Planned For Balbo's Return With Armada

(By Andrue Berding, C.P. Staff Writer.)

ROME, August 10. — A Roman triumph, a custom not followed for many centuries, will be revived on Saturday to give General Italo Balbo and members of his transatlantic seaplane squadron a rousing welcome home.

It will have another purpose, too—to pay tribute to Premier Mussolini as the inspiration for Italy's renaissance in aviation.

General Balbo advised the Air Ministry to-day he plans to bring his armada to Ostia, Rome's new port, from Lisbon, Portugal, 1,300 miles away, without stopping. Its arrival in Italy is set for Saturday evening.

Returning from Ostia, the Premier and General Balbo will be driven through the central passage of the Arch of Constantine, just outside of the ancient Coliseum.

A new roadbed has been constructed under the Arch, and a railing around it has been removed. The 1,600-year-old monument, erected after Constantine's victory over Maxentius, will again become the momentary centre of attraction in the Roman world.

AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA IS APPROVED BY KING

LONDON, Aug. 9 (CP and AP Cables).—The King has approved the appointment of Viscount Chilston as Ambassador to Russia, succeeding Sir Esmond Ovey. His Majesty received the new Ambassador in audience at Buckingham Palace to-day.

Lord Chilston has been Minister at Budapest since 1928. He will leave for Moscow in September, when for the first time since March 30, the United Kingdom will be represented in Russia by a full-fledged Ambassador.

TOO BUSY TO GET LICENSE SAYS ARRESTED MOTORIST

NEW LISKEARD, Aug. 10.—Evidence that although he has driven a car between 1,000 and 1,500 miles and is the present owner of an automobile, he has never taken out a driver's license, was given at an inquest here yesterday by Adory Boucher, who is held on a charge of manslaughter following a fatal automobile accident on Whitewood Avenue last Saturday night.

Boucher told Coroner Dr. W. C. Arnold and the jury that he knew he should have a license, and had spoken frequently of getting one but he had to work all day and had no time.

EXPORT FIGURES SHOW INCREASE

Total Sent to United Kingdom Jumps $17,000,000 in Six Months.

IMPORTS DOWN.

OTTAWA, August 10. — An increase of nearly $17,000,000 is noted in Canadian exports to the United Kingdom for the first six months of the current calendar year, according to the monthly summary of Canadian Trade issued yesterday by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. At the same time a diminution of imports of British goods into Canada is noted for the same period, this decrease amounting to approximately $8,500,000.

Canadian exports to the United States declined in the period under survey from $94,000,000 to $68,000,000. Imports from the Republic, however, dropped much more sharply—from $146,000,000 to $95,000,000.

During the six months period exports to the United Kingdom rose from $62,000,000 in 1932 to $79,000,000 this year, while imports declined from $48,000,000 to $39,500,000.

For the 12 months ending June 30, 1933, Canadian exports to Great Britain had a value of $196,000,000 a considerable increase over the $165,000,000 recorded for the same period which ended a year ago. At the same time there was a heavy decrease in exports to the United States—from $223,000,000 to $143,000,000.

Imports from Great Britain dropped from $97,000,000 to $86,000,000 and from the United States from $307,000,000 to $212,000,000 in the 12-month period.

JUMPED 4 MILES FLIER LIVES TO TELL THE TALE

Hawker Hart day bomber, which was flying 21,000 feet above the Royal Air Force aerodrome at Netheravon, Wiltshire

Experts said that it was impossible to beat Manning's record, chiefly because a longer delayed drop would impose such a strain on the heart owing to the rapid change of pressure in the air through which one falls.

The experts' opinions got on my nerves. I felt I simply had to prove them wrong.

And yesterday, by means of the standard parachute which is supplied to the royal air force, and with the invaluable assistance of my pilot, Flight-Lieut. Sayer, I succeeded, in doing so.

You can get some idea, however, of the difference in conditions which prevail high above the earth and on the ground when you know that the barometric pressure at 28,000 feet is about 320 millibars while on the ground it is 760 millibars.

Of course I was perfectly fit before I started. My heart had been specially examined and my blood pressure tested. My ears also had been overhauled.

We started off from Heston intending to fly to Netheravon and, without landing, to climb to 26,000 feet. This we did, according to schedule. We were about 4,000 feet up when we reached Netheravon, and we climbed the remaining 22,000 feet in just about twenty minutes. It was like shooting up towards the moon in a rocket.

But the mists were so thick that it was impossible to see anything, and we descended. During a second flight we ascended 21,000 feet and managed to find a small hole in the clouds through which we could just see the ground I switched over from the oxygen supply in the aeroplane to my own outfit, and climbed out on the wing.

JOHN TRANUM

It had been warm in the heated cockpit of aeroplane but I stepped out into thirty-five degrees of frost. My own supply of oxygen would last for ten minutes, consequently the time I could stand on the wing was limited.

For 6 minutes I stood there. The wind was terrific and I had to cling to the wire for dear life. I was not frightened. Finally, we saw another hole in the clouds and when we were just above it I stepped off into space, falling neatly through the hole in the clouds.

I started tumbling head over heels at once. Contrary to most people's opinions, you don't lose consciousness or become confused when falling from an enormous height. Perhaps it is because I have had a lot of practice—but my mind went on perfectly clearly, and I observed my stop-watch, which was strapped to the palm of my left hand and which I had pressed as I jumped just as accurately as if I had been sitting in an armchair at home

It showed me that my tumbling continued for 5,000 feet—one mile. Then I straightened out in a beautiful dive—my body at an angle of 45 degrees. I was quite comfortable, and all my attention was focused on the stop-watch, while calculating how close I was getting to earth. I had no nightmare thoughts. My only worry was not to let my hands stray towards the rip-cord of the parachute too soon.

My eyes began to trouble me a little, although my goggles were perfectly airtight. A mist settled over my goggles at first, and I tried to wipe it off, but as I fell, the increasingly warm air gradually removed it.

I say "gradually," but, as a matter of fact, I had begun my fall at a rate of 144 miles an hour. This continued until the air began to get thicker, when it slowed me down to about 120 miles an hour.

My eyes, however, continued to water. I put one hand under my goggles to try to wipe away my tears, but it was not of much avail. I don't know why they watered. It was not due to an air-stream. Perhaps doctors know the reason.

Another trouble is that your eyes get out of focus. I had been searching what I could see of the ground at 21,000 feet, and that was the last thing I could see clearly. Things get blurred as you rush down towards them. Distances are changed so suddenly.

My eyes told me I was closer to the ground that I really was. My stop-watch said that I had fallen like a stone for nearly 17,500 feet—although observers' watches showed 17,250—but it seemed longer than that to me, and as I did not want to finish up as a dead man I let my eyes rule me instinctively—and pulled the rip-cord.

The effect of that was a terrific shock which is hard to describe. You feel as though everything is being drawn off you downwards, as if your face is being pulled down to meet your chest, as if your body is leaving your head behind in the clouds; then suddenly it pops back again, and you realise your neck is just where it used to be.

Nothing seems to go wrong internally. The only effect of which I am now conscious is a great bruise on my shoulder where my harness caught me. I went floating down tranquilly (the jerking sensation had only lasted about half a second) and a glance at my stop-watch told me I could have gone on with a closed parachute for another thousand feet.

I tried to look for a nice soft place to land, but trees seemed everywhere below me. I felt tired, just hung there, waiting, floating down at 13 miles an hour. I landed almost against a tree and sat there, thankful and pleased with myself for having done what I wanted to do.

I think I have done one thing of value, which is to prove that an aviator who is shot down at a height of 25,000 feet can escape with his life, if he chooses to do a delayed drop of the length which I did.

HAVELOCK WOMEN'S INSTITUTE PLANS TO DONATE SCHOLARSHIP

Will Be Given to Pupil Obtaining Highest Marks at Entrance Examinations.

LADIES HOLD DEBATE.

HAVELOCK, Aug. 10 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of Havelock Women's Institute was held at the beautiful summer home of Mrs. John Armstrong at Trent River on Monday, August 7th, with thirty members present and a number of visitors.

The matter of a scholarship for the pupil obtaining highest marks writing the entrance examination at Havelock centre was once more discussed. It was decided to give the scholarship beginning 1934, the prize to go to the highest one from Havelock or the township, unless the Belmont Institute donated a similar prize, in which event the Havelock prize would go to the one from the village obtaining highest marks.

The matter of making a donation to the Guide fund to help pay for the drop curtain recently installed in the town hall was left over until a later date, when it is hoped the Guide committee will have taken the matter in hand.

It was decided to make sure the town hall is reserved for Hallowe'en for the purpose of holding the annual masquerade dance.

A few small bills were ordered paid. A message from Mrs. Rogers, Havelock's oldest grandmother, who was unable to be present on Grandmother's Day, was delivered by Mrs. Wesley Johnstone; Mrs. Rogers thanked the members for their kindness in sending her flowers and a treat on Grandmother's Day.

Mrs. Birdsall and Miss Burnham, members of Westwood branch, were present, not knowing the date of Grandmother's Day had been changed, and brought interesting relics of pioneer days to exhibit, this being the roll call for that day. The programs for July and August had been interchanged, so Grandmother's Day was held in July

Quaint Medicine Stick

Mrs. Burnham displayed a quaintly-carved Indian medicine stick which the medicine man was wont to carry and manipulate over the patients while he mumbled the words which were supposed to vanquish the evil spirits causing the illness.

Miss Burnham showed an old candle mould and explained how the candles were made in the olden days. Both of these relics excited a great deal of interest among the members.

An Oxford debate, in which everyone present took part also proved very interesting. Mrs. Anderson had charge of the affirmative; Mrs. Reynolds the negative. It was, "Resolved, that the automobile had done more harm than good." Each lady chose sides, and hurriedly consulted the members and brought out her points. Five points for the affirmative and four for the negative were listed. Mrs. C. Hubel, Mrs. Birdsall and Mrs. Bedford were judges for the debate.

A dainty lunch was then served by the hostesses for the day, Mesdames Armstrong, Bedford, Scott, Watson, Hoffman, Reynolds and Miss Wright. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the hostess for her invitation to her home, and the nice program and entertainment provided.

HAZARD OF BONFIRES.

Cornwall's misfortune carries to every community a new warning of the latent danger in untended backyard rubbish fires within business areas.

Destruction of one-quarter of Cornwall's downtown mercantile district with a loss of nearly one million dollars is directly traced to one of these harmless little fires which some person considered he had a right to start without thought of its potential menace to property owners.

Preventive supervision of buildings by the fire department may appear to some persons as unwarranted or officious intrusion, but it recognizes the necessity of affording to owners of buildings and their contents protection against careless collection of inflammable materials, and oversight of other fire hazards.

Community precautions should be extended to include the lighting of bonfires in such areas. When they spread to a block of buildings and pile up ruinous losses to merchants and other owners of property, it is too late for wishes that official vigilance had been more exacting. That is when regret seizes the emotions, especially regret for public laxity toward a fire hazard which could be easily prohibited.

GOVERNMENT ACTS PROMPTLY.

Premier Henry has acted with commendable promptness in directing the prosecution of the four Toronto detectives whose fusilade of revolver shots in arresting Albert Dorland and William Toohy in April, 1930, was recently denounced by Mr. Justice Kingstone, who investigated the "Dorland case," as a murderous assault.

The indictment which will be placed in the hands of the grand jury of the September Assizes in Toronto will be drawn under Section 273 of the Criminal Code, alleging attempt to maim or do actual bodily harm.

Whether or not a true bill be returned by the grand jury, the indictment of the four Toronto officers should serve as a corrective reminder to the general body of provincial and municipal police that they are not exempt from the law which they are employed to enforce.

Police have a right to defend themselves in the performance of their duties, but their right ends and vanishes when the circumstances clearly indicate conduct and acts of offense rather than self-defense. In this case, which is now before the courts, the revolver shots were fired in a city street where persons passing by might have been killed or seriously injured.

Discretion is an excellent quality in police because it directly affects persons, but in the Toronto case Mr. Justice Kingstone found such a degree of absence of discretion that he recommended the indictment Premier Henry has now announced.

The Provincial Government's action in ordering the Dorand case investigation and its present result has merited the press and public approval that has been almost unanimously expressed.

MANUFACTURERS PLAN SURVEY.

The proposed survey of results of the National Recovery Act in the United States by Canadian business organizations affords evidence of a healthy impatience similar to that which possesses the unemployed man grown weary of waiting for prosperity.

To the man out of work the most pressing need facing the country is not an investigation of Canada's banking system, but some study and initiative to help him get back to his customary job. The question in his mind is identical with the implied enquiry of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Manufacturers' Association and the Montreal Board of Trade—are any of President Roosevelt's "new deal" methods practically adoptable by Canada?

Experience reminds us that industrial and price conditions in the United States usually react, more or less, on this country. Already some slight upward impulses from the prosperity drive across the border have been felt here. If prices advance here, even moderately, in sympathy with an expected movement in the United States, will employment, wages and business conditions generally keep pace with such a trend? It is a pertinent question for manufacturers, employees and unemployed.

Leaders of the Canadian clothing trade are proposing a national industrial recovery effort and a code of ethics for their industry to be made effective by Parliament. Furniture manufacturers suggest a minimum wage law to secure protection against unfair competition and to enable them to pay their employees better wages, now described as ruinously low.

If the group of business associations broaden the survey they are undertaking and bring within its scope the production and marketing problems of Canadian agriculture, export trade and allied questions, they may possibly do a great service in helping to overcome the depression. At any rate they are starting something that seriously needs doing, and their reported intentions include sounding out Ottawa on the return of Premier Bennett from England as to whether the Government will consider implementing in Canada legislation similar to the United States National Industrial Recovery Act.

CANADA AND LATIN AMERICA.

Following an exhaustive study of conditions by a committee of the Pan-American Union, the United States Government is making diplomatic overtures to the various Latin American countries with the idea of building up a reciprocal trade with the southern continent.

In such an arrangement, Canada would have been in a preferred position because the Latin American countries have always feared and suspected the potential imperialism of United States.

This suspicion has in some cases been translated into active dislike for United States and the people and products of United States.

A reciprocal trade with Latin America, therefore, has always offered an unparalleled opportunity to Canada, untrammeled by any political prejudices and unsuspected of any political purposes.

Argentina has 11½ million people and has to import to the extent of $96 per capita each year.

Bolivia has only 2,974,000 people and imports $10,920,000 worth a year. Her purchases from United States are steadily declining from $5,000,000 in 1927 to $1,700,000 in 1931.

Brazil has 41 million people and buys goods to the value of $131,256,000 a year. Her trade with United States is also falling off steadily.

Chile's 14 million people buy around 100 million dollars' worth a year. Her trade with United States of 55 million in 1929 has been reduced to 21 million last year.

And so on all down the line. In almost every Latin American country, imports from United States have been decreased all out of proportion to falling general trade figures.

The plain fact is that the Latin American countries do not want to trade with United States if they can buy the same class of goods just as cheaply elsewhere.

This is the basic reason for the present United States drive for Central and South American trade.

It is also a first-class reason why Canada should begin right now to get in on that Latin American field.

Canada has no desire to injure United States' prestige in the Latin countries.

But she would be foolish if she did not endeavor to take advantage of a situation that already exists.

An intelligent and concerted effort on the part of Ottawa and Canadian traders would bring it to our door.—Vancouver Sun.

BUT NO DISASTER.

G. K. Chesterton has written somewhere that the most extraordinary happening in England in the nineteenth century was the revolution that didn't take place. Sometimes we think the most curious happenings of these years are the disasters that don't take place. Wise men, or men supposed to be wise, are always fearing them. Judging from their speeches there is always some kind of a cataclysm in the offing somewhere, some terrible calamity which, unless some conference does a lot about something, must surely destroy us. Yet strangely enough, and despite that these conferences rarely do anything, the calamities don't come.

Last year, here in Ottawa, the Empire was "at the cross-roads." The prophets assured us that unless the Empire Economic Conference did certain things then we should all go the way of the Romans and Babylonians who, for reasons the historians make beautifully obscure, passed out of the picture. But while the Economic Conference didn't do the things the prophets said it must do, nor even half of them, the Empire is doing business at the old stand. It must be tough.

Last spring they were telling that the only thing which could throw us a life-belt was the World Economic Conference. We were going down for the third and last time. At Washington, Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, who would have been a great man in the old days in the Old Kirk, gave us gooseflesh with his warnings. Unless this conference succeeded, he said, then we should sink without trace; there was no escape from it. Even our own Mr. Bennett told them in London it was the conference or extinction. A matter of do or die.

And what now? To-day in London the World Economic Conference, melancholy example of futility, closes its doors, and not a blessed thing, or unblessed, has happened. Not even a baby calamity, let alone a colossal one, disturbs us; and in the Mayfair and at Claridges the delegates will dine as usual, and Piccadilly will be gay, and the buses go up and down the Strand in the same old fashion. We weren't really sinking for the third time at all.

It is all a perfect example of the propensity of all of us to exaggerate, to adjective ordinary difficulties into Armageddons. Also an example of the folly of fear. Human nature is so constituted that it not merely tends to exaggerate things, but to be continuously conjuring up troubles and crossing distant bridges. It is always being lost. Half our lives and history are spent warding off catastrophes that are imaginary, in fighting and guarding against phantom foes.

* * * *

Yet history ought to teach that civilization and humanity are too tough to go under just because some conference may fail to do something about some problem in economics. In its thousands of years, during which it has withstood wars and plagues and all sorts of revolutions and violent upreavals, civilization has gone forward steadily, and the idea that in its present state, when it has more of equipment for existence than at any time in the ages, it should succumb to a mere temporary dislocation of just plain barter, is, come to think of it, absurd. As absurd as the talk that we are being "ruined" by this, that and the other thing.

Failure of the World Economic Conference notwithstanding, the world is going on. There will be troubles, to be sure, and the usual grief, but there will be no calamities and little of the other things seen by the prophets. As always in the past, all down through history, there will be new and old assets on hand to cope with whatever lies ahead of us. —Ottawa Journal.

INSTALMENT 25.

Lester met her at the station—thin, anxious, bright-eyed Lester, so carefully groomed that you didn't notice for a minute that his overcoat was rubbed at the cuff-edges and seams, and his perfectly polished soles had been twice resoled.

"Gosh, I'm glad to see you," he said, shaking hands with her. His hand was hot through its glove. Helen looked at him with a rush of pity. Lester was taking things hard. Money worries, probably.

"You've been worrying too much, I can see, Jessica's such a baby, you haven't had anybody to talk things over with. After supper we'll put her to bed and have a long talk about everything, and it won't seem bad a bit."

Lester, signaling to a street-car, did not seem to hear her. But once they were out of the dull chilliness of the day, wedged between two workmen on the street-car, he answered her with gratitude, his black bright eyes intense in his thin face.

"If I can't talk to somebody pretty soon I think I'll go nutty, Helen. I've just been milling round and round."

Confidences were difficult to make through the din of the street-car, so she only nodded and smiled reassuringly.

The tiny new apartment in a nearly new apartment house was high up. Three flights. When you got there, of course, there was a good deal of Spanishness, not much else. The bronze, ostentatious simplicities of the jerry-builder who knows how to tempt brides. The living room, with its alcoves that were everything in the world one needed—very inadequately—looked spacious till you found it was practically all there was of the apartment. The year-old furniture had been wonderful for the price before its essential shakiness gave the lie to an effect of Colonial mahogany. There was a gorgeous radio, an elaborate phonograph, and a pathetic spac. where evidently had been a baby-grand. Indeed, its outline in dust was against the rough-cast wall.

Helen had scarcely time to take this in when Jessica heard her, and flew out of the ornate door of her box-like bedroom, to throw herself in her sister's arms, crying and aughing hysterically.

"Oh, Nell, I thought you'd never, never come! I thought you'd forgotten all about me!"

Helen lifted Jessica's round brown face, with its big liquid eyes, and kissed it, stroking the silky short black curls.

"My darling! You know Helen would never forget her own only little sister. I'm going to stay with you as long as ever you want me, and take care of things for you. You haven't a thing to worry over. Now what's the matter especially?"

Helen sat down in her hat and coat, just as she was, on the davenport whose lines were much better than its brocaded covering or its material, and pulled her sister down by her. Jessica, nestling close, in the gasping relaxed relief of a lost baby who had stopped crying because its mother comes, dropped her black curls on Helen's breast.

"Oh, everything! I can't manage Sadie. She takes home so much that we don't even have enough to eat. I picked her out because she was just my age, and a bride, too. And I'm afraid to speak to her, for fear she'd be cross. And the horrid installment men took away the piano, and they won't give us back what we paid on it, and I think that's perfectly beastly of them, because it's a lot more than its rent would have been—and all my clothes and Lester's need mending, and I'm way behind and it makes my head ache, and —— "

She began to cry in earnest.

"Why, there's nothing really wrong. Don't worry, now." Helen slipped back completely into her attitude of the old days, half laughing, half watchful, wholly motherly.

"And she's impudent because I won't pay her wages, and—and I can't tell Lester, because I spent the money for last month on something we simply had to have, before I thought. . . ."

Helen tightened her arms round her, and said the expected thing.

"I'll straighten it out. I'll go see her now. And where do I put my things?"

"Oh, Lester ought to have told you. He will stay at the office so much, though he knows I need him. . . . I suppose he's gone back now."

"Child, you didn't make him leave his work in office hours, just to meet me?" Helen looked down, half amused, half aghast.

"Half the time there's nobody coming in to rent anything," said Jessica, pouting. "Well, never mind. Why, there's a closet over there. I'm afraid you'll have to sleep on the davenport. It's the open-out kind. And if you could keep your things, part in the bathroom and part in your suitcase? You won't mind, will you?"

"Why, no, darling. Indeed, I don't see where else I could keep them," Helen said cheerfully, getting up and beginning to put away her possessions, and emerging from the closet with a clean blue smock over her dress. "Now go back and finish your nap, and get a bath and be dressed when Lester comes in. I'll look after things."

"Would you mind tidying the bedroom just a scrap?" Jessica begged. "Sadie leaves it so dreadfully; and she's out marketing now, anyway."

Jessica was panting by now, and flushed with the excitement of having Helen to hand things over to. Helen established her on the davenport and went in, flinging open the room's only window to air the beds before she made them. The rest of the room would take time. To-morrow she would sort and tidy and mend. It seemed like old times to be putting Jessica in order! Presently it was done, down to the making of the twin beds.

"Come in, darling," she said, and established her young sister on the bed, in the midst of order, and an amazing prettiness which emerged only a little soiled and chipped about the edges, from the room which had been such a tousled, unappetizing place. Jessica had perfect taste. And she was one of those unfortunate people who love the beauty of order, and leave a trail of disorder wherever they go.

"Oh, how adorable!" she said. "Give me my rose negligee, so I'll match it, darling! And the powder."

She sat up among her pillows and began to set herself in order, like a storm-tossed kitten.

Presently, powdered, brushed, dainty in the rose negligee—Helen might have known there would be one! Jessica curled back on her pillows and went to sleep contentedly, a warmed and fed Persian pussy-cat.

Of course, on Lester's salary, there was small excuse for a maid. But Helen could see what had happened; a more and more helpless, hurt and tangled Jessica, a more and more bewildered, uncomfortable and desperate Lester; who finally got a maid whether or no, unable to see any other way out but cutting the knot. And Jessica wasn't handling the maid any too well, or perhaps she wasn't the type Jessica could handle.

She entered presently, a pretty, plump, slatternly cream-colored nineteen-year-old, her elaborately bobbed and waved hair in the bob-cover of pink silk netted cord which Helen found to be her usual headgear even when waiting at table. The paper bags she pulled out of her string-bag and spread on the porcelain table-top, which was also a stationary tub's top, were all obviously delicatessen-bought.

"I am Mrs. Hanley's sister, Miss Heather," she told the girl. "I am in charge now till she is well again."

Sadie greeted Helen with great amiability.

"I hopes you had an enjoyable trip down," she offered with an unconsciousness of the state of the house which a duchess might have envied. She rocked off into the other room to hang up her coat, returning to unveil the ready roasted chicken, the bologna, the potato salad, the doughnuts and the cream she had brought in. Helen left her, and returned to the other room.

These babes in the wood would let her have a free hand in managing, she knew, only too grateful to have her assume the responsibility of straightening things out for them. She went over and sat down at the expensive secretary. It was furnished with a blue feathered pen, a strayed bridge score and a pile of unpaid bills. She dug her own stationery and fountain pen out of her bags and sat down again with a sense of blessed peace and relief at the act, to write Ethan.

Jessica called her from the bedroom.

"Her week's up tomorrow," she whispered. "After you've paid her, do discharge her and get another one! It will serve her her good and right. Why, one night last spring we had fish, and she hid all the roe for her horrid husband, and Lester loves roe!"

Helen snatched the opportunity. She went out to Sadie, who was singing blithely over her work of laying out "cold cuts" on a platter, and had her paid and discharged in ten minutes. Sadie's amiability was proof against any such small thing as this.

"I been thinkin' of goin' anyway," she remarked. "I'll oblige you till tomorrow, though."

"Of course, you will. You're paid till then," said Helen, at which Sadie looked surprised, and then grinned politely and said, "Yas'm. Of course."

Love's young dream wrapped Sadie round to such an extent that she had indeed put away rather more than half of what she bought for dinner in a capacious black bag behind the row of box cereals on the shelf. As it was carefully wrapped Helen had no objection to disinterring it and putting it in the refrigerator while Sadie was setting the bridge-table in the living room for three: and Sadie only stole back part of it when she went next day.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

IT'S AN INSIDE JOB.

A CRIME has been committed.
A string of pearls has been stolen.
Or a man has been killed.
Great excitement. Fear. Grief. Mystery. . . . Call the police!
The police arrive. A detective walks casually around the house. Examines the safe. Or looks at the body. Checks all the doors and windows. Talks to people. Looks puzzled or wise. Scratches his head. Makes notes. ...Tells a reporter it is an "inside job." Nobody from outside got in. Somebody inside did it. An inside job, made to look as if it were an outside job....Just as easy as that....Nothing to do but find the guilty man.

* * *

Well, that's the way things are. If a man's unhappy, if he has lost his joy in life, if he feels insecure and miserable, if he doesn't know what to do with himself, ninety-nine times out of a hundred it's an Inside Job. He has lost his happiness because he didn't know how to keep it. He has fixed his faith, foolishly, on something outside of himself. He is broken because he failed to shore up spirit against the countless pressures from without. If his treasure is gone, he may be certain it was an Inside Job.

Do I mean that every man is solely responsible for his own losses, his own happiness, and can blame no one else if he is in misery?

Not exactly, and yet I have seen some men bear up bravely without whimpering under burdens that crush their fellows. I have seen a woman who might have shrieked her grief to the winds smile serenely and go her way without a sign of pain.

I have seen these things and always I have known that for them their victory over circumstances is an Inside Job. Out of triumph or disaster, some people make a great victory. They know that life, the way we live it, the way we endure it, the position we take, the manner in which we receive its blows and its caresses, is always an Inside Job.

So I envy them and wish that I might be as they are when the blow falls, taking the blame, accepting the fact that my happiness is my own job.

A Thought

LIGHT BRINGERS

In the difficulties of thought we can sometimes roll a burden from a man's life by a little intelligent sympathy. One man has a problem, a difficulty through which he can't think his way, and yet away from which he cannot go. A man who knows the way can sometimes, in one sentence, clear off what seemed to such an one insurmountable barriers. In such perplexity seek fellowship with larger souls than your own, with men of a wider outlook and more spacious vision. And so, in the practical difficulties, and in the moral dangers of life we can serve one another.—T. Rhondda Williams.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA.

ON THIS DATE, in 1832, The Bank of Nova Scotia opened its doors for business. Its birth was romantic and troubled. In 1830 there was but one bank in Nova Scotia, the Halifax Banking Company, an institution closely allied with the autocratic ruling class of the day; in fact, five of the eight partners in the company were members of the executive and legislative councils, forming, with their relatives, a majority in both. Its monopoly was made a political and newspaper grievance; every commercial mishap was laid at its door. In February, 1832, a petition was presented to the House of Assembly for the incorporation of a "Bank of Nova Scotia." The Halifax Banking Company and its friends in and out of the legislature at once showed opposition and the battle over the bill was both strenuous and exciting. Its opponents drew fearsome pictures of what would happen if (and when, for they predicted a short life) the new bank would fail. The bill passed the Assembly by 26 to 10. But it had then to pass through its greatest ordeal. It was sent to "His Majesty's Council." When it came out of that chamber it bore the marks of somewhat severe handling. It was not permitted to anybody to know by whose particular hands the bill had been disfigured, because no stranger was allowed behind the screens except Joseph, the messenger, who put the coals on the grate to keep the "old women" (as "Sam Slick" irreverently called the council of twelve) warm. The Assembly was told merely that His Majesty's Council had passed the Nova Scotia Bank bill "with amendments." The Assembly got its dander up at once and as it was more than suspected that "the cute man," Hezekiah Cogswell, president of the Halifax Banking Company, had been the skilled artisan that had given it another shape, it was moved in the Assembly that a committee be appointed to search the Journals of His Majesty's Council to find some particulars in regard to the treatment of the bill. He returned with the news that there had been no division on any of the amendments.

Eventually the bill was passed and given the Royal assent. It is noteworthy as being the first banking bill in America which adopted the Scottish principle of double liability for shareholders in the event of disaster. On May 10, 1832, a meeting of subscribers was held in the Exchange Coffee House when the bank was organized and the directors elected, with William Lawson, M.L.A. for Halifax, as the first president. Considerable trouble was found in obtaining premises in which the new bank could do business. Halifax at that time was very largely owned by the magnates who made up the Council and they put every obstacle in the way of the new enterprise, as illustrated by the fact that when the directors made arrangements with the trustees of Dalhousie University for the use of two rooms in their building, the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council issued an order converting the university into a cholera hospital! But at last premises were found and business commenced. From its humble beginning has grown a bank which has spread over every province of the Dominion, into the United States, to most of the West Indies, and to London, England.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Margaret McM.,
R.R. No. 11,
Peterborough, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis, portrays a decisiveness peculiar only to you. To illustrate this point, might give you an instance. You are penetrating and keen. You make up your mind quickly, and although other people may not think your estimation or judgment of a satisfactory nature, your decision is usually correct and precise, and therefore, your intelligence will not permit you to change your mind in order to suit other opinions. Your taste is discriminating and potentially diplomatic and refined. I say "diplomatic" because you use diplomacy in taste as well as in almost any other accomplishment of yours. Your will power is well developed, but it does not permit you to become obdurate. It could not with all your other qualifications to back it up.

Mrs. E. E. Fairbairn,
George Street, City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis represents you as versatile and intelligent. You are perhaps rather prone to crowd your thoughts before you have time in which to segregate them; therefore, you discover that many worthwhite ideas escape unborn. Your capital letters show a decided leaning towards art. This, of course, does not mean that you must paint in order to be artistic, for there are many, many lines of art. Even knitting is an art. The crossing of your "t" bars with that heavy stroke is emblematical for it shows decided will power and much determination. Some of your letter express a vivid imagination, but the fact that all of your letters do not, is accredited to your good common sense, which does not permit you to let imagination have "fitting space" apart from the everyday run of affairs. You see, you are quite adaptable to prevailing conditions, and do not bemoan the logical fact that you are not quite as richly endowed with appropriate means with which to enable you to reach your objective in life, without working diligently for it.

F. J. Mc.,
32 Lafayette Street, City.

The handwriting as described so graphically on your sample for analysis delineates you as careful, methodical and perhaps a trifle obdurate. When you set your mind upon a certain subject it is quite difficult, if not impossible for one to endeavor to change it or to argue the matter with you. You appear so decided that your talent should lead to teaching. This, however, would be preferable along household science or commercial art, though these lines are not imperative if you have made up your mind to do something else. Your disposition is fairly even, but you are a slow and deliberate thinker. You manage to accomplish about the same amount of work each day. You do not, as a general rule, care particularly for "fussiness."

F. O. Mc.,
32 Lafayette Street, City.

The handwriting as delineated on your coupon for analysis shows that you are determined and perhaps a trifle obstinate at times. You seem to "grit your teeth" and make up your mind what you want, and at these times no one can make you change your purpose. You possess imaginative powers, but they do not create the right sort of mental pictures with which to encourage you to progress. Your general disposition and character as represented in the short compact letters might be termed mild and introspective. If you desire a more explicit reading, please send another coupon, and a fairly lengthy sample of your handwriting in ink, on separate paper stating "Mr., Mrs., or Miss," because it is hardly fair to judge one's characteristics from such a small sample as that which is crowded on your coupon.

Flossie N. Brown, Maple Lane, City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are ingenious, energetic and most emphatic in your commands. You are born for leadership and should be able to organize social affairs in an excellent manner. Your brain is retentive and you have the ability to impart knowledge. The rounded loops reflect love for good music. Your taste is discriminating and your discernments are keen. Your judgment of human nature is commendable. You like to express yourself through your surroundings and your clothing. Your intelligent perceptions lend color to your life, for you are able to see the "other" side to nearly every situation, and therefore, give your unbiased opinion. Your capital letters depict generosity and an artistic tendency; your disposition is usually about the same, so you are not temperamental. Your will power is normal and your determination excellent. You are a good winner and an equally good loser.

Mrs. Wootten, Dickson Street, City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are considerate, courteous and benevolent. You are pleasing and most agreeable. You are discerning, gracious and blessed with the wisdom of maturity. You are unassuming and modest, conservative and discreet. You understand that life and all its sorrows and joys as designated at present, is only a passing intensity through which youth must pass, in order to learn wisdom and become mellow with the richness of knowledge gained in passing, and in suffering. You have very good will power, but do not let it dominate you, for you believe in justice tempered with mercy and so live and let live. Your determination is well expressed in the manner in which your letters place themselves upon the line throughout the signature. The fact that the formations in the last words are crowded and uneven shows that you are not too set in your ways, and that you are ever ready to give in to others for the sake of peace and quietness. One of your calibre should be listened to and not questioned, for wisdom and common sense guide your words and thoughts. The whole outline of your writing is interesting and represents a power for good.

French Ship Wires Fire Under Control

LE HAVRE, France, August 10 (C.P.). — French owners of the freighter Porbin said to-day a fire which started in her No. 1 hold when she was in the Arabian Sea 1,400 miles from Colombo, Ceylon, had been extinguished.

Lloyd's reported from London that the Dutch steamship Sembilan and the French motorship Felix Russel had turned their courses early to-day to assist the Porbin, a vessel of 7,291 tons.

It was recalled the French steamer Georges Philippar was burned at almost the identical spot off Cape Guardafui on May 16, 1932.

A STEP FORWARD

BOMBAY.—Hindu women of the middle class have won their fight for the right to look pretty in public. The modern Indian girl may now powder her face, wear her hair in curls, or have a permanent wave, look frequently in a mirror and replace a broad saffron streak on the forehead by a small circular mark.

UNKNOWN.

TROY, O.—"Joe Vance" is the Democratic nominee for Mayor of Tippecanoe city, but city officials don't know who he is, if at all.

No one took the trouble to fyle for the nomination so 13 voters wrote in the name of "Joe Vance." There's no one in the village by that name.

RENOUNCE MONROE DOCTRINE

NEW YORK—Senator Key Pittman favors renouncement of the Monroe doctrine on the ground that there is no longer any possibility of European powers attempting to entrench themselves in the western hemisphere.

POISON LIQUOR KILLS 3.

PONTIAC, Mich., Aug. 10. (A.P.)—Three men were dead here today of poison liquor and a fourth man reported to have been with them was sought in an effort to identify two of the dead.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 10. —(C.P.)— Optimism, engendered by the bullish character of the Dominion government crop report issued yesterday, together with strong Liverpool cables and some export business sent wheat prices substantially higher on the grain exchange here to-day.

Offerings from the start were noticeably light, and values clambered upward to stand 2 cents above yesterday's close at mid-session. October option was quoted at 83½, December at 85½ and May at 90 cents.

Buying was not on a large scale, but in the face of the lightness of pit offerings, it was sufficient to maintain prices at top levels with little difficulty. Volume of business was not very large and operations thinned considerably as the morning progressed.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 10. — (CP) — Stocks that were buoyant in the morning session of the Toronto Stock Exchange, slipped rather easily in the late afternoon when the New York board developed an unsteady condition. Nickel closed at 20.25 down 35 cents for the day. Smelters lost 4 to 130, and the other interlisted shares dropped small fractions. Distillery shares also sagged.

At the close Ford of Canada, Brazilian and C.P.R. were down narrow fractions. Walkers common, Industrial Alcohol and Distillers Seagram weakened about a point and Brewers and Distillers 5 cents. Canada Malting held a small gain at the close.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 10.(CP)—Trading speeded up with a broader list coming into the transactions on the Standard Mining market today and prices were higher in spots, simulated by spasmodic buoyancy on the New York board.

Dome and McIntyre lost 75 cents to 1.25 each, Lake Shore was steady, Pioneer was slightly stronger and Hollinger, Teck Hughes, Bralorne and Wright Hargreaves held about steady.

Nickel and Noranda were strong in the early trading but held their position with difficulty in the afternoon while New York was staging a moderate sell-off. Nickel closed at 20.25, off 35 cents and Noranda at 34.25 down 65 cents.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (A.P.). — Early bullish fervor in the stock market cooled in late dealings today and advances of fractions to around 3 points were converted into similar losses. Case dropped 2 points, while issues off around a point or so included Consolidated Gas, General Motors, United States Steel, National Distillers, American Telephone, Cerro Deo Pasco and Allied Chemical. Dupont, Deere and American Commercial Alcohol cancelled most of their early 2 to 3 point gains. Transfers approximated 2,800,000 shares.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP)—Sales up to 2 o'clock on the Toronto Livestock Market to-day totalled 100 head. Common butchers ranged from $2.50 to $3.50, and a few cows sold from $1 for canners up to $2.50 for fairly good quality. About 400 head of common cattle were held over.

The light offering on the calf market sold steady, with common to choice vealers selling at $3 to $3.50.

The hog market was firm to five cents higher, at $5.85 to $5.90 f.o.b., $6.10 to $6.15 off truck, and $6.35 to $6.40 off car for bacon.

Lambs were steady at $6.50 for good ewes and wethers. Some second-hand quality sheep brought $1 to $2.50.

TORONTO CHEESE

TORONTO, Aug. 10 (CP)—The Toronto Wholesale Cheese Market was quiet to-day with dealers buying large, colored, paraffined and Government grades at 10 to 10¼c.

Wholesalers offered cheese to retailers at the following prices: New —Large, 11¼c; twins, 11¾c; triplets, 13c. Old—Large, 16c; twins, 16¼c; triplets, 16½c. Medium—Large 15c; twins, 15¼c; triplets, 15½c.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, Aug 10 (CP)—Wholesales prices on fruits and vegetables as supplied by White and Co., were reported unchanged to-day, with the exception of outdoor tomatoes, No. 1, per 11-qt. basket, quoted from 40 to 50 cents.

Henry Not Enthused On Roosevelt's Plans

TORONTO, Aug. 10.—(CP)—Canada's national recovery plan will be intra-empire rather than international in the opinion of Premier George S. Henry of Toronto.

The premier said he did not care very much for the Roosevelt recovery program. No nation, he said, could live within itself, and while Roosevelt at first had been inclined to depart from the attitude of non-co-operation, latterly he had changed.

"I was always taught as a farmer," said Mr. Henry, "that one cannot pull himself up by his own bootstraps."

Mr. Henry declared national recovery had been the subject of conversation between the Ontario and Ottawa governments and some of the other provinces. The question, however, was one largely for Ottawa to determine and he was not prepared to discuss it at present.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, August 10 (C.P.) — Decided upturns in grain values took place early to-day. Leading traders said the national code tentatively agreed to for governing the future dealings on grain exchanges was exceedingly broad and liberal, and would encourage belief in a free, open, competitive market.

Starting ⅜ to 1¼ cents higher, wheat afterward made additional gains. Corn opened ¼ to ⅜ cents up and subsequently rose further.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Aug. 10 (AP) — Prime commercial paper, 1½ per cent. Foreign exchange steady. Demand rates: Great Britain, 4.49; France, 5.31½; Italy, 7.13½; eGrmany, 32.40; Canada, 94.50.

STRIKERS STICK TO DUMPING PLAN

52 ARE ARRESTED.

SYRACUSE, N.Y. Aug. 10 (AP) —At least 52 arrests in connection with a determined onslaught of striking milk producers upon trucks delivering milk to a dairymen's league plant at Deruyter this morning were reported by state police and the office of Sheriff Kenneth Parker.

Eight deputy sheriffs were on guard at the plant before the disturbance. When a mob began to gather they called the sheriff's office and the Oneida barracks of the state police. Troop D at Oneida sent 22 men while the sheriff dispatched six to eight carloads of deputies.

Reports indicated milk was being dumped on many roads in that area.

Information at the Oneida barracks was that a mob of 200 was gathering about the dairymen's league plant at Vernon and it was understood troopers were dispatched there. Another crowd of strikers was in control of a bridge at Bridgeport, on the Onondaga-Madison county line. An unverified report from that point said an apparatus on the bridge for dumping trucks into the creek had been set up.

Twenty deputy sheriffs were on duty at Camden where another disturbance was reported imminent.

TICKET SHORTAGE CASE.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP) — Three people, A. H. Foster, former manager, Frank Gould, former storekeeper, and Miss Grace Harper, secretary, of the Street Railway Commission, should be found by the court "to have interferred with the cash of the railway," Paul Martin, counsel for the city declared to-day at the resumed civic probe. Judge A. T. Boles is presiding.

On behalf of Miss Harper, J. C. McRuer, Toronto, argued against any suggestion she had been guilty, even of negligence while J. A. D. Slemin, K.C., appearing for Gould, asked Judge Boles to clear Gould absolutely.

Mr. McRuer submitted there was no evidence any money was ever stolen and also no evidence Miss Harper had ever interfered with Street Railway tickets. He could not understand why any one would pad the box with tickets as this would increase the chances of detection supposing some one did wish to steal money. The simplest method would have been simply to take cash.

"It seems to me, in diagnosing the disease, that it doesn't result that there was any money ever stolen," he contended. Mr. McRuer criticized the railway as poorly and loosely managed. Any person wishing to make use of loose tickets could easily have done so.

Mr. Slemin declared there were errors in the totalling of the daily ticket counts. This had an important bearing on the case, he said.

first step which must be taken in Cuba is the obtaining of the resignation of President Machado.

Shooting Heard in London.

LONDON, Aug. 10. — (A.P.) — Shots fired outside the British Consulate at Havana were heard in Fleet street, London's famed newspaper centre, according to the Evening Standard, which featured the story with headlines across the front page.

While the Evening Standard was talking over the Atlantic telephone to H. W. Border, the British consul, there was a sudden noise, like doors banging, and then silence, the paper said.

"Just outside there has been a burst of shooting," the Standard quoted Border. "A police car opened fire on a body of men with machine guns.

"That sort of thing is happening several times daily. Dozens of people are being shot daily. Unless some way out of this stalemate is found, the tension will break and serious rioting on a large scale is feared.

"We do not fear any great danger to British people or property here, but are making arrangements for protective measures in case of more serious trouble. We are living on the edge of a volcano."

Cotton at Border

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 10. — (CP)—Its a far cry from Dixie to the Border Cities but cotton has spanned the distance.

Two years ago the American Legion convened at Detroit and Southern Legionnaires brought cotton seeds with them, distributed them to children.

The son of Victor Fauria took some seeds to his dad who planted them in his garden. Last year he selected the best seeds from the few plants that grew with the result this year he has two 60-foot rows of cotton plants in bloom.

FLOWER SHOW IS BEING HELD

Exhibitors came from all over the district, which includes the Counties of Northumberland, Durham, Haliburton, Victoria and Peterborough, but while the competiton was keen, it was stated by show officials that the primary purpose of the show was to enable individual gardeners and flower lovers to derive benefits from studying the cultural efforts of their fellow gardeners; to acquire skill in the staging of exhibits; to develop an artistic sense by entering the class for decorative displays, and so on.

Well-known local specialists on flowers were in attendance at the show throughout the day, and gave freely of advice to those who sought it, on all manner of horticultural difficulties.

Among some of the outstanding displays were: a handsome Lily Aratum grown by Harry Butler of Chamberlain street, and Picotee Carnations brown and exhibited by Robert Carr of 486 Bonaccord street.

Dr. A. J. Madill had a little section that attracted great interest, featuring produce grown at the Peterborough Normal School. The display included such oddities as a Chinese cabbage (Chihli; Kohl Rabi; Tobacco Plant; Kale; and Peanuts.

Trail Store Keeper Slays Ontario Girl

TRAIL, B. C., Aug. 10.—(CP)—Betty Chilcott, who came here from Ontario some time ago, was shot and killed in the basement of Hunt brothers' store yesterday, and the shooting, is in hospital with a serious shotgun wound in his side, said to have been self-inflicted.

Miss Chilcott was shot in the abdomen and died almost instantly.

Shortly after the woman's arrival here a car in which she and Hunt were driving, crashed into an electric light standard and Hunt lost his driver's license. Later the woman was fined $25 for drunkenness. Hunt's wife, from whom he has been separated, is in Vancouver.

MELVILLE HOLT IS FINED $20.00

License is Suspended for Three Days by Magistrate Langley.

RECKLESS DRIVING.

Melville Holt of Bradford was found guilty of reckless driving yesterday by His Worship O. A. Langley, K.C., and fined $20.00 and costs and had his license suspended for three days.

According to the evidence, Holt was driving a truck, the property of the Kingsley Transport Company of Bradford. The truck was carrying a load of 13,500 pounds and the truck weighed 7,880 pounds. The owner, Wilfred Kingsley, admitted that his permit only allowed, including the weight of the truck, ten tons, and that the truck was 880 pounds overloaded.

On the 25th of July the large transport truck, driven by Holt, while proceeding easterly on Charlotte street, struck a car driven by William J. Bull, which was proceeding northerly on Park street, almost wrecking the car, and after striking the car, proceeded easterly along the sidewalk in front of Fitzpatrick and Geraghty's Store, and, after leaving the sidewalk, a considerable distance before coming to a stop.

Holt admitted that he was driving eighteen or twenty miles an hour, and it was pointed out that a truck carrying over six thousand pounds was only permitted to drive twenty miles an hour on the highway, and His Worship found, having regard to all the circumstances—the dangerous intersection, traffic conditions, the time of day, and the responsibility of a driver operating a heavily-loaded large truck—that he must find the accused guilty.

A. L. Elliott acted for the prosecution, and C. T. S. Evans of Bradford acted for the accused, Melville Holt.

SAILING RACES SET FOR FRIDAY

The Major Events Will Be Contested Friday Afternoon.

JUNIOR REGATTA.

STONEY LAKE, Aug. 10.—Three major sailing events and the annual Juniper Island junior regatta are scheduled for Stoney Lake this week-end.

On Friday afternoon an open sailing race for the new annual Gillespie Cup will be held off Juniper Island. The annual 14-foot dinghy race for the Peterborough Canoe Cup is to be held on Saturday morning at Kawartha Park, and in the afternoon the open sail for the South Beach Cup is scheduled at South Beach.

The junior regatta will commence at Juniper Island at 2 p.m. on Saturday. Fifteen events scheduled include a variety of paddling, rowing and swimming contests, with several novel innovations. An efficient committee is in charge.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY

(Special to Examiner.)

TODAY IS an off day as far as Canada is concerned in racing circles. All the horsemen are busy shipping to Fort Erie which opens on Saturday while on the same day the lid will be lifted off the final meeting of the year at Connaught Park, Ottawa. What with the overflow of horses that are being stabled there and the greater amount of enthusiasm turf followers are showing as the season progresses, the suburban Buffalo track looks to be in for one of its most successful meetings.

• • •

ALTSHEB IS black in extra good form after a short holiday and we ask you not to forget her in the sprints. Kopeck is another that should crash the winners' circle right smartly. This hide has had great success this spring and after a short rest looks like money in the bank in her next few appearances. All Forlorn is back in tip top shape and that means steak with mushrooms for the smart boys around the race tracks. Mud or fast going makes no difference to this one.

• • •

THEY TELL us Piecemeal is all primed for a winning effort. This hide can run a distance and if it happens to be muddy you can easily go for a double as she likes the mud so well it is said they feed her some with her oats. Meridian Queen won in impressive style on Wednesday. She will not surprise us one bit if she goes on and wins a bunch of races now. Donny Johnny is having a short rest and will come back to the tracks freshened up and all ready for action. Conny Smythe made a flying trip to Chicago to make a few purchases to augment his smart stable. He will be heard from in the near future.

• • •

CARYLDON FROM his barn is keyed to concert pitch at the present time. He is a real sleeper. Wacket, a selection of this column won the sixth race on closing day. He is also a repeater and very consistent, so you can look forward to seeing him in the money many times from now on. He belongs to J. J. Burns, the well-known Toronto sportsman.

• • •

GEORGIA LILY is one of the gamest and fastest platers doing business on the Canadian tracks this year. She started this season with a win in Chicago at Arlington Park and then was shipped to Fort Erie where she won a distance event. Since then she has won a couple of sprints and finished in the money in three more. Now there is real consistency for a plater.

• • •

SONG HIT and Higher have not shown their true form yet on Canadian tracks, although the former did win one race at Devonshire. We have not noticed Wentworth from the Thorncliffe stable among the entries recently but if you happen to see him in at Fort Erie, don't neglect him, as it was at this track last year that he defeated Shady Well, King O'Connor and all the good Canadian breds, including our old friend Mr. Gaiety. Hidden Lore which was purchased by Mrs. New of Oakville, Ont. at Chicago two months ago earned his first set of brackets on Canadian soil at Hamilton on closing day and paid a nice dividend.

Malting Moore Corporation and Supertest all hold excellent possibilities.

Grain Brokers Opinions

Uhlmann Grain Co—While no change statistically inflation fears are again being revived and this is making traders commodity minded.

Thompson McKinnon—We may expect holdover liquidation on the rallies and therefore anticipate frequent reactions from an upward trend in wheat. Still favor accumulation of all grains around present.

Bartlett Frazer: General conditions of supply and demand favor belief in higher prices. Corn is awaiting the government figures.

Winthrop Mitchell—So long as cash wheat maintains its relationship there is no set base for any lowering of prices. Relative heavy movement from a small oats crop should increase farm consumption of corn materially.

AUSTRIAN WAR AGAINST NAZIS CONCEALS CLASHING POLICIES OF FRANCE, GERMANY, ITALY

One Fights for Austro-German Union, Another Against Alliance.

DOLLFUS VS. HITLER

Mussolini and France Both Oppose the Political Union.

By ALFRED TYRNAUER.

VIENNA, Aug. 10.—National Socialism is an internal problem for Germany, but an international question in Austria.

Adolph Hitler

Austria is at present the most coveted country of Europe, and therefore the most pitiable one.

Victory of the National Socialists in Austria would, it has been said, mean immediate "Anschluss"—that is, union of Austria and Germany.

This would be the first success of the Hitler government, as far as foreign policies are concerned, and also the first significant defeat of France's international policy.

This is probably the principal motive behind the powerful offensive of the German government against the present Austrian government which is desperately fighting the Nazi movement in Austria.

It is a public secret admitted even by Nazi leaders themselves that the Austrian Nazis have been supported by their German brother-party.

On orders of the German government the Austrian press attache, Dr. Wasserbaeck, of the Austrian Embassy in Berlin, was arrested and expelled as a kind of retaliation for the arrest of Herr Habicht, the German leader of the Austrian Nazis, whom Hitler wanted to make press chief in Vienna.

The Austrian Fascists were always split into a Hapsburg and a pan-German or Hitler faction. But heretofore in most cases they acted jointly fighting the "Reds" in Austria. It is only since Hitler became German Chancellor that these two factions are fighting each other in the press, on the streets and behind the scenes.

A part of the Heimwehren, particularly the Styrian Heimwehr, went over to Hitler. On the other hand, the government excluded the Hitlerites from the auxiliary police, which was organized from Heimwehr troops, most of which were avowedly Hapsburg adherents.

The Heimwehr police was ordered to assist the regular police and army. Early in June, the Nazis started a guerilla campaign against the Heimwehr. One of the Heimwehr leaders, Dr. Steidle, was seriously wounded by a bullet in front of his house in Innsbruck; thirty Heimwehr members were injured near Krems by bombs. Bombs were thrown into Jewish shops and Catholic meetings, several persons were killed and many injured.

Chan. Dollfus

The Austrian government then decided to dissolve the Storm Troops of the Nazis and prohibit all activities of the National Socialist Party. All Nazi headquarters were closed by the police and thousands arrested. The tension reached an almost unbearable degree because it is generally assumed and has been even announced by the Nazis themselves, that they will continue their fight.

Mussolini has decided to support the Heimwehr. He opposed the union between Austria and Germany because he does not want a powerful Germany on the northern frontier of Italy. Germany's traditional thrust of expansion towards the Near East and the Adriatic might become a serious danger to Italy.

Mussolini is now reported backing the Hapsburg restoration movement hoping to draw Austria as well as Hungary permenently into the Italian sphere of influence by this policy.

Both the German and the Italian schemes are bitterly opposed by France and her allies in the East, the Little Entente states. From their point of view the restoration of the Hapsburg monarchy in Austria and in Hungary would perhaps be a lesser evil than the strengthening of Nazi Germany.

But the Little Entente states are afraid the return of the Hapsburgs might lead to a series of dynastic wars and probably also to the secession of the provinces of Slovakia, Croatia and Transylvania from Czechoslovakia, Jugoslavia and Rumania, the treaty heirs to the Hapsburg territory after the world war.

The present government of Hungary is seemingly vacillating between the German and Italian plan, which is not strengthening the government's position at all.

The leader of the Heimwehr, Prince Starhemberg, and the prominent member of the present cabinet, including the powerful police minister, Major Fey, are monarchists.

The head of the government, Premier Dollfuss, and the ministers belonging to the Agrarian Party, as well as President Miklas, have repeatedly announced their allegiance to the present constitution.

COAL STRIKE ENDS.

Responding to a Presidential appeal, miners by the thousands today fell in line with a back-to-work movement finishing a walkout which virtually paralyzed the soft coal industry.

DR. EARL ELLICOTT DUDDING

Dr. Earl Ellicott Dudding, well known in Washington for his prison relief society work, has distributed a "prenatal announcement" of the impending birth, to his wife, of the world's first "chemical scientific baby" on October 16. Dudding, who has been experimenting with artificial propogation of the race for 22 years, declares the child will be a girl. In 1909 Dudding was convicted of shooting and killing his uncle, Ira Chapman, and served five years for the offence although he pleaded self-defence.

Speedy Relief From Bunions--Soft Corns

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense agonizing throbbing bunion pains when the new powerful penetrating yet harmless antiseptic Emerald Oil can readily be obtained at any well stocked drug store.

Apply a few drops over the inflamed part and see how speedily the pain disappears and the inflammation is reduced.

So marvellously powerful is Emerald Oil that soft corns seem to shrivel right up and drop off.

SHADE NECESSARY

JERSEY CITY, N.J.—The sight of hardy engineers working under the shelter of sunshades aroused not a few persons to tittering comment until County Engineer Radigan explained the umbrellas were for the protection of the instruments, not the men.

"The level instrument is so sensitive," Radigan said, "the effect of the rays of the sun would cause an error in the work."

"Keep cool with crisp, light foods"

EVERY ONE has had the experience of eating a heavy meal on a hot day and of feeling loggy and uncomfortable afterwards. In truth, food plays a big part in how we feel.

Crisp, light foods naturally help you feel cooler and fresher. That's why Kellogg's Corn Flakes are so popular when the thermometer begins to climb. Millions of people know Kellogg's mean coolness.

There's good reason too. Kellogg's are crisp, refreshing flakes of corn. Rich in energy—so easy to digest they don't "heat you up." Economical, convenient—no cooking or trouble to prepare.

Countless mothers serve Kellogg's Corn Flakes for the children's evening meal—particularly in summer. It's the kind of light meal that encourages restful sleep.

And no matter how hot or humid the weather, you'll always find Kellogg's crisp and oven-fresh . . . protected by the sealed inside WAXTITE bag. Every package that leaves the factory is guaranteed. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

One Man Fired on Job South of Minden—Corn Borers Active Around Lindsay.

LAD BREAKS ARM.

LINDSAY, Aug. 10.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—The first gun in the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation campaign in this riding will be fired on Monday, August 14, at Cameron, Fenelon County. The speaker will be Miss Agnes McPhail, M.P., who will explain and expound the theories of the new party.

Mrs. Robert Cornell, Adelaide street, fell on the pavement on Kent street Wednesday evening and broke her arm. She was removed to Ross Memorial Hospital.

The corn borer is common in this district, according to the statement of the local agricultural representative. Neither the market gardener nor the people who wish to use corn on their tables should be alarmed, he states. In the cob that is not badly effected by the borer, the kernels, which have been partly destroyed may be cut out, and the remainder of the cob is quite fit for using.

The nine men from Welland district, working south of Minden on the Minden-Dorset highway, who went on strike some time ago, have returned. One of their number, it appears, was gently reprimanded for creating too much noise singing and whistling. He refused to quit and was dismissed. Eight others ceased work at the same time.

Lindsay Hydro Commission is protesting the local increase in Hydro rates. The increase does not effect the consumer, but will eat up between $8,000 and $10,000 of the local Commission's surplus each year. The rate paid by the Lindsay Commission has been increased from $42 to $46 per horse power.

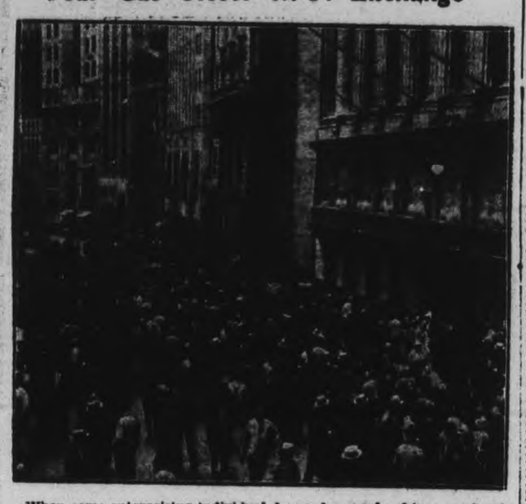
Master Reg. Edwards, of Cameron, was rushed to the Ross Hospital on Tuesday, suffering from a broken arm. The accident occurred while the little fellow was playing with companions.

This Young Lady Carries a Gun

BONNIE LEE BARBER

Perhaps you wouldn't mind being arrested if you were apprehended by such an attractive officer! Anyway, Bonnie Lee Barber of Walter Valley, Miss., has been made a deputy sheriff. Just 21, she is believed to be the youngest female deputy in the United States. Yes, she carries a gun—and knows how to use it.

Tear Gas Closes N. Y. Exchange



When some enterprising individual dropped a couple of tear gas bombs in the air conditioner of the New York Stock Exchange he brought tears to the eyes of the many hundreds of traders and employees. So many tears, in fact, that they were forced to close the exchange and get out into the street to avoid flooding the place. There were plenty of tears around 1929, but the police didnt have to look for a culprit with tear gas bombs then. Above is shown as street scene after the tears.

COSTLY KINDNESS

ALLENTON, Ill., Aug. 10 (CP)—Doctors said John McDowell, 14, might die of injuries he received when he fell from a tree he climbed to fix a broken branch that had fallen on a robin's nest, threatening to wreck the bird's home.

HOLLYWOOD

Sense and Nonsense

With the death of Sam Rork, Clara Bow lost a real friend and the only adviser she has been willing to listen to. The red-head has agreed to do one picture at Fox. After that, will she listen to the offer of any other studio?

Clara Bow

This question is being argued in many quarters in Hollywood. Rex Bell who, next to Clara is best qualified to answer it, tells me:

"Clara is terribly upset. She doesn't know whether she wants to go on at all. I believe we can persuade her into it. But there is no use of them trying to talk business to her until after 'Hoopla' is finished. Without Sam, the picture is going to be doubly hard. She must not be bothered with any other problems."

• • •

It was for Rork that the red-head finally consented to make a screen comeback last year. She was under personal contract to him for two more pictures at the time he succumbed to a heart attack.

"And we would have gone on with him as long as we made pictures," says Rex. "Clara trusted Sam."

Now that Rork is dead, the former "It Girl" has the right to name someone to represent her in the filming of her picture at Fox. Her cowboy-star husband believes she will agree upon Al Rockett, who was a close friend of Rork. The picture, he says, will start on schedule.

• • •

Seeking footlight experience, Anita Page has signed a contract that will keep her employed for at least 20 weeks in a tabloid version of "Crazy Quilt." She's leaving here for the east, accompanied by her mother. . . . Achmed Abdullah is the umpteenth writer to be assigned to do a screen version of "Lives of a Bengal Lancer." It's been two years since Ernest Schoedsack made atmosphere shots for this picture in the Orient. . . . Hoot Gibson is out of the hospital, but still limps around with a cane. Accompanied by the pretty June Gale, he has been visiting the motorcycle races, the Culver City dog track and other amusement spots.

• • •

Add to the amazing number of Hollywood stars who are off to England to appear in British films the name of Victor McLaglen. Few who have seen this swash-buckling player are aware that he was born just outside London or that his father was the Bishop of Clermont. And now the lad who boxed and soldiered his way through life is returning to his own land to make "Dick Turpin," a rollicking tale of the famous English highwayman whose notable ride to York still holds a high place in British history.

It was after the South African War, in which he served with the Life Guards, that McLaglen came to Canada. He had boxed and wrestled in the army so proceeded to make his living by this means here. He became the champion boxer of the Maritimes and the records also show that he fought the colored Jack Johnson to a no-decision bout. Later McLaglen joined the Pantages vaudeville circuit and travelled all over Canada in a wrestling act.

• • •

Tradition says he was driving a truck in Toronto at the outbreak of the Great War and joined the Canadian Expeditionary Forces. The next we hear of him McLaglen was in Mesopotamia as a lieutenant in the Irish Fusiliers. He went through several exciting engagements with the Turks and Arabs and then became Provost-Marshal of Bagdad after the British occupation under General Allenby.

At the close of the Great War, McLaglen returned to England and found himself in British films, then just in the first stages of development. Hollywood called and McLaglen had his first success in "Beau Geste" with Ronald Colman and Ralph Forbes, two other English stars who had been lured from their own country. Then came his first major role as Captain Flagg in "What Price Glory," to be followed by "The Black Watch," a tale of British army life in India, and then "The Cock-eyed World," a tale of American army life in France.

Now the prodigal is returning home but it will just be the hard luck of the British producers if another war breaks out!

FIRE RAGES HARDWOOD IN MICHIGAN PRESERVE

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 10 (AP)—Fire was taking a heavy toll of valuable hardwood timber in the University of Michigan Forest Preserve on Sugar Island yesterday, but elsewhere in Michigan's upper peninsula flames that had threatened widespread destruction were reported under control.

The fire on Sugar Island, in the lower St. Mary's River, was separated only by the narrow expanse of Duck Lake from Duck Island, on which is located the summer home of former Governor Chase S. Osborn, donor of the 3,000-acre forest preserve now being ravaged.

Unless the wind rises again, however, the fire fighters did not expect the flames to jump the water gap.

Mr. Lloyd Boyd of Toronto is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gray.

The regular monthly meeting of Marmora Council No. 279, C.O.C.F. was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Friend Mrs. F. Rose. Following the business session cards were played and a delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Courtesy To Visitors Is Omaha's Slogan

OMAHA, Neb., August 10 (CP).—If when you drive into Omaha a police officer salutes you, flashes a broad smile and hands you a copy of "The Omaha Visitor," think nothing of it—it's part of his job.

And, rest assured, under no circumstances will out-of-town motorists be "bawled out" for infraction of traffic regulatins. In short, Police Commissioner Frank Myers is determined to make Omaha known as "a smiling, courteous city because of its policemen."

"I want all traffic officers and cruiser crews to greet visiting autoists with a friendly smile and simple salute," Myers' decree said. "Information about places and amusements must be at your fingertips."

He has issued to every officer copies of "The Omaha Visitor" and "Omaha Bids You Welcome," published by the Chamber of Commerce.

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

SECURITY OF TENURE FOR FARMER ON HIS OWN LAND ONE OF PLANKS IN C.C.F. AGRICULTURAL PROGRAM moonlight until an early hour this morning.

Except for the fact that the appearance of Miss MacPhail on the platform was a little too long delayed, arrangements were completed without a hitch.

Displays Slight Annoyance.

Displaying her annoyance at being kept waiting for so long—an annoyance which was very fleeting—Miss MacPhail interrupted Mr. McDonald while he was in the midst of his introduction of her to ask from her seat in the audience, "Why am I here. Is this a church meeting, or what?"

Then a few moments later, from her position on the centre of the platform, she recalled the last occasion on which she had occupied a platform with Mr. McDonald. It was at Keene last September—a night well remembered by all who faced a bitter rainstorm to hear Miss MacPhail and William Irvine, M.P. The speaker good-naturedy twitted Mr. McDonald with having fallen off the platform that night, and jocularly reminded him that "platforms have edges."

E. A. Peck, M.P., who had been billed as one of the speakers of the evening, did not show up. Mr. McDonald, who declared to The Examiner that he extended a personal invitation to Mr. Peck to be present, asked during the course of the proceedings, "If Mr. Peck is present will he please come to the platform."

Denies Having Invitation.

Earlier yesterday when asked if he intended going to South Dummer, Mr. Peck denied that he had been invited to attend the meeting, and expressed surprise that his name should have appeared in the advertisements of the meeting.

Besides a strong delegation from the newly organized C.C.F. Club at Peterborough, including President Joseph S. Bell and other officers, W. A. Anderson, reeve of Otonabee Township, and George Fife, of Otonabee, were among those present. The presence of the Peterborough delegation did not go unnoticed by Miss MacPhail, who remarked upon the "co-operation between city and country."

New Deal for Canada.

Miss MacPhail opened her address with an explanation of the C.C.F. movement, and reviewed its inception and subsequent growth to its present proportions. "It came into being," she said, "because we had a depression in Canada which none of the old parties had attempted to tackle." The movement aimed to bring about a "new deal for Canada," she remarked.

"We have had in Canada during the last two decades," the speaker claimed, "governments that have served not the people of Canada, but who have abetted the financial groups and the press to maintain a stranglehold on the national life." The major parties were servants to the interests that provided propaganda capital, the speaker maintained.

As a member of the Council of the C.C.F., Miss MacPhail related she had attended the Regina conference where the 14-point manifesto, running to 14,000 words, had been formulated. The convention, which she described as a "wonderful conference," was thrown wide open to the public through the press of the country. All the cards were laid on the table in the light of day.

J. S. Woodsworth, president of the Federation, she described as "a man of great culture, of fine old Canadian and United Empire Loyalist stock—a fact not commonly known." She also related that Mr. Woodsworth's forebears had been great religious leaders. "I tell you this," she said, "so that when you hear people saying Woodsworth is a Russian and a Bolshie who has changed his name you can tell those people to go jump in the lake.

"You need not feel ashamed of the personnel who sat on the platform at that conference," she told her audience. Continuing, she spoke of the several scholarly men who were included in the ranks of the party.

"I came from the conference feeling that the manifesto I have here (waving a bunch of papers before her audience) is the finest political document Canada has seen since Confederation. I mean that," she said with conviction. "And the only criticism I can offer against it is that it is possibly a little in advance of where we are now."

Launching a fresh attack upon the press, and claiming that the press was controlled by the big financial interests for the spread of their own propaganda, the speaker openly criticized the Toronto Globe for its failure to carry adequate coverage of C.C.F. activities. "The Liberals have no paper in Toronto now; the Conservatives have three, and the C.C.F. one."

Recently, Miss MacPhail said she had learned on good authority that "two million dollars had been loaned to one Toronto morning paper. I don't think that paper carries any C.C.F. news," she remarked meaningly.

Causes of Depression.

Touching upon economic problems, Miss MacPhail believed the two prime causes of the existing depression to be due to mechanization of industry and the consequent over-production of commodities; and the inability of the present financial machine, which was in the hands of a few private individuals, to carry the load.

The three leading banks of the Dominion, she claimed, controlled 72 per cent. of the banking business of Canada. "Do you call that democracy?" she demanded. She did not. It was a system which gives the banks complete control over industry and which made the financial interests more powerful than the government itself.

"If Canada is to return to true freedom, the great financial group must be broken. The thing we must do for Canada is to gain for the people control over finance," she declared.

Unwarranted Inflation.

Making passing comment on currency, inflation, loans and interest, the speaker maintained that Canada had experienced an unwarranted degree of inflation of currency in the last three years. The country had reached the point of demoralization, "and that is why we are here to-night."

She believed that what little improvement had been shown in the general condition of Canada of late was directly attributable to the action of President Roosevelt; who had taken the United States off the gold standard.

"He has done more for Canada indirectly in the past few months, than Premier Bennett has done in three years, and I say that with humiliation and with no degree of pride," Miss MacPhail stated.

Offering some remedies for the present ills, Miss MacPhail suggested that the C.C.F. would bring about the nationalization not only of banks, but trust companies and insurance companies also. Taxes would be levied upon the people who could afford to pay them.

In conclusion the speaker dealt briefly with the unemployment situation, declaring that the need of immediate action was imperative. She suggested that the present administration would have to "launch an extensive program of public works financed without interest." If the government did not do that, she remarked, "they are bigger fools that I thought they were."

It was no use thinking of placing men into productive employment under present conditions. While that might ease the situation for the time being, it would only have the tendency to increase its acuteness as soon as the supply of goods had again exceeded the demand. The C.C.F. policy would be to put hydro into every farm home throughout the province; to undertake extensive refcrestation work, and to develop housing schemes to do away with slums that should not exist in a country with a mere population of ten millions of people.

Those who contributed to an enjoyable program of entertainment included, Mrs. Rork Ferguson, wife of the Reeve of Asphodel, at the piano; Dr. Munro's orchestra; Fife's orchestra; Miss Laura Metcalfe and William Anderson, elocutionists.

Daring Fliers Break Non-Stop Record

RECOVERY PLAN FOR DOMINION

nipeg, in a statement issued yesterday, said there were two ways of looking at the United States recovery program. The results aimed at, and whether the philosophy of the "new deal" was in harmony with, or acceptable to, our views of democratic government.

"I am in hearty accord with the purposes intended, including, among other things, jobs instead of direct relief for those out of employment, relief for agriculture by higher prices for its products and encouragement for industry and business by the increased purchasing power of workers of all classes, including farmers," the Manitoba premier said in his statement.

Premier S. F. Tolmie of British Columbia described the experiments in United States as "most interesting." He added they should be "carefully observed, and those which appear to be practical and of benefit to Canada might be adopted here."

The play-offs are scheduled as follows: August 15, 18, 22, 25 and 29. The three games with the Outlaws will be played on September 1, 5 and 8.

Obituary

MRS. ROBERT LINN

(By Examiner Staff Corresponden!)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10.— Another link with the past in this district was severed yesterday when Christina M. Smith, widow of the late Robert Linn, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex Abar, following a stroke sustained some days ago. She was in her 75th year. Born in Seymour East, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Smith, she lived all her life in the district and for the past thirteen years in the town of Campbellford. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Wm. J. Boothly of Toronto, and Mrs. Alex Abar of Campbellford; one sister, Mrs. Clement Bayes of Campbellford, and one brother, Mr. Walter J. Smith of Los Angeles, Cal. The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 1.30 at the home of Mrs. Abar, Canrobert street, interment being made in the family plot in Mount Pleasant cemetery. The Rev. J. C. Robinson of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church will conduct the service, assisted by the Rev. H. P. L. Seymour and Deaconess Findlay.

MRS. C. H. NADOO.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The death occurred suddenly early yesterday morning of Effa Haigh, widow of Charles H. Nadoo, at her Campbellford home on Inkerman Street. She was in her 62nd year. Born in Stouffville, Ontario, she has resided in town for the past thirty years. Although not in good health for the past few weeks, she was up and about until the end. Her husband predeceased her last January. Surviving are two daughters: (Thelma) Mrs. Ed. Mosthaf, of Flint, Mich., and (Norma) Mrs. Robert Ingram of Campbellford. It is expected that the funeral will be held on Friday afternoon.

Four Fine Black Bass Are Caught By J. W. Allen on the Indian River

When it comes to fishing, J. W. Allen, this city, is content to rely on dew-worms. Results have won him to that opinion. Mr. Allen broke all bass-catching records for this district last evening when he landed four black bass, ranging in weight from 4 pounds 14 ounces to 5 pounds 11 ounces. He made the big haul on Indian River.

2—19¾ inches long, 13¼ girth; weight 5 pounds 10 ounces.
3—17¼ inches long, 13½ girth; weight 5 pounds 4 ounces.
4—16¾ inches long, 12 girth; weight 4 pounds, 14 ounces

Millbrook

George Sayles, of Kirkland Lake, northern Ontario, is spending the month of August in the village, and is at present the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke.

Dick Williams and A. T. Armstrong took in the excursion to Toronto by C.P.R. last Wednesday, the outing being sponsored by the Recreation Club of Havelock.

Miss Marorie Hoskin, of the local telephone staff, has returned after spending her annual vacation in Kirkland Lake, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. and Miss Marjorie Sayles.

Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham was the guest of her granddaughter, Mrs. A. C. Darling, and Mr. Darling, at Chemong Park on Saturday, the special occasion being the birthday of her great-granddaughter, Betty Darling, who was nine years old on that date. The tea table was arranged in a color scheme of pink and white, with tall pink candles in silver holders, and nine tiny pink tapers on the birthday cake which centred the table, and in which the initial insertion of the knife was made by the little hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howe, and family, of Toronto, are spending two weeks' vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nattress. Last Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Howe and their two little daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Burnham and family, were guests of Mrs. E. McConnell at her summer cottage, Pine Point, Rice Lake, a glorious bonfire on the beach and a marshmallow roast being highlights of the party. Mrs. Todd, and daughter, of Rochester, who had been visiting Mrs. McConnell, were returning to their home in the States the next day.

Miss Jean Burnham returned home last week after a pleasant holiday at Wasaga Beach, Georgian Bay, where she was the guest of Rev. S. T. and Mrs. Tucker at their summer home; and also visiting friends in Toronto on the way home.

Master Jack Wilson, son of Mrs. Thomas Wilson, who has almost fully recovered from the accident when he was knocked off his bicycle by a hit-and-run driver of a car while on his way to the Lower Pond for a swim some three weeks ago, is holidaying with his aunt in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell, and Mr. and Mrs. Gillies and son, Fred, of Toronto, were guests of Mr. and and Mrs. B. L. Richards over the Civic Holiday week-end.

Pile Sufferers

Your itching, bleeding, or protruding piles will go and not come back when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel—and not one minute before. Salves or suppositories can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation drives out the thick, impure blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of success in even the most stubborn cases that McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere urge every sufferer to get a bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets today. They must end your pile agony or money back.

STATE OF WAR REIGNS IN CUBA

control. Unrest has increased, and the attitude of the United States is being watched closely by Cubans wondering what action President Roosevelt may take. Mr. Roosevelt's desire, as expressed yesterday at Hyde Park, N.Y., is that the political difficulties be solved "at the earliest possible moment," so that economic welfare may be preserved.

One hope for compromise was found in a conference arranged for this morning between eight senators and eight members of Machado's Liberal Party. Another series of conferences called for exchange of views between Ambassador Welles, Secretary Ferrera, a group of Liberal Congressmen and a mixed Congressional commission.

The House of Representatives was convoked for session to-day to hear Secretary Ferrara, but Ferrara said he had not been asked to attend.

Widespread police precautions have been taken to halt violence. The explosion of a bomb early today, however, emphasized that strikers are not retreating from their position. The bomb damaged a bake-shop, the owner of which had not joined the strike.

Officials at the British Legation declined to confirm a report that Grant Watson, the British Minister, had conferred with Welles about the treatment of British subjects and damage to British property during the disturbances.

Agitator Warned.

Bertha Skirving, a cable company employee, who said she is an American, was arrested for allegedly speaking unfavorably of Cuba, but was released, after being warned against a recurrence.

Secretary Ferrara told the Associated Press that Senator Pedro Goderich, who was reported yesterday as having assured Welles of cooperation in the mediation efforts, had later asked Machado for an interview to-day in order to express his esteem for the President.

A meeting of the Liberals, Dr. Ferrara said, was called for to-day, when it was expected they would vote to support Machado.

Oscar B. Cintas, Cuban Ambassador to the United States, who conferred with President Roosevelt yesterday, was expected to talk with American State Department officials to-day, according to Ferrara, and to inform the Secretary of developments subsequently.

Too Busy To Get Married Lady Member Tells Examiner's Inquiring Reporter

Miss Agnes MacPhail, only woman Member of Parliament in Canada, would consider marriage, were she not so busy with parliamentary duties, and if she could forego her devoted allegiance to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. She admitted as much, when quizzed by an Examiner reporter at the U.F.O. picnic in South Dummer last evening, as to the significance of a diamond ring she was wearing.

While one of the prime essentials of a reporter's make-up is inquisitiveness, to a degree—a fact which was gracefully recognized by Miss MacPhail as she sipped a cup of coffee at a hot dog booth, it was with some timidity that she was asked, if she had recently become engaged.

"Why, No!" she replied laughingly. And then as if to explain the presence of her escort who had made the trip down from Toronto with her, "I came down with a very good friend of mine, and I have many friends. I might consider becoming engaged if I were not so busy with other matters," she admitted, lightly dismissing the incident.

The burning of peat lands nowadays is not generally recommended, as uneven burning is likely to occur and there is grave danger of removing so much of the top soil that the infertile soil will be exposed. Burning, however, may be resorted to if the peat is very deep and litle decomposed, and if there is no danger of fire spreading.

DEATH.

ROYCROFT—HEFFERNAN

The wedding took place quietly on Wednesday at one o'clock at St. Andrew's United Church, of Helen Madge, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Heffernan, Bethune street, and George H. Roycroft, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roycroft, of Ireland; Rev. Charles V. McLean, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and gladioli.

The bride was attired in rose printed crepe with large hat to match, and white accessories.

The young couple were attended by Miss Muriel Donaldson and Mr. Jack Heffernan, of Chatham.

The young couple after a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Windsor will reside at 1126 Ontario avenue, Niagara Falls, Ont. They will return to Peterborough early next week before taking up residence there.

OVENS—BARTLETT

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, 554 Aylmer street, when Elizabeth Alda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bartlett became the bride of William George Ovens, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Arthur Ovens, of Cobourg. The Rev. W. R. Tanton, of Oshawa, officiating.

The drawing room was banked with palms, ferns and gladioli and while the guests were assembling, Mr. J. T. Priest, of Stratford played a violin solo, "Liebestraum." The wedding music was played by Mr. G. F. Liddle of Toronto, and during the signing of the register, Mrs. Liddle sang, "Love's Coronation" by Alward.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was lovely in a gown of cream tripple chiffon, with cream mohair hat, having a cluster of cream gardenias on the right side. She carried a nosegay of Johanna Hill Roses and Lily of the Valley. The bride also carried a handmade lace handkerchief, carried by her mother, at her wedding.

The best man was Mr. Carl M. Campbell and Mr. W. Grant Miller acted as usher.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's mother receiving in a gown of yellow painted chiffon with hat of brown chinchilla mohair. She wore a corsage of bronze rosebuds. The groom's mother wore a gown of black and white tripple georgette with hat of white crepe and corsage of pink rosebuds.

On their return they will reside at 375 Stewart street, Peterborough.

LONG—DRURY

St. Luke's Church was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Monday at 8 a.m. when Amy Edna, daughter of Mrs. Drury and the late Robert Drury, of Highland Grove, became the bride of Alfred A. Long, only son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Long, 458, Driscoll Terrace. The ceremony was performed by Rural Dean G. J. Bousfield.

The bride was gracefully gowned in pale blue mousseline de soie the long skirt flaring out at the ankles. She wore a hat of matching hue, grey kid shoes, hose and lace mittens, with a corsage bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony, the bridal couple and immediate relatives and friends gathered at the home of the groom's parents where a wedding breakfast was served, the table being tastefully arranged with an Irish filet cloth, tall pink candles and silver vases of flowers at each end, the table being centred with the bride's cake.

The young couple left later for a honeymoon trip to Niagara, Buffalo and Windsor and on their return will reside in Peterborough. The bride travelled in a navy blue French crepe suit with matching accessories.

RUSSELL—MARTIN

Decorated with a profusion of lovely summer flowers and ferns, with ribbons and white flowers marking off the guest pews, St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Port Hope, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Monday afternoon at three o'clock when Patricia Rosamond, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Martin, Ridout street, became the bride of James Douglas Russell, son of Mr. A. J. Russell, Cobourg. The Rev. Dr. K. H. Palmer officiated.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mr. A. H. N. Snelgrove, the bridal party proceeded down the aisle. Miss Alene Gifford, Port Hope, as bridesmaid looked charming in pale green silk organdie made floor length and girdled with a bow of green satin ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of mauve sweet peas, tied with a huge bow of mauve maline. She wore a picture hat of cream lacey straw with mauve satin trimmings, white kid gloves and slippers completed her costume.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was lovely in a gown of shell pink point point D'esprit, appliqued with pink crepe made floor length, a little matching jacquett with puffed elbow sleeves, was caught with a bow in front. She wore a long tulle veil arranged in a cap effect, caught with lily of the valley. Her gloves were of silk mesh, elbow length, and white kid slippers and hose.

Her bridal bouquet was a shower of Briarcliff roses and baby's breath tied with a bow of pink chiffon ribbon.

Mr. Cyril Hewson of Port Hope was groomsman and Wallace Gifford and Wm. Henderson were ushers.

During the ceremony, Mr. Snelgrove played "Traumerei" very softly. During the signing of the register, Miss Thelma Martin, sister of the bride sang "O! Promise Me." She wore lovely gown of new blue crepe ankle length, blue hat and gloves to match, being slippers and hose and wore a corsage of roses.

Following the service, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for a number of relatives and friends. The table was beautifully decorated in the bride's colors of pink and white.

Later the happy couple left for a motor trip to Niagara and Buffalo, the bride travelling in a smart yellow crepe sport dress and hat with white accessories.

On their return, they will reside on University Ave., Cobourg.

ENNISMORE SUPPER WEDNESDAY AUG. 23

Rev. Father McAuley Announces Date of Annual Fowl Supper.

One of the most popular of the season's lawn socials is that of St. Martin's Church Parish, Ennismore, of which Father McAuley is parish priest. This year it will be held on the Church Grounds, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 23rd. The parishioners of Ennismore are noted for their hospitality and for the splendid fowl supper which they serve, and no doubt the social will be as largely attended by residents of the city and surrounding country as in former years.

Police Court

Police are learning more about just how hard Carl Nicholson, no certain address, was striving to end the depression. Nicholson had an idea, all his own, of how to bring back good times. Cheques and then more cheques formed the basis of his system. He forged cheques right and left. Four of these cheques are now in the hands of police, and Nicholson to-day pleaded guilty to four charges of forgery. The cheques were made out for various amounts, $10 being their highest figure. Nicholson was remanded until Saturday for sentence.

According to police, Nicholson's record shows that he has been convicted of forgery previously.

EXCELLENT SERVICE FOR AUTO OWNERS

Peterboro' Auto and Building Wreckers Provide Facilities in Peterboro' Area.

An indispensable service to auto owners in the Peterborough trading area is that rendered by the Peterborough Auto and Building Wreckers, whose activities aid, in no small measure, the progress of the community. This firm will purchase your old worn-out car or one that has been burned or in a wreck. It is taken to their place of business, torn down, and good parts, such as fenders, engines of running order, tops, etc., are salvaged and the remainder is placed upon a scrap heap to be sold as junk. From these segregated piles of good salvaged parts one may often find just the part needed to replace old worn parts of their automobile. This concern not only saves much money in the purchase of parts, but eliminates the waste of time waiting for parts to be ordered from the factory or nearest dealer who happens to stock the particular desired article.

At this local institution you will also find a complete line of new parts, for if you feel that it is wiser to buy new, you may do so. You will find that it is distinctly to your advantage to see their supply and get their prices before buying automobile parts.

All employees at Peterborough Auto and Building Wreckers are familiar with automobiles and trucks, and you will find them courteous and accommodating at all times. Deliveries are made, both local and out of town and parts may be mailed to you if you make your needs known either by phoning 3170 or by mail.

Peterborough Auto and Building Wreckers has grown by leaps and bounds since they were established. Geo. H. Martin, the owner and general manager of this concern, saw a necessity with the increase of automobile owners, and in a most admirable manner has filled the need.

Do you know the price on two articles or parts of any kind stocked by this firm?

Housekeepers who have no refrigerator sometimes follow the plan of keeping the milk cool by wrapping the milk bottle in a wet cloth and standing it in a dish of cold water by an pen shaded window. The evaporation of the water helps to keep the milk cool but it is important that the milk or cream be protected from direct sunlight or a tallowy flavour will develop.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner.

Mr. S. Campbell,
Dumble Ave. Peterborough.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are very sensitive, yet you have a delicate sense of proportion. Strife is abhorrent to you, yet you cannot seem to take the role of peacemaker. You are not firm in your likes and dislikes. One day you imagine you desire something above all else and next day you wonder what made you even think of such a thing. By nature you are decidedly versatile . . . subject to change as easily and quickly as the weather. When the sun shines, you are happy. When the day is dull, so are you. Perhaps if you could create a hobby—something that you have always wanted to do, and give your spare time to perfecting that hobby, it would assist you greatly to overcome fear of expressing yourself. I can see that in the back of your mind you do wish to do something. It is a secret ambition. You can realize it. Say to yourself repeatedly, "I can, if I will."

Harold R. Lancaster,
R. R. 7, Peterborough.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis describes you as not quite mature in years and not very decided about your future work. I might suggest that you study machinery or structural works because you seem to have ability in that direction. The long, flying 't' bar crossing shows that you have imagination, which could be directed into interesting channels. You have a tendency to draw yourself into a reserved silence, and become secretive at times, not always. The real you is generous, kind-hearted and tolerable, but somehow you seem to hide your feelings quite successfully when you desire to do so. Try not to cramp your style. Get out of doors as much as possible and enjoy the beauties of nature.

Miss Marguerite Dafoe,
R. R. 1, Havelock.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis, versatile in its formations, is cognitive of your rapid thinking brain. You are highly intuitive, rather inclined to be analytical. Often you act on impulse and do your clear thinking afterwards—much to your sorrow. You are vivacious, humorous and ambitious. You desire personal success and become greatly depressed when your plans go astray. At times you issue cutting remarks, then feel most penitent. You are adaptable to prevailing conditions and can accommodate yourself in many ingenious ways. You are fond of music but do not desire to make a deep study of any one special art. You are most discreet as regards your own personal business and also in your choice of friends. This noteworthy and commendable discretion does not, however, bring you the satisfactory results that you would like, and perhaps were you to take your friends as they come, you would enjoy their company better.

Mrs. W. Murphy,
Norwood, Ontario.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are a persistent person. You set your mind on something and it is very difficult for anybody to change it. You are very intelligent and talented. Your mind is instructive. You are quick in actions, words and accomplishments. You are enthusiastic and keen, diligent and discerning. You are discreet and pleasing, polite and humorous. You are perhaps a little temperamental and do fly into a rage, when occasion demands. The whole outline of your writing bespeaks of energy and vitality. You may be rather blunt and unflattering sometimes, but this is because you speak your mind, if you do not like a thing or person. However, you are sincere and loyal to those whom you deem worthy of your friendship, but very cautious about making acquaintances.

Miss M. G. Dafoe,
Havelock, Ontario.

The variable size and shape of your small letters denotes versatility. You do not seem to be in the same frame of mind for long at a time. You do not know what makes you change, and often you wish you could be like somebody else whom you admire. This state of mind is most likely due to extreme youth or else is partly due to the fact that you are not in your right sphere as to vocation as yet. However, no matter which vocation you choose, you will find it essential to curb that versatility to some extent, unless you desire to become a travelling reporter, even at that you would find it quite difficult to 'write your daily quota on time.' I haven't meant to hurt your feelings, but really desire to be helpful, so now I will disclose your good qualifications. Your last word 'Ontario' is written with vim and expression. It shows that you will be most progressive, once you 'start.' It represents dominant characteristics chiefly pertaining to business. It shows keen interest in everything of an intellectual nature. It portrays art either as critic or designer.

Mrs. Shadgett, Sr.,
31 Park Street N.
Peterborough, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis indicates a changeable nature. You are a creature of many moods. Sometimes very happy, and sometimes cross and despondent. Your large graceful capital 'S' describes another side of your nature, that of romance and idealism. You are most imaginative and often let your vivid visualizations carry you away off into the clouds of 'make believe.' Apart from the above, you are a very practical person. You do not let dreams shield you from everyday, honest facts. You know just how much you have to spend and have to assert a happy faculty of making the most of it cheerfully. You possess a remarkable amount of driving force, and vitality, which has a tendency to promote energetic work, long after you are really bodily tired. You should store up a little of your reserve strength to serve you in time of need.

Mrs. Annie Fleming,
Hastings, Ontario.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are slightly nervous but endeavor to hide the fact by forcing yourself to do things which cause you mental stress. You are not really well enough, physically, to undertake any strenuous labor. You need quiet, refined surroundings in order to recuperate some portion of your nervous energy. You are what is termed 'complaisant.' You will do anything to please another. You cannot endure quarrels of any nature. They upset your mental equilibrium and cause anguish and pain. The uneven formations of your letters bespeak of versatility and a desire to be different. You mean to do well at all times, but must take your time and not rush into anything. Keen, careful thought will assist one of your personality greatly and a few moments of absolute silence alone, each day, will work wonders. Try it.

D. M. Elliot,
Bridgenorth, Ontario.

Your writing shows power to determine what you want, and willpower to secure your objective, as noteworthy characteristics. You have rather a sweet, lovable disposition, but there are times when your patience is tried beyond human endurance, then you are subject to spells of apasmodic depression. These spells soon pass and you regain your mental equilibrium. You are quite clever with your hands and can use them to good advantage in many important undertakings. You are very proud of your home surroundings and endeavor to provide the right atmosphere for your charming personality. You are fair-minded and always make an effort to look squarely on both sides of a question before you pass an opinion on it. You enjoy the society of your friends but do not want them around you too much. You desire, and must have, a certain amount of quiet in order to rest your mental faculties. You are loyal to those whom you love, and would go through any amount of suffering for them.

Mrs. Olive Genslinger,
Hall's Bridge, Ontario.

This writing reveals many interesting characteristics. It shows that you are artistic and that you appreciate the finer things of life. You are inclined to be a little too hasty in making decisions, and so do not always arrive at the correct conclusion. You can be secretive, and you can be openhearted. The two characteristics lend charming interest to one of your type, especially in business. The softness of the pressure with which you write shows that you are friendly, yet do not grant your friendship to all and sundry. Your mind is keen and clever. Your hands are essentially busy. You are not one of the type to remain idle for long at a time. You are ingenious and observing. You are refined in your manner of dress and of speech. You are well poised and distinguished. You appear to be imaginative and perhaps nervous at times. Nothing seems to upset you as much as work which does not 'go' right. Let me wish you every success for the future.

Nellie Tinney,
Havelock, Ontario.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are energetic and quite forceful. You are intelligent and have a keen mind for detail. The crossing of your 't' bars shows self-expression and excellent will-power and determination. Your capital letter formations reflect an artistic tendency. The dotting of your letter 'i' suggests positiveness in decisions. You are a person with a good deal of poise, and should find no obstacle too great to overcome because you are quite progressive, and not aggressive. You should feel at your best when among people, for you are interesting and love to be able to use those excellent brains which you possess.

Lynton Bristow, Millbrook.

Your handwriting is not very definitely established on your coupon, being written in pencil and also being quite blurred, so if this delineation is not as accurate as you would desire, please write again, and in ink. As it is represented now, it shows imagination of an impractical type, rather given to 'spurts' of vision. The will power as reflected on this sample leads me to believe that you can be most stubborn and persistent in your demands. You seem to do yourself out of many good times, due to this characteristic. Youth seems to be the predominating factor at present, so no doubt you will outgrow these tendencies as you become more mature. If you care to write me a letter stating your ambitions, and give me your birthdate and year, I shall be glad to answer through The Examiner, and give you a more definite outline upon which to base your plans.

TARZAN THE TERRIBLE - - - - - - - - By Edgar Rice Burroughs

From the pouch the man-thing took strips of dried meat and a handful of thin-shelled nuts which he offered Tarzan. As they ate, the pithecanthropus pointed ot the nuts, flesh and nearby objects, meanwhile repeating what Tarzan though must be the names of these articles in the creature's native language. The ape-man could but smile at his new-found companion's evident desire to instruct him to that they could make themselves understood to each other.

Having already mastered several laiguages and a multitude of dialects, the ape-man felt that he could readily learn another even though this one appeared entirely unrelated to any with which he was familiar. So occupied were the two with the lesson and their breakfast that neither was aware of the beady eyes glittering down upon them from above. Even Tarzan was caught off-guard as a huge, hairy body leaped full upon his companion from the overhanging bows.

Spring to his feet, Tarzan saw the thing was a creature like his tailed companion, except that its body was entirely clothed with shaggy, black hair. It almost concealed the fellow's features. Before the ape-man could prevent, the creature struck Tarzan's companion a blow with its knotted club and the man-thing dropped to the earth. Before the newcomer could inflict further injury upon its defenseless prey, Tarzan of the Apes had closed with him.

Instantly Tarzan realized that he was locked with a creature of superhuman strength. The sinewy fingers of a powerful hand sought the ape-man's throat while the other hand lifted the bludgeon above his head. But if the strength of the hairy attacker was great, great too, was that of his smooth-skinned antagonist! Tarzan swung a single, terrific blow with clenched fist to the other's chin, which, for a moment, staggered his assailant.

As Tarzan's fingers closed upon the shaggy throat, with the other hand he seized the wrist of the arm that swung the club. With equal celerity he shot his right leg behind the shaggy brute. Then throwing his weight forward, he hurled the thing over his hip heavily to the ground. At the same time he threw his own massive body upon the other's chest.

With the shock of the impact the club fell from the brute's hand and Tarzan's hold was wrenched from its throat. Instantly the two were locked in a death-like embrace. The creature bit repeatedly at the ape-man but without much effect as its canines were not the sharp teeth of a flesh-eating beast. What Tarzan had most to guard against was that sinuous tail.

Time and again the creature sought to wrap its tail about Tarzan's throat, and against this method of fighting experience had afforded the ape-man no defense. Struggling and snarling, the two rolled growling about the ground. First one was on top and then the other, each most occupied in defending his throat and wind-pipe against the other's choking grasp.

Presently the ape-man saw his opportunity. As they rolled about beneath the tree he forced the hairy pithecanthropus closer and closer to the pool upon the banks of which the battle was progressing. At last they lay upon the very verge of the water. Now it remained for Tarzan to precipitate them both beneath the surface, but in such a way that he might remain on top.

Slowly but surely Tarzan succeeded in forcing the hairy pithecanthropus nearer the water's edge. Suddenly there came within range of his vision just behind the prostrate form of his companion, the man-thing, the crouching, devil-faced figure of a striped saber-tooth hybrid. It was eyeing the ape-man with snarling, malevolent face.

Tarzan's shaggy antagonist, too, saw the menacing figure of the great cat. Immediately he ceased his warfare against the ape-man. Jabbering and chattering, he tried now merely to disengage himself from Tarzan's hold. Appreciating the danger of his unconscious companion lying near the tree, and anxious to protect him from the saber-tooth, the ape-man let go his hold upon his adversary and together the two leaped to their feet.

Drawing his knife, Tarzan moved slowly toward the still body of his companion, the man-thing. In so doing, he expected the hairy pithecanthropus would grasp the opportunity for escape. To his surprise, however, the fellow, after regaining his club, followed close at Tarzan's side. The great cat crouched, flattened, motionless save for twitching tail and snarling lips, some fifty feet beyond the prostrate man-thing.

Stepping over the body of the latter, Tarzan saw its eyes quiver and open. Tarzan felt a sense of relief in seeing that the creature still lived, for in his savage breast there was a strong bond of attachment already for this strange new friend. Only a second he paused and then continued to approach the saber-tooth. Again to his surprise he found that the shaggy pithecanthropus continued to stick close beside him.

Closer and closer came Tarzan and the pithecanthropus to the beast until, at a distance of about twenty feet, the hybrid charged. Its rush was directed toward the shaggy man-like ape who halted in his tracks with upraised blugeon to meet the assault. Tarzan however, leaped forward and with a quickness equal to that of the swift-moving cat, threw himself headlong upon it like a football tackler.

His muscular right arm circled the beast's neck. His left, gripped behind its left foreleg. So great was the impact that the two rolled several times upon the ground, the cat screaming and clawing to liberate itself that it might turn upon its attacker, the ape-man clinging desperately to his hold. It appeared an attack of mad, senseless ferocity unguided by either reason or skill.

But Tarzan of the Apes rarely did anything foolishly. The muscles of his giant frame were trained from long experience to obey his cunning brain and meet every encounter no matter what the odds seemed to be against him. His long, powerful legs now looked hopelessly entangled with the hind feet of the clawing cat, yet by a miracle, they escaped its raking talons.

Tarzan knew what he was about and just at the proper moment in the midst of all the rolling and tossing, his lithe and muscled legs were exactly where they should be to carry out the ape-man's plan of offense. So that during the very instant that the cat believed it had won the fight, it felt itself suddenly jerked upward as the ape-man sprang to his feet, holding the striped back close against his body as he arose.

Have You, The "Can't Afford It" Habit ?

THE use of that phrase does not suggest the inability to buy so much as the desire to practice rigid economy . . . to save . . . to deny yourself needed and necessary commodities.

But Man, oh Man, and you, too, Madam, how better and more effectively can you practice economy and thrift than to buy when prices are at their lowest ebb in years? How more certainly can you insure economy than to replace worn or out-of-date furniture than when new is selling for one-third of what it sold for 15 years ago? Or to stock up on food products when they are 40% less than at any time since the war? Or clothing when $53 to-day will buy you what you paid $100 for in 1912?

What you really cannot afford to do is not buy because you cannot afford to miss to-day's low levels . . . prices that are an actual boon to reduced incomes . . . to the practice of sensible, far-sighted economy.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

It is said that the famous Mary, Queen of Scots, created quite a court scandal in her day by refusing ever to bathe her skin with anything except wine. Mary, it seems, had a low opinion of water. And court tongues clacked loud and long when this lovely queen was forced to request an increased allowance, so that she could procure sufficient wine for her daily ablutions.

In this three-point-two era, of course, women do not have the same lowly opinion of water as did Queen Mary. They know it's good to drink. And they also know that it forms an effective medium for cleansing the skin.

However, I wouldn't have any woman believe that all water can safely be utilized for cleansing the skin. Soft water always can be employed safely, it's true. Hard water, though, is anything but beneficial to the skin. Such water tends to remove too much natural oil from the skin, and often leaves it dry, harsh and leathery.

Any girl who desires to retain her schoolgirl complexion should always be sure that the water she uses for cleansing her skin is soft. Many damsels, you know, spend their summer vacations in hard water districts. And they injure their skins considerably because they lack any knowledge of hard water or water softeners.

If you have any intention of passing your vacation in a hard water district this season, be sure that you take a good water softener with you. An use it faithfully, too. You can even make your own water softener, if you desire. The procedure is simple.

To soften water for cleansing your hands and face, boil a pound of ordinary bran in a gallon of water for half an hour. After the boiling, strain the mixture, and place the liquid in a sealable receptacle. Then, whenever you intend washing, simply pour enough of the bran solution in your basin of water to turn it milkly. A few drops of tincture of benzoin will also help to soften a basin of hard water.

Bran is also effective for softening bath water. Make little cheesecloth bags and place in each of them a cupful of bran. Then, whenever you bathe, toss one of the bags into your tub of water. You can vary this by using a cup of oatmeal and half a cup of almond meal in each bag instead, if you wish. Such bags soften bath water effectively, and help to keep the skin soft, smooth and velvety.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Reducing

Jerry: My booklet on "The New Figure" does, indeed, contain effective exercises for reducing hips, bust and thighs. The diet contained in the booklet should not only take off weight, but should also help to improve your complexion.

Hands

Dot: An excellent remedy for perspiring hands can be made of two drams of boric acid, three drams of borax, three drams of salicylic acid, and three ounces each of glycerine and bay rum.

Buttermilk

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Summer is a great season for souvenirs. This brings the paper knife into prominence since it is one of the favorite mementoes to be exhibited and to be bought and carried away by tourists.

* * * * * * *

The paper knives are either kept for themselves, to be presented to friends indicating they were not forgotten, though distance departed them. All this is delightful.

* * * * * * *

But it does not signify that the paper cutters are practical writing table accessories, or library utensils. The knives may be ornamental but really this is not quite enough.

* * * * * * *

So it might be worth while to tell some of the good points which they should have.

* * * * * * *

First and foremost a paper knife should cut paper so that a clean edge results. There should be no ragged edges. This means that the blade must be thin, and reasonably sharp.

* * * * * * *

The trouble with most paper knives is that they are too thick and bulky. Such paper knives are merely ornaments, and it all depends upon whether they are handsome if they even qualify for this. If not they are but tawdry articles to clutter up one's table.

* * * * * * *

There are three excellent types of paper cutters. One is the average size cutter intended, above everything else, to cut the leaves of magazines or the pages of books.

* * * * * * *

The second is the small knife for opening letters. The third is the wide flat and very thin metal cutter for cutting flat papers.

* * * * * * *

This latter knife is intended to be laid flat on the paper to be cut, and the paper is turned up at the top corner and torn against the edge of the cutter.

* * * * * * *

The ordinary paper cutter and letter opener, even though excellent in style, can be so used that they do not function well. The knife should be carefully slipped between the two layers of paper and drawn outward and upward steadily and evenly.

* * * * * * *

There should be a quick little jerk of the knife to start with and a slow and careful finish so that corners are kept square.

* * * * * * *

Paper knives may be so beautiful that they are worthy ornaments of library or living room tables.

OUTSWIMS FISH.

COLUMBIA, Pa.— William Farley tells how he caught a three-pound bass. He momentarily placed his rod on the bank of Kerbaugh's lake, and the fish struck. Off went the fish, hook, line and rod.

Fully dressed, Farley outswam the fish with its drag and towed the bass back to shore.

Germany To Prohibit Anti-Austrian Action

ROME, Aug. 10 (A.P.).—A German promise to prohibit anti-Austrian propaganda by leaflets dropped from aeroplanes and by broadcasts has been communicated by the Italian Government to the British and French Ambassadors.

Chancellor Hitler of Germany was quoted in the Italian announcement as denying responsibility for alleged Nazi terroristic acts in Austria. The communication also advised against further representations to Germany in the matter.

(To British and French protests on Monday against propaganda against the Austrian Government, the German Government replied the British and French interference was "inadmissable" and that "Germany considers the incident closed.")

Picking of early apples in British Columbia commenced last week.

THE HAND HOG.

WE ALWAYS have had, and I presume that we always will have, hand hogs, who are selfish enough to want to play the combined cards of declarer and dummy, regardless of which partner should assume this privilege. I saw an exaggerated case of this sort with the hands shown below. North and South alone were vulnerable. Not only did South make a bad opening bid, but in addition he disregarded repeated warnings from his partner, winding up with severely criticizing that sufferer for not again warning South of the situation.

	♠ K ♥ A Q 10 8 7 ♦ 6 ♣ A K Q 10 6 5
♠ Q 7 ♥ K J 9 3 ♦ K Q J 5 2 ♣ 8 3		♠ J 6 4 3 ♥ 6 5 4 2 ♦ 10 7 3 ♣ 4 2
	♠ A 10 9 8 5 2 ♥ None ♦ A 9 8 4 ♣ J 9 7

Bidding went: South, a bad opening bid of 1-Spade; West, 2-Diamonds; North, 4-Clubs, to force; South, 4-Spades; North, 5-Hearts; South, 5-Spades; North, 6-Clubs; South, 6-Spades. I wonder that North did not bid 7-Spades, as he knew that his partner must hold both black Aces to open the bidding, and South should hold either the Q of spades or the K of hearts, or, perhaps, a double stop to clubs to have an opening bid and so many rebids. Nobody doubled. Nobody wanted to drive North into a grand slam at clubs, at which make there must be a grand slam without difficulty.

The opening lead was the K of diamonds. Declarer's Ace won the trick. He put dummy in the lead with its lone K of trumps. He led the Ace of hearts and discarded one losing diamond, but he had no possible means of ridding his hand of the 2 added cards of West's suit.

South led a low club from dummy, winning the trick with his 9, and laying down his Ace of spades. He was fortunate enough to save a trick by picking up West's poorly guarded Q.

Noting the trap he was in, South led his 10 of spades, probably praying that he would find the missing J in East's hand, and that West held all the missing diamonds, with the K of hearts in East's hand or that East might be crazy enough to lead a heart. Only some such miracle could save South from losing a trump trick, and 2 diamond tricks. He went down 2 tricks, as he deserved, instead of allowing his partner to make a grand slam vulnerable.

	♠ K 9 8 7 5 3 2 ♥ K 9 6 2 ♦ 8 7 ♣ None
♠ 6 ♥ 5 4 ♦ J 10 9 3 ♣ A J 10 9 4 2		♠ A Q J ♥ Q J 7 3 ♦ Q 6 2 ♣ 8 7 3
	♠ 10 4 ♥ A 10 8 ♦ A K 5 4 ♣ K Q 6 5

North played 4-Spades doubled. The opening lead was the 8 of clubs. Before to-morrow think whether the declarer can avoid losing 3 spade and 1 heart tricks.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

The bleeder's disease. Hereditary. It occurs only in men. They inherit it only from their mothers. In the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress is a whole exhibit, put up by the medical department of the University of Illinois, to explain this mysterious malady.

Most of the patients are crippled because of hemorrhages into the joints which cause stiffening. Pictures of such patients on crutches, with swollen joints; other pictures of people with large effusions of blood—black and blue lumps under their jaws; bleeding from the gums.

Test tubes to show that the coagulation time of the blood in these patients is often five minutes. Compared with a normal time of less than one minute. When they have a cut or a blow which ruptures a blood vessel, bleeding goes one for a long time. They may die of nosebleed. The disease which brought on the Russian revolution and wrecked the throne of Spain.

A large chart of the individuals of a family of bleeders. At the top, the great-grand-grandfather, who had the disease without k nowing it. None of his sons and none of his daughters had it. But three of his daughters bore sons who died of the disease. In that generation one or two males survived. They married and none of the next generation had it. But the male offspring of the daughters of that generation had it almost universally. No wonder it has been a hard disease to trace.

Treatment of it has been begun by the medical department of the University if Illinois. The question is, why do men alone have it? What is the essential difference between the man and the woman? Of course, the striking difference is the presence of ovarian secretion in the woman Several of these patients have been treated with this substance with encouraging results

This is only one of the many advances which illustrate modern medical research There is another one devoted to research into teeth Rabies, or hydrophobia, is exhibited graphically. Tuberculosis—a picture called "Behold the Sower," a thin sickly, consumptive spreading the disease by his sputum, coughing droplets among the healthy population. Pneumonia, cancer, rheumatism, crippled children, allergy—each one explained at length graphically, with simple diagrams, actual photographs, specimens and placards, which any layman can understand At nearly every booth there is an attendant who courteously offers to explain the features of the exhibit.

Serve French dressing and mayonnaise with this plate so your guests or family may help themselves. You may, however, prefer your own combination.

TO-DAY'S RECIPES.

Hot Biscuits. — Two cups flour, two level teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, two or three tablespoons shortening, two-thirds to three-fourths cup milk. The dry ingredients can be mixed the evening or even the early afternoon of the day before. Mix and sift the flour, salt, and baking powder; cut in the shortening. Cover bowl and set it in the electric refrigerator. In the morning add enough milk to make a soft dough for dropped biscuits (quicker than rolling and cutting the dough). Drop by spoonfuls on to buttered pan and bake in hot over for 15 minutes. The final mixing and shaping can be done while the oven is heating. The biscuits will bake while the breakfast fruit is being placed, or while the final touches are being given to the dinner table.

Raspberry Jam Tarts. — Part 1: Six ounces butter, one-half pound flour, one-half cup sugar. Mix and cream. Put this in the bottom of cake pan, size about 8x12 inches. Spread over it a thin layer of raspberry jam. Now put over the top of this: Part 2—Four egg yolks (beaten), one-half pound almonds (ground), one-half pound sugar, four egg whites (beaten stiff). Mix all and put on top of jam. Bake 45 minutes. When cool cut in squares. These are delicious tarts.

"Gossip and Such"

WESLEY FERRELL, outfielder—a wild guess several months ago but now a possibility.

The brawny young Cleveland pitcher is said to be seriously considering forsaking the mound for the garden as result of a growing conviction that his once great right arm will never regain its old speed.

Ferrell's fast one, which smoked past American league batters and brought back memories of Walter Johnson disappeared when the Indian ace injured his shoulder.

This season Wesley never got started. The speed just wouldn't come back. And experiments with slow curves have not returned Ferrell to the rank of star pitcher.

FERRELL'S CHANCE of maintaining his amazing record of winning 20 or more games every season has virtually vanished. He must pitch often between now and the end of the season and win almost every time out to attain that goal.

In the four years to 1933 Ferrell has served Cleveland he has averaged 23 or so wins each year. His record is: 1929—21; 1930—25; 1931—22, and 1932—23. However, his best season was his first full year, 1929, because in that campaign he lost but 10 games and finished with a winning percentage of .677. He has also struck out 100 or more batters each season.

If Ferrell turns to some other baseball post he will not be the first pitcher, by any means, to have done so. However, as far as we can determine he would be the first major league mound star to abandon pitching because of sudden loss of ability at the peak of his career.

BABE RUTH, though a league champion pitcher for Boston, abandoned the mound because of his great slugging ability. Others who quit the mound to find great success through the medium of base hits include George Sisler, Edd Roush, Lefty O'Doul, Bill Terry, Goose Goslin and Earl Webb.

Smoky Joe Wood, one of the American league mound greats of another decade, extended his career a few more years by playing in the outfield. However, that was in the sunset of Wood's career.

Getting back to Ferrell—should Wesley switch to the outfield he may prove almost as great an asset in that position for the Indians as he has on the mound. He is one of the best hitters on the team, a home run slugger and has often practiced fielding in the garden.

CALLADINE OUTPITCHES FOURNIER AND JAMIESON FOR 13 TO 11 HIT TOTAL

Feeling Runs High as Limestone Outfit Suffers Their First Setback of Season on Home Grounds—Petes' Infield Plays Sparkling Ball.

HOLLINGSWORTH AND CALLADINE HIT DOUBLES, SCULLY, FOLEY, ASH AND WHATLEY OTHER SLUGGERS

Knotty Lee's Petes got the jump on Kingston in the opening game of the C.O.B.L. playoffs last night in the Limestone town to hammer out a 12 to 6 victory before a large crowd of fans. The game was a slugfest with the Lifflockers stepping in at the start to pile up a big lead and coast home. They hit both Jamieson and Fournier hard and easily earned the win, receiving fine hurling by Bill Calladine and smart alll-around play by the others.

Feeling ran high between the two outfits, the Ponies showing anger at their ineffectual attempts to close the big gap. They argued with the Toronto umpires and roughed the Lee infielders up at every opportunity, but were forced to take their first loss of the year on home grounds.

Calladine twirled nice ball throughout, striking out four and keeping their eleven hits pretty well scattered. He had a commanding lead to work on and only in a couple of frames latter in the contest did he have the slightest trouble. Despite four errors, all caused from nervousness or overanxiousness on the strange diamond, the Petes gave their pitcher good support. And at bat, they pounded the ball to all corners of the place with runners aboard.

Jamieson Wild at Start

Yammy Jamieson was wild at the start on the homesters' hilltop, and his slants when they were over were nailed squarely. He finally walked out early in the fourth with the score 7-0 for the visitors. Lefty Fournier finished, and he was hit consistently, though going better the last three innings. Their support was just fair, two errors being chalked up and a number of scratch hits going through them.

Scully, Foley, Ash, Hollingsworth and Whatley all had two hits apiece for the winners, with Hollingsworth and Calladine conking two-baggers. Joyce led the Ponies with the willow, getting three in three trips. Smith and McQuaid had two each. Joyce hit a triple.

Clever Infield Ball

Everyone of the Petes' infield played sparkling ball and had a flock of chances to handle. Burton grabbed some nice ones in left. The feature of the game was a great Burton to Whatley to Batten two-ply killing to cut off two runs. Compeau and Smith went good for the losers and Vince pulled off a nifty catch of a long fly.

The Petes opened it up with a bang that took the heart out of Kingston. They got three in the first, three walks in a row, a wild pitch and Hollingsworth's single doing the trick. They ran in four in the third on singles by Scully, Foley, Whatley and Macdonald, with a two-base error and Hollingsworth's double. Another four were chalked up in the fourth on two walks, a stolen base and hits by Scully, Ash and Whatley.

The Ponies were blanked till the fourth when they broke through for three on a walk, error and singles by McQuaid, Smith and Joyce. Vince and Compeau hit to start the next stanza, but Burton's peg beat Vince, who tried to get home, and Whatley promptly doubled Compeau at third. Smith singled for them in the sixth and scored on Joyce's hard triple, the latter being thrown out at the plate when he tried to stretch it.

The last Peterborough run was counted in the sixth, Foley singling, moving up on Ash's hit, to third on a sacrifice and in on an error. McQuaid's hit, two outs and an error gave the Ponies one in the eighth and they got their last in the ninth on hits by Joyce and Tetro, a walk and an out.

Rogers Hornsby is said never to have liked the role of pinch hitter, yet he scored one of his greatest triumphs in that role. One day Chicago fans were riding him and the Rajah stepped up to the plate in a pinch and lined out a home run, instantly changing jeers into cheers.

Connie Mack's Athletics hadn't won a game in Yankee stadium until their recent 16-3 slaughter of the New Yorkers. And then the next day Lefty Grove shut out the Gothamites ending their string of 308 games without whitewash.

LARRUPING LOU BROUILLARD IS NEW MIDDLEWEIGHT CHAMP

NEW YORK, August 10 (C.P.)—Larruping Lou Bruillard, French-Canadian belter, to-day had laid claim to a share of the widely distributed world's middle-weight title recognition in a most decisive fashion and at the same time put in a bid for a place in the list of famous left-handed leatherpushers.

The black-haired, good-looking boxer, who first saw the light of day in St. Eugene's, Que., stripped Ben Jeby, New York's East-side "heeby-jeeby" of his recognition by the New York State Athletic Commission as middleweight titlist by knocking him out in the seventh round of a scheduled 15-round bout at the Polo Grounds last night. And in doing it he not only confounded the New Yorker by his unorthodox southpaw style, but he outboxed, outfought and out-thought him.

Impressive Showing.

The first six rounds all led up in orderly sequence to the decisive seventh. Jeby, who was recognized as king of the 160-pounders here after he stopped Frankie Battaglia, Canadian middleweight champion of Winnipeg, last winter, only had a look in twice. Heeby-jeeby has never been the same since meeting Battaglia, ranked the hardest hitter of his class. Jeby he'd Brouillard on even terms in the second round, when they first got going, and again in the fifth, when neither did much scrapping.

The rest of the time Brouillard, who held the welterweight honors two years ago when he was only 20 years old, chopped away in preparation for the knockout punch. Taking advantage of Jeby's bewilderment at his annoying southpaw style, he first shot in body punches until the East-sider's guard came down, then worked on his chin until it moved up again. Finally after the brief bit of "coasting" in the fifth, he broke loose with a series of smashing lefts to the body that left Jeby almost helpless as the bell ended the sixth.

Jeby Down and Out.

Coming out for the final round, Brouillard made an opening with a body smash and as Jeby's guard dropped, whaled away with a long sweeping left to the chin that put Jeby down and out in 2.21.

Brouillard weighed 158½, a half-pound less than his opponent last night, but he has been growing so fast in the last couple of years that he is expected to move up into the light-heavyweight division after a few more fights.

F. SIMPSON HURLS ALDERVILLE INDIANS TO 6-2 BASEBALL WIN

KEENE MAIDENS WIN 29-2

KEENE, August 10 (By Staff Reporter). — With expert canoeists of both sexes competing from Hiawatha, Alderville, Wallace's Point, Curve Lake, and Keene, the annual Serpent Mounds Regatta on Rice Lake yesterday was an outstanding success. Besides the great competition furnished in the water sports there were several smart baseball games, which saw two Indian teams, Alderville and Curve Lake, hook up in a great contest.

F. Simpson on the mound for Alderville gave a smart pitching demonstration to strike out ten of the Curve Lake sluggers and allow but six hits. Behind Simpson's smart hurling, the Alderville squad, by using their own bats effectively, came along strong in the final two frames to win 6-2.

The girls' softball game in which Keene team, proved to be nothing but a walkover for the Keene maidens, who won 29-2.

Many Competitors.

Seldom have so many Indians competed in a regatta as were active in the paddle-wielding events that featured the water sports at Serpent Mounds. The Redmen cleaned up in the men's single canoe race, Frank Gray of Alderville crossing the line just ahead of two other competitors from the Alderville Reserve. All through the events the Indians were prominent. Mrs. Flossie Sellaby and Mrs. Madden Howard, of Hiawatha, both displayed their prowess by carrying off several prizes.

Cop Doubles Honors.

Herbert Cardwell and Jack Deyell made a strong team from Wallace's Point, and this pair carried off every event in which they entered. They showed the way to the field in the men's double canoe, while Cardwell and Mrs. C. Ellsworth (nee Marjorie Wallace) gained first in the mixed doubles. The Wallace's Point contingent also won the four-in-canoe race, while Cardwell won the crab race and the Cardwell-Deyell duo proved unbeatable in the tilting.

STURGEON LAKE PAIR CAPTURES DINGHY HONORS

Nose Out Crouse and Johnson to Win Peterborough Canoe Challenge Cup.

Ellsworth Flavelle Takes Gordon Trophy in Three-Mile Open Sailing Race.

(By a Staff Reporter)

CHEMONG, August 10.—Vernon Janeway, youthful Peterborough swimmer, slid across the finish line with his powerful crawl stroke to an easy victory in the annual mile swim at the Chemong Regatta yesterday afternoon. He led Bill Gerow, also of Peterborough, by a quarter mile.

Five swimmers plunged from the Floating Bridge for the start of the long race. The course extended from the bridge to the regatta finishing line opposite the Peterborough Canoe Company boat livery. For the one-third of a mile, Gerow swam a neck-and-neck race with Janeway, but fell back to a poor second when he was seized with a cramp in the muscles of his right leg.

Harry Adams and David Armson finished within one yard of each other 200 yards behind Gerow in a hard-fought race for third place. Adams won the place after a gruelling sprint for the line. The remaining entrant, Charles Morris, swam a game race to the finish but lagged far in the van.

One Thousand Spectators

A thousand spectators drawn by the combined attraction of an afternoon of thrilling sport and clear skies with cooling breezes, witnessed the regatta. The crowd thronged the steep hillside which provided a natural grand stand and swarmed about the wharfs from which the competitions were run.

Bill McClean and Clare Connor of Sturgeon Lake, dinghy winners at the Crowe's Landing Regatta last Saturday, captured the Peterborough Canoe Company Challenge Cup in the annual six-mile dinghy sail, one of the features of the afternoon. They nosed out Bill Crouse and Beatrice Johnson of Stoney Lake by 200 yards.

Poor Breeze for Sailing

Like all the sailing events of the regatta, the race was far from spectacular despite the fact that the entire field was closely grouped throughout the course. The weather may have been ideal for most of the other events of the day but the breeze was too weak for ideal sailing. Several times during the two laps around the three-mile course, the entire fleet of eight dinghies competing was becalmed. Under the conditions, the win of McClean and Connor was a tribute to their skill in using every available breath of wind.

Finishing ten seconds ahead of the Bootlegger, the Cutty Sark, already a winner several times this year under the hand of Ellsworth Flavelle and his able crew, won the G. N. Gordon Trophy in a three-mile open sailing race. Gordon Matthews, piloting the Bootlegger, held a lead for a short time after the starting gun, but lost when becalmed for some minutes on the west side of the lake. The Cutty Sark piled up an increasing lead as it sailed down on the finish.

Open Men's Canoe

A high standard of paddling was demonstrated during the afternoon. Overhauling Terry Hall and Jerry Sherrin in the last five yards of the race, Drake Jopling and Art Wood provided a thrilling finish in the open men's canoe event. Ted Hiland and Andy Rutter took third money, crossing the line two feet behind Hall and Sherrin. A field of eight competed, remaining closely bunched over the entire course.

Both the men's four-in-a-canoe race and the open crab race were outstanding, with close finishes and a number of spills to excite the crowd. A canoe paddled by Ted Hiland, Doug. McPherson, Reg. Dixon and Jerry Sherrin took the four-in-a-canoe event by a matter of inches in a final spurt. Second place went to a crew consisting of Drake, Perry and Ralph Jopling and Art Wood. Silvester Sawyer an Indian paddler, triumphed in the crab race despite a hard race by Art Wood and Doug. McPherson.

Keen Competition

The swimming events provided good sport. Tom Dunlop scored a win by a margin of three yards in the 75-yard open men's swim. Jack Gardiner finished in second place, and Ward. Wright a good third. Ward. Wright won the 16-and-under boys' swim handily, leaving second and third places to Charles Cole and Harry Galley.

Overcoming a half-mile handicap which he suffered early in the race, Ralph Clark of Chemong finished the annual canoe sail with a lead of one boat length over John Weddell and captured the W. H. Bradburn Trophy. The race was over a three-mile course.

Four canoes sailed for the trophy. Two lengths behind the winners and one length behind Weddell, Ross Pulkinghorn finished third. Frank Ephgrave, the fourth contestant, dropped out without finishing.

Capable Officials

Officiating judges were Dr. W. D. Clark, Dr. Ray Scott, F. J. Overend, P. P. Westbye and A. Darling. Fred Jopling was announcer; and starters were James McClenaghan, Jim Matthews and J. K. Hughes.

TORONTO TAKES TWIN DECISIONS FROM SKEETERS

Hamlin Registers His 16th Victory of Season by Winning Opener 6-2.

BEARS WIN TWICE.

(By Orlo Robertson, A.P. Sports Writer)

With only one month to play in the regular season, Newark Bears to-day held a 10-game lead over Baltimore Orioles and nothing short of a decided slump apparently can stop them from winning their second successive International League pennant.

The Wings' hopes of cutting down the Bears' big lead failed again yesterday when they dropped two games to the champions, the first by the score of 8-5 and the second, 7-2.

Effective pitching by Jimmy Deshong and big Jim Weaver was largely responsible for the Bears' double victory.

Taking advantage of Rochester's setbacks, Baltimore Orioles climbed into a tie for second place by trimming Montreal 6-2. An error by Fred Muller, Montreal second baseman, paved the way for the Orioles' victory. With the score tied at two-all and the bases loaded and none out in the eighth, Muller muffed an easy grounder. Going on from the misplay, the Orioles scored three runs to clinch the game.

Toronto Maple Leafs, battling for a place in the play-offs, kept pace with the leaders by defeating Jersey City twice, each time by score of 6-2. The sweep left the Leafs three games back of Rochester and Baltimore.

In the curtain raiser, the Leafs bunched their hits off Joe Bartulis in the early innings, piling up an advantage that the Skeeters were never able to overcome. The second gam saw the Skeeters get away to a two-run lead, only to have the Leafs rally in the sixth to score five runs as Les Mallon, Nolen Richardson, Murray Howell and Bob Smith poled out successive hits.

Buffalo Wins 5-3

Bill Gould held Albany Senators to five hits as Buffalo Bisons made the most of their seven blows to win 5-3. Buck Crouse's homer with the bases loaded in the second inning decided the issue.

VILLAGE NINE DEFEATED 17-9

Shine and Gallagher Are Hit Hard—Poor Field Work.

HEAVY SLUGGING.

Harrison's qualified to meet Sugar Bowl in the men's city softball finals last night at Central when they eliminated Omemee, 17 to 5, before another big crowd of fans. It was the second straight win in the semi-final series, and the Grocers turned back the villagers with ease, the Omemee players dishing up their poorest possible brand of play. Harrison's and Sugar Bowl now meet in the finals, a three-out-of-five series, first game Saturday evening.

Frank Shine started for Omemee, Gallagher going in in the sixth, and Shine returning to the mound in the eighth. Both were hit hard, and their support was very bd. Elliott hurled steady ball for the winners, holding the husky villagers to just seven hits and never being in danger. His support was good.

Of Harrison's eleven safe hits, Ellis and Starr collected homers, Wilshaw getting a triple, Dorrington a double, and Chambers a brace of two-baggers. The teams:

Omemee— Shine, l.f., p.; Adams, 1b; McQuade, cf; McNeil, 3b; Gallagher, p., lf.; Stevenson, rf; Reid, c; Weir, s.s.; Parsons, 2b; Brookes, 2b.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!
By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX MORRISON says:

Tight muscles and joints in the starting position mean more tension during the swing.

Without a certain amount of ease and relaxation to begin with it's impossible to make a smooth accurate swing.

Getting into a starting position which will afford you a feeling of freedom and ease is not difficult if you take the trouble to turn your stomach forward.

You needn't change the position of your feet, just twist your body around so that your stomach almost faces the objective toward which you're playing.

This forward twist of your body serves to loosen up muscles and joints which cause most of your trouble.

ALEX MORRISON says:

A player should never do anything about his swing that might cause him to strike the ball with a closed face—that is with the face of his clubhead turned forward of its natural position. Such a position of the clubface at the moment of impact cannot possibly afford a truly successful shot.

Every effort should be made to strike the ball with the clubface in a natural or an open postion, then all of the force of the swing will be projected into the flight of the ball.

Closing the clubface in addressing the ball positively encourages a similar position of the clubface at the moment of impact.

This practice may make you feel that you're getting better results for a while, but in time it'll ruin your game.

A lot of the wise guys said it couldn't be done. Nossir, Kingston couldn't be licked by the Petes in Kingston. Well, let the wise guys explain away that 12-6 Peterborough victory last night! Yeah, Mr. Knotty Lee's Boys are riding high, wide and handsome with the first victory of the three-out-of-five titular series. They went down to the Limestone town yesterday, licked the stuffing out of the vaunted Ponies—and made them like it! They're figuring on making it two in a row here Saturday, and boy will there be an enthusiastic mob of rooters cheering them on?

• • • • • • •

There was bad blood between the outfits from the start—as there has been all year. They were making insulting cracks back and forth before they ever started the game. And once the slugging Petes began piling 'em up early in the fray, the peeved Ponies were getting downright dirty. Compeau was snarling back at them, one of them even thumbed his nose and they were all rough on the bases. Compeau tried hard to spike Batten, ripping his clothes in the attempt, and Hewitt Smith upset Ash hard once at first, going out of his way to rush into him at full speed. The Petes were fighting mad but provided no rough stuff at all.

• • • • • • •

Kingston was even crabbing at the umpires who handled a perfect game. And the huge crowd was hopping mad at the local players but a big contingent of Peterborough fans gave them insult for insult. Yeah, it was plenty hot at times. Big Babe Sheppard was colorful as usual with his fancy hand waving and rolling r's as he yodeled 'Str-r-rike!" And Joe Oswin went fine on the bases. Kingston certainly missed Pound and Twigg, and we're positively convinced now that it was a wise move to get two good Toronto arbiters for this series.

• • • • • • •

As for the game itself, the Petes just stepped in there and slugged the old apple, received good pitching by young Bill Calladine and some fine fielding, despite four errors that didn't mean much. Les Burton again played nice ball in the field but was overanxious and dropped one fly, while a single got away from him another time. He wont make two errors again in a month. Macdonald made one bad throw and Whatley another—that's the four errors, and still the Petes won hands down. We wouldn't pick out stars as they all went good, the whole infield looking miles better than Kingston, and Whately turning in a brilliant game back of the bat.

• • • • • • •

It's a mighty long jaunt down there in the middle of the week to play ball and come back and work the next day. And the diamond down there is pretty rotten, too. Still, one more trip ought to wind it up for the locals, though they must not under-estimate the other team which is made up of a bunch of fighting and experienced veterans. They haven't the pitching, but may start pasting the pill and fielding sensationally right here Saturday to upset the dope. Some Napanee and Belleville rooters were there and were they tickled when the Ponies took it on the chin? That Kingston team is plenty unpopular and it's a pleasure to lick them!

• • • • • • •

Bill Calladine is fulfilling expectations with his pitching this season. Followers of the minor teams here who had watched this kid pitching himself through to Ontario finals for several years in bantam and juvenile ball, holding the best teams in the province to a few hits, were not at all surprised when he jumped to senior at eighteen this season. And he's making good right off. Fine control, speed and a nice curve, he also possesses coolness, even temperament and all kinds of gameness—just a natural twirler. Bill is a good hitter and can play a smart game in the infield. "Willie" as Knotty Lee calls him is a valuable acquisition to the local seniors' hurling staff and is destined to become a noted pitcher around the province—we'll bet—within a few years.

• • • • • • •

Fosters and Cogs of the E.P.I. meet in a sudden-death game at 6:15 sharp tomorrow evening at the Exhibition Grounds. The winner will then meet C.G.E. next week in the loop playoffs, three out of five. Tomorrow's game is necessary since Electrics nosed out Fosters, 3 to 2, in a fine battle down the line last night. The loss shoved Fosters back into a second-place tie with Cogs and they'll have to settle this position. McIlwaine pitched grand ball for the losers and should have received better support. Dunkerley and Ralph also went good for the winners. Jeff Hardill or Joe Bailey will oppose probably Percy Vannest Friday e'en.

• • • • • • •

Omemee softballers can hang up their sweaters for this year, Harrisons having returned to form again at Central last night to wallop them soundly, 17 to 5. The Grocers had good pitching, excellent fielding and some man-sized slugging; whereas the O's played poor ball throughout. Quite a few fans were disappointed in their elimination, but you can't argue when it comes to scores like those two Harrison wins. Neither Shine nor Gallagher have mystified the northenders at all this series. The winners now tackle their old enemies, Sugar Bowl, in the first of the five-game final series at sixbells Saturday night at Central.

• • • • • • •

Sport-hash: Selkirk lacrossers play Orde's tonight at the Bowl rink . . . . Fans foolishly booed the umps when he ordered Omemee players to play in full uniform last night, for he was just following executive orders and Association rules . . . . A City Tennis Tournament by the Peterborough and Kawartha Clubs, open to all city players, will be held here Aug. 16th, and entries should be in by Aug. 14th . . . . Herb Ralph's Terriers, local juveniles, open their O.B.A.A. semi-final series in Oshawa tomorrow . . . . The game was moved up from Saturday as the Oshawa Dukes' play-offs start there that day.

BEARING DOWN!—Here's Lefty Grove whipping in his fast one during his most recent game. He's having a great year.

ELECTRICS WIN 3-2 DECISION

Misplays at Critical Stages Are Costly to Foster Clan.

FINAL SCHEDULED GAME.

A perfect squeeze play by Doug Hatton in the ninth frame of a nip and tuck duel, last night at the Exhibition Grounds gave the C.G.E. the deciding counter of a 3-2 decision over Fosters, in the last scheduled game of the season, thus sending the latter team's hopes of a first place tie into the discard.

The Foster clan out-hit the winners by a good margin and led by Lefty McIlwain who twirled a three hit game, should have copped the decision without much difficulty. However, they threw away the win by taking unnecessary risks on the runways, and made their misplays at critical stages.

The Electrics started Dunkerly on the slab and he managed nicely until the sixth when a single and two free passes loaded the bases. Ralph then took over the hurling duties with one away and retired the side to leave the three stranded. The latter pitcher finished the game without undue effort allowing only one single.

SENATORS BACK IN 3-GAME LEAD

Hand Yankees Second Defeat in Two Days by Taking 4-1 Win.

CUBS DOWN CARDS 10-7.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr. A. P. Sports Writer)

A great comeback by Washington Senators had ended their "crucial" series with New York Yankees all square today and the fans began to turn their attention to the National League, where Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs were about to open a duel for second place which might carry one or the other right up behind the pace-setting New York Giants.

The Senators and Monte Weaver turned back the Yanks 4-1 in the final clash yesterday.

Weaver, who has been out of action most of the season with a sore arm, let the Yanks down with seven safeties and after giving six of them and a one-run lead in four innings, pitched no-hit ball until Babe Ruth connected for a single in the ninth. Washington took the lead in the sixth and held it.

The Cubs set the stage for their struggle with the second place Pittsburgh club by pasting their old teammate, Burleigh Grimes, in the first inning and defeating St. Louis Cardinals 10-7. The victory left them only a half-game behind the Pirates and 3½ behind New York as both clubs were idle. They open a three-game series at Pittsburgh today.

Boston Braves took advantage of the Cards' defeat to move into fourth place with a 3-2 victory over the Phillies.

Boston Red Sox, who have made quite a habit of beating Philadelphia Athletics lately, did it again by an 8-4 count as Lefty Lloyd Brown played a whole ball game by himself. He not only pitched the full distance but smacked a homer and two singles.

Only two games were scheduled in each league.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By the Canadian Press).

Monte Weaver, Senators.—Held Yankees in check with seven hits to win 4 to 1.

Bill Jurges, Cubs.—Hit home run, triple and double to lead attack on Cardinals.

Lloyd Brown, Red Sox.—Knocked homer and two singles and kept Athletics' 11 hits scattered.

Ben Cantwell, Braves.—Won 15th game of season as Braves defeated Phillies.

VINCENT BIKE MARATHON ENDS TUESDAY NEXT

SPENCER TO PROMOTE.

New Route for Bikeathon For Return to Montreal is Not Through City.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP)—Unsurmountable difficulties with the United States customs has caused abandonment of the American end of the transcontinental bicycle race which will be continued with a swing through Ontario and will finish at Montreal next Tuesday.

Willie Spencer, promoter of six-day bicycle races, has taken over control of the race from Armand Vincent, Montreal sports promoter, who has dropped out of the project, Spencer announced this morning.

The riders would be taken by steamer to-day from the Sault to Sarnia, Ont., and tomorrow will cycle from Sarnia to Brantford. On Saturday the distance between Brantford and Toronto will be covered. Sunday the field will travel to Kingston; Monday Kingston to Ottawa and Tuesday, Ottawa to Montreal where the race will end at the baseball stadium.

Thus will end the most ambitious cycling project of North America. The race, which attracted almost three score of the world's best professional cyclists, was to have visited the Century of Progress Exposition at Chicago and the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto.

Wanted $3,000 Bond

The riders circled from Montreal through a number of Quebec and Ontario points including Three Rivers, Sherbrooke, Cornwall, North Bay and Sudbury, arriving here on Tuesday. United States customs officials here demanded to surety bond of $3,000 or $1,500 cash before permitting the marathon and its equipment cross the border. The necessary bond was not obtainable, it was stated.

OLD TIME BALL PLAYERS CHALLENGE LEAGUE TEAM

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 10 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Sport fans of the town of Campbellford are all agog these days, with the prospects of a real scrap between the old and the new, the past and the present with a challenge given out by local "Kings of the Diamond" to the Campbellford baseball team, now managed by Reeve C. H. Davidson. The game, if it is played will be staged on the local diamond at the fair grounds on the afternoon of Saturday, August 26th, the funds from which will be used for charitable purposes. Campbellford numbers many stars among its players of days gone by and it is expected that the fight will be one to the bitter end.

LEO DIEGEL IS ELIMINATED IN INITIAL ROUND

Beaten by Willie Goggin of California, a Newcomer to Pro Ranks.

SARAZEN STAYS IN.

(By Paul Mickelson—A.P. Sports Writer).

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 10.—(A.P.).—Hemmed in by a noted par shelling field and confronted by Johnny Farrell in his second round battle, Olin Dutra needed all his tremendous strength, stamina and shot-making wizardry to-day to keep his United States professional golf championship.

Lined up against the big senior from the Pacific coast, survivors of two days of record-smashing cannonading in which scores in the sixties were almost as numerous as alibis, was the fastest field that ever stuck in the championship drive through the first round. Still, in the fight were such celebrated campaigners as Gene Sarazen, Tom Creavy, Paul Runyan, Farrell, Johnny Revolta, Ed Dudley, Johnny Golden, Harry Cooper, Al Espinosa, Bobby Cruikshank, and Willie Coogin of Selada Beach, Cal., a newcomer, who eliminated Leo Diegel yesterday.

Right with them were players with noteworthy reputations in golf—Jimmy Hines of New York, comedalist; Henry Picard, Charleston, S.C., who was three under par for 35 holes yesterday; Frank Walsh, of Chicago, runner-up to Dutra at St. Paul last year, and Clarence Clark of Bloomfield, N.J., heralded by many pros as one of the real coming stars of the game. It looked like a great battle with almost anyone in the field granted a chance to break through to win the title.

(By Herb Martin)

Over at Brighton yesterday afternoon eighteen rinks took part in their annual mixed tournament. Harold Freeman from Peterborough was successful in landing in the charmed circle. First place went to E. A. Hiroock Cobourg, with three wins plus 40 points; Teddy Green, Kingston, second with three wins plus 39 points, and H. Freeman, Peterborough came third with three wins plus 38 points. (Mrs. A. Heckman, J. T. Braund, Mrs. J. Coursey, H. Freeman).

PACKERS LOSE SOCCER APPEAL

Executive Abides by Previous Decision—Deloro Out on Cup Ties.

PHELAN CUP DRAW.

After a lengthy debate at the meeting of the Peterborough and District Football Association on Tuesday night, with President William Andreson in the chair and a full quota of executive members and club representatives present, Canada Packers' appeal against the executive's decision regarding two points awarded to the C.G.E. was not upheld. It was proven that a quorum of five members was present.

Out of Cup Ties.

The following letter was received from Deloro: "Owing to the fact the board of directors insist on fixing dates for Deloro to play in Peterborough so close together, the Deloro club have to withdraw from all cup ties in the future. We will finish the league. We cannot get men off work when dates are so grouped.—Signed, Manager."

The executive claims it was the draw of the competition that made the dates run concurrently and regret the action of the Deloro club. All league games had been arranged one per week. Mr Chard was officially recognized as representative of the Canada Packers after written notice had been received. Lawrence O'Toole was registered as C.P. player. Robert Carmichael signed for the Caledonians.

Future Games.

To-night the Lindsay team will meet Caledonians in the semi-final of the G. N. Gordon Cup. There is no game in the city on Saturday. The Scots travel to Deloro, with W. Harrington as referee. The Canada Packers go to Lindsay in search of league points, A. Frick referee. Next Tuesday Caledonians play Deloro in a league game, referee W. Harrington.

Father Phelan Cup Draw.

The teams were drawn as follows:

Caledonians vs. C.G.E. on Thursday, August 17, semi-final tie.

Lindsay vs. Packers, to be played on Saturday, August 19, in Lindsay, provided the Scugog eleven are not in the Gordon Cup final.

Rifle Shoot Results.

RANGERS' RIFLE ASSOCIATION

An interesting match was carried out last night in the form of application, snap shooting and competitive team shoot. W. Zeihr again had high score on two practices. The three-man team elimination contest was won twice by a team composed of F. Watson, A. Phillips and J. McGrath. Next week the firing will be at 400 yards. Standing:

INDIA LINKED WITH CANADA BY TELEPHONE

57 Years Since Alexander Graham Bell Talked Over Long Distance.

RAPID ADVANCEMENT

On August 10th, 1876, power supplied by the Toronto batteries of the old Dominion Telegraph Company energized a one-way talking circuit between Brantford and Paris that enabled Alexander Graham Bell the telephone inventor, to demonstrate the possibilities of long distance telephoning over the eight-mile stretch. "This," to quote Dr. Bell himself, "was the first long distance telephone ever in operation." To-day, telephone voices speed across Canada from coast to coast in one-fiftieth of a second and they can be flashed across the ocean with almost the speed of light.

Manager H. H. P. Johnston of the Bell Telephone Company here, said today: "India was brought within speaking and hearing distance of Canadian telephone users a week ago, yet the announcement of this service provoked only passing comment. The important component parts of the British Empire, with the single exception of New Zealand, are now all inter-communicating by wire and wireless telephony. Of the more than fifty different countries, with upwards of 30,000,000 telephones, that may now be reached from any Bell telephone, India is one of the most distant, yet voice impulses can now pass between Brantford and Bombay or between Poona and Paris in a split second. That is just one indication of the advancement in telephony since that Brantford-Paris test 57 years ago to-day, and particularly in the last six years since January, 1927,when the human voice made its first telephone crossings between this continent and Europe."

The Poor Mule

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(CP) — An unexpected difficulty attending the farm administration's cotton reduction campaign centres about the humble, if stubborn, mule.

Paul A. Porter, of the administration, just back from the south, reported today that many farmers had complained they found difficulty in getting their mules to "act right" while plowing up the cotton.

It isn't the mule's fault, at that, Porter explained. All these years he has been lambasted if he walked atop the cotton row. Now it is the reverse and he is being asked — used singly—to trample down the stalks he has been trained so carefully to protect.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 11

THE PLANETARY rulership of this day must be interpreted as definitely adverse with sudden and probably violent or devastating forces at work to turn affairs into strange and difficult channels. The best-laid plans and projects may be swerved, with quite abrupt and unforeseen visitation, into situations reversing the hope and wishes. Radical change seems imminent, with new and not entirely welcome associations and interests. Be extremely cautious with writings, documents, deals with mergers or secret bodies, and beware oily, conniving strangers or "cranks."

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of sudden, possibly radical, change, abruptly projected and precipitating unwelcome change, travel, or new affiliations or interests, both personal and business. There is danger of fraud, trickery and subtlety or intrigue throguh writings, documents and in crafty negotiations with secret bodies, mergers, rings or conspirators. Be alert to all.

A child born on this day will be keen, brilliant, inventive, orginal, but restless, changeable and difficult to make out.

Roosevelt Acting In Cuban Affair

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Aug 9 (AP) — Imminent action by President Roosevelt in the Cuban crisis appeared in prospect to-day with the arrival of a special report carried here by plane from Washington.

Complete mystery surrounded the aeroplane message. It was taken to the summer White House by secret service men and immediately given to the president.

There were also reports that the Cuban ambassador was enroute here.

Mr. Roosevelt is giving closest attention to the critical Cuban situation and is most obviously determined upon bringing peace and order to the island republic.

SPEED EVENTS AT LOON LAKE

Annual Regatta Held This Year at Couch's Landing.

A.Y.P.A. PRESENTS PLAY

APSLEY, Aug. 10 (Examiner Correspondence).—Fine weather prevailed on Saturday afternoon for the annual water regatta at Loon Lake, held this year at Couch's Landing, and was patronized by most of the summer visitors on the lake, at whose request it was organized by Rev. C. A. G. Spence. The speed event provided a thrilling interest for the spectators; the contestants being Mr. Freese of Detroit with his 65 h.p. inboard; Monty Emmal, 8 h.p. outboard, and Charles Hawkes with an outboard motor boat designed and made by himself. The course was three miles in two laps, and although Emmal maintained a good lead for two miles, Freese overtook him at the last turn, and gave a thrilling display of the speed qualities of his new boat, finishing a quarter of a mile ahead.

Other events were: outboard motor race won by Miss Catherine Lennard; inboard motor race, won by Donald Woods; rowboat race, Miss Lennard; ladies' swimming race, Mary Lennard; men's swimming race, Otto Laderach. A softball game after the water sports, between Apsley andChandos resulted in a win for the former—the score being 17 to 10.

On Sunday morning members of the choir of St. Barnabas' Church, Toronto, attended St. George's Church for the celebration of the Holy Communion. The service was fully choral, the choir using the setting composed by Dr. Vincent, the organist of St. Barnabas', who very kindly presided at the organ.

The A.Y.P.A. presented their play, "The Mystery of the Third Gable," at Glenalda School House on Monday evening, when the room was filled to capacity. The cast was the same as on the former occasion, except that Mr. P. F. Egerton of Toronto took the part of Judge Sherwood, and Ruby Woods that of Jane Morgan. On Friday the A.Y.P.A. are giving the play in Wilberforce.

WELSH FAMILIES HOLD RE-UNION AT BOBCAYGEON

130 Descendants and Friends Enjoy Delightful Outing.

LIST OF SPORTS.

Pioneers Came to Peterborough in 1863, Later Moved to Victoria.

A happy event took place in Bobcaygeon on Monday when about one hundred and thirty descendants and relatives of the Johns, Adams, Thomas and Lewis families met in a family re-union for the first time.

It was about the year 1863 that the late John Lewis, Daniel Adams, John Adams, and Thomas Johns left Wales to seek a home in Canada. After a tedious journey they arrived in Peterborough and the next year were joined by their families. They moved later to Emily and Verulam, while Thomas Johns moved to New York State, and about this time James Thomas also came to Canada.

It was to celebrate the arrival of these early pioneers in Canada that their descendants met in the beautiful Agricultural Park here on Monday. After the visiting relatives had arrived they went to the Trinity United Church Sunday School Room where dinner was served, and at 1.30 p.m. all retired to the church autitorium, where an impromptu program was given, each number being favorably received. Oliver Johns, of Toronto, very capably officiated as chairman. Following the chairman's remarks, all joined in singing the Welsh National Anthem, "Land of My Fathers"; Isaac Lewis, of Peterborough, read an interesting account of the arrival of the previously mentioned pioneers in this country. R. E. Finley, of Toronto, sang a so'o, and Thomas Johns, of Schnectady, N.Y., in a few words expressed a feeling of goodwill and pleasure at being able to meet so many of their friends. Miss Lenore Lewis favored the audience with a vocal solo, followed by a piano duet by Mrs. Morgan M. Lewis and Mrs. R. E. Finley; a male quartette by David and Morgan Lewis, Clayton Taylor, and Ralph Finley; addresses by David Lewis, William Taylor, and Sam Fletcher; Welsh song by Esther Adams, Mrs. S. Fletcher, Mrs. T. B. Taylor, Mrs. H. J. Bate, and Messrs. Isaac and David Lewis; duet, Elva and Lucile Bate; piano solo, Oliver Johns, all of which were greatly appreciated.

Important Wedding Takes Place At Muskoka Summer Home

The wedding took place yesterday at "Kawandag", Muskoka, Lady Eaton's summer home, of Miss Signy Hilda Stephenson, of Winnipeg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Stephenson of that city, to Mr. John David Eaton, son of Lady Eaton and the late Sir John C. Eaton, Toronto.

Eighteenth Holder Of Middle Honors

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(C.P.) Lou Brouillard, christened Lucien Pierre shortly before his birth 22 years ago in St. Eugene's, Que., is the 18th holder or partially recognized claimant to the world's middleweight crown since just before the turn of the century.

He is the only Canadian-born fighter that ever held this crown, although three others have held world championships. These were Tommy Burns, heavyweight, Jack Delaney, light-heavyweight and Albert 'Frenchy' Belanger, flyweight.

An Irish-Canadian, James Archibald McLarnin of Vancouver, is the present holder of the world's welterweight crown. James was born in Belfast.

The assembly then returned to the Park, where a ball game, races, etc., were held, returning later to the Sunday School Room, where supper was served. Resolutions were passed, expressing appreciation to the Trustee Board for the use of the church and to the various people who helped to make the occasion such a success.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johns, of Schnectady, N.Y. Mr. and Mrs. John Davies, of Wyoming, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Maurice and family, Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Johns, Mr. and Mrs. George Johns and family, Messrs. Donald and Oliver Johns, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Lewis and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Finley and family, Mr. Douglas Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kennedy, Miss Helen Breakey, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. David Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lewis, Mrs. M. J. Lewis, the Misses B. Pascoe, Byrle Wood, Lenore Lewis, Messrs. Lloyd, Jim, Russell and John Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beatty and family of Peterborough, Mrs. Thomas B. Taylor, Mrs. Morgan Johns, Miss Ida Taylor, Mr. William Taylor, Mrs. H. J. Bate, Misses Elva and Lucille Bate, Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. A. McNabb and family, of Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fletcher and family, Mr. and Mrs. McLachlan and family of Eldon Station, the Misses Margaret and Jessie Johns and Mr. Alexander Johns of Port Perry, Miss Ruth Taylor of Penetang, Mrs. C. Henley and Mrs. A. Mallory of Toronto. Those present from Bobcaygeon and vicinity included Mr. and Mrs. Walter McGregor, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Kennedy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Kennedy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. William Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Miller Johns and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Taylor and family, Messrs. Ernest McGregor and Albert Johns, Mr. and Mrs. William Kelly, Mrs. Thomas Adams and Miss Jean Adams, Mr. William Thomas and Mr. Jim Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. R. Pearson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cowan, Miss Marie Johns, Mrs. Robert Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Lewis and family.

LINDSAY COUNCIL ASKED FOR GRANT

Municipality is Asked to Give $75 to Trent Waterway Association.

LINDSAY, Aug. 10.—The Finance committee of the Lindsay town council will this week consider an appeal for a grant of $75 to the Trent Waterways and Iroquois Trail Association made by Walter Powlds, of Hastings, president of the association, and R. R. Hall, K.C., of Peterborough, before the council on Tuesday. Fenelon Falls and Bobcaygeon are also to be asked for assistance.

Speaking to the Lindsay Council, Mr. Foulds maintained that Lindsay is not paying its share toward the upkeep of the Association. Peterborough and other towns along the Trent Waterway route are contributing, but Lindsay is remaining aloof despite the fact that it is getting its share of the tourist business resulting from the Association's publicity work, he claimed. He urged the grant as a contribution toward a deficit of $400 which the Association is now showing. Although Lindsay is not on the direct Trent Waterway route, it is on Iriquois Trail which the Association advertises, he said.

Mr. Hall spoke of the importance of completing the Trent Canal through Ontario. Twenty million dollars have already been spent and the returns will never be secured from that investment until the canal is completed, he declared. He appealed for the grant to the Association, pointing out that the late Sir Sam Hughes of Lindsay was one of the foremost advocates of the canal when the project went through parliament.

R. M. Glover of Peterborough, and T .A. Coughlan of Hastings, also appeared before the council with the delegation.

SOLDIERS PARADE TO MADOC CHURCH

Several Companies From Hastings Regiment Attend Thompson Memorial Church.

MADOC, August 10 (Examiner Correspondence) — Military church parade was held by Companies A, B C, and D, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, (who are in camp for four days at the Fair Ground) to the Thompson Memorial Park Madoc, at 3.30 p.m. on Sunday. Rev. T. H. H. Hall, Major, as chaplain of the regiment, was in charge of the services assisted by Rev. F. A Smith, of Trenton, Captain.

The camp is under the management of Captain Newell Broad of Madoc, Major Yates of Deloro being in command. About two hundred officers and men are in attendance, with the regimental band of Picton. Ideal weather conditions with the heat greatly tempered by showers, exist, though during the church parade and service two or three men were overcome by the heat, and received first-aid before being taken back to camp.

A memorial service was held for the fallen comrades in the Great War, in which the veterans of the service took a prominent part. The extreme heat prevented the usual huge crowd from attendance at this service.

Madoc

Rev. W. G. Hope Swayne, rector of the United parishes of Tweed and Madoc, is taking his annual vacation during the month of August. During his absence the services of St. John's Anglican Church, Madoc, will be taken by W. J. Cottrell, Marmora, lay reader to his Lordship the Bishop of Ontario.

Sunday morning, August 13th, there is to be no morning service and sermon, and evening service on August 20th.

The weekly jitney tournament on the greens of the Madoc Lawn Bowling Club was held on Friday evening, with a smaller crowd than usual, the prizes going to Mrs. C. I. Ross and Mr. Hugh Kellar.

Mrs. W. H. O'Flynn of Toronto is renewing acquaintances in town this week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Brown of Bethlehem, Pa., U.S.A., left Madoc last Saturday for a few days' vacation at Penn Lake, Muskoka.

Mrs. C. N. Whytock and daughter, Jean, have returned to their home after spending a delightful vacation camping at Crowe Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ashley left on Saturday for an extended motor trip through Eastern Ontario and New York State.

Hastings

Mr. C. Oliver of Toronto was a week end visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oliver.

Messrs. W. J. Boyle, A. Beavis, P. Fairman, J. Burtt, H. Wilson, P. Doherty, and M. Preston, Misses V. Kerr, H. Smith, L. Collins and R. Preston took in the excursion from Cobourg to Rochester on Civic holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sweet of Campbellford were Tuesday guests at the home of the latter's sister, Mrs. Annie Fleming.

Mr. Alex C. Wilson of Toronto was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wilson, this week.

Miss D. Shaw of Windsor spent the holiday week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oliver.

Obituary

JESSE W. VALLEAU

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS, August 10 — The funeral of the late Jesse W. Valleau, was held on Tuesday afternoon from the family residence to the Trent Valley cemetery where interment was made. Services at the house and grave were conducted by Rev. H. J. Bell of Trinity United church, assisted by the Rev. M. L. Hinton of Castleton.

The pall bearers were Messrs. A. N. Bailey, R. Walsh, Dr. J. H. Hess, Dr. W. E. Wilson, W. Montgomery and L. B. Scriver.

MRS. GERALD OITMENT

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, August 10. — The funeral of the late Mrs. Gerald Oitment took place on Tuesday afternoon from the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fleming, Norwood Road.

Rev. H. J. Bell of Trinity United Church, assisted by Rev. M. L. Hinton of Castleton, conducted the services.

Rev. Mr. Bell took his text from the Book of Corinthians, second chapter, third and fourth verses: "Blessed are they who die in the name of the Lord." Rev Mr. Bell asked Rev. M. L. Hinton to deliver the message to the sorrowing relatives. He spoke very feelingly of the great shock that had come to her sorrowing young husband, and to her parents.

The funeral, which was one of the largest to pass through the village, and the large number of flowers, showed the esteem in which the deceased was held.

During the service Mrs. G. Fox and Mr. J. C. Wilson sang the favorite hymn of the deceased, "The Old Rugged Cross."

The bearers were Messrs J. Stinson, J. Richardson, R. Scott, J. Preston, L. Waters, and Mr. Oitment.

Interment was made in Trent Valley Cemetery.

Norwood

Mr. L. T. Biehl, B.A., of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. J. W Riseborough, B.A., over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis and daughter, Elizabeth of Timmins, are spending a week at the Nichol cottage at Stoney Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Cress of Toronto, visited friends in Norwood over the week-end.

Mrs. W. H. Harrison has returned home after spending the past month with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. J. W. Seeley of Belleville, has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Riseborough during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Dobberman and son, Bobby, of Toronto, spent the holiday with Mrs. M. Nichol.

Miss Evelyn Scott spent the long week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

Miss Lila Burgess, is spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Horton of Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Riseborough.

RAINS END FIRE

CORNWALL. — Drenching rains early to-day put an end to the danger of further outbreaks amid the ruins of the houses destroyed in yesterday's million-dollar fire. A squad of 10 firemen and 20 volunteers patrolled the fire area throughout the night, pouring tons of water into the debris whenever flames forced their way through.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

TORONTO, August 10. — Ontario grain, approximate prices track shipping point — Wheat, 70c to 75c.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.— Maximum gains of more than three cents a bushel for wheat resulted yesterday from enlarged speculative buying that embraced all cereals.

Wheat closed unsettled, 2c to 2 5-8c above Tuesday's finish. Corn 5-8c to 1¼c up. Oats 5-8c to 1 1-8c advanced and provisions unchanged to a rise of 32c.

With only brief setbacks because of profit-taking, wheat prices climbed almost the entire day. From the outset, trade sentiment friendly to the buying side of every kind of grain was due in part to firmness of securities, and was also helped by the known attitude of the Government favoring higher commodity prices. Notice was likewise taken of talk that recent rains in Canada had come too late to aid wheat production.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 10. — Wheat prices recovered part of Tuesday's 3-cent decline on the Winnipeg Grain Market yesterday as scattered buying from undetermined sources and lightness of offerings combined to send values up for gains of 1¼c to 1¾c at the close.

Gains of more than 2c scored earlier in the session were pared near the close by a slight selling movement, but the market closed with a firm tone. October finished at 81½c, December at 83½c and May at 87¾c.

Firmness in cables from Liverpool and steadiness at Chicago imparted strength here, though volume of trade was light and operations were of the scalping variety most of the morning.

Export business was confined to small lots and did not total 250,000 bushels. Cables from England reported pressure of Russian and French offerings, with some good sales of Australian wheat. These varieties are offering at substantial discounts under Canadian prices and the demand for Manitobas seems to have petered out.

Cash grains, aside from a little better demand for oats, were not materially improved. Coarse grains trading was dull, but prices tended to higher leve's, in sympathy with wheat futures.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 10 — Prices continued to ease slightly on the Montreal dairy and produce market yesterday, the butter market dropping ½c to 19¼c a pound for No. 1 butter in carlots or less, with occasional sales at 19c. No sales were effected at the weekly auction held to-day, as no bid for the 890 boxes of butter offered exceeded 18¾c. Receipts totalled 64 boxes.

The cheese market was quoted over a range of 9½c to 9¾c a pound for Quebec, and 10c to 10¼c for Ontario, slightly firmer than Tuesday. At the auction yesterday 1,196 boxes were boarded but since the best bid was 9¼c a pound, the lot was withdrawn. Arrivals were 1,478 boxes.

There was no change in the egg market. Graded shipments in Carlots or less held at 18c to 18½c a dozen for extras, 15c for firsts, an 12½c for seconds. A total of 449 cases was offered for sale.

In the potato market new Quebecs in 80-pound bags sold for $1, and old Maritimes at $1.30 to $1.35.

ORILLIA NUDE BATHING REPORTS UNCONFIRMED

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 10 (CP).—If there has been any nude swimming in the neighborhood of Bass Lake careful investigation by special police has failed to yield any evidence of it, Reeve John Drinkwater of Orillia Township to-day announced.

"There have been many bad reports of moonlight orgies and we investigated them all thoroughly, but the police put on the job were not able to find any traces," the Reeve stated.

He still had the matter under consideration. If any truth were found in the reports, drastic action would be taken in dealing with offenders.

ATLANTIC FLIGHT PLANS MENACED BY CRACK-UP

HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland, — (C. P.) — The transatlantic flight plans of Benjamin and Joseph Adamowicz, were uncertain today as a result of damage suffered yesterday after a "test" flight from New York.

The two brothers and their assistant pilot, Emil Birgen, were shaken up but received no serious injuries. Considerable damage was done to the under carriage of the plane.

The ship came down here with the wind and suddenly swerved while travelling on the ground at a good rate of speed. It halted with a crash in a clump of bushes. Both landing wheels were ripped off and the propellor was badly damaged.

SIGN THE CODE

NEW YORK.—Dancing Masters of America, Inc., representing some 1,000 schools of stage and ballroom dancing, signed the Recovery Administration's blanket code to-day and claimed the honor of being the first professional group to do so.

The dancing masters, attending their 50th annual convention in New York, have devised a new dance step, called "The Nira."

AGED HASTINGS FISHERMAN IS DROWNED

FIRE MENACE HAS LESSENED MANY HOMELESS

Twenty-four Families Are Left Homeless in Newfoundland.

TELEGRAPH LINES DOWN.

Third of One Village's Population Are Without Home—Drought Conditions.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 11 (CP)—Fire that threatened to wipe out the White Bay fishing village of Burlington was reported under control to-day, but 24 families had been left homeless by the flames which swept down on the little community yesterday from the neighboring woods.

Communications Disrupted

The stricken village had been out of communication with inland centres since midnight, when telegraph lines fell before the advancing flames, but a wireless message from the government steamer Prospero advised the Capital to-day the fire menace had lessened.

The Prospero steamed away for St. John's after having stood by the stricken village all night in the event the village fishermen and their families had been driven to flight from their homes. Scores of small fishing craft from nearby villages were moving homeward after the long vigil.

Drought Conditions

As they departed, word came from the neighboring coastal community of Jackson's Arm telling of the damages caused by the fire. Starting in the dought-stricken inland country, it had burned about the village for several days, as residents fought tirelessly to check its advance.

Homes on the outer edge of the community housing 24 families, about a third of the village's population of 229, were destroyed. Four stores, a sawmill, 300,000 feet of timber and 400 carloads of pulpwood were included in the destruction.

BLAZING FOREST LAID TO FIREBUG

WATER SCARCE.

HALIFAX, Aug. 11 (C.P.)—While fire rangers and villagers worked side by side against advancing forest fires in two Nova Scotia counties, Royal Canadian Mounted Police to-day investigated circumstances pointing to the belief at least one outbreak had been caused by deliberate human agency.

In Hants County, where fires have been burning in three districts since Monday, rangers found piles of stacked brush ignited in several places, and reported the circumstance to the department of lands and forests. J. D Lockwood of the department to-day described their discoveries as "very suspicious."

Traces of incendiarism Mr. Lockwood said, had been discovered also in Pictou County, where a small fire which broke out yesterday at Hilden was later placed under control. The official declared it scarcely possible the fires could have been started by residents seeking only to burn choppings, since they were aware and "terrified," of the fire menace to their homes and property during the present drought.

Water is scare in the country districts, and it has been found necessary to transport it long distances in fighting the fires. Fortunately, however, they are confined for the most part to somewhat barren country, and the property loss has been small.

Search for Killer

A province-wide man-hunt in Saskatchewan is keeping both local and provincial police at their posts for long hours in search of the cold blooded killers of Constable George Lenhard (above), who was shot to death in Regina while questioning three men wandering about the streets at night Constable Lenhard was the crack revolver shot of the Regina force, but he was shot three times in the back before he had a chance to draw his own weapon.

NORFOLK COUNTY PLIGHT SERIOUS

400 IN ONE CAMP.

SIMCOE, Ont., August 11 (C.P.)—Dumping of workless men from Toronto and Montreal into Norfolk County is causing a most serious situation in the opinion of Simcoe aldermen, who declare hundreds of men are tramping roads through the tobacco district seeking work

Alderman J. C. Austin to-day stated he had secured the license number of a Toronto truck which yesterday discharged a number of men.

John Wilson, one of a party of 25 Toronto youths who had paid $3 each to the trucker, who told them work was plentiful in Norfolk was interviewed by the alderman Wilson said he had to borrow the $3, and since his arrival he had spent his time walking fruitlessly on the highways.

At least four trucks filled with men had reached here from Montreal in recent weeks, Ald Austin added. There was no room for the men. Population of an unemployed camp on the Quance property near Delhi had increased to 400. Ald. J. R Sherk reported after a visit to the place. The men are living in improvised shacks.

Six Planes Deliver New N.R.A. Posters

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Aug. 11.—(A.P.)—The first contingent of airplanes being used in the United States' Government's recovery drive to-day took off from Floyd Bennett field to-day, headed for Bolling field, Washington.

The ships, six large observation planes, carried bundles of NRA stickers and posters. At Washington the planes will take divergent courses to the south to deliver their cargo.

Twenty-eight other army planes, bombers, observation ships and pursuit planes, waited at Floyd Bennett field for the command of Major Asa N. Duncan before demonstrating over New York and delivering bundles to Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and other large cities.

Hired or Fired?

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—There's a young Miss at the Recovery Administration who wants to know if she's hired or fired.

Anyway, she has worked three weeks and there's been no pay.

It happened this way:—

The young lady completed typing her application for a clerical job with the NRA. In bustled an executive.

"Take this letter," he commanded. She did, and several more.

A second executive sent her on an errand. Thus began three weeks' work, 10 hours a day.

Now the NRA finds no record she was hired.

COUNTER-PLAN IS SUBMITTED IN CUBAN STRIFE

President Appoint New Secretary of State and Take Holiday.

LATER RESIGN.

General Alberto Herrera Would Become President of Republic.

HAVANA, August 11 (C.P.)—Members of the Executive Committee of President Gerardo Machado's own Libera' Party said to-day the government had submitted to United States Ambassador Sumner Welles a counter-proposal by which the President would surrender his office to General Alberto Herrera, the present Secretary of War.

Losing Following.

The Popular and the Conservative Parties have demanded that the President step down, and now his own political organization has come forward with a plan accomplishing the same object.

The action of the Liberals in parliament reversed their decision yesterday when they held that Ambassador Welles was guilty of "intermeddling" and that his mediation activities were prejudicial to the sovereignty of Cuba.

Ramon de Leon and a number of members of the Liberal Executive Committee gave confirmation that the counter-proposal had been submitted.

By this plan the present Secretary of State, Orestes Ferrara, would resign and General Herrera would be appointed by President Machado to his post.

Thereafter General Machado would ask Congress for a leave of absence, thus opening the way for General Herrera to succeed to the Presidency in conformity with the provisions of the Cuban constitution.

General Herrera's occupancy of the Presidency would be transitory, it was said. The reason behind the proposal that he take the position at all is that the Liberal Party, to which President Machado belongs, is unwilling to surrender power immediately without a period of readjustment. General Herrera also is a Liberal.

U.S. Plan Similar.

This counter-proposal was advanced after Ambassador Welles, who has been in charge of the work of mediation for several weeks, had

O'DUFFY GUARD READY TO MARCH

Dublin Fears Trouble Sunday —Executive Council in Quandry.

COUP D'ETAT DENIED.

DUBLIN, Aug. 11 (AP) — While the Free State executive council was in session to-day to decide whether to ban Sunday's parade of General O'Duffy's National Guard, the General issued printed orders to his Blue Shirts indicating he had no intention of parading without uniforms.

President Eamon de Valera already has announced his opposition to any procession of uniformed men.

Dublin fears disorders may occur in connection with the parade, which is to commemorate Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and Kevin O'Higgins, who were leaders of the Irish movement.

The march will be led by a mounted party and an advance guard of 100 men from West Cork who formed the famous Cork Brigade in the former troubled days.

An order to the men read: "Officers will impress on all ranks the imperative necessity of continuing the march. Ranks will not be broken except at the direct order of the responsible officer."

A statement discrediting the idea that any coup d'etat was intended by the Opposition to the President was issued by former President William T. Cosgrave.

"Attempts have been made to suggest to the public that a coup d'etat is contemplated," the statement said. "This is nothing but fantastic nonsense unless the Government themselves have one in mind.

"The whole matter would seem to be merely a further attempt to divert public attention from the government's drastic policy in bringing disruption into the country's chief industry—agriculture."

$3,000 for Finger

CLEMENT HAMBOURG

One finger of Clement Hambourg's hand is worth just $3,000, according to Mr. Justice McEvoy of Toronto. When the famous Canadian pianist sued for $10,000 for injury caused to his finger by a glass falling from a light above the stage in the auditorium, the judge stated that the injury had caused him "substantial loss and damage." Here is shown Mr. Hambourg seated at his piano.

MURDERED MAN IS LAID TO REST

Full Military Honors Are Accorded Harvey Barnes, 41-Year Old Farmer.

LEGION IN CHARGE.

ELMVALE, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP)—With full military honors accorded him by members of the Canadian Legion here, Harvey Barnes, 41-year-old Flos township farmer, shot Tuesday near his home, was buried in Elmvale cemetery today.

Six members of the Midhurst Post of the Legion bore the body to the grave as Bugler R. C. Peacock sounded the "Last Post."

Funeral services were held at the home of the slain man's mother, Mrs. Robert Barnes, Elmvale, and at the Elmvale United church.

While the funeral was taking place here arrangements were being made in Barrie for an inquest into Barnes' death. Mrs. Rose Cadeau, charged with murder will not be taken from the jail in Barrie to appear at the inquest.

Two Are Charged With Stealing Papers

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—(CP)—John Rule, a government employee and John Pyne, high school student, were charged with conspiracy to steal Middle School examination papers before Magistrate Browne here today.

Rule pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence on bail of $2,000. Pyne, pleading not guilty, elected trial by jury and was committed for trial on bail of $1,000.

Lightning Strikes Midst 150 Children

COUTANCES, France, Aug. 11.—(A.P.)— Lightning striking in the midst of 110 children, who were performing setting-up exercises today at a vacation camp at Gouville-Sur-Mer, hurled all of them to the ground, fatally burned a 12-year-old boy and instantly killed the 20 year old instructor.

Seventeen of the children were severely bruised by being crushed in the ensuing panic. A sudden violent clap of thunder accompanied the bolt.

British Hospitality Too Much For Price

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—(CP)— Attorney-General W. H. Price must have been overcome by British hospitality when he told a Scottish audience Canada has room for 10,000,000 additional citizens Patrick Donnelly stated in addressing a convention which chose him to contest St. David's constituency as a Liberal in the next elections.

"It was startled when I read the report," said Donnelly. "Our British people are the greatest diplomats in the world and I suggest they entertained Mr. Price lavishly Imagine selling him that idea."

STRIKE BALLOT NOT FOR PUBLIC WARD DECLARES

Copies of Ballot Going to Railwaymen Will Not Be Given Press.

NOT CUSTOMARY.

Results of Vote Will Be Tabulated on or About September 15.

MONTREAL, Aug. 11 (CP)—Copies of the strike ballot of the Railroad Running Trades which have gone out to the entire membership of 24,000 engineers, conductors, trainmen, firemen and telegraphers from coast to coast will not be made public, J. B. Ward, chairman of the Union's Board of General Chairmen, said to-day following a meeting of the union chiefs. The union is fighting a further 10 per cent wage reduction enforced by both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

Not Customary

"It is not customary to hand out strike ballots to the newspapers," Mr. Ward stated, when asked for a copy. He also declined to reveal how the distribution of the ballot to union members is being carried out

He was indignant that reports claimed the general chairmen to be in disagreement over the question of giving publicity to the ballots. "We never disagreed on that point," he said, "and if want you to say so. We had all agreed that no copies were to be given to the press.

Result of the strike referendum, agreed to by the general chairmen after other legal means of fighting the wage cut had failed, will be tabulated on or about Sept. 15. Expression of opinion in referendum will decide whether or not the general chairmen will call upon their coast to coast membership to strike and thereby effect one of the greatest tie-ups in the history of Canadian railroading.

Battle Continues

Meanwhile, on other rail labor fronts, the battle against wage cuts continues.

The Maintenance of Way Employees with a membership of some 36,000 men in Canada are scheduled to meet officials of the companies early to-night to make official their refusal to accept the additional 10 per cent cut. It is understood this section of railroad labor will also ask for return of the basic wage rates, first departed from when the railways initiated a 10 per cent. reduction about a year before the second cut was enforced.

China's 'Sorrow' River Goes Upon Rampage

SHANGHAI, Aug. 11.—(AP)—The Yellow river, called "China's sorrow," took an additional toll of life and property in North Honan province today when it rose 10 feet, its highest point in a decade, and burst over its dikes.

Thousands of miles of farm lands were flooded and hundreds of houses were destroyed. The number of deaths was not learned. In previous floods recently thousands have perished.

The sudden overflow, caused by rains at the headwaters, disrupted services on the Peiping-Hankow railway, tracks of which were covered with several feet of water. Changchow, an important railroad junction, was endangered.

Crossing Accident Victim Succumbs

SUMMERSIDE, P.E.I., Aug. 11.—(CP)—Walter Decourcey O'Grady, travelling secretary of the Toronto branch of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, died in hospital here today of injuries sustained in a railway crossing accident last night.

He had suffered a fractured spine and a fractured leg when the car in which he was driving to Noonan's Beach with Mrs. O'Grady was struck by a Canadian National Railways train at Borden. His view obscured by a string of box cars at the crossing, Mr. O'Grady failed to see the oncoming locomotive, and his car was swept off the track and overturned.

Mrs. O'Grady suffered less serious injuries, and she was expected to recover.

Ardent Fisherman Drops From Wall Into Trent River

James Stinson, 81, Pioneer Of Percy Township, And Resident Of Hastings, Suffers Heart Attack While Fishing From Canal Wall.

BODY IS RESCUED BY NEARBY FISHERMEN FEW MOMENTS AFTER AGED MAN FELL IN.

HASTINGS, Aug. 11.—(Examiner Correspondence)—James Stinson, eighty-four year old resident of the village was drowned on Thursday night at nine o'clock.

Mr. Stinson, a life-long resident of the district was an ardent fisherman. The past year he has been subject to dizzy spells and has done all his fishing from the bridge. While eating supper on Thursday night he informed members of his family that he heard bass were biting near the Foundry and he thought he would try his luck. Messrs Art Graham of the Empress Hotel, Peterborough and Jesse Airress, 571 Reid St., Peterborough were fishing on the long pier across from the aged man when he fell in. They made a record trip around the locks to where there was an old punt half filled with water. Mr. Airress told The Examiner that Mr. Stinson was breathing when he reached him, he held him up while F. J. Lockhardt and P. J. Nixon of Toronto who were anchored in a boat down from the bridge came across and helped bring the body to the shore. Drs. Campbell and MacDonald worked over the body for some time.

Inquest Not Necessary

Coroner Armstrong of Warkworth was called and decided an inquest was unnecessary. It is believed that the unfortunate man took a weak spell and fell in.

The accident has cast a deep gloom over the district as it is the fifth this summer. Thursday's night's accident happened almost directly across from where John Freeman was drowned last May near the end of the long pier below the locks.

Mr. Stinson was one of the pioneer settlers of Percy Township, where he resided for a number of years before moving into the village where he has lived retired. The sympathy of the entire community goes to his wife who has been seriously ill for some time. Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his loss two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Wilcox and Mrs. L. E. Kelley and two brothers, Lewis of Trenton and Harry of Cobourg.

CHINESE REDS MEET DEFEAT

General Tsai, Hero of Shanghai Defense, Routs Advancing Hordes.

HALTS DRIVE ON AMOY.

SHANGHAI, August 11 (C.P.)—General Tsai Ting-Kai's famous 19th Route Army, heroes in the defence of Shanghai against the Japanese last year, to-day defeated 40,000 Communists in a powerful counter-attack between Changchow and Lungyen in South-eastern China.

General Tsai's forces yesterday were reported as having been thrown back by the Red Army, which threatened to invade Amoy an important seaport east of Changchow, after being forced out of Kiangsi Province by General Chiang Kai-Shek's campaign.

Advices from various sources in Fukien Province, in which Amoy is situated, said Tsai succeeded in cracking the Communist lines causing the Reds to fall back demoralized.

Meanwhile, according to reports from Canton, air bombers in the Cantonese Army battered the Communists' rear lines and the Reds' thrust toward Changchow and Amoy was considered shattered at least temporarily.

MILK INDUSTRY TO BE ORGANIZED

Receipts From Sales Over England Will Be Spit Among Producers.

USE POOL SYSTEM.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Aug. 11 (C.P. Cable)—The milk industry of England and Wales is to come within a great national scheme for ordered marketing of farm products. Registration forms have gone to 250,000 producers. By radio broadcast and personal appeal producers are being pressed to register.

England and Wales will be divided into 11 regions with a separate pool for each. All receipts from milk sales will go into a regional pool. Total receipts, after a small levey has been deducted, will be distributed among the producers of each region according to the amount of milk supplied. The pooling scheme will come into operation next January 1, when the Milk Marketing Board will fix contract prices and conditions for all milk sold, both for household consumption and manufacturing into cheese or other dairy products.

The pig ballot passed all expectations. A majority of 99 per cent supported the scheme of the Government to control the pig products market. Bacon curers voted 69 to 31 per cent in its favor, the necessary two-thirds majority. A contract system for bacon is expected to come into operation at the beginning of November. All bacon contracts then will be subject to approval of the Pig Marketing Board.

Brief Tornado Levels National Guard Camp

LEWES, Del., Aug. 11.—(AP)— A short-lived tornado which swept in from the sea levelled every tent in the Delaware National Guard camp near Bethany Beach, unroofed buildings and injured several of the 800 guardsmen early today.

Three persons received severe cuts or bruises.

A torrent of rain followed the twister while officers and men clad in pajamas struggled to bring order out of chaos.

What was not torn by the wind was waterlogged by the downpour. Adjutant General Weller E. Stover, who took charge of the restoration work, said the loss would be "very great."

Nazi Taboos

BERLIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—Buying the illegal Communist Volkszeitung for 10 pfennings (nominally 2½ cents) to-day cost a Hamburg riveter a three-months' jail sentence.

For humming the "Internationale" on the street while returning home from a saloon, a 60-year-old Berlin shoemaker was fined and sentenced to four months in jail since his singing "was calculated to incite to violence."

For chopping down an oak dedicated to Chancellor Hitler two Goerlitz workers received one year prison sentences and were deprived of citizenship rights for three years.

Women using cosmetics henceforth will be barred from meetings of the Lower Frankish Nazi women's organizations. Those who smoke will be ousted from membership.

CITIZENS HALT GARAGE THIEF WITH SHOTGUN

Caught in Garage Stealnig Automobile Tires—Shots Were Fired.

COMPANION ESCAPES.

Villagers Attempted to Puncture Tires of Fleeing Thief in Automobile.

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 11.—(CP)—Halted when shotgun pellets whizzed over his head, a young man giving his name as James Mason, 23, of Kitchener, was captured at Plattsville, Northeast of Woodstock, early today. He is charged with stealing automobile tires. Inspector H. Gardner of Provincial Police said the proprietor of a Plattsville garage was awakened by the noise of an intruder in his garage. He summoned neighbors and the little posse, armed with shotguns, approached the garage.

Fled In Automobile

The villagers saw a man appear with an automobile tire in his arms. They called him to halt but he fled towards a parked car. "Stop or we'll shoot," called the armed men. Still the intruder fled but several shots were fired over his head and he surrendered.

A man at the wheel of the automobile let in his clutch and sped off the road. The villagers tried unsuccessfully to shoot out his tires.

Mason refused to give the name of the driver. Inspector Gardner later received a report two other garages in the same Oxford county district were looted last night. Ten tires were stolen from a second Plattsville garage while one at Bright, Ont., reported loss of tires and accessories.

Mason was taken to Woodstock to appear in police court there.

Nurses Form Brigade Save Their Hospital

(By Thomas B. Champion—C.P. Staff Writer).

LONDON, Aug. 11 (C.P. Cable).—Fifty nurses at Brockley Hill Hospital, Dorsetshire, formed a bucket brigade to-day and saved the hospital from advancing flames of a heath fire which has been burning four days.

Elsewhere in England fires in woods and heaths caused considerable damage and kept hundreds of woodsmen and volunteers at work. Flames 30 feet high destroyed many acres of gorse at Kirby, Cheshire, and threatened large residences.

One hundred acres of oaks were destroyed in the Chantry Woods of Essex. In many places fires were still burning to-day.

Local Artillery Unit Goes To Petawawa

Thirty men and four officers of the 4th Canadian Field Artillery, this city, entrained early to-day for Petawawa Camp, where they will spend eight days in intensive training. Most of the training will be taken up in artillery practice at the Petawawa Ranges. Colonel W. B. Anderson, D.O.C. of M.D. 3, inspected the battery and expressed satisfaction at their showing.

MONTREAL, Aung. 12.—(C.P.)—A more temperate view of their product should be taken by wheat producers in the opinion of Sir Albert Humphries, who represented British milling and grain interests at the recent world grain show at Regina. He advised a little less optimism when the price of wheat rises and a little less pessimism when it falls. Sir Albert is in Montreal on his way back to England.

CUBA CONDEMNS INTERMEDDLING BY U.S. OFFICIALS

Charge Welle's Efforts at Peace Prejudicial to Island's Sovereignty.

MAY MODIFY STAND.

Machado Backed By His Party Firmly Declines to Leave.

(By John P. McKnight).

HAVANA, Aug. 11 (A.P.). — A modification was looked for to-day in a motion of President Machado's Liberal Party which condemned as "intermeddling" United States Ambassador Sumner Welles' mediation efforts and his suggestion that Machado resign that peace might be re-established in Cuba.

The party's executive committee adopted a resolution yesterday declaring that activities for peace of the American envoy in the last few weeks were prejudicial to Cuban sovereignty, but later named three leaders to redraft the strong pronouncement.

In congressional halls, subsequently, the impression prevailed that the three men, Senator Alberto Barreras, Representative Rafael Guas Inclan, and Governor Jose Barcelo of Oriente Province, would re-word the measure so as to leave the party nominally opposed to "intermeddling" but giving Machado a way out.

However, the belief was widely entertained to-day that the President would soon give a definite reply to the United States envoy's proposal that Machado make way for a new President

Welles In Storm Centre.

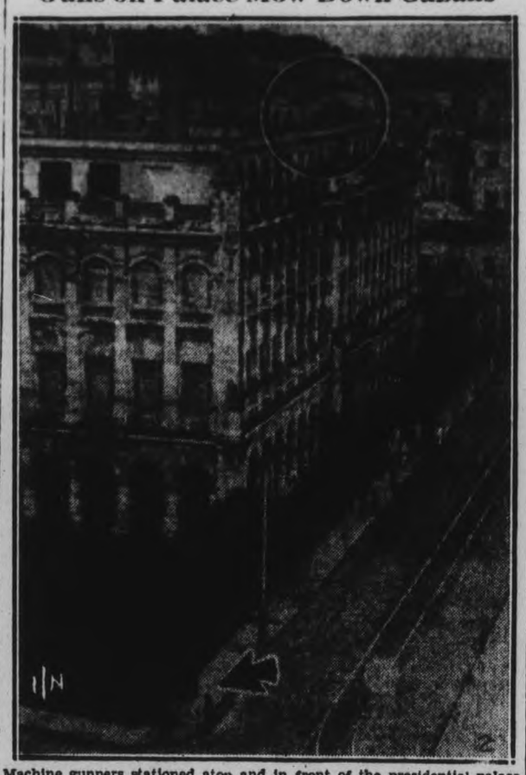
Ambassador Welles, attacked and defended for his mediation efforts, meanwhile became the storm centre of the Cuban political tumult, which entered the stage of a passive revolution with the spread of a general strike.

Members of the Conservative and Popular parties in statements said they approved Welles' conferences with governmental and opposition representatives, from which came suggestions for political reforms and the proposal that Machado ask Congress for a leave of absence.

Welles said he was acting with President Roosevelt's support. Machado himself has said he will not give up his office—that he has lived in this republic and that he intends to die here.

Only one Liberal, it was learned, voted against the executive committee's motion. He is Dr. Emilio Nunes. He said he spoke against it because he thought it would mean United States intervention and added that his life had been threatened for opposing it.

Guns on Palace Mow Down Cubans



Machine gunners stationed atop and in front of the presidential palace in Havana contributed to the massacre of 30 citizens and the wounding of 100 others. The gunners, shown by the arrow and circle, kept their guns white hot in clearing streets in the vicinity of the palace during an attempted celebration.

A POPULAR LINE OF SOFT DRINKS

Better Beverage Company Uses Only Purest Ingredients.

Canada is to-day—and has been a country that might justly be called "A Soft Drink Country." A country where young and old alike are quick to appreciate and recognize the wholesome taste and invigorating qualities of a good soft drink.

This accounts for the rapid strides made in recent years by this local concern. It accounts for the popularity of Better Beverage Co. products.

A visit through the modernly equipped plant of this firm will convince you that every possible precaution has been taken to produce the most delicious and wholesome soft drinks known.

In the first place, the flavors and ingredients they use in the making of their product are pure. Pure cane sugar—just as you use in making your cakes and candies—are added in quantities to give the right taste. Then pure sparkling carbonated water is added to supply the right tang and zest. By actual test the soft drinks this firm produce contain more energy replacement value of food calories than an equal quantity of fresh ripe fruit.

Every possible precaution is used to insure sanitation. Each and every bottle into which this sparkling beverage is poured is first sterilized. The bottles are not touched by human hands until the cap has been placed on the bottle and the bottle is placed in the case for delivery to dealers. This firm not only complies with the rules and the pure food laws, but it goes a bit farther by insuring purity to the farthest possible degree.

Children are fond of Better Beverage Co. Soft Drinks—it replaces burned-up energy and is pure, wholesome and helpful. Not alone do these beverages have a high food value, but they also greatly aid the process of digestion and assimulation.

Orders will be promptly filled by phoning Better Beverage Co., 124 Robinson, phone 1689.

C. M. Rishor, the owner and manager of this plant, is a sound business man with foresight and good judgment. He believes in filling a real community need, and in filling it in a way that will reflect on him, his firm and on his community.

Do you know how many kinds of soft drinks are made by this firm?

CANADIAN CROP OUTLOOK LOOMS AS LOWEST YET

WHEAT 57 P.C. AVERAGE.

United States' Prospects Are Worst Over Past 35 Years.

OTTAWA, August 11. — Canadian field crops will range from 16 to 57 per cent. below average this year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics forecast yesterday. Drought and heat took heavy toll, especially in Ontario and the Prairie Provinces.

For all Canada crop yield prospects are the lowest on record.

Most damage during July was done to crops of flax, wheat barley and oats. The flax crop, on a greatly reduced acreage, was judged to be a 43 per cent. of average at July 31. The condition of the wheat crop was shown to be 57 per cent. of average which with the exception of 1931, was the lowest figure at that date in the records of the Bureau.

Of wheat prospects on the Prairies the report said for the fifth successive year conditions grew worse in July, compared with conditions at the end of June. The decline amounted to over 26 per cent. Manitoba's decline was 19 per cent.; Saskatchewan's 30 per cent., and Alberta's 23 per cent. The report said Alberta's yield would be one of the lowest per acre in the history of that province.

Sharp Drop in States.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. — The crop reporting board of the United States Department of Agriculture yesterday forecast the lowest production of wheat and oats in 35 years and the second smallest corn crop since 1901.

The wheat crop for this year, winter and spring combined, was forecast at 499,671,000 bushels.

Akron Man Lands 18-Pound Muskie

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, Aug. 10. — After spending several summers on the Blairton shore of Crowe Lake in the hopes of securing a large sized muskie, success came to Carl Sinn of Akron, Ohio. On Wednesday afternoon he took an 18 pound specimen out of the water. A mark about four inches from the back of the head was apparently caused by a spear sometime ago.

TWO LIBERALS ARE OPPOSED IN ONE RIDING

Nominations For Prescott-Russell Seat Prove Bitter Affair.

POLICE CALLED IN.

Louis Auger Charges Convention "Packed"—Majority Back Belanger.

PLANTAGENET, Ont. Aug. 11 (CP)—The tumult and shouting have subsided; and normal quiet prevals again in this town following yesterday's political convention. Two Liberal candidates—Aurelien Belanger and Louis Ruger—are in the field to contest Prescott-Russell in the next provincial election.

Mr. Belanger, member for Russell in the Ontario legislature from 1923 to 1929, was chosen by a majority of accredited delegates over Armand Sabougin, Longauil township and Mayor John B. Woods, Hawkesbury. Mr. Auger one-time member at Ottawa for Prescott, was the unanimous choice at an open meeting.

Gathered from all parts of the constituency as defined by the recent Ontario redistribution bill, delegates assembled in the town hall yesterday afternoon. With the delegates came many constituents. For five and one-half hours, Plantagent heard heated discussions which threatened to develop into a touch of pugilism. Provincial Police were called, and after appearing on the scene stayed until the last of the crowd dispersed at night.

"Packed" Convention

Charges were made by Mr. Auger, shortly after the meeting opened, that the convention was "packed." Bitter discussion followed between rival candidates with the spectators giving vent to their feelings. Two hours after the opening the vast majority of accredited delegates moved over to the public school building where Mr. Belanger was chosen as Liberal candidate. An open meeting continued at the town hall where Mr. Auger was elected by the gathering there as Liberal candidate.

Both candidates addressed a crowd later on the town hall steps each declaring his intention to remain in the field.

BEATS BABY FOR HOUR.

GASTONIA, N. C.—Accused of beating his eight-months-old son, Jimmie, unmercifully for an hour with a leather strap, Dewey Graham, 27, of the Ranlo Mill Village was in jail to-day charged with assault with intent to kill.

"I beat him because he cried all the time and it bothered me," said the father.

Although the child's body was a mass of bruises, physicians said there were no dangerous wounds and the baby would recover.

FOREST FIRES RAGING ON COAST NEWFOUNDUAND

350 Inhabitants of Burlington Village Forced to Flee in Boat.

TOWN WIPED OUT.

Number of Women and Children Missing—Other Hamlets Threatened.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., August 11.—The 350 inhabitants of the village of Burlington, 220 miles north-west of St. John's, were forced to flee in boats out on to Notre Dame Bay yesterday when a terrific forest fire sweeping down the coast in that vicinity, destroyed the community.

The forest fire razed the little fishing village, destroying every hut and cottage, despatches said. Two smaller settlements in the vicinity also were destroyed by the flames, leaping swiftly ahead of a strong westerly wind.

Fishermen and woodsmen alike fled, unable to check the flames. Their dwellings, and in most cases all the contents, were destroyed.

The last word from the stricken area before the telegraph lines failed came from the operator at Burlington, saying: "Cannot stay longer. Risking my life. Fire too near."

None Missing.

Unconfirmed reports said a number of women and children were missing. Families were separated and these reports were believed to have grown out of that fact rather than any actual loss of life.

The steamer Prospero, ordered to the scene, was under way but could not reach Burlington before daylight.

A motorboat crossed Notre Dame Bay from Jackson Cove to Burlington and returned with word that practically the entire settlement was destroyed.

The coastal steamer Portia reached the scene just before dark and took the people on board. Scores of small boats from nearby fishing settlements hurried to the scene to aid in the rescues. No loss of life was expected, but hundreds were homeless.

The fire continued through the night, the red reflection being visible for nearly 50 miles. Efforts to check the flames were futile. The men devoted their efforts to cutting fire-breaks in the path of the fire in an effort to prevent its reaching other settlements.

FLIER'S WIDOWS IN LEGAL FIGHT

Each Claim Priority of Rights While Aviator Lies in Bier.

KILLED IN ORIENT.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 11 (A.P.).—Legal action was threatened last night as the climax of a public debate over the bier of a wartime aviator claimed in death by two disputing contenders to widowhood.

The body of Capt. Edward F. M. Deeds, former Royal Air Force Corps member, who shot down eight enemy planes in combat, will be laid to rest here to-day—but not, apparently, the argument between Mrs. Betty Deeds and Mrs. Marie Hennessy Shirley Deeds, as to which was the flier's lawful wife.

The court action was hinted by Mrs. Marie Deeds, 23-year-old, auburn haired, movie actress, in refusing to display documentary proof of her marriage.

"My marriage documents! I've got them," she told a questioner, "but I'm not going to show them to a soul until my lawyer arrives from Los Angeles Saturday."

Meanwhile, without the aid of legal talent, both Mrs. Betty Deeds, first wife of the soldier of fortune, and Mrs. Marie, who accompanied the body from China, have publicly and bitterly presented their claims.

Captain Deeds was killed in an airplane crash in the Orient.

BORDER OFFICERS ARREST WOMAN

Mrs. Florence Whitmore of Bancroft Has Third Tangle With Immigration Men.

LOST CHILDREN IN FIRE.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Florence Whitmore, 31, of Bancroft, Ont., is having her third clash with United States immigration laws and is detained here for a hearing this week before a board of inquiry.

In July, 1932, she was denied entry to the United States at Niagara Falls but was permitted voluntarily to return to the Canadian side.

Last December she was again barred at Niagara Falls. Returning to Bancroft tragedy entered her life, her two young children and a younger brother being burned to death in a fire which swept through the Whitmore home.

Ten days ago she succeeded in crossing the border and obtained employment in the home of a Niagara Falls family. She was arrested there on charges of entering the country illegally and for illegal entry after being excluded.

FATE OF PUPILS IS UNDECIDED

Few of Those Who Benefitted From Stolen Papers to be Debarred.

HENRY CHARITABLE.

TORONTO, Aug. 11—While the Department of Education has yet to decide the fate of the Toronto and district school pupils who profited by advance information from the stolen middle school examination papers early in July, Premier Henry plainly intimated yesterday that in very few cases, if any, is the maximum punishment for such an offence—cancellation of the written exams and suspension for two years of further writing privileges—likely to be prescribed.

According to Premier Henry, varying degrees of culpability are evidenced in the case of the offending pupils, and naturally, the extent to which the offenders have been involved will pretty well determine the penalties which they incur. However the Premier, judging from his intimation, is inclined to take a charitable view of the whole situation. In fact, he took occasion yesterday to stress the point that there was a vast difference between those who had merely "cribbed" information from these papers and those who had stolen confidential information, after being thoroughly warned against such practices.

Mr. Henry and George F. Rogers, chief director of education, are now sitting in judgment on the offending pupils, and will probably have a formal announcement of their decision to make in the course of the next few days.

SOUGHT DIVORCE, DIES OF DRUGS

Wealthy Californian at Reno to be Separated From Stratford Woman.

INVESTIGATION ON.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 11 (AP)—Horace Elliott Wadsworth of New York City, wealthy University of California graduate, here for divorce, from Elizabeth Baker Wadsworth, 330 Queen's street, Stratford, Ont., died in a hospital yesterday under circumstances which led authorities to investigate.

Physicians said death was due to an overdose of a sleeping potion, but whether it had been taken with suicidal intent could not be learned immediately.

Wadsworth was stricken at a ranch near Reno, and died soon after arrival at the hospital.

Wadsworth came here about two months ago and established residence for a divorce.

Difficulties over a property settlement agreement had delayed filing of his suit.

Lester D. Summerfield, attorney, said Wadsworth was "well-to-do," owned a yacht in Florida and had recently completed a hunting lodge in Canada.

BARN DESTROYED

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 11.—A barn, the property of Claude Tucker, situated on the outskirts of Stirling, was Wednesday evening destroyed by fire, but the threshing machine inside the barn was removed to safety, although some machinery and the season's crop was burned. The origin of the fire is unknown and the loss is only partly covered by insurance.

Henry Ford
Dearborn, Mich.

TO A MAN WHO ASKS THE REASON

A man, about to purchase an automobile, makes courteous inquiry on the subject of the Ford spring. He relates a recent experience in which a salesman felt he could not sell his own make of car without first depreciating the Ford car in this customer's mind. The main attack was made on the Ford spring. I take pleasure in explaining this point.

We use transverse springs in Ford cars for the same reason that we use round wheels—because we have found nothing better for the purpose.

Most people think that the only purpose of a spring is comfortable riding. But springs, and even very flexible springs, can cause discomfort as well as danger. A good spring must not only be comfortable—it must be safe. It must also assist operation economy. The spring we use serves all three purposes.

A transverse spring—which simply means a spring set crosswise—gives comfort. It is like the wings of a bird—the tips move most, while the body remains steady. I cannot prove that in a letter, but you can prove it in a Ford V-8. Any dealer will gladly allow you the opportunity.

The safety reasons for the transverse spring may be simply stated. In rounding a curve or turning a corner, one side of the car naturally lists downward. Transverse springs do not lift up the opposite side. They actually decrease the car's lean-over. Each spring is set in line with the axle and is attached at its center to the frame. This tends to prevent that swaying on a curve which is so uncomfortable and often dangerous. Notice for yourself how greatly these springs control this in our car.

Transverse springs also make steering and braking exceedingly safe. The Ford car is not driven through its springs. Hence the axles do not see-saw back and forth and so cannot interfere with normal steering and braking action.

Now, about economy. Unsprung weight is that part of the car weight that does not rest on springs. For tire economy it must be low in proportion to sprung weight. It must be low to prevent excess jarring of the frame and body. In the Ford car it is low, due to the use of transverse springs.

We choose to retain the transverse spring for the above good reasons. From every point of view it justifies our choice. If there had been anything better for our car, we would have used it.

TWO-MILE SWIM AT TRENT RIVER IS WON BY LLOYD

Annual Regatta of Trent River Association is Well Attended.

POST CLOSE SECOND

Nineteen Were Entered in the Boys' Diving Contest.

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—Ideal weather favored the annual regatta which was held Wednesday afternoon and which registered another success under the auspices of the recently-formed Fish and Game Protective Association. The boys' diving was the most heavily contested event of the day. The various committees were on the job and the events were run off with little delay. The judges were Thomas Wright and Reeve Leeson of Havelock and Prof. Noel Gill of Virginia; President, Sam Ellis; Secretary, Melville Might. The announcer and starter, Harold B. Wood.

The Kilties Band of Havelock formed in line at the south end of the large bridge and marched across the river and back to the Government Park, where the water events were run off.

The booth committee had a busy afternoon disposing of ice cold beverages, where also home-made cooking was sold by the Women's Institute. The prizes list follows:

Best decorated boat——Clifford Chaplin. Men's single canoe race, 500 yards—1, Clayton Revoir; 2, Don Ellis. Three contestants entered the 2-mile swim—Cyril Post, Havelock; Cecil Lloyd, Campbellford; Fred Alley, Trent River. The winner, Cecil Lloyd, Campbellford, swam the distance in 26 minutes, while Cyril Post came a close second. Ladies single canoe race, 500 yards—1, Marguerite Garneau; 2, Laura Wight Men's double canoe race, 5 entrants—1, John Garneau and Francis Ruttan; 2, Tom Wight and Don Ellis. Boys' 100-yard swim, 15 years and under — 1, Wilbert Blake, Campbellford; 2, Carl Nicholas, Campbellford. Girls' swimming race, 16 years and under, 100 yards —Betty Ormiston. Mixed canoe race—1, Betty Ormiston and Clifford Chaplin; 2, Marguerite Garneau and Don Ellis. Ladies' swimming race, 100 yards—1, Margaret Ellis, Campbellford; 2, Helen Montgomery, Campbellford. Men's swimming race—1, Cecil Lloyd, Campbellford; 2, Cyril Post, Havelock. Upset canoe race—1, Clayton Revoir; 2, Gerald Chaplin. Motor boat, 3 h.p. and under—1, Bruce Longmuir; 2, Jim Inkster. Sea-flea race—1, Fred Cope, Toronto; 2, Morley Dunk, Campbellford. Boys' diving contest, for which 19 entered—1, C. Nichols; 2, C. Rowe; 3, Clayton Revoir. Girls' diving contest—1, M. McDonald, Hastings; 2, M. Ellis.

A demonstration of a 95-h.p speed boat, "Emanon," was given by Mr. Pringle of "Ro-Mar" Island, Hastings; the course taken up the river 500 yards and return; this event proved a thriller to the large crowd in attendance, the boat making a quick, short turn on the return trip. At the close of the aquatic events the crowd proceeded to the Athletic Park, where softball teams from Norwood, Blairton, West Seymour and Havelock lined up. In the Havelock vs. West Seymour game the former won 8 to 7; Norwood played Blairton, score 7 to 3 in favor of Norwood; Havelock met Norwood in the finals, with the latter winning 13 to 9; Norwood received the $5 prize.

Dancing was held at Whitehall Gardens Pavilion afternoon and evening, with a big crowd in attendance. Music supplied by Mary Crowley and her Versatiles." The association feel gratified with the success of the day; the gate receipts amounting to about $90, and with additional receipts for the evening there will be a good balance added to the treasury.

Weddings

SAYERS—WOODS.

TWEED, Aug. 11. — (Examiner Correspondence.) — A wedding of considerable local interest took place in the United church, Madoc, Aug. 9th, when Miss Eunice Woods, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woods, Madoc township, was united in marriage to Morton Brown Sayers, son of Reeve and Mrs. Herbert Sayers, Tweed. Rev. W. G. Rivers officiated.

Miss Woods was a member of Dominion Foundries office staff, Tweed. Mr. Sayers was associated with the Gordon Steel Works, Hamilton and Tweed. There were no attendants, the ceremony being witnessed only by immediate relatives. They left late in the afternoon for a wedding trip to Eastern Ontario and Quebec. On their return they will take up their residence in Havelock.

DUDGEON—BOLDRICK.

The parsonage at Plainfield was the scene of a pretty wedding when Ethel Sarah, daughter of the late John Boldrick, of Thurlow township and Mrs. Boldrick of Thurlow township, was married to Ralph Horace Dudgeon of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dudgeon, of Thomasburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. F. Everson, pastor of the United church, in the presence of close friends.

The bride was attired in royal blue flat crepe with grey hat and shoes.

The couple, who were attended by Mrs. H. H. Donald of Toronto, and Mr. James Cowan, of Belleville, left for a motor trip to Toronto and Lake Simcoe. Upon their return they will reside in Belleville.

Increased Power For Business Section

The capacity of the power lines feeding the district north of Simcoe street, is being increased by Utilities workers under the direction of Harry Beatty, electrical superintendent. A new transformer designed to distribute an increased load has been installed at the corner of Simcoe and George streets, and new power lines are being strung.

Several steel poles are being erected, replacing old wooden poles, which are in a weakened condition from rot.

DESERONTO OUTFIT BEATEN BY CLERKS

Campbellford Nine Takes 9-7 Win From Visitors in Full Game.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 11. — Playing fast ball in an exhibition game with Deseronto last evening on the Campbellford High School grounds before a large crowd of fans, the Clerks, fast softball aggregation of the town, got away with a 9 to 7 win after the two outfits stood at a 5-5 tie at the end of the seventh, when the game was scheduled to finish. Two extra innings were played to break the tie, the Clerks taking the lead and game.

This was a return game with the fast front line players, which registered their second defeat at the hands of Campbellford. The Clerks took an early lead when they made four counts in the third and three in the fourth, the Deserontolans starting to count in the seventh when they started a rally ending in five runs. From then on the game tightened up, the Clerks however holding the edge on the play.

The teams:

Clerks: Hendy, lf; Bush, 2b; Whitton, ss; MacArthur, c; Holmes, 3b and p; Hopping, rf; Upton, cf; Gillessie, 1b; McComb, p.

Umpires—Plate H. Tinney; bases, Chas. Holmes.

Score by innings:

Clerks .....004 301 01x— 9
Deseronto .....000 005 020— 7

Roosevelt Heading Back To Washington

HYDE PARK, N.Y., Aug. 11.—(C.P.)—President Roosevelt packed his bags for the return to Washington to-day, ready to act to end the Cuban political turmoil by whatever means developments made necessary.

In close touch with Washington and Havana, he was determined to bring political peace to the island republic and, to all outward appearances he expected an early showdown.

He put the sign of the "blue eagle" firmly over Government supplies last night. In an executive order he required the application of the new industrial code for shorter work hours and higher pay to all concerns which supply goods to the government.

The President leaves here tonight by special train. Meanwhile he is keeping close touch with troubled Cuba. There was every indication something would break today.

DELEGATION AT TORONTO

Campbellford Commission Board, Council Committee and Citizens Interview Hon. J. R. Cook of H.E.P.C.

SEEK POWER CONTRACT.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 11 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — In an endeavor to secure another power contract with the Hydro Electric Commission, a delegation from the town of Campbellford including the Water and Light Commisson Board personel and a committee from the town council interviewed the Hydro Commission, Toronto on Wednesday, and were very favorably received by that body. No defin-te action was taken by the Commisson, but the matter was referred to their engineers, who will present a report on the possibilities of buying power from the municipality of Campbellford.

The Hon. J. R. Cook, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, presided over the meeting to whom S. J. McArthur, Provincial member, introduced the delegation.

Mayor H. N. Carr who headed the Campbellford party, explained the purpose of the visit, calling on Commissioner J. O. Benor, chairman of the Water and Light Commission, who explained that Campbellford had power to sell and would sell right, if the Commission could find place for it in their system, and endeavored to persuade them to enter into an agreement to buy power from the town. A. J. Meyers, present Commissioner and former mayor of the town also spoke, as did Reeve C. H. Davidson and Deputy Reeve N. Alex MacColl. The Hon. Mr. Cooke explained to the delegation that when power was purchased, a continuous supply was demanded.

The Campbellford delegation consisted of: Mayor H. N. Carr, Reeve C. H. Davidson, Deputy Reeve MacColl; Commissoners J. O. Benor and A. J. Meyers; Manager P. C. Denyes, G. A. Kingston, J. A. Irwin, W. J. Armstrong R. J. Allan, J. A. Anderson, and W. J. Abernethy. Those of the Hydro Commission present were: Hon. J. R. Cook, A. Maguire and Engineers Gaby and Jefferies.

Flood of Gold

DENVER, Colo., Aug. 11 (CP) —Eight million dollars worth of gold was washed into Denver by the Cherry Creek flood last week, water board engineers estimated.

Samples of the silt have been assayed 20 cents in gold to the ton. But authorities said the silt which carried the gold here is spread so thinly over the landscape it cannot be "mined" profitably.

Singing a song of spotless tubs....

The words of the song, as anyone can see, are "Rub-a-tub-tub with Bon Ami." For Bon Ami cleans away the dirt and leaves the surface quite unhurt.

Many cleansers clean by scratching off the dirt. Naturally, they scratch and dull your bathtub at the same time. But Bon Ami is different. It doesn't scratch. Instead, it leaves the surface smooth, uninjured and polished.

Bon Ami cleans thoroughly and quickly. It doesn't redden your hands, doesn't leave gritty sediment and is odorless.

Buy a package of Bon Ami. See for yourself how nice it makes your bathtub—how fine it is for many other things, too.

THE DISTRICT FLOWER SHOW.

The success of the district flower show yesterday reflects credit upon the officers and members of the Peterborough Horticultural Society and its president, Dr. A. J. Madill.

And the fact that a local man, Al. Spenceley, carried off the major awards with his gladioli is an achievement of warm satisfaction to his friends as well as to himself. With six firsts and eight second prizes to his credit, he also won the silver cup for the highest aggregate of points in the show, and also the Canadian Gladiolias Society's silver medal, presented through the Peterborough Horticultural Society, for the best six gadioli in the exhibition.

Mr. Spenceley was competing with horticulturists of the five counties of Victoria, Haliburton, Durham, Northumberland and Peterborough, most of whom have had longer but not more concentrated experience than he in the culture of gladioli. It requires the sacrifice of his spare time, but it is a hobby that bears pleasant rewards.

The annual district flower exhibition under the auspices of the Ontario Horticultural Association is a comparatively new organization rotating among the towns and cities of the district. Local attendance was satisfactory, but many citizens overlooked this opportunity of seeing an exceptional display of floral beauty.

WHERE SONS MUST BE SUED.

Administration of the Old Age Pensions Act in this province generally takes a more lenient and sympathetic attitude toward the ability of children to support their parents than is reported from British Columbia.

If an applicant for pension in British Columbia has unmarried children he is on that account ineligible. If the parent says his children are unable to support him, he is notified that he must prosecute them in police court under the Parents' Maintenance Act. Failure to comply with this harsh order prevents him from receiving a pension.

Similar legislation is on the statute books of Ontario, but Pension Boards are not bound so rigorously to the Maintenance of Parents' Act. This law has been invoked in some cases in this district to compel children to fulfil a filial duty when they are known to have sufficient means. Boards, however, are reluctant to take this step often when they have good reasons for believing that the Parents' Maintenance Act should apply. If the British Columbia regulations seem too drastic, our own procedure is often too lax. Probably every Old Age Pensions Board in Ontario suspects or knows of children who should be supporting parents instead of shifting them on to the province in their old days. And there are not a few cases of collusion between parents and children to obtain the pension for elderly fathers and mothers, thereby augmenting the total income of the family.

Instances could be cited of the correction of such conditions by Pension Boards without recourse to the law. These boards have not hesitated to perform their duty when sure of the facts, and they would receive general approval if the method of their action had been made public.

Old age pensioners in British Columbia are organised, and are protesting against the necessity of having to prosecute their children whom the depression has reduced to want and the relief ranks.

ARE WE "EMPIRE DUMPERS?"

Canada's trade with Great Britain for the first six months of the year shows a balance of $40,000,000 in our favor.

We sold the Mother Country $17,000,000 more of goods and bought from her $8,500,000 less than during the corresponding period last year.

At the same time our business with the United States has continued to decline. The larger volume of exports to Britain, reported by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, is an encouraging trend that is no doubt attributable to the agreements entered into last year at the Imperial Conference held at Ottawa.

That Premier Bennett concluded a bargain with the Old Country that operates substantially to our advantage is attested for the present by such figures as an increase of exports from $62,000,000 for the first half of 1932 to $79,000,000 for the six-month period ending June 30 this year, and a shrinkage of imports from $48,000,000 last year to $39,500,000 this year. The Government can affirm that it reduced trade with the United States, expanded it with Britain so far as comparison of corresponding periods of the last two years discloses, and fulfilled the promise and trade principle of Canada First."

Some Canadians may mildly object that the strength of this bargain may become its weakness, especially those who preferred the proposed Dunning budget of 1930 and its trade policy offering Britain broader opportunities of export to Canada. To them the sharp accentuation of the "Canada First" feature of the Government's fiscal plans, with their series of tariff and exchange protective barriers, were distasteful. Sentiment entered into their conception of "British preference," forming one of the major political differences in the election which swung heavily to the support of the "Canada First" policy.

British doubts and criticisms of the effects of the Ottawa conference have been expressed for months past, especially in free trade quarters where faith in Dominion sentiment seems to be shattered.

The London Star refers to Canada as an "Empire dumper," and refers to the year's results of the Ottawa conference as "cynical mockery of Empire trade."

A recent editorial in "The London Star" may be quoted in part:

"One of the many false bases on which Imperial protection has always been so insecurely perched has been the childish belief that the Dominions were in business for our benefit. It has come oddly from those who would persuade the world that they were hard-headed realists, this theory of an Empire breed of tender-hearted business-men, only too anxious to give the Mother Country the best of the deal. To do us justice as free traders, we never ceased to point out to the zealots who regarded every foreigner as an enemy to British trade, and every colonial as a man who would put our interests before his own, how wrong they were. The Ottawa conference showed we were right. Twelve months' experience of it has proved how right we were.

"The Government's spokesmen cut a sorry figure in trying to stem the tide of facts they had to meet from critics who included Conservatives as well as Liberals. Lord Strachie, pointing to the unfair competition from Canada which has followed the Ottawa agreement, pointed out that there were 18,000 tons more of Dominion butter coming into England, and that Australian butter had fallen by 30s. a ton, a figure about equal to the Australian Government's bounty on butter. Lord Polwarth pointed out that Canada was dumping oats into Scotland at a price which was putting arable land down to grass, and Lord Radnor bluntly asserted that Canada had gone back on its Ottawa promise and was trying to beat our own producers in their own market.

"The feeble answer of the 'National' Government to this cynical mockery of Empire trade is to issue threats and warnings of what may happen when the present agreements expire. But by that time this evil and unfilial system of colonial dumping may have done its fell work and put our producers beyond the capacity to come back. It is a strange achievement for a strong 'National' Government and an Empire policy to have reduced us to the power of a trussed fowl, cackling objurgations against colonial businessmen, who believe that business is business."

MIRACLE OF MIND.

The man who asks you in the street for the price of a cup of coffee may seem a poor sort of creature, but he has a brain in which, according to Professor Herrick of Chicago, there is a system of intercellular communication that transcends any mechanism of man's devising. Its vastness in parvo is beyond conception even by the minds which they equip. We have of late been astounded and humbled by astronomical figures. We are told, for example, that it would take light travelling at something like 186,000 miles a second 400,000,000 years to reach the farthest star known to the largest telescope, and that the earth is but an infinitesimal atom in the universe. We have been ready to exclaim in despair: "What is man that Thou art mindful of him?"

But when we learn that even the most miserable man in the street has such an intricate apparatus in his head, we realize that human beings received more attention than all the rest of creation from the Maker. We are further reminded that "these arrangements" of the system of communication in the human brain "are not haphazard." They are orderly, and "the laws of this order can be discovered" as some already have been. Beholding such a miracle of equipment for the human mind, one is the more ready to accept the conclusion reached by the learned mathematician and preacher, the Bishop of Birmingham, in his recent scholarly work on 'Scientific Theory and Religion":

> Nature is not to be likened to a blind giant, irrational, purposeless, knowing neither good nor evil. . . . She is God's process; and we are children of her womb, brought forth by the divine plan that we may become sons of God.—New York Times.

THE NEW JAPAN.

In the interests of tourist business, the Japanese Government Railways have prepared a profusely and elegantly illustrated booklet showing various phases of life in Japan.

The most interesting and amazing part of it is the extent to which westernization seems to have proceeded in the Mikado's empire.

Factories are shown in all their efficiency.

Sports of all kinds are depicted.

Fine bathing beaches are crowded with fashionable women in backless bathing suits.

The promenades are brilliant with frocks and costumes of which a Parisian gown shop would not need to be ashamed.

And healthy young girls in very modern "shorts" appear to be as common as they are in Vancouver.

We are accustomed to think of Japan as a country apart, a nation steeped in mediaevalism where customs and manners are strangely quaint.

What we find is an alert modern nation, as smart and up-to-date as any country of Europe or America.

This is the new Orient which Canada, as a nation, should be studying and understanding.

INSTALMENT 26.

It was not till the next evening that Helen found time to talk over things with Lester. They had put Jessica to bed with the new novel Ethan had given Helen to read on the train, and sat down in the living room with a pile of bills and that builder of self-respect known as a budget.

"I don't know where it goes," said Lester tragically. "We started with a budget—" He hauled out a dusty, pink-silk bound booklet with For The Bride on it. He found two others, less decorative, and pushed htm all across to Helen, "but it never seemed to make any difference. Jessica—well, she's such a baby ——"

Helen nodded. Jessica was a baby. And she always would be. And—Helen faced the fact, with that clearer attitude towards facts that association with Ethan had given her—Helen's own passion for petting people she loved had contributed to making Jessica a baby. And as soon as it was kind she was going to have to be stern with Jessica—she must.

Things were as bad as they well could be financially. The going of the piano was what had made Jessica break down and demand Helen.

"She loved that piano so," said Lester, "and as she said, it was only fifteen dollars a month to pay on it . . ."

"You still have the radio and phonograph," Helen pointed out, feeling like a monster of hardness. "Now let's count up what you're paying out in installments ——"

Things were not so bad as Helen had feared. Lester was living beyond his means. And the maid and the installments on various things were keeping him from doing anything but get further behind. But a hundred dollars—together with the absence of the baby grand—would pull him out of it for the time being. He would have to borrow on his life insurance to manage the hospital bills. But he had expected to do that, anyway; and there were prospects of a raise.

"If you could explain to Jessica," he said, his face flushing, "that I can't come home in office hours, even if I'm passing near with a prospect—you know, girls don't understand about such things. They won't like it, you know—and we do need the raise——"

Helen nodded, smiling a little to herself. To Lester, Jessica was all the girls in the world. . . . Meanwhile. . . . It hurt her pride a little to come to Ethan with less than an adequate trousseau; but Jessica's needs came before that.

"I have more than that saved," she told poor young Lester, whose eyes were fixed on her, doglike, as if she could produce a solution from the air' "I got a very good salary for looking after Patricia, and I've been saving ever since last August."

Lester flushed up angrily. "I can't take money from a girl," he said.

He was suddenly very stiff and proud, and Helen had a long argument with him, so long that Helen finally had to say, "If you don't take it, I'll give it to Jessica, and you know ——"

"I hate to take it," he said, scarlet again. "I don't mean to be ungracious, Helen, but you understand ——"

The rest of it was various minor plans; principally that Helen would do the housework till Jessica went to the hospital. That would save two weeks' wages for the maid.

After that Helen would find, if possible, a responsible middle-aged woman who would be half-nurse, half-houseworker and they would have hope for the raise.

She sent Lester off to a relieved sleep in the narrow white enameled ornate bed beside Jessica's; sat down to write her nightly letter to Ethan, and rose from it, as always, happy and warmed and thrilled. She undressed in the living room and opened out her davenport-bed, and went to sleep on it, content and very tired. . . . Everything straightened out. . . .

She was awakened somewhere about two by Lester standing over her, white and excited. She was dressed and ready in five minutes, while he telephoned the hospital and for a taxicab . . .

They brought Jessica home a couple of weeks later, very bright-eyed and proud, talking more than was quite hopeful for the new budget about buying herself new dresses; and the possessor of not one but two pink, blinking baby daughters.

"Wouldn't you know," Nina wrote with the extra set of baby-clothes she sent down on hearing the news, "that Jessica would be extravagant even in having babies?"

Helen began to think about returning to her charge. The Kingsways were getting restive over her absence. On the other hand, Jessica clung to her more than ever.

Ethan wrote every day, as lovers do; each letter a little more insistent than the last. As for Patricia, Helen had never known that a page of writing could so resemble a loud howl.

Finally, beside all these, was a wild note from Doris.

"I'm in perfectly dreadful trouble," she wailed. "Please do come back and see what you can do, Helen. It isn't any use to tell me to talk it over with aunt, or father, or anybody on earth but you."

Helen hardly thought things were as bad as Doris made them; Doris being in the habit of looking on the dark side. Yet the habit of helping Doris had become ingrained.

She acquired the middle-aged and responsible houseworker of her plan, kissed Jessica and Lester and the fat pink twins good-bye—Jessica wailed so that the twins were started off too—and, with a heart that could not help being light and excited, started for Kingsway.

Before she went she nerved herself. She must lecture Jessica. It was hard—Helen had never lectured anybody in her life, and she hated to do it.

"Well, I'm on my way," said Helen, and then returned to the thing at hand. Jessica, stretched on the davenport with a twin on either arm, was dressed and ready for Lester's return. She looked like a little girl holding her dolls. The twins were, fortunately, the most sleepy and placid of babies. Jessica intended to call them Shirley and Beverley. Lester addressed them, therefore, as Burly and Curly—Curly having one hair which curled like a Kewpie's on the top of her pink head, and Burly being a shade the fatter.

Helen meant to begin her lecture, but just then Lester burst in, breathless from the stairs and his news.

"I'm getting the raise, girls!" he cried. "Five dollars a week more. I told the boss about the babies, of course, and he said that I'd need more money right away. So he gave it to me now, instead of waiting till June."

Lester finally steadied himself into the father of a family, dropping into the nearest overstuffed chair and lighted a cigarette with a fair imitation of nonchalance—that faded at Jessica's first remark:

"Now we can buy them really nice bassinets with satin down quilts. And even if they are both girls I think I'll get different colors ——"

It was Helen's opportunity to pounce, and she began rather unceremoniously.

"Jess, you can't afford it."

"With all this extra money coming in? Oh, Helen, don't go and spoilt our happy time!"

Jessica's liquid brown eyes became more liquid, and overflowed.

Helen looked at Lester for reinforcements, and, even more uncertainly, he gave them.

"Darling, we got way behind, and it will be a long time before we catch up. We have to be very economical."

"But I am!" said Jessica, opening her eyes wide. "And dinner so nearly ready, and we were all so happy over the raise—Oh, you're both so hard on me! And look, Lester, this baby just has to have it pretty sings, like its sister—don't you, pessus lammie? Would its papa neglect it just 'cause it came when it wasn't expected?"

She caught up the nearest twin, which howled, and laughed and held it to Lester. And in the ensuing necessity of calming it—and its sister, which then and always howled in sympathy—and the announcement of dinner, which had to be brought in and the living-room table cleared to receive it, Jessica managed to thwart her family's ideas of telling her about economy. It was not until Helen was on the train, staring in dismay at Jessica's parting love-gift of a basket of fruit, that she remembered that no impression had been made on her sister about finances. . . .

FACING THE BEAST, GATHERING THE EGGS

Fear is a wild beast that lives in a black cave far back in your mind. You can't see him, nobody has ever seen him, he never comes out. . . . You come to the mouth of that cave and you look fearfully in. You see two terrible eyes shining in the darkness. There is Death and Destruction looking at you, with fierce jaws and tearing claws. . . . Frightened, you enter the black cave. You walk straight toward those glaring eyes. Your heart beats madly. You tremble in every limb. Onward you go. Even the silence is terrifying. . . . You walk straight into the eyes—and what do you find? You find instead of a wild beast two tiny glow worms, fixed on the wall, harmless, faintly shining. . . . No ghastly jaws, no terrible clams, no wild beast at all. . . . Nothing to be afraid of, not a thing. . . . What a joke on you?

Many of our fears are as unreasonable. . . . Men and women are afraid of so many things. . . . Of other human beings. Of crowds. Of loneliness. Of heights. Of harmless garden snakes. Of cats. Of dogs. Of automobiles. Of work. Of love. Of marriage. Of having children. Of monotony. Of taking a chance. Of wrinkles. Of gray hair. Of geting older. Of germs. Of what other people will think. Of themselves. Of all the things that make up life itself. . . . And sometimes they go through life, fearful of things and never learn the emptiness of their fears.

* * *

"I've found you can do anything if you have to. If you know there is no way out you will do the thing you thought you never could and never would do. I thought of this today when I did something I thought I'd NEVER be able to do. It really sounds awfully silly and stupid, but to me it was a big problem, that is—taking eggs from under a hen that is setting on a nest. I don't care, laugh, but have you ever tried it? It scares me so, the hens make the worst sounds, ruffle up their feather and with their sharp eyes watch every move you make and are ready to pick at you at the least move. Oh, it surely used to make shivers go up and down my spine. I just COULDN'T get the courage to feel under them. I'd extend my hand several times but they would act so vicious I would quickly withdraw. I just COULDN'T. The fear of those old hens got me before I ever tried it.

"I told Mom I couldn't gather eggs under those hens, so my younger sister always did. She wasn't scared; she said she just didn't think about it. Now, this summer, she is gone and Mom says I must gather the eggs. . . . So unknown to her I put on a heavy coat and a pair of gloves and went out to my enemies. I counted 'one, two, three,' and quickly felt under the mean things. They picked, but I couldn't feel it. I felt so brave, and I did that way ever since until today, when Mom was out with me, and I had to gather eggs with her close by. . . . So before I could think of my past fears I gathered all the eggs under all the hens and they never picked hard, either!"

* * *

A Thought

GOOD CHEER

Good cheer is a great lubricant; it oils all of life's machinery. It is the salesman's best ally. In the business office, in society, in the home, in the school, in the shop, on the road, everywhere, the favorite is always the cheerful person. Good-natured, cheerful people do not waste their vital energy as the grumbler or the too sober, too sad people do. They work with much less friction; they glide along where the other must force their way. They create a pleasant atmosphere on customers. People enjoy dealing with the cheerful, sunny man or woman.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE BATTLE OF LAPRAIRIE

This date is the anniversary of a battle little heard of in Canadian history, the Battle of Laprairie. Founded by Frontenac as an outpost of Montreal on the south shore, Laprairie had a small fort, around which had grown up a church, convent school and a few trading depots. Isolated, it was a magnet for the militant English from New England who believed that its destruction would cripple the small garrison in Montreal. Twice it was attacked by expeditions from the south, one in 1690 under John Schuyler, and the other the next year by Peter Schuyler, who was second in command of the expedition against Montreal in 1709 and was later Governor of New York.

The story of the second attack on Laprairie is briefly told on a cairn in the park there, erected by the Quebec Historical Sites Commission, in these words:

"Built on this ground in 1687, this fort was a refuge for the settlers during a quarter of a century of wars, 1687-1713. On the 11th August, 1691, Major Peter Schuyler fell on it unexpectedly, killing and wounding several Frenchmen; among the killed Captain St. Ours in command and Captains d'Iresta and d'Escoyrac; among the wounded Ensigns Perres and Levilliers."

Just a bald statement without any color, but this is supplied by a contemporary historian who states that hardly had the fort at Laprairie been burned then retribution came from a party of the Montreal garrison under deVarennes, who not only chased the invaders back to the frontier, but "before they reached the Richelieu gave them the most hot and stubborn fight ever known in Canada." Schuyler's 260 men were decimated and only a remnant of the force reached the canoes and made their way back to Albany."

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

M. Lancaster,
Edinburgh St., City.

The handwriting as graphically described on your sample for analysis delineates you as a person with a sweet and gentle disposition. You are friendly and pleasing, adaptable and kind. You are thoughtful and intelligent, sensitive and retiring. Yet, above all else you are strictly honorable and dependable. You have the ability to impart knowledge, and I think kindergarten work should appeal to you, though this is not the only outlet for one of your capable nature. Business, in either office routine or executive could bring you recompense, or buying and selling as supervisor for a large firm. You are keen and discerning, discriminating as to taste and require quiet surroundings in which to concentrate. The softness of your letter formations lends an appeal to your altogether charming personality.

D. Sanderson,
Marmora, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are subject to change at a moment's notice. You are never very set in your ways unless you want something for yourself. Then you can be most tireless and determined. Sometimes you are frank and perhaps a little too blunt in your criticisms of others, and then again you hide your feelings and say just what you had intended not to say. The slightly backhand letters which intersperse your writing reveal a tendency to say things which you do not mean, or in other words, to be secretive. Generally speaking your character is good, and you intend to be energetic and thoughtful. The rounded lower loops indicate musical interest. The 't' bar crossings denote normal will power but a tendency to become combative or argumentative. You should be well able to create interest in social affairs.

H. S.,
467 Chamberlain St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis reveals many characteristics, for instance: You have too much imagination, which leads you nowhere, but into trouble. You have not quite sufficient will power or determination to make you undertake the work which you know you should do. Yet on the other hand, you can be most stubborn when you want your own way. Your disposition is inclined to be fault finding and sharp. Now your good points are as numerous as the others if you will only let yourself realize that they are. That imagination which you possess, if developed could lead to writing of fiction or to inventing. That stubborn quality could be made to mean will power well directed. Your capital 'H' shows instructive and constructive ability. Now, 'go to it' show what you can do, and I wish you every success.

Mrs. Susannah Matthews,
539 Gilchrist St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis indicates over-anxiousness to please. Your thoughts proceed much more quickly than the capacity of your hands to obey the commands of the mind. You are good hearted and appear to let generosity overrule your sensible, dependable nature. If your feelings are hurt you suffer infinite anguish because you have a propensity to want to 'run your own show' as it were. You see, you do not wear your heart on your sleeve. Your letter 't' which is crossed on the forward side most definitely in one instance, and exactly the centre in the following one, represents decided will power yet not dominant. You will change your plans and your mind if the occasion demands, and if you understand that by so doing, the change will be beenficial to all concerned. On the other hand, if you do not see that benefit is to be derived from the change, you remain adamant. Then it is that 'no' means 'NO'. You have an enormous capacity given you to utilize every passing moment, either in work, thoughts or recreation. You are seldom idle.

A. Morrow,
Water street, City.

The handwriting as indicated on your sample for analysis delineates you as a fine and genteel individual. You have a lovable nature and admire flowers and good music. Your will power is excellent but does not dominate you. Yet it serves its purpose in that it lends interest to your genteel personality. Designing ability is usually an asset to one of your type. This talent may mean any one of the following artistic lines: Millinery, dressmaking, interior decorating or beauty culture. The power to teach or impart knowledge is your's also. You are versatile as to talent, and can accomplish many worthwhile objectives. You are a quick thinker but your solutions of problems are not always correct. You are fastidious as to clothing, and certain colors appeal to you when in indifferent moods. You ask for your faults as expressed in your letter writing. It appears to me that you are too impulsive and perhaps self-centred and self-conscious. You are not as open about things as you might desire to be. This is due to inherited sensitiveness. The long 't' bar crossing indicate combative qualities or in other words argumentativeness. You do like to debate a point, don't you? The lower loops represent leadership, so I think the above traits are all necessary in order that you may fill the nitch created for you by destiny. Sex is not indicated in one's handwriting, and as occupations nowadays seem suitable to both sex, I am giving you several from which to choose.

C. Day,
Hastings, Ontario.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis indicates that you are most refined and discriminating. Your taste is charming and versatile. It varies according to your moods. And, you are a creature of many exciting moods. The fine delicate downstrokes reflect a rather susceptible tendency to expected and desire praise in order to create a spirit of well being and friendship among your acquaintances. Your capital letters with their tall graceful loops and formations denote very expressively the desire for perfection, and the love of romance and idealism. You like to commune with your thoughts without disturbance as often as is possible. You are a keen swift worker, but duties which necessitate too much arduous labor and time do not correspond to your quick moving nature. Too much generosity is shown in your writing. Perhaps it would be as well for you to curb the desire to assist all those who seek your aid. You are restless by nature, and must be 'up and doing' if you are to be happy.

As a class, insects are represented in practically all parts of the world.

Dealer's price on hand-picked white beans, f.o.b., at point of shipment, $1.35.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Setbacks in grain prices formed the rule early to-day, despite United States Government estimates confirming unofficial reports of terrific crop losses. Traders said that recent advances in values had largely discounted the crop damage.

Opening ¾ to 2¾ cents down, wheat afterward steadied at about one cent under yesterday's finish. Corn started ¼ off to ⅛ up and subsequently sagged all around, but then scored a moderate general advance.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11 (CP)—General lack of support, coupled with a disappointing export business overnight, and failure of Liverpool to respond to the bullish Canadian and United States Government crop reports issued yesterday afternoon, sent wheat prices sharply lower on the Grain Exchange to-day.

By mid-session values had slipped off to levels almost 3 cents under yesterday's close. October was selling back in the 70's again at 79¼, December at 81 and May at 85¼ cents.

Trading was mixed in character and selling appeared to come from several sources. The Searle Grain Company's crop estimate appeared to be higher than the trade generally anticipated, and this also had its effect on the price trend.

CROP CONDITIONS IN CANADIAN WEST

Heat and Drought Combined to Cause Further Damage to Crops.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(Over Biggar-Crawford Wire).—During the past two weeks heat and drought have combined to cause further damage to crops in areas which have previously suffered from these elements. The damage was chiefly sustained by crops which reached the milling stage during the last few days of July and the first week in August.

It may be stated that with very few exceptions crops that are now filled have matured without adequate moisture and with consequent damage in respect to both yield and quality. In addition, grasshoppers have made further inroads upon crops in the southern districts of the provinces and in some cases have become so threatening as to cause the premature cutting of crops.

During the latter part of the past week moderate to heavy rains were recorded at many points throughout the West with benefit to wheat crops, feed crops and pastures. In Saskatchwan and Alberta there is evidence of frost damage, but the full extent of the damage will not be known until threshing is under way. About half the crop of southern Manitoba is now cut and threshing has commenced in the earliest districts. Cutting is under way in Saskatchewan and the central and southern areas of Alberta, but will not be general for another week. Crops in the northern areas of Saskatchewan and Alberta have maintained their condition, but owing to their lateness, a distinct frost hazard exists. Heavy showers were reported at many points in Manitoba during the past week, but general drought conditions still prevail.

Yields Reduced.

Heat and drought during the past two weeks have reduced prospective yields in the province and have adversely affected crops in the northern part of the province where a good stand of all grains exists. Harvesting is well under way with about one-half the crops in southern Manitoba being cut and threshing has commenced in the Red River Valley.

Crop conditions throughout southern Manitoba are very spotty and oats and barley crops are generally poor. Grasshoppers are still active and are damaging late wheat crops and feed crops. Pastures reflect the prolonged drought and are in a poor condition over about one-half of the province. Excessive heat has caused crop damage throughout Saskatchewan during the past two weeks. The damage is noted chiefly in areas where drought conditions have prevailed throughout the growing season. Grasshoppers have been active in the south-central and south-western portions of the province and many farmers are cutting crops on the green side to minimize damage from this source.

During the past week severe hail damage is reported from several points, and is specially heavy in the Moose Jaw area and north and west of this point. Frost damage has been reported from the southwestern sections of the province, and while visible damage is not extensive, the results will no doubt be apparent when the crop is threshed.

Crops in the southern portions of Alberta have suffered through lack of moisture and relatively hot weather. Late yields are in prospect except in limited areas which record timely showers during the growing season. Frost damage has been reported from central Alberta and in some cases the damage is severe. In the north-central and northern areas of the province timely rains have been recorded, and the crop is filling well.

Warm weather is needed to mature the late crops in the northern areas of the province and in the Peace River district.

Canadian Business Continues Upward

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. —(AP)—The business upswing which continued for 16 weeks has been resumed after a brief pause caused by uncertainties surrounding the new industrial codes and a restricted seasonal recession in some lines, Dunn & Bradstreet, Inc., said today in its weekly trade review.

Extension of retail and wholesale distribution has been wider than was commonly reported, the Review said, and rested on a real need for merchandise rather than a speculative desire to seek advantage of any probable fluctuations in price trends.

THREE CHILDREN DEAD.

CONCORD, N.C.—Three Negro children were dead to-day and 11 members of their family ill from eating bread made from flour in which poison was mixed by mistake.

The poison bread was eaten on Tuesday, and all became ill, but a physician was not called until after the first death.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(A.P.) — Prime commercial paper 1½ per cent; foreign exchange steady, demand rates: Great Britain 4.49; France 5.31½; Italy 7.13½; Germany 32.50; Canadian $4.25.

In Court Battle

AL JOLSON
WALTER WINCHELL

When Al Jolson allegedly socked Walter Winchell, Broadway columnist on the nose, in the eye, or in the neck, as he had been variously reported, he let himself in for a $500,000 suit, which Winchell has brought against the actor. Jolson says that a scenario written by Winchell cast reflection on his wife, Ruby Keeler, of Halifax, N.S.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug 11 (CP)—With a holiday spirit ruling in all industrial markets, mining stocks fell into line and staged a listless session. The price tendency was towards lower levels until the last half hour when most of the losses were wiped out.

Dome recovered and closed 50 cents up, Hollinger gained 25, McIntyre was unchanged Lake Shore dropped 25 cents.

Base Metal shares sagged when the New York market had a selling flurry at mid-afternoon, but recovered. Noranda was unchanged and Nickel gained 10.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP) — Stocks languished in dull trading today. After improving moderately in the forenoon, prices quietly backed and filled to settle slightly lower in late dealings. Losses of major fractions to a point or so were shown in Case, United States Steel, National Distillers, American Commercial Alcohol, General Motors, Deere and American Telephone. Baldwin Locomotive was a firm spot while American Can was steady. Transfers approximated 1,300,000 shares.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 11 (C.P.) — Stocks moved sluggishly in the closing session of the week to-day and prices were moderately lower at the close, due partly to a thin buying market and partly to a light sell-off in the New York market at mid-afternoon. Recessions were shaded by a firming tendency in the last half hour.

Nickel held the trading interest and advanced to 20.50 but closed at 20.25 for a net gain of 5 cents. Smelters dropped a couple of points while Ford A and C.P.R. were unchanged and Brazilian down ¼.

WINNIPEG WHEAT

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11 (CP) — Weakened by selling from Chicago traders, wheat prices slumped in the late dealing on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, adding to early session losses. At the close values showed declines ranging from 3½ to 3¾ cents.

BOY SWALLOWS COIN

TORONTO—Physicians at the Toronto East General Hospital today followed with interest the course of a one-cent piece through the internal mechanism of seven-year-old Billy Webster.

The copper coin was moving through Billy's digestive system and an operation was considered unnecessary.

DENTON FUNERAL SATURDAY.

TORONTO. — Funeral services for Judge J. H. Denton will be held to-morrow afternoon at Timothy Eaton Memorial Church here, with interment at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Judge Denton, Senior Judge of the County of York, died yesterday morning at Metis, Quebec, where he was spending a vacation with Mrs. Denton.

LOST FARES

NEW YORK—An average of 2,600 slugs, representing $130 in lost fares, are deposited daily in the subway turnstiles of the Interborough Rapid Transit company.

This was disclosed in testimony at a hearing in a Queen's Magistrate court when Santo Marcarone was arrested on a charge of placing a lead slug in a turnstile.

HOLLYWOOD
Sense and Nonsense

Most successful of all the socialites to enter the movies is Elizabeth Schermerhorn Young. Jumping into leading roles with no apprenticeship, the daughter of the New York jurist is now to share feminine honors with Greta Garbo in "Queen Christina."

Elizabeth Young

In a last minute rush to fill out his cast, Producer Walter Wanger borrowed Miss Young from Paramount and tentatively fixed on Ian Keith, Reginald Owen, Lewis Stone and C. Aubrey Smith for other featured roles.

The romantic lead opposite Garbo, Lawrence Olivier, concluded his dash from London in time to report for opening shots of the picture.

"Queen Christina" will mark Garbo's first appearance before a M.G.M. camera since April 12 of last year. On that day she finished "As You Desire Me."

Studio attaches claim that 31 pages of script had been shot with Sylvia Sidney before the actress walked out on her picture, "The Way to Love." They'll tell you that even in non-strike times, 4 pages a day is a good shooting schedule. . . . More trouble may be brewing for Paramount unless somebody can smooth Ricardo Cortez's ruffled feelings. The actor is openly declaring he would like to be free of his contract.

Raquel Torres is going to London to make a picture after she finishes at Paramount. She denies it also will be a honeymoon with Charles Feldman. . . . Sharon Lynne is another Hollywood star who plans a British film. . . . But when Groucho Marx was talking of a London vacation, his young daughter registered an objection. "Every time we go to Europe, I have to have my hair curled," she complained.

Bing Crosby, Richard Arlen, Mary Carlisle, Jack Oakie, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Coach Howard Jones of U. S. C. Lons Andre, Mary Kornman, and the "Or-Road Co-Eds."

They're the imps that turn dear old "Whoosis" into a madhouse of hit-cha in that glorification of what co-education ought to be aptly titled "College Humor," which plays Friday and Saturday at the Capitol theatre.

They're absolutely mad, this cast—mad and beautiful and hilariously funny and they turn out as good a job of light, carefree summer entertainment as you've ever seen from Hollywood's studios.

It's an insane conception of college life—but how the boys and girls would through to Mid-West University if only college life was a little bit like this!

Metro - Goldwyn - Mayer recently sought and found 200 "most beautiful" dancing girls who will be employed in seven dance pictures.

Fox spent nearly 3 months trying to find a "vamp" for a picture, and learned that the "vamp" species is practically extinct. Shades of Theda Bara! The same studio is now hot on the trail of a couple of Negro men with Harvard accents for Will Rogers' new film.

The much coveted leading feminine role in "The Lady is Willing," the production which Columbia Pictures is making in England under the personal supervision of Harry Cohn, president of the company, has been finally filled. The noted English actress, Binnie Barnes, has been selected from the vast number of stars, both American and English who were under consideration.

Leslie Howard signed for the male lead some weeks ago, is now in London working in the production. The international theatrical producer Gilbert Miller is directing.

COBALT CONTACT

Cobalt Contact Mines had disposed of a million shares of treasury stock to American interests which has enabled the company to liquidate outstanding debts. Further increase in the price of silver will enable the company to reopen its mine and resume production.

CENTRAL PATRICIA

Officials of Central Patricia Gold Mines report a new strike on the Springer group of claims in the Patricia district, where exploration work has been proceeding for some time. The new vein was located about 1,000 feet west of the one found several weeks ago.

SUDBURY MINES

Sudbury Mines Ltd. is reported to have taken an option on a group of claims north of Ashley Gold Mines and a crew of men has been sent in.

GRAIN BROKERS' OPINIONS

Thompson McKinnon—Favor purchases of wheat on all weak spots.

Harris Burrows.—Feel a moderate price range probably all that can be expected for the near future.

Lamson Bros.—After yesterday's reaction I would not be surprised if the government report is bullish.

Norris Grain Co.—Barring some surprise for the report rising values are in prospect.

AFTER NEW NAVAL BASE?

TOKYO. — Vernacular newspapers printed "reliable information" to-day that the United States was negotiating with Mexico for acquiring a naval base in lower California and to statements attributed to navy officers that such a base would seriously menace peace in the Pacific.

These reports reached the Foreign Office from official sources in the United States, a spokesman said, but he declined to reveal whether they were Japanese or non-Japanese.

BAREHANDED CATCH

ST. CATHARINES—Here's a fish story and a true one. A boat passing through a lock of the Welland ship canal struck a pike knocking it partially unconscious. Chris. Cleverly jumped in the water to secure the fish. After a struggle in which his thumb was badly bitten the "fisherman" captured the prize. The evidence — an 18 and three-quarter pound pike, 33½ inches in length.

Two Young Girls Wanted To Get Married Gave Wrong Ages And Addresses

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 11 (CP)—Two young girls, one under 16 and the other barely over that age, who secured marriage licenses at the City Clerk's office here yesterday after giving wrong addresses and swearing they were over 20 years of age; were held in detention today by Juvenile Court authorities. The names were withheld.

An alert clerk in the City Clerk's office found the deception when he checked up addresses and found no such numbers existed. The correct addresses were learned and reference to birth registers showed the girls' actual ages.

Armed with this information Juvenile Court authorities arrested the youths. One of the girls intended to marry a young man who is on unemployment relief, the City Clerk said.

"There are a large number of girls doing the same thing," said City Clerk Baker today. "In this case we became suspicious. . . There is a very severe penalty attached to offences of this kind, but even that doesn't seem to deter some young

FORT ERIE SELECTIONS

First Race—
Ville Crest
Pitchblende
Imadandy

Second Race—
Exhibition
Merely Trigling

Third Race—
Protractor
Song Hit
Ned O.

Fourth Race—
Quatra Bras
Mr. Gaiety
Refiner

Fifth Race—

Sixth Race—
Boscobel
Banderlog
Impeach

Seventh Race—
Good Guess
Galahad
Platinum Blonde.

TO-MORROW Fort Erie opens its gates for its second summer meeting and it looks from this angle as if it will be more successful than the meet they had about a month ago. Conny Smythe has a two-year-old called Divert which will make a name for himself soon. He is by Display, the famous handicap performer of a few years ago. If he becomes half as famous as his daddy he will more than be a meal ticket for the Smythe-Campbell combination.

JUST IMAGINE is one we would ask you to keep an eye on. This egg is working up to a winning effort and we don't mean maybe. Attick Bird has been in the money her last three starts and is improving each time. She will cash in a Canadian bred event. We are going to hand you a real special in Predict. This hide carried a ton of the wise money her last start at Hamilton but was pinched off at the first turn and even then ran a very creditable race, but could not reached the leaders but next time out it will be a different story.

• • •

MAKE BELIEVE is in the pink right now and the farther the distance the better he likes it, as he can run from here to the Rocky Mountains. Athol won his last start in a great duel with Sir Byron and as both of these are very consistent it will pay to tab both of them for their next few starts. The early morning regulars tell us they have Big America ready for a melon cutting, so don't just be satisfied with the seeds. This one is a real fast sprinter when right.

• • •

THE SAME also goes for Don Vern when they take a little weight off him. His last start he carried one hundred and twenty pounds which is too heavy an impost for any plater to be asked to carry. Marshall Cassidy will do the starting at Fort Erie and it looks as if this will be his last season in Canada as the new track at Coney Island is arranging with him to do the latch springing for them next season. We might point out that him and his brother are considered the two best starters in America and believe you us that takes in a lot of territory.

• • •

ONCE AGAIN let us remind you about Higher and Broadway Lights as both art fit and ready to run and don't mind who is in with them as they can hold their own with any of them. If you happen to see The Doctor entered at Fort Erie don't let him run light as this one is always trying.

COUNTER-PLAN IS SUBMITTED

advanced a plan similar in outline.

The Welles plan was that President Machado appoint a Secretary of State acceptable to all parties and that the President then ask for a leave, turning over power to this Secretary of State, who would succeed him and set up a permanent administration.

Street Car Bombarded

A huge bomb was exploded beneath a Havana street car loaded with policemen, seven of whom were injured, one perhaps fatally.

Meanwhile interior cities reported that, as a result of the general strike which has turned into a revolutionary movement, the food shortage was fast becoming acute.

MANGLED TO DEATH.

MONTREAL.—Caught in the interior of a mixing machine which another employee had turned on accidentally, William Meehan, 60, employee of the Canada Sugar Refining Company, Limited, was mangled to death here to-day.

ASTOR WEDDING GUESTS GOT LEMONADE, TEA OR NOTHING

Mayfair Bloods Hopefully, But Vainly, Hunted for Champagne

ONLY WEATHER WET

Taplow, Bucks. — It was sweet and decorous to be a guest at an Astor wedding, with nothing more than lemonade and rain to disturb the quiet pleasure.

Lady Astor's several hundred constituents from Plymouth enjoyed their tea and strawberry ice in the marquee which stretched across the second terrace.

But what about the great exodus from London? The more sophisticated friends of the Hon. Phyllis Astor and her bridegroom, Lord Willoughby de Eresby, son and heir of the Earl and Countess of Ancaster?

These numbered at least 500, and they were shepherded into the beautiful little lounge which had been turned into the source of all atemperance food and drink.

Here, young Mayfair bloods, and daughters of the famous, sober M.P.s, equally sober ambassadors and diplomats, scores of lords and ladies were invited to slake their thirst in —lemonade and tea and strawberry ice.

A good many of these became hastily interested in exploring the marquee. There was nothing but lemonade. They even investigated the furthest corners of the splendid mansion. They found—nothing but lemonade.

Gossip—lying, as usual—had led them to believe that champagne was the drink of the day. They did not bring their flasks.

The cake was cut.

Suspense grew.

The young bloods from Mayfair and the daughters of the famous licked their dry lips. Then—they were asked to give three cheers for the bride and groom.

They gave them with the enthusiasm that springs from tea and lemonade.

The bride went away to change. The rain poured down. Lady Willoughby de Eresby came down the great stone steps again, this time in blue, and motored away, without confetti, without rose petals, without rice, and without a toast.

Mayfair went away—dry.

However, the villagers voted the wedding a huge success. Hundreds of them from the surrounding countryside cycled, motored, and hiked to Taplow to see the bride and bridegroom.

They brought their luncheon with them and picnicked in St. Nicholas' churchyard, sitting on the grass in the shade of the trees with their sandwiches and their vacuum flasks set out on newspapers.

Dozens of tenants and villagers from Cliveden and hundreds of constituents from the Plymouth division which Lady Astor represents in parliament came to Taplow by motor coaches.

Lady Astor flouted superstition by wearing green—green shoes and a green hat with a dove-gray dress.

When the bride arrived there was a cheer from the villagers, who had perched themselves on railings, garden walls, and farm carts to get a good view of her bridal dress, which was of white satin with a tulle veil and wreath of orange blossom.

In stepping out of the car Miss Astor had some trouble with her long veil. In a moment a dozen eager girls and women came forward out of the crowd to help her set it right.

Princess Ingrid of Sweden and Admiral Sir Alexander Ramsay and Lady Patricia Ramsay (best known to Canadians as Princess Patricia) were among the guests, who included peers, ambassadors, cabinet ministers and their wives.

U.S. MINING PLUTOCRAT WILL BECOME BRITON

Former Associate of Hoover Says Friends English, He Loves England

London. — Alfred Chester Beatty, the American mining millionaire and former business associate of Ex-President Hoover, is applying to the home secretary for naturalization as a British subject.

"My father is English, I have lived in England for the past 25 years, and my friends are English," he said in announcing his decision.

"In fact," he added, "I love everything English and hope to be buried here when I die. But I shall retain all my directorships in the United States."

He is a director of diamond and copper mines, and has been a leading figure in the city for years.

He is also a well-known collector of Oriental and western manuscripts. Some of these when offered for sale realised £26,552 in an hour.

Mr. Beatty is a descendant of Jas. Beattie, the Scottish parson poet. On his father's side his ancestry is Scottish and Irish, and on his mother's side English and Huguenot.

Mrs. Beatty is an American, a prominent hostess and racing owner in England and Egypt, where she and her husband have a beautiful winter home at Bait-el-Azrak, Mena.

Three years ago she decided to curtail her racing activities in England. Only a few months previously she had bought a Tetratema filly, bred at the National Stud, for 11,000 guineas. In 1927 she paid 11,500 guineas for a brood mare.

In her home at Kensington Palace Gardens is a room furnished with priceless Louis XV. furniture, while at her Kent home there is a magnificent art collection, including many world-famous pictures.

MIDNIGHT BATHING DEFENDED BY VICAR

Holmfirth.—Young men and girls who have been criticized for holding midnight bathing parties in an open-air swimming pool at Holmfirth were defended by Rev. H. G. Wilks, vicar of Upperthong, Holmfirth.

"Unfortunately our sex morality is still bound in the fetters of the dark ages. Fear and ignorance still rule in a certain measure. Even in these enlightened days some people's sense of modesty is so highly developed that they would like to place trousers on the legs of a grand piano.

"The dance floor," the vicar continued, "has been responsible for more human crashes than mixed bathing. The former is artificial, the latter natural. Anything that is natural is moral."

KING'S PRIZE WINNER CHAIRED AND KISSED

Takes Ginger Ale in Preference to Champagne

Bisley.—After winning the King's Prize here, Cadet D. E. Woods of the Notts University O.T.C. was hoisted into the historic chair and carried in triumph through the camp. His score was 287.

Among the first to congratulate the 25-year-old winner was his mother. She flung her arms around his neck and kissed and hugged him.

Woods is studying bio-chemistry at Nottingham University. He was unmoved by his success.

Asked if he was a teetotaller, he laughingly replied: "I am not quite sure. I have not signed anything."

When offered the choice of champagne or ginger ale, he took the ginger ale.

TRADE UNION MAKES MONEY ON EXCHANGE

Deals in Stocks Net Builders $15,000 During Three Years

London.—George Hicks, M.P., the general secretary of the Amalgamated Union of Building Trade Workers, has increased his union's funds by stock exchange investment.

Three years ago, seeing that his union's spare money was earning very little through being left on deposit at the bank, he suggested to the union's national executive that they should go in for a spell of "high finance."

The result is that about 20 deals have taken place on the stock exchange and a profit of more than £3,000 has been realized, in addition to which the money has brought in a regular income of five per cent.

When the union decided to "go capitalist" a financial adviser was called in to act in concert with Mr. Hicks, and they have just reported their latest deal to the executive —a transaction in Australian stocks which has produced a profit of £204.

STRAY CAT SAVES FAMILY FROM FIRE

London.—A stray cat was the means of saving five lives when fire broke out in a shop in East London.

The cat, which had wandered into the shop during the day, wakened the family early next morning with its mewing.

"My husband," said Mrs. A. Bendon, "got out of bed to put the cat into the street, but when he got downstairs the cat jumped from his hand and a great sheet of flame shot out from the shop. My husband awakened everyone and we all rushed into the garden.

"But for the cat we would not have stood a chance for the staircase is very narrow and built of wood."

LEFT BARBER'S HALF-SHORN

Richmond.—A fireman, with his hair half cut, was called from a hairdresser's shop to rescue a cat which had been trapped all night at the top of a tree.

HAD PRESENCE OF MIND IN MOMENT OF DANGER

Signalman Lay Flat Between Platform and Fast-Travelling Express

Preston. — A railwayman had an amazing escape from being cut to pieces when he fell between the platform and the line at Garstang as an express was approaching.

He was John Hayes, a signal lineman.

In trying to jump on the platform on the side on which the 12.30 p.m. Preston to Windermere train was travelling he slipped and fell on the track.

He had the presence of mind to lie flat in the space of about three feet between the line and the platform while the express rushed past at 55 miles an hour.

Other railway employees found he had not been touched by the train, his only injury being a scalp wound received in his fall.

The express was pulled up and the guard dashed back to find Hayes being attended by the station master and others.

"It was all over in a second or so," Hayes said. "I felt more vexed than anything at having slipped. The station master and passengers thought I had been killed, and they looked very surprised when I got up.

"I was bleeding from a cut on my head, but after it had been dressed I went on with my job, walking along the line to Scorton.

"It was my first accident in 35 years."

200 TONS OF BRICK CRASH ON SIX MEN

Working Down in Ship's Hold When Big Pile Caved Over

Inverness.—While six laborers were working in the hold of the steamer Tourmalin unloading bricks, a 200-ton pile suddenly crashed down and for ten minutes they were entombed and crushed among them.

Two of the six suffered severe injuries.

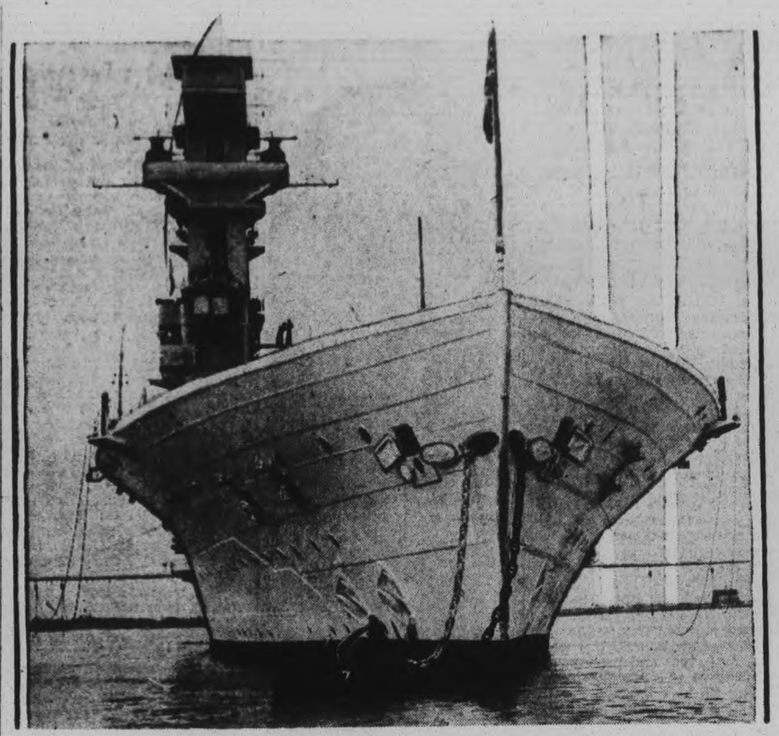
The various consignments of brick were divided in the ship's hold at the bulkheads, and one of the lots had almost been cleared away when the adjacent consignment collapsed.

Charles MacRae, who was operating the winch on deck, saw the whole accident.

"I was just putting the tub down," he said, "when I heard a fellow-worker utter an exclamation of horror. Immediately my eyes became riveted on the bricks which seemed to cave inwards. For a moment I was thunderstruck. 'My God, boys,' I cried, 'watch out!' But my shout was too late.

"And then it happened. With a loud rumble the mountain of bricks fell over them, burying them underneath. At once I shouted in alarm, for I was certain that they had all been killed. The falling bricks hit the iron bulwark at the other end of the hold with a crash that made my heart leap."

A large gang was quickly thrown into the rescue job and in barely ten minutes all six men had been extricated.



HOME FROM CHINA AFTER FIVE YEARS

After spending five years on the China station, the British aircraft carrier Hermes recently returned to England. Here she is seen at anchor in Sheerness harbor. Looks a bit like a modernist naval nightmare, but what she lacks in traditional lines she makes up in efficiency. The broad, clear deck is designed to provide safe landings and take-offs for the brood of seaplanes which she carries in her capacious hold.

WEDDING GUESTS HELP CHASE PHANTOM SLASHER O'ER ROOF

One Bobby Breaks Arm, Second Falls Through Ceiling Into Room

THIRD KNIFE ATTACK

London.—Wedding guests, policemen and passers-by took part in a wild chase over walls and roofs of a man believed to have attacked Miss Dorothy Wykes, employed at the house of a Bermondsey doctor.

Miss Wykes, who only a fortnight before was slashed 40 times by an unknown stranger, was found lying unconscious, suffering from cuts.

During the chase one policeman fell from a wall and broke his arm, while another fell through a ceiling into a room.

The "phantom assailant" escaped, and police and detectives searched for him until a late hour.

A vivid account of the astonishing scene was given by a man living near the house, who discovered that Miss Wykes had been attacked. He said:

"About three o'clock in the afternoon I heard screams coming from the house.

"I went into my back garden and, climbing over a wall, reached the back of the doctor's house. There, lying near the door at the back, was the girl. Her wrists and fingers were deeply cut, and there was an injury near her eye. Close to her lay a carving knife.

"I was joined by a number of the guests from a wedding party which was taking place next door.

"Soon policemen arrived, and as there was a report that the man had been seen on the roof, they searched all the roofs right down the street.

"This is the third time the girl has been attacked in three weeks. On the first occasion, I believe, a man who had a limp called at the house and said that he wanted to see the doctor. He was sown into the house, and suddenly attacked the girl with a knife, injuring her badly."

TO WIPE OUT SLUMS

London Spending About $175,000,000 for Rehousing of 250,000

London. — London is embarking on a gigantic slum clearance scheme involving expenditure of £35,000,000 and providing for the rehousing of 250,000.

The bulk of the displacements will be in the eastern boroughs of Stepney, Bethnal Green and Shoreditch, where the lack of rehousing sites has always hindered progress.

RESERVOIR TO COVER WHOLE OF VILLAGE

Will Hold 700,000,000 Gallons to Supply Rochdale

It overlooks the village of Water Grove, which, together with two bleach mills, several farmhouses, a chapel, and an inn, will be completely wiped out when the reservoir submerges it with 700,000,000 gallons of water, a storage capacity that will satisfy the town's increasing needs for a long time to come.

Men stripped to the waist, with fresh air pumped through to them, are now boring a tunnel six feet high and half a mile long, with compressed air rock drills.

LEPROSY IN BRITAIN

London.—The minister of health, Sir E. Hilton Young, announces that during recent months several cases of leprosy have been brought to the notice of the ministry.

There was no hospital or institutional treatment available for the patients in some of the cases.

The ministry's experts told the doctors that the patients could stay at home without any danger to other people if certain precautionary measures were taken.

VICAR CLAIMS MONK'S GHOST CAUGHT BY PHOTOGRAPHS

Reports Hearing Eerie Footsteps and Crash of Falling Furniture

IN DEVON VILLAGE

Exeter. — The ghost of a monk is believed to be playing strange tricks in the vicarage at Spreyton, one of the oldest villages in Devon.

A story of phantom footsteps, falling furniture, and queer, inexplicable noises is recounted by the vicar, the Rev. W. R. Dunstan. His ghostly experiences are the talk of the village, but he is undisturbed.

Not long ago he took two photographs on his front lawn with an ordinary box camera of a popular make. In each case there appeared in the picture the shadow of what seemed to be a monk kneeling, apparently in prayer, and wearing a flowing robe and a cowl. Experts cannot explain the phenomenon.

"One evening," the vicar said, "while the sexton and I were conducting some business or other in an upstairs room, we heard heavy footsteps crossing the hall, directly below us. They were calm, unhurried and deliberate, and we sat amazed, for we knew that there could be no other human being in the house.

"The moment they ceased we ran downstairs, but no one was there. On another occasion my wife heard the footsteps cross the hall, mount the stairs, pass the bedroom door, and enter the next room.

"There was a noise as if some furniture had fallen over. It awakened me and we went into the room, but apparently nothing had been disturbed.

"We have had many similar experiences that these things no longer startle us. Often we hear a chair or some other object fall in another room.

"We know by the sound exactly what has fallen over, yet we have never found anything out of place."

One of the photographs was taken by the vicar, and in the other, which has been taken by a friend, the vicar is seen standing in front of the house.

At the time of the day the pictures were taken, and the position in which the photographer was standing, it would have been impossible for the sun to cast a shadow in front of the photographer. Yet in each picture appeared the shadow of the cowled monk.

The possibility of its being Mr. Dunstan's shadow is further disposed of by the fact that he was wearing jacket and trousers, while the mysterious shadows were those of someone in a long robe.

Mr. Dunstan is a small man, and it was obvious that the strange figure whose shadow appeared in the photographs was of unusually large build.

The camera and films were examined by experts, who agreed that they were quite in order.

THREW BUTT AWAY; FINED

Happened to Land in Police Car So Summons Follows

Croydon.—Charles Simpson, of Batterses, was fined 40s. here for throwing away a lighted cigarette end to the danger of other persons.

It was stated that while Simpson was on the platform of a tram he threw a cigarette end through the window of a police car which was passing. The cigarette struck the driver on the face.

Told he would be summoned, Simpson said: "It was only a lark."

WHOLE MINING TOWN THROWN UPON DOLE

All Churches Pray for Colliery to Reopen

Wrexham — Two thousand miners have been thrown out of work by the closing of Hafod Colliery, near here, and the entire village of Rhos will, as a result, go on the dole.

The colliery has been working at a loss for more than a year, and the miners to keep it going have contributed out of their wages £10,000. Recently they decided to stop these contributions, and the owners of the mine closed down.

In every church and chapel in the district prayers are being offered for an early reopening of the colliery.

'GLASS HOUSE FACTORY' OPENED BY LIGHT RAY

Bottle of Cologne Smashed At Drug Plant Near Nottingham

Nottingham. — When a ship is launched it is the custom to break a bottle of champagne over her bows. The other day, when the new factory of the Boots Pure Drug Co., Ltd., at Beeston, was officially opened, a bottle of perfume was substituted. It was no crude affair of ropes and ribbons, but in the latest scientific order. Standing on the stairway in the entrance hall of the new factory, Lady Trent, wife of the chairman of the company, passed her hand through a light-ray and simultaneously a bottle of eu-de-Cologne was shattered and a Union Jack was withdrawn to give entrance to the works.

The works constitute the first of their kind in he world. The designation of "a factory in a glass house" bestowed on the great erection designed by Sir E. Owen Williams is apt. A building covering 17 acres has been built almost entirely of glass and concrete. All the walls and roof are of glass, and all the floors and staircases of reinforced concrete.

The span of the building is a hall nearly twice the length of a football field, where, from one of the many galleries, one looks down on 1,200 girls and men and any number of brainy robots, packeting goods that descend to them by chutes.

The official opening coincided with the jubilee of the firm, which began in a small shop in Goose Gate, Nottingham, and now employs 7,000 and has 991 branches with agencies in all parts of the world from Fiji to Peshawar.

The lord mayor of Nottingham (Councillor H. S. Whitby) was not only present at the ceremony but took a hand in the job. He initiated an order for Darjeeling, and provided the unusual spectacle of a lord mayor in robes trundling a packing-case on to a conveyor, and, later, wheeling it on a porter's barrow into a goods van on the railway siding.

U.S. CRIME METHODS FAIL TWO DEPORTEES

Scots Get 10 Years, Lashes, for Attempting to Hold Up Bank

Newcastle.—Fifteen strokes of the "cat" and ten years' penal servitude was the sentence passed by Mr. Justice Charles on Thomas and Joseph Duffy, who held up Lloyds Bank at the Cattle Market, Newcastle, and stole £219 at the point of the revolver.

"You have carried out a raid which, thank goodness, is practically unknown in this country," the judge said to them. "When such a raid is carried out it must and shall be suppressed with an iron hand."

Lurid details about the Duffys were given by Inspector Donohoe. He said the brothers had been pardoned from Sing Sing, where they were serving a sentence of twenty years for armed bank robbery, and were deported to Scotland, their native country.

When they returned they published the story of their life under the title "My Life as An American Gangster."

This story described how the American bank robbery was carried out. The methods employed then were identical with those used at Newcastle.

Just before closing time three men entered, wearing masks and carrying revolvers. They shouted, "Stand still, everybody, and put your hands up!"

Only the pluck of the bank staff in putting up a resistance and summoning aid prevented the raiders from getting away.

A third man, W. M. Abbott, described by Mr. Justice Charles as a catspaw, was sentenced to twelve months.

BLIND YOUTH WINS HONOR IN LAW EXAM

Oxford.—A Manchester youth's triumph over blindness lies behind the announcement in the university examination results of the success of John Metcalfe in securing honors in jurisprudence.

Mr. Metcalfe had been working as a clerk in the offices of an insurance company in Manchester only a few months when he was stricken with blindness and had to leave.

With great courage he began to study afresh with the aid of the Braille to fit himself to earn his own living.

He secured admission to Worcester College for the Blind, and after two years' study passed his examinations, and went to St. Catherine's College, Oxford, with a scholarship, to continue his law studies.

EARNED TEN SHILLINGS

Liverpool.—A 13-year-old lad, Stanley Daily, earned a ten-shilling note from Lord Derby for the spirited manner in which he played "God Bless the Prince of Wales" on his mouth-organ when the heir to the throne was paying a visit to a tenement there

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS FROM FAR CORNERS OF THE WORLD

SOVIET SENDS ICE-BREAKER TO OPEN RICH TRADE AREA

Krassin to Convoy Three Cargo Vessels to Lena River

MINERALS ABOUND

Moscow. — The old ice-breaker Krassin, whose incomparable dash into the Arctic to rescue the ill-fated Nobile expedition won for her undying fame, is seeking new laurels.

Jealous of the feat of the Sibiryakov, which navigated the northeast passage last year, spurred on by the impending attempt of the new freighter Chelyuskin to duplicate it, the Krassin is now attempting a hitherto impossible task—she is convoying three cargo ships from Archangel to the mouth of the Lena river, in Siberia.

It is all part of the plan of the northeast sea route commission to open and maintain seasonal water communication between European Russia and the Far East.

The region of the Lena bounds in natural wealth, which has never been exploited owing to inadequate transport facilities. There are vast amounts of fish, fur-bearing animals, silver, lead, coal and oil in the valley of the Lena river, but as its estuary was regarded as inaccessible, and its land transport facilities consisted of a dirt road between Irkutsk and Kachug and some deer paths, its wealth remained untouched.

But if, as the commission firmly believes is possible, water transportation can be opened between European Russia and the Lena, then the development of these resources is comparatively easy.

The Krassin's convoy consists of one steamer bearing a geological expedition under the command of Professor B. Urvantsev, which is going to Cape Nordwick to explore local oil resources, and two others which are taking food, iron, and oil to Yakutia. An aeroplane is part of the equipment of the expedition and will be used for scouting purposes.

It was originally intended to send six vessels with the Krassin, but facilities in the Lena estuary are so inadequate that the cargo of more than three cannot be handled. As it is, the Krassin expects to reach the Lena with six vessels, as she is picking up the motor ship Pyatiletka, the steamer Partisan Shchetintan and a 3,000-ton steel lighter in estuaries of the Yenesei and the Ob, where they have been unloading supplies for various expeditions.

All vessels expect to return to Archangel this summer with full cargos from the Lena region.

TRADED HIS WIFE WANTS HER BACK

Woman Refuses to Leave New Husband

Liege, Belgium.—Two men living in this city agreed to exchange wives. The latter made no objections, so the idea was carried out.

After a short period of time, one of the men became tired of his new spouse and asked his legal wife to return to him, but she refused and was backed up by her new "husband," who said he preferred the new arrangement.

The men met in the street and fought until the police arrived. The court will decide.

COMMUNIST ACTOR IN NEW NAZI FILM

Picture Shows Gatherings of Two Parties

Berlin. — The Communist leader Thalmann, who is at present in prison, will play an important part, in spite of himself, in a film which is being manufactured under the auspices of Dr. Hanfstaengel, who a short time ago visited a number of European cities as foreign press representative of Hitler's party.

A picture, based on the life of Horst Wessel, who lost his life as a young student of twenty-one in the Nazi cause, is being made for home consumption only, but the entirely realistic rendering of Communist and Nazi gatherings in the Berlin of a few years back, give it a certain historical value. Dr. Hanfstaengel is composing the music, which accompanies scenes where actions speak louder than words.

NAZIS ALARMED

Too Many Communists Getting Into Party

Munich. — New light is thrown on the alleged anti-Hitler plot which seems to have perturbed Capt. Goering and which led to secret meetings of the Nazi leaders.

It is reported here that many thousands of Communist spies and agitators, who have gained entrance to the Nazi party, have become alarmingly active of late. Special measures are now to be taken to exterminate these "saboteurs."

'FOR SALE' SIGNS STUD PARIS BARONIAL HALLS

Pink Palace of Talleyrand Is Faded Reminder of Glorious Days

Paris. — The City of Light, as Paris has been known since the days of the Roman invasion, is in the mild throes of a transitional period.

The era of the baronial hall, when servants were inexpensive and food cheap, is ended. For sale signs are on numerous once grand homes.

The famous pink palace at 50 Avenue Foch appears to be unoccupied but the Duke and Duchess de Talleyrand live there in subdued grandeur. She was Anna Gould and married Count Boni de Castellane, who died several months ago almost a pauper.

The palace, replica of Le Petit Trianon at Versailles, nowadays never is the scene of splendid and fabulous entertainments such as Boni staged.

HUNGARIAN "DIES" TWICE IN 24 HOURS

Second Heart Attack Really Fatal, However

Bucharest. — An amazing story of a man who died twice in 24 hours is reported from the Hungarian town of Kecskemet.

Theodor Forgacs, a bookseller's clerk, left his father's home in a taxi to join the train for Bucharest, where he was to undergo treatment in a sanatorium.

Within a short time the taximan returned saying that his passenger had died. Doctors certified that death was due to heart failure.

In the morning Forgacs's parents went to an undertaker to arrange for the funeral, and on their return they were dumbfounded to see their son repairing a tricycle.

Forgac breakfasted and went to work as usual in the bookseller's shop, but at midnight his mother entered his room and found him lying dead from a second heart failure.

SWISS ENJOY TRAVEL BOOM

Lucerne, Switzerland.—There is a notable travel boom in Switzerland this summer and hotels which have been closed for several seasons are filled to capacity. In this city alone, the figures for the first six months of the year show an increase of more than 2,000 foreign visitors over those for the same period of last year.

CARDINAL GASPARRI MAKES SHORT WORK OF GREAT TASK

Codifying Canon Law of Eastern Churches—Ten Volumes Completed

DONE IN FOUR YEARS

Vatican City.—In spite of the fact that he is 81 years old, Cardinal Gasparri, formerly papal secretary of state to Pope Pius 11th, and before that to Pope Benedict 15th, is finishing a task that would appal many a young man.

He is now more than half way through the work of unifying all the codes of canon law of the eastern churches which acknowledge the pope and the supremacy of Rome.

Of the twelve big volumes for the canon laws, ten are ready and printed and the other two in the press. He presented the ten to the Pope, who received him at the head of the commission for the codifying of canon law of the oriental rite. The pope was astounded at the amount of work done in less than four years.

Before tackling this code, Cardinal Gasparri spent years of leisure snatched from his duties as papal secretary, to revise and clarify the text of the canon law for the western church, in itself a monumental work.

The new task is a romance in archeology, history, tradition and legislation. The codes have been collected from the churches of the ancient Copts, the Persians, Syrians, Egyptians, Arabians, Kurds, Armenians, Cipriots and Christians of Palestine. The general public ignores the fact that the millions of Christians in these countries have never adhered to the orthodox church but acknowledge the pope's supremacy.

STAFF SEIZES PLANT WHEN SALARIES CUT

But Police Starve Out Greek Tobacco Workers

Athens. — When told that their wages were to be cut, about 3,000 employees at the tobacco storehouses in Cavalla, Macedonia, locked themselves in the buildings.

For many hours they refused either to leave or admit anyone.

Police surrounded the buildings, and in an order compelling the men to surrender, informed them that no food would be admitted.

Pressed by thirst and hunger, the men capitulated.

TEN-YEAR SENTENCE FOR SOVIET OFFICERS

Four Men Underestimated Grain Crops

Riga. — The trial of six state farm officials at Odessa has been concluded, Zalogin, the director of the Odessa Grain Trust, and three other accused were each sentenced to ten years' forced labor in the remote regions of the U.S.S.R., with confiscation of all their personal belongings and deprivation of civil rights for a further five years.

The so-called death decree, under which they were tried on the charge of under-estimating the grain crops, admits of only two penalties—death or ten years' imprisonment.

In the case of the remaining two prisoners, the Tribunal, with the view of mitigating their punishment, altered the charges against them and sentenced them to six and four years' imprisonment respectively under another paragraph of the criminal code and to transportation to distant regions of the U.S.S.R.

PRIESTS CAN'T WEAR ARTIFICIAL FABRICS

Milan. — The archbishops of Milan and Turin have declared that artificial silk is unsuitable for the vestments worn by priests during services.

The ground for this decision is that the fibre of such material is "man-made," whereas only pure linen and pure silk should be used because they are made from natural textile fibres.

Any such articles already in the possession of priests must be destroyed.

LOCUSTS BY THE TON

Lisbon. — Reports from Portuguese East Africa state that there has been an alarming invasion of locusts, which are taking heavy toll among the crops. Nine tons of the insects are arriving daily at the riverside at Mopea.

OPERA A LA CARTE

Rome. — Coming home with the contents of a good bottle of red wine inside him Giovanni Lovatelli, 43, told his wife to serve up dinner singing operatic airs. As she was not in a singing mood he threw so many plates at her that her life is despaired of

WON'T LET MAN DIE TO DODGE TROUBLES

Neither Can Paris Tailor Get Himself Put in Jail

Paris. — Terribly hit by the depression, haunted by his creditors, and tortured by the reproaches of his wife and daughters, a Paris tailor decided to kill himself.

He did not have money to buy a revolver. He went to one of his debtors who was a gunsmith and asked that a revolver be given to him in part payment of his account. Instead of doing as he was requested, the debtor informed the police.

Then the tailor decided to hang himself. The rope broke, however, and a doctor brought him back to consciousness.

He was determined to die, so he jumped into the Seine. A policeman jumped in after him, dragged him out and restored him by artificial respiration.

Thwarted in every direction, the tailor decided to have himself arrested. He went to a hotel, stayed there for three days, and ate and drank to his heart's content. He then walked to a police station and asked the chief to put him under arrest. The police chief could not accommodate him, however. He told the tailor that if he had eaten only one meal at the hotel and could not pay for it, he would be arrested. But as long as he had more than one meal, he was eating on credit, and had not broken the law.

The tailor then went up to a traffic officer and slapped him on the face. The officer was busy. He took the slap good-naturedly and returned it with a kick in the back.

And there stand the adventures of the poor tailor.

FIND ROMAN TOWEL

Rome. — A white towel from the Imperial epoch of Rome, has just come to light in a state of almost perfect preservation—except for two small defects. It has been added to the objects preserved in the antiquarium of the Rome municipality.

Measuring 4 feet 3 inches by 2 feet, it is similar in appearance to the towels in modern use, and has the same kind of fringe at each end.

The towel was used as a wrapping in a funerary urn, which was still perfectly sealed, and filled with balsam composed in great part of camphor. The action of the latter had completely prevented the ravages of time, and thus provided an almost unique specimen of Roman textile craftsmanship.

AL. SPENCLEY MAJOR WINNER FLOWER SHOW

Wins Dr. A. J. Madill Challenge Cup and Gladiolus Medal.

TROPHIES PRESENTED.

H. W. Cardwell, Wallace Point, Captures George H. Clark Trophy.

Al. Spencley took the major honors at the big district flower show which concluded at the Legion Hall last night, being awarded the Dr. A. J. Madill Challenge Cup as the individual with the largest number of points; and also retaining his supremacy in this district as a gladiolus grower and fancier, by winning the silver medal presented by the Canadian Gladiolus Society.

H. W. Cardwell of Wallace's Point won the George H. Clarke Challenge Trophy for the best spike of gladiolus in the show. The donor of the cup was adjudged second in that class.

T. [illegible] Lancaster, M.P.P., Honorary President of Havelock Horticultural Society, made announcement of the awards before a large audience and presented the trophies, after having delivered an interesting address touching upon horticultural topics. He was accorded a vote of hearty thanks for his kindness in officiating at the closing of the show, by President Dr. A. J. Madill, upon motion of Past President Dr. J. E. Middleton of the Peterborough Horticultural Society.

A gold rush, reported to be as important as the discovery at Porcupine, Ont., has led many prospectors to travel by foot or air to the new scene near Gogama, Ont., where gold has been found in rich deposits. Here are shown scene from the "strike" area, which is territory around Lake Beaver, Lake Minisinakwa, and Duck Lake. The new mining town is known as Swayze City. At left is E. T. Corkhill and Cyril T. Knight, Toronto, with the white quartz rock which they uncovered. It contains splashes of yellow gold, and is claimed to be the best pay dust found in the new era. Upper right shows prospectors boarding a plane at Lake Minisinakwa for a flight to Three Lake. Lower right shows Joe Laflamme, famous musher and prospector of the north, who once drove a dog team down Broadway in New York, playing stud poker with some of his pals at Lake Beaver.

Officers Elected Centreton Society

CENTRETON, August 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — The annual Bible Society meeting was held in the United Church on Monday night. The following officers for the coming year were re-elected: President, Frank Wofraim; secretary-treasurer, Percy Fraser; collectors, United Church, Misses H. Blodgett, M. Wolfraim, and M. Webb; Anglican Church, Misses Irene Down, Bessie Haines, and Margaret Hope.

A most interesting message was givne by Rev. Mr. Awlmott of the Bible Society, Toronto.

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held in the Sunday School Room on Tuesday afternoon. Eleven members answered the roll-call. The Aid members decided to meet on Thursday, August 17, to clean their kitchen. It was decided to get several articles of equipment needed for it. Readings, "The Rainbow of Happiness," "A Letter," and "The Albatross Box of Sympathy," were given by Mrs. H. McAuley, Miss M. Fleming, and Miss M. Wolfraim respectively. The program for the September meeting will be arranged by Mrs. Walton, Mrs. Chapple, and Mrs. Hope.

The Quarterly Official Board of the United Church met in the Sunday School Room on Tuesday night.

No Alibi

HACKENSACK, N.J., Aug. 11 (CP). — Anthony Nadratowski, 24, whose alibi for non-appearance in court was lack of carfare, found Judge Abram Lebson quick with a solution.

A short time after a bench warrant had been issued for his arrest, Nadratowski telephoned the judge from Jersey City, saying he did not have the fare to Hackensack.

Before he was through talking Nadratowski was confronted by police who had traced the call, and taken to Hackensack in a patrol wagon.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 11 — Trading was dull on the Montreal produce market yesterday, and few changes in prices were reported. Egg dealers yesterday attributed the decrease in Ontario eggs to the fact that the approaching Toronto Exhibition is diverting larger quantities. Traders continue to expect an early advance in prices. Graded shipments in carlots or less of extra eggs were quoted at 18 to 18½ cents a dozen; firsts, at 15 cents, and seconds at 12½ cents. Receipts totalled only 368 cases.

No further price reductions occurred on the butter market, the majority of dealers quoting 19¾ cents a pound for No. 1 grade, in carlots or less. A total of 1,075 boxes of cheese arrived.

The potato market showed a slightly easier trend. New Quebec potatoes eased to 85 to 90 cents per bag of 80 pounds, while old potatoes were quoted over a range of $1.25 to $1.35 for New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains in similar quantities.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 11. — Weakness in the last half-hour of trading reduced early gains of 2c on the Winnipeg wheat market yesterday and prices at the close were only ½c to ⅝c above Wednesday's final levels.

October delivery finished the day at 82c, December at 83⅝c, and May at 83¾c.

Strength at the start was created by a firm tone at Liverpool and anticipation of bullish official crop reports from Ottawa.

Offerings Light.

Lightness of offerings enabled the market to chalk up its early advance, but a little hedging pressure which entered the pit near the close found support lacking and the values backed off. Export business in Canadian wheat was disappointing. Shippers indicated the opening advances in prices had driven buyers away from the market.

Liverpool wheat finished ¾d to ½d higher while Buenos Aires opened unchanged. Wheat shipments from the Argentine this week are expected to exceed 4,500,000 bushels, compared with less than 2,000,000 last week.

Better grades of cash wheat showed an improved demand while oats and malting barley were strong. Coarse grains trading was dull.

Futures:

Wheat—	Open	High	Low	Close	Prev. Close
Oct.	.82	83⅝	81¼	82	81½
Dec.	.84	85½	83¼	83¾	83½
May	.90	90¼	87¾	88⅝	87¾
Oats—
Oct.	.42⅞	43⅞	42⅝	43½	42⅝

May	.45	45½	44¾	45	44½

BRITISH MARKETS.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(C.P.)—The following cable on butter and cheese markets in the United Kingdom was received by the Department of Agriculture yesterday:

Butter active, New Zealand 88 shillings per hundredweight (18.70 cents per pound); Australian 87 shillings per hundredweight (18.49 cents per pound).

Cheese depressed. New Zealand white 78 shillings sixpence per hundredweight (10.31 cents per pound); colored 80 shillings sixpence per hundredweight (10.74 cents per pound.) Canadian, neglected, nominally 51 to 53 shillings per hundredweight (10.84 to 11.27 cents per pound).

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 11—Advancing for the third day in succession, wheat yesterday went to almost 6 cents above Tuesday's bottom figures. Profit-taking on the bulge however, wiped out at the last most of yesterday's gain.

Much of the buying of all cereals yesterday was based on reports that the Washington Administration desired to see prices restored to the level which prevailed in 1924-26, and it was especially noted that the average 1926 price the farmer received for wheat was $1.-24 a bushel; corn 74 cents, and oats, 40½ cents. Leading traders said the national code tentatively agreed to for governing futures dealings on grain exchanges was exceedingly broad and liberal, and would encourage belief in a free, open, competitive market.

Wheat Unsettled

Wheat closed unsettled at the same as Wednesday's finish to ⅛c higher; corn, unchanged to ½c up; oats, ⅛c to ¼c advanced, and provisions varying from 10c decline to a rise of 17c.

SUSPECTED GAS THIEVES HELD

MONTREAL.—Three of five men wanted by police of Whitby, Ont. in connection with a theft of gasoline from a gasoline station there on August 4 have been arrested here. The three arrested men are from the United States, and gave their names as Maurice Skal, Clarence Chalmers and Richard Ouling, of Detroit. The men will be taken to Whitby to-night in charge of detectives.

OTTAWA EXHIBITION OPENS AUGUST 21

Tickets Go On Sale At Six Admissions For One Dollar.

On Monday, Aug. 21, the Ottawa exhibition for 1933 will be under way and the management and directors are confident that its success will equal or excel the success of previous years. Unusually fine attractions have been provided and the public is showing keen interest as evidenced by the advance purchase of coupon tickets. These tickets give six admissions for one dollar, a saving of fifty cents but the number to be sold is limited.

Topping the attractions, so far as many people are concerned, are the musical offerings. The band of His Majesty's Scots Guards, London, England, will be heard for the first four days in two concerts daily from the bandstands in the grounds, no extra charge of any kind being made. For the last two days the programs will be given by the band of the Black Watch, Montreal. The band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards will play each afternoon and evening in front of the grandstand.

Dominion and provincial governments are co-operating in displays in various buildings. Outstanding will be the display by the Dominion Archives shown for the first time in Canada of the Archives. The priceless pictures and other historical documents and articles will be under constant guard of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and a member of the Archives staff. In addition a city fireman will be on duty constantly as it would be useless to insure the display which could not be replaced at any price. No admission will be charged to this or any other government display. The Experimental Farm is planning a display which is different from other years and it promises to be highly interesting. The wild animals, live fish and game birds shown by the Ontario Game and Fisheries Department, will be an attraction for young and old. Other departments of the Dominion and Ontario governments will also have excellent displays.

Grandstand Program.

In front of the grandstand the Winter Garden Revue of 1933 will be the premier act on the night program. It is a big music and dance revue, elaborately staged and costumed, with a large cast and an unusual number of featured stars and acts. Vaudeville programs, the pick of the New York booking offices, horse races, sports, and fireworks will round out a great bill. For those who look for fun and novelty, a new midway, the World of Mirth, promises to meet all demands.

Other factors include the automobile show, horse show, pure food show, dog show, displays of merchants and manufacturers, child welfare demonstrations, baby shows, Highland dancing competitions, live stock, poultry and pets horticulture, and a variety of others to appeal to young and old, urban or rural visitors.

Every indication is that the week of Aug. 21st to 26th will be six memorable days and six wonderful nights for the Capital.

Roseneath

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brown spent Thursday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Ralls, at their summer home, Gore's Landing.

Miss A. Donley returned to her home in Peterborough after a visit with friends in the village and community, and guest with Dr. and Mrs. S. Ryan.

Mr. N. Doidge, Gore's Landing, was a recent visitors with his daughter, Mrs. Robert Linton, also with Mr. Linton, and family.

Guests with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard during the past week, were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ash and daughters, Ileen and Thelma, and their friend, Miss Margaret Shaw, all of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Talling, Fenella, Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Brisbin, Bowmanton, Mrs. Frank Brisbin and family, Leota, Eileen and Lloyd of Havelock, Mr. and Mrs. W. J Harper, Warkworth, Mrs. White, Minden, and Mr. Joseph Harper of Toronto. The last mentioned is an uncle of Mrs. Brisbin's, and although he has passed his 89th birthday, he is wonderful for his years, having retained all his faculties, and can read without wearing spectacles.

Mrs. J. Wylie, Peterborough, and granddaughter, Phyllis Hayes of Toronto, are visiting friends and relatives here.

Plans are being made for the 76th anniversary of the Merrill's church, and the date is set for Sunday, August 27th, with services at 10.30 a.m.

HER MONEY FOUND.

TORONTO. — Kicked about by many feet, a small purse containing $138 lay for some time in a railway office here before an inquisitive ticket agent spotted it and picked it up.

Shortly afterwards an elderly woman, excited and worried, ran in to identify herself, claim the money and depart happily.

SET ON BY TWO MEN

John McQuarrie, 496 Rogers Street informed police that while walking through Nicholls Oval about ten o'clock last night he was set upon by two men, who knocked him down with blows of their fists. Mr. McQuarrie said that the men sprang out upon him from behind some trees in one of the darkest sections of the park. No money or valuables were taken from him. Police are investigating.

Ald. Robert Cotton Is Being Tutored

Alderman Bob Cotton was being tutored to-day by Magistrate Langley on how to manage police court. The city's cadi leaves Monday, to attend the Ontario Magistrates' Association's convention in Sarnia, where he will make an address on "The Admissability of Confessions." Alderman Cotton will pinch hit for him on the bench during his absence. The only thing to take up the attention of the court was a family squabble in which countercharges of assault were heard. Despite the attempts of the magistrate to make peace between the warring factions at the start off, all details of the cases had to be told.

Barter

PORT CREDIT, Ont., Aug. 11 (CP).—There's more than one way to thwart a theft, chuckled Constable Sydney Belford as he took a couple of vital parts from an automobile engine.

Walking along a quiet road early in the morning, Constable Belford heard voices from William Hedges' potato patch. A car parked on the roadside contained half a bag of potatoes.

New potato crops this year are not so good that farmers are staying up half the night to dig them. Suspicious the constable drew near and found six men in the patch. Knowing the men would scatter and escape if he attempted to arrest them, he tinkered with the engine and went for help.

When he returned, the men had gone but the car and potatoes were still there.

Speedy Relief From Bunions--Soft Corns

No sensible person will continue to suffer from those intense, agonizing throbbing bunion pains when the new powerful penetrating yet harmless antiseptic Emerald Oil can readily be obtained at any well stocked drug store.

Apply a few drops over the inflamed part and see how speedily the pain disappears and the inflammation is reduced.

So marvellously powerful is Emerald Oil that soft corns seem to shrivel right up and drop off.

Perseid Meteors Travel 144,000 M.P.H. May Be Seen With Naked Eye To-Night

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—(AP)—If you wish to see what a speed of 144,000 miles an hour really looks like, turn out late tonight to look at the Perseid meteors.

Reports of Preliminary observations today indicate that these annual meteors are on time as usual this year. Between midnight tonight and dawn tomorrow the earth is due to pass through the part of the Perseid orbit where the meteors are most densely crowded. Twenty to 30 an hour should be visible.

Although it was too cloudy in this section to see them last night, the first evening when considerable numbers were due, observers on Long Island report that the forerunners were sighted Wednesday night. As many as four were seen in five minutes.

The Perseids travel about 40 miles a second. They are among the fastest meteors belonging to the Solar system. If they flew any faster they would escape from the sun's gravitational grip and go wandering off into space, and so would be lost as an annual spectacle to earth.

Much faster meteors are known. Recently telescopes have sighted some very small meteors with the incredible speeds of 140 miles a second, or something like 500,000 miles an hour. Astronomers estimate that all these high speed meteors are travellers from very remote regions of space, wandering through the Solar system without getting caught in the sun's immense gravitational field.

The Perseids travel in an orbit so vast that it takes them 125 years to circle the sun.

RENEWED DEMAND FOR FARM WORKERS

A renewed demand for farm workers during the past week is reported by Hugh Robertson of the Employment Service Bureau. With the harvest under way, a number of men have been placed for harvesting, threshing and fall plowing work.

Wages for farm workers in Peterborough district continue to range around $15 a month with board included. The rate compares favorably with the level in other sectons of the province, although wages as high as $20 a month are reported in several counties.

The summer demand for casual labor around the city has been unusually light, Mr. Robertson stated. Rather than employ a man for one or two days to do general work around the home, citizens are apparently using their own spare time to a greater extent.

Although continued re-employment of former employees is reported with a gradual production increase around the city, the employment improvement has not yet been great enough to be reflected through the bureau, Mr. Robertson said. Better conditions are indicated, however, in a decrease in the application list.

Oddly enough, despite the fact that the army of unemployed is still of a formidable size, several jobs are going begging, Mr. Robertson stated. Orders for men to fill unusual jobs requiring highly-expert skill in different cities of Ontario have been on hand for several months. An example is a call on hand for a man to operate a German terrot knitting machine in a Hamilton plant. The likelihood of filling such unusual orders in Peterborough is very small.

Obituary

WILLIAM HENRY BARNES.

The death of William Henry Barnes, Monaghan road, occurred at Nicholls Hospital this morning after an illness of one month. He was 72 years of age.

Mr. Barnes was born in Manchester, England and spent his early life there. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes and he was the last member of his family. In both England and Canada he was interested in Salvation Army work, playing in the band in Barrow-in-Furance, England, for forty-five years. He was a member of the Salvation Army in this city.

Surviving him are his wife, five sons, Robert and Samuel in England, John and Alfred in North Monghan, and Herbert in Toronto; and three daughters, Clare Barnes, Mrs. Edith Cookman and Mrs E Custance, all of Peterborough. John Barnes is a member of the North Monaghan council.

The funeral will be held to-morrow from the home to the Salvation Army and thence to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. S. K. Tyler, pastor of the Park Street Baptist Church, will conduct a service at the house at 2.30 p.m., and Major Woolcott will officiate at the Army Temple at 3 p.m.

WILLIAM THOMAS WELLS.

William Thomas Wells died last evening at his home, 277 Prince Street, after a very short illness at the age of 51 years. Mr. Wells, who spent his early life in Montreal had been a resident of this city for 20 years, during which time he was employed with the De Lava' Company.

He is survived by his wife, and nine children, Alfred, Russell, Harry, Donald, Osborne, Walter, Martha Dorothy, and Mabel, all at home; also two brothers, Jim and Harry of Montreal, and two sisters, Mrs. C. A. Ballaine, of Chicago, and Mrs. Hart of Montreal.

The funeral service will be conducted at the family residence at 3 p.m. on Saturday by Rev. C. D. Daniel. Interment will be in the Little Lake Cemetery.

HENRY CHAPMAN.

The death occurred on Thursday morning of Harry Chapman, at his residence, 185 Bethune Street. He was in his 57th year.

With the exception of two years in Toronto, Mr. Chapman had lived in Peterborough all his life. He was a member of Murray Street Baptist Church.

Besides his widow, Maud Manley, he is survived by three daughters: Jean, Eva and Vera, all of Peterborough, and four sons: Leonard, Douglas, Gordon and Melville of this city; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Duncan and Mrs. Alex. McNeely, both of Toronto, and one brother, Thomas Chapman of Peterborough.

The funeral is to be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. from the family residence, with the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor of Murray Street Church, officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

16-Year-Old Girl Takes Her Own Life

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 11 (CP) —Eileen Tutt, 16-year-old Hamilton girl, to-day ended her own life by shooting herself with her father's hunting rifle because she had been refused permission to go out.

The body of the girl was found by her mother who, after hearing a shot fired, went into the house to investigate. She had not thought at first that the sound of the shot had come from within the building but on going to her husband's room found her there with the rifle, discharged, lying by her side.

The girl had evidently loaded the weapon, as it had been left in the room unloaded.

BIRTH

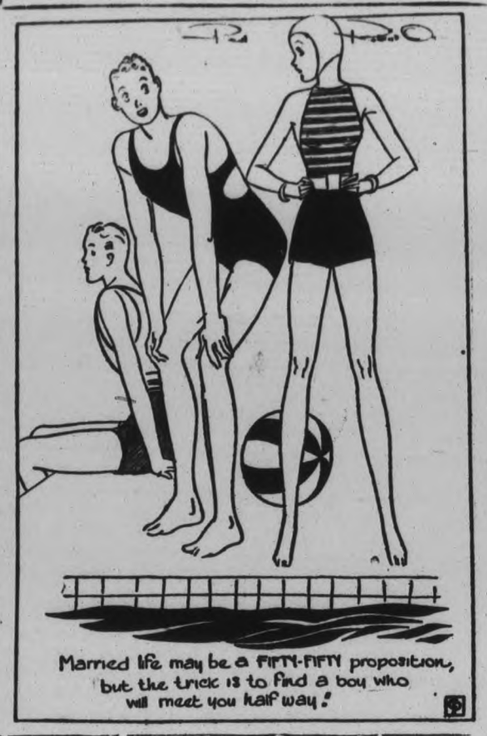
JUST AMONG US GIRLS



Warkworth

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARKWORTH, August 11.—The municipal council of the Township of Percy, met in the town hall here Tuesday, August 1st, with all the members of the council present.

The following communications were read: S. R. Hart and Co., re rolls, R. C. Muir, re township grant, E. L. MacNachtan, re McVety; E. L. MacNachtan, re Makepeace; E. L. MacNachtan, re Townsend; Metal Roofing Co., receipt.

Moved by C. J. Boyce, seconded by Ray Mallory, that applications be received for the position of collector for the township of Percy for 1933 taxes up to 6 p.m., August 18, on the evening of which day a special meeting will be held for the consideration of this appointment, collector to furnish his own bonds.—Carried.

Bylaw, No. 899, was introduced by Reeve C. H. Curtis, which said bylaw was duly read, first, second and third time, passed and signed by the reeve and clerk, and the corporate seal attached.

On motion of W. H. Nelson and U. E. Wartman, the accounts were ordered paid: For the police village, $57.23; for the township of Percy, $685.93.

Moved by C. J. Boyce, seconded by Ray R. Mallory, that this council, while sympathizing with recipients of the old age pensions, believe that it would be fair to them, and fairer than at present to the ratepayers, who are really the contributors to this fund, that when a pensioner becomes a hospital patient at the expense of counties and local municipality, that the pension payments during the period or periods the pensioner is a hospital patient, should be diverted to some recognized authority to help to defray the hospital and other expense on behalf of said pensioner; that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the clerk of each minor municipality in these United Counties for their consideration and recommend action to the Counties Pension Board.—Carried.

Moved by Ray R. Mallory, seconded by C. J. Boyce, that occupancy of the road allowance between con. 8, lot 23 and Con. 9, lot 23, in the township of Percy, be granted to John Adams during the duration of his lease of the north ½ of lot 23, con. 8, Percy Township, or until required by this council.—Carried.

On motion of W. H. Nelson and R. R. Mallory, the council adjourned to meet on Saturday, September 2nd, at ten a.m.—Carried.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

The beautiful Adrienne Ames of the films always wears dark glasses when exposed to the sun. Adrienne says that she does this around her eyes, and permits it to remain on all the while she is sunning herself. For, as she puts it, while the sun's this lovely film favorite practices, too. Before donning her dark glasses, she smooths a generous coating of a good cream or oil solely to protect her eyes from the sun's glare. And with orbs like hers, no one can blame her for taking every precaution to guard their loveliness.

Adrienne Ames

There's another little trick that glare can't penetrate her dark glasses, the heat can. And heat alone is enough to parch the tender skin around the eyes.

Unfortunately, many of the sweet young things who patronize the beaches and summer resorts have a great dislike for dark glasses. Any gal who has a nifty pair of orbs wants to be sure that the life guards and beach sheiks get a good at them. And she entirely disregards the fact that those orbs or hers won't be nifty very long, if she fails to give them any protection during the bright days of summer.

The glare of the sun on bodies of water, on glittering beach sand, on smooth roads, tends to strain the eyes and cause the formation of creepy little squint lines about them. The direct rays of the sun tend to dry out the sensitive under-eye tissues, also, and accentutae any lines and wrinkles. To prevent such aging lines and wrinkles, and to keep the eyes fresh and youthful, proper protective measures must always be taken during the summer months.

To give the eyes proper protection, you should shield them as much as possible from the direct rays of the sun. Wear large-brimmed hats. The shadows they cast will give your eyes some protection, anyway. Utilize beach umbrellas when you can. And why not try those dark glasses occasionally? They're no longer considered at all freakish, you know.

It is also a good plan to smooth a bit of rich cream around your eyes before exposure to the sun. If you powder over the application, the lubricant won't be obvious. And it will certainly help to prevent squint lines and keep your eyes fresh and youthful in appearance.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

Sterilizing

L. P.: To sterilize your brush and comb, dip them into a solution of formalin. One teaspoon of the formalin to a pint of water is sufficient.

Scalp Disease

Anxious: If you continue to have heavy scales on your head, I would advise you to consult a competent hair specialist. You may have a scalp disease.

Astringent

Mrs. K.: An effective astringent for a sensitive skin can be made of equal parts of glycerine, rosewater, and witch hazel. If this lotion proves too drying, reduce the amount of witch hazel used.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

One of the greatest American contributions to medical science was the discovery that pernicious anemia could be cured by diet. The active element in the curative diet was finally reduced down to liver. The active element in liver has been isolated, chemically pure, and can be taken hypodermically, so that what was once a dietary treatment is now given as a shot in the arm.

Dr. Clendenina

This may be a lesson and, in the dim distant future our descendants, instead of sitting down to three meals a day, may get up in the morning and, after brushing their then useless teeth, load their hypodermics with a day's nutrition, shoot the plunger home, and go about their business without the necessity of stopping to fill their digestive tracts. Personally, I hope I will be dead by that time, because I would much rather eat than take hypodermics.

The development in pernicious anemia treatment is, however, a very interesting one, because the patient can now take a dose of liver in the vein once a month. It lasts him exactly four weeks. Then his blood will begin to sag unless he has another dose. It is, of course, a great improvement on taking three doses of medicine a day or eating half a pound of liver every day. The patient just makes a mark on his calendar on the first of the month, "Get my blood medicine." He goes to the doctor, gets the shot, and leaves for a whole month.

Pernicious anemia is a peculiar form of blood destruction which affects people after middle age. The patient often feels no symptoms, not even weakness, but the diagnosis can be made by the peculiar lemon yellow tint which the skin takes on. The appearance of these patients is rendered even more ghastly by the fact that they usually lose no weight. I mention this because I saw a man who undoubtedly had pernicious anemia, looking at the pernicious anemia exhibit in the Hall of Science at the Century of Progress. He remarked to me that it would be a pretty tough disease to have. He was very much surprised when, after I explained to him it was not a tough disease to have but very easy to control at the present time, I told him I thought he had it and would advise him to have a blood examination made. I see about one patient with pernicious anemia a week walking on the streets, apparently unaware of the existence of the disease.

Not only is diet an aid in treatment, but it has been suggested that an unbalanced diet causes pernicious anemia. Examination of such patients reveals the fact that for many years before the development of the disease most of them ate no meat, eggs or milk—in other words, deprived themselves of the substance, lack of which brings on the anemia. It has been suggested that there are a number of cases of potential pernicious anemia who do not develop the disease because they keep on eating liver, kidney, meat, etc., and thus unconsciously treat themselves.

Fruit Mousse Sweet Wafers Cheese
Coffee or Tea

This salad is so hearty that I am omitting any other vegetable in the menu. The hashed brown potatoes are cooked, then chopped and browned in butter or other fat.

Today's Recipes

Mixed Vegetable Salad.—One cup shredded cabbage, one sliced cucumber, one cup diced beets or two tomatoes, one-half cup French dressing, two hard boiled eggs, one bunch young onions, one bunch radishes, lettuce. Mix the cabbage, cucumber and beets or tomatoes with the salad dressing and let stand in the refrigerator half an hour. Arrange lettuce in a salad bowl and on this place vegetable mixture. Garnish with the radishes, onion tops and sliced hard boiled eggs. Mayonnaise may be passed with this.

Fruit Mousse.—One and one-fourth tablespoons gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, one-half cup boiling water, one box berries or two cups chopped fruit and juice, one cup or more sugar, one quart cream. Soak the gelatin in the cold water and dissolve with the boiling water. Crush the berries with the sugar; add to the gelatin. Set in a pan of ice water and stir until it begins to thicken. Then fold in the whipped cream, put in a mold, cover, pack in ice and salt, two parts to one, and let stand four hours.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Cherry Leaf Pickles

Wash fifty cucumbers about four or five inches long. Place in a stone jar a layer of cucumbers, then a thick layer of cherry leaves that have been pulled from branches and washed. Continue until cucumbers are used. Then pour on a brine made from one cup salt to five cups water, covering pickles well. Cover with a plate and weigh down with a stone. Let stand two weeks. Take from brine and dry. Cut ends off pickles and slice about an inch thick. Place one cup each of sugar and vinegar in a saucepan and cook until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Add a few mixed spices, according to taste. Pour this syrup over cucumbers and seal in jars. They will be ready to use in from four to six weeks; a delicious spicy sweet pickle always, tender and crisp. If liked, dill may be used in the cherry leaf pack.

Save the Rug!

If ink has been spilled on the rug, first take up what you can with a clean sponge. Then use warm water, absorbing it with a sponge or blotter in rubbing away the stain. Don't delay the first-aid treatment.

Rite of Baptism Cures Dumb Man

FLEETWOOD, Lancashire, Aug. 11.—(C. P. Cable)—A man, said to have been dumb for nine years, was reported to have spoken today after submitting to the rite of baptism in an open air bath at this summer resort.

Pastor Fred Quire, revivalist, baptised more than 100 persons between the ages of 14 and 68 in the presence of the chairman of the local council and 3,000 spectators. Meanwhile ordinary bathers frolicked at the other end of the pool, until, finally, they withdrew in deference to the religious ceremony.

Harlequin Beverage and Bridge Sets are a smart novelty of intriguing interest.

• • • • • • •

Each napkin has its own distinctive decoration which matches that of one of the linen coasters while one of the motifs is put on each corner of the table runner or cover.

• • • • • • •

There are six different motifs each one descriptive pictorially of one of the beverages served. What this beverage is for each party the hostess decides, or if the company is large she can have more than one served.

• • • • • • •

It is for her to decide also which four of the six applique motifs she will use on the table cover corners. If a runner is made, there can be three motifs on each end, thus making use of all.

• • • • • • •

These sets are just the things to have for bridge party tables. One set will supply a table of bridge, with two napkins and coasters for any two extras which are included in the refreshments, as so often happens at home.

• • • • • • •

Or two sets will furnish napkins and coasters for three tables. The sets are quickly made and the work is fascinating as it develops under fingers which need not be skilled in needlecraft.

• • • • • • •

The applique decorations are: tomato, indicative of tomato cocktail; orange, for orangeade; lemon, for lemonade; grape leaf and also a bunch of grapes for grape juice; butterfuly and blossoms for any beverages, merely suggesting it is delicious as nectar from flowers to sip.

• • • • • • •

The diversity of decoration lends charm while each motif has a significance easy to recognize.

• • • • • • •

These sets require linen in plain color for a runner or square cover, to fit bridge table, also enough for six napkins and six coasters. The line needed for the ornamental applique motifs is very little of any one kind, an eighth of a yard of any of the fruit colors is more than ample and in green is sufficient for foliage for every leaf.

• • • • • • •

The flowers can be of left-over bits of any preferred color or colors, as can be the butterfly also. A yellow butterfly is suggested either the color of lemon or orange, with the flowers either side of the orchid tone of the grapes.

• • • • • • •

The materials for the entire set will cost but little.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

DID NORTH FALL DOWN?

Neither side was vulnerable. South made an opening bid of 1-Diamond, which West overcalled with 2-Clubs. Bidding then went: North, 3-Spades; South, 3-No Trumps; North, 4-Spades, which nobody claimed was bad; East doubled. The declarer lost three spade tricks and one heart trick, going down one trick. Did he fall down on his play of the hand?

Play went as described: The opening lead brought out the 8 of clubs, the Q from dummy, and North trumped West's Ace. The declarer led his lowest trump through the doubler, whose J took the trick. He led back the 7 of clubs. Dummy's K won the trick. The declarer discarded his lowest heart. The declarer took dummy's two diamond tricks, then he put East in the lead with dummy's last spade. East won the spade trick with his Q, led his Ace of spades, then exited with a lead of the Q of diamonds, which the declarer trumped. Having only good trumps and hearts to lead North had to give East one heart trick, putting the contract down one trick.

From the opening lead the declarer should have seen that he must lose a heart trick, unless he forced an opponent to lead that suit. His entire strategy should have been directed to force East to lead hearts, so that no heart trick need be lost, unless West held the Q-J-10 of hearts. North fell down by leading spades twice, allowing East an exit.

Try playing the hand as follows: Opening lead is the 8 of clubs. Dummy's K wins the trick. The declarer discards his lowest heart. So far play duplicates what took place.

Play now differs from what took place. Lead a diamond. Win with dummy's K. Lead and trump one of dummy's low clubs. The last club held by East falls. Lead the declarer's last diamond. Dummy's Ace win the trick. Trump a low diamond. What if East has no more? He must lead a heart, giving the declarer three tricks in that suit. As East has a third diamond he is caught by the elimination of suits. Having stripped hands down so that the declarer holds only three spades and three hearts while East holds nothing except two spades and four hearts, the declarer leads a spade. East must lead a heart, and no matter which one he leads the declarer will fulfill his game contract doubled.

GARAGE LOOTED AT SUNDERLAND

Fraserville Youth Injured at Lake Scugog as Cartridge Cap Explodes.

WELSH FAMILY RE-UNION.

LINDSAY, August 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—The local police have been notified of quite an extensive robbery which occurred in Sunderland Wednesday night. The garage belonging to J. L. Gordon, car dealer, was broken into and tires, tubes, spark plugs, electric drills, cash register, radio tubes, etc., valued at about $600, were stolen. The loot is believed to have been carried away by truck. Residents living within thirty feet of the garage did not hear a sound. The same night an attempt was made to rob a garage at Cannington, but the thieves were fightened away. They are believed to be the same parties who made the haul at Sunderland.

Tuesday evening at Janetville Station, Lake Scugog, a shooting accident occurred, when Gearla Staples, son of Fred Staples, of Fraserville, who is building a cottage on the lake, was injured. While firing a 22-calibre rifle, it is understood a defective cap exploded in his face, a charge of powder entering the right eye. He was brought to Lindsay for medical attention.

Stuart Cargill, of New Toronto, who is summering at Clayton Hodgson's cottage, Four Mile Lake, Haliburton, swam the one mile and a half across the lake Tuesday in an hour.

James LeCraw of Norland had a double misfortune on Wednesday of this week. One of his cows got into the well on his property and was drowned, and the same day a valuable saddle horse was struck by an auto and killed. The car was badly damaged.

DR. MAYO HITS AT SPECIALISTS

Advises Country's Medical Students to Become General Practitioners.

HONORED IN SCOTLAND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—(CP)—Declaring physicians should not forget the importance of "taking care of the sick," Dr. William J. Mayo, one of the founders of the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., said he would advise the country's medical students to become general practitioners instead of specialists.

Dr. Mayo returned last night with Mrs. Mayo after attending medical meetings in London and Dublin. While abroad the University of Aberdeen conferred upon him the honorary degree of LL.D. for his work in medicine and surgery.

"It is true," he said, "that there are too many young specialists, at least in my opinion. They come out of school and suddenly they are specialists."

At the University of Aberdeen he read a paper on the goal of medicine in the United States. He said he departed from medicine and surgery in the address to explain why it was necessary to spend vast fortunes here in educating young people to think and live properly. He pointed out, he said, that in American there are 1,000,000 college students, while in Great Britain there are only about 50,000.

Dr. Mayo expressed the opinion that the younger generation is "much nearer to being civilized than we of our generation were at their age."

"The youth of my generation was denied information and allowed to live in a secretive world," he said, "while the children of today have a completely reversed treatment and are told everything that they might wish to know."

"Gossip and Sach"

GOING, GOING, gone—the spitball!

Jack Quinn has been released by the Cincinnati Reds, who gave him a two-month trial after the veteran had been fired by Brooklyn.

* * *

BURLEIGH GRIMES WAS recently turned loose unconditionally by the Chicago Cubs after failing to stop his former teammates, the St. Louis Cardinals, in a relief role.

* * *

AND IT WON'T BE long until the "last of the Mohicans," Urban (Red) Faber, will be just as unceremoniously dropped by the Chicago White Sox.

* * *

THUS WILL COME the end of the spitball pitchers, the first of whom was Elmer Stricklet, a Californian who originated the moist delivery back in 1903 and who brought it to the major leagues a year later.

* * *

IT IS A COINCIDENCE that the first spitball was thrown on the White Sox club and the last saliva curve will be tossed by a member of the White Sox also. Stricklett's first major league engagement was with the Sox back in 1904. Thirty years later—in 1934—probably find Faber's pitching career ended, if not before.

* * *

STRICKLETT, IT IS TOLD, one day in a California league game, unconsciously left some saliva on a pitch an the ball took such a sudden hop that his attention was called to it by his catcher, George Hildebrand, who is now an umpire in the American League.

That was the birth of the spitball and when Stricklett came to the majors he taught it to Big Ed Walsh, who in turn showed Faber how to use it.

* * *

ONLY A LITTLE more than a decade ago the unsanitary yet effective delivery was used by no less than 18 pitchers. Besides Faber, Grimes and Quinn, the list included the late Urban Shocker, Stanley Coveleskie, Ray Fisher, Dick Rudolph, Marvin Goodwin, Doc Ayres, Bill Doak, Allen Sothoron, Dana Fillingim, Allan Russell, Dutch Leonard, Ray Caldwell, Phil Douglas, Eddie Cicotte and Clarence Mitchell. The last named pitcher, the only left-hander of the group, passed out of the picture early this year.

* * *

EIGHTEEN ALTOGETHER since World War days and only one survivor, the result of the rule passed against freak deliveries in 1920!

* * *

ALL OF THE LAST THREE survivors of the saliva sphere have had nearly a score or more seasons in the major leagues. Grimes had a brief trial with Detroit back in 1913, but all of his other 18 seasons were with clubs of the National league—Pittsburgh, Brooklyn New York, Boston, St. Louis and Chicago, though he never pitched a game for Boston but was acquired for trading purposes.

* * *

QUINN WAS IN baseball from 1903 until a few weeks ago. He started in the old Pennsylvania State league and took up spitball pitching a few years later when a Toledo manager for whom he had won four straight games fired him because his thumb telegraphed his curve ball.

* * *

THE SPITBALL WAS IN defense of his job, Quinn served clubs in both major leagues as well as with Baltimore in the short-lived Federal league in 1914 and 1916. From 1909 to 1912 he served the old New York Highlanders, now famous as the Yankees, pitched part of the 1918 season for the White Sox under special permission and was back with the Yanks the next three seasons.

* * *

QUINN, WHO CLAIMS he is "only" 47 but is believed to be closer to 55, then pitched for the Red Sox from 1922 to July, 1925, when he was claimed by the Athletics via the waiver route, and in 1930 drew his unconditional release, only to be signed by Brooklyn. This was Quinn's thirtieth season in baseball and his twenty-third in the big leagues, including his two seasons as an "outlaw" in the Federal league.

* * *

FABER WON 249 games for the White Sox up to the present season, and in his twentieth campaign for a single club, has added one more. He has been used solely for relief work this year. Faber's worst year was in 1932 (won 2 and lost 11) and his best year was in 1926 when he won 15 and lost 8.

* * *

THE CHICAGO VETERAN certainly is on his last legs and it has been suspected that the ox have been carrying him for several years for sentimental reasons. Possibly the Sox will do something for Faber as Pittsburgh did for Honus Wagner by naming him a coach of pitchers, or try to line up a minor league club for him.

* * *

IF RED Faber is the last of the spitball pitchers, it might be well for baseball to do away with its hard-heartedness for a day and give Faber a well-advertised last starting chance as well as its cash customers a chance to see the spitball, as thrown by a faithful pitcher of 20 years service, pass into baseball history.

MERVILLE HITS DOUBLE HOMERS FOR SKEETERS

Pests Blast Way to Victory Before Man is Retired in Extra Inning.

ROYALS BEAT BIRDS.

Bears Overcome Wings' Early Lead to Take 3-2 Victory.

TORONTO, Aug. 11.—After they had courageously come from behind with a blazing batting rally in the ninth inning that put two runs over the plate and tied the score, fortune frowned on the Maple Leafs at the Stadium yesterday afternoon and Jersey City walked off with the final game of the series by 8-5 in ten innings.

It was a dismal finish after the hopes of some 5,000 youngsters of the Knot-Hole Club and 200 cash customers had been raised to the highest point by a batting stand the Leafs had made to shake off defeat.

The locals were within one ball of winning the game. Captain Les Mallon, who was in charge of the team while Manager Howley is out of the city, was at bat in the ninth with the bases full and two out, and one run needed to win the game. The first three balls that Mike Meola pitched to Mallon were wide of the plate, and it needed only one more ball to walk Mallon and force the winning run. But Meola, with all the courage in the world, grooved the next three. Mallon watched two of them sail across the plate for called strikes, and then he put all his weight behind the third pitch. The ball sailed out to deep left centrefield, but the strong northeast wind caught it and curved it over to ward Centrefielder Hubby Walker, who was racing after it, and the Leafs' big chance was gone.

Merville's Batting Feature

Ervin Brame, whose failure to prevent Larry Merville, youthful but powerful Jersey City right-fielder, from hitting home runs had kept the Skeeters in the ball game, was an easy mark for the visitors in the extra inning. The first three men who faced him in that frame clouted his offerings unmercifully, and two runs were in and a runner up on third with nobody out before Keith Frazier was rushed to the relief.

There was an element of luck about the Jersey's final inning at that. English opened the session with a clean single to centre, but Baker drove a bounder that Mallon was all set to take and start a double play when the ball took a bad hop and went away over his head. That put Benes on third and Baker on first, and both runners raced home when Rensa, usually a right-field hitter, caught Bill Lawrence out of position with a long hoist to left centre that went for a triple. Rensa scored the final run after Walker flied to Lawrence Frazier having struck out Meola, the first batter he faced.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

Unless Baltimore Orioles can improve upon their past showings this season, the final road trip in which they are engaged may spell the ruin of their hopes of getting into the pennant race which Newark Bears now dominate.

In Tie With Wings.

The Orioles have been strictly a "home" club this year, winning nearly twice as many games in their own park as they have away from it and largely as a result of their inability to win on the road they now are in a tie with Rochester Red Wings for second place, 11 games behind the speedy Bears. Instead of being up close behind the leaders.

Montreal Royals gave them another taste of what they have been getting on strange fields right along by pasting out an 11-4 decision yesterday to take the final series, two games to one, and leave them all square with 12 victories apiece for their season's meetings.

Royals Move Up.

While the game didn't alter Baltimore's position, Montreal moved Buffalo Bisons, who were idle, while Albany Senators, also enjoying a day off, dropped to seventh place by a one-point margin.

Newark, meanwhile, continued serenely along its winning course with a 3-2 triumph over Rochester which added another full game to the Bears' first-place margin.

Selwyn Eliminated Harvey Cup Series

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 11 (Examiner Corresponlence)—Selwyn was eliminated in the play-offs for the Harvey Softball Cup in a game which might be termed tumultuous on Tuesday night to which the largest crowd of the entire season flocked, filled with interest in the game. Selwyn led in the beginning but in the later stages of the game it was neck and neck with every run making a difference.

The score by innings—

Selwyn .. .. 501 105 0—12
Garage.. .. .. 111 325 0—13

The line-ups—

Selwyn — J. McConkey, c; B. Nichols, p; D. McConkey, 1b; O. McConkey, 2b; A. Tully, 3b; J. Galvin, ss; H. Oliver, rf; J. Darling, lf; C. Fitzgerald, cf.

Central Garage—F. Payne, c; W. Garbutt, p; R. Chittick, 1b; K. Junkin, 2b; S. Price, 3b; H. Jewell, ss; P. Payne, rf; A. Kingdon, lf; B. Kennedy, cf; G. Chappell, G. Wannamaker, subs.

Immediately after the game W. H. Casement who kindly donated the girls softball cup presented it to the Lakefield gris team, Phyllis Charlton, captain and Louis Sabatinoan anager received the handsome trophy. Mr. Casement made a grateful little speech congratulating the girls on their success and also on the keen competition which made the victory one which had to be earned and therefore was a greater achievement. Three hearty cheers were given for Mr. Casement, who has always shown himself a friend and generous patron of local sport.

BUD PARMELEE BLANKS PHILS FOR 4-0 WIN

Big Giant Rookie Holds Philadelphia Sluggers to Two Safeties.

INCREASE N.Y. LEAD.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A. P. Sports Writer)

The name of Leroy (Bud) Parmelee, the big "freshman" flinger, already has been placed near the top of the list of reasons why New York Giants are leading the National League but the young right hander who led the American Association with Columbus last season still is seeking the no-hit game he has approached at least twice this season.

In his first start, Parmelee allowed the Phillies only one hit for a 2-1 victory. Yesterday he came just about as close to his perfect game as he blanked the same team with two safeties to win 4-0. In between he has hurled a couple of four-hit games and established himself as one of the outstanding young hurlers by winning 10 games and losing only five in 22 appearances on the hill.

Increase N. Y. Lead

The Giants' victory increased their lead to 3½ games over Pittsburgh as the Pirates' opening battle with Chicago Cubs, the only other game on the National League schedule, was rained out.

Washington Senators made the same improvement in their position in the American League standing, boosting their lead over New York Yankees to 3½ games with a 5-3 triumph over Boston Red Sox. Rain halted the Yankees' game with Philadelphia's Athletics after the pitchers had warmed up to start.

Chicago White Sox advanced to threaten the fourth place rivals, Detroit and Cleveland, by beating the Tigers 6-3 in the other game on the program. Sad Sam Jones gave the Tigers only eight hits while the Sox poled out 13 off Carl Fischer and Eldon Auker.

Boston Bruins Will Train At Quebec City

QUEBEC, Aug. 11.—(CP)—The Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League will do their pre-season training in Quebec beginning October 15, according to word received here from Art Ross, manager of the club.

The Bruins and the Cubs, their Canadian-American League Club, trained here last year. Ross said he had arranged two exhibition games for Quebec before the N.H.L. season opens. Bruins will play Montreal Canadiens and either Montreal Maroons or New York Rangers.

The squad of 50 Boston players have been instructed to report here October 15.

Maple Leafs Defeat Park Hill Nine 11-7

A large crowd of fans were treated to a slugging duel last night at the Bowl, when the Maple Leafs tangled with the Park Hill Maidens in an exhibition tussle that wound up 11 to 7 in favor of the Leafs.

The losers used Grace Hawkes of the Westclox team at second, where she played a bang-up game, snaring every ball that came near and poled out the only four-base clout of the game. M. Goldie in right and G. Mann pitching were the fielding stars on the winning team.

Evelyn Evans pitched steady ball for the Park Hill team, but her opponents laid into her offerings with a will, and most of the infield clouts were hot ones to handle. E. Gunn and M. Jones fielded well for the losers, while K. Kearney behind the plate turned in one of her best performances of the year.

The teams:

Park Hill — K. Kearney, c; M. Mongraw, ss ;B. Flannery, 1b; G. Hawkes, 2b; E. Evans, p; A. DeCarlo, 3b; E. Gunn, lf; L. Trollop, rf; M. Kearney, cf; M. Jones, 3b.

Maple Leafs — L Darling, cf; G. Mann, p; H. Mann, lf; I. Sturgeon, 1b; E. Austin, c; D. Byers, ss; P. Rome, 2b; A. Sturgeon, 3b; L. Simmons, rf; M. Goldie, rf.

Umpires—Bert Deck at the plate, Ferguson on the bases.

Bowling Tournament Is Held At Stirling

STIRLING, Aug. 11.—(Examiner Correspondence.) — The annual tournament of the men's bowling club was held on Monday afternoon with rinks from Deseronto, Belleville, Warkworth, Tweed, Madoc, Campbellford and Norwood, also three local rinks.

Owing to the rain the games were not completed and the different classes drew for prizes.

At the close of the evening Bryant of Belleville and Buchanan of Warkworth were left in primary class. On a draw Buchanan won the silver cup and sherbet glasses.

Bryant won the dessert sets.

Wyper of Madoc won silver comports.

Fosters And Cogs Meet Again To-Night

Fighting desperately for a play-off berth, to be settled in this game, Fosters and Cogs clash tonight at 6.15 sharp, down at the Exhibition Grounds. Both teams should have their full number of players on hand by six o'clock, as the umpire will begin the contest on time. It is the most important one played so far this season, the one losing being pushed out of the baseball picture for this year, and the one winning going into the E.P.L. playoffs against C.G.E. A huge crowd is expected.

Either Jeff Hardill or Joe Bailey, righthanders, will do the Foster flinging, while Percy Vannest is the logical twirler for Cogs, though Lefty Billingsley or Casey Masterson may get the call. The Cogs have not been seen in action for sometime, as it appeared as if they were out of the running. The sudden turn of events which gives them another chance to grab a coveted position will find them battling hard to take advantage of it.

But Fosters, with their backs to the wall, after losing two bad ones in a row just when they needed them, will put up a furious fight tonight, the fans are assured of a bitter nine innings of good baseball.

Jess Haines, the veteran St. Louis Cardinal, recently celebrated his 40th birthday. To celebrate, he was instrumental in winning four out of seven Card victories registered during the course of a week.

Sgt. T. A. Jensen, Although Getting the Best Score, Not Eligible for Prize.

A CALGARY ENTRY.

Marksmen Prepare for Canadian "Bisley" Shoot at Ottawa Next Week.

LONG BRANCH, August 11 (CP)—"On to Ottawa" was the slogan to-day as 300 of the Dominion's best rifle shots and the team of English Public School Cadets after putting in a week of the keenest competition, prepared for an onslaught on the Canadian "Bisley" next week.

The 59th annual meeting of the Ontario Rifle Association, which opened on Monday, provided close rivalry in most of the historic events, but the climax of the shoot came late on Thursday afternoon in an unscheduled wind-up to the Lieutenant-Governor's match the "King's Prize" of the Ontario shoot.

Sergt. T. A. Jensen of Calgary a Bisley shot, had the best score of any to get the $18 first prize. Lieut. H. D. Proctor of Ottawa also had 18, only two short of a possible, but Proctor's shots were not so well placed, and he got second prize of $15. To Proctor, however, fell the most coveted medal of the meeting, the Lieutenant-Governor's Gold Medal. Jensen being ineligible because he was not from Ontario.

The most thrilling marksmanship struggle of the week came when seven who had got scores of 111 went out to do battle for the silver and bronze medals. The shoot-off was carried to 14 shots before the Silver Medal was taken by Captain H. W. Bishop of Ottawa, who was at Bisley last month. Bishop incidentally recorded 26 consecutive bull's eyes at the long 900 yards range. In the match and the shoot-off, a remarkable performance. Sergt. C. W. Gilmour of Hamilton who missed the bull on his 14th shot, got the Bronze Medal.

Aggregate Results

Conclusion of the meet brought the first results in the aggregates the most severe tests of day to day shooting prowess. The Mercer Memorial and the National Rifle Association of England's silver medal was captured by Lieut. Col. C. W. Gibson of Hamilton with a fine total of 450 out of a possible 465. The other big aggregate of the meeting the all-comers, was won earlier by Sgt. J. H. Regan of Victoria, B.C., another Bisley veteran, who took the O.R.A.'s silver medal and $20.

Lieut. Col. Gibson put on one of the best performances of the whole week when he won the Tait-Brassey match, principal feature of Thrusday's shooting outside the Lieutenant-Governor's match itself. Gibson scored possibles at every range to wind-up with a perfect 105. On Wednesday Regan had scored a perfect 100 in the City of Toronto match and these two excellent displays of marksmanship naturally swayed the aggregate results.

Placed Second

Lieut. Desmond Burke of Ottawa, former King's Prize winner, shot with his usual excellence throughout the week. Burke placed second in both aggregates and he won the Gibson rapid-fire match with a great score of 34 out of a possible 35. He left for Ottawa shortly after the Lieutenant-Governor's match was concluded. The main contingent travelling to the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's big meeting at Connaught ranges however, leave on Saturday night.

KITCHEN WILL TAKE THE BOX SATURDAY GAME

Ace Rigth-hander Picked by Lee to Match Wits Against Ponies.

BATTLE STARTS 3 P.M.

Russ Kitchen, ace righthander in the Central League this year, will pitch for the Petes tomorrow against Kingston Ponies here. They play at three in Stevenson Park, the second game of their C.O.B.L. title series, which is best three out of five. The Petes won the first and Kingston will be here smarting under their first licking on the home lot this season, and fighting for vengeance. Godfrey will likely do their twirling, with Yammy Jamieson in reserve.

A bitter fight is predicted when these arch-enemies clash here. They were simmering with anger down in Kingston Wednesday and this may be fanned to open hostilities tomorrow. The cocky Kingston champions are really angered at their loss, they are peeved about neutral umpires being brought in for the series, and they are getting worried about the Petes who look to be headed for the league championship this season. Besides this, Knotty Lee, his players and doubtless many of the local husky-voiced rooters will be panning them unmercifully, and they will be snarling back as they did in Kingston.

The Ponies can't "take it," as the sportsmen say, and hard panning throws them into a rage and disrupts an otherwise-classy ball team. They haven't much pitching, but can hit hard and field with any outfit. However, the local players feel they have them on the run and expect to batter them down again here Saturday. Fans from the city, district and as far away as Belleville will be here for the big game, and the largest crowd in years is expected to jam the park. The colorful Babe Sheppard will be umpire-in-chief and his partner, Joe Oswin, also of Toronto, will officiate on the runways.

Former Meets Dudley, While Latter Clashes With Golden in Quarter Finals.

OLIN DUTRA OUT.

(By Paul Mickelson, A.P. Sports Writer.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 11. — Gone was Olin Dutra, the defending titleholder, but surging forward were six powerful contenders and a pair of die hards of the "dark horse" ranks as the long struggle for the United States professional golf championship headed toward the semi-finals at Blue Mound today.

Leading the dwindling field were Gene Sarazen, dead serious in his quest to land a major title after losing the British and United States open championships; and Johnny Farrell, famed stylist from New York, who topped Dutra off his throne yesterday in a thrilling match that ended with a conquest over a partial stymie on the 36th hole.

Both Sarazen and Farrell had lively engagements ahead of them to-day in the quarter-finals of the lower bracket, Gene meeting Ed. Oudley, a noted performer from Wilmington, Del., and Farrell clashing with one of the most stubborn foemen of golf, Johnny Golden of Noroton, Conn.

The other quarter-final matches also promised action. Johnny Hines of New York, co-medallist, matched shots against the deliberate and silent Tom Creavy of Albany, N.Y., 1931 champion, and Paul Runyan, Ryder Cup star and big money winner in last winter's campaign, tackled Willie Goggin, 29-year-old long distance marksman from Salsda Beach, Calif.

HIRCOCK'S COBOURG RINK SCORES ANOTHER VICTORY

COBOURG, August 11. — E. A. Hircock's invincible Cobourg rink, with Mrs. H. Sproul as lead, Mr. Frank Corbett, Mrs. Corbett and E. A. Hircock, skip, won first prize with three wins and the highest score at the bowling tournament held by Brighton Lawn Bowling Club yesterday afternoon and evening. The rink has had phenomenal success this season, this being the third tourney in Central Ontario honors.

The ladies on the rink received pyrex ware and the gentlemen motor rugs. Green of Kingston won second prize with three wins and next highest score, and Freeman of Peterborough third prize.

W. G. Wonn skipped a Cobourg rink that had two wins and the highest score. Dr. and Mrs. George Ferris and Mrs. Mary Hall were on this rink. A Brighton rink skipped by Mr. Rieger had one win and the highest score. There were eighteen rinks competing, the weather was fine, and the tournament much enjoyed.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Down at the Exhibition Grounds at 6.15 sharp this e'en, if the weather's right, Posters and Cogs, meet in the last E.P.L. game of the season, before the playoffs. They're fighting for a playoff berth and the one that loses tonight is S.O.L. If it's anything like that nifty 3-2 C.G.E. win over Posters Wednesday in which the Electrics' spark-plug, Doug Hatton, stole home with the winning run, fans will see a dandy old ball game. The winner tackles C.G.E. next week in the championship series.

No quarter asked or given—that's the order in Saturday's Kingston-Petes' game here. "We won't give them a runner or anything but a darn good licking, that's what!" Knotty Lee was telling the boys the other night, and Kingston certainly won't give us a thing unless it's flying spikes, bean balls or the like. There is really bad blood between the rival players and coaches, and if you doubt it just watch them put each opponent in turn on the pan—though fortunately two good neutral umpires should keep the boys from mixing it up with fists. You can't win ball games parked on the bench after being chased by an umpire.

• • • • • •

The game will start in Stevenson Park at three bells. The Petes copped the first of their three-out-of-five C.O.B.L. titular series in the Limestone town Wednesday, 12 to 6, and they want to make it two straight here tomorrow. We're looking for the biggest crowd of the year, always provided we get a break in the weather. The game should be a dandy itself, there should be lots of oldtime yelling and crabbing, it means plenty to both squads—and don't forget, big Babe Sheppard, 300-pound umpire-in-chief, is a mighty big attraction—big is right—himself.

• • • • • •

Cy Whatley, Petes' young recruit catcher this year, is having a swell season back-stopping. Chock full of fight and gameness, he is learning to catch rapidly this season, pegging them like bullets to the bases and socking the apple at a .317 clip. Cy makes plenty of noise at a game, keeps his pitcher working and the rest of the boys on their toes—all of which a good receiver should do. He had a lot to learn about this tough position this Spring, but Whatley—one of the four Ashburnham players on the Petes' team this year, by the way—battled hard to win a uniform and then directed his fight against other teams in the loop. It was a pleasure to watch him blocking runners at the plate in Kingston the other night and also throwing them out at second. A good catcher, Cy, if he'll just keep using the old noodle and not let his great pep carry him away. Thinking is the biggest part of playing back of the bat.

It's Sugar Bowl and Harrison's once again in a softball game at Central, these two old and bitter rivals clashing tomorrow eve at six bells in the first tussle of their three-out-of-five playoffs series for the loop title. The Grocers came to life with a resounding bang to eliminate Omemee by big scores in two games in a row. If they keep up this brand of ball, the Bowlmen may suddenly find themselves on the outside looking in, and Harrison's representing Peterborough in the O.A.S.A. playdowns. Fans who know these two outfits won't miss tomorrow's contest.

• • • • • •

Ernie Gibbard would like to see the Petes and Ponies, if a fifth play-off game is necessary, stage it in Napanee. We saw his new ball field the other day, and received quite a surprise. It's one swell layout, without any exaggeration, every bit as good as ours and with everything brand new—stands, dressing rooms, dugouts, booths, etc. The infield is skinned, level as a billiard table and slopes down gradually to the plate. The whole field is fixed up like a Big League park and is a credit to Ernie. They get big crowds there, we're told.

Some agreement will have to be reached between the tied players themselves as to who will get the awards. Playoffs, of course, don't count.

Toronto Scottish, Dominion soccer champions, would like an exhibition game here this month, as would C.P.R. of Toronto, Oshawa, Bowmanville and Omemee. These proposed games will be considered by the local officials and some of them may be worked in. Packers and Caleys play away tomorrow, and next Saturday here, the Scots and C.G.E. meet at King Edward Park in the Gordon Cup finals. Soccer games here are generally planned so as not to interefere with senior baseball games.

This and that: Bethany gals play an exhibition softball game at the Bowl at seven tonight against Park Hill . . . . Absence of Gardner, Magee and Red Creighton, helped Orde's to lose a 9-7 city lacrosse fixture to Selkirks here last e'en . . . . Local Terriers were due to leave this aft for their O.B.A.A. semi-final first game in Oshawa Stadium at six, if rain didn't stop them . . . . Sugar Bowl just chortled their way through a soft win over Rye's in an exhibition tilt at Central yester eve . . . . Looks like the winner here will tangle with Smith-Baldwins of Lindsay next . . . . Gal's playoffs start next week, but we haven't heard what day yet.

Brouillard, New Middleweight King Plans On Fighting Champion Career

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (CP)—Nonchanlantly wearing his newly won New York State recognition as world's middleweight boxing champion, Lou Brouillard, belting French-Canadian southpaw, to-day declared to the world he is going to be a fighting champ.

If he lives up to his plans he is going to be a busy leather tosser during the remaining part of the Summer and during the Fall. Still it will be nothing new to him, as he was fined once for boxing twice within 48 hours.

Lou said he had signed with Tim Mara, local promoter who ballyhooed his title fight with Ben Jeby, New York Eastsider the Canadian flattened in less than seven rounds, for two fights in the near future. One will be an overweight affair and the other a titular engagement with any good man Mara can line up.

"I'll fight anyone they pick and I'll fight him in six weeks," said the native of St. Eugene's, Que., now domiciled in Worcester, Mass.

"I would like to fight Max Rosenbloom for the 175-pound title, too."

The new champion expressed disappointment regarding Jeby's fighting qualities. "Of course he may have been below form, but if by any chance his showing was Jeby at his best, then he can't fight at all," said Lou.

OSHAWA EDGES OUT WIN OVER TORONTO HAWKS

OSHAWA, Aug. 11. — Oshawa Dukes squeezed out a close 6-5 decision over Black Hawks in a West Toronto Senior Baseball League game at Motor City Stadium here Wednesday night. Spotting the Hawks a four-run lead in the first frame nearly proved disastrous for the locals and it was not until the last inning that the Dukes were able to overcome the deficit. Maggie Frink toiled on the mound for the locals and after a shaky start when three hits and as many walks gave the Queen City crew a three-run lead, he settled down and hurled good ball, limiting the Hawks to three hits for the remainder of the game.

LINDSAY DROPS GORDON SOCCER TIE TO CALEYS

Both Elevens Play Nice Brand of Code—Losers Miss Opportunites.

FINAL SCORE 2-1.

A rocket drive from the foot of T. McPhate, in the second half, settled the fate of Lindsay in the semi-final of the G. N Gordon cup, last night, when the Caledonians squeezed a two goal to one win over the Scrugog eleven. Both teams put up a nice brand of the code although Lindsay missed the most opportunities. The winners now meet the C.G. E. in the final.

Clever Combination

The spin of the coin fell in favor of Caleys and selected the half with the sun at their backs. Midfield tactics prevailed in the early stages, with combination being the main factor to carry the attacking force within shooting range that tested out the custodians. After Craig had broke up a dangerous attack of the visitors, he sent his forwards into the visitors' vicinity to witness McCracken send a lightning drive into goal. Springhall, custodian, pulling down a smart save, then likewise saved Rankin's attempt to find the rigging.

Quickly Lindsay transferred the play to the other end where Curtis found himself the centre of attraction by the systematic offensive. On one occasion he run out of his goal to pick up a Keith shot but to his surprise Munt collected the rebound of the local custodian to miss the empty goal by inches. A steady pressure by Lindsay carried a succession of corner kicks that went abegging, although the perfect centres from the foot of Keith deserved a suitable reward, instead of his other forwards missing great chances to score. Give and take play continued until a keen tackle by Craig against two opponents left Dyer in possession well outside the goal area. He trapped the ball from the air to lift it over to his other foot that gently raised it into the net to beat Lindsay goalie as it travelled in below the crossbar.

Equalized in a Minute

From the centre kick, on resuming, Lindsay forwards tore into the Petes defence to get them off their stride to get the equalizer when Munt slipped the ball over to Reid who beat Scots custodian all the way. The Scots retaliated with a keen offensive to find that O'Halloran and Latham were well nigh unbeatable when close dribbling efforts tried to break them down. Time and again, the full backs head or timely leg would loom in the way to prevent the ball going near their goal. Long swinging passes opened up the play to bring out the combination method of Lindsay forwards that was backed up by a clever half back line of the Doble brothers and Buchhall. Repeatedly they broke up dangerous attacks of the locals to place the ball to their wing men that proved troublesome to the Caley's full backs that were inclined to lie too far up the field. While Craig, Caleys, at centre half was very effective throughout the entire game with his defensive as well as offensive tactics. It was from one of his passes to T. McPhate that brought success to his team when the latter sent a lightning low grounder into the net through a sea of legs. The remainder of the battle concluded in the Scots holding their meagre lead to go into the final.

Caledonians 2, Lindsay 1.

Last Quarter Rally Fails For Barbers

Selkirk's early lead proved enough to withstand the last-quarter rally by Orde's in a City Lacrosse League game at the Bowl rink last night to give them a 9-6 victory. Orde's fought back hard but missed some of their regular players, and found Dundas, Routley and a few of the others a tough task to stop. Some smart goal-tending and defence playing was shown the fans, and fine running by rival forwards.

Routley got two and Dundas a pair, while Francis and E. Creighton got the only Orde counters in the first spasm. Vinette and Dundas ran in one each in Selkirk's second as the other side was blanked. Routley got two more in the third to E. Creighton's one, making the count read 8-3 to start the last. Then, Francis, E. Creighton and Vitarelli scored for the Barbers in a last-period drive, with Dundas notching the only one for Selkirk's.

The teams:

Orde's—Goal, Meyette; defence, Gerow and McGillen; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Francis and Vitarelli; rover, Hill; subs, Orde and J. Creighton.

Selkirk's—Goal, J. Dundas; defence, I. Dundas and Heard; centre, Routley; wings, Jackson and Vinette; rover, Hunt; sub., Ellis.

Referee, V. Reynolds.

"I'll look after that today"

Eric Blake was busy. Three of his salesmen were away on summer holidays and he had undertaken to attend to their work. For the first few days he was swamped.

Then he turned to the telephone for help. He found that out-of-town customers responded favorably to Long Distance calls and that he could save himself many unnecessary trips and delays.

He made the telephone do much of the work of the absent men — and got on top of his job again.

Add Long Distance to your staff. It gives quick, personal contact. It is easy to use, dependable, and inexpensive.

DEAD HERRING CAST ON SHORES

Bass and 'Lunge Chased Herring From Cold Water During Hot Spell.

FISHING IMPROVING.

STONEY LAKE, Aug. 10.—Dead herring in considerable numbers have been cast up on the shores of Stoney and Clear Lakes during the past ten days, according to reports from cottagers in the district. Although the situation is similar to that which prevailed during August last year, the dead fish are not in large enough numbers to offer any danger of contamination.

Dr. George Zimmerman of Toronto, who is associated with the Department of Game and Fisheries as deputy game warden at Kawartha Park, states that the phenomenon is an indirect result of the heat wave. The lake herring live in the coldest water they can find in the deeper holes of Stoney and Clear Lakes, he explained. During the hot weather the bass and maskinonge also go down to bottom in search of cold water in the deep spots, driving the herring out. Forced into warmer water, the herring die and, on floating to the surface, are cast up on the shores, he states.

Fishing Improving

With the advent of cooler weather during the past few days, reports indicate that the bass and maskinonge fishing has improved. The fish are again to be found in their usual haunts in the shallower waters. A great many small bass between three and eight inches in length are being caught in all sections of the lakes, indicating the success of the Department of Game and Fisheries' re-stocking activities during the last two years. One thousand adult black bass were netted in Gull Lake last year and placed in Stoney Lake and another lot was put in this Spring.

Re-stocking work this year included the placing of a large number of pickerel in the waters during April. Although few catches of speckled trout have been made, it is believed that the experimental placing of one thousand speckled trout in Stoney Lake last year will prove a success.

DOPE PEDDLERS CAUGHT.

NIAGARA FALLS.—Four men were arrested to-day by Royal Canadian Mounted Police on charges of selling cocaine and were remanded until Aug. 17. The case is said to involve a large quantity of narcotic.

"He picked up at once on Eagle Brand"

"I CANNOT speak too highly of your Eagle Brand milk," writes Mrs. J. W. Bulger, R.R. No. 4, Brampton, Ont. "My baby weighed 8¼ lbs. at birth. At seven months he weighed 9½ lbs. At this age, after trying seven other foods and formulaes, I started to give him Eagle Brand. In a few days we could see a difference and now at a year old he weighs 19½ lbs."

If you cannot nurse your baby, try Eagle Brand Milk. You will find the directions on every label. We would like to send you the new 84 page edition of "Baby's Welfare." It gives directions for feeding and children's care and has pictures and life stories of many Eagle Brand babies.

Cheesemakers Hold Fish, Steak Supper

YOUNG'S POINT, Aug. 11.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The Cheesemakers' Association of the county of Peterborough held their annual fish and steak supper at the Lakeview Hotel, Young's Point, on Friday evening last. Twenty cheesemakers were present, among whom were: Messrs. Jas. Irwin and J. Johnston, of Belleville; Robert Allan, W. J. Moore and R. Payne, of Peterborough; R. Borland, E. Borland, J. Brethour and A. Taylor, of Warsaw; R. Wasson, R. Little, W. Baker, of Douro; Mr. Ivy C. Cuthbertson, of Dummer; G. Wilson, of Stoney Lake; R. Wilson, of Selwyn; Andrew Wilson, L. Wilson and Aubrey Wilson, of Young's Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Borland and son, Earl, and daughter, Mary, of Warsaw, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson on Wednesday.

Miss Grace Windrem, of Toronto, spent her vacation in the village, a guest at the Lakeview Hotel.

Mrs. Gorge Wilson and daughters, Alice and Margaret, of Hall's Bridge, visited friends in the village on Friday evening.

Mr. Percy Richards, of Sandwich, who has spent the past ten days with relatives in the village, returned to his home on Wednesday.

Mr. Dave Darling was a visitor to the Serpent Mound regatta on Wednesday when he accompanied the Curve Lake hardball team.

Mrs. D. Drain and son, Clarence, of Peterborough, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Darling on Sunday.

Mr. John Arthur, of Toronto, is the guest of his aunt and uncle, Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Moore.

Miss Daisy Wilson attended the baseball tournament held at Bridgenorth on Monday.

Mr. Leon Ellsworth and son Roydon, and daughter, Peggy, of Detroit, Mich., have again returned to their home after spending a vacation with Mrs. Ellsworth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson.

Mrs. Louis Peltier, also Mr. Harry Peltier, of Windsor, spent a few days in the village at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wilson.

Mrs. George McAdams and daughter, Mary Stuart, of Montreal, are the guests of Mrs. Kearney and daughter, Lottie, at "The Kearney."

Mr. Hugh Morrison, of Lakefield, visited friends in the village on Friday evening last.

ACTIVE people of all ages enjoy the tempting flavor of Kellogg's PEP Bran Flakes.

Made of wheat. Nourishing. Easy to digest. Plus bran. Mildly laxative. Delicious with milk or cream. The flavor of better bran flakes!

Enjoy PEP often — breakfast, lunch or supper. Your grocer has it. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, August 12

This day may be notable for successful negotiations with large corporations, mergers, secret societies or diplomatic circles, in spite of many stubborn obstacles or frustrating circumstances, according to the planetary configurations. It may be advisable to confine activities to these channels, or through methods of strategem or tact, lest there be financial hazard. However, elderly persons or institutions may be found to have a friendly disposition and render substantial aid.

Those whose birthday it is are advised that their best chances for the year will be in dealing with mergers, rings, large corporations or secret bodies or by methods of strategy, diplomacy or intrigue. There is a menace of financial loss, also a sign of encouragement or solid help from elderly persons or institutions.

A child born on this day will be steady and industrious, inclined to gain its ends by tact, diplomacy or shrewdness.

Dairy Notes

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, August 11. — The following cheese were graded at the local station on Friday last: Woodlands 20, Trent Bridge 63, I.X.L., 23, Morganston 56, Warkworth 82, Brickley 18, Seymour West 21, New Model 21, Beaver 17, Menie 52, Prince of Wales 34, Brae 33, Stanwood 30, Crow Bay 39, Empire 64, Kimberley 47, Trent Valley 50, Burnley 43, Spring Valley 24, Norham 39 —in all a total of 776 boxes graded as compared with the corresponding week last year which registered 866 boxes of cheese graded.

The spread of fat test of August composite samples ranged from 2.3 per cent. to 5.5 per cent., and in both cases the amount of milk represented was very small

Fred Remington of Hoard's, and W. V. Drewry, of Warkworth, who last year held high positions in the scoring, not only in the Campbellford district, but also in Ontario, are again running close this year with an equal number of high scoring shipments.

Mr. Johnston of the Ontario-Intelligencer, Belleville, was a visitor at the grading station on Friday last.

HEART-to-HEART TIME

What sweeter time could there be for WRIGLEY'S?

Even at intimate times three is not a crowd . . . when the third is WRIGLEY'S GUM.

CANADA WILL CONTINUE IN THE BISLEY SHOOTS

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(CP).—There is no possibility of Canada discontinuing the representation of this country at the annual Bisley meet. Such a thing, declared Col. R. J. Birdwhistle yesterday, secretary of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association "is the last thing which would occur in connection with the activities of our Association."

The fear that Canadian teams would disappear from Bisley due to financial conditions of the D.R.A. was expressed by Col. F. F. Clarke, Montreal, who is chief range officer at the Ontario Rifle Association meet now in progress at Long Branch.

Scouting such a possibility, Col. Birdwhistle today declared that the D.R.A. would select next year's Bisley team at the national meet which will open next week at Connaught ranges.

MAY CHANGE HARMSWORTH CUP COURSE TO RIVER ST. CLAIR

Suggested New Course Would Provide Better View From Canadian Shore.

AN "IDEAL PLACE"

DETROIT, Aug. 11—(AP)—Possibility that the Harmsworth races might be transferred from Lake St. Clair to the St. Clair river, above Algonac, Mich., has arisen now that race officials have inspected a suggested course on the river.

In the inspection party were: Harry B. Greening, of Hamilton, Ont., British representative on the Harmsworth Commission; Otto F. Barthel, American representative on the Harmsworth Commission; W. D. Edenburn, chairman of the Race Committee; J. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Gold Cup Committee, and Ted Reid of Hamilton, Fay Smith and Hugh Gunnison, of the Gold Cup Committee.

Edenburn explained that Greening had asked to be shown the suggested course. Greening holds two votes on matters affecting the Harmsworth race, one for the Challenging Club and one for the Harmsworth Estate, donor of the trophy, and has the decision on where the race shall be held. He is expected to decide next week.

The suggested course would provide quieter water, and advantage to Hubert Scott-Paine, the British challenger whose craft has only two inches of free board, or space, above the water line, and would be in full view of the Canadian shore, adding to the international flavor.

Gar Wood, the defender has a boat plant at Algomac where his line of "Miss Americas" has been built and has said that the St. Clair would be an "ideal place" for the race.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

Weather permitting, it is expected there will be a record crowd on the greens to-night. We are to have as guests ten rinks from Port Hope, headed by Dr. Daley and Frank Flood. The boys from the lakeshore town always come up with a strong representation and the Peterborough boys are asked to give the visiting bowlers a royal welcome.

We understand that "Benny," who is at the head of the purchasing department of the club, has made arrangements for a supply of fruit as prizes for the evening.

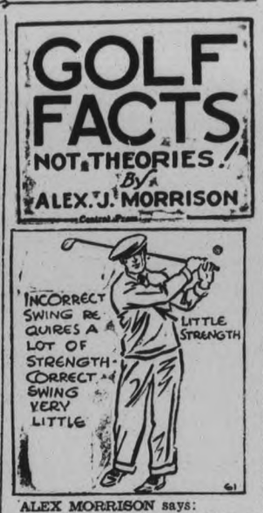
On Saturday Caledonians travel to Deloro in a league game, with W. Harrington as official referee. Local players are requested to be at the Market Square not later than two o'clock prompt.

Canada Packers play Lindsay at Scugogville in a league match, Albert Frick referee. C.P. players please meet at the plant not later than two o'clock.

On the first open date, Caledonians will go to Millbrook to play an exhibition game.

C.G.E. are negotiating with Bowmanville to play them in their own territory when a date has been arranged.



ALEX MORRISON says:

You can always tell whether or not you're making the correct swing by the amount of strength you have to use in swinging the club.

For example: When you use enough strength to move a piano in making a drive that sends the ball less than 150 yards, you can be sure that your swing represents a mighty low degree of efficiency.

No doubt, you can recall some long drives that found you using comparatively little strength.

Since you can't see your swing as others can, keep a close watch over the amount of strength you use for the distance your ball travels.

Kiwanis Bantams Take 4-2 Victory

Kiwanis bantams nosed out a 4-2 win over Empire Cubs last night in another good encounter between these squads. It went seven innings before darkness set in, both Phelan and Gardino hurling excellent ball. No two runs were scored in one innings for either side as they fought it out on almost even terms, some smart fielding being dished up. Next game will be next Tuesday evening at six on the Sacred Heart diamond.

The teams—

Kiwanis—O'Toole, Phelan, Ash, Platt, McIlmoyle, Wright, Conley, Brady and Vitarelli.

Cubs—Gardino, Smith, Armour, Lawson, Curry, O'Brien, Lucas, Heffernan and Anderson.

Bun Hatton's Crew Wins Doubleheader

"Bun Hatton's" Wrecking Crew won a double header last night, taking the Examiner into camp 16 to 13, and then subduing the Nationals 5-4. Both games were played at the Brinton Carpet grounds.

The first game was a heavy hitting affair, both outfits being strong with the willow. The Examiner piled up an early lead, but failed to hold it when the Southenders heavy artillery swung into action.

The second game went only five innings, being called on account of darkness, but the Wrecking Crew managed to squeeze out a 5-4 win.

Playoffs Arranged Trent Valley Loop

MARMORA, August 11 (Examiner Correspondence). — A meeting of the executive of the Trent Valley League was held at the Royal Hotel, Marmora, on Thursday evening with President P. Yuill in the chair. Madoc, through its manager P. Gunn, intimated that they would not be able to finish their three remaining games in the schedule. This automatically places Havelock in second place, the leaders being Deloro.

These two teams will now engage in the play-offs with a winner to be declared before August 19. The Havelock team is expressing its regrets to R. A. Elliott ex-president of the O.B.A.A. for the unbecoming conduct of one of its signed-up players towards him.

SPRINGBROOK HOLDS LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Takes 8-6 Victory Over Hoard's for Rawdon Loop Silverware.

MEET AT STIRLING.

BURNBRAE, August 11 (Examiner Correspondence).— Springbrook retains the Rawdon League silverware for another year, winning 8 runs to 6 over Hoards at Stirling on Tuesday evening. The series has been a protracted one. The first game was a tie. Springbrook won the next, then Hoards took two in a row, and as everyone thought the cup. The executive ruled out Hoards' last win, as the game was called, and ordered another game. This was the best game of the series, some splendid ball being played by both squads.

Hoards were out in order until the fourth, when Jeffs was safe on Mason's error, advanced on O. Rannie's hit and scored on Hazlitt's error on Hume's tap. They counted three in the sixth on errors by Mason and B. Heath, another hit by O. Rannie, and two wild pitches. They added two in the seventh on hits by J. Rannie, Smith, Jeffs, and O. Rannie, but fell short of the tying runs.

Eagleson started on the mound for Hoards but retired in the second with the bases full and none out. The first man to face Smith forced a runner at the plate but Hazlett hit for two bases to count a pair. The Northerners added three in the fifth on Smith's error, Bateman's three-bagger, and Williams' single. A slow return throw from the field allowed Williams to score from second on Burkitt's sacrifice fly.

Springbrook got the winning margin in the sixth. G. Heath fanned. Hazlett was safe when Smith dropped his fly, but was forced at second by White. Mason hit to O. Rannie, who juggled the ball momentarily and then pegged to Hume for the third out. Brown astonished everyone by calling the runner safe. Heath's double and another error by the pitcher sent in three runs.

The winners' battery worked well, fielding nicely, and Bateman struck out five, issuing only two free tickets. Hoards secured only two earned runs, every Springbrook error resulting in a run. Springbrook likewise secured only three earned runs. Smith struck out three and issued no walks. Eagleson walked one. Hume, O. Rannie, and J. Rannie handled thirteen of the eighteen put-outs among them and played fin eball throughout. O. Rannie was the heavy hitter of the game with three singles, while Bill Heath with a single and double led the winners. He was the only player in the game to score wto.

The teams:

Springbrook — Bateman, p; Williams, c; Mason, 1b; B. Heath, 2b; Hazlett, 3b; White, ss; Baldwick, G. Heath, lf; Burkitt, cf; Morton, rf.

Hoards — Smith, p; Jeffs, c; Hume, 1b; O. Rannie, 2b; Eagleson, 3b; Oddie, ss; Watson, lf; Milne, cf; J. Rannie, rf.

By innings—

CATHEDRAL CITY GIVEN AFFRONT

Soldiers Snatch Instrument From Official Hornblower at Curfew Hour.

MAYOR ISSUES WARNING.

CP Staff Writer.

LONDON, Aug. 11.—(CP Cable)—Visitors to the quaint old cathedral city of Ripon, in Yorkshire, have perpetrated an affront.

Ever since the days of the Saxons it has been the custom at the hour of curfew for the official hornblower ceremoniously to announce the hour by blowing his horn at the market cross. This little ritual usually attracts a small gathering.

There were some soldiers present the other night from one of the territorial camps, and, it is asserted, the hornblower was hustled, the horn was snatched from him, and an attempt to blow it was made by some of the strangers.

Jealous for the "sacredness of ancient custom in the eyes of the citizens," the mayor of Ripon, R. Thorpe, takes a serious view of the occurrence. It may have been a little horse-play on the part of some of the more effervescent spirits from the camp, says his worship, but if it occurs again the situation will assume a very different aspect.

Town-cryers are still to be found in many out-of-the-way places in England. At Southwold, on the Suffolk coast, for instance, the town-cryer comes out daily in three-cornered hat and full-skirted scarlet coat, ringing a bell vigorously to attract the attention of the passer-by, to make announcements, such as the loss of small articles by visitors and the impounding of cattle. Similar functions are performed by the town-cryer of Keswick, in the lake district.

SOMETHING NOT TOLD.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—In reading the report of the Conservative picnic at Bobcaygeon where Prime Minister Henry and one of his Ministers, Hon. Mr. McCrae, addressed a large crowd, it was certainly amusing to notice how the Premier buttered their big tax bills all over with political taffy and gave the farmers great credit for the way they stayed with him and his Government in these times of great distress and poverty. (Yes, in his Abitibi power deal!)

No doubt a very large number swallowed their pill and said to themselves, "What a good boy is he." I also noticed where several of our local politicians were there and shot off some of their praises in favor of the Government's good business. Neither Hon. Mr. Henry or Hon. Mr. McCrae told them that they had gotten the province into nearly $600,000,000 in debt since coming into power. They did not tell them that their party and the Hydro Commission was paying salaries up to $35,000 for one official. They did not tell them that their Cabinet Ministers could not live less than from ten to fifteen thousand dollars a year, while they expect a laboring man to raise a family on $250.00 a year and pay them taxes, too. They did not tell them that their Government taxes were helping to put hundreds of people out of their homes and driving farmers off their farms. They did not tell them that there were very few farmers taking a trip to the Old Country on their holidays, owning pleasure boats in New Ontario lakes, entertaining their friends.

I wish to say that I was a strong supporter of the Conservative party for over thirty years; that was several years ago. We had a party that we were proud of, but there is no Conservative party now.

I would like to advise the C.C.F. party against bringing out a candidate at the present time. For the provincial election let us have a two-party fight, and after the election we will have a Liberal farmer to represent us in the next Government.

Farmers, keep your powder dry for the Dominion election! Don't forget the very cool reception the farmers got at Ottawa last summer by the Premier who has no use for them. Oh, for a Roosevelt for Premier of Canada instead of what we have now!

R. N. SCOTT, Smith.

ROAD ACCIDENTS IN ONTARIO.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—Everyone will be gratified to learn that fatal accidents in Ontario for the month of June have again shown a decrease. The numbers killed in that month in 1931 were 61, for 1932 36 and for 1933 30—one person each day for June, 1933. There were 749 accidents during the month; 739 persons were injured and property damage reached $67,111.00. The conditions in June were favorable. Of the accidents 95 per cent. occurred on dry roads and 80 per cent. in daylight. Only 5 per cent. of the cars were mechanically defective. The human factor failed.

The Clipping Bureau of the Ontario Prohibition Union has press reports of 105 accidents on Ontario highways during the month of June, 1933, with which liquor was associated. This is more than 14 per cent. of the total reported. Its records further show 41 cases of drunk driving 27 cases of reckless driving after drinking, 26 cases where liquor was found in cars, 7 cases where the driver had his liquor permit cancelled after driving recklessly, and 4 cases not easily classified. One of the latter was that of a man found in a burning car. He died later in Belleville hospital. Evidence at the inquest showed that before leaving Marmora he had consumed considerable liquor. In addition to the above, it may be of interest in passing to note that the Union has record of 21 stills discovered in Ontario during June last.

The human factor failed, but nothing causes the human element to fail more surely than a small amount of alcoholic dope. The records of the Prohibition Union are, of course, incomplete, but there is good reason to assume that in 14 per cent. of the accidents on Ontario roads liquor was a definite contributing factor. Eminent medical men and scientists in Great Britain—men with no bias on the liquor question or with one toward tolerance, if any—declare that with quantities of liquor too small to occasion signs of intoxication in the ordinary or the legal sense, the mind of the individual is altered by the drug, so that it "lacks its normal factor of judgment and conspicuous element of its self-control." They distinctly point out the liability to serious accident attendant upon such type of indulgence.

Ignorance, our social customs, the shielding of reputable citizens from exposure, the condoning of the use of liquor by public authority, and the subtle effect of alcohol itself which induces self-confidence while it reduces capacity and responsibility, delude the thoughtless and selfish citizen, and all these are accessory to the daily tragedy on our highways.

Against these subtle but dominant influences the strictures of the courts and the pleadings of public men are largely vain. The scientific data is definite, but neither our social customs nor our laws recognize its truth in any adequate degree. It is about time that the law should provide that anyone who drinks prior to driving a car should be held guilty of culpable negligence. It is many years since similar action was taken by the railroads in conditions less serious to the public than those that obtain on the highways.

A. J. IRWIN.

UNEMPLOYED WILL FIGHT EVICTIONS

Intend To Place Evicted Tenants Back in Homes

Thirty Members Of The Unemployed Fraternity Have Been Given Orders From Landlords To Leave Their Homes, President Declares.

FIRST EVICTION IS SET FOR MONDAY— SPECIAL MEETING OF FRATERNITY HELD.

A special meeting of the Unemployed Workers' Fraternity was held last evening to consider what action the unemployed should take regarding notices of eviction which had been served upon thirty of their number by their respective landlords.

As a result,, a resolution was recorded to the effect that upon notification being received by any member of the Fraternity for eviction, it was the intention of the U.W.F. to be present at the eviction and to place the evicted tenants back into their homes.

Charles Holland, president of the U.W.F., presided at the meeting, and in an interview with The Examiner this morning stated that thirty members of the Fraternity were already under notice to leave their homes. Seven of the notices, he said, were to go into effect next week. The first of the evictions or seizures was to take place on Monday morning, and it was the intension of the unemployed to be present and to act in accordance with the resolution passed at the meeting.

He added that a number of block committees were appointed at the meeting, representing the various sections of the city. The committees included north, south, east, and west, and two central and two free lance committees. Their purpose was to keep in close touch with the situation as it affected unemployed tenants, and to co-ordinate for action when action became necessary.

APARTMENT FIRE CLAIMS 2 LIVES

CAME ELECTRIC IRON.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 12 (A.P.).— Four children, left alone in an apartment while their mother went to a store, lost their lives early today in a fire believed to have been caused by an overheated electric iron, police said.

Four other persons were injured, two of them seriously, when fire swept the apartment.

Two of the children, Weiss, six, died of suffocation in their beds while his brother, Henry, was fatally burned. Their mother, Mrs. Nora Weiss, told the police she left the house for a few minutes around midnight when the children were asleep and forgot to remove the plug from an electric iron. She said she had been gone only a few minutes when someone noticed smoke rolling from the windows of the apartment and called the fire department.

Two passing motorists notified occupants of the front apartment and helped carry the two children of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Lynch to the street. They attempted to get into the Weiss apartment but were held back by smoke.

Man's Leg Is Broken When Struck By Limb

When a limb of a tree which he was cutting down fell on his foot, Herbert Howson, Mather's Corners, yesterday evening suffered a severe fracture of his left leg and a badly dislocated foot. Mr. Howson, an expert axeman, was watching the tree fall when the limb struck him. He was removed to Nicholls Hospital, where Dr. Wright of Keene is attending him.

BRIDGE TROUBLES.

CHICAGO.— As Mrs. Rubye Bringmann's attorney explained it in court, it was bridge that caused the trouble and bridge that fixed it up again.

She fyled a bill for divorce, alleging her husband Conrad slapped her for trying an unnecessary finesse, but later on she won back his affection by making several grand slams, while playing opposite him.

And so the divorce bill was withdrawn.

92 Seeking Seats In British Columbia

VICTORIA, Aug. 12.—Ninety-two candidates have been nominated for British Columbia's general election, likely to be held in October.

With independent nominations holding high interests, nominations to date are: Tolmie Unionists, 2; Liberals, 36; Bowserties, 8; C.C.F., 23; Independents, 15; United Front, 5; Independent C.C.F., 3. Total, 92.

The Independents include Hon. R. W Bruhn, until recently Minister of Public Works in the cabinet of Premier S. F. Tolmie, and Hon. W. A. MacKenzie, former Minister of Mines in the administration Besides closely watching the rising number of Independents, electors are also highly interested in the comeback bid of a former Conservative premier, Hon. W. J. Bowser.

PARALYZED FOR 18 YEARS MYSTERY PATIENT DIES

KENOSHA, Wis., Aug. 12.—(A.P.) —A mysterious patient, who has lain paralyzed on a hospital cot here for 18 years, unable to identify himself, died to-day.

His lips, too paralyzed for speech and his arms so immobile he could not write, the man has suffered in silence at the Kenosha hospital since January, 1914, when he was found lying in a street outside the city. The city has cared for him through the years.

So compete was his paralysis that his only sign of recognition was a flash of an eye or a lifting of a lid.

The man was about 40 years old.

Tame Sudbury Bear Goes Upon Rampage Chases Police And Rifles Garbage Pails

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)— Beauty, a tame year-old bear owned by Charles Geary, showman, has finally been subdued and secured by a heavy chain after going on a series of rampages in the course of which he assaulted two policemen, bit one bystander, chased two others and burglarized several garbage pails.

Beauty's trouble started several days ago when in company with a cub was brought to Sudbury as an attraction and was tethered with a rope around the neck. The rope didn't hold Beauty and soon he was chasing Albert Wright along one of the city streets. Albert finally reached home, puffed, but uninjured

Beauty was finally picked up by policemen who found him examining a garbage pail. Both the bear and the pail had to be taken to the station. They were inseparable.

Once again Bruin was tethered and again slipped his rope and made a tour of vegetable gardens. It was when his tour was interfered with by Wallace Botsford that he became angry and slapped Botsford's wrist, inflicting a large gash.

SHERIFF ENTERS SHOOTING FRAY THREE MEN DIE

Officer Opens Fire Killing 2 in Car in Act of Slaying Man Afoot.

ONE ARREST MADE.

Night Club Operations Believed at Bottom of Gun Battle.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 12.—(A.P.) —Three men, said by police to be connected with local night club operations, were shot and killed about 1.30 a.m. to-day when Sheriff Thomas B. Bash discovered two of the trio exchanging shots with the third.

The two assailants, who were in a motor car, were slain by Sheriff Bash, and the third, who was afoot, died from wounds they had inflicted before the sheriff interrupted them.

Bash identified the dead as follows: Ferris J. Anthon, the man who was afoot. Sam Hogg and Gus Fasone, alias Sam Stine.

Police records show Anthon was indicted September 29, 1932, by a Federal grand jury in Chicago as a member of an alcohol ring.

A third man in the motor car occupied by Hogg and Fasone was captured when he attempted to flee and another was reported to have escaped. The captured man gave his name as Charles Gargotta, 33, and denied he was in the killers' car.

Sheriff Bash, accompanied by his wife and two friends, was driving home. He saw a man running and two men in the front seat of a big black sedan shooting at him. The runner returned the fire and fell in the street.

Taking a riot gun from the motor car the sheriff got out of the car with Hodges, and said he fired at the car when the men fired at him and his deputy. The two men in the car slumped in the seat, fatally wounded. Gargotta was taken, the sheriff said, when he ran across the street, firing a revolver at the officers.

NOT LUCKY ENOUGH.

CHICAGO.— When they picked Harry Wellington, Jr., 40, from the street after he had been struck by an automobile, they found two four-leaf clovers in his pockets.

He died in hospital.

POOR ADVERTISING.

NEWARK, N. J.—Patrick McGovern, a Hatters' Union delegate, drove home a point on how to revive the hat industry at a union meeting here.

"I watched you fellows come in," he said. "And a lot of you were bareheaded. You ought to know better than that."

INJURIES PROVE FATAL

HAMILTON.—From injuries received in an automobile accident last Monday, Donald Buckley, 40, died in hospital here to-day. Buckley was driving a milk wagon when Robert Westons' auto collided with his vehicle. His head struck the pavement when thrown from his seat. Buckley did not recover consciousness.

His Mistake

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(C.P.) The sticking out of the tongue of a policeman is a luxury which Alexander West, Negro, recommends be eschewed.

Everything was in West's favor up to the moment his tongue got out of bounds. He had been arrested last night by Patrolman Bossom for soliciting alms. He had told the court he was not soliciting alms. The court took his word for it and dismissed the case.

This made West very gay. He started from the court room, a free man. On the way out he saw Officer Bossom. He stuck out his tongue at him. He should have kept his tongue in his cheek.

The magistrate said: "Bring that man back here." West went to jail.

WOMAN DOGGED BY MISFORTUNE

Bruise on Finger of Bancroft Woman Turns to Blood Poisoning.

TWO SONS BURNED

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 12 (C.P.).— Misfortune continued to-day to pile up for Mrs. Florence Whitmore, 31, Bancroft, Ont., woman held here on a charge of illegal entry.

A bruise on a finger had led to blood poisoning, it was announced at the Erie County Lodging House where she is being held. Her condition was not believed serious.

Mrs. Whitmore was arrested about a week ago after a hurried trip back to Canada from Niagara Falls, N.Y., on word that two of her children and an eight-year-old brother had been burned to death in Bancroft.

She had secured a position as a domestic in Niagara Falls last Easter, leaving her son, Isadore, 12, in Canada. Her husband, from whom she was separated, had taken the two older children to his mother's home.

Mrs. Whitmore said she would seek employment at Niagara Falls, Ont., if a board of inquiry here ordered her deportation.

POTATOES SELL 25-30 CENTS PER PECK TO-DAY

Business was again brisk on the farmers' produce market this morning, where the following prices were prevailing: Tomatoes, 40c for 14 lbs.; peaches, 45c basket; potatoes, 25c and 30c peck; eggs, 17c and 18c dozen; corn, 15c dozen; carrots, 3 bunches for 10c; cabbage, 5c head; string beans, 5c qt.; honey, 5-lb. pail (white) 60c, (amber) 50c; apples (Duchess), 20c and 35c basket; chickens, 23c lb.; butter 25c lb.

Given Six Months For Forging Cheques

For cashing five forged cheques on local citizens, Carl Nicholson, no certain address, was sentenced today by Police Magistrate Langley to six months definite and 12 months indeterminate in the Ontario Reformatory. He had been previously convicted on a similar charge in Prescott, in 1932.

WHEAT DROPS SEVEN CENTS AT WINNIPEG

Market Deluged With Selling Orders Engendered by Weakness at Liverpool.

SUPPORT AT MID-DAY.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12 (C.P.). — Deluged with selling orders engendered by weakness at Liverpool, due to the large carryover in North America, wheat prices crashed spectacularly on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. At the low points values were as much as 7 cents under yesterday's closing quotations.

A little support was encountered, however, and by mid-session values showed a slight upturn with a decline of 5⅝, December 7⅛ and May at 79 cents. With each upturn from the low levels selling renewed and the market had difficulty in showing much resistance to the steady stream of selling orders.

Reflecting the North American carry-over, wheat prices at Liverpool were 2d to 2½d lower at the close.

Setbacks At Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (A..).--Sharp new setbacks in grain values early to-day followed the Board of Trade removal of minimum prices that were placed in effect on July 31.

Absence of speculative demand rather than unusual pressure to sell, accompanied the downward sweep of the markets.

Opening 2½-3 cents lower, wheat afterward held near the initial range. Corn started 2⅝-3⅝ cents off and subsequently altered little.

SCHOOL BOARD, PARENTS CLASH

Officials Threaten to Jail Citizen if Pupils Are Kept From Classes.

TROUBLE OVER TEACHERS.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)— Intention of the Saltfleet School Board to invoke the Truancy Act and have parents jailed if their children carry out a proposed strike in protest to the dismissal of Principal G. C. Swayze and Miss Grace Van Horne, teacher, has caused little concern among the parents.

"I've talked with several mothers to-day and it might please Mr. J. Bairstow to learn that most of them will be pleased to see the inside of a jail," Mrs. A. P .Hunt, Normanhurst, stated when Mr. Bairstow, chairman of the school board of S.S. No. 11, Saltfleet, made it known that the board was prepared to invoke the Truant Act.

Talk of a students' strike arose at a meeting of the Ratepayers' Association Tuesday, when score of parents assembled to protest the principal's and teacher's dismissal. It was resolved to ask resignation of the board and reinstate the teachers.

PLOT RUMORED RESTORE CHINA'S DRAGON THRONE

Manchu Princes Living in Seclusion Since 1911 Take New Hope.

JOIN CONSPIRACY.

Boy Emperor's Knuckling Under to Japanese Fails to Dampen Ardor.

PEIPING China, Aug. 12—Rumors of a plot to restore the son of heaven to the dragon throne of China were current in Manchu quarters in Peiping yesterday

Manchu princes, living in seclusion since the overthrow of the "boy emperor" n 1911 have taken new hope from recurrent reports that a constitutional monarchy will be established in Manchuokuo and ultimately extended again to Peiping.

The Manchus point out that they conquered China in the past and that it could be done again. They have little sympathy with the Chinese from the South these taller men in the North, and many who have lived in exile or seclusion for more than 20 years are joining in the plot to restore Peiping's ancient splendor.

No Draw Back

The fact that the former Emperor Hsuan Tung, better known as Henry Pu-Yi, the "boy emperor," is now regent of Manchuokuo under the thumb of the Japanese, and remains without a crown has not served to discourage the Manchus here who once clustered about the court of the Ching dynasty.

Manchu correspondents in Manchuokuo frequently have assured their countrymen living below the great wall that there is definite and growing monarchial movement in Mukden, and Changchung, the new capital, which would return the youthful erstwhile emperor to his throne.

Hopes were raised in monarchistic circles here by receipt of reports that Dr. Chao Chin-Pao, head of the Manchuokuo legislative council, is shortly to proceed to Japan to make a comprehensive study of the Japanese constitution. Other envoys will be sent to Europe to make similar studies, the dispatches said.

O'DUFFY PARADE IS CALLED OFF

General Changes Orders Following Ban by De Valera's Government.

PLANS CHURCH MARCH.

DUBLIN, Aug. 12 (AP)—General Owen O'Duffy cancelled a parade of his National Guard "blue shirts" to-day shortly after President De Valera's government had invoked the drastic public safety act against the demonstration.

This act, under which former President Cosgrave set up a military tribunal, proclaims revolutionary societies to be treasonable and provides severe punishments, including the death penalty.)

Instead of the parade, scheduled for tomorrow, Gen. O'Duffy announced he was planning church parades in many districts the following Sunday.

De Valera charged that it was the avowed aim of the National Guard "To destroy the existing parliamentary institutions, while the military character of its organization and the symbols it has adopted are evidence that its leaders are prepared in favorable circumstances to resort to violent means to attain this end."

He said that "certain people had presumed on the governments' leniency," thus obliging it to put article 2A, the public safety act, into operation.

The parade was announced as an honor to Arthur Griffith, president of the dail, who died in 1922; Michael Collins, chief of the provisional government who was shot and killed in 1922, and Kevin O'Higgins, Free State minister assassinated in 1927.

A NEW ALIBI.

FOREST, Ont. — A brand new alibi his just come to light for the man who sports a discolored optic.

Havana Celebrates As President Asks For Leave Absence

Col. Jimenez, Head Of Machado's Dread Secret Police, Shot Down By Soldiers As He Fires Upon Unknown Citizen Celebrating President's Downfall.

CONGRESS MOVES SWIFTLY TO SELECT PROVISIONAL CHIEF—ARMY IN CONTROL.

By John P. McKnight, A. P. Staff Writer

HAVANA, Aug. 12.—(AP)—President Gerardo Machado's resistance to combined military and civilian demands that he surrender his office collapsed utterly today.

While Havana enthusiastically celebrated the end of the Machado regime, congress was called into session this afternoon to pass on General Machado's request for a leave of absence.

It was a foregone conclusion that the request would be speedily accepted and the way paved for a chief executive acceptable to all parties.

In celebration of the success of the anti-Machado movement, climaxing efforts that have gone on for years and that have cost numerous lives, thousands of Havana residents surged toward the presidential palace, demanding to enter.

The heavy police guard refused to admit them.

One of the most hated men of the Machado regime—Col. Antonio Jimenez, chief of the dreaded Porr, the Machado secret police — was killed.

Jimenez wounded a man celebrating the anti-Machado victory and then turned his gun on a group of soldiers. The soldiers shot him down.

United States Ambassador Sumner Welles, prime mover in the plan of mediation based on the ousting of Machado, conferred this afternoon with political leaders over the problem of selecting a provisional president.

Unusual Request

The army, which made possible the collapse of the Machado regime after having been its mainstay for years, took the unusual course of demanding that the successor to the chief executive's post must not be a military man.

Most groups considered the outstanding possibility to be Col. Horacio Ferrer, who retired from the army in 1928 and is more identified with his profession of medicine than with military affairs. But the Colonel told the Associated Press that he did not desire the place.

On dependable authority it was learned that the resignations of all the members of the Machado cabinet had been presented.

The general staff ordered the army to occupy Havana and to patrol the streets, for the purpose of immediately restoring order.

All of the demonstrations were in good humor and they obeyed the soldiers, applauding them enthusiastically.

Agree On Cespedes.

HAVANA, Aug. 12 (A.P.) — All political factions agreed this afternoon that Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, former Ambassador to the United States, should be the new President of Cuba to succeed the ousted General Gerardo Machado.

CATERPILLARS ATTACK TREES

CHATHAM—An army of caterpillars, coming from the surrounding country, marched across a bridge at Indian Creek here and attacked trees in the Chetham Golf course.

Two small trees were eaten bare of leaf in a few minutes and the crawling, wriggling insects were advancing towards larger trees today.

BALBO NEARS ROME.

FIUMICINO, Italy, Aug. 12. — (A.P.).—General Italo Balbo's air armada, approaching its final landing place after the flight to North America, was sighted to-day at 6.06 p.m. (12.06 p.m., E.S.T.), coming in from Lisbon.

TRAIN DITCHED TWO ARE KILLED

Five Others Are Injured, One Critically, as Rails Part.

TWO SLEEPERS ESCAPE.

SALISBURY, Md., Aug. 12 (AP) —Two men were killed and five persons were injured, one critically, in the wreck of a northbound Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train one mile south of Salisbury early to-day.

The train was bound from Cape Charles, Va., to New York.

Those killed were W. Oscar Brown, engineman, of Delmar, Del., and an unidentified negro. The injured two of them passengers, are all from Delaware.

Doctors described the condition of E. R. Massey, Delmar, the fireman, as critical.

Preliminary investigation indicated two lengths of rail parted as the locomotive roared over them.

The locomotive and two baggage cars overturned, while a third baggage car ,two coaches and a sleeper also left the rails. Two sleeping cars remained on the track.

Rose Cadeau Blamed For Farmer's Death

ELMVALE, Ont., August 12 (C.P.). — A verdict finding a shot fired from a gun in the hands of Rose Cadeau had killed Harvey Barnes, tenant of Mrs. Cadeau's farm, was returned to-day by a jury at a coroner's inquest into Barnes' death.

After 30 minutes' deliberation the jury returned the folowing verdict: "We....find the deceased Harvey Barnes died in Midland Hospital on August 8, 1933, from shock and loss of blood caused by a shot fired from a gun in the hands of Rose Cadeau on the morning of August 8, at Lot 11, Concession 7, Flos Township."

The verdict was received in silence and the crowd which had filled the Parish Hall here for the inquest filed quietly out of the room.

5 HURT IN CRASH.

HAMILTON.— Five persons were injured to-day when a car carrying four Torontonians struck a pedestrian on the beach boulevard, then swerved and crashed into a telephone pole.

George E. Horning, Waterdown, crossing the road, evidently became confused and walked in the path of the oncoming automobile driven by Frank Cornby, 18 Ban street, Toronto.

Portable Wild Cat Broadcasting Station Leads Prohibition Agents All-Night Chase

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Aug. 12 (CP) —Three prohibition agents played hide and seek with a portable "wild cat" broadcasting station to-day— and won.

Here is what Agent C. M. Burnstein said in announcing the catch:

"We picked up the station's signals to two liquor boats outside the harbor at 4 a.m., and set out looking for the set.

"Every time we thought we had come upon the spot where the last messages were sent we'd pick up the signals again coming from somewhere else.

"That had us baffled until we decided somebody must be travelling around with the station. After that we started looking for an automobile.

About 11 a.m. we spotted a parked car down near the bay. The curtains were down and that looked suspicious. We crawled up and sure enough, the station was inside. Two fellows were operating it. We nabbed them."

QUALITY, PRICES OF LONDON MILK WILL BE PROBED

Kennedy Hopes to See Commission Sitting Within Two Weeks.

TROUBLE WITH FARMERS.

Price War Reported Cause of Drop From 11 to 5 Cents.

LONDON, Ont., August 12 — A Commission, to be appointed next week, will inquire into the reason for low milk prices in London and will also prepare a report upon the quality of milk which is being distributed in the city, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, announced on a visit here yesterday. Colonel Kennedy anticipates that the Commission will be sitting within a week after it is appointed.

Lowest in Province.

Milk is selling in London now at the lowest prices in the Province. Farmers are getting a maximum of $1.0c per hundredweight which is about 2½ cents a quart. Frequently "surplus" milk brings the price lower. Retail prices are 5 and 7 cents a quart.

All phases of the milk industry will have representation on the board. There will be a representative of the farmers, a representative of the dairymen, and a representative of the consumers. The fifth man will be from Colonel Kennedy's office in Toronto.

London is said to be the only city in the Province where there are still differences between farmers and distributors over the price of milk. In all other cities conciliatory efforts have brought about satisfactory price agreements, it was said.

Price-cutting Wars.

Low prices for milk were effected by price-cutting wars which started in London almost two years ago. Milk slipped rapidly downward in a few months from 11 cents a quart to 5 cents a quart, eventually reacting to 7 cents. Some dealers are still selling at 5 cents. In each cut the price to the farmer was also cut, and it was the action of the farmers as an association which raised the price two cents from the lowest level.

COUGHLIN EXCELS IN MONUMENT WORK

R. Taylor of Aberdeen, Scotland Joins Staff.

Everyone wishes to show love and respect to beloved departed ones. What, then, could be a more fitting memorial to those who have passed on than a monument of marble or granite?

The custom is centuries old and no doubt will go on for centuries more. That it is a sentimental one is true, but without the sentimental things life would indeed be barren. A monument is the leading symbol of reverence and love.

If you desire to have a monument erected at the resting place of your departed loved one, you will find it to your advantage to consult Coughlin's Monumental Works, importers, designers and manufacturers of European and Canadian granite and American and Italian marble. They will furnish designs and estimates, and you are under no obligation to purchase. They have in stock numerous stones ready for the carving of names on short notice. Their monuments inspire respect in all who visit the sacred spot.

They have recently added several new machines for the manufacture and polishing of monuments and also recently were fortunate in securing the services of several new granite cutters. Among the new employees is Mr. R Taylor of Scotland, who served his apprenticeship under the tutelage of the famous John Third and Son, leading stone cutters of Aberdeen. Since coming to Canada he has been associated with the leading firms of Toronto and was given the responsibility of carving the three lions that are on the Sons of England War Memorial erected in the University Grounds at Toronto. So if you are contemplating the purchase of a monument you can do no better than consult this firm.

Mr. John Coughlin, the owner of this establishment, is one of the oldest in this line. His foresight in making good purchases and the fact that he has just installed new and faster machines enables him to offer you the lowest price in many years. It is to the interest of the people of this section to visit this modern plant at 316 Hunter Street, or Phone for estimates to 3558J

Do you know how long Mr Coughlin has been in this business?

THE NATIONAL RECOVERY ACT OF UNITED STATES

Boldest Piece of Constructive Legislation Ever Ventured by Congress.

By H. W. L. MAHOOD

ALL legislative bodies are conservative rather than venturesome. It is the reasonably satisfactory in preference to the new that is most frequently chosen. The present Congress of the United States is treating much of the old as out of date. It is stepping out in leaps and bounds. Stable and sane progress comes slowly and evolves little by little. The National Recovery Act is bright with promise. From the moment of inception it has awakened not a little misgiving. The act itself will surely undergo change before it fits American and world conditions. It is a beginning in a certain direction. And that is all that can be reasonably claimed by its most ardent advocates. Extravagant claims are made for its statesmanlike provisions by several magazines and by the Democratic party. Criticism as well as advocacy will do it good.

From a certain viewpoint the act is the most extraordinary piece of legislation ever attempted by the United States Congress. There was fear that it would be stubbornly resisted by wealthy and long established industries. But industry like capital is blessed with considerable horse sense. Industry in this Christian age has come to see clearly that while it profits self it must profit others. The adjustment opportunity is now.

Every industry in the United States has received a request from President Roosevelt to voluntarily submit its code. The code is a proposal of management to be approved or revised by authority of the National Recovery Act. Fears there were that the steel industry and others would refuse to submit a code.

They had legislation largely of their own determination. To submit without reservation and with promptitude was no ordinary test. Methods of management, treatment of employees, wages, health, safety, insurance against unemployment, profits and how apportioned, machines or humans, main purpose of the industry, and many other searching questions were to be voluntarily answered in the form of a code.

In capital and industry in the United States there is plenty of selfishness. Come to know these two features of American life well, the reader will discover that there is a loyalty to constitutional government that is deeper and stronger than self profit.

Two possibilities looked the steel industry squarely in the face. The Government might force wages up. It might authorize the employees to organize labor unions, and clothe them with power and authority equal to that of the employers. Child labor must cease. The sweat shop must be pulled down. The whim of the employer can no longer dismiss any employee before the case comes before a Government tribunal. Justice must be done the weak as well as the strong, the child as well as the adult.

The steel industry came across with its code. It is a model of rightness. Steel is not as hard as written down to be. It is proving itself to be as plastic as hard. It has a human heart. Shipbuilding, and electrical machinery, and lumber, and garment manufacturing have all responded with their codes. Before the new year dawns American industry will be under Government control and management. Individual initiative is a strong American trait. Pioneering, railroad building, industries, trades, commerce, are stamped with developed, Anglo-Saxon inceptive. A clash of governmental ideals in the United States is imminent. Individual initiative and governmental control of industry are coming to grips. The Government has threatened to use mandatory power. Just how far it may venture in that direction is disturbing. Government of the people, by the people, for the people is an ideal well established in America. It will not be uprooted without crimson.

The National Recovery Act under the direction of the President has undertaken three major objectives. The basic rate of wages must be appreciably raised. Fair wages are to take the place of low wages. Every industry is resenting the coercion and the haste. Limitation of hours is a thorn in the side of some of the stronger industries. Greater burden still is placed on the employers by the re-employment order. In several industrial states labor does not have the right to unionize. A strong plea to have the right has been presented to Roosevelt. To offset this move of labor industry has offered a plan by which shop committees would be set up. The committees would be selected from the workers by the employers. This the laborers opposed. Their point was well taken. Committees so selected would not be clothed with independent power to bargain collectively.

The administration is halting between two opinions—to legalize the organization of labor unions in every industry, or to favor the organization of shop committees. One thing is certain. Labor will be sympathetically heard. If permitted to unionize, labor will have a right and a voice in the management of every industry, on an equality with capital. It will have something to say about wages and everything that touches the welfare of all concerned.

PRESSURE TEST BURSTS GONDOLA

Workman Killed, Second Hurt in Accident to Stratosphere Balloon.

FLIGHT OFF TILL SPRING.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 12.—One workman was killed and another was seriously injured yesterday when the gondola of Max Cosyns' stratosphere balloon exploded while undergoing pressure tests.

The constructor of the gondola, M. Nacelle, was also injured, but only slightly. Cosyns, the young Belgian physicist who accompanied Prof. Auguste Piccard into the stratosphere last summer, escaped injury.

The explosion occurred during a series of tests after repairs which it was hoped, would enable Cosyns to attempt the ascension, although it had been announced Thursday that the trial would not be made until spring.

Defects had been discovered in the gondola structure Thursday.

Durham Boys Are Home From Regina

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 12.—Two West Durham boys, Maurice Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, Hampton, and Oliver Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Smith, Burketon, returned yesterday fresh from their victories at the world's grain and seed show at Regina. The two boys brought honor to their home county by coming third in the international seed judging contests, and by winning many individual awards, which brought the team of three boys $620 in prizes.

Maurice Baker, who has been a consistent prize winner in judging in this district, came third among all junior judges at the fair. He secured as individual awards a first in two rowed barley, a first in alfalfa and a third in timothy, winning $130 in prizes. Oliver Smith, came fourth in durum wheat, fourth in two rowed barley and fifth in alfalfa to win over $50.

Both boys come from families well known throughout this district. They were selected, together with Clifford Marshall of Woodstock to represent this province at the fair from judges from all over Ontario. They competed against teams from practically every province in Canada and many states in the union.

American Tourist Is Given Seven Days

An American tourist, George Godin, of Buffalo, N.Y., will spend a week of his holidays in the local county gaol. Godin was convicted before Police Magistrate Langley here yesterday of driving a car while intoxicated and was sentenced to seven days in jail.

He was holidaying in the district and admitted that he had some liquor with friends at Trent Bridge. Driving an erratic course early yesterday morning along Highway No. 7 in Belmont Township, he struck two telephone poles, breaking one off at the base. He was arrested by Provincial Constable Percy Gray, of Marmora

RAIL WORKERS BAND TOGETHER FIGHT PAY CUT

All Classes Join in New Association Chief Executives Claim.

200,000 MEN INVOLVED.

Cooperative Move No Surprise Employers Admit—Has Three Objectives.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12—A co-operative association, to comprise within its ranks 200,000 representatives of the standard railway organizations in Canada and with the object of opposing "the present unjust and unwarranted wage-cut proposed by the Canadian railways," will be formed within the next two weeks, it was announced yesterday following a meeting here of railway labor representatives.

Impressive Organization

The association—probably the most impressive organization ever to have been effected in the ranks of Canadian labor—in addition to fighting the wage-cut, will be organized for "industrial, economic and legislative purposes," said the statement issued by J. B. Ward, Chairman of the Board of General Chairmen of the Railroad Running Trades.

It will be representative of engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen, telegraphers, machinists, carmen, electrical workers, boilermakers, sheet metal workers, blacksmiths, moulders, firemen, oilers, clerks and maintenance of way employees. Independence of each section of railway labor joining the association will not be impaired the statement stated. It was not announced whether a name had been chosen for the association.

E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and S. J. Hungerford, Acting President of the Canadian National Rialways had little to say when asked for comment on the labor announcement. Both intimated that formation of the association did not come as a surprise, but stated that further study was needed before issuance of an official statement

Result of Wage-Cuts

The new association, it was explained, is the outcome of the unanimous, though separately taken, decision of each section of railroad labor to refuse to accept the second 10 per cent wage reduction demanded by both the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

"All classes of Canadian railroad workers are now involved in the dispute," said the statement released followipg yesterday's meeting, "and a strike ballot has been distributed to the engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and telegraphers, returnable Sept. 15.

"At the meeting yesterday afternoon representatives of all organizations declared their memberships were emphatically opposed to further wage reductions or deductions.

"All classes of Canadian railroad workers have made tremendous sacrifices during the past few years through curtailment of services, joint use of facilities, elimination of trains, abolition of stations, short time and in the sharing of available employment."

Relief Wood Cutters Unable To Get Pay

Local men who take their turn cutting relief wood for a week at the Central Relief Board's woodyard can not receive two days' pay a week under the plan passed by the City Council, L. H. Spence informed Relief Officer Metheral yesterday. The Council had proposed paying the woodcutters two days a week and charging the payments into the cost of the wood, believing that the city would thus get the two-for-one grant from the Governments.

This decision was made when Alderman Tuggey charged that men cutting wood were being discriminated against, since men on relief employed for a week by the Board of Works receive two days' pay. However, these two-days' work cheques come directly out of the city treasury.

When the Relief Officer was informed of the City Council's proposal to pay woodcutters, he informed Inspector Spence, and secured the ruling that such a plan would not be financially supported by the Governments.

Wingless Hopper

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Aug. 12 (C.P.).—A new species of grasshopper, whose appetite puts the ordinary variety to shame, has been discovered here, Moose Jaw district residents claim. A specimen of the new variety was identified as belonging to the genus thyreonotus. The new hopper is wingless, its body about twice as large as the common species and it has a shield on its back. Its habitat is the Eastern United States.

FIVE SHIPS RACE FOR CHURCHILL

Grain Freighters Race for Honors of Being First in Port.

FIRST OF YEAR.

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (C.P.).—With the S.S. Pennyworth leading the race, five vessels were bound inward last night to Churchill, Man., to load grain from the Hudson Bay port.

Messages received by wireless at the radio branch of the Department of Marine yesterday stated that the "Pennyworth" was 28 miles northeast of Eric Cove, near the western entrance to Hudson Strait, at the noon hour.

The S.S. Rio Claro was 100 miles east of Resolution Island, eastern entrance to the strait, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning, while the S.S. Brandon one-half hour earlier was 190 miles south-east of Resolution. Further wireless advices to the department gave the positions of the S.S. Thomas Walton as 135 files south-east of Cape Chidley and the S.S. Sirentz as 650 miles east of Resolution.

MILK DEALERS FAIL TO AGREE

Milk Being Peddled in City as Low as Four Cents a Quart.

NO UNIFORM PRICE.

Despite several unsuccessful attempts to lineup the milk distributors so that a fair price might be secured for their product, milk is being peddled in the city for as low as four cents a quart, a leading dairyman of the district yesterday informed The Examiner.

Small milk dealers who are trying to "squeeze" into the city market are responsible for the low price of milk which makes the business a losing proposition for all concerned, he declared. Despite the shortage of milk caused by the drying up of pastures, he stated, that it was improbable that the dairymen's loss would be made up by any increase in the price of milk here.

Milk prices in other cities have advanced sharply since the drought, but the small dealer, despite the fact that he is losing money, prevents such action here for the betterment of the business, he explained. While all milk dealers agree that they are not getting a fair price for their product, no agreement could be reached on the proper steps necessary to stop the price-cutting.

The situation here is due, it was explained, to the fact that Peterborough is mainly a cheese-making district. "The cheese business has been poor for some time, and now many milk producers who formerly sold to cheese factories are trying to peddle their milk in the city," this man said. This has resulted in price-cutting as the men strive for customers, but even at four cents a quart some dealers claim they are getting better returns than selling it as whole milk.

Milk here is wholesaling at $1.20 a hundredweight, while in Oshawa $1.81 a hundredweight is being paid, it was stated. "That's the crux of the matter. And yet there is a real milk shortage here, and next winter dairymen are going to be hard put to it to feed their cows," he concluded.

The horse in his attitude to man differs from all other classes of stock in that he produces energy not food.

MR. PICOBAC Shakes Hands with Montreal

"It's a mild . . . cool . . . sweet smoke," said Mr. Picobac, of Essex County, on his arrival in Montreal. With a graceful sweep of his left hand he passed his business card to the doorman of the Windsor Hotel.

"Any reservations, Mr. Picobac," enquired the Major-domo, politely.

"No reservations whatever," returned Mr. Picobac, firmly. "I make the statement without strings or equivocation. Picobac is the pick of Canada's Burley Crop, grown in sunny southern Ontario."

"Let me take your grip," suggested the Major Domo.

"Put it there, brother," replied Mr. Picobac, heartily, extending his right hand in the free fraternity of good fellowship.

The Golden Text

Proverbs 31: 30—"A woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised."

CANADA'S EARLY METHOD OF TRANSPORTATION

By J. H. MOSGROVE

GAY and buoyant were the "voyageurs" of the fur companies. Dressed in a half-civilized, half-savage manner, they wore buckskin fringed with beads, leather leggings and moccasins of deerskin, heads bound by ribbons of variegated colors, and waists encircled with the gayest of silk sashes.

These were men who were "lords of the north and west"; who cared neither for wind nor weather, who could live hard, lie hard, ready to suffer anything for the good of the enterprise. Never were they so happy as when toiling along rivers and lakes in the arduous and dangerous expeditions of the fur brigades. Nor were men ever so prone to pass their time in idleness and revelry upon the completion of a journey, squandering their hard earnings in heedless conviviality.

With the coming of spring, the dull monotony of the long and tedious winter at the posts gave way to ceaseless activity in the preparation of the outgoing fur brigade. The "voyageur," longing to be on his way, shook off his lethargy and went to sealing the seams of the canoes, fashioning paddles from native cedar, or to splicing or mending tump-lines and packstraps, while the clerk bargained with the wily native for his winter's "catch," and with the assistance of others tagged and bundled the furs for shipment.

Lakes and rivers were the highways generally used by the fur brigades, which consisted of a flotilla of canoes and bateaux made up from little groups of four or more frail craft, known as "north canoes," each under the supervision of a sectional pilot. The canoes were generally manned by six men, two of whom were seasoned veterans, the foreman and the steersman, while the others, who applied the paddles, were known as middlemen. The cargo of each canoe consisted of forty packs of furs, weighing about ninety pounds apiece, for the facility of loading and portaging. Together with provisions to the amount of five hundred pounds, was added the weight of the six men and the forty pounds of "duffle" or personal luggage, allowed each. The weight to each canoe, on an average, was approximately two and a half tons.

Start Early in June.

Towards the first of June came the day of departure of the brigades from the far distant posts to headquarters. Throughout the realm of the fur empire it was the greatest event of the year. It was a day of excitement. From early morning, long before the dawn, the "voyageurs," full of gaiety and lightness of heart, resplendent in new dress and sashes, emptied the storehouse of its wealth, piling the packets in great heaps upon the shore in readiness for loading, amid the humming of old songs and a running conversation of French patois, embroidered with English and Indian phrases.

Finally, through the gates came the chief factor to take his position in the leading canoe. After the customary salutations and farewells were exchanged, a bugle sounded, followed by a musket shot, and on the report the steel shod pole held high overhead by the leading steersman, dropped like the baton of a drum major, and in unison the paddles struck the water as if in one stroke. Gay were their hearts, cheerful their countenances, as they swept out into the lakes and rivers in long even lines, amid the booming of the cannons from the bastions.

After a full day's journey a day's halt was made to make a final inspection before setting out on the long, arduous trip.

Early on the third morning as the pilot canoe, flying the company ensign from its prow, shot out into the current the true spirit of adventure began. The steersman of each boat struck up a French song, the crew joining in full-throated chorus, keeping time with the dip of their paddles, making the banks resound with the mellow cadences of their quaint ditties. Down the mighty rivers swept the canoes, skimming the flood-tide, dodging floating debris with great dexterity and adroitness, passing a native bark or village with a long were they on the trail, treading bore them on. Racing through surging canyons where the canoes danced like corks athwart the boiling waters. Where to a man the "voyageurs" braced themselves and plunged their paddles in the sweep of the current with all their strength. Out again, they would speed along, shooting the rapids with an ease as only "voyageurs" knew.

There were times, however, when the water highway had to be abandoned, when rivers were too perilous to navigate, or wandered in thir course into far distances. Canoes were now lightened of their burdens and beached, to be stored in cool and shady places until the return. Merchandise was transferred to the backs of fat and sleek horses to be transported overland thereby. Hunters and guides now took over the task of conducting the party from the hands of the "voyageurs." Axes supplanted paddles, cinches were made from tump-lines and pack-saddles took the place of canoes.

On the portage a bugle sounded at 5 a.m., arousing all hands to duty, and with the rounding up of the horses and the reloading, it was 9 o'clock before the caravan of nearly 200 horses and as many persons were started on their trek. All day long were they on the trail, trading under a hot sultry sun without a stop for refreshment.

Lightheartedness gave way to sullen moods, gay songs passed to muttered oaths as the strenuous duties of the trail increased. Axes resounded through the stillness as new trails were blazed. There were laggard beasts that had to be constantly prodded forward. There were quarrelsome horses which had to be beaten and bullied for thrusting their fellows off the beaten trail. There were treacherous trails along steep precipices that had to be traversed with caution where a misstep might prove fatal to the whole brigade. There were dangerous fords to cross where boiling waters seethed, and, above all, there were dust, flies and mosquitoes to dampen the ardor and the happiness of the "voyageur."

They marched in accordance of rank, the chief factor in the lead, riding with all the pomp and dignity of a king, in frock coat, white shirt ruffled to the ears, knee breeches, leather leggings, his head covered by a black beaver hat. Then followed traders, clerks, "voyageurs," pack-horses and engages, with the Indians and their families bringing up the rear. At 4 o'clock they made a halt for the night, cleared a camp site, first erecting the factor's tent and the "gentlemen's quarters." Packs were unloaded, horses watered and loosed, and supper prepared of dried salmon or of chance game.

When the portage was long and the way tedious, there were at convenient places half-way houses, which were like oases, gardens of life and rest to the weary worn men and beasts of the long trail. Here, to these centres came the clerks of the interior posts with their retainers like Highland chiefs in the full dignity of their office to hold council with the passing brigade. Here, also, lame, fagged horses worn out by the overland trek were exchanged for fresh animals for the remainder of the portage.

Great was the jubilation when the brigade was launched upon the waters again, and when the party neared the vicinity of headquarters the enthusiasm of the rollicking and happy crew knew no bounds. With proud hearts filled in anticipation of their reception they pulled into a leafy spot and prepared their toilet with utmost care, refreshing themselves in the waters, shaving month-old beards, and eagerly dressing themselves in their best befitting to the occasion; resurrecting the colorful cloaks and gay sashes that marked their departure.

When all preparations were completed, the ensign was unfurled and with the canoes laden to the waterline they shot out into the middle of the current, amid joyous cries and cheers accompanied by the thunderous salvos of many guns. The cannons roared a wecome from the bastions of headquarters. The Union Jack shot proudly upward over the fort. From out the gates came the governor with his following. Then the major-domo would conduct all to the great hall where the governor in due ceremony would thank the rank and file of the service for the safe arrival of the fur brigade.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Religious and Social Questions Answered By DR. WYLIE CLARK

What is the Bible's cure for unemployment?—Out-of-Work.

In the account of creation of man was given the earth to subdue and possess. Which means that man was to make the earth supply his needs. After the curse which came through the disobedience this task became harder. By constant work man was to get his living out of the land and the sea.

As time passed many industries were started and men gathered into cities leaving the land hoping life would be easier and happier. Then came the day of inventions and the making of machines which did much work and left many men idle. That is where we are to-day—the machines are working and men are hungry.

The Bible urges in all conditions the Fatherhood of God, the Brotherhood of Christ and the unity of the human race. That is the principle upon which we must try to solve the problem of unemployment. We must not leave one part to suffer while the other part goes free. Just how it is going to be done no one seems to know. Our great hope lies in the fact that many are earnestly seeking a method of solution. While we are waiting, we require unlimited patience and hard thinking to see if we cannot add something which will help to find the answer.

Who was Chimham?—T. D. R.

He was a son of Barzillai of Gilead who did much for David when David was returning from the defeat of Absalom. In return David wanted to take Barzillai to live with him in Jerusalem. On account of his age Barzillai requested that he be excused and that the king would take Chimham in his place. This was done, David afterwards asking Solomon to continue Chimham in special favor at the royal court.

What do you consider was the chief characteristic of Jesus? Our Sunday school superintendent thinks it was "Courage," and the teacher of our Bible class thinks it was "Humility." —Sunday School Scholar.

There is no doubt but that both your superintendent and Bible class teacher have strong evidence for their opinions. However, I would suggest, "His goodness." There is a courage which is physical—a bulldog courage that belongs to our race—which forces us to stick it out to the bitter end.

The courage which we possess because of our goodness is a different type—we do it because it is right—no matter how much it costs or what we suffer we see it through. The goodness of Jesus was the foundation of His courage and perseverance.

There is a humility that comes from ignorance and lack of power to execute our desires: but there is a much finer brand which comes from knowledge and possession of power. The humility of Jesus rested in His goodness not in the abundance of His gifts or the supremacy of His endowments.

The truth is, the absolute goodness of Jesus lies underneath all His other characteristics and places Him in a class all by Himself.

Yes and no. Yes, because we are finding things need to be fitted together into a complete whole and the job is complicated enough to keep us all going. It is also like the puzzle because many of us lose patience and give it up—it is just a fool thing not worth while.

No, because it is entirely different in one thing. The "jig-saw" puzzle has been all together in one piece and then cut up and each piece has its own old place to fit into. The life of each individual as well as the social life of the community has never been in one piece and then cut up, it is all new. In the puzzle there is no cutting or trimming of the parts to make them fit. In life half our time is necessary to pare and shape things so as to make them meet the conditions required.

In the puzzle we are putting together a thing which is a mere game; but in life we are making a new reality which is to be a vital bit of a coming kingdom.

When the puzzle is put together a thing is done which was done; but when a life is completed a new addition has been made to human history.

The puzzle may be interesting; but life creating.

Cathedral Musings

TRUST in thine own untried capacity
As thou wouldst trust in God Himself. Thy soul
Is but an emanation from the whole.
Thou dost not dream what forces lie in thee,
Vast and unfathomed as the grandest sea.
Thy silent mind o'er diamond caves may roll;
Go seek them—but let pilot will control
Those passions which thy favoring winds can be.
No man shall place a limit in thy strength;
Such triumphs as no mortal ever gained
May yet be thine if thou wilt but believe
In thy Creator and thyself. At length
Some feet will tread all heights now attained;
Why not thine own? Press on; achieve! achieve!

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, Soror Rosicrucian Order, member of the first American Grand Council, A.M.O.R.C.

Freedom

MONE can love freedom heartily, but good men; the rest love not freedom but license, which never hath more scope than under tyrants. Hence it is that tyrants are not often offended by, or stand much in doubt of bad men, as being naturally servile; but in whom truth and virtue are most eminent, them they fear in earnest, as by right their masters; against them lies all their hatred and suspicion.

He who does nothing is worth nothing.

OUR CHAT

ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR AUG. 13.

I OFTEN get quite an earful about ministers' sons one way and another—mostly all wrong—but I don't hear so much about ministers' mothers. So I'm glad this lesson comes up about Hannah who put her son into the ministry at a time when he was badly needed. The great men of a country or a church are generally the women. When God sends great men to do a big piece of work, He wants to be sure they're going to get the right kind of start. So He sees to it they have the right kind of mother. As I see it, the people of Israel badly needed a man of God to lift them up. Some of them had got so low down they didn't need to stoop to look a crawling insect in the eye. So Samuel was the answer. But God begins with Hannah. Nothing like trouble to bring a person to God. And Hannah had trouble. But she didn't go peddling it around among the neighbors. No sir, she prayed. There you have it, a praying mother.

Some folks wonder whether God answers prayer. Here's Hannah. "What's your baby's name?" "Samuel," says she. "Oh, that means 'God hears', doesn't it?" "Sure!" says she, "He's an answer to prayer." Most women would have weakened when the time came to leave the little chap away from home to stay and help in the temple. Took lots of grit. But God had done His part by giving Samuel to Hannah. And Hannah kept her part of the bargain. She lent him to the Lord. You bet she got good interest on the loan. You lend to the Lord and you get treasure in heaven and pleasure on earth. Figure the story out with these four S's: Hannah's supplication (prayer, of course), Hannah's son, Hannah's sacrifice, Hannah's song. It'll help you to remember. — Young Canada.

Life's Sorrow

IF we could read the secret history of our enemies, we should find in each man's life sorrow and suffering enough to disarm all hostility.—Longfellow.

Hannah

Scripture—I Samuel, chapters 1 and 2.

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

Hannah was the wife of Elkanah and went up with him from their home to Shiloh each year to worship in the house of God. While here she prayed earnestly for a son and Eli the priest, seeing her lips moving but hearing no words, thought she was drunk.

God answered Hannah's prayer and gave her a son whom she named Samuel, meaning "Asked of God". She brought the child when very young to Eli and told him how God had answered her prayers and how in gratitude she was giving her child to be trained as Eli's servant in God's house.

Hannah got to see her son only once a year as she came up to Shiloh to offer the yearly sacrifice. But upon each visit she brought a little coat which she made for him. With what love she must have sewed on this coat wondering how much her boy had grown that year!

Copyright, 1933, by Central Press Association, Inc.

Samuel grew up to be a great and good man and became the successor to Eli whose own sons were unfit to succeed him. He always was a credit to his mother whose prayers were answered not only in his birth but through his whole life.

GOLDEN TEXT—Proverbs 31:30

Mirth

MIRTH is God's medicine. Everybody ought to bathe in it. Grim care, moroseness, anxiety—all this rust of life ought to be scoured off by the oil of mirth. It is better than emery. Every man ought to rub himself with it. A man without mirth is like a waggon without springs, in which one is caused disagreeably to jolt by every pebble over which it runs.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A Lost People

PEOPLE that give up God is like a people that give up a territory; it is a lost people. There is only one greater folly than that of the fool who says in his heart, "there is no God," and that is the folly of a people that says in its heart that it does not know whether there is a God or not.

"CONKING" AN EDITOR.

Cobourg's Town Council seems to be a disputatious forum with acerbity the prevailing note in debate and aminity the exception. It started the year with inauspicious headlines in the press when Reeve Cooper's election was attacked by his opponent, W. J. Corbett, and at the same time nominations had to be held a second time to drum up enough candidates to fill vacant seats by acclamation.

The latest episode, as reported in yesterday's news columns, was a clash between two councillors, the veteran W. J. Maher and Frank Lapp, publisher of the Cobourg World. It is alleged that when Editor Lapp enquired about certain relief matters Mr. Maher, well known here as a judge of light horses at the Peterborough Exhibition, struck him. And there is some mention of legal action, a possibility which should perturb Mr. Maher if he is aware that "conking" a scrivener involves the risk of ruinous claims for damages, since Walter Winchell started proceedings against Al Jolson for $500,000 over a "sock" on the neck, as the columnist at first deprecated it.

Naturally our sympathy should incline to Mr. Lapp, but it is restrained by the conviction that after years of observation of the hazards of the Council bear garden he should have stayed in the safety zone of the press table. He may be tempted to take it out on "Billy" Maher in the columns of the World this week, but a verbal stinging does not assuage the indignity of a "conking."

BOWLING CLUB A FINE ASSET.

By converting a west end field into one of the finest bowling greens in the country, with its attractive and commodious club-house, the members of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club provided a recreational centre that is a credit to the city. Tennis courts have been added to the property, thereby expanding its usefulness to the community.

During the present, and it is to be hoped departing, depression the club raised a considerable sum of money for charity, and have recently organized a Welfare League as a branch of their association for the purpose of assisting the under-privileged. Accommodation for their summer games was not the sole objective of the club. That could have been accomplished by a comparatively small investment for present needs and without the enhancing details of beauty and permanence which have made the club's plant a splendid asset to Peterborough.

As a means of obtaining more revenue than the moderate fees provide, the members are giving away an automobile in a ticket selling contest which merits generous support from the public. The citizens who undertook the responsibility of building the greens and club quarters have made their own contributions of time, work and money from which they receive no more advantage than the man or woman who takes out a membership card to-morrow. There is nothing exclusive about the Lawn Bowling and Tennis Club. If they had not planned their facilities for a large membership the present auxiliary revenue effort would not be needed.

The Examiner regards the Bowling Club as a valuable asset to the city, and hopes that it will receive the support it deserves.

RUSSIA'S COLLECTIVE FARMING.

Peasant support to the uprising was attracted and secured by the promise that farms would be confiscated and divided among them. In the beginning this plan was fulfilled. Farm estate buildings were seized, many destroyed, and the owners either murdered or driven from the country.

The peasants forgot that the Bolsheviki could cancel the new ownership of the land as quickly and as ruthlessly as they had granted it.

Walter Duranty, for years resident Moscow correspondent of the New York Times, recalls in a recent despatch that phase of the Russian experiment.

"Primitive backward individualists," he writes, "with their ancient land hunger just satisfied, the peasants as a whole wanted nothing better than to be let alone to develop, if they could, into Kulaks (the richer peasants)."

Instead they were stood on their heads by the collective, state farm scheme which was drafted four years ago. Their tenure of the land that had been parcelled out to them was cut short and they found at length that they had simply exchanged landlords. During the last two years 70,000,000 peasants have been driven from 14,000,000 holdings onto 200,000 collective farms. The promise that won them to the Bolshevist ranks in 1917 has been scrapped, and the dream of land ownership has faded under the new policy of regimentation to operate vast state farms. And to keep them bound to one place the Soviet introduced the passport as a means of preventing workers from moving out from farms and factories.

A correspondent in Moscow to the London Times describes the so-called "planned national economy" as out of balance and largely abortive.

"The whole Soviet system is the biggest economic jam in history," he writes, "and the strictness of the Soviet censorship cannot for long hide the truth. The cage of economic impossibilities which they have erected around themselves is now ruthlessly narrowing in on them to their own discomfiture. Apart from foreign war, which its economic chaos and weakness could not sustain, or open strife among the leaders in the Kremlin, the dictatorship is formidably stable, and millions may yet have to suffer before the bankruptcy of the system is exposed."

CAN IT BE DONE?

In considering the practicability of reducing the acreage sown to wheat it should be remembered that striking progress has been made in respect of a similar plan affecting cotton in the southern states. In order to decrease the acreage by 25 per cent. it will be necessary to have 10,200,000 acres placed under contract with the Federal Government for 1934, and up to a week ago more than half that number had been registered. This promises well for a fair trial of this new method of reducing production, with price raising as the objective.

Wheat producing countries are close to concerted action in the same direction; yet not without a good deal of opposition. The growers are not offering resistance so much as other interests. The wheat pool and farmers' associations are favorable; but there is nevertheless a great deal of hostile criticism of the proposition. The western provinces have become notable for rugged independence of opinion.

To the layman the thing appears rational. Prices were forced down to a ruinous level because supply was in excess of demand, and under such a condition the proposition to reduce acreage should be looked at from the mathematical point of view. If a grower receives but $500 for a thousand bushels of wheat, and could get $750 for 750 bushels, he would clearly benefit to the extent of $250. And the same sane reasoning applies to all forms of production. The world is commencing to realize that central regulation of output is the only way to stabilize prices and secure a reasonable profit for the producers.—Brantford Expositor.

"HALF BOOM AND HALF BROKE."

"We cannot attain prosperity in a nation half boom and half broke." This striking phrase from President Roosevelt's radio address on Monday night merits attention. For it is obvious that in Canada, as in the United States, there are too many who think that attainment of prosperity consists of people falling over themselves to buy stocks on margin. We have had, for example, the spectacle of dollar wheat.

One dollar wheat, as we saw it in Winnipeg during recent weeks, meant nothing—except that a lot of people were gambling on the future. On the blackboards of the Winnipeg wheat pit wheat was being chalked up to one dollar. But it was only a mark. No wheat was leaving Canada at a dollar a bushel, or at anything like a dollar a bushel. All that was happening was that we were buying and selling wheat among ourselves—on paper; that a lot of us were speculating and gambling.

The real marketable value of wheat—its export price—was represented by the quotations in Liverpool. They were not the Winnipeg quotations.

And so with stocks. People with a grain of sense and even moderate information knew perfectly well that nothing had happened or could happen quickly to boom the price of stocks and securities. There was improvement, to be sure, but it was not and could not be the sort of improvement which meant that the position of industries had doubled in betterment over night, that their stocks and securities had taken on trebled value suddenly. Yet, obvious as this was, or obvious as it ought to have been, we had multitudes repeating the old folly of 1929, crushing into brokerage offices to buy vaulting stocks on margin.

We should like to think that the precipitous decline of last week would carry its lesson. That it would recall the bitter memories of the cataclysmic crash of four years ago. What we fear, however, is that the public, or a section of it, will not learn. There are too many, seemingly a majority, who measure prosperity in terms of the stock market, and who can be bitten twice and thrice without becoming shy. They menace not only themselves, but the whole country.—Ottawa Journal.

AN EMPIRE CURRENCY.

It is now the general opinion among American economists that the American dollar will continue to be without a fixed definition in gold for at least the next two years. It is also practically certain that the pound sterling will be similarly unmoored for at least as long a period.

In these circumstances it is timely to ask whether the rest of the British Empire must get along for two years or more with no fixed ratio of exchange between their various currencies and either the pound sterling or the American dollar.

The present would seem to be an ideal time for the establishment of that Empire currency, or rather that Empire system of related currencies, of which many British subjects have dreamed at intervals for generations past.

A perfectly satisfactory Empire system could be erected on the basis of a pound of exactly five dollars and a dollar of exactly four shillings. The only non-decimal element in the British currency is the shilling of twelve pence; and if the British should ever decide that a decimal currency is desirable they have nothing to do in order to bring it about except to declare the shilling to be the equivalent of twenty-five halfpence instead of twenty-four. This, however, is entirely a matter of domestic concern to the Britishers; for the purpose of transactions between Great Britain and Canada the exact value of units of less than a shilling is of negligible importance. That which is of importance is an exact correspondence of value, or an exact ration in terms of ten, five or two, between the larger units.

The maintenance of this ratio, of five dollars to the pound and four shillings to the dollar, could be carried out with the most perfect ease by arrangements between the central banks, or the treasuries in the absence of a central bank, of the various countries of the Empire.—"Saturday Night."

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Alderman Cotton will dispense justice from the police court bench during Magistrate Langley's vacational absence. His temporary authority shouldn't worry him. He has been handling power for years.

For driving a car while under the influence of liquor, a Glasgow motorist has been deprived of his license for life. Possibly Hon. Mr. Macaulay made a note of that British penalty in his traffic observations overseas.

When the wind blows from the east even the incinerator holds its breath.

Over $178,000,000 of new paid for ordinary life insurance was written in Canada and Newfoundland during the first six months of 1933. This is a much safer form of investment than any stock speculation game.

INSTALMENT 27.

She was blamed—lovingly, though—when she stepped from the train at Kingsway into Ethan's arms.

Ethan established her in the car.

She had forgotten how handsome Ethan was; how strong, more than all, how kind! But he was scolding her a little, none the less.

"My darling, you've tired yourself all out," he said. "What have they been letting you do?"

"This is the man who used to look at me severely, because I was such a wild and useless flapper," she teased him. "Ethan, what an extremist you are, my dear! Either I'm a butterfly or a martyr."

"You're a dozen girls in one," he told her as the car drew up at her home. "I'll never understand you. Helen, darling, here's your house, and I haven't half finished talking to you I haven't begun. Let me come down tonight."

"Why, weren't you going to?" she asked him innocently, and then laughed. . . .

He laughed with her.

"Helen, I'd forgotten how to be gay since you went away. I'll be over at eight, darling."

She ran upstairs singing. She had not known it was possible to miss anybody as she had missed Ethan. To be back—to be at home—Patricia and Ada Kingsway tomorrow morning and the lovely estate of Kingsway to wander in; spring beginning to edge shyly in through the late winter; and marriage to Ethan coming closer. . . .

That was the only thing she did not like to think about. Being married to Ethan—that would be wonderful. But the thought of the actual marriage, and the preparations for it, frightened her a little.

"If I could only go to sleep and wake up married," she thought. . . . But that was silly. . . . After all, just because things had happened that way once they needn't again. The thing to do was not to be a scare-cat; to go ahead and set a day as Ethen wanted, make plans, and generally be the sort of Helen that Jessica and Doris thought she was.

Accordingly she did. When Ethan, overprompt, awaited her downstairs in the little Birch parlor, she went down to him with her mind made up. And when he said ardently, "When are we going to be married?" she laughed and told him to take out his pocket calendar and she'd figure it out with him.

He produced the calendar promptly, and said, "What do you think of the first of March?"

"Very well, then, Ethan. March first."

Ethan thrust the tiny calendar back into his pocketbook, and caught her to him with a cry of triumph.

"I thought I'd never manage it! You're the hardest bird to snare that ever flew! . . . Darling, you've promised!"

"Well, I always knew it had to be sometime," she said naively, "only ——"

"Well, only ——"

"Only I was a little frightened."

"I'd suggest your stopping work with Patricia, if it weren't that I see you more that way," he said.

"Oh, no. I'm marrying Patricia along with you," she said gayly.

"Not the least in the world," Ethan said peremptorily. "You are marrying Ethan Kingsway, nobody, nothing, else. Helen, I've told you I'm jealous. I couldn't even divide you with the child, fond as I am of her."

She looked at him wonderingly; Helen had never been a very jealous person.

"But you know you'll never have to," she said wonderingly.

"I don't know anything of the sort! As long as I live I am hardening myself to sharing you with all sorts of lame ducks and sisters in affliction ——"

"But that isn't anything," she said, to his face against hers. "I expect to have to share you with the whole town of Kingsway."

"I don't love Kingsway. Not that way. You do love so many people, Helen!"

"And I shall continue to," said Helen with spirit. "You the most."

He sighed a little. "I suppose it's the best you can do for me!"

They laughed together. But Helen wondered afterward, how much of it was teasing—and how much true.

The first of the second week, Doris Milliken came creeping in, standing watching her and Patricia as they played their afternoon game of hide-and-seek over the grounds.

"Why, Doris dear, how ill you look," Helen said concerned. "Sit down there on the marble seat, and we'll finish this game. Then I'll come home with you, or you with me. Yes, Patricia, I'll have been here till four o'clock then. That's perfectly fair, my dear."

The two girls walked on together in silence till they gained Helen's room at the Birch house. Doris huddled down on the bed, just as she was, staring before her.

"Helen," Doris suddenly burst out, "you have to go over to Wayne and see Ronny for me. He's over there, working in a garage. He said last time he tried to make me come to him he was done with me for ever. He thought I was lying when I got him on the telephone, he rang right off. Helen, we were married last May and I'm going to have a baby. I've got to have Ronny. And he won't have me."

"But, Doris," she said, "what about your father and aunt?"

"I daren't tell them—I daren't! I'll drown myself if you do! I couldn't stand the way they'd treat me if they knew! Not till I had somebody to be kind to me—somewhere to go! Aunt Louisa—you don't know how she talks about such things—a clandestine marriage is a disgrace, and she'd never have anything to do with anybody belonging to her that had anything to do with it. And father nodded and said it was so. I couldn't— I couldn't—"

Finally Helen had to promise that, after talking it over with Ethan and getting a release from her promise, she would go over and see Ronny the next day.

By the trick that rules life sometimes, Ethan was away next day. Helen telephoned Doris, only to be answered in terror and agony. "I can't wait," Doris said. "I can't wait another day! I'm simply desperate, Helen, and you talk of waiting! I'll drown myself—that's all—"

There was only one thing to do: to leave a note for Ethan in case by any chance he returned before he was expected, and to go have it out with Ronny.

She went through her day's work with Patricia; wrote her note; weighed it down with a paper-weight.

"Patricia, will you see that Ethan gets this the minute he gets back?" she said, pointing to it.

"The very minute," Patricia answered idly, rocking back and forth lightly where she stood by the window.

Patricia was curiously trustworthy. So Helen kissed the child good-bye, ran up to see Mrs. Kingsway, as had come to be her habit, and took the bus for Wayne. She had broken her promise to Ethan; but only the Boy on the Burning Deck would have kept it in a case like this. Ethan would understand.

She found Ronny, a dark look on his face, which was helped into the expression of a young villain by the smudges of grease and soot incident to his new profession.

"If Doris has sent you to try to keep me dangling any longer, it's no use," he said in a low angry voice. "Besides, I'm busy."

"I ll wait till your lunch hour, she said doggedly.

He gave in.

"Half an hour. Come back, and I'll be here.

"Honest?'

"Honest. You won't change anything, but I'll listen."

She strolled aimlessly about the pretty little town till the time he had set, then returned. Sure enough, Ronny was awaiting her, washed and tall and pallid, his jaw set. He led the way to the little restaurant and bakery that was nearest them, and said: "Go on," in a voice which was as encouraging as a stone wall. But he was not prepared for what she said.

"Ronny, Doris' one idea is to come to you. You and she are going to have a baby; and she seems to think her place is either with you or in the Wissahickon. Take your choice."

His tense, handsome young lantern-jawed face turned very white.

"You're not lying?—No. You don't. Helen, are you sure ——"

"As sure as I can be of anything on earth. I tell you, Ronny, she is desperate. And she wants to come to you more than anything on earth, only she's frightened."

"Yes, that's it—poor Dory, she's always frightened," he said, but he spoke tenderly. "Helen, you're a good sport."

"And you'll go to see her, and take her away?"

"I'll go this very evening. . . . I think I can switch my day off."

Helen did not want to let him out of her sight, so she waited till he had made his arrangements, and took him back with her. She called up Doris first.

"Ronny's coming back with me," she said briefly. "It's all right. Meet us at the bus-stop."

All the way over Ronny sat holding on to himself visibly, occasionally beginning to say something and then being stopped by the recollection that there were other people in the bus.

"Won't it ever get there?" he said under his breath at intervals. When it finally arrived Helen saw a little figure in a heavy squirrel coat standing quivering at the stopping-place, saw Ronny jump out over everybody's feet, saw the tall figure and the little one fall into each other's arms, and got out, making her way toward her own home happily.

NEWS OF OUR OWN VILLAGE

Aggie MacPhail of Southeast Grey, west of here, provided the oratory at the farmers' picnic at Girven's farm Wed., and got by in good style, your scribe learns.

Harry Forler's mid-nite frolic at Chemong, west of us, was stopped with a jerk the other nite, the Govt. of Smith township figgering folks needed their beauty sleep more than a chance to trip the light fantastick.

Gord Matthews, our Utilities chairman, has been skippering the good ship Bootlegger right smartly at the various races on the adjacent waters, we learn with pleasure. Gord'll need a new shelf or 2 to hold all the cups and things he's been winning.

Our hat is off to L. Mitchell, head of the village horseless bus company, for hooking and landing a mighty bass in Chemong Lake. Just another local lad makes good, point out we.

A epidemick of softball broke out at Bridgenorth, west of us, Mon., but the outbreak was finally quelled just as darkness dropped down on the landscape, we are glad to be able to report.

The Terriers ball team from Toronto, west of here, celebrated Civick holiday in the village Mon. and our lads licked them twice. Several times it looked like Chief Gimblett and the village fire dept. would be needed to put the side out.

More bleachers is being provided for the folks what watch the local girls play ball over at the Ashburnham bowl, but many think that if the village council would only provide seats for them that put a nickel in the hat they'd save considerable of the ratepayers' money.

The village garbage is being took a coupla miles out in the country these days and some folks think that is carrying the thing too far.

Rolly Denne's fall fair is almost on top of us and villagers that don't hurry up and buy them bargain tickets this month is going to be outa luck in Sept. we helpfully suggest.

Only some 108 or so shopping days till Christmas. Don't say we didn't warn you, folks.

HEALTH

People are no longer content just to be free of sickness; they now aspire to vigorous and abundant physical vitality. They now understand physical health to mean possession of vital physical energy in such measure that the person can meet whatever demands of energy the day's work places on him and can still have left enough energy for play and recreation as well as for emergency demands.—E. ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

CANADA'S FIRST BANK ROBBERY

On this date, in 1861 took place at Yarmouth, N.S., the first robbery of a bank recorded in banking annals. (There may have been previous ones, but they are not in the collection of the historians of banking.) On that hot August day 72 years ago the agent of the Bank of Nova Scotia went to lunch, locking the door as was the custom then in the small places during the dinner hour. The turning of the key in the lock was more a matter of form that anything else, for thievery was practically unknown in that section of Nova Scotia and as for burglary it was unheard of. But when the agent got back after his hour's recess he found the front door open and that bank and treasury notes to a value of $11,547 had been taken from the teller's drawer. It was surmised that the thieves came from Boston, but no trace was ever got of them. Some of the notes did, however, come back in the course of years.

Nova Scotia was also the locale of one of the slickest bank robberies in our history. On August 1, 1876, Barnum's circus visited Halifax. The cashier at the head office of the Scotia (he would be called the general manager nowadays) was out of town for the day, and when the parade passed the whole staff, not thinking of the danger of robbery, could not resist the temptation to leave their posts to see the show. They stood on the window ledges and the doorsteps thus blocking any entrance and in their opinion acting as sentinels as well as spectators.

But just as the parade hove in sight a decent looking sort of man went to the rear entrance, and telling the janitor's wife that he had dropped his purse down the iron grating on the sidewalk, asked permission to go into the cellar to recover it. The woman had, of course, no suspicion, so she let the man into the cellar and went up to see the elephants.

When the parade was over the staff returned to their desks to find that the whole place had been looted and that $21,507.51 was missing. It was assumed that the visitor crossed the cellar, ascended the stair into the banking room, helped himself and returned the way he had come.

The police were promptly notified. A hue and cry was raised and all the exits from the city were watched—not many, for there was only the one railway. Late that evening two men were arrested at Bedford, not many miles away, and were twice put on trial, but were acquitted in both cases, the evidence not being strong enough to convict. It was proven that they had criminal records in the States, but nothing could be linked up between them and the slick theft at Halifax. Many years afterwards, one of them who had "reformed" told the story to a detective, admitting that he had been the mysterious stranger who had dropped the pocket book to such advantage, but it was then too late to do anything about it, and he was on his deathbed anyway.

One of, if not the first robbery under arms in Canada took place at Toronto on July 4, 1878. Three men, armed like the gangsters of today, entered the office of the assistant receiver general and on threat of shooting locked the employes in the vault and walked out with $12,000. It was a small haul, consideerd by modern eyes, but it loomed large in those days. Rewards were offered, but no clue was ever secured as to the bandits. Many of the stolen notes were traced to Buffalo and Chicago, thus indicating that some Americans had celebrated the Fourth of July by robbing the Queen of England of her green backs. There was a belief among police heads that this robbery was more a development of the Fenian campaign than the act of ordinary criminals, for there were several banks in Toronto less protected than the office that was robbed, and it looked suspicious that the government repository was the one selected for the attack.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Mrs. Geo. Palmer,
287 Westcott St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you have a very versatile and interesting nature. You are destined to make the very best of things, through your own efforts. You have splendid ability and reasoning power. You are progressive and most energetic. You do not seem to be ever still. Your brain is so active that you must search out new ideas and possible propositions in order to discover for yourself just how the new thing will work out. You have a decided artistic tendency which should create a pleasant and beneficial pastime for you as a hobby, even if not as a life work. Your general domestic characteristics are well pronounced, and I feel sure that you could conduct a home with integrity and merit, making it a haven of rest and comfort.

Mrs. Patten,
280 William St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are inclined to be nervous and perhaps a little temperamental. You are polite and easy going, but not always friendly. You seem to want to be alone, yet bemoan the fact that you are too often granted the desire to be by yourself. You think people do not want you around. Well, this is your own rather highly developed imagination and sensitiveness which causes you to carry this complex around. I know that it seems easy for me to tell you to snap out of it, and to enjoy life as best you can, while you are able to appreciate the good things which have been created for us. I do not wish to hurt your feelings, but I do appreciate the fact that you are in dire need of assistance right now, so I shall offer you a little suggestion. Try telling yourself that you are talented. Sit down calmly and consider what is your best line, either mentally, materially or physically. Then definitely decide that you are going to make every possible effort to accomplish something worth while through your own initiative, and I venture to suggest that within a month you will feel like a very different person.

Mrs. O. R. Edwards,
Norwood, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis indicates you are a person of keen discernment. You are quite ingenious and progressive, but you are not one of the type to undertake a project unless you can see clearly the ultimate outcome. You are shy and reserved, yet you make really good friends. You have a natural ability of drawing people to you. They seem to want to know what it is that attracts them, but as you are deeply interesting and do not lack for intelligent conversation, you may be sure that some of the attraction lies along that line. You dress with expert care, and always endeavour to have the colors harmonize with your moods. And, you appear to have many of these moods. You see, you are versatile, not like many other people who simply must live from day to day in the same rut. You get out of it, and search new fields of enterprises. You are energetic and do your work well no matter what line you happen to be engaged in at the moment.

Mrs. Mary Etta Guthrie,
410 Sherbrooke St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are the type of person who can successfully hide the true feelings behind a mask of reserve. Your disposition is versatile. Sometimes you are very happy and joyous, at other times you feel as though you had not a friend in the world. There is a tendency towards dramatic ability. Perhaps you have never given this line a thought, but I think if you were to take it up as a side line, or an entertainment for church work, you would find an outlet for some of your pent up emotions. After all most of these emotions are caused through a desire for self expression. Graphology is not fortune telling, but is a scientific study of human characteristics as portrayed through the writing. One's handwriting is as a telegraph message from the brain and transmits the subconscious thoughts and impulses. Your's shows nervousness, a desire to be thought well of, even if you don't do as much for others as you might. You are rather inclined to be self centred, a trifle lazy, and you have not great amount of will power or determination. All these traits may be corrected through concentration. On the surface (that is to the world at large) you appear to be a pretty good sort of person. You seem fond of music, and you should enjoy social events. Perhaps the tendency to lack enthusiasm over work is due to conditions of health for your nerves are not on a par with your physical activities.

Miss Olive Bell,
R.R. No. 4, Peterborough, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis indicates that you want to do what is right, and you want to succeed, but you are cramped in your style. Perhaps you are under too strict supervision and cannot 'spread your wings.' However determination is depicted in the firm downstrokes, so I know that you are really on the road to success, and that if you once find your true vocation, you will forge ahead by leaps and bounds. At present you seem a little immature, so need not worry about the future very seriously as yet. But, if you really want to know what is your best outlet, I can tell you that as far as your signature shows you will be best suited to nursing, teaching or applied arts. This, of course, covers a wide field, but will give you something upon which to concentrate during the summer months.

Premier Explains Added K.C. List

TORONTO, Aug. 12 (C.P.). — A number of names were added to the list of King's counsel before the recent Order-in-Council approving the Commission was passed but in some way these names were omitted from the list published at the time, Premier G. S. Henry and Hon. Charles McCrea, acting Attorney-General, stated to-day.

The explanation was given in connection with the appearance of the names of Reginald S. Fordham, Niagara Falls; John Roy Marshall Hamilton, and William Batten McPherson, Vincent Walter Price and C. Frank Moore of Toronto, among the list of those who have taken out letters patent for the right to carry the letters "K.C."

The Province has been enriched by $8,200 by fees paid by the K.C.'s who were honored in the birthday list of June 3.

GRADY'S BAKERY EXPANDS TRADE

Gaining Wide Reputation Through Their Health Loaf.

The late Mr. John Grady went into business in 1885, opened this plant in 1886, and it is still being carried on by his wife, Mrs. Katherine Grady, and her three sons

The popularity of their bread, white, rye and brown and other baked goods is strongly and surely attested in the large and rapidly increasing patronage that this firm is enjoying. Their bread meets and satisfies the taste of the most discriminating.

Success and happiness depend upon health, and health depends upon the quality of food we eat. Good bread is essential to every man, woman and child. All of the products of the Grady Bros. Bakery are baked in the most wholesome manner, and nothing is used in the process but the very best grade of flour, pure milk, sugar, salt, shortening and other ingredients, mixed and baked by means of scientific, clean, sanitary equipment, which is operated by skilled Canadian workmen. Their long, untiring efforts have been crowned with success by the production of this bread of unusual merit.

To-day the responsibility of making good bread has been placed upon the baker. Recognizing this responsibility the Grady Bros Bakery, backed by its long and continued efforts to make an ever-better bread, now gives the people bread to meet and satisfy the taste of the most exacting—a bread that will satisfy the most hungry appetite.

The Grady Bros. Bakery covers a wide territory. All goods are sold in the freshest condition, and their superior service has brought them much commendation. The first requisite in the making of good bread and buns is to equip the plant with the most approved machinery. This firm has spared neither time nor expense in installing correct equipment for the production of the staff of life. In fact, it is just the kind of plant anyone would want their baked foods made in.

The Grady Bros.' Bakery, located at 122 Park street, Phone 517, under the management of Mrs. Catherine Grady, has become a decided factor in the commercial potency of Peterborough and vicinity.

Do you know how many loaves of bread this firm delivers to the people of Peterborough daily?

CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

EVERYTHING HAD TO WORK PERFECTLY

Some partners are a great trial. They grossly overbid, causing themselves by flattering your ability as a player, when they force you to try for fulfillment of contracts which should never have been undertaken. The following hand appeared last evening.

North: ♠ K 9 3 2 ♥ J 9 2 ♦ K 8 7 4 ♣ J 4

West: ♠ 5 ♥ K 10 5 ♦ A Q 10 6 ♣ A K 9 7 3

East: ♠ A J 7 4 ♥ A Q 8 7 ♦ J 5 ♣ 8 5 2

South: ♠ Q 10 8 6 ♥ 6 4 3 ♦ 9 3 2 ♣ Q 10 6

Neither side was vulnerable. I sat East. Bidding went: West, 1-Club; East, 1-Spade; West, 2-Diamonds; East, 2-Hearts; West, 3-Hearts; East, 3-No Trumps, to show four-card major suits; West, 6-Hearts. It was an easy game, either no trumps, hearts or clubs, but a small slam at hearts was quite another matter.

The opening lead was the 3 of hearts, which told me nothing about the distribution of trumps or any other suit. I played the 10 from dummy. North put up his J and my Q won the trick.

The hands did not need much consideration to see that everything had to work perfectly to fulfill the crazy contract into which West had forced me. I must lose one club trick unless I obtained a discard upon dummy's diamonds. The first thing to do was to establish the diamonds, unless I was fortunate enough to find the missing K in South's hand. I led my J of diamonds, took the finesse, and lost to the K. North nearly ruined me by leading back a low heart. If I had put up my Ace I would have been down, as later on North could have ruffed the third lead of clubs with his 9 and I could not have overruffed him. Fortunately I finessed my 7 of hearts and held the trick.

I led my last diamond, won the trick with dummy's 10, led the Q of diamonds, and upon that I let go my third club. Dummy's Ace and K of clubs won the next two tricks. I led a third club, knowing that one opponent could now ruff. If North followed suit I intended trumping with my Ace, and then leading my last trump, playing for the break in hearts. If they did not break the plans made would fall down. While there might be another way of fulfilling the contract, having once started playing for the break in trumps the plan could not be shifted to another method of play.

North ruffed the third lead of clubs with his 9. My Ace picked up that trump, and a lead of my last trump was won with dummy's K. Upon dummy's fourth diamond and its two good clubs I discarded my three lowest spades, winning the thirteenth trick with my Ace of spades, and fulfilling the small slam contract.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox.

A lawn even though small, can be made very attractive for an afternoon garden tea.

* * * * * * *

It requires little trouble and the tea takes on a festive character in such surroundings. Nothing special in the way of garden furnishings has to be bought, if one has just a few lawn chairs.

* * * * * * *

An ordinary table can be covered with a tea cloth for refreshments, and extra chairs can be brought from the kitchen and dining room to supply such added places to sit as may seem desirable.

* * * * * * *

The chairs should be wooden, wicker or cane seated, as anything in the way of an upholstered chair would be out of place. Wicker chairs often have tufted seats and backs and sometimes springs, but notwithstanding these notes of upholstery, wicker is such an accepted out-of-door type of furnishing that these do not bar using them for extras at a garden tea.

* * * * * * *

Centres of decorative attraction should be planned. The spot where a refreshment table is placed will prove a natural centre. Unless the lawn is small it is well to have two or three of these tables in sheltered positions.

* * * * * * *

Under a spreading tree is just the place. In the shelter of shrubs which shield from the sun is another delightful spot, especially if there is a garden all a-bloom which can be glimpsed.

* * * * * * *

Choose some such natural setting and make the most of it.

* * * * * * *

Have chairs grouped in other shady nooks, or even in the shadow of the house. Avoid making a verandah a centre for a garden tea. Keep the radio turned off and the victrola silent. These are indoor instruments even though the auto radio does exist.

* * * * * * *

To give such a party or tea with the least trouble to the hostess, iced tea is preferable to hot. It can be made before guests arrive and be kept on ice.

* * * * * * *

There should be small thin sandwiches and tiny cakes. Dishes of colorful hard candies dress up the table.

* * * * * * *

The refreshments are neither difficult to prepare nor hard to serve. It is not necessary to have anyone assigned to a table. All guests are there to help themselves.

* * * * * * *

The only thing needed is for someone to see that glasses are kept replenished, and pitchers or bowls of iced tea also.

LOW PAID LABOR FINDS CHAMPION

Windsor Mayor Raps U. S. Firms Who Slash Wages in Dominion Branches.

ASKS ACT CHECKED UP.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)—Mayor David A. Croll to-day stood revealed as the champion of low-paid labor and foe of those United States firms with Canadian branches, which, he said in a speech last night, displayed the National Recovery Administration's Blue Eagle in their own country and cut wages in the Dominion.

Mayor Croll charged in an address before the newly-formed Veterans of Foreign Wars, that "The Ontario Government is not enforcing the statute which calls for a minimum wage of $2 per day for women."

Of American firms paying low wages in Canada, the Mayor said: "The Blue Eagle in these cases is not a bird of hope or national recovery, but a bird of prey, and I want to know what the Ontario and Federal Governments are going to do about it."

Mr. Croll quoted figures purporting to show one Windsor firm was paying wages of 17 cents an hour and that in some industrial companies women were working 44 hours a week for $8. Day laborers, he said, were receiving $1 a day, and in restaurants women were working as long as 70 hours a week for $6.

Mr. John Staples and son, of Lindsay are visiting the former's mother and sisters, Mrs. J. Staples and the Misses Hannah and Emma, of the Toronto teaching staff.

Mr. William Davis is spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Harold Thompson, of Manvers.

Miss Lila Davis was a visitor to Cobourg on Monday.

Mr. Preston Carscadden, of Toronto was a recent guest of his mother, Mrs. Ida Carscadden, Main street.

Mrs. Bailey, of Ingersoll was a week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. James McKinnon.

Messrs. G. E. Staples and sisters, of Cavan, accompanied by Mr. T. Staples, of Lifford, are spending a holiday at Janetville tourist camp.

Miss Marion McKinnon, R.N., of Peterborough, accompanied by the Misses Staples are holidaying at Janetville.

Mrs. James Richardson and Mrs. Shaw, of Pontypool, are guests of their cousins, Mrs. Arnott and Miss Sara McMullen, for a few days.

Mr. Walter Jakeman who spent the month of July visiting his mother and other friends in England, has returned to his home in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price were in Orono on Wednesday.

Mrs. Richard Vance, of Brunswick was a visitor in Orono on Wednesday.

Miss Lila Davis is visiting friends at Manvers Station.

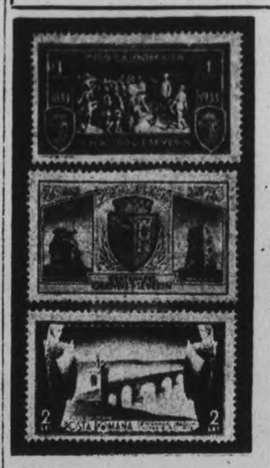
Mrs. A. H. Monk was a recent visitor to Coboconk.

The annual Sunday School picnic of St. Paul's Church was held to the beautiful park at Orono on Wednesday. The weather was ideal for the occasion and at tea hour seventy-six sat down to enjoy the supper which had been prepared by the ladies. The eldest lady at the table was eighty-six and she declared she would like to try the slide but for the sudden stop at the bottom. The youngest child present was Cameron Rowan, aged two months. Short addresses were made at the supper hour by Messrs. Monk, Gamsby and Rev. Mr. Holden. Mr. Orme Gamsby extended a welcome to the Park and the visitors were invited to tour the grounds.

New lows promised in backlines. One nasturtium frock glimpsed in deah ol' Lundon, had no back, no sleeves; nothing behind in the bodice section but a coupla braided suspenders of black tulle ending in a bow where the skirt begins.

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY



Until recent years, stamp collecting was an almost forgotten hobby during the summer months. Lately, however, the philatelists' interest seems to have grown stronger, and now survives the summer heat. There are still many who pack away the albums until the fall, but the active collectors, whose enthusiasm is greater than the heat, have greatly increased in numbers.

Perhaps we may credit new issues and summer bargains for much of this added interest at this time of the year.

Commemorative issues, which are now so popular, must appear at their proper time, irrespective of the season of the year. Thus the collector who ceases to take an active interest during the summer months, may find himself with quite a job on his hands in the fall. New issues, of all types, appear from many different countries every month in the year. Perhaps there are only one or two of these issues that will be of interest to you, but if you leave it until the fall to try to secure these stamps, you may find that they are more difficult to procure than one would think.

This is especially true in the case of commemorative stamps, which are usually issued in limited quantities, and are on sale for only a short time. If you can use new issues of any description you should try to secure them as soon after they are put on sale as it is possible for you to do. Thus, you will protect yourself against having to pay a high price should one or more of the stamps turn out to be issued in such small quantities that they very quickly become scarce.

In the case of a regular new issue, one need not worry so much, as it is seldom that such an issue will not be left on sale for at least several months. But, to be on the safe side, I advise the collector to keep up to date during the summer months. Again, if you do this, you will not find yourself so far behind in the fall, that it will take much more money to buy all of the issues of the preceding few months, than you can conveniently afford to pay out at the one time.

This week we illustrate three of the four designs of a new commemorative issue of Roumania. The stamps were first put on sale on June 2nd, and are all printed by the new and now quite popular photogravure process. The designs are quite interetting and attractive, and will look well in any one's collection.

The issue commemorates the incorporation in Wallachia of the old Roman city of Turnu-Severin. In the centre of the 25 bani, is reproduced the city coat of arms, while on either side is shown the remains of a bridge built across the Danube, about the year 104-106 by the Emperor Trajan. The color is a dark green.

The 50 bani blue, not shown, depicts the opening of Trajan's great bridge.

The one leu, olive-black, shows the formal opening of the present bridge, by Prince Charles of Hohenzollern in 1866. A view of this present bridge is shown on the two leu, greenish-olive.

Many other issues have appeared this summer, some of which we will illustrate in later articles.

Missionary Units of Millbrook Church Hold Good Meeting.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, August 12. — Mrs. J. L. Byam kindly extended the hospitality of her home for the August meeting of the combined Women's Auxiliary, Mission Circle and Mission Band, of St. Andrew's church on Thursday afternoon, the vice-president, Mrs. H. E. Smith, taking the chair in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. W. Jones, who is on vacation.

The gathering was largely attended and was held on the lawn, both Mr. and Mrs. Byam welcoming the guests.

Miss Martha Lunn read the devotional leaflet on "The Woman of Faith," and Mrs. Weston Fallis read the Scripture lesson. The subject for study was that of Christian Stewardship of time, prayer, talents, money, all of life and its gifts, those taking part including the leader, Mrs. Fallis, Mrs. Hilliard Lang, Miss Gertrude Spence, Miss E. Mullen, and Mrs. J. Rowland. Miss Jean Burnham gave a reading covering a story of the Oriental Home in Vancouver, B.C., and Miss Hetherington led in special prayer for Miss E. C. Hawken, missionary-teacher, representing the local organizations on the home field, who is now on an extra year of furlough, owing to the illness of her father.

The boys and girls of the Mission Band enjoyed a program of races and games under the direction of the superintendents, Mrs. B. A. Dawson and Mrs. J. Ridge.

Winners in the race for the "wee kiddies" were all given an all-day sucker, with big nickels for the larger ones. Following the tiny tots' race, the prizes went to:

Girls and boys, 6-8: Evans Hatherly, Mary Sanderson.

Boys, 8-10: William Ridge, Tom Belch.

Wheelbarrow race: Evans Hatherly and Hubert Mitchell; William Ridge and Charlie Sanderson.

Shoe race: Fred Ridge, Maud Raper.

Touch and run race: Fred Ridge, and Maud Raper; Mary Dawson and C. Sanderson.

Tea was served on the east lawn, among those assisting the hostess with the care of her guests being Mrs. J. McKnight, Mrs. G. Fallis, Miss Spene, Miss M. Lunn, Mrs. W. West, and several others. The vote of thanks to the hostess was sponsored by the president of the Mission Circle, Miss C. Spence, and the president of the Mission Band, Mrs Dawson.

Smaller Attendance At Warsaw Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, Aug. 12. — Many institute members were away Thursday afternoon, so the attendance at the W.I. meeting was small, but included Mrs. Charles Foster of Peterborough, a former member, and Mrs. Wolfe, also several children. Mrs. W. S. Anderson was in the chair.

On a motion by Mrs. W. H. Clements, seconded by Mrs. Weller, and carried, it was decided to give $3 in cash towards the school fair.

The quilt blocks are not all in.

Mrs. Anderson thanked all those who had helped to make the picnic a success.

Mrs. Uriah Payne gave a few notes on current events. Mrs. Wolfe sang 'Whispering Hope.' Mrs. Henry Clements gave a concise but comprehensive report of the annual district meeting held at Apsley. It was decided to leave the payment of scholarship to the executive.

Misses Marjorie and Marion Foster sang very sweetly, to their mother's accompaniment, "The Second Minuet;" being encored, they sang "Slushing."

Mrs. Wolfe spoke of having enjoyed her visit to Canada. She had made many trips to different parts during her stay, had met with much kindness, and admired the scenery, and especially the wonderful rocks. Mrs. Wolfe had visited Warsaw 20 years ago, when she was Miss Chappless, and had then been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Payne at their farm.

DUMMER ROAD ISSUE

To The Editor of The Examiner.

Dear Sir,—I would esteem it a favor if I may be permitted to refer again to the Dummer road at present under discussion.

Mr. William Matthews states in his letter written a short time ago that this is a private road. I fail to see how a road that has had township money spent on it can be any other than a public road.

Mr. Forbes, as a taxpayer has the right to a road and this matter should be settled by the township. The Crown Lands Department informed Mr. Hamblin to that effect.

With reference to the letter written to your paper by Mr. Hamblin, I feel I should add a little to this gentleman's version of the trouble in order to prevent his statement "The truth half told is worse than a lie" applying to himself. Mr. Hamblin states the gate entering on to his property has been there for forty years. I am assured by persons who are prepared to substantiate their statements that the gate has NOT been hung that length of time. Mr. Hamblin goes on to inform us that he spent two days or more a week returning cattle to pasture. I wonder if he would care to state how many days he has spent attempting to close this road to the pasture which he informs us he has had no use of this summer. If the pasture is no use to him why in the name of Christian Charity should he be so desirous of closing it?

If Mr. Forbes declines to pay attention to notices and if he is really trespassing on private property, why does Mr. Hamblin hesitate in entering a charge of trespass against him? Mr. Hamblin was aware when he bought the property that the road was there and had been there for years. Mr. Hamblin states that he has seen Mr. Forbes several times in order to reach a friendly agreement. I have taken the matter as it is, having discused it with both Mr. Forbes and Mr. Hamblin, but I have taken the matter as it is hav-Hamblin is justified in placing obstructions in a road which is of no use to him.

Mr. Hamblin appears to have taken the law in his own hands in the matter and should not expect any help from the council.

Trusting I have not encroached upon your valuable space, Mr. Editor.

Yours truly,
Maurice J. McCarthy.

NO MORE SICK HEADACHES

Fruit-a-tives and years of pain

"I suffered exceedingly with indigestion and sick headaches for years. I could hardly eat anything and was badly constipated. I realize now, of course, that I was in a very run-down condition. Fortunately for me a neighbor recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' and I began taking them. I am certainly glad I did. They regulated my system and toned me up generally so that now I am in the best of health. I would not hesitate to recommend them to anyone."

CAMPBELL'S DAIRY PLANT IS MODERN

Sterilization and Pasteurization Health-Guarding Features.

Campbell's Dairy Products is an institution that has been successful to a marked degree. With but a modest beginning they have now progressed to where they have an excellent dairy modernly equipped in every way. The latest bottle sterilizing machines and other sanitary precautions are used. They have today many delivery wagons distributing milk ot all parts of this community and surrounding territory.

By means of skilled workmen and up-to-date machinery their milk is pasteurized. This is accomplished by heating the milk to the temperature of 143 degrees, holding it at that temperature for 30 minutes and then cooling quickly. Through this process of pasteurization the milk from the Campbell's Dairy Products is rendered free from harmful bacteria, yet the qualities of the milk are fully retained.

Without doubt, milk is nature's purest and safest insurance of health and happiness. Consistently used, milk builds health and vigor in the body, revitalizes wasted nerves and puts color in the palest cheeks. Physicians and health authorities advise serving milk at schools to the children. Order your cream, butter, eggs or milk today by phoning 520 and serve it to the whole family at meal times and between meals too. One's health depends upon one's ability to earn and enjoy, realizing this and ever endeavoring to better serve with pure products, the Campbell's Dairy Products has prospered and are yearly enjoying a well deserved increase of patronage.

Mr. Carl Campbell, the manager of this successful institution well merits our commendation. Do you know how many families are served by this dairy?

Prize Essay Story

RE-UNION HELD FOR WAY FAMILY

About One Hundred and Seventy Members Attend Gathering.

About one hundred and seventy members of the Way family gathered at Presqu'ile Point last Wednesday for the annual picnic of the family. This is only the second picnic of the Way clan, and was attended by a much larger crowd than the first one last year. The family was represented from distant points, such as Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Rochester. Several car loads came from Bancroft, Tweed, Corbyville and Prince Edward. Of course nearly all the members of the family living in Trenton and the surrounding district were present and many of them were directly responsible for the success of the picnic.

The tables were set and dinner was ready about one o'clock and everyone ate until it was impossible to eat more. After dinner it was decided to elect officers for the organization to forward its aims and to plan the third annual picnic to be held in the same place on the second Wednesday of August, 1934. Mr. Glen Way of Niagara Falls was appointed chairman, and after giving a short address on the history of the family, he proceeded with the election of the officers. Mr. Blake Way, Trenton, was elected president, a position which he well deserves as he has worked unceasingly to make this yearly family reunion a success. Three vice-presidents were appointed, namely: Mr. Ed. Way of Tweed, Mr. Edward Blake Way of Corbyville, and Mr. Thos. Mikel of Consecon. These men live in the districts where the Ways and their relations are to be found in large numbers, and it is their duty to help with the preparations for the next picnic as well as collect any information regarding the history of the Way family. The honorary president of the organization is Mr. Glen Way, who has started a geneology of the family, and has compiled a great deal of information, although he states that he is a long way from having it complete, as he estimates that there are about twenty-five thousand descendant of Daniel B. Way, the common ancestor. Mrs. J. J. Way of Wooler was appointed secretary, and anyone who desires to know more about their ancestry can find it out from her if she has the information wanted.

As near as could be estimated, the prize for the largest number of descendants present went to Mrs. Edward Way, Trenton. The oldest man was Mr. Gideon Way, while the oldest ladies were Mrs. Edward Way and Mrs. G. S. Way, both of Trenton. Miss Phylis Vardy won the prize for the youngest person present, being just fifteen months old. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. German Vardy and a great-grand-daughter of Alan Way.

The afternoon was spent in getting acquainted and chatting with new-found friends, although most of the young people went bathing. But what attracted the most attention was the records of Mr. Glen Way, Niagara Falls, N.Y., who spent the time between dinner and supper getting names of members of the Way family which he had not been able to obtain before. A register was also passed around and everyone was asked to sign it. It will be kept and will be at the next picnic for the purpose of keeping the names of all those who attend these picnics from year to year. The register will also be a great help to Mr. Glen Way in compiling his geneology of the Way family. Tea was ready about five o'clock, and perhaps with the exception of some young people, most of the gathering went home shortly after.

BETWEEN BOOK ENDS

BARBELLION.

While refreshing a mind somewhat sunburned by summer reading, we ran across H. M. Tomlinson's essay on Barbellion. And Barbellion's "Journal of a Disappointed Man" we ordered the next morning.

It is a book of confession. There have been floods of confessions recently—from generals, grand dames, Russian princes, statesmen, diplomats and writers . . . cheerful gossipings and babblings from the drawing rooms, dinner table and fashionable places.

But there has been only one "Journal of a Disappointed Man. Beyond these drawing rooms and dinner tables, in that outer darkness that the best people know nothing of, except of what conveniences them, there are solitaries with a courageous intellectual curiosity, a passion for truth, a gusto for life and the love of the earth which we see in Barbellion's diary.

Barbellion, whom we now know as Bruce Cummings, was undoubtedly a genius. Had he lived, those who know claim he would have been one of the world's finest naturalists. But his life from childhood on was a struggle between a failing body and a lonely mind. And the body won. He died in 1919 at the age of 30 years.

In this diary he records the story of that life. Here you read between the lines, is a vital youth, disillusioned and dying his genius frustrated by approaching death and he says, "I will go on with this diary. You shall have at least one specimen, carefully displayed and labelled. Here is a recorded life—when you talk of life and the rewards of life and the justices of life and its penalties, what you say must square with this."

These pages are afire with enthusiasms, now dead with despondency; they flow from ecstacy to the scientific. They are flippant, keen, and wise beyond their years.

Barbellion, lying inert, incidentally wondering who would come to him first—the postman bringing the reviews of his first book, or the boney gentleman bringing the scythe, listened to the last news of the War. And though secluded from the turmoil in his country cottage, paralysed and his trunk already dead, his sensitive mind and imaginative sympathy knew more of what was happening to his fellows in France and what it meant for us all than the combined cabinet in Downing Street.

He felt, of course, the mockery of this frustration of his powers. He thought—and it seems with good reason—that he was a tragic failure. But was he? Read this book and admit that he accomplished a little that is beautiful and enduring, and that he did it obscurely at a time when they who held most of the fearful attention of the world, were but working gravely on that which their children would execrat.

"The First World War," edited by Laurence Stallings: This book, with its ominous title, is a remarkable collection of photographs of World War incidents. It has been assembled after three years of painstaking labor, by the editorial staff of Simon & Schuster, aided by the technical genius of Otto Kurth, and introduced and captioned in brief stabbing phrases by Laurence Stallings.

It is no work of art. It is cold photography of actual unretouched scenes. These pictures have not the infectious appeal of mass-man-power-responding-to-a-call. They show cold slaughter. There is no glory. There is no pomp. This book suggests forcibly that Nationalism was, and continues to be, a potent religion for which men are willing to commit suicide in mass. And yet despite propaganda like this, Youth naturally asks itself, "Could we do it too? Could we take it?"

This book may be added as another testament to our present celebration of a Century of Progress.

Things look brighter in the publishing line for fall. We have been mulling through the publisher's fall catalogues recently. Here are some of the high spots we culled. A new novel from Booth Tarkington, "Presenting Lily Mars" . . . a romance from William McFee, "No Castle in Spain" . . . a new Priestly, "Wander Hero" . . . Liam O'Flaherty's "Famine" . . . "A Prince of Captivity," from John Buchan . . . "Vanessa," by Hugh Walpole . . some incisiveness from Thomas Beer, "Mrs. Egg and Other Barbarians" . . . and the Poet Laureate John Masefield's "The Conway."

Thornton Wilder breaks off prolonged silence with "Lucrece" . . . Ogden Nash's "Happy Days" will bring hilarious shouts of recognition . . . and Don Marquis's "Archie's Life of Mehitabel and Other Reflections" should be one vast substantial smile. Christopher Morley, of course, has a new volume, "Troilus and Cressida" . . . and his friend, H. M. Tomlinson's "Snows of Helicon," was published this week.

The high spot in memoires seems to be Lloyd George's "War Memoires."

But the prize of the season must go to the prolific Mr. H. G. Wells. Having covered almost every branch of human knowledge and superstition, that gentleman has now written "The Shape of Things to Come"; an outline of the world's history during the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. We hope he is right and there will be something left to write about in the twenty-first century.

ENJOY THE LIFE OF A CHEVROLET OWNER

OPEN UP the road map. Pick out some fascinating spot . . . somewhere . . . a long way off. Then point the nose of your Chevrolet towards it—and take off! That's the life of a Chevrolet owner! Going places in style—and saving money.

What does it matter if you must budget on trips? Half the thrill of owning a Chevrolet is the way you can pass by the gas pumps — the oil stations — and the garages. Weather hot? That doesn't matter either — for Chevrolet has Fisher No-Draft Ventilation. Just turn on the breeze, whenever you like, and keep delightfully cool and refreshed. Roads bad? Who cares if they are — when you're settled back in this long, full-weight, smooth-engined Six that rides the bumps and takes the hills so beautifully. A long way to go? Just step on the Starter-ator—and watch the miles tick by. Chevrolet gives you power galore—pick-up aplenty — and that secure feeling, however fast or far you drive, that Chevrolet dependability rides with you as you go.

Canadians know a good thing when they see it. So, just as you would expect, most of this year's buyers are leading the lives of Chevrolet owners — motoring smartly and economically in Canada's Great Sales Leader! Low delivered prices and easy GMAC terms.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO LIVESTOCK.

TORONTO, Aug. 12.—(C.P.)— A firm tone prevailed on the Toronto livestock market this week. The market was closed Monday. Civic Holiday and enjoyed only two real markets during the week. Cattle were firm, calves steady, hogs gained ten cents, sheep and lambs steady At the close of the week the holdover had been reduced to 400 head of common stockers. The quality of the offering was somewhat improved over the previous week.

The market opened active with good to choice steers and butchers selling 15 to 25c higher than last week. Packers and exporters paid $4.75 to 5.00 for good weighty steers, with one load at a top of $5.15. Common heavies sold down to $3.50. Good to choice light butchers sold 25c higher, making $4.50 to $4.90. Butchers were hard to move at steady prices, selling mostly at $3.00 to $4.00, with some as low as $2.00. Cows were a shade firmer at $2.50 to $2.75 for good quality with tops at $3.00. Canners held unchanged during the week at $1.00. Bologna bulls brought from $2.00 to $2.25 with good export bulls up to $2.75 and od light butcher bulls at $3.00. Good and choice fed calves made $6.00 to $6.74, with mediums ranging from $5.00 to $5.50. Store cattle trade was dull, with common to mediums bringing $2.25 to $2.75, while fairly good light stocker steers brought $3.00.

Calf receipts were 1,670. This was 400 head lighter than the previous week. Good to choice vealers sold unchanged throughout the week at $5.00 to $5.50 with odd tops at $6.00. Common to medium veal calves held a little firmer at $3.00 to $4.50. Grassers sold mostly at $2.00.

The hog market was firm to 10 cents higher, with receipts about 700 head lighter than last week. Most of the sales were made at $5.85 f.o.b., $86.10 off truck and $6.35 off cars for bacons. Selects brought the usual $100 per head premium.

The lamb market was steady throughout the week. Good ewes and wethers brought $6.50, bucks brought $4.50 and culls changed hands at $5.00. Some buck lambs were sold at $5.50. Sheep held steady and unchanged at $1 for common, with good light ewes up to $2.50.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion livestock branch:

This week— Cattle 4,490; calves 1,670; hogs, 2,593; sheep and lambs, 2,922.

Last week— Cattle, 4,382; calves, 2,119; hogs, 3,274 sheep and lambs, 3,779.

'33 to date—Cattle, 154,457; calves, 61,489; hogs, 144,818; sheep and lambs, 88,363.

'32 to date—Cattle 152,003; calves, 64,908; hogs, 142,419; sheep and lambs, 82,469.

This week '2 — Cattle, 6,007; calves, 1,877; hogs, 4,472; sheep and lambs, 4,669.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.— Stop-loss selling and acute shrinkage of speculative buying plunged grain prices downward yesterday, wheat and oats to the extreme limits permitted in one day.

Breaks in grain values were in the face of United States Government estimates confirming unofficial reports of terrific crop losses.

Wheat closed limp, at the day's bottom level, 5c under the average of Thursday's closing quotations; corn, 1 7-8c to 2½c down; oats, 2¼c to 2 7-8c off, and provisions showing 7c to 12c decline.

From the outset, downturns in grain prices formed the rule, but it was not until the day had nearly ended that the wheat market hit the emergency minimum. Earlier, spasmodic rallies were witnessed, but at no time did values recover to even with Thursday's close.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12. — Butter prices on the Montreal Dairy and Produce Market turned lower again yesterday, quotations easing ¼c from Thursday. No. 1 grade in carlots or less was generally quoted at 19c a pound. Dealers attribute the easiness to the sudden rise in stocks, which was somewhat in excess of expectatations. Receipts totalled 1,718 boxes.

In the egg market a firmer tone was reported. Extras brought 19c a dozen for graded shipments in carlots or less, against a range of 18c to 18½c Thursday. Firsts held unchanged at 15c, as did seconds at 12½c. The firmer market in extras reflects the lighter receipts from Ontario, supplies from there being sent to the Toronto Exhibition rather than to Montreal. Receipts were 823.

The cheese market remained quiet. Ontario white and October being quoted at a range of 10c to 10 1-8c and Quebecs ½c lower. Arrivals amounted to 5,377 boxes.

The potato market remained at $1.25 to $1.35 per 80 pound bag of New Green Mountains, with new Quebecs at 85c. to $1 per 80-pound bag.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.— Strengthening a little in the closing minutes of trading as offerings slackened, wheat prices erased about a cent of their earlier decline, to close 3½c to 3⅝c lower on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday.

Selling pressure from Chicago late in the session added to the opening losses, and at one time the market was down almost 5 cents. October closed at 78¼c ,December at 80¼c, and May at 84½c. Bullish crop reports from Washington and Ottawa were disregarded by traders on the grounds that conditions had already been discounted.

Volume of trade was not particularly large, despite the selling movement. Little in the way of support was forthcoming, and values were easily sent down. Chicago market broke its 5-cent limit and Southern traders were fairly good sellers here.

Liverpool wheat, which closed 1¾d to 1⅞d lower, was a further bearish factor, and disappointing export business added to the weakness.

Outside news was featured by Argentine clearances, which amounted to 4,860,000 bushels during the week. Australian exports dropped sharply to 624,000 bushels, compared with 2,278 000 bushels last week.

All grades of cash grains were negected. Trading in coarse grains was fairly active. Values all showed losses at the close.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR

Death is a cessation of life; it is not a sleep nor a transition into some other sphere. As we know nothing when we are asleep, and when dead we know nothing, and for this reason, when a person dies, it is sometimes said: "He fell asleep." When a man dies, all that goes to make up a man dies—the whole man dies. Foolish teachers say that man has a soul and that this soul was something that was inside of man, and that when a man died, this soul something flew out of him into the air. They teach that this soul thing, whatever it is, can never die. This is only one of the many absurd ideas taught by churchianity.—M. T. Butcher.

LANDED FINE 'LUNGE

Sometimes skill in wrestling as well as angling skill is required in landing safely a good maskinonge. Mrs. A. Parker of Peterborough managed to get a goodly-sized muskie over the side of her boat in Lovesick Lake last night, but found that the work was only half done. The big fish shook the hooks from its mouth and was doing its best to leap back into the water when she pounced on it and subdued it with a "headache stick."

ORANGEMEN GO TO BLACKSTOCK

A large representation of Orangemen left this city by motor this morning to participate in the Derry Day celebrations at Blackstock. Made up of approximately sixty members of Royal Black Preceptory 261, the Peterborough delegation included Wor. Preceptor Frank Millard; Wor. Dep. Grand Master for Ontario East Robert Ritchie; and P.D.G.M. Ontario East George Porter.

TEN DOOR PRIZES FOR FLOWER SHOW

Annual C. G. E. Event to be Staged in Legion Hall on August 19.

Ten valuable door prizes, nine of which are C.G.E. products are to be given away to patrons of the 4th Annual C.G.E. Flower Show to be held at the Canadian Legion Hall on Saturday next. The other door prize is a handsome Cedar Hope Chest.

In asking for the generous support of the general public, the flower show officials promise not only a splendid array of flowers, but point out that all the proceeds after expenses have been met, will be turned over to the Canadian Legion.

The effort is being put on by the Horticultural Section of the C.G.E. Social and Athletics Club, under the presidency of Tom McMillen. Prizes are now on display in the window of Grant and Loucks Company Ltd. The Golden Red Lily of Japan (Lilium Auratum) grown by Harry Butler of Chamberlain street, is also on display in the window and is attracting much attention and admiration.

CHICAGO FAIR REAL DELIGHT

Miss Marguerite O'Connell Returns From Trip to Century of Progress.

PICTURESQUE EXHIBITS

Markedly impressed by all she had seen at Chicago's Century of Progress International Exposition, Miss Marguerite E. O'Connell who is visiting relatives in Peterborough before returning to Toronto, described the fair very aptly, as a "world of enchantment and instruction."

A visitor to the great Exposiion in Paris two years ago, Miss O'Connell found that the lay out of the fair at Chicago was much the same, although the buildings were of almost unbelievable originality. Etched against the shifting background of the sky and Lake Michigan, she said, these structures presented a scene of vivid beauty.

The Hall of Science, said Miss O'Connell was possibly one of the most impressive structures. Set on the edge of a beautful lagoon, the building has an interior courtyard, picturesque terraces, pylons and lofty tower from which the notes of a mellow carillon sound the passing hours, and combine to make the building an enchanting place.

The ground on which the exhibition stands, is an area that was reclaimed from Lake Michigan, and transformed into a vast garden within a few hundred yards of the centre of Chicago.

More than half the States of the Union are represented at the Exposition, while the international aspects of the fair is exemplified in picturesque exhibits by foreign governments displaying the arts handicrafts and products of far-flung countries and their contribution to the progress of civilization in the past hundred years.

China has contributed the Golden Pavilion of Jehol, which Miss O'Connell said, s regarded as one of the finest examples of Chinese Lama Architecture. Twenty-eight thousand pieces of wood, from cornices to columns, make up this unique building colored in red lacquer and gold and crowned with a double-decked roof covered with copper shingles finished in pure gold leaf. Inside is a priceless collection of Chinese and Buddhist treasures.

The Century of Progress Exposition, Miss O'Connell opined, tells by easy stages and in simple form the story of the scientific discoveries and inventions based on those discoveries, their application to industry and the resultant transformation that has made the world so different to-day from the world of a hundred years ago.

MAN WHO MOVED CAPITAL OF OKLAHOMA IS DEAD

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 12.—(C.P.)—W B (Bill) Anthony, who wrapped Oklahoma's "capital" in a dirty shirt and mover it from Guthie to Oklahoma city, died last night at the age of 63.

Silmaxing one of the most bitterly disputed phases of the State's disturbed political history, Anthony spirited the great seal of Oklahoma from the heavily-guardede Logan county court house at midnight on June, 1910, and sped it to the Lee Hucking Hotel at Oklahoma city, which for a time thereafter served as the Statehouse. Anthony used an automobile.

The seal was regarded as symbolic of the capital's location.

CIVIL WAR IS FEARED BY KING

If C. C. F. Attempted to Confiscate Property as Planned in Manifesto.

REDUCE TARIFFS.

(By Ray Brown, C. P. Staff Writer)

CALGARY, Aug. 12.—(CP)—Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Dominion Liberal leader, rested here today after a whirlwind two-day campaign that brought him out of the Peace River country down the Edmonto Calgary trail through a series of mass meetings and hurried movement by automobile. The Liberal leader will leave for Banff this afternoon.

At Olds, Alta., Mr. King spoke to an audience sitting on chairs, the floors, standing and overflowing into the streets through arena exits. "These are serious times," he said. "We must be very careful of the movements we set on foot."

Given Free Hand

Mr. Bennett had been given a free hand since becoming Prime Minister, the Liberal leader asserted. His policy of raising tariffs had proven a mistaken one. Mr. King quoted comparative rates on a number of clothing materials as prevailing under the Borden, King and Bennett governments. In some cases the duties had been doubled and trebled by the Bennett government, he said.

"No wonder people are using horse blankets," Mr. King remarked, in stating a 20 per cent tariff on blankets had been increased to approximately 100 per cent by the Bennett government. "There is not a man, woman or child in this audience who isn't worse off because of this tariff policy of the Conservative party," Mr. King stated.

Then he turned to the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. If he was ever Prime Minister of Canada again he would not be controlled by any third party, the Liberal leader insisted.

The C.C.F. proposed government ownership operation, control of the great natural resources and the socially necessary means of production and distribution. Mr. King reiterated his question, how are they going to do it? Confiscation, continued Mr. King meant civil war.

But an almost insuperable obstacle to the C.C.F. plan lay in the fact it could only be put through by amending the Canadian constitution. How did the C.C.F. propose to amend the constitution against an adverse House of Commons, Senate and series of Provincial Governments.

Reduced tariffs, liberation of internal trade, a central bank, a great national commission to deal with unemployment, supervision over financial institutions and control of investments by an investment control board, these were among the policies of the Liberal party.

VICTORIA MAN HURT IN SMASH

Car Turns Turtle on Hill Near Manilla, Hurling W. Coburn Through Roof.

EXCISE OFFICER RETIRES.

LINDSAY, Aug. 12 (Examiner Correspondence).—William Coburn, maintenance man of the Victoria County road system, had a narrow escape from fatal injury last night when his car turned turtle. He was going down Edwards' hill south of Manilla, when the car got out of control and made two complete somersaults. Coburn shot through the top on the first turn, and when the car came to rest after the second turn, it was on top of him. H. C. Moore, who lives near the scene of the accident, pulled Coburn from underneath the rear bumper in an unconscious condition. Three ribs were broken, and he sustained several cuts and bruises.

Col. James Glass, local Customs and Excise officer, retired this week from the service on pension. Mr. Glass, who was a resident of Mariposa, was appointed to that office in 1911.

Charles Walton, town, faced Police Magistrate Jordan yesterday on the charge of drunkenness, during which he staged quite a battle with relatives. He was assessed $50 and costs, and was warned to leave liquor alone.

FEAR VILLAGES VICTIMS OF FIRE

Newfoundland Authorities Anxious Over Blazing Northern Areas.

LINES ARE DOWN.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 12.— (C. P. Cable.) — Fate of half a dozen Newfoundland villages remained uncertain early to-day as government officials endeavored to get reports from fire-ravaged areas on the northern coast.

Forest blazes had driven hundreds to their boats for safety on White Bay and Green Bay, according to reports last night. Burlington had been abandoned following destruction of 24 buildings, and its 229 inhabitants had been carried in small boats to Nipper's Harbor, 15 miles to the north-east.

Four miles from Burlington, Middle Arm was in grave danger. The last report the telegraph operator there said: "Don't expect to be able to work much longer, as fire is now only a quarter of a mile or less away and coming fast."

Other settlements in this district of Green Bay were threatened, and far up on the shore of White Bay the people of Harbor Deep were removing their household goods in readiness for flight from another blaze.

Telegraph communications had been cut off and reports from the burning areas were slow in reaching the capital. It was believed the wireless station at Harbor Deep had been dismantled as the flames approached.

Terriers Blank Oshawa 7-0 in First Game

LOCALS SCORE 6 RUNS IN 8TH TO CLINCH WIN

Lesurf Holds Homesters to Five Scattered Hits, Strikes Out 14.

CLEVER FIELD WORK.

Starr Leads Batters With Three Safeties, Galvin Has Two.

Peterborough Terriers won the first of their three-game O.B.A.A. semi-final series over Oshawa by a shutout last night, 7 to 0, in the Motor City Stadium. A crowd of about five hundred saw the local youngsters break through for six runs in the eighth inning to cinch the win in a swell ball game. Lefty Lesurf blanked the Oshawa outfit, holding them to five scattered hits as he struck out fourteen with fine twirling.

Herb Ralph's gang turned in some excellent baseball and deserved to win, but had a hard battle till they began hitting in the eighth. Both sides flashed baseball worthy of a higher series and gave the big crowd plenty to cheer about. The Liftlockers had A-1 pitching, good defensive play and hits in the right spots. Oshawa's hurling also was good, but for the one lapse, and their fielding was fair but they had trouble connecting with Lefty's blazing slants.

Petes Score in Third

Neither side scored in the first, though Kennedy hit a double for the homesters. Hits by Mowry and Galvin were wasted in the Pete's second, but they scored one in the third when A. Clark reached first on an error, moved up on Starr's single, to third on an out and home on a wild pitch. That run began to look more and more important as the game progressed, neither side being able to shove another one over, fine flinging and good fielding holding them down. But Terriers suddenly broke loose in the eighth to tally six on a walk, error, two steals, singles by Starr, Dunkley, Thorburn, Galvin and G. Clark, a sacrifice and A. Clark's two-bagger. Bradd replaced Normyle when three runs were in.

Leads Local Batters

Starr, besides catching a great game, led the batters with three safe hits, Galvin getting two and A. Clark a double. McKinley went good on second, and the others played heads-up ball, too. Kennedy was the main Oshawa clouter with a double and single, Dalton getting a triple and Barnes a double. Dalton, Hobbs and Barnes showed good defensive playing for the losers. The next game is in Peterborough Wednesday.

PEDEN MAINTAINS BIKE DERBY LEAD

Cyclists Make Good Time on Paved Highways in Western Ontario.

BRANTFORD, Ont., Aug. 12 (CP)—The professional pedalling parade pushed out of here to-day for Hamilton on another leg of its abbreviated tour. Marshalled by Weiner Wittig of Germany, the cyclists wheeled here yesterday after a 125-mile journey from Sarnia whre they had landed in the morning in a steamship from Cault Ste Marie.

After a weeks' battle with gravel roads in Northern Ontario, the pedal pushers sped along in fine style over the smooth surface of the paved roads. Only one spill marred yesterday's lap, Pierre Gachon's brake failing on a long, winding hill as the caravan entered Paris and he crashed into Macel Rossi. Although shaken up, both men continued after a short delay.

Behind Whittig came Reggie Fielding of Toronto, while Rene Boogman was third, with the rest of the field bunched. Torchy Peden of Victoria maintained his lead of 50 seconds in elapsed time with Freddie Ottevaire and Frank Elliott tied for second.

A 25-mile race around the Olympic Stadium track will be staged by the riders after arriving at Hamilton.

Cogs To Meet C.G.E. in E.P.L. Finals

BRUINS OUST PIRATES FROM SECOND PLACE

Guy Bush Subdues Pittsburg Players and Chicago Wins 8-2.

NEW YORK GIANTS IDLE.

Senators Rally in Ninth to Take 8-4 Victory From Red Sox.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr. A.P. Sports Writer.)

It may or may not mean anything, but just about a year after the Chicago Cubs went out in front to stay in last year's National League pennant race, they have begun a new sprint that has taken them into second place.

The Cubs forged ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates by a half-game yesterday as Guy Bush, the Mississippi mudcat, whose pitching was an important factor in their 1932 triumph, wrapped up the Buccaneer batsmen in a neat package and delivered them to his teammates, who knocked out an 8-2 victory.

Cards Win Again.

St. Louis Cardinals, down in fifth place, won the other National League game. Getting a belated start, the Cards hammered out an 8-5 victory over the tail-end Cincinnati club as Pepper Martin and Ernie Orsatti set a brisk hitting pace. The other four clubs were unscheduled.

Senators Increase Lead.

Washington's Senators continued to be the big noise of the American League, increasing their lead to four games over the New York Yankees after a narrow escape fom defeat at the hands of Boston's Red Sox. With Henry Johnson pitching the Senators trailed 4-2 at the end of the eighth. Then Johnson was lifted for a pinch hitter and Washington mixed four hits and four walks off a quartette of successors to score six runs in the ninth and win 8-4.

Chicago White Sox made it two straight over Detroit Tigers by a 2-0 count as Ted Lyons bested Fred Marberry on the mound despite a great Tiger defence.

The Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics were halted by the weather for the second straight day and Cleveland and St. Louis had another open date.

Bethany Girls Win From Hill Maidens

Park Hill Girls ran into plenty of opposition last night at the Bowl when they took on the Bethany team in an exhibition tilt that wasf eatured by very heavy clouting on the part of the visitors, whof nished the game on the big end of a 22-13 count.

P. Bigelow, catcher for the winners was the heavy clouter for that team as well as playing a splendid game behind the bat. Hanna who pitched showed plenty of control but the locals found her easy to hit, Grace Hawks securing another clean home run.

The teams:

Bethany—Sisson, 2b; P. Bigelow, c; Fallis, 3b; aHnna, 3b; R. Bigelow, lf; Strachan, ss; L. Beer, 1b; H. Beer, rf; Smith, cf.

Park Hill—E. Evans p; L. Trollop, lf; M. Mongraw, ss; G. Hawkes, 2b; B. Thirnbeck, rf; K. Kearney, c; B. Flannery, 1b; M. Kearney, cf; A. DeCarlo, 3b.

BIRKOFER HURLS TORONTO TO 2-1 WIN OVER ORIOLES

Bears Suffer 9-4 Setback From Bisons, Hold 10 Game Lead.

ROYALS BEAT PESTS 5-4.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

With Newark making a runaway of the pennant chase for the second successive year, it begins to look now as if the International League moguls had made a wise move toward box office success when they adopted the play-off system last winter.

Newark's Bears took a 9-4 shellacking from Buffalo Bisons last night, but they remained 10 games out in front of the Rochester Red Wings, who finally regained a clear hold on second place.

2-1 Win for Leafs.

Ralph Birkofer pitched Toronto to a 2-1 victory over Baltimore for his 15th victory in the only daylight game on yesterday's schedule, and their margin over the deadlocked Buffalo and Montreal clubs stood at four games.

Montreal Royals did their share toward maintaining the tie for fifth place in the standing by edging out Jersey City Skeeters 5-4 last night before a 6,000 gathering. A three-run rally in the third, featured by a double by Eddie Grimes, new third baseman, with two on, decided the game. Buffalo hopped on Marvin Duke for three tallies in the first and another trio in the sixth, and had little trouble beating the league leaders behind the steady flinging of Charley Perkins.

Gains Second Place.

Rochester moved into second place on the strength of one big inning, the seventh, at the expense of four Albany pitchers.

Trailing 3-1 after six frames, Red Wings broke loose to tally seven times and come out with an 8-3 decision. Baltimore, coming out on the short end of a mound duel with Toronto, dropped a game behind.

LAKEFIELD GIRLS BEAT MORRISON MASCOTS 17-11

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 12.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The Lakefield girls' team defeated the Morrison Mascots, juvenile boys' team, in a snappy fixture played on Wednesday evening. The boys led at first and then the girls got into their stride and at the end of the seventh innings, with the score 17-11, the umpire called the game. The score by innings was:

Mascots.....2204102—11
Girls.....3203057—17

Umpires—K. Junkin at the plate and J. White on bases.

The line-up was:

Girls—E. Tighe, p.; P. Charlton, c; A. White, 1b; J. Blewett, 2b; M. Abrams, 3b; H. Patterson, ss; M. Webdale, rf; J. White, lf; J. Nicholls, cf.

The first of the final games in the Softball League will begin on Tuesday evening between Bridgenorth and the Central Garage. The final series gives the decision for the best two out of three games.

About twenty-five teams are entered in the softball tournament sponsored by the Lucky Strikes and which will be held on Monday at the Exhibition grounds. Senior and intermediate teams in both girls' and men's sections are entered.

OSHAWA CLUB'S PROTEST NOT SUSTAINED BY LOOP

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 12.—At a meeting of the Lake Shore League executive Thursday night in Newcastle, the protest of the Oshawa intermediates against the decision of Umpire Henderson of Port Hope, who called the recent Oshawa-Port Hope clash at the end of the eighth inning, due to darkness, was not sustained. President Orme Gamsby ruled that the series must go on, with Port Hope playing Bowmanville on Saturday afternoon at Bowmanville to decide second place to meet Cobourg in the finals.

A near-riot was started last week when the Oshawa-Port Hope game was called, with Port Hope leading 6 to 1, and the Oshawa team at bat with two men on bases and only one out. The umpires in the game failed to agree in the hearing, but McDougall of Oshawa stated that the plate umpire ruled the game and he was willing to take Umpire Henderson's decision. Port Hope refused to play the game again to find a winner. President Orme Gamsby, Dr. S. E. Stacey of Newcastle, Tommy Ross of Bowmanville, George Walton of Newcastle and W. Woods of Cobourg heard the protest.

CLUBMEN GAIN EASY VICTORY OVER FOSTERS

Run Up Commanding Lead in First Inning to Take 7-1 Victory.

BAILEY HIT HARD.

Vannest Allows Eight Safeties, Cog Hurler Given Airtight Support.

By defeating Fosters 7 to 1 at Exhibition Park last evening, Cogs earned the right to meet the C.G.E. nine in the finals for the East Peterborough League's championship.

The clubmen gained an easy victory, getting the breaks at the outset to run up a commanding lead which was never endangered. They notched five runs in the initial frame, added another in the second and finished their scoring in the fourth.

Bailey Hit Hard

Joe Bailey was the victim of the Cogs' early batting foray, all the runs and nine of the winners' 11 hits being counted off his delivery. Bailey was out-lucked because all the scoring was done after two were out. Cogs found it tough sledding after McIlwain mounted the hilltop midway through the fourth; "Lefty" permitting them but two scattered hits.

Given Airtight Support

Percy Vannest went the route for Cogs and, except for a wildness that he developed late in the game, hurled sterling ball. He kept the hits scattered, and was assisted greatly by airtight support, the Cogs ranging far to stab hot ones. It looked as though Fosters would notch several in the fifth when they had the bases loaded with none out, but Mein took Nicholl's hot one to turn in a double play, the feature effort of the contest.

GILBERT CHANGES HIS MIND

HOLLYWOOD. — John Gilbert, screen lover, who a few weeks ago announced his retirement from the films, said to-day he had signed a long term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and would resume his motion picture career by playing the male lead in Greta Garbo's new production.

Mickey Cochrane, once a prize hitter, recently answered critics who say he will never be a good guy with the bat again by socking out a single, double, triple and home run—in a game against New York Yankee pitching!

Inside Sportin' Dope— By A. Wise Cracker

Stoney Lake, Aug. 9.

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, another week has rolled round and still the fish record of yours truly remains blank. Tell the truth, old-timer, they has been so much regattaing round these parts in the last few days they ain't been much time to go hunting for muskies and such. I took in the Juniper Island regatta Mon. and watched the folks from Chemong take away about everything except the Govt. wharf. The Stoney Lake young folks, Mac, is too thoroughly Johnsonized to do much racing. Instead of paddling their own canoe when they want to go places, they just stick 1 of Hughie Campbell's power plants on the rear end of anything that will float, pull a string and away they go. It's fast and it's easy, but it's darn poor practice for paddling races, and so Mon. the gang from Chemong had a picnic.

I'm a little behind in the general sporting dope, Mac, but anyway I gotta hand it to the Petes for finishing their schedule at top speed and doing a good job by cleaning up the Ponies, Belleville, Oshawa and the Terriers in a row, although I don't know that I oughta class the Toronto team in with the rest. I can't say much about the Central loop playoffs at this stage, Mac, except to remark once more that what it needs to polish off them pestilential Ponies the Petes have, and if they click right through the serious they oughta grab off the honors and qualify for the Ont. competition. Our heaving dept. surely has the edge on the Kingston gunners, and if the boys can give them some runs to work on the Petes' throwers should breeze home. However, by the time this gets into print the fans will know a lot more about the serious than I do right now.

I was glad to read the other day that my pet pitcher, Mister Robert Moses Grove, of the Athaletics, had shut out the Yanks for the 1st time in 2 years. It was fitting that the A's crack heaver whom I claim is the greatest gunner in baseball to-day, should be the 1 to administer the whitewash to the world's champs, and Mister Grove made a real job of it by holding the Yanks to 5 hits and fanning Mister Ruth twice with men on the sacks, which was a good day's work for anybody's pitcher.

Well, Mac, they don't seem to be much else to talk about today, and with the sun sparkling on a rippling lake and the old family launch being loaded up ready to leave for a shore dinner—I'm hitting 1000 in that league, old-timer—nobody could blame a bird for tossing the old pencil into a corner after hastily signing this billydoo with the well-known and official signature:

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

P.S.—Don't think I've given up the fish campaign, Mac. I'll get some yet if I hafta buy a can of salmon.—A.W.C.

LAMB IS WINNER BY THREE STROKES

Uplands Club Pro Captures Quebec Open Title for Third Time.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12 (CP)—Silent Willie Lamb of the Uplands Golf Club, Toronto, and defending champion of the province of Quebec open golf championship, successfully defended his title against the finest golfers of Eastern Canada yesterday, when he smashed his way around the Islemere golf course to the tune of 70-71, for a total of 141.

Lamb's three under par score marked a repetition of his 1931 and 1932 triumphs in the Quebec Open and established the record of being the first man to hold the Quebec Open title three times in succession.

Only in the final holes, however, did Lamb put an end to a tense battle he had waged all day with Lex Robson, Islington, Toronto, pro., and succeed in keeping his title by a three-stroke margin over his Queen City rival.

With Lamb marching in the van, the visiting group of Ontario professionals walked blithely through the ranks of the local professionals to capture proctically all the major honors. Robson took second place with a score of 144, and third place was divided between Bob Cunningham, Royal York, and Dave Ferguson, Weston, each with 147.

It remained for Sid Fry, young professional of the Rapids View Golf Club, to uphold the local end of the prize list. He tied with Jimmy Johnstone, of Rosedale, Toronto, for fifth place with a score of 148 strokes.

Prize for the low score made by an amateur went to Jack Cameron of Laval and present holder of the Quebec amateur title. Cameron had consistent rounds of 76 and 75 for a total of 151.

HINES-GOGGIN IN OTHER SET

Sarazen is Heavy Favorite to Capture U. S. Pro Honors This Year.

36-HOLE STRUGGLE.

(By Paul Mickelson, A.P. Sports Writer)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 12. — Johnny Farrell picked up his old role as "Jack the Giant Killer" today in a determined attempt to stop Gene Sarazen's rush toward another United States professional golf championship as a pair of near unknowns came face to face after leaving a string of upsets.

The unknowns were Jimmy Hines of New York and Willie Goggin, 27-year-old professional of a municipal course at San Francisco.

Sarazen, back on the game that made him open champion of Great Britain and the United States last year, was a heavy favorite—one to three in the clubhouse wagering to win the title—so Farrel, looking stronger and playing better, had his work cut out for him in the 36-hole struggle, due to begin at 10.40 a.m. C.S.T.

Scores Tenth Win

A real chip off the old block is Larry Daly, Jr., who recently scored his tenth victory on the race-tracks of the Quebec Racing Association when at Dorval, his filly, Margaret May, won at 20-1. He is a son of Larry Daly, Sr., now 80 years old, but still training horses and who, in his hey-day, campaigned the great Claude, winner of four derbies, and many other noted runners. "Father Bill" Daly, brother of Larry, Sr., is a noted turfman, too. Larry, Jr., was a rider before becoming a trainer and his greatest successes this season have been achieved with the "iron mare" Deserve, which started 33 times since January 1, and won many races for him. She is regarded as one of the most consistent platers in training on the continent.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

It would be no tournament at all if our frend "Hank Rosevear" from Port Hope was not in the money. Just as often as Hank comes to Peterborough he just as often lands well up in the prize list.

The occasion was the annual visit of the Port Hope bowlers to our club last night. These reunions which occur about twice every season help to bind together that spirit of good fellowship and sportsmanship that has long existed between these two towns.

Twenty-six rinks in all turned out last night. The boys were all mixed over with another and played three seven end games.

The winners in order were—Dr. Allan, K. Sloane, H. Rosevear, W. Wood, R. Hendry. Each winning rink received a basket off fruit.

While the men were having a good time here the lady bowlers were giving a good account of themselves over at Cobourg. They had an entry of twenty-six rinks, from Kngston, Stirling, Toronto, Port Hope, Cobourg and Peterborough.

Mrs. W. Whitty of Stirling was the successful winner, closely followed by Mrs. W. Darcy, Peterborough. Mrs. Monarch, Toronto came third, while Mrs. J. Coursey and Mrs. R. Martin of Peterborough finished fourth and fifth.

Mrs. Darcy's rink was composed of Miss H. Murphy, Mrs J. Fanning, Mrs. L. Yeotes, Mrs. W. Darcy, skip. Each received a beautiful Hudson Bay blanket.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Sparks will doubtless be flying at Central ere dusk descends tonight. Harrison's and Sugar Bowl are billed to clash at six in the first of the men's softball finals. Probably Lefty Sturgeon and Tom Montgomery will be the starting pitchers, and both teams will be in there battling with all the fury, speed and class that have marked their tangles in the past. Sugar Bowl has been copping the silverware a long time now and may repeat, but not before Percy Harrison's fiery scrappers kick up a lot of dust trying to slap them down. This first game will give fans an idea as to who looks like the '33 champs.

* * * * * * *

Baseball is not yet dead around Peterborough, nor will it be for some time yet. Not when young players are being developed like those on Herb Ralph's juveniles, the Terriers. We saw them in action last night for the first time this season—when they whitewashed Oshawa, 7-0, in the first of the Ontario semi-final series. And they looked as good as other great juvenile squads that have made this town noted wherever minor league ball is played in this province as being a hot spot for young ball players.

* * * * * * *

And we've seen plenty worse senior games than that one in Oshawa last eve. It ended 7 to 0, but right up until the eighth it looked very much like a 1-0 shutout with both kids' teams turning in a beautiful exhibition. They were on a good diamond and before a big crowd—with fine umpires, incidentally—and they went like a million bucks (which is a flock of shekels, we're told). The pitching and fielding was first-class, though there were a few errors which didn't mean anything. They play the second game at Stevenson Park here Wednesday p.m. and should draw a huge crowd (1) because it will be worth it and (2) because the kids need financial support like nobody's business.

* * * * * * *

Lefty Lesurf hurled a grand brand of ball, letting them down with five widely-scattered hits and burning his fast hook by fourteen batters, no less. His control was perfect and he was cool as a cucumber on ice in February. Eddie Starr slapped out three clean hits and caught a perfect game, and the other kids were right there too. They had a good following down from Peterborough to cheer them on. Give Oshawa credit, they have a smart juvenile team and may up and knock our boys off next game. Don't forget, only in one frame did Terriers have any edge to speak of, at all.

* * * * * * *

Gals' softball playoffs don't start till next Saturday, the executive decided last night. Seems Westclox, just coming back after two weeks holidays, don't feel ready yet to tackle the Keene champs. Playoffs will be three out of five, second game in Keene on Tuesday the 22nd, the third on Thursday here, and others to be decided upon later. It was felt that the delay this coming week should give the Council time to erect that other grandstand at the Bowl. Several exhibition games will be played over there through the week.

* * * * * * *

Referring to the Petes' victory Wednesday in Kingston, the Oshawa sportswriter says: "We venture to say the pill was anything but sugar-coated and very hard for the Ponies to swallow. The Petes' win was clean cut and decisive. Of course, Kingston reports state the Ponies played their worst game of the season. Somehow, that one sounds familiar. Just as we expected, Kingston fans were very dissatisfied with the Toronto umpires. If men like Sheppard and Oswin do not satisfy, then we are inclined to believe the fault lies in the stands, and not on the diamond. Perhaps the Kingston fans have been so used to getting all the close ones and some that were not even close, that they have forgotten what good decisions look like!"

* * * * * * *

The Belleville scribe also put the Ponies on the pan saying among other things: "After yesterday's contest it is quite evident why the Ponies' executive wanted a Kingston umpire for 'just one game' as they put . . . . Knotty Lee proved his statement when he said 'Willie can stop that gang anytime we get two umps who call them right' . . . . Once the Petes got the jump, the Ponies quit cold . . . . Some of the hometown players didn't take so well to the beating, throwing spikes, etc. They just can't take it . . . . They have no person in the world to blame but themselves, as their own officials have completely disgusted most every person in the league this past season!" Kind of unpopular aren't you, Kingston?

* * * * * * *

Cack Rogers—Wilf is his first moniker—one of the Petes' two catchers this year is the older and more experienced of the locals' receiving staff under Knotty Lee. Two seasons ago he led the C. O. B.L., hitting over .400, but his batting has dropped off somewhat this year. But Rogers is a steady, dependable catcher, real good at holding up a pitcher inclined to throw wild. And runners steal very few bases when Cack is back of the plate. His snap throws to first have made opponents wary about taking a long lead, and he is death on foul flies. He and Cy Whatley have been dividing duties in this department this year and both are making a fine job of it.

* * * * * * *

Picking 'em off the grapevine: Smith-Baldwins won the title in the Lindsay Softball League in three straight games . . . . Sarazen and Kirkwood will play Bob Abbott and Wm. Fairweather at the Peterborough Golf and Country Club Wednesday—dope will be out on it Monday . . . . Vern Beavis, Petes' star rightfielder is seriously ill, we understand—pleurisy developing from tonsilitis . . . . Tennis tourney open to all players in the city commences Wednesday at Peterborough and Kawartha Clubs, boys' and girls' singles, men's and ladies 'singles and doubles, and mixed doubles, with prizes for all classes . . . . Entries must be in by Monday eve; phone over weekend to D. A. MacTavish at 2379-J or H. A. Cranfield at 3069—fee is fifty cents a player . . . . Kawartha League matches today are: Peterborough at Quakers, Kawartha at Lakefield, and Port Hope at Lindsay . . . . Cogs qualified to meet C.G.E. in the E.P.L. play-offs next week by beating Foster's last night, the latter's losing streak easing them right out of the pitcure.

MENTAL HAZARD IS BIG OBSTACLE IN CUP TENNIS

British Singles Ace Believes U. S. Players Undertrained For Major Struggle.

TRIBUTE FOR VINES.

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—The hero of this year's victorious British Davis Cup team, slender, 24-year-old Frederick J. Perry, thinks he was "just a bit lucky" in one international tennis match at Paris, believes the American forces were under-trained for a battle on difficult grounds and that Ellsworth Vines was "a game fellow but mentally sick."

"No one who has not gone through the Davis Cup play, especially a challenge round, can have the slightest idea of the mental strain involved," said Perry to-day upon his arrival with three other English tennis players for a series of American engagements, including the United States championship at Forest Hills next month.

"That's what takes the toll in physical resources," continued the British ace, who is as noted for his fun-loving exploits on the courts as he is for the brilliance of his game. "I have a good time playing tennis, but there's no time for fooling in this Davis Cup competition.

Thinks Amerks Under-trained

"I think the Americans may have under-estimated our team. Certainly they seemed undertrained when we played them, rather than over-trained. Then, too, you people over here have never seen the real Austin. If you had and knew him as we do, for the sound player he is, you would not have been so surprised when he beat Vines."

"If you ask me for a single factor that helped defeat the Americans most I'd say it was their service. It is less effective at Roland Garros than on grass, anyway, and when Austin and I returned it successfully, we immediately had an advantage.

"My own opinion also is that Vines was mentally sick, far from his best, but what a game fellow he is! I have played him several times both here and abroad, and I feel sure he never knows when he is licked. He refused to stop playing against me at Paris until he collapsed, despite the pleadings of his captain.

It's the Mental Strain

"You know I collapsed myself beating Cochet in the challenge round. I am convinced it was mostly the mental strain, although I lost seven pounds and was well fagged. The strain was no less great for me when I faced Merlin for the final match. Everyone expected me to win the cup on Thursday when we won both singles but Merlin played all-or-nothing tennis. He had nothing to lose, the gallery was excitable and I think probably I was a bit lucky, after all."

Perry's teammates, H. G. N. Lee, Edward R. Avory and Frank Wilde aren't quite convinced it was "luck." They consider Perry as great a "match" player as tennis knows to-day, including Australia's Jack Crawford.

Perry will not play singles again until he competes in the United States championships, starting Sept. 2, at Forest Hills, against an all-star field, including Vines, Crawford and Cochet.

He will play in the doubles with Wilde at Newport, R.I., in the Casino invitation tournament next week. Lee and Avory combine in the same tournament, and the same pairings probably will be kept for the United States doubles at Longwood Club, Boston, later this month.

Perry hopes to play Vines in California again, even if they don't meet at Forest Hills. The Britons are booked for matches in San Francisco and Los Angeles. They have not yet decided whether they will extend their tour to Australia.

Perry declined to discuss newspaper stories which have linked his name with Vines, Cochet and others in connection with professional tennis projects.

"I have not given that a single thought," he said in reply to mention of the professional topic.

City Loop Softball Playoffs To-Night

Last year's finalists in the Men's City Sofeball League clash at six to-night at Central to start the final playoffs again this season. It is the first game of a three-out-of-five series for the city title, the Taylor Trophy, and the right to represent Peterborough in the O.A.S.A. playdowns. The winner of this series meet the Lindsay champions, Smith-Baldwins, next.

Probably Lefty Sturgeon, Bowlmen's "iron-man" heaver of other playoffs, will start on the mound for George Dormer's champs. Tom Montgomery may pitch for the Grocers, though this is just conjecture. Both squads will be at full strength, and the game to-night should be marked with the old-time fight which has featured play between these two classy outfits for several years now, and this season in particular, Harrison's have been coming along fast and many predict they will lift the crown this time.

ALEX. MORRISON says:

You have been told many times to start your backswing with your body, arms, hands and the club moving as though "all of one piece," but, you probably are still waiting to hear how this can be done.

When you attempt it, you find that your hands will start back ahead of your body or your body will turn around before you get the club started back.

Getting them all to start together is the problem.

The proper action can be brought about simply by pressing the upper part of your left arm against your body and keeping it pressed there until you are well along in the wind-up of your backswing.

E.P.L. TEAMS HAVE PLAYED GOOD BALL

Players Did Their Best Throughout Schedule to Provide Entertainment of Fans.

The final few games of the East Peterborough Baseball League schedule, just completed last night, were marked by a spirit not too common in baseball leagues in recent years, and one worthy of commendation by fans. Crescents were well out of the running when they met Fosters last Monday night, yet a full team turned out and they put up a fine battle, trying hard to win every inch of the way—though a victory meant nothing to them but the satisfaction of winning and also giving the crowd a good ball game. C.G.E. had a playoff position cinched Wednesday, but had a replay tie game. They could have defaulted it without harm to themselves but preferred to play it out and the best game of the season for E.P.L. followers.

This spirit shows the boys play for the love of it and they live up to the letter of the rules, letting a team win only on its merits. The playoffs begin Monday at six o'clock between Cogs and C.G.E. at the Exhibition Grounds, and they deserve a huge crowd. Fifteen cents admission for men, and ten for ladies.

Canadian Makes Good

Al Foreman, lightweight champ of British Isles, arrives in San Francisco from Australia en route to his home at Montreal. His manager is now in Chicago arranging a fight at the World's Fair. Foreman fights at 128 pounds and in the last three years has had fifty-nine victories, one draw and three losses.

BABE IS SAFE—Babe Ruth steals second safely but he must slide for it—quite a feat for the portly Bambino.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet
Or dims the radiant light
No unkind word our lips shall pass
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind

WARSAW

At a recent Institute meeting Miss Valetta Drain, at whose home a number of bees are kept, gave a very interesting paper of which a synopsis is given.

All kinds of people keep bees. Many women make successful bee-keepers, with, if possible a little help for the heaviest work. Many a student has laid his way through college by keeping bees during vacation. Many a farmer has found that for the small amount of capital invested, time and labor required in caring for them, bees have given larger returns than anything else on the farm.

Honey should be largely used in every home because of its high food value, and because of sweetness, delicately flavored, as the season passes according to the different flowers from which it is gathered. In cooking and preserving, it readily takes the place of sugar.

Authorities declare that there are about five thousand species of bees. Ordinarily people think only of the honey bee and the bumble bee. The honey bee, of which there are several varieties, is the only one which contributes to man's food supply. It is the most highly intelligent of all insects, and none other except the ant can compare with it in its wonderful community life. The ant does not build so elaborate a home, nor does it store its food so systematically.

The hive-bee was brought to this continent from Europe by the early colonists, and has made itself perfectly at home. In the eastern lands it has been known and appreciated for thousand of years. The children of Israel knew of honey and its uses. Later, in Judge, chapter 14, we are told of a swarm of bees being found by Samson in the carcass of a lion. In those early days sugar was unknown, nor were the bees so domesticated as at present, but the importance of honey was often expressed in the words, "A land flowing with milk and honey." Among honey bees there are male and female, and neuters, each as important as the other. The neuters, which are undeveloped females, are the smallest and the workers. Each worker has a curious honey-bag which corresponds to a bird's crop, in which the nectar is stored in transition to the hive, and during this transition something happens to it, as when it is forced out and placed in the cells of the honey-combs, it has a distinctive flavor, though affected by the flower, decidedly different from the nectar gathered.

What really happens has not yet been discovered

The males are larger than the workers, with more hairy bodies. Their eyes are many times as large, and their wings much stronger, but they have none of the special structures of the workers, for they do not work

Larger than the workers or the males, but slimmer than the male, is the perfect female or queen.

This name queen gives many the idea she rules the hive, but it is not so. She is the egg-laying bee, and because the swarms could not increase without her, she is carefully guarded by the workers She has no special privileges, nor is one allowed to live when not needed.

Since each hive needs but one queen, a second one that develops must either find her way elsewhere, be stung to death by the old queen or be suffocated by the workers. Neither the queen, nor the males have pollen baskets nor wax pockets. The queen never leaves the hive. The workers are the stinging bees.

Honey bees live in large colonies or societies known as swarms, which consist of from ten to sixty thousand individual bees. In all that number there is but one full grown queen; the males may number several hundred, but with the coming of the winter season these latter are all stung to death by the numerous workers.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

THE BROWSER

The fiction writers so the Browser has observed, are like the prospectors for gold....They stake out claims on fields they hope will be rich and order all trespassers away. ....Peter B. Kyne used to specialize with Cappy Ricks in the Pacific Coast lumber trade....Albert Payson Terhune has a copyright on collies....Sophie Kerr write about food and no one else can describe a high-calorie dinner as she can.

Faith Baldwin is an authority on the woman in business....Thomas Beer writes of rough diamonds with tender hearts....Robert W. Chambers knows more than college professors about early American history...Julia Peterkin knows the plantation negroes, Octavus Roy Cohen the negroes of the southern cities, Roark Bradford the negroes of the river lands and steamboats, and Carl Van Vechten knows the negroes of New York.

Kathleen Norris is the expert on the old-fashioned Irish-American family....Brun Lessing specialized in Jewish stories....B. M. Bowers had a monopoly on western cowboy stories for many a year....Joseph Conrad's competition was too tough for anybody who thought of writing about the South Seas. Beatrice Grimshaw does them now...Brooke Hanlon does the Pennsylvania Dutch. Elsie Singmaster used to.

William McFee handles the merchant marine....Ben Ames Williams is master of the New England countryside....Jimmy Hopper always writes a Christmas story.... Margaret Weymouth Jackson is standard for the small town. Edna Ferber once had exclusive rights to the woman drummer....And so it goes.

What authors prize above all else is Local Color. What they are eternally seeking is some special field that nobody has exhausted and that will interest the reader and keep him interested. Harold Lamb goes to the past, to Mongol raids and the Crusades. Konrad Bercovici take a rich vein of ore out of gypsy life. One man writes about deep sea divers, another creates a Tug-Boat Annie, still another develops a special kind of detective.

That isn't new. Shakespeare, Sir Walter Scott, Charles Dickens, Rudyard Kipling, James M. Barrie, all staked out a claim in some special field of interest and built their reputations there....One writer is wistful, another delicate, another whimsical, another rugged, another shocking; hardly one of them has more than one story to tell but he must tell it many times.

• • •

A writer must keep his mind on the move....Sinclair Lewis writes one novel about the American business man. Then he has to do another about the American preacher. Then one on the American doctor, and finally one on the American social worker....He can't live on the royalties from laurels. He must do something with a wallop in it or pass out of popularity

Even so gentle a writer as Willa Cather must keep her mind acquisitive for a new subject. She does a mid-western story. She writes about Bohemian immigrants. She travels to the southwest, right into the centre of the Santa Fe colony of writers, lives there a while, and takes a fine story like "Death Comes to the Archbishop" right out from under their noses. Then she goes forth to Quebec and develops another bit of historic local color.... She must be on the alert like all other writers.

A writer thinks his name is established. Then he finds new names in the magazines for which he writes. He finds a new star with a big sale for a latest novel. A Pearl Buck comes out of China and surpasses them all, for example. And the old-established writers must feel queer....The new ones coming up, the old ones going out, unless they change....And people reading stories in magazines and between covers and saying to themselves, "I could write a story like that one. I could, I could, I KNOW I could!"....But nine times in ten they could NOT. For writing is an art, a craft, a trade, an opportunity for the use of intelligence, ability and even genius. A story may look like a simple thing, but it isn't It is the product of experience and wisdom. The successful writers know what to put in and what to leave out.

INSTITUTE IS GIVEN SPLENDID SUPPER

Delightful Social Evening is Held by Mount Pleasant Institute.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 10 (Examiner Correspondent)—Thirty-two guests sat down to the dinner on Tuesday evening, held in the Women's Institute Hall, sponsored by the local W.I. and provided by the makers of a widely-known brand of aluminum ware, with Messrs. Hamilton, Cullen, and Williamson in charge of the event. Tables were laid and were attractive with lovely summer blossoms; a brief talk by Mr. Hamilton on the advantages gained from the proper cooking of food together with a demonstration of that prepared for the dinner, preceded the service of the meal.

Waiting on the tables were Mrs. E. McLean, Mrs. H. Sisson, Mrs. M. Jones, Mrs. M. Handley, and Mrs. Lowe. A solo, "The Old Rugged Cross," by Mr. Williamson, with Miss Grace Best as accompanist, was greatly enjoyed before the dinner was served, and his fine baritone voice was again heard as a concluding feature of the evening's entertainment when he chose "Out of the Ivory Palace," as the closing selection.

Mr. Cullen gave an illustrated address on food values when the meal had reached its conclusion, dealing largely with natural foods as the basic stone in the six absolute requirements for good health; and in the draw made by Mrs. I. Lowe from the signed cards turned in by the guests of the evening, the lucky number went to Miss Perla Handley, who was then presented with the mixing bowl.

Mrs. H. Rutherford acted as cashier; the entire proceeds from the sale of tickets going to the society sponsoring the event.

Messrs. Herman and Gordon McLean spent the week-end with their mother, Mr. E. McLean.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gardiner spent Sunday evening with friends in Millbrook.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, August 13

Sunday's horoscope augurs a pleasant, propitious and happy day in all its contacts and relationships, excepting possible employment, in which there may a modicum of uncertainty, inharmony or friction. Otherwise, there is assurance of general progress and prosperity, with much of a personal nature to advance the ambitions and enlarge the fortunes and personal comfort and well being.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of enhanced good fortune, with heightened happiness, progress and prosperity in both personal and business relations. Employment may call for direction lest friction enter. But honors, friendship and fulfilled ambitions are in store, with gain both by investment, speculation or perhaps inheritance. Pleasure and gaiety loom large during the year.

A child born on this day will be capable, ambitious and successful, endowed for big business rather than employment. It will have a happy and popular life.

• • •

For Monday, August 14

Monday's astrological forecast is for much activity and liveliness, but with the presage of trickery, fraud, misrepresentation and other forms of sinister and crafty methods of undermining the best efforts. Be on guard against these as well as open ruptures and secret enmities, especially by word of mouth, and carefully submit all agreements to writing. A sensational flavor in private affairs is possible unless circumspect behavior is exercised.

Those whose birthday it is may be ready to meet and circumvent some sinister and treacherous conditions, combatting these by open and decisive action and vigorous resistance. But wisdom and discretion are called in all relations, with agreements and contracts rendered secure by writings and definite contracts. Jealousy, bitter speech and wrangling may be encountered.

A child born on this day will be versatile and clever, quick but subtle of speech and given to ways of expediency. Its private affairs may be spectacular.

You will find many things in the Classified Ads of The Examiner.

Doctors of 52 Countries Recommend Fellows' Syrup

Physicians of today prescribe Fellows' Syrup as did the doctors of 60 years ago. Their experience with this time-tried tonic has convinced them of its body-building efficacy through its ability to replenish the essential mineral salts needed by weakened, run-down systems.

They know how effective it is in cases of nervous depression, how quickly it excites a dulled appetite, and induces both physical and mental vigour.

If you are under par, the mineral foods in Fellows' Syrup—calcium, sodium, potassium, iron, manganese and phosphorous—are just what your system needs to win back abounding health. At your dealer's! Two sizes.

RANGERS TAKE 5 TO 1 VICTORY SCOTTISH LOOP

Queen of South Signalizes First Division Debut With 3-1 Win.

HIBERNIANS LOSE 2-1.

Aberdeen Trounces Ayr United 8-1, Hearts Blanks St. Mirren 6-0.

GLASGOW, Scotland, Aug. 12 (CP Cable).—The long soccer season got under way in Scotland to-day, two weeks ahead of the opening of the English League, and the champion Rangers got off on the right foot with a smashing 5-1 victory over Airdrieonians at home.

Queen of the South moved up to the First Division this season, signalized their debut with a 3-1 victory over Celtic at home, but Hibernians, the other promoted club, travelled to Queen's Park to absorb a 2-1 defeat.

East Sterlingshire and Morton, relegated to the Second Division for the new season, won and lost respectively at Leith Athletic and Dunfermline.

The most one-sided result of the day saw Aberdeen trounce Ayr United by 8 goals to 0. Hearts whitewashed St. Mirren 6-0. Only one match in either league was drawn, Falkirk and Third Lanark each scoring three goals at the former's grounds.

Would Allow Officers Guns Outside Tunics

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 12 (C.P.).—Recommendation that in future all city constables on night duty be allowed to carry their revolvers in a holster in a convenience place outside their tunics, was made at an inquest into the fatal shooting last Sunday night of Constable George Lenhard, Regina police constable.

Constable Lenhard came to his death "by being shot with a revolver in the hands of some person unknown while in the discharge of his duty," was the verdict given by the Coroner's jury after hearing a number of witnesses.

Meanwhile search for the slayers of Constable Lenhard proceeded. Facts given police by two transients were believed to be aiding them in their activities.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY

(Special to Examiner.)

LITTLE POKER Face Mattioli has been the leading rider at all the leading tracks since the Canadian racing season opened this spring. A number of people are playing nothing but his mounts and finding it fairly profitable. He can sure give a million dollar ride when necessary. Offhand we would say that he and Dude Foden are the two best pigskin pilots plying their trade on the Canadian circuit. Of course Mattioli gets more mounts as Foden only rides for Conny Smythe and an odd one for the J. E. Smallman stable.

THE CONSISTENT Ned O is up at Fort Erie and appears to be in excellent condition. This hide has a lot of class and a few years ago was the winter book favorite for the Kentucky derby His owner the late Buck Foreman refused an offer of twenty-five thousand smackers for him at that time. Boscobel is another that is due for a lot of smart money. This one is half-sister to Tred Avon, that has the distinction of once beating the famous Equipose.

* * *

PITCHBLENDE, WHICH is carded to make the first start of his career this afternoon at Fort Erie is a half-brother of Queensway and Frothblower, both of whom won the famous King's plate in recent years. If he takes after them it will not be long until he makes his presence felt around the circuit. Galahad is one of the most consistent platers on the Canadian wheel at the present time. The hoss can hold his own with any company they ask him to match strides with and can carry plenty of weight too.

* * *

BUSHMAN has not yet reached his real stride as yet but one of these days he will and then watch the fireworks. He is one of the most honest platers in training and has changed hands seven times this year via claiming route as all smart horsemen seem to want him to eat his oats in their barn.

Dominion Botanist Dr. M. Malte Is Dead

OTTAWA, Aug. 12 (C.P.).—Wireless messages received here to-day told of the death of Dr. M. O. Malte, Dominion botanist. While a member of a Canadian Arctic expedition, he took ill on the Hudson Bay steamer Nascopie, was rushed to Moosonee, at the lower end of James Bay, but died on a train on the way to Winnipeg.

Dr. Malte, a native of Sweden, was botanist for the Federal Department of Mines. He was a member of a party visiting outposts in the Canadian Arctic Archipelago, but fell ill some days ago. The Nascopie put about, making for Moosonee, when the ship's doctor, J. A. Bildwell, recognized the full extent of Dr. Malte's illness.

At Moosonee, the end of steel in Ontario, Dr. Malte was placed temporarily in hospital, but died later when being transferred to Winnipeg by train.

EVERETT CASTLE TO BRING MODEL TO EXHIBITION

Invention Hailed as One to Revolutionize Automobile Industry.

FUTURE UNLIMITED

Intends to Locate Plant in Peterborough in Year Or Two.

John Everett Castle, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Castle of Romaine street, this city and inventor of the Lambert-Castle Motor Head, which according to the opinion of prominent engineers, promises to revolutionize the automotive industry, was a recent caller at The Examiner office.

He announced that a working model of his invention, mounted on a channel frame, is to be on public display at the Canadian National Exhibition and also at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

The Lambert-Castle Motor Head Company (of Canada) Limited have had the assurance of every engineer who has inspected the motor that the possibilities of the invention for the development of power in every field where the internal combustion engine can be used—in marine, aviation, tractors, automobiles, army equipment or the like—is unlimited.

Mr. Castle was accompanied on his visit to The Examiner office by Mr. Lambert, president of the Lambert Machine and Tool Company of Windsor. While displaying high-pitched enthusiasm for his invention, he was quite modest about his own accomplishments.

"The idea was simple", he said, "but without Mr. Lambert's co-operation and financial backing the idea would have been useless. The wonderful part of the whole thing to me is that I was able to find such a man as Mr. Lambert, who could see the possibilities of my idea and then help me to put that idea into action".

The Lambert-Castle Motor Head Company (of Canada) Limited has just beeen incorporated, and within the space of a short time Mr. Castle is hopeful that production will be commenced on the building of Lambert-Castle High Compression heads that can be attached to any car now existing regardless of make. He is confident that within the next year or so, he will locate a plant in Peterborough, his native city, for the manufacture of the Lambert-Castle heads.

EXPERT IN OILS IS J. G. STEWART

Lubrication a Feature of Corner Service Garage, Charlotte St.

For the long life of every automobile, truck, tractor or machine of any kind which uses gasoline as a fuel and motor oil as a lubricant, the better the grade, obviously the longer the life of the motor.

Auto owners of Peterborough and vicinity are indeed fortunate in having in their midst a home-owned firm such as the Corner Service and Garage, 329 Charlotte; Phone 806. It is a most modern filling station and can fulfill your wants at any time. There, one always gets free air in all the tires, including spare or extra. Not only the air is free, but the service is prompt and cheerfully given

Mr. J. G. Stewart was for years in charge of the Imperial Oil Co.'s largest Toronto stations, and knows the lubricating business from A to Z. When he tells you which kind of oil is best fitted to your particular needs you can rely upon it being the best. Any troubles you may be having in lubricating, take them to this concern, and let them solve them for you.

When all of these points are considered, it is not strange that the the Corner Service and Garage is getting more and more popular among the people of the city and surrounding towns Tourists, also, who have been filled up there once, stop on their next trip through the city.

Mr. Stewart is of high standing among the business men of this section, and is prominent in the commercial activity of Peterborough and surrounding country. At all times he has the interest of this, his trade centre, at heart, knowing that the better he serves his fellow citizens, the more regard they will have for his services.

We believe that it is due him and the firm that special attention be directed to the wonderful service rendered by them. Do you know what kinds of gas and oil is featured at this station?

YOUNG GIRL'S DROWNING TO STIR INVESTIGATION

TORONTO, August 12 (C P.).—Outcome of the drowning of Frances Elaine Cole, 13-year-old Scarboro Township girl, was the demand today of Harry Kirwin, chairman of the Scarboro Public Utilities Commission, for an inquest into the girl's death. Coupled with the demand was an indictment of the Township Board of Supervisors for refusing to permit the expenditure of $400 for life-saving facilities.

The girl was drowned yesterday in Lake Ontario off Lakeview Park, when the backwash of a huge breaker swept her into the open lake.

G. A. KINGSTON HEADS FAIRS

Campbellford District Boards Meet to Discuss Mutual Problems.

ADMISSION FEES REMAIN.

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Getting together to discuss matters of interest to all fair boards, the District Fair Boards' Association met yesterday afternoon in the Public Library, Campbellford, and went into many phases of fair work including horse racing, exhibits and admission prices. A feature of the meeting was the re-election of George A. Kingston, Campbellford, as president of the association, and J. E. O'Donnell of Stirling, secretary. It was also decided to meet next year as early as the first week in June, and at Campbellford, that being chosen as a central point. Fair boards represented were Campbellford, Warkworth, Stirling and Norwood.

After general discussion regarding admission fees, it was generally agreed that last year's prices will hold this season, i.e., adults 35 cents; cars 25 cents, and children 10 cents.

Much discussion centred around the advisability of making each heat in the horse races a race in itself, instead of the usual two out of three or three out of five. This seemed to be generally favored by all boards, although it is doubtful if some will follow this ruling this year as printed matter has already been distributed. However, it is quite on the boards that Campbellford will amend their races to this ruling this season.

Regarding the matter of a midway for the fairs, the presidents of each association was appointed a committee to try and arrange for this feature entertainment, working along the line of a circuit to visit all fairs in order.

The Campbellford board was represented by President Robert Innes, W. S. Milne, Dr. S. L. O'Hara, T. J. Horkins and G. A. Kingston.

Obituary

MRS. C. H. NADOO

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — The funeral of the late Mrs. Chas. H. Nadoo was held yesterday from the family residence, Inkerman street, Campbellford, to Christ Church, where funeral service was conducted by the Rev. T. H. Floyd, interment being made in Mount Pleasant cemetery. The pall bearers were: A. G. Thompson, F. C. Bonneycastle, J. C. Birmingham, J. P. Archer, J. R. Battisby and H. Coxwell.

Mrs. Nadoo, who before her marriage was Miss Effa Haigh, was born in Stouffville, sixty-two years ago, but for the past thirty years has resided in Campbellford. Her husband predeceased her last January. Athough not in good health since the death of her husband, her death was sudden, the end coming early Wednesday morning. In religion she was an Anglican and one of her chief interests in life were her roses, of which flowers she had a magnificent garden full.,

Surviving are two daughters, (Thelma) Mrs. Ed. Mosthaf of Flint Mich.; and (Norma) Mrs. Robert Ingram of Campbellford.

MRS. ROBERT LINN

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Christina M. Smith, widow of the late Robert Linn, a pioneer of the district and at one time well known in religious and community circles, was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the family plot in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Campbellford, following the funeral service, which was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alex Abar, Canrobert street. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. C. Robinson of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, assisted by the Rev. H. P. L. Seymour of St. John's United Church and Deaconess Findlay of the Free Methodist Church. The pall bearers were J. R. Battisby, Carmen Windrim, Robert McCulloch, John Thompson, William Rannie, and J. H. McArthur.

Born in Seymour East 75 years ago, a daughter of the late William Smith, she has lived all her life in this district, and for the past thirty years has been a resident of town, living with her daughter, Mrs. Alex Abar, where her death occurred at Wednesday noon, following a stroke sustained some days ago.

A Presbyterian in religion, being a member of St. Andrew's Church, she was at one time very active in church work, and always took a keen interest in the welfare of the church and the community. Her husband, who was at one time chief constable of Campbellford, predeceased her some years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs William Boothby of Toronto, and Mrs. Alex Abar of Campbellford; one sister, Mrs. Clement Bayes of Campbellford; and one brother, Walter J. Smith of Los Angeles, California.

HASTINGS

Hastings and the Trent River beauties was the topic of an address delivered by C. W. Hoover at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club of Lodi, Ohio. Mr. Hoover, who had just returned last week from a month's fishing trip at Hastings where he and his party were very successful.

Mr. Lodi who is an officer of the Lodi State Bank states in his letter that there were over forty present who had spent their holidays in Hastings and were loud in their praises of the Trent Waterway System.

Signs

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Anglers have discovered a practical use for the lily pond recently constructed on the courthouse lawn.

Several bass occupy the pond. If one of the boys figure on going fishing he takes a few cracker crumbs and flips them into the lily pond. If the fish rise to them it is a sign that they are striking, and he grabs his road and hies to the river. If they don't come up to the cracker crumbs he stays at home.

W. I. HOSTESSES TO 60 CHILDREN

Lakefield Branch Stages Picnic at Canal Park—May be Annual Event.

RACES MAKE MERRIMENT.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 12 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Woman's Institute were hostesses to about sixty children on Wednesday afternoon at the Canal Park. The children were well behaved and so appreciative of the delightful time given them that the ladies felt well repaid for the effort put forth on their behalf. Mr. and Mrs. Kelsey kindly gave the use of their lawn for the tea and the bountiful supplies of goodies provided melted away rapidly. The provision was ample and old and young had a good time, a program of races was run off and at the end a scramble, a form of pleasure which never fails to delight.

The following were winners of the races: Children under 5 years: Sylvia Baker, Ruth Baker. 5 year old: Betty Lake, L. Morin. Boys, 5, 6 and 7: Harry Derushie, George Birch. Girls, 8 and 9: Rose Wong, Hazel Moore and Norine Bird. Boys 9 and 10: Gerald Pearson, Cameron Pearson. Wheelbarrow race: Ralph Mason and Ralph Jackman; Charlie Birch and Jack Harb'son. Three-legged race (Girls): Margaret Hunter and Mary Wong; Norine Birch and Evelyn Moore. Boys' 3-legged race—Dick Harbison and Charlie Birch; Ralph Mason and Jack Morrison. Thread the needle race, open to members of the Junior Institute: Miss Opal Roseborough; Ethel Blakeley. Nail-driving contest, open to the Woman's Institute: Mrs. Howard Bullock.

The members of the Junior Institute were guests of the Senior branh and assisted in amusing the children. The assistance of Mr. Harry Armstrong in running off the races was valuable and much appreciated by the ladies, as Mr. Armstrong has had a good deal of experience in this work.

The picnic will probably become an annual event in the program of the Institute.

Blooms Draw Crowds To Hammond Gardens

MARMORA, August 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — The well-known nursery gardens of James Hammond on the Madoc Road have attracted many visitors again this summer. Following the large and beautiful display of tulips the beauty of the gardens has later been enhanced by a wealth of peonies and delphiniums. At the present time, the predominant bloom is the phlox.

At no other place for miles can so many shades of color and such an abundance of phlox be seen as in the Hammond Gardens. At least forty distinctive shades flourish here. There is quite a demand for the blooms and roots of this late summer perennial.

Two orchards of young apple trees are also flourishing on the Hammond property. Within a few years the gardens and orchards may be appropriately termed "The Eden of Marmora Township."

GRAHAM AND WELLS HEATING EXPERTS

Made Close Study of Hot Air Heating Systems.

The establishment of Graham and Wells, 134 Hunter street, is recognized as one of the most expert sheet metal and furnace concerns in this section. They understand and execute all classes of sheet metal work, regardless of the problems one may have in this line. Years of experience together with their knowledge of all the perplexing features of the modern day sheet metal work, enables them to overcome practically every difficulty.

One of their specialties is the installation of furnaces and it is their endeavor to install these so as to give the highest type of service. They are installed under a standard code which is the correct guide for securing maximum service and absolute results. Before deciding upon a furnace for the home, be sure to consult them, or Phone 1229. Their experience has proven to them the value of a scientific heating plant properly installed.

They are specialists of the highest order of excellence in all factory sheet metal and heating work. Their experience in this line will prove of great value to any concern that is contemplating having work of th's nature done.

Messrs Graham and Wells are local men who have been serving the people of this section in this line of business for a number of years.

The highest grade of workmanship, together with dependability and prices of consistent modesty has been the policy of this concern. In fact, they render an indispensable service to the people of th's community. It might be well to suggest that whenever one is in need of any work relative to tinsmithing or furnace, welding, metal roofing, flashing, eave-troughing, etc., work that they get in touch with this firm. Plans or estimates are always available and are cheerfully given.

Do you know their price range for cleaning furnaces?

Fairmount W.M.S. Holds August Meet

(Examiner Correspondence)

FAIRMOUNT, Aug. 12.—The regular monthly meeting of the Fairmount W. M. S. was held in the Sunday school room on Wednesday, Aug. 2.

The meeting was opened by singing, "The Whole World Was Lost," followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. Mrs. Robt. Hooton lead in prayer. The section rally is to be held at Bethany next month and as many of the Fairmount ladies as possible are to attend. It was moved and carried that Mrs. Ada McBain, Mrs. W. Shaw, Miss Sadie Allin and Mrs. R. H. McArthur be the committee to get up an entertainment to raise money to help meet the allocation.

The rest of the program was mostly taken by the children of the community. Betty Allin gave a recitation entitled, "Kitty's appeal for the Missionaries." Mr. Lloyd Hooton rendered a solo, "We Would See Jesus"; Helen Earle gave a reading, "Mrs. Pickett's Missionary Box."

A lovely duet was played on the piano by Roger Hanbridge and Duncan Seymour. Jean Hanbidge gave a reading and the meeting was brought to a close by singing that beautiful hymn, "I Love to Tell the Story."

MISSING MAN FEARED DROWNED IN LAKE

Upturned Canoe Found on Shore Of Clear Lake

James Freeburn, 25, Resident of Young's Point District Has Been Missing From His Home Since Early Friday Evening.

POLICE AND COTTAGERS STARTED DRAGGING LAKE IN SEARCH OF BODY — PADDLE FOUND.

KAWARTHA PARK, August 14 (Staff Special). — Missing since Friday noon and believed drowned, Provincial Police and cottagers spent hours yesterday dragging Clear Lake for the body of James Freeburn, aged 25, resident of the Young's Point district.

Fears for Freeburn's safety were aroused first yesterday when he failed to return with a canoe he had rented on Friday from Dave Charlton, of Kawartha Park. Inquiries round the lake failed to gain any knowledge of Freeburn's movements after setting forth from Kawartha Park in the canoe. A search party was then organized.

Found Canoe.

Hilliard Dunsford, a farmer on the east shore of the lake, reported to the searching party that he had found a canoe half-filled with water floating near the east shore. The canoe was identified as that which Freeburn had rented from Mr. Charlton.

Further along the shore, about half a mile above the Rotary Boys' Camp, the party found a floating paddle, which belonged to the same canoe.

The searchers then communicated with Provincial Constable W. Warren, who secured grappling irons from the local Fire Department and took the equipment to Clear Lake. Several boat loads of men began dragging the lake near where the canoe and paddle were found.

Dragging operations had to stop yesterday because of the roughness of the lake, but the search was resumed to-day.

EVENTS MOVING TO DISSOLUTION FREE STATE DAIL

Observers Predict General Election in Sight for September.

BLUE SHIRTS NEW MENACE

Many Hint De Valera May Introduce New Budget Without Appeal.

(By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Writer.)

DUBLIN, Aug. 14—(C. P. Cable.)—Events were moving swiftly to-day towards an early dissolution of the Irish Free State Dail. Some observers to-day predicted a general election during September; others thought the election would be during the winter.

There were few who expected the government of Eamon De Valera would introduce another budget without an appeal to the people.

Two forces are impelling the De Valera government towards dissolution:

The growth of the Blue Shirt movement which threatens to become a serious rival to both the De Valera party and the Fianna Fail headed by former Premier William T. Cosgrave.

Restlessness of younger Republicans who want to see speedier actions towards severance of the British link.

Ever since De Valera took office ties which link the Free State to the British commonwealth of nations have been gradually whittled down. The oath of allegiance has gone. The governor-general has been reduced to a cypher. Notice has been given of further constitutional amendments which will finally terminate the powers of the governor-general as the representative of the Crown.

On Brink of Republic.

De Valera now stands on the brink of a republic but hesitates to take the plunge.

And when the battle comes at the polls the scene will have been dramatically changed. Republicans who previously declined to become candidates so long as the oath of allegiance to the crown was required will now find the way open to accept nominations. If De Valera should be returned with their support they will impel him forward. 17,000 Miners Strike At Swansea, Wales

SWANSEA, Wales, August 14 (C. P.). — Anthracite miners to the number of 17 000 were idle to-day because of their employers' failure to settle claims respecting a seniority rule and the reported refusal of operators to pay minimum wages in certain collieries.

The strikers will be joined by 6,000 more to-morrow and on Wednesday. Their representatives on Saturday decided to put into effect notices of the demands of the employers.

Operators declared they have offered to investigate the dispute fully if the notices were withdrawn

CLASH AVERTED DUBLIN SPENDS QUIET WEEK-END

Government Taking No Chances, Had Troops and Police Standing By.

ATMOSPHERE TENSE.

Half Dozen of O'Duffy's Blue Shirts Beaten Up—Several Street Fights.

(By George Hambleton, C. P. Staff Writer)

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 13.—(C. P. Cable)—Dublin spent a comparatively quiet week-end after General Owen O'Duffy cancelled a parade of his "Blue Shirts" banned by the government and today there were reports the administration might declare the organization illegal.

Atmosphere on the streets of this city yesterday was one of tension Although General O'Duffy had called off the parade troops stood ready for emergency. Police guards were assembled in force about the "Blue Shirt" headquarters. Cordons were flung across both ends of the Merrion street approach to the cenotaph with orders to allow past only those bearing permits to deposit wreaths.

The cenotaph, however, was deserted and no wreaths were deposited. Friends and relatives of Arthur Griffith, Michael Collins and Kevin O'Higgins, in whose honor the monument was erected, declined to use their permits.

At the end of a strange day of commemoration only one tribute lay on the cenotaph. It was the remains of an old wreath deposited long ago, a little heap of rusted wires with withered stems of faded flowers.

Blue Shirts Mobbed

Mid-day brought a smart clash in O'Connell street but it passed quickly. A half-dozen blue shirts attempted to parade despite the government ban and were attacked by a crowd after they had gone a few yards. A series of street fights threatened to become a general melee. Police charged three times swinging their batons. One member of the crowd received a cracked head and the blue shirts, faces bloody and clothes torn, were taken back to their headquarters.

Mrs. Margaret Collins of Driscoll, sister of Michael Collins, wrote the press a letter, protesting vigorously against action taken by President De Valera's government in banning the blue shirt parade.

"The government," she wrote, "have by their actions carried enmity beyond the grave. They grudged to dead opponents the honor which it was proposed to accord their memory. They are in the position of an 11th hour convert and their chagrin is intensified every time they look out of their office windows at the busts of the three men who, 11 years ago, pointed the way to them.

NEW YORK, August 14 (C. P.). — Charlie, a German shepherd puppy, stubbed his toe and caused more other than any other dog ever did on upper Broadway.

The stubbing of the toe precipitated Charlie into a deep crevice of a rock pile in a vacant lot. For five hours, while a crowd looked on, police emergency squad labored to get Charlie out.

Four tons of rock were moved, then police drilled a hole down to Charlie. A boy was lowered head first through the hole, and finally came out with a wriggling bunch of joy in his arms. It was Charlie.

FIRE MENACES TWO VILLAGES

Newfoundlanders Prepare Boats in Case Wind Turns Flames.

NO RAIN FOR 2 WEEKS.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Aug. 14 (CP)—Hungry flames licked about the edges of two Green Bay villages to-day as forest fires held at bay by an easterly wind ate their way through timber surrounding the fishing communities of Middle Arm and Burlington.

Residents of Middle Arm had spent a sleepless night watching the slow advance of a fire that had menaced their homes since Friday. And they hoped against a shifting wind that would send the flames racing towards the village.

The villagers had been prepared since early last night to escape to boats anchored offshore, but they remained by the settlement as the wind kept the flames about 500 yards from the village.

They were advancing steadily, however, against the wind during the night and fishermen and their families prayed for a rainfall to relieve the two weeks' drought and put down the fire before further damage was caused At Burlington no immediate danger was in prospect. Fire had claimed its toll there last week, sweeping into the outskirts of the village to destroy 14 homes.

U.S. Seaman in Germany Gets 6 Months For Calling Adolf Hitler "Czech Jew"

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Amazement was expressed at the United States Consulate General today at the severity of the sentence imposed on Thorsten Johnson, American seaman charged with having called Chancellor Hitler a Czech Jew.

The Consulate expects shortly to send a representative to Stettin, where an emergency court ruled Johnson must serve six months.

"Before Johnson's trial," a Consulate spokesman said, "we were in contact with the state's attorney at Stettin and received a distinct impression that the case was not regarded as serious, especially as Johnson claims he merely said, 'Hitler is a Czechoslovak and the Jews don't like him.'

"But even if he said that Hitler is a Czech Jew we consider six months imprisonment grotesque.'

Mass Picketing Being Continued Warning Given

City Police Visited Unemployed Pickets And Warned Them About Unlawful Interference With an Officer of the Peace.

TENANT IS BEHIND $31.00 IN HIS RENT; ONLY INCOME UNEMPLOYED LANDLORD HAS Received Several Notices To Vacate But Claims He Was Unable To Obtain Other Accommodation —Would Buy Back Chattels At Auction.

One hundred unemployed pickets waited in vain today, for the appearance of a landlord's bailiff to make a seizure of furniture at 612a Armour road, tenanted by Albert Cooper and his wife and seven children.

The pickets, members of the Unemployed Workers' Federation, were on hand with the expressed intention of placing the furniture back in the home should it be placed out on the street; or in the event of a sale to be present in a body to buy back the chattels at auction.

City police visited the pickets twice during the forenoon, held conferences with Holland, and warned him of the consequences that might result upon unlawful interference with a peace officer in the execution of his duty.

Police were inclined to the view that mass picketing of the house by the unemployed amounted to intimidation.

Following the second visit of the police, Holland told The Examiner he intended to withdraw all the pickets but two, who would do 24-hours duty. The remainder of the men, Holland said would hold themselves in readiness at the hall, in case they were needed, but later this afternoon the pickets returned.

The property is owned by John Anderson who lives in his own house next door, and who according to The Examiner's information is an unemployed mouldmaker, whose only source of income is from the house he rented to the Cooper family.

Arrears of $31.00

Cooper who has lived in the house since last October, stated that his arrears of rent amounted in all to $31. The rental, he said, was $18 per month. He owed the rent for July, he stated, while the balance of $13 had been owing since last December.

He stated, that he received his first notice to quit at the end of February last. When the notice expired on April 1st, he did not vacate the house, as he had been unable to obtain other accommodation As a result, he explained, he received a three day notice to quit.

Cooper disregarded that notice, according to his own explanation, and as a result he received a warning from a local firm of solicitors some time in July that if he did not vacate the premises a writ would be issued against him. The writ was never issued.

"A week ago last Friday", said Cooper, "I was served with another three day notice and on Wednesday last the bailiff came at about quarter to eight in the evening and said he was going to seize my goods."

Cooper expcstulated that he had been unable so far to secure any other accommodation for his wife and family. He was willing to pay off the arrears of rent, as soon as he could earn some money. He had wanted to pay off the December arrears out of relief money, he said, but had not been allowed to do so.

Action Anticipated

Action by the Unemployed Workers' Federation was anticipated by a resolution passed at a special meeting of the organization on Friday evening. The resolution was to the effect that upon any member of the Federation receiving an eviction notice from his landlord, it was the intention of the U.W.F.

BARON SEATON DIES IN LONDON

Grandfather Was First Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada.

DESCENDANT OF DRAKE.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Aug. 14 (CP Cable).—A link with Canada's earliest military annals was broken to-day with the death of Lord Seaton of Buckland Abbey, Devonshire, at the age of 79.

His grandfather, the first Baron Seaton, was Lieutenant-Governor of Upper Canada, and was rewarded for his services at the Battle of Waterloo by a pension of £2,000 payable to the third generation. This pension, one of the very few payable directly from the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom, now lapses. The only other such pension in existence now is still being paid to a descendant of Admiral Lord Nelson.

John Reginald Upton Elliott-Drake-Colborne, third Baron Seaton, was born July 4, 1854. He married Elizabeth Beatrice, daughter of the late Sir Francis G. A. Fuller-Elliott-Drake, a direct descendant of Admiral Drake.

One of His Lordship's greatest treasures was Drake's drum, believed to have gone around the world with the adventurer in the Golden Hind. It is traditionally held the drum beats whenever England is in danger, and it is said to have rumbled in August, 1914, at the outbreak of the Great War.

When financial crisis overtook Great Britain a few years ago, Baron Seaton made a voluntary cut of 10 per cent in the pension from the Government. Baron Seaton served during the Great War as Commander of a remount squadron and also at Lemnos and Alexandria in 1915. He was Camp Commandant at Alexandria for five months; was on the Embarkation staff at Salonica and resigned his commission in 1917.

Heir to the title is Major the Hon. J. U. R. G. Colborne-Vivion.

KITCHENER JEWS ARE UP IN ARMS OVER SWASTIKAS

Petition Mayor Stephens to Prohibit Rally Scheduled For To-night.

REQUEST REFUSED.

Police, However, Will Be on on Duty to Guard Against Any Trouble.

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 14.—(CP)—Kitchener Jews, incensed by a number of posters here announcing a meeting tonight of a new Swastika organization, have petitioned Mayor W. H. Stephens to prevent the meeting.

The mayor said that the Jews were "up in arms about the proposed meeting." He intimated, however, that the meeting tonight would be allowed and that its actions would be watched. "We will not tolerate anything that is going to cause trouble," he said.

Several police constables will be detailed to watch closely over the inaugural meeting of the new organization tonight, chief of Police William Hodgson stated. The chief is doubtful however that the organization will engender any friction between Kitchener Jews and Gentiles.

Foresees No Trouble

"There has never been any trouble between Jews and Gentiles up to the present," Chief Hodgson said, "and unless I am very much mistaken there never will be." He referred to the entire matter as a "tempest in a tea pot." Handbills, distributed by the organization have been innocent enough", he said.

A special meeting of Kitchener city council will be called tonight to discuss the possibility of breaking up tonight's meeting. S. Miller, prominent Jewish citizen stated today.

Toronto Delegate

TORONTO, Aug. 14 —(CP)— A delegate from Toronto will attend the announced Swastika meeting in Kitchener, it was announced today through a newspaper by a man whose identity was withheld.

According to the newspaper's informant the Toronto delegate will represent a body distinct from the original Swastika organization, formed on Fascist lines.

SUDDEN DEATHS TAKE 5 VICTIMS OVER PROVINCE

Woman Perishes at Oshawa Beach, Lad Steps in Hole in Humber River.

AUTOS TAKE TOLL.

Terrific Storm Fires Many Barns—Rain Boon to Crops.

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (C.P.)—Five sudden deaths occurred in Ontario over the week-end, while a damaging electrical storm struck western and central portions of the province.

Drownings claimed three lives and motor-car accidents were responsible for the other pair. Numerous other automobile crashed, resulting in more or less serious injuries to persons involved were also reported.

The storm which broke early Sunday morning, was accompanied by lightning and a heavy downpour of rain. The lightning fired farmers' barns at Stratford and Kitchener and school houses at Paris and Etonia, near Brantford. A redeeming feature was the accompanying deluge which gave renewed life to pastures and root crops and refilled dried-up wells.

Heavy swells and resultant undertow swept Mrs. Louise Jamieson Oshawa, to her death while bathing in Lake Ontario Saturday. The woman was dragged into a 14-foot hole and perished despite the heroic efforts of her cousins, Dorothy and Helen Gaynor of Toronto to save her. The body was recovered an hour later.

Jack Tempany, 10, drowned in the Humber River, near Toronto, yesterday. The boy, picnicking with his parents, was missed and a search by the father revealed the lad's body in a deep hole.

Drag For Body

Dragging operations were started at Clear Lake, near Peterborough, for the body of James Freeburn, 25, shortly after his water-logged canoe was found on the shore yesterday. He had set out Friday to cross the lake.

Mrs. Anna Hunt of Camden township, was killed and her baby daughter seriously injured when the car, driven by the woman's husband was ditched late Saturday night. Three other young children, riding in te back, escaped uninjured. No inquest will be held.

Injuries received in a motor-car accident Saturday night proved fatal yesterday morning to Mrs. Elizabeth Sharp, widow of Dr. Morris Sharp, prominent physician of Sarnia. The accident happened near Merlin when the car skidded in loose gravel. The woman died in a Chatham hospital.

When two automobiles crashed head-on six miles east of Brampton Saturday night, seven Toronto men suffered various injuries. Samuel Vance, 58, driver of one car, suffered cuts and bruises while Joseph H. O'Neill, in charge of the other vehicle escaped uninjured.

"And that's why I stopped worrying about the mortgage"

He arranged for an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy to carry the burden

HIS home is mortgaged—properly so because he could not have bought it otherwise.

Then he realized the danger to his wife and children should he die before the mortgage was paid off.

He found there was an insurance policy with special features and with attractively low premiums specially designed to take care of such cases as his. He took out an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy to match the amount of his mortgage dollar for dollar—and now he sleeps quietly at night. No more worry about what would happen to the home if he died prematurely.

And the outlay was merely like adding another 2% or so to the interest rate on the mortgage.

This Policy can also include a total disability provision, which is mighty comforting.

A mortgage is a poor legacy to leave one's family. Let us send you particulars today of the very attractive and easy-to-pay-for protection of this Imperial Policy.

AUTO CRASHES, KILLS WOMAN NEAR NAPANEE

Mrs. Dan Hunt is Trapped Under Machine as It Upsets in Ditch.

ON WAY TO TWEED.

Tot, 4 Months Old Injured, Father, 4 Other Children Escape.

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, Aug. 13. — Mrs. Anna Hunt of Hinch street, Camden Township, about 10 miles north of Napanee, was almost instantly killed and her four-months-old baby girl suffered undetermined spinal injuries on Saturday night when their car, driven by her husband, Dan Hunt, swerved in the road and turned on its side, landing partially in the ditch. Three other children, aged 2, 4 and 6 years, who were in the back seat, escaped uninjured, as did the father.

The woman, with her babe in her arms, was trapped between the door and car body when the coach landed on its side. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock Saturday evening on the Marlbank Road, while the family was en route to Tweed to visit Mrs. Hunt's mother, Mrs. Frank Mereau.

Infant Holding Own

Coroner Dr. D. R. Hall of Napanee was summoned and ordered the infant rushed to the Hotel Dieu at Kingston, where reports received yesterday state the babe is holding her own.

The mother's death was caused by head and internal chest injuries. Mrs. Hunt, who was 31 years of age, was a daughter of the late Charles Mereau and Mrs. Mereau of Tweed, graduated in nursing from Smiths Falls Hospital, and had practiced in Detroit previous to her marriage.

The family had resided in Napanee for five years until this Spring. Besides her husband and the children, Lorrain, Veronica, Donald and Mary Jean, her mother, two sisters and three brothers survive.

Provincial Constable D. B. Wagar and Chief Constable Watts of Napanee were called to the scene of the accident, which has been termed purely accidental, and Coroner Hall has decided an inquest unnecessary. The remains will be brought to Tweed for requiem mass at 9.30 on Tuesday.

While returning home from the lawn social of St. Cathargh church, Tweed on Wednesday evening, Mrs. F. J. Kashotte had her leg so badly fractured she was immediately removed to Belleville hospital. Mrs. Mashotte was riding home in the rumble seat and on meeting a herd of cows on the road jumped out, causing her injuries.

NURSES' STRIKE FAILS IN SARNIA

Twenty-two Walk Out When Late Arrivals Are Penalized.

PERSUADED TO RETURN.

SARNIA, Aug. 14.—Twenty-two student nurses of the Sarnia General Hospital who went on strike yesterday in protest against what they termed too strict disciplinary action by Miss Minnie Lee, the superintendent, were shortly afterward persuaded to return to duty by Miss Margaret MacKenzie, chairman of the hospital commission, and Dr. A. R. McMillen, a member.

While officials concerned declined to comment last night beyond stating that the situation had been straightened out, it was learned that two of the students were severely reprimanded and had future leave cancelled for a period after they returned to the hospital some minutes after closing hours Saturday night.

The commission agreed to give a committee of three of the nurses and Miss Lee a hearing at a special meeting of the commision this week. Meanwhile graduate nurses who had been summoned from outside the hospital were not required.

Muskie Upsets Boat Men Nearly Drown

HAVELOCK, Aug. 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — Messrs. Roger Young of Rockdale and Wallace Horn of Bowmanville, who are spending a vacation at Rockdale, had a narrow escape from drowning in Belmont Lake on Friday morning, when their boat overturned while landing a large maskinonge.

The boat was some distance out from shore near an island and the two were precipitated into the deep waters of the lake. As both are good swimmers they decided to swim for the island, which was not so far away. Here Mr. Horn discarded some of his heavier clothing and went back for the boat, and after some difficulty managed to bring it to shore. In the excitement a lot of valuable fishing tackle and a raincoat were lost. Mr. Young managed to retrieve some of the former by diving after it the following day.

Apparently nothing was the matter. Ninety-nine weakfish and 158 croakers were reported caught in two hours.

WHEAT DROPS SEVEN CENTS AT WINNIPEG

Market Deluged With Selling Orders Engendered by Weakness at Liverpool.

SUPPORT AT MID-DAY.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12 (C.P.). — Deluged with selling orders engendered by weakness at Liverpool, due to the large carryover in North America, wheat prices crashed spectacularly on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. At the low points values were as much as 7 cents under yesterday's closing quotations.

A little support was encountered, however, and by mid-session values showed a slight upturn with a decline of 5⅝, December 74⅝ and May at 79 cents. With each upturn from the low levels selling renewed and the market had difficulty in showing much resistance to the steady stream of selling orders.

Reflecting the North American carry-over, wheat prices at Liverpool were 2d to 2½d lower at the close.

Setbacks At Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 12 (A..).—Sharp new setbacks in grain values early to-day followed the Board of Trade removal of minimum prices that were placed in effect on July 31.

Absence of speculative demand rather than unusual pressure to sell, accompanied the downward sweep of the markets.

Opening 2⅛-3 cents lower, wheat afterward held near the initial range. Corn started 2¾-3⅜ cents off and subsequently altered little.

Woman Is Principal At Havelock School

HAVELOCK, Aug. 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — At a special meeting of the school board it was decided to accept the application of Miss Whitton of Aviston, who had applied for the position of Principal of the Continuation School at a salary of $1,200 per year. Miss Whitton has had a number of years' teaching experience, and comes to Havelock with first class recommendations. Her name was the first mentioned by thei nspector, among a number of names submitted by the board for his approval. Mr. Norman Small, who was assistant last year will return in September in the same capacity.

The regular meeting of the Havelock Council will be held on Monday, August 14th.

Wins Honors

A. R. PIPER.

In a Dominion-wide Efficiency Contest recently completed, the Peterborough Supervisorate of the London Life Insurance Company, Ordinary Branch, under the capable direction of A. R. Piper gained signal honor in winning an Efficiency Plaque. In addition to meeting all the exacting terms of the contest, Mr. Piper's organization exceeded their allotment by 47 per cent.

The Plaque which they have won is emblematic of outstanding success in the production of life insurance, and reflects credit on Mr. Piper, who took over the work in Peterborough only a year ago

Special mention should be made of J. C. Strickland for the prominent part he took in the contest.

The Efficiency Plaque will be presented to the winners by an official of the London Life at an early date

COAST STEAMER HITS ROCKY REEF IN ST. LAWRENCE

Papal Delegate and Distinguished Party of Clergy, Laymen Saved.

COMPASS BLAMED.

Party Spend Night in Humble Homes of Caribu Island Fisherfolk.

CARIBOU ISLAND, Que., Aug. 14. (C.P.)—As a vivid reminder to the hardy fishermen of this island in the St. Lawrence River of an event they will long remember the stricken steamer 'North Shore' lies on a sunken ledge of rock half a mile from shore. Attempts to haul from the rocks the ship which carried Most Rev. Andrea, Cassulo Apostolic delegate to Canada and a distinguished party of clergy and laymen, will be renewed to-day.

To-day Mgr. Cassulo and his friends ate at R'mouski, taking part in a great Catholic conference but the humble fishermen of this island are proud of how they carried the personal representative of the Pope from the wrecked ship in their boats and entertained him overnight in their humble cottages.

Struck in Mist

Placed at the disposal of the delegate by the Clark Steamship Company the North Shore was returning from a cruise to the isolated settlements of the lower St. Lawrence when it ran on the rocks in a mist. It is believed the compass was affected by some magnetic disturbance.

In short order the small party aboad was conveyed in fishemen's boats across the half mile of rough river water to this island. In the party besides the Apostolic delegate was Mgr. J. M. Leventoux, Vicar Apostolic of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Pierre Casgrain, M.P., chief Liberal whip in the House of Commons, Henri Gagnon, managing director of the Quebec newspaper Le Soleil and president of the Canadian Press, and L. A. Ricard, Deputy Minister of Colonization for Quebec.

Wives of the fisherfolk lost no time in preparing the best suppers they knew how when they found out who their unexpected guests were. In the home of the lone telegraph operator on the island, Jean Baptiste Chouinard, Mgr. Cassulo was the overnight guest.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., August 14.—A mob yesterday killed two negroes accused of murdering a young white girl.

A third negro, seized when the mob overpowered three undersheriffs, could not be found. It was believed he had been killed also.

Bodies of Dan Pippen, Jr. 18 and A. T. Hardin, 16, were found near Woodstock, half-way between here and Birmingham, about two hours after the three negroes had been seized. They had been shot to death. Elmore Clark, 18, was the third of the trio facing trial on charges of slaying Miss Vaudine Maddox, 18, on May 31.

The prisoners were en route to Birmingham, 60 miles away, for safekeeping after a mob gathered last night at the county jail here.

The sheriff's automobile, following an indirect route, was blocked on a lonely trail near Woodstock by about a dozen white men riding in automobiles.

The battered body of Miss Maddox a pretty farm girl, was found in a densely-wooded section after she had been missing from her home for three days.

Pippen, Hardin, and Clark were arrested shortly afterward on information that they were seen in the vicinity of the slaying about the time Miss Maddox disappeared.

Pippen and Clark faced trial in Circuit Court. Hardin's case was to have been heard in the Juvenile Court. Officers said Hardin the younger of the trio, had made a partial confession, implicating Pippen and Clark. The other two steadfastly denied their guilt, however.

Full Protection Given Damageable Goods

Beatty Bros.' Transport Well Equipped.

A notable example of substantial progress is that of Beatty Bros., 185 Hunter street west, with warehouses in both Peterborough and Toronto. They have most modern conveyances and are equipped to handle all moving and transportation problems. It was only a few years ago that the only means of transportation of any distance was by rail. To-day, the safe, economical and most efficient method is by truck. No matter whether it is moving, carting, or local or long distance hauling, storage or baggage transfer, Beatty Bros. Transport are well equipped to handle it in the most satisfactory manner. There are none in this section that is better equipped or has better facilities than this concern.

Every precaution is taken by them to insure safe delivery of any merchandise they move. They have equipped their trucks in such a manner that they are able to carry your goods any distance with the added assurance that they will be in as good condition at the destination as when first entrusted to them. They guarantee satisfaction on all moving, carting and trucking. Their trucks are large and roomy, thus insuring a clean and safe delivery of the merchandise. And the drivers and employees are experienced men, who handle your goods with the utmost care.

Innumerable advantages of trucking over any other means of transportation is readily discerned. The goods are never contaminated with other undesirable merchandise; considerable saving is effected; it is more efficient because it delivers the load at your door and it is more expedient to say the least. These are a few of the many advantages of shipping by truck and this concern renders a timely and satisfactory service.

Long or short hauls, loads of an article or two, you are always assured of the same courteous, yet economical service. You need not hesitate to call upon Beatty Bros. Transport, to solve any and all of your problems of moving pianos, furniture, safes or machinery.

There are four brothers, James, William, Tom and Jack Beatty who supervise all work done by this company. Do you know how many companies this concern hauls for?

Stevens and Forbes Discussing Trade

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. —(CP)— Discussion proceeded here today between Hon. H. H. Stevens, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Prime Minister G. W. Forbes of New Zealand, concerning the extension of the trade treaty between the two Dominions which expires in November.

Mr. Stevens arrived here over the week-end for the conference with Mr. Forbes who is returning home from the London economic conference.

The Prime Minister said New Zealand desired to replace the present temporary trade agreement with Canada with a long term pact in an effort to increase trade between the two countries.

During the last eight months trade between the two Dominions has increased both ways with Canadians purchasing considerable quantities of New Zealand wool, hides, casings, tallow and onions.

FASHION SERVICE

A frock like this with simple chic is a happy model for summer days for town or for resort.

It shows an interesting treatment of the capelet bodice and sportsy scarf.

It is easy of course to imagine it in other colorings and materials. Sheer cottons and linens are excellent mediums and will tub and always come up smiling to the bitter end.

Style No. 2634 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust.

WASTING TRICKS AND GAMES

The average player needlessly loses about 750 points an hour. Two of the ways in which these losses occur are illustrated in the following deal. Both sides were vulnerable. I sat back of South, who dealt and passed. The hand passed out. Before the hands were thrown in for the next deal, South asked if he should have bid, and I answered that I never would dream of not bidding his hand. The players agreed that the hands should be bid and played, but not scored.

	♠ 8 5 4 3 2 ♥ A 10 9 4 ♦ Q 5 ♣ J 10
♠ 10 9 7 ♥ J 6 ♦ K J 9 7 6 2 ♣ A 9	North West East South	♠ A Q 6 ♥ Q 3 ♦ 10 4 3 ♣ Q 7 6 5 4
	♠ K J ♥ K 8 7 5 2 ♦ A 8 ♣ K 8 3 2

Bidding went: South, 1-Heart; West, 2-Diamonds; North, 2-Hearts; East, 3-Diamonds; South, 3-Hearts; North, 4-Hearts. Not wanting to lead either a trump or his diamond suit, West did a thing which more often than not costs a trick. He led his Ace of clubs, stopping when he saw his partner's 4, and shifted to the 10 of spades, which he should have employed for his opening lead. East's Ace won the trick, and led back his top diamond, but it was too late. The declarer put up his Ace, and dropped all opposing trumps in two leads. Dummy's J of clubs was led back, and held the trick when East declined to cover with his Q. That failure to cover cost nothing. If the Q had covered the K and 8 would have won two tricks for the declaring side. As it was the J won one trick. A lead of a spade gave the declarer entry to his own hand and his K of clubs enabled him to discard dummy's last diamond, so that dummy ruffed the declarer's 8 of diamonds.

The declarer ruffed a spade belonging to dummy, and dummy used its last trump ruffing the declarer's last club, giving the declaring side 5-odd, or one trick more than could have been won if West had not made an opening lead of his Ace of clubs.

Had South made an opening bid of hearts his side would have won the rubber, winning a total of about 700 points net. But South did not bid. The hand passed out. The next hand East and West went game, winning a 600-point rubber, and making a difference in score of 1,300 points, just because South passed a bid.

Other prolific sources of lost points are: Bidding against a declaration at your left which cannot go game, thereby affording opponents an opportunity to make a game declaration; failure to shift to partner's bid, to show him where your strength lies, instead of at once raising his declaration.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Tomato Juice or Sardine and Hard Boiled Egg Canapes
Chickeu Casserole
Boiled or Riced Potatoes
Head Lettuce Salad With Mayonnaise
Cherry or Green Apple Pie Cheese Coffee

Your week-end guests will appreciate this menu. The canapes are made by mashing sardines with the chopped hard boiled eggs, moistening the mixture with mayonaise and lemon juice and seasoning with pepper and salt. Just before you wish to serve the canapes, toast thin slices of bread, cut into small fancy shapes, if you wish, spread with the fish mixture and serve piping hot. The tomato juice may be served with the canapes if you wish.

Today's Recipes

Chicken Casserole—Two broilers, one cup celery, diced; one-half cup onion, diced; one green pepper, diced; two cups carrots, diced; one cup hot water. Dredge the chickens in flour and brown quickly in hot fat. Do not overcook. Remove to casserole, add the finely-diced vegetables and water and bake 45 minutes or until tender.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Protect Metal

When burning sulphur to kill insect pests in the house, it is necessary to remove all metal from the rooms or to cover metal surfaces with a light oil coating. Two pounds sulphur is the amount recommended by the department of agriculture for every 2,000 cubic feet of space.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

There are reasons why entertaining is so extensively featured during the Summer and early Fall.

* * * * * * *

Friends on vacations accept invitations which they could not possibly do at other seasons. The hostess has to ask her friends sufficiently long in advance for such guests to include a longer or shorter period with her, for vacations which come but once a year are usually planned for, weeks in advance.

* * * * * * *

Then there are the friends who, in their journeyings, happen to come to your town, or in the vicinity of your summer residence and who may be able to spend a day or two under your welcoming roof.

* * * * * * *

Every hostess would like to enjoy these visitors fully without taxing her strength or getting weary of mind with reviewing and hearing reviewed the events which have occurred during the interim between visits.

* * * * * * *

To make this easy, she can have a scheme of arrangement which will add to the pleasure of all. It will permit her guests to feel free to attend to whatever correspondence they may want to do, or to rest, or prowl around without feeling they are discourteous to her.

* * * * * * *

One part of the plan is to say when breakfast is over, "Now, I have some household duties to attend to which will occupy me for an hour (or whatever time will be needed) and I want you to feel free to do whatever you like."

* * * * * * *

"There are books in the living room if you want to read and there is stationery in the writing desk if you would like to send some letters. Or if you prefer to stroll around there is a charming place not too far away for you to walk to in this time." Give full directions.

* * * * * * *

This leaves the hostess free to get the necessary duties performed in shorter time than would be possible if the guest assisted and the conversation was kept up.

* * * * * * *

Again during the preparation of dinner another such period can be arranged for, to advantage.

* * * * * * *

Uninterrupted conversation for a whole morning or afternoon becomes wearisome, even though there is the desire of persons to be constantly together.

* * * * * * *

Also whatever little sight-seeing adventures the hostess plans seem far more festive when there is a freshness of companionship.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Dr. Clendening

Sick people are proverbially difficult to please, but no amount of trouble is too great to expend upon the diet of a patient convalescent from a surgical operation or other illness. Certain general rules are worth observing about the convalescent diet.

First, the food should be daintily prepared and attractively served.

Second, the food should be hot or cold. Nothing lukewarm. This rule is more often broken in hospitals than any other.

Third, the seasoning should be carefully done.

Fourth, meals should be served at regular intervals.

Fifth, only easily digestible parts of food should be presented to the patient, such as tender meats and vegetables.

If any anemia is present it can be counteracted by the use of substances rich in iron, copper, and managanese, such as fruits, particularly apricots, bananas, blackberries, dates, figs, grapes pineapples, plums, prunes and raisins. Eggs, milk and meat should always be a part of the diet when convalescence has progressed far enough.

For sicker patients the famous diet of Sir Henry Thompson for old people is worth remembering. In an article called "Diet in Relation to Age Activity," he recommended four meals a day, to-wit: berakfast at 8.30 a.m., luncheon, 1.15 p.m., dinner at 7 to 7.30 p.m. and a little supper at 11 p.m. in the following manner:

"The animal foods supplied for breakfast and at lunch may include eggs or fish cooked in various ways. At luncheon a little tender meat or fowl may be taken, unless it is preferred to reserve them for dinner, in which case fish and farinaceous pudding may be substituted. This last-named meal should generally commence with a little good consomme; often substituting a vegetable puree, varying with the season and made with light meat stock or broth; or a good fish soup as a change. Then a little fowl or game and a dish of vegetables, according to the time of year. Finally, perhaps, some light farinaceous pudding with or without fruit, should close the meal, which is to be a light one in regard to quantity.

"Lastly, supper: A very light refreshment may be advantageously taken the very last thing before entering bed, at about 11 o'clock or so, as it favors sleep. Elderly men require some easily digested food to support them during the long fast of night. It is well known that the forces of the body are at their minimum at 4 or 5 a.m., and this may be well provided for by taking about five or six ounces of consomme with one ounce of thin toasted bread, served in the bedroom."

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

"Dear Miss Glad: My nails are very soft, and seem to peel all the time. They split in layers. I'd really like to have pretty nails, and was wondering whether there's anything I could do to remedy this condition.

"PEGGY."

Gladys Glad

The condition of the nails of which you complain may be due to some deficiency in your diet, or to some internal disorder, concerning which you should see a physician. Oiling the cuticle, however, is helpful in correcting the condition of the nails. Soak your finger tips in warmed olive oil several times a week. In addition, insert a generous amount of cold cream or nourishing cream under each nail nightly before you retire. Also, if you apply two or three coats of a good, heavy, liquid nail polish to you rnails, it will help to prevent the layers from peeling.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: Before I ask for any information, I want to tell you how pleased I was with your 'Beauty Culture' booklet. My hair is quite thick and long now, and is entirely free from dandruff. What's more, it doesn't fall out the way it once did. However, I am a bit too thin, and while I know I should drink milk, I just don't seem to be able to. I like it well enough, but don't seem to be able to digest it very easily. Can you help me on this?

MARIA."

Indivdduals who cannot drink milk often have a deficiency in gastric juice. Or else they gulp the beverage, instead of sipping it, in which case it forms hard curds in the stomach. Milk is less difficult to digest in cooked form. So I'd suggest that you try warming your milk before you drink it. Or add some acid to the milk to make it more digestible, such as orange, lemon or grapefruit juice. In Europe, a drink composed half of milk and half of ginger ale is considered excellent for underweight individuals. The ginger ale is said to render the milk more easily digestible.

* * *

"Dear Miss Glad: Although my legs are well-shaped from the knees down, my thighs are very thin. For this reason, I look quite frightful in a bathing suit. I'd like very much to get my thighs into better shape, and would appreciate any advice that you could give me on exercising.

DOLLY."

The following exercises, if they are practiced faithfully every day, are effective for developing and shaping the thighs:

Stand erect, heels together, hands on hips. Bend the knees and squat to a sitting position. Return to first position and repeat. The back should be kept straight during this exercise.

Lie flat on your back, arms extended overhead. Bring the legs up to the chest, and then make a complete circle with each limb, alternating the legs in bicycle-riding fashion.

Lie flat on your back, arms extended overhead. Raise the legs upward at right angles to the body, and then slowly lower them to the ground.

In addition to this, you might massage your thighs nightly with warmed coco butter. This will help to fatten the tissues, and round out the thigh contours.

POST MERIDIAN DAYS.

Goldenrod and "blue sailors" bring new threads of beauty to the changing pattern of summer along country roads and city byways.

The poppies' brief glory has faded into the fragrant memories of the year with the lilacs, lillies of the valley and the languorous perfume of the orange blossoms.

In the grasses the murmuring of the cicada is prophetic of the end of a summer already past its meridian. An acorn drops through the oak leaves, silent warning of the nibbling minutes. Soon the season's brood of swallows will start south, and the gentle singing of the song sparrow will be missing in the chill of early morning.

Harvest apples are ripe and the wild grapes are maturing. August drowsily scans her stubble fields from which the grain is gone. Life is pleasant in the warm sun and the season's illusion of endless halcyon days.

But night draws her curtains earlier, and the falling leaf challenges us with its mystery. Summer is on the wane.

A 1911 SLOGAN RECALLED.

The eastern townships section of Quebec, ranking for years as one of the most progressive dairy centres of Canada, is turning its interest to beef cattle.

Successive tariff restrictions by the United States closed the doors of a rich, extensive and convenient market to Quebec's milk and cream, and the usual range of dairy products. Gradually the dairy farmers of the eastern townships realized that the border had been rigidly barred against them, and while they retain the quality and standards of livestock in which they successfully pioneered, they have been forced by market conditions to give more attention to the beef breeds.

Business changes and effects must have their causes. The eastern townships once had access to the northeastern markets south of the boundary, but back in 1911 we decided to go in for bigger and better slogans. One of the brightest and benevolent effusions of that significant year was, "No truck and trade with the Yankees."

And those Yankees of what was once known as "New England" took us at our word; they showed us something new in lofty tariff bars. They didn't forget those eastern townships cream shippers, who eventually discovered that their alliterative and affronting slogan, like the little boy's whistle, has cost them a pretty penny.

Electors have a convenient memory when they chatter along the highways, "What has the Government done for us anyway?"

Surely there are occasions when a Government might turn that question against the people, especially when electors surrender their wisdom to such aberrations as the "No truck and trade" folly. The "Yankees" in turn administered that medicine to us in large doses, rather enervating doses to such industries as dairy farming south of the St. Lawrence and north of the New York state border.

If the eastern townships could go back to "the parting of the ways" year of 1911 when "The Montreal Star" splashed Kipling's insidious "Under Which Flag" all over a front page, which way would they take in the light of their experience with deceptive slogans?

The answer has already been sounded in reports emnanating from Ottawa of the possibility of reciprocal trade agreements with Washington that may yet enable the eastern townships to retrace some of the steps back to the "parting of the ways" in the bitter knowledge that dairy herds do not grow and multiply in an atmosphere of "no truck and trade."

ROMANCE OF "RED FIFE."

Three years ago an effort was begun in Peterborough to establish a permanent memorial to David Fife, the Otonabee Township farmer who gave to Canada the Red Fife wheat from which the wealth of the Prairie Provinces has been produced.

Public sentiment in the city and country, and elsewhere, recognized the historic and national importance of the timely and seemingly providential discovery of this wheat and its qualities through the ambition and intelligence of that Scottish pioneer of Otonabee whose memory deserves the grateful recognition of this nation.

Circumstances which need not be recalled caused a suspension of the memorial project coincident with the federal elections of 1930. The subsequent special session of Parliament sounded the blue note of the enveloping depression, and since then not a word has been written or uttered about David Fife until the August issue of the Canadian Magazine, the "Trent Canal" number, published an article on wheat entitled, "Salute to Canada's Greatest Pioneer," by R. S. Kennedy, B.S.A., which adequately recognizes the incalculable value to Canada of David Fife's work.

We quote paragraphs from Mr. Kennedy's article because of the opportunity to repeat after three years' silence our conviction that David Fife should not be relegated to obscurity in Canadian memories, and as one of the earliest and greatest contributors to the agricultural development of our country his name and personality and the community which produced him should be set up as a landmark in our history and as a reminder to posterity of an event already almost forgotten.

At the recent World Grain Exhibition in Regina, Frelan Wilford, of Stavely, Alberta, won the cash prize of $2,000 and the title of "wheat king" with a Reward strain that directly descend from Red Fife. And it is related that he and his wife hand-picked the winning sample from his crop in the light of a coal-oil lamp last winter, in much the same selective way that David Fife and his wife used to pick the best kernels from his first crop by candle light more than eighty years ago, and sell his limited surplus to neighbors at a mere nominal price.

The article in "The Canadian Magazine" says: "Red Fife not only laid the foundations of old Canada more firmly and built the new province of Manitoba, but was to be one of the progenitors of all the most important new varieties which cross-breeding has produced to make new Canada a solid fact rather than a doubtful experiment."

Red Fife, Preston, Marquis, Garnet and Reward comprise Canada's royal wheat family. David Fife founded it, and the Dominion's cereal experts of the Department of Agriculture, notably Dr. William Saunders, Dr. Charles Saunders and L. H. Newman, developed it, especially in qualities of earlier ripening and resistance to frost. The later strains extended Canada's wheat empire across Saskatchewan and Alberta as far north as Peace River.

"Red Fife is a true native of Canada," Mr. Kennedy writes, "though like all of us except the Indians, its ancestor was an immigrant. Its originator was David Fife of Otonabee, Ontario. A friend in Glasgow sent him some seed wheat which seems to have been obtained from a cargo just arrived from Danzig. Fife planted it in the spring, thinking it was a spring wheat. But it wasn't; and only a single plant came to maturity. This he saved and planted. It matured, showed all the fine qualities he had been hoping for, and from it has sprung al the thousands of millions of bushels of Red Fife, which Ontario first, and then Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan and Alberta have put on the market to bring Canada for the first time her unequaled reputation for quality wheat

"This is no place for the tragic history of the Selkirk settlers in the Red River Colony now known as Manitoba. They planted their grain, they reaped a crop, they planted it next year, the crop failed, and they starved. What the frost didn't get the locusts or other pests did. Their lives were a continuous struggle against crop faiures, partly because the wheat they were growing took so long to mature that in many of the years, the late summer frosts caught and killed it. But when after one of the periodical crop failures had left no wheat for seed, they secured a shipment of Red Fife from the United States, whither it had spread from Ontario, the Red River Colonists found that they had turned the corner. Red Fife matured earlier, and its quality was the very best. Thenceforth Manitoba's export trade in wheat began which made 'No. 1 Manitoba Hard Wheat' the highest standard grade for the grain trade all over the world, and it is significant that for any sample of wheat to gain that grade, the Grain Act specified that it must be seventy-five per cent. Red Fife.

"Ontario on a firm foundation, and Manitoba well started on its career—that is the second important stage in Canadian settlement and it is due largely to Red Fife."

Referring in advance to the World Grain Exhibition, Mr. Kennedy concludes:

"Canadians will probably carry off plenty of awards in other classes, but what agriculturists all over the country are devoutly hoping—what western municipalities and organizations have been hoping when they were distributing carloads of pedigree grain to thousands of farmers is that the $2,000 first prize for the best fifty pounds of hard red spring wheat, and the $1,500 prize for the best ten bushels, will come to Canadians. That, more than anything else, will maintain and enhance our reputation as the producer of the largest quantity of the finest quality wheat in the world."

A GREAT MEASURE'S ANNIVERSARY.

The 21st anniversary of Mr. Lloyd George's National Health Insurance scheme was celebrated this month. The abuse with which it was greeted is recalled by the Manchester Guardian. Indignant resolutions were passed by the ten thousand. To-day the insurance safeguards the health of about 16,000,000 people. More than 15,000 panel doctors are engaged in the work, and nearly £28,000,000 is paid out every year in benefits. The Guardian asks whether Great Britain could have pulled through the miseries of these years without it. Together with insurance against unemployment it has saved the country from vast distress, perhaps from a genuinely dangerous social upheaval. The London Times pays Lloyd George a tribute for his courage, resilience and resource. The London News-Chronicle says:

> The aftermath of the war has imposed upon the scheme burdens which it was never meant to bear, and required of it the performance of a task never so much as conceived when it was framed. Even so, it has probably saved the country, so evidently that there is no one now, even among the bitterest of its old assailants, who would dream for a moment of proposing its repeal.

Another remarkable tribute is paid by Sir John Simon, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs:

> Only those who saw the beginning of National Insurance can adequately appreciate the nature of Mr. Lloyd George's achievement. He was designer, constructor, pilot and captain rolled into one, and he must feel a real satisfaction when he sees that an enterprise which at first aroused so much doubt and criticism is now accepted on all hands as a permanent contribution to the health and happiness of the people.

Such was Lloyd George when he was a stalwart, courageous and progressive Liberal, a real tribune of the people, whose only enemies were the snobs and champions of privilege.—London Advertiser.

INSTALMENT 28.

Helen was singing to herself as she hurried upstairs to her own room. She was scarcely inside before she heard Mrs. Birch's shrill call.

"Mr. Kingsway's downstairs in the parlor," Mrs. Birch said.

Helen ran downstairs and into the little green plush parlor, a smile on her face and a gay greeting on her lips.

Ethan rose to meet her; but his look made her draw back, sobered, at once.

"Why, Ethan dear—what's the matter? How did you get back so soon?"

"I was only in Baltimore. My business only took a few hours. I drove back through Wayne," he said. That, and his look, told her what had happened.

"Well?" she said defiantly. Then she softened. After all, she had broken her word. But she'd tried to get him—she'd tried to explain—"I'm sorry, Ethan," she said. "I know I told you I wouldn't see Ronny again. But this was a necessity. And I left you a note to explain."

"I asked if you had left a note. You hadn't," he accused her, his imperious jealousy getting the better of him. He towered angrily over her. "There's no explanation for a broken promise. I suppose I should have been prepared for this. But I could pass that over. . . ."

"Well, what else? What more crimes?"

"Tom Delamater's return."

"Tom—" she stood, as startled as angry, for the moment. Then she laughed scornfully. "I remember Nina did tell me he was back, just as I left for Jessica's. I'd forgotten it. I didn't know it interested you. It doesn't me."

"You—" he turned aside, for a moment, as if facing her was something he couldn't stand. "You're a good actress. But then I suppose most women are."

She found nothing to say to this.

Suddenly he caught her in his arms. "I don't care about any of it," he said furiously, kissing her. "I love you, whether you lie to me or not."

The icy anger deepened. And he felt it, too, for his arms slowly slackened their hold about her.

"That's all," she said. "If you don't believe in me, your love is the sort of thing I don't want." She slipped off the slender platinum circlet with its single emerald, and held it out to him.

"Love means trust," she said. "I'd trust you, no matter what I saw you doing. And I thought for a year you loved Nina. I've never thought of it since, though she's evidently been putting in her time well since I went away. . . ."

He held out his hands to her. She shook her head.

He pleaded with her for an hour longer, there in the little garish parlor. But he could not say he believed her blindly. And she could not have anything less.

"Good-bye," she said finally. "I can't come back to Patricia, you know. . . . I—I'm sorry."

Finally he went away. She picked up the ring. He had refused to take it. She could not leave it lying about for Mrs. Birch to see. . . . She must mail it back.

There was a knock at the door.

"Here's a letter from your sister," said Mrs. Birch's voice. "I guess you didn't see it, goin' through the hall." She handed her two letters. Jessica's weekly letter, lying waiting for her in the hall, was a faint comfort.

"Dear Helen," Jessica wrote. "The worst thing has happened that possibly could. My life is ruined. And I can't see at all how it was my fault—Lester has gone off and left me."

Helen sat back. She even laughed a little, a cynical small laugh. All the Heather girls seemed to be having men go off and leave them.

". . . It was just because I'd spent a little bit of money on something I have to have, the most wonderful value . . . and I bought him a lovely necktie, too, for a surprise. . . . All really nice babies have them, and the rent could have waited, or he could have got a little salary advanced him if he was so fussy about rent! . . ."

Helen read on, realizing that it was really a crisis in Jessica's life. Helen must come down immediately and look after her, or she would be in the poorhouse. It was an hysterical cry of anger and terror and pleading, and Helen sat up, furious at Lester.

Then she looked at the other letter, the one Mrs. Birch had handed her with Jessica's. Lester's hand.

Lester's letter was typed as always, in spite of his tragic abandonment of his wife. Jessica, in the name of the twins, had felt that money was less of an object than ever. Nothing he said had done any good—finally he had warned Jessica that if she didn't stop, he would take a position in another town, leave her where she was with an allowance and forbid the tradesmen to run up bills. Jessica had, of course, paid no attention to what he said; she had only laughed and kissed him and gone on spending, secure in his adoration. And the worm had turned.

She would go next day. . . . No. . . . Not till the day after. When Mrs. Kingsway paid her. There was a certain amount of comfort in going from Kingsway, away from Ethan, and his love that she couldn't accept without humiliation. She packed furiously. There was a train from Philadelphia that she could get at eleven next day. She and Jessica would settle down together and live for the twins, and never think about men any more.

She had not thought she would fall asleep that night, but she did. She said a little prayer to have some help and comfort, and presently it seemed to come. . . . Enough to sleep, at least.

She supposed she ought to go to Kingsway, after all, next morning, to settle her departure.

She did not have to decide about it; for it was scarcely nine o'clock that Mrs. Kingsway's own closed sedan came to the door.

Helen ran down, and was inside the car in a moment, her arms around Ada, nearer crying than she liked.

"I want to straighten things out," Mrs. Kingsway said, going to the point without preface. "What is all this between you two children?"

Helen told her.

"The worst of it is," said Ada Kingsway, "that Patricia swears you never gave her any note for Ethan. And up to now the child's been a monument of truth. I could shake Ethan. But it goes with Kingsway temperament, that dreadful jealousy. I did hope your sunniness and gayety would have straightened out that kink in Ethan. But Nina was such a cat. Ethan says Nina told him that Tommy was back, and disengaged, and she supposed intended to marry you. And that she told you so and you said you knew it."

"Oh, never! I was preoccupied about getting off, so I don't know what I did say! But never that. Honestly, dear Mrs. Kingsway I had forgotten all about Tommy's return. As for the rest—well, I've given my word not to tell why I had to go see Ronny. But it really was serious and it wasn't for myself. . . . You believe me, don't you?"

"Of course, I believe you, child! . . . If you were'nt so young you'd know that you can't pay much attention to what men say. They're just little boys, and you have to deal with them as if they hadn t any sense," said Mrs. Kingsway briskly.

Mrs. Kingsway kissed her, and drove off smiling.

Helen shivered. She felt at a loose end. Why hadn't she thought of asking to see Patricia? But the child would cross-question, with that uncanny shrewdness of hers, and it would be unbearable. . . . Which wouldn t matter, because everything else was unbearable too. . . .

She got through the day somehow, going doggedly through one duty after another. There would be something to do with the evening, at least. The monthly meeting of the motion-picture group was to be that night in Doris father s ballroom.

Helen dressed herself wearily, brushed out her dark gold curls, pulled her hat down on them without looking, and went there. There was no sensation to it. There didn t seem to be anything.

Not even when Doris ran up to her, bright-eyed, excited, happy, and flung her arms around her and whispered to her about Ronny.

"Oh, he s been such a darling! We re going to take a little room over in Wayne beginning next Monday, she imparted in a joyous, hurrying whisper. "As soon as Ronny s week s up and he has his wages. Don t tell yet! Oh, it s going to be wonderful to get away from Aunt Louisa!"

"Don t tell!" Helen echoed indignantly. Her whole life s happiness had been sacrificed to Doris senseless secrecy. . . . And then she checked herself. What happened now made no difference; not even when Ethan learned that he had been in the wrong.

She had been so deep in thought, sitting in a corner of the room staring before her, that she was spoken to twice before she looked up. Doris was near her again. Becky Purdon, a little way from them, was staring with open interest.

"Helen, Tommy Delamater wants to speak to you—wake up!"

Tommy! Tommy, as self-consciously debonair as ever! Tommy pleasantly aware of all the watching eyes, making a flourish out of his greeting.

"You re looking fine, Helen. You re thinner, but I think I like it. I d forgotten what a beauty you were, darling."

He threw himself down by her just as of old, sprawling on his spine, long-legged, in the armchair. Had he always had that too-shiny hair, that too-fluent, too-loud voice?

She listened, hearing it all dimly.

He hadn t made so awfully good, thank heaven, at that fool Wisconsin bank.

His laugh somehow wasn t as infectious as it had been.

"How is Kay?" she asked him. He did not seem at all disturbed. He laughed again as he answered.

"Oh, that busted itself by mutual consent hundreds of years ago. Kay was a nice little kid but she was spoiled to death—thought she owned the world.

"I thought she was the most wonderful sport you d ever met, Helen couldn t help saying.

"That s a big order, said Tommy, grinning. "Say, Helen, what about an old-fashioned picnic tomorrow? The weather s smilding up, and my car's closed. We can find a rock to put a rug on. Got a lot to tell you, Helen.

His voice had slipped to the old, coaxing small-boy note.

She stared at him, amazed, and a little shocked. . . . Suddenly she remembered that she did not belong to Ethan any more. . . . There was no reason in the world why she shouldn t go picnicking with Tommy. It would put a neat, ironic knot in the threads of happening. . . .

"All right, she said, hoping it sounded casual. And hoping more than anything else in the world that Ethan would know about it. . . . But he would only think it was what he had expected. . . . There was pain any way you turned. . . .

"You ll have to get the lunch, she told him, "at a delicatessen. I m boarding."

"You are high-hat, dear love," he said plaintively. "All right, a thousand cans shall be yours. I'll be there at ten."

A Thought

THE DRIFT OF THE DAY

"Youth is not a time of life—it is a state of mind. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions.

"This often exists in a man of fifty more than in a boy of twenty. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair. In the central place of your heart there is a wireless station. So long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, grandeur, courage, and power from the earth, from men and from the infinite, so long are you young.—Author unknown.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE CANADA COMPANY

On this date, in 1826, that 107 years ago today the Canada Company which played so prominent a part in the development of southwestern Ontario, was given its charter. It was granted by George IV in the sixth year of his reign, and authorized the formation of the company "for the purpose of purchasing, holding, improving, settling and disposing of waste and other lands," for making advances of capital to settlers and for the opening, making and improving of roads throughout the lands for the settlement of which they were responsible. Privileges of export and import were also granted, as long as all articles brought into the country were to be used for its cultivation and improvement, and so long as those exported were for the common good. It was stipulated that two officers of the company must always be within its territory, empowered to transact business, and it was also provided that no officer of the company should enter into a contract to do any work for the company or sell the organization anything needed for the proper carrying on of its business, under charter provided for the appointment of a governor, a deputy governor, sixteen directors, four auditors and a secretary. The first officers were Governor, Charles Bosanquet; deputy governor, Wiliam Williams; directors, Robert Blidulph, Richard Blanchard, Robert Downie, John Easthrope, Edward Ellice, John Fullarton, Charles David Gordon, William Hibbert, Jr., John Hodgson, John Hullet Hart Logan, Simon MacGillivray, James McKillop, John Masterman, Martin Tucker Smith, and Henry Osborne. The other applicants for the charter were John Galt and James William Freshfield. It is quite evident after a perusal of the above list, where the names of the townships in Wellington and Waterloo counties originated. It was a handy plan for a pioneer company to use the names of its directors; it pleased the pride of the respectable gentlemen in London, and it saved brain fag out here in Canada in the matter of nomenclature.

The company was capitalized at £1,000,000, and it was stipulated that shareholders were to receive their share of the profits in proportion to the number of shares held. The first transaction was the purchase of 2,500,000 acres of land in the Lake Huron district of Upper Canada, and five commissioners the chief being John Galt sailed for York, via New York. They selected their lands, drew up a report and returned to England. It was supposed that their mission had been completed when a new and powerful obstacle appeared in the corporate clergy of Upper Canada urging the propriety of excluding the clergy reserves from the tract chosen. The attorney-general of Canada, who was in London, made strong representations on their behalf, and the commissioners thought it best to apply to the colonial secretary (Earl Bathurst) asking for the appointment of a legal arbitrator. The Canada company on the suggestion of Governor Bosanquet, declined to interfere in the dispute, but declared themselves willing to abide by the award. In an elaborate report, Robert Grant, afterwards judge advocate, vindicated the commissioners; but before this was acknowledged at the colonial office, where it was feared the report might not satisfy the Canadian clergy, it was decided to leave the business in the hands of Archdeacon (afterwards Bishop) Strachan on one side and Mr. Galt on the other in the hope that, privately, a satisfactory agreement could be made, to which Earl Bathurst and the company would assent. A second agreement was then completed, even more in favor of the Canada company than the first. A great tract of land on Lake Huron of 1,1000,000 acres was assigned to the company under an obligation that a third part of the purchase money should be expended in public improvements.

Like most enterprises of the sort, the Canada company has its vicissitudes. Owing largely to intrigues against John Galt, in which the accountant was the prime mover (the latter was piqued because he had not been introduced to Sir John Colborne on his arrival as lieutenant-governor, with Mr. Galt and not after him) and at one time there were rumors that the company was about to suspend. Indeed in 1828, the Bank of Upper Canada at York refused to cash Galt's drafts. But he had in the bank debentures worth £10,000 in his own name, and through arrangements with the governor and the receiver-general, he drew against them, saved the honor of the company from stain and the country from the blight which a failure of the enterprise would have caused. Galt found, like the directors of the Grand Trunk railway in later years, that it was absurd to attempt to manage so complicated an enterprise by instructions from London (especially when it took months to send a letter to London and get a reply) and so after 18 months he went personally discouraged, but in no way doubtful as to the success of the company, and therefore his death had the satisfaction of seeing that the Canada company stock was the highest on the London market, that within six years it had made profits of over £300,000 and could be described as "the wealthiest company in America." Like many another developer of Canada, John Galt led the way; others made the money, for on his return to England so desperate was his condition that he had to sacrifice his fortune to meet debts he had accumulated, largely for the company, and was actually cast into a debtors' prison. But the company went on its successful way, and even today has an office in Toronto in which it carries on a large business yet under the old charter of 1826.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Viva Shearer,
R.R. No. 1, Lakefield, Ont.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis describes you as interesting and very thoughtful. Your letters, especially the capitals, show a love for art, either as critic or with a keen appreciation of art as portrayed by famous people. You also have a tendency along that line which is represented in the equal size and pressure of some of the small letter formations. The peculiar little flourishes and the firm downstrokes also show an artistic leaning. Your disposition is gentle and kind. You try at all times to avoid strife. You are fairly ambitious, and you have an excellent imagination.

Lena May Kidd,
Hunter St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample shows that you are very artistic. Those blunt thick terminals show that you are self assertive and like to have your own way in most things. You are also susceptible to flattery and desire praise for work well done. Your imagination is well developed, and you are intuitive and very intelligent. Your brain is always on the alert and is active and retentive. The long lower loop attendant to your letter 'K' shows that you like to keep yourself as much in perfect health as is possible. Your general character is excellent.

Miss Beatrice Huard,
496 Elm St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample portrays you as intelligent and refined. You are well poised and gracious. You do not wish to hurt the feelings of another, and often sacrifice your own comfort in order to please someone else. You are thoughtful and kind, ingenious and have excellent perceptions. This characteristic gives you the ability to judge human nature, and therefore, you avoid many disagreeable instances. You are pleasing and adaptable, courteous and considerate. You are not over indulgent, in any manner, yet you are not what might be termed 'close.' You simply consider the why and wherefor of any deal or proposition before you undertake it, then you know by instinct that your judgment is right. You have the power to impart knowledge. Your brain is retentive, and study should come easily to one of your discernment. Your large well expressed capitals bespeak of generosity, but the following formations show that you do not let this characteristic predominate.

Irene Houghton,
Patterson Street, City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are quite original and really a free thinker. You do not care to be ordered about, yet you do respect authority. You admire 'brains' and try to assimulate your own ability to that of those whom you admire, and it really does assist you greatly. Success should come to you if you continue along the lines of progress as you are endeavouring to do at present. There is a nervous tendency noted in the manner in which your letter formations are light of pressure and uneven.

Mrs. G.A.,
Havelock, Ont.

The handwriting as portrayed on your sample for analysis delineates you as a person with dominant characteristics. Your whole outline throughout the writing shows that you possess a great deal of energy and driving force. You should be a power for good among those who have to work with you, either in a social way or otherwise. You have the ability to lead others and to convey your wishes in no uncertain manner. Your mind is keen and retentive, yet if you desire to forget an incident, you can do so easily. The tall upper loops depict a generous and constructive imagination. You can plan and organise. You can acquire knowledge, impart it or retain it. You are perhaps a little ambitious and visionary, but this is typical of one of your dominant nature. In that it gives you the necessary thought and perception with which to entertain plans for the future. You are a good winner and an equally good loser. You can look on the brighter side of life and see the good in other people. You have a fairly good sense of humor and this assists you greatly in your study of human nature.

Livestock-Produce Quotations

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—(CP)—Cattle market was fairly active after a slow start. Prices settled to about steady on good and choice quality. Receipts as reported by the Dominion Livestock branch were:

Cattle 4800; calves 660; hogs 1140; sheep and lambs 1390.

Choice weighty steers sold at $4.75 to $5.10 with rough steers bringing as low as $3.50. Good and choice butcher cattle brought $4.50 to $4.75 with a few at $485. Good butcher cows sold at $2.60 to $2.75 with a few choice cows at $3. Bulls were steady at $2.50 to $3 for butchers and $2 to $2.25 for bolognas. Choice fed calves brought $6.50 to $8 with medium downward to $5.50. Store cattle trade was very dull.

The calf market was active at $5.50 for choice vealers and downward to $3 for common grassers.

Hogs climbed 25 cents higher at $6 f.o.b. for bacon and $6.25 off truck and at $6.50 off car.

Lambs advanced 50 cents higher at $7 for good ewes and wethers and downward to $5 for culls. Sheep were steady at $1 to $2.50 cwt. according to quality.

TORONTO CHEESE.

TORONTO, August 14 (C.P.). — The Toronto wholesale cheese market was rather dull to-day with dealers buying large, colored, parafined and Government grades at 10 cents.

New— Large 11½c, twins 11¾c, triplets 12c.

Old — Large 16c, twins 16½c, triplets 16¾c.

Medium — Large 15c, twins 15¼c, triplets 15½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Strapped to fixed minimum price limits which cannot be removed until after the close of business tomorrow, the Chicago grain market stood idle early to-day. Brokers here did little other than watch Winnipeg wheat quotations tumble about five cents a bushel. Starting nominally unchanged from Saturday's finish, the Chicago wheat market continued flat, with sellers plentiful but finding no bids. Corn and other grains presented the same trading conditions as wheat.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

SUMMER FAIR TUESDAY NIGHT

Ashburnham Parish Holding Annual Summer Fair on Hospital Grounds.

BUILDING NEW CHURCH.

The Summer Fair of the Church of the Immaculate Conception will be an event of to-morrow evening. It will be held on the grounds of St. Joseph's Hospital, and a feature will be the service of a hot supper, with a charge of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

There will be p'enty of amusement for young and old alike, and games of different types, also an abundance of useful and pretty articles for sale.

The East City parish is under heavy expense just now, as bu'ding operations for the new church are going ahead, with the usual heavy overhead through such operations. It is many long years since the church was commenced, and the faithful of the parish have worshipped in what is little better than a basement, through all that time. Now, at last, they will have an edifice worthy of the sacred service, and are really bu'ding through necessity. In an opportune time, as present accommodations are inadequate in many ways for the parish and its members.

Through all these years, the Immaculate Conception Church and its people have consistently and faithfully assisted the other parishes of the city in whatever endeavors were put forward in the parish of the Cathedral or that of the Sacred Heart. They would welcome a good attendance at their annual social gathering, which provides plenty of amusement and entertainment for all.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—(C.P.) — Sellers appear no more anxious to do business at present than buyers and the Toronto stock exchange dragged through an uninteresting session to-day Some buying appeared in Nickel, the Oil shares, Walkers Common and Imperial Tobacco, but transactions were scattered over the rest of the baord.

Walkers Common closed off less than a point after dropping ½ around noon. Industrial Alcohol, Brewers and Distillers and Distillers Seagram finished the day unchanged.

New York price movements were a drag on the Toronto interlisted group. Losses of ¼ to ⅝ were registered for C.P.R., Ford of Canada, Smelters and Brazilian. Nickel closed unchanged at 20. Bank shares lost 1 to 5 points and in the miscellaneous group recessions predomintaed. Imperial Tobacco closed ¼ higher at 10½.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, August 14 (C.P. — After registering initial losses of fractions to more than a point, the stocks backed and filled in extremely dull trading to-day. Gold mining shares and alcohol issues experienced moments of steadiness, but other parts of the list were inclined to droop. Homestake Mining was up more than 15 points at one time. Losses of major fractions to more than a point were shown by Dupont, United States Steel, Case, National Distillers, Western Union Westinghouse, and Bethlehem Steel.

Transfers approximated 1,150,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 14. (CP)—Summer dullness continued to hold sway in the Standard Mining Market to-day although scattered buying in the gold shares was noticeable. Prices eased moderately in the early trading but a firming process set in late in the afternoon.

At the close Lake Shore, McIntyre and Pioneer were unchanged and Hollinger and Wright Hargreaves showed a gain of 5 cents each against a loss of 5 for Teck Hughes. Dome was off 40 cents.

Twice during the day International Nickle slipped back to $19.75 in sympathy with an unsteady tone in the Wall Street market but it firmed to $20 before the close, off 25 cents. Noranda lost 60 cents closing at $34.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug 14 (CP)—After sliding spectacularly under Saturday's close to register losses of 5½ cents, wheat futures countered sharply on the strength of good buying at the low points to stand at levels about 2 cents lower near mid-session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day

October at 70½ was off 2 cents, December was 2 lower at 74, and May was 1¾ down at 76½ cents The early selling movement was credited to Chicago traders, who, with their own market pegged at Saturday's close sent an avalanche of selling orders into the Winnipeg market.

WANT NEW READERS

BANFF, Alta.—So rapidly has the science of teaching of reading in schools advanced, the Departments of Education of the four Western Provinces are discarding the uniform reader in use during the last 11 years. At conference of the four Deputy Ministers of Education just concluded, it was decided to recommend to their respective governments a new public school reader be adopted.

Honeymooning At Saguenay

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE S. ROSS

The wedding took place in Erskine United church on Friday of Bessie Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Frederick J. McLean, of Brockville, to Mr. George Stanley Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Charles Ross. The bride and groom, who are now honeymooning at Saguenay, are shown above.

ATTENTION! MRS. HOMEMAKER!

This business of buying for a family can be an almost overpowering task, unless you organize it. Use the ads in this paper as your shopping guide and you'll not only find it makes budgets balance easy, but it also saves time.

The Peterborough EXAMINER

Time to Reflect

FORT ERIE, Aug. 14 (CP)—Robert Keloway, 59-year-old transient apparently hasn't such a good memory. Now he's miles from here—on suspended sentence with a warning to leave town within 10 minutes.

Robert was peddling shoe laces from door to door, and was surprised when an irate-looking fellow in pyjamas bought a pair. Later the pedlar was successful in obtaining from the same fellow five hours later a healthy breakfast.

But when the same resident was appealed to the third time he was peeved and the transient found out that he was dealing with Alex Brown—the town's night constable.

Mining Items

Furnished by Hiland Rudkins & Co., Correspondents of J. H. Crang & Co.

BARRY HOLLINGER

Barry Hollinger Gold Mines has resumed sinking operations at its property in the Boston Creek area, and the winze, which will be 500 feet below the 1,875 foot level is well on its way down. Stations for new levels will be cut and it is expected that lateral work on new levels will be under way before the end of the year. Diamond drilling entered good values 900 feet below the present bottom level. Officials believe sufficient ore will be developed to permit the mill to be operated again.

WILTSEY COUGHLIN

Wiltsey Coughlin Mines has awarded a contract for depth diamond drilling on it's property adjoining Noranda in the Rouyn district and work will be started immediately. The contract calls for 5,000 feet of drilling but later may be extended to 10,000 feet. Geological conditions on the property are said to be favorable for good mineralization at depth. Diamond drilling results will determine future development work at the proprty.

LEE GOLD MINES

Lee Gold Mines is maintaining a large crew at work on it's property in the Swayze Gold area, and is obtaining good results from surface exploration, according to word from the district over the week-end. Surface veins are said to be lengthening out and samples taken from test pits over the full width of the vein indicate high grade in many place. It is understood that officials close to the company are considering plans for underground exploration. A number of properties in the immediate vicinity of Lee are said to be obtaining good results from exploration operations.

McMILLAN

McMillan Gold Mines is dewatering its shaft and underground workings and is preparing for active development, according to word from the property yesterday. Upwards of $500,000 in ore reserves has been blocked out above the 525 foot level.

BRALORNE

Bralorne Gold Mines is meeting with good success with development work at its property in British Columbia. The new ore body recently located on the 7th level is said to be one of the most important finds made at the mine. It is stated that the vein has a width of 50 feet, heavily mineralized and carried average grade of $20 in gold per ton.

BOW FOR BEARS.

LANCASTER, Pa. — Rear-Admiral Richard E. Byrd took the bow and maybe he will shoot a bear with it. It was made for that purpose.

Charles P. Draper heard that polar bears scamper at the report of a rifle shot, so he decided a bow and arrow would simplify hunting for steaks on Admiral Byrd's next expedition.

WINDSOR TEAM TAKES HONORS OTTAWA SHOOT

Essex Scottish "B" Unit Captures Lewis Gun Match By Good Margin.

WINNIPEG RIFLES SECOND.

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ottawa, Aug. 14 (CP)—The Essex Scottish team of Windsor took first honors as the big meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association got under way to-day. Their "B" unit captured the Lewis Gun match by a good margin.

The Winnipeg Rifles team was second, and the Essex-Scottish "A" unit third in the six team shoot which called for three magazines from 600 to 200 yards.

Shooting conditions were fine except for a stiff westerly wind going across the targets, as around 500 marksmen started the grind that winds up with the final stage of the classic Governor General's match on Saturday.

500-Yard Tyro Match

A large entry turned out for the opening individual match of the meeting, the Tyro at 500 yards, and no fewer than 15 wound up in a tie for first money awards, each getting a possible 35. They received about $6.66 each.

Mrs. J. Neal Dow of Saint John, one of four women competing in the shoot, got into action with the others in the Tyro Match and scored a fine 34 out of a possible 35, getting one of the $4.00 prizes.

The team from the Queen's Own, Toronto, captured the Barlow Challenge Cup, fired at 600 yards, aggregating 180 points out of a possible 200. The Governor-General's team of Ottawa and Royal Hamilton Light Infantry's quartet were next in order with 179 and 177 points.

Members of the winning team were Capt. R. S. Harrison, Capt. A. C. Lucas, Lieut. R. Storrar and Lt. C. Pangman.

to be present at the eviction and to place the evicted tenant back in their homes.

This action was deemed necessary by the Federation on account of the fact that thirty unemployed in the city are under notice to vacate their homes. Seven of the evictions are due to take effect his week.

When The Examiner visited 612 Armour road at nine o'clock this morning, Holland was enthroned on a wooden kitchen chair, on the grass plot fronting the street. He was surrounded by a group of some thirty unemployed followers. By eleven o'clock the number of the unemployed pickets was increased to about fifty. The first of the pickets arrived on the scene at seven o'clock this morning.

Not Acting for City

Holland said that the bailiff whom they were awaiting was A. O. Moore. The Examiner hastens to explain that while Mr. Moore is the city bailiff he was not acting on behalf of the city tax department according to City Tax Collector C. Curtis, but was presumably asked to act for the landlord.

Asked what the unemployed intended to do if the bailiff should appear, Holland replied: "If he placed the goods out on the street we should place them back in the house again. That would not be a lawful seizure."

A lawful seizure, as Holland understood it, was for the bailiff to take the goods away on a truck. "In that case," Holland said, "the unemployed would force a sale, and would pack the sales rooms to the exclusion of anyone else, and buy the goods back for next to nothing. The same as they had done in other pllaces" he aded.

CAR PLUNGES INTO CANAL BRIDGE TENDER DROWNS

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 14 (CP) —Manley McMaster, 60-year-old bridge tender at Murray Canal for the last 14 years, was drowned late last night when his car plunged over a 15-foot embankment into the canal. The plunge was witnessed by a yachting party a half mile away.

Lights of the car were still burning beneath the water when Jay Dalton, 17, dived into the canal and forced open the door. The body was recovered.

The man was believed to have suffered a heart attack. It was not decided immediately whether an inquest would be held.

Battle Field Born, Girl Defies Thugs, Fatally Wounds One, Gets Hit Herself

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 14 (A.P.) —A pretty 18-year-old girl, born amid the roar of a British barrage near the war battle lines in Belgium, was not to be daunted when three hold-up men confronted her.

Daughter of a Belgian mother and of a German soldier who was away fighting at the time of her birth, Ruse Bud had too much spirit to submit helplessly as the trio robbed the restaurant where she worked last night.

So Rose walked to the kitchen, obtained a revolver placed there for just such an emergency, and fatally wounded one of the robbers before she herself was shot in an arm. A short time later she helped capture the man she had shot, when he was brought to a doctor's office where Rose's wound was being treated.

The wounded robber, John Phillips, 23, of Cincinnati, died in General Hospital with a bullet in his chest, four hours after he and two companions took $50 from the restaurant and six customers.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY

(Special to Examiner.)

ONE HORSE we would like to call to your attention at Fort Erie is Lommern. This hide usually wins a heat at Border plant and we have no reason to doubt he will not follow his usual custom. Harry Giddings attended the yearling sales held each August at Saratoga Springs and bought at couple for his patron, R. S. McLaughlin and they wil likely be heard from later on. We notice where they have Semester at Fort Erie. A real natural any time they want to level with him. His former owner together with his jockey was barred a few months ago at one of the Chicago tarcks for pulling him, so you can ⅛gure his new owner will be trying.

BATTLE PLANE is about the best bred youngster in training. He always give his best either in fast going or on a muddy strip. High Glee, the Whitney two year old made a show of her field on opening day at Fort Erie. Don't forget Boscobel is going to get a purse one of these days when the odds get a little better. Live One beat him on Saturday by a nose but he can beat all the ive Ones in America when given his head. Good Guess is a plater of more than ordinary rating. He was brought to Caiada by C. V. Whitney but claimed by A Hullcoat in whose colors he is now running.

ART HALLIWELL took a flying trip to Chicago last week and claimed Tarnish, shipping him direct to Fort Erie. He has some nice races to his credit in Chicago. We still want to remaind you of Powder Monkey. He is due to walk his beat and will do so at real odds one of these days.

AIMS OF GANDHI OUTLINED TO ROTARY CLUB

Police Court

In the absence of Police Magistrate Langley the Justices of the Peace, who are pinch-hitting for the Csdi during his absence at the Magistrates' Convention at Sarnia, got off to a great start on their important duties to-day. Three J.P.'s were on hand to take over the task. They were Vincent Eastwood, Alderman Cotton, and ex-Mayor W. H. Buller.

Mr. Eastwood and Alderman Cotton occupied the bench, with the former passing out the sentences.

Ernest Redmond, of North Monaghan, pleaded guilty to operating a car on Sunday while intoxicated. He was sentenced to seven days in jail. Two men charged with intoxication were given $10 or ten days.

Weddings

O'DONNELL—FERGUSON.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Church of St. Mary, Richmond Hill, when Caroline Adeline, daughter of Mrs. Ferguson and the late Edward Ferguson was married to Gregory Joseph O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Donnell, of Stewart Street, Peterborough. The bride was attractively gowned in shell pink organdy, with large mohair hat, matching shoes and gloves, and carrying a deeper shade of roses. She was attended by Miss Marie O'Donnell, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a very becoming gown of golden yellow organdy, contrasting shoes and gloves, and carried Talisman roses. The mother of the bride wore a navy blue ensemble with corsage of roses and lily of the valley. The mother of the bridegroom wore tulip green crepe and contrasting accessories.

TWO FIRE ALARMS.

Two runs to minor outbreaks of fire engaged the Fire Department last evening. The first call at 6.28 p.m. was to the New Centre Meat Market on Charlotte Street, where an electrical motor had become overheated. The second run was made to a chimney fire at 335 Rogers Street.

"Sahara," the name of the great desert in northern Africa, is believed to be derived from the Arabic "sahira," which is plural in form and which means deserts, wastes or wilds.

A Southern Sunday Diversion

JONESBORO, Ark., 14. —(C. P.)—The law took over the Jonesboro Baptist tabernacle today in the interest of harmony. Yesterday two opposing factions held services in the church at the same time. They sang different hymns simultaneously. Then some of the congregation fell to fighting. When police took charge they confiscated three shotguns, loaded with buckshot, which they said they found near the choir platform. Two thousand people came to the service. The factions offered different prayers at the same time. Then one sang "I'm bound for the promised land," while another intoned "Will therebe any stars in my crown." This confused the piano player, who played a third hymn.

British Statesmen Are Highly Praised By Rev. W. Hopkins

American Missionary Declares Associated Press News is Often Highly Colored in Favor of Mahatma Gandhi—Aims of Leader Announced.

GANDHI IS DESCRIBED AS SELF-SEEKING UPSTART ONLY DESIRES TO FURTHER HIS OWN INTERESTS

The truth about Mahatma Gandhi, his Civil Disobedience campaign and the situation in India as seen by an American missionary who has spent years in that country were revealed to members of the Rotary Club here at noon today by Rev. William E. Hopkins. Any shred of respect that Mr. Hopkins hearers may have had for Gandhi was rent asunder by the illuminating light that Mr. Hopkins cast upon his aims, beliefs and activities.

Seldom has a speaker been so candid and clear in his remarks as was Mr. Hopkins in his denunciation of Mahatma Gandhi and his purposes in striving to seize the whole of India for the Hindus. Repeatedly the speaker asserted that the Associated Press in the United States in its despatches from India was giving a wholly incorrect impression of the things that Gandhi was trying to accomplish and clothing him in false robes of grandeur.

Most Difficult Task

Admiration and respect for the manner in which British statesmen were coping with the Indian situation and administering its affairs was expressed by Mr. Hopkins, who pictured the difficulties besetting every forward step for the progress of the people and their uplift as instituted by the British.

Beginning his address, Mr. Hopkins pointed out that India has 350,000,000 inhabitants of which 250,000,000 millions are Hindus. "India has 33,000,000 gods and goddesses to keep India going and still it is not going properly," stated the speaker, who briefly traced the origin and history of the caste system, of which there are 2,300 castes and sub-castes.

Banish Hinduism

"Each of these 2,300 castes is a divine institution unto itself, aimed to do a certain work and its members cannot inter-marry with those of another caste," he said. He stressed the courage of the British in trying to form a nation out of India's masses. "The Hindus are not a nation, they are not a people and they never can be as long as Hinduism exists," he declared.

"Some of you have been reading that Mahatma Gandhi wants to uplift the outcasts and improve the indescribable conditions in which they live, but that the pesky British will not let him do it," he continued. "Let me tell you that that is all tommy-rot. The only thing Gandhi wants is to get the outcasts' vote, which numbers about 75,000,000, in a solid block so that he can overthrow the British administration and secure everything in India for the Hindus. He wants to get rid of the Moslems, the British and the missionaries and make everything Hindu."

Self-Seeking Upstart

Mr. Hopkins charged that, contrary to Associated Press reports, Gandhi does not speak for 300,000,000 million Hindus but merely for something less than 75,000,000. He asserted that Gandhi has not the support of the ruling castes, the artisan castes, the bankers, business men, or the farming castes, which form the great bulk of the people, and that these groups will never submit to Gandhi's leadership. He charged that Gandhi was only a self-seeking upstart who only desired to further his own interests and power and to strengthen the grip of Hinduism and the worship of the cow on the people.

"I care not what they say in praise of Gandhi, but I tell you that he has accepted none of the teachings of Christ as they regard pacificism and that Gandhi's chief worship is that of his cow," declared Mr. Hopkins emphatically. "He is Hindu and he believes in a fatalistic religion.

Nothing Noble in Aims.

"We who have been in India know the truth about Gandhi and what his aims are. There is nothing noble in them. The British statesmen know India and they know Gandhi and they are not being fooled by him. And they are the only ones that have the courage and the true insight into conditions, so they may fairly come to grips with them with any chance of success."

Mr. Hopkins reiterated his charge that Gandhi was merely trying to undermine British India and the teachings of the missionaries and that rather than representing the majority of Hindus he was doing battle for merely the "temple rabble." Nearly every responsible Hindu is against Gandhi, he said.

Explaining Gandhi's religion, which he said was the worship of the sacred cow, he stated that in every Hindu village a live cow is kept in a temple and daily all Hindus come and worship the cow, praying to her for good crops and other success in their lives. "Gandhi insists that the Hindus do not want any interference in their religion or customs, that they have the religion they want and are quite satisfied with it," he said.

To die with the tail of the sacred cow gripped in their hands is the greatest ambition of every Hindu, he explained. "I have seen the cow brought from the temple, when the dying man had sufficient money to bribe the priests, and backed up to the dying man lying upon the floor. I have seen the priest put the cow's tail into the man's dying gip and a smile spread over his face as he believed that thus he would have a safe passage over the black river and be reborn into this world something better and higher than he has been.

"The women can not have the privilege of holding the cow's tail, because they are lower than the cows," he said.

Mr. Hopkins said that a women's organization in the United States had written Gandhi about two years ago, telling him that they were raising a fund to build a great hospital for the outcast women of India. Gandhi in a letter in reply said that he was not interested in the women, but would make a donation and assist the work of building a home for cows.

The manner in which British statesmanship and Christ's teaching were slowly but surely breaking down the prejudices and priests' grip upon the people was told by Mr. Hopkins, who declared in conclusion, "Gandhi can not succeed."

The Rotary Club to-day decided to give a grant of $80 to the Chamber of Commerce.

A HAM COLLECTOR.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. — G. C. Kennington, farmer, told officers a motorist ran over and killed one of his hogs. Then he stopped, cut off both the hams, threw the rest of the carcass into the bushes, and drove off.

PILES GO QUICK

Itching, bleeding, or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back, if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins cause piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr J. S. Leonhardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases he named it HEM-ROID. McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets, with guarantee they will end your Pile misery or money back.

Ponies Win 6-0 to Even C.O.B.L. Play-Offs

BAD INITIAL INNING GIVES KINGSTON CREW 5-RUN LEAD ON PETES

Steady Twirling and Smart Defensive Play Nips Numerous Opportunities to Score on Part of Both Teams—Kitchen Allows 6 Hits.

VISITORS CLICK FOR TWO DOUBLE PLAYS; BATTEN, MACDONALD, FOLEY HIT FOR PETES

A shower of ringing base-hits, a brief streak of pitching wildness, and two costly errors—all in the first inning and in a downpour of rain—tied up the C.O.B.L. playoffs here Saturday at one win apiece, Kingston getting five runs at the start and beating the Petes 6 to 0. The defeat for the locals, their first this year by Kingston at Stevenson Park, came as a shock to more than sixteen hundred fans, but the Ponies deserved the shutout on their play.

It was a good ball game after the rain and that first terrible half-inning, both sides threatening to score regularly but being turned back by steady twirling and smart defensive playing. The umpiring was excellent all the way. Wet grounds and a slippery ball permitted several scratchy hits that should ordinarily have been outs. The third of the five-game titular series will be played in Kingston Wednesday, and the fourth back in Peterborough Saturday.

Kitchen Nicked for For 6

Russ Kitchen failed to subdue the battling Limestone squad. The lanky local righthander proved slow starting in the first and wild, being nicked for two singles and a triple ,while hitting a batsman, walking another and throwing a wild pitch and all this plus two errors figured in the five first-inning runs ,only two of which were earned. Kitchen was touched for two hits in the second but got by all right. However, when the first man up in the third singled, he was taken out and Archie Deyell replaced him. The big Bailieboro heaver threw good ball the rest of the way, allowing six hits ,no two to an inning and fanning two. If the Petes had been hitting behind him ,the game might have ended differently.

Hurls Brilliant Ball

Yammy Jamieson, cocky little Kingston hurler ,was in top form to let the Lee batters down with six scattered hits, while fanning two. The locals were grounding out and popping up continuously, and classy fielding by the Ponies turned them back every frame. Two nifty double-plays meant a lot for Kingston.

Scully had a bad day at second for the homesters ,kicking in with three costly errors. The others went good, Batten, Hollingsworth and Foley in particular. Compeau, Joyce, Smith and Jamieson handled a bunch of hard chances for the victors. Joyce led the hitters with four in five trips. J. Arnell got a triple and single, G. Arnell two singles, Smith a three-bagger and Jamieson a double. Batten led the Petes with a double and single in four, Macdonald got two singles, Foley and Whatley being the only other hitters.

Hits From Start

G. Arnell, first Kingston clouter, led off with a single. He was safe at second on Compeau's roller to third when Scully muffed Batten's throw. The bases were filled when McQuaide was hit .A sizzling single by Joyce scored two runs, and McQuaide ran in on a wild heave to third by Scully, Joyce going to the hot corner. He tallied when Smith tripled to centre ,the latter also scoring on a wild pitch. Although t' hit in every frame after that and were often in scoring position, the Ponies were cut off except for one in the eighth, Jamieson doubling ,getting to third on Scully's error and scoring on an out.

Batten got to third for the Petes in the first, Hollingsworth reached there in the second and Foley in the ninth, but the locals could not push a single counter across, being unable to hit in the pinches and also owning to fine defensive ball by the winners.

OSHAWA TAKES INITIAL GAME

Defeats New Toronto 8 3 in West Toronto League Play-offs.

HEAVY HITTING.

OSHAWA, Aug. 14—Walt Fair's Oshawa Dukes got the jump on New Toronto in the West Toronto League play-offs at the stadium Saturday afternoon when they defeated Bob Weatherup's nine 8 to 3. The game, witnessed by well over a thousand fans, was the first game of a three out of five series to decide which team will meet the C.O. B.L. champions in the first round of the O.B.A.A. play-downs.

Up until the eighth inning it was a pitching duel between Ted Ewart and Walt Knox, with the latter having a slight edge. In the fourth inning Dean and Gibb, who had got on by a fielder's choice and a hit, scored on McKillop's single and a passed ball to put New Toronto two up. Oshawa got one in the fifth, when Harris scored on Elliott's triple. The Dukes took the lead in the following inning, when hits by Mathews, Claus and Sutton account for two runs. Tubby Dean's homer in the eighth frame over the right field fence tied the score. After one was out, the Dukes in their half of the eighth, started a batting spree. Gibb erred on Claus's roller, Hall singled one run in and after Knox had forced Sutton at the plate, Hurst cleaned the bases with a triple and scored on Elliott's single for a total of five runs.

Dean's homer was the only extra base hit obtained by New Toronto. For Oshawa, Rowden, Elliott and Hurst had triples and Mathews connected for a double.

Grocers Determined On Victory To-night

Followers of the men's softball playoffs at Central are assured of another great titular battle there tonight at 6.30 when Sugar Bowl and Harrison's tangle in their second game. It is a three-out-of-five series for the title, the Taylor Trophy and the right to represent Peterborough in the O.A.S.A. playdowns. Sugar Bowl copped the first one in a fine fight before more than five hundred fans Saturday evening. The winner of this series tackles Smith-Baldwins of Lindsay next week in the first playdown round.

Percy Harrison and his players are determined to win tonight and will throw everything they have into the attempt. Lefty Sturgeon beat them Saturday, backed by fine support, and they expect to face Ross Currie this second fixture. Some more excellent pitching, lightning-fast fielding and clean hitting is on the cards when they clash again, and chances are even that the Grocers will tie up the series by taking the tilt this evening.

The St. Louis Cardinals apparently are cornering all the kid brothers of baseball stars. They not only have a string on Pitcher Paul Dean, brother of Dizzy, but also own the services of Al Warneke, Lon's kid brother.

BOSTON SOX WALLOP ATHLETICS 19-10 IN FREE HITTING SPREE

Detroit Tigers Come From Behind to Defeat Chicago White Sox 6-5 in 17 Innings — Senators Increase Lead With 4-3 Win Over Yankees.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer.)

Boston Red Sox, who have been looking more and more like a first division ball club, were in a position to-day to boast of the best scoring in the major leagues this season if they so desired.

Recovering from three defeats in Washington, the Sox went out yesterday, scored 11 runs in the first inning and walloped their favorite sparring partners, Philadelphia Athletics 19-10. This stunt, exceeding by one run the previous high score for the year, made twice by New York Giants, was the outstanding performance of a day which saw Detroit Tigers come from behind to beat Chicago White Sox 6-5 in a 17-inning game that fell just short of the season's record for length; Washington Senators increased their American League lead with a 4-3 triumph over New York Yankees; and New York Giants, although defeated, hold their 3½ game margin over Pittsburgh in the National.

Errors Start Spree.

A couple of errors by Dib Williams and Pinky Higgins started the Red Hose off on their great inning. the biggest anyone on hand anyone could remember for any Red Sox team, and three Philadelphia pitchers were belabored soundly before it ended.

Vic Sorrell pitched the entire 17 inning route for Detroit and gave only three hits in the last nine frames. He was behind until the ninth when Hank Greenburg knocked in the tying run. Greenburg also made the winning tally, riding in on Frank Doljack's triple.

The Senators, playing a one-day stand against their nearest rivals, piled up 12 hits against young Russ Van Atta to earn a close decision when Dave Harris' triple led to the deciding pair of runs in the fifth.

Trim Browns 5-3

Cleveland Indians, who took fourth place Saturday, consolidated their position by trimming St. Louis Browns twice, 5-3 and 3-2.

In the National League, the Giants couldn't match the Phillies' combination of Don Hurst and "Fidgety" Phil Collins and went down by a 2-1 count, but at the same time Chicago's Cubs handed Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 setback to leave the New Yorkers' margin unchanged.

Hurst Hits Two Homers

Hurst hit a pair of homers for both Philadelphia runs while Collins did his part by allowing the Giants only five hits. The Cubs reduced Pittsburgs second place margin to a half-game under the leadership of Manager Charley Grimm, who had a hand in all his team's scoring and produced the winning tally with a homer in the seventh.

St. Louis Cardinals moved into fourth place by taking two close decisions from Cincinnati Reds, 3-2 and 4-3 despite the great work of Sunny Jim Bottomley. Boston Braves meanwhile split a pair with Brooklyn, winning the first 6-2 with a couple of late rallies against Ray Benge but going down in the second, 11-0.

Bottomley clouted a homer in each game.

DELORO WINS FROM HAVLEOCK

Smelters Score 4 Runs on Errors in 7th Frame for 9-5 Victory.

TRENT VALLEY PLAY-OFF.

HAVELOCK, August 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — The first game of the play-off series for the championship of the Trent Valley Intermediate League O.B.A.A. was played at Havelock on Saturday afternoon, August 12, when Havelock and Deloro met, the latter carrying off the big end of the score of 9-5.

It was a good clean game, and belonged to either team until the seventh innings, when Havelock seemed to go up into the air and allowed the visitors to bring in four runs on errors.

It was at this point that a change was made, and L. Hooper was replaced at centre field by McKenzie, and Hagerman took the place of Scriver. W. Sexsmith for Havelock and N. Callery for the Smelters pitched the nine innings, and both pitchers had plenty of speed. Card, the first man to bat for the railroad town, brought in the first run, on a two-base hit with two stolen bases.

Stewart and McInroy for the visitors each brought in a tally in the first innings, and M. Callery was left on third base when the last man was out on a fly to centre field, caught by Hooper.

MARY CROUSE IS WINNER IN CLOSE FINISH

Crosses Line Three Feet Ahead of Alan Woodcock in Second Place.

6 MILES IN TWO LAPS.

(By Staff Reporter)

STONEY LAKE, August 14. — Racing over the line to a thrilling finish with a lead of three feet over Alan Woodcock, Mary Crouse of Cleveland won the dinghy race for the Trent Valley Cup, the year's premier sailing event of the Kawartha Lakes region, at Juniper Island Saturday afternoon. Miss Crouse is one of the few women to have won the coveted trophy in the thirty races which have been held since the cup was put up in 1903.

Nine dinghies raced six miles in two laps over the three-mile course off Juniper Island. A strong but shifting wind swept the lake throughout the race, putting to good test the skill of the sailors and providing a lively show for the spectators. The race was held on Stoney Lake this year as a dinghy owned by Bill Crouse of Stoney Lake, brother of Saturday's winner, won the cup at Chemong Lake in 1932.

Comes From Behind

Scoring her triumph, Mary Crouse sailed the "Let's Go," manned by Jim Stirling Jr. of Cleveland. She came out from a poor third at the beginning of the last leg to finish a winner. Woodcock, in second place, sailed the "Calypso" manned by Jack Morris of New York, and the third boat to finish, scarcely four boat lengths behind the winners, was the "Bat" sailed by Bill Crouse, with Beatrice Johnson of Cleveland. The remainder of the field strung across the line from a quarter to a half mile behind the three leaders.

Bill McClean and Clare Connor of Toronto from Sturgeon Lake and Dick Barnes of Stoney Lake were well in the competition until the half-way mark of the second lap, but it was clearly a battle between Mary Crouse, Bill Crouse and Woodcock down the last leg.

Three Other Trophies

Three other important trophies were contested in the last of a series of sailing races on Stoney Lake over the week-end. Bill Crouse with Beatrice Johnson won the Peterborough Canoe Cup in a dinghy race at Kawartha Park Friday afternoon. His dinghy manned by Jim Stirling scored another victory in winning the South Beach Challenge Trophy in an open race at South Beach yesterday. Alan Woodcock with Jack Morris won the dinghy sail for the Gillespie Cup at Juniper Island Saturday.

Ten entries raced for the Peterborough Canoe Cup. Crouse's success will give him possession of the trophy for the third time. He sailed the "Let's Go" which skimmed to victory in the Trent Valley Cup race.

Woodcock and Morris made a strong bid for victory in the race and failed by merely four boat lengths after gaining steady ground over the last leg. McClean and Connor in the "3," and Andy Brewin with Peggy Biggar in the "Sunbeam" both held the lead for periods early in the race but finished far behind contenders' positions.

South Beach

Crouse sailed the "Bat" in taking the South Beach Challenge Trophy yesterday. The race was open but no sloops were on hand, and the only craft other than a regulation dinghy in the event was a 16-foot dinghy with a jib sailed by Rob. Willoughby of Toronto. Crouse crossed the finish line fifty yards ahead of McClean and Connor despite the fact that he was handicapped by the breaking of a stay near the end of the first lap.

The race was six miles; strong winds at times shifting and gusty, prevailed.

Of seven dinghies which sailed for the Gillespie Cup Saturday, four capsized during a twenty-minute gale of hurricane strength which suddenly swept over the course a few minutes after the race had started. A fifth was put out of the race when its sail was ripped from top to bottom by the storm. Bill Crouse and Jim Stirling, sailing one of the dinghies which upset, managed to beach their craft and recommission it in time to finish, but offered little opposition to Woodcock and Crouse in the "Calypso."

P.G.A. Champion

Gene Sarazen.

GENE SARAZEN WINS TITLE BY BEATING GOGGIN

San Francisco Golfer Loses Final of P.G.A. Tourney 5 and 4.

5,000 SEE GREAT BATTLE.

BLUE MOUND CLUB, Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 14—Storming over the fairways of Blue Mound with magic irons and a putter that routed par by four shots, Gene Sarazen won the United States professional golf championship for the third time of his illustrious career yesterday by submerging the stout-hearted Willie Goggin of San Francisco, 5 and 4.

His triumph, clinched by a great afternoon finish after the 200-pound, 6-foot professional of a municipal golf course had held him to a single hole advantage after a hard battle in the morning, came exactly ten years after his last professional crown, which he captured by beating Walter Hagen in that memorable thirty-eight-hole overtime match at Pelham.

Goggin's Good Showing

Goggin, who arose from the ranks of golf's unknowns this week in his march to the finals, gave Sarazen a great battle yesterday morning, only to fade in the afternoon before a charging gallery of 5,000 spectators. Only one up at noon despite a 69 (one under par), Sarazen came right back with even better golf and held Goggin to a one-hole victory as he picked up five and then clinched the struggle by matching a birdie four on the thirty-second green with the aid of a trusty putter which he was forced to haul out of his bag only fifty-one times for the required thirty-two holes.

Sarazen Beats Farrell

Sarazen sailed into the final on the tide of an easy 5-and-4 triumph Saturday over another prominent star, Johnny Farrell of New York.

Goggin survived after a great duel with another newcomer to the top flight, Jimmy Hines of the Timber Point Club, New York.

Goggin salted away his victory with a birdie on the thirty-sixth green. The score was one up.

Sarazen led by four up after the front nine in the morning, saw his lead dwindle to only one hole on the backward stretch, and then went out and won almost as he pleased with perfect golf in the afternoon.

Farrell, outclassed, made a valiant stand, but Sarazen ended the duel by matching his birdie four on the thirty-second green.

LEAFS SPLIT WITH ORIOLES ON SATURDAY

Baltimore Slugs Way to 12-6 Win in Opener, Drop Second 6-3.

WINGS TAKE PAIR.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

Rochester Red Wings, out of the pennant race, and hard pressed by at least two rivals for the top position in the Northern Division of the International League, once more have proved they are a tough team to beat on their own home grounds.

After a setback on Saturday, the Red Birds found themselves only 2½ games ahead of Toronto Maple Leafs and six in front of Montreal Royals in the struggle for the play-off berths in their division. They were only a half-game above Baltimore in the standing of the league as a whole.

Best Pitching of Year.

At this point, a flock of cripples and replacements in the line-up began to play like first string stars. Tony Kaufmann and "Sheriff" Fred Blake came through with about the best pitching Rochester has had in some time, and the Wings won two games from Albany Senators, 5-1 and 9-1, and added a full game to their margins over their various rivals. Baltimore and Toronto had an open date, while Montreal could get no better than an even break with Jersey City in a Sunday bargain bill.

Royals Advance.

Jersey City and Montreal played an odd pair of games in which the losing team in each outhit the winners. The Skeeters got only five in the opener, but won 4-1 as Jack Grossman clouted a homer with one on in the sixth to gain the lead, and Mike Meola's relief pitching held it. Jersey City had a 9-7 hit margin as John Pomorski opposed Joe Bartulis in the nightcap. And it was an even struggle up to the sixth when the Royals cut loose with a three-run rally, featured by an exciting double steal.

Montreal climbed back into fifth place on Saturday, defeating Jersey City 3-2 in 10 innings. Toronto split a double bill, winning the nightcap, 6-3 and losing the opener 12-6, while Newark won the only night fixture.

Quakers Take 5-1 Tennis Win Saturday

It looked as though the Peterborough vs Quakers league tournament was going to be rained out, but after about twenty minutes delay the players went into action, resulting in a 5 to 1 victory for the Quakers.

Ladies' singles: Miss Pickering (Quakers) defeated Miss Lundy 6-0, 6-2. Men's singles: Mr. Nicholls (Quakers) defeated Mr. Kirkwood 6-3, 6-2. Ladies' double: Misses Caddy and Donaldson (Peterboro) defeated Misses Dixon and Leech 6-0, 9-7. Mixed doubles: Miss McIlmoyl and Mr. Clarke (Quakers) defeated Miss McKee and Mr. Mabee 4-6, 6-2, 6-4. First men's doubles: Messrs. Jones and Vincent (Quakers) defeated Messrs. Lord and Swartz 6-0, 6-0. Second men's doubles: Messrs. Cunningham and Thackeray (Quakers) defeated Messrs. Mackenzie and Howden 6-2, 3-6, 8-6.

E.P.L. PLAY-OFFS START TO-NIGHT

Cogs and C.G.E. to Clash in Three-out-of-five Game Titular Series.

The East Peterborough Baseball League playoffs open tonight at six o'clock at the Exhibition Grounds, Cogs and C.G.E. meeting in the first three-out-of-five titular series. The largest crowd of the season is expected to see these two classy and well-matched squads battle it out, the one winning this evening holding a big advantage in the fight for intermediate honors.

The Electrics, managed by Frank Barrie, finished in first place, after a bad start early in the season. They flashed their oldtime form the last half the schedule and appear to have a good chance of once again entering the O.B.A.A. playdowns. The team will be at top-strength tonight, with Harold Ralph, Jack Barry and Lefty Dunkerley all ready to go in and pitch.

Cogs defeated Fosters a few nights ago to finish in second place and will be in there battling to set the dope and cop the flag this series. Lefty Billingsley, Casey Masterson and Percy Vaithest are ready to pitch for Dorsey Davis' crew, the team is in the pink and the best E.P.L. contest of the year is promised fans down there this evening.

GUELPH LEAFS TAKE 6-4 WIN FROM TOM CATS

Winners Score Five Runs in First Inning for Commanding Lead.

JUDD YIELDS 5 HITS.

First inning scoring splurges in which the figure five played an all-important part, featured the play-downs in the senior Provincial baseball leagues over the week-end.

In the first of a two-of-three game series for the inter-county championship, Guelph Maple Leafs, defending champions, garnered a quintette of runs in the first inning and coasted in with a 6-4 Victory over St. Thomas Tom Cats, conquerors of the third-place Galt Terriers.

Lefty Judd, Maple Leafs' lanky portsider and Ray Vaughan good right hander of St. Thomas hooked up in a tidy duel after the first inning. Vaughan settled down and held the champions to one run for the remaining eight innings, while his teammates got to the erratic Judd for four runs. The Guelph hurler only yielded five hits during the game, but his nine walks kept him in trouble throughout. The second game will be played at St. Thomas Wednesday.

BOWLING NOTES

(By Herb Martin)

All that is now necessary to assure the success of the open tournament on Wednesday is fine weather. The committee in charge has done everything in their power that can be done and are now relying on the weatherman to do his part.

Just to show how serious the management have taken this big event, they have had all the fence repainted, the light standards all scraped and painted and in addition to this they have—out of their own pockets—bought and erected a new flag pole. New flags have been donated by different members of the commitees. The club house has all been thoroughly renovated and altogether things have been greatly improved for the accommodation of the visitors.

There will be the two major competitions and this year the committee has decided that every rink which does not qualify past the first round in the C.D.S. Trophy will be eligible for the Warne Cup. This is a great improvement on former systems and it assures every rink of a good day's sport, wether they win or not.

Many entries have already been received from outside points. Charlie Steinhouse of Oshawa, was the first official entry received, closely followed by Les Harrington, High Park, Toronto. Les is the immediate past president of the Ontario Lawn Bowling Association and is also a bowler of outstanding ability. Tommy Simpson, Balmy Beach and A. E. Ellis of Withrow Park also of Toronto, have sent their entries in. Both these men are bowlers of international fame, having skipped rinks at Buffalo and several times against the English bowlers. It is expected the Port Hope boys will be here headed by the venerable Dr. Holy; and then from Cobourg, Capt. McCullough is bringing out a strong representation. In fact no tournament ever held here would be complete unless we had rinks from Belleville, Hastings, Stirling, Campbellford, Lindsay, Whitby and Bowmanville. It is expected by to-night that many of these towns will have sent in their entries. At this stage it looks like the biggest tournament ever held in Peterborough. A man will be in charge at the club house early Wednesday morning so that any of the outside rinks may 'phone in their entries.

As far as the local entries are concerned there will be many. Such old skips as G. Cairns, Jack Mayneord, Dr. Allan, J. T. Braund, H. Freeman, have already entered and by Tuesday night it is expected many more will be in .

The management hope that the general public will avail themselves of this opportunity to come out to the greens and enjoy this wonderful summer sport.

BOWLMEN TAKE 13-7 VICTORY FROM GROCERS

Winners Stage Fifth Innings Rally for Six Runs and Play-off Win.

EXCELLENT FIELDING.

Coming from behind with one of their characteristic splurges in the fifth innings to score six big runs, the Sugar Bowl overtook Harrison's in their first game of the Mens Softball League final series on Saturday night at Central School grounds and went on to an easy victory, the final score being 13 to 7.

Sturgeon, starting on the mound for the Dormermen was hit hard in the first three innings but after spotting the Grocers seven runs, promptly applied the brakes and aided by air-tight support, shut them out with five scattered hits over the remainder of the route. Meanwhile, aided by Prices' wildness, and timely hitting he and his mates soon pulled down the Northender's lead and coasted home.

Excellent fielding and plenty of hitting kept the large crowd on edge, each team coming up with a fast double play. The heavy hitters were Crary, Starr, Dorrington and Price for Harrisons and Sturgeon, H. Dormer and Calladine for the winners, with Playford hitting the only homer in the eighth with no one aboard.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

ALEX MORRISON says:

Many golfers have asked: "Just how far back of the ball the chin should be pointed?"

I have never specified any distance, because in the proper swing it is physically impossible to point the chin back any more than just behind the ball.

Add to this the ever present tendency to let the head turn forward during the downswing and you can appreciate the need for trying to swing your chin to the right as the club comes down toward the ball.

In other words, there's little danger of pointing your chin too far to the right. In every swing try to keep it pointed well behind right position.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball—Softball—Lacrosse Soccer—Wrestling, and Others

(By C. J. P.)

Knotty Lee's band will now strike up that gloomy number: "I Get the Blues When it Rains"! Yeah, it rained when they started and it rained when they were finished—just sort of washed the Petes right out of the picture at Stevenson Park Saturday. If you weren't in that sixteen hundred odd fans—by "odd" we mean in number—that jammed the park, the score was 6-0 for Kingston at the windup, and the Central League playoffs are all tied up worse than traffic at Hunter and George Saturday eve. Both teams have won a game on foreign grounds by six runs, and both have been big surprises to followers of this loop. Next game is in Kingston Wednesday and the fourth back here Saturday.

• • • • • • •

The setting was ideal for the sad affair. Heavy hanging clouds curtaining off the sky at game time, a steady downpour after they started and a huge crowd acting very depressed first because of the weather, but right afterward because of those Kingston hitters. Three clean clouts, wildness by Kitchen and two boots—and not the kind you wear, either—by Scully, and it was all over. Right in the first half-inning, too! It was enough to make strong men wipe away a furtive tear. Yeah, just one of those games.

• • • • • • •

Still, the fans saw a fine old ball game after that nightmare start. Good pitching by Deyell and Jamieson, and some excellent fielding. The Petes couldn't hit Yammys slants hard enough to crack a medium-boiled egg, and the Ponies' defensive playing left little to be desired. Archie flung 'em in good enough to win, but that early lead by the visitors and his own teammates in ability to find the apple with their bludgeons didn't give him a snowball's chance. Beavis' presence in right field was sadly missed, Macdonald trying hard but finding the unaccustomed position tough, though he and Batten led the local hitters. And Frank Scully, ordinarily a very steady infielder, was three-quarters of a mile off-form.

• • • • • • •

Never was the famous protruding Lee lower lip so prominent as Saturday after the first spasm. Knotty had it sticking out a good two inches and with a scowl that would scare a bull-dog. But, after all, the greatest coach in the game can't go up to the plate for his players and hit when runners are on. He can only tell 'em to do it and hope for the best. The battling local mentor doesn't think he's licked yet, not by a long shot. "We'll take that crew right down in Kingston again", he snapped, "and make them like it, see!" And we've a hunch they'll d oust that. The umpiring was first-rate at the game there, and there was no outbreak between the players, just a lot of mean cracks.

• • • • • • •

Archie Deyell, husky Petes' righthand hurler, got off to a late start this season. He's coming along fine now, and would doubtless have been ranked around the top of the loop's pitchers had he had the time to devote to baseball from early Spring. But school studies kept him from the game half the season. He is a young Bailieboro fellow, strong, friendly and good-natured. He has a lot of style on the rubber, twists his big loose-jointed body around like a Grove or Gomez, throws a good fast ball and a very tricky hook—mixing them up to baffle the best hitters in the league. His hitting is only fair. We've a hunch he'll be heard from plenty before the play-off series is over.

• • • • • • •

Two good local play-off games are lined up for here this evening. It's Cogs vs. C.G.E. in the first E.P.L. windup at six sharp down at the Exhibition Grounds and ought to be well worth seeing. And Sugar Bowl and Harrison's hook up at 6.30 at Central in the second men's final play-off, the Bowlmen having copped the first in a fine game and before a big crowd up there Saturday p.m. Smart twirling by Sturgeon and brilliant support by the other uptowners in a speedy game accounted for the win. Don't forget the juvenile baseball semi-final second game at Stevenson Park, 5.30 Wednesday, Oshawa coming here to try and even up the O.B.A.A. tiff between them and Terriers. It'll be a pip, folks.

• • • • • • •

The Eastern Ontario Baseball Association, and the Ulster Stadium League in Toronto, appear to be one up on the O.B.A.A. and the T.A.B.A. at present. The latest move in this sham-amateurism bunk being dished out by the latter two bodies was a direct body blow by the Eastern moguls Saturday when they admitted the Ulster Loop to membership. The winner will enter playdowns with winners of the North Renfrew, St. Lawrence and Temiskaming leagues, the ultimate winners moving on against the Montreal-Quebec winners for the Eastern Canadian championship. Seems the O.B.A.A. had the E.O.B.A. outlawed and then it and the T.A.B.A. tried to wreck the Ulster Stadium loop. This latest move is their answer.

Kawartha Tennis League is drawing to a finish, and will be wound up with all six clubs playing here next Saturday. Lindsay beat Port Hope five games, one being unfinished owing to darkness; Quakers took five out of six from Peterborough; and Kawartha copped four to two from Lakefield, over the week-end. Lindsay is pretty safe on top now but can be shaken out of there yet. This is how they'll play here Saturday: Port Hope at Kawartha, Lakefield at Quakers, and Lindsay at Peterborough. The schedule was so arranged so as to have a get-together party of the six clubs. The odd Lindsay-Port Hope game will likely be run off here, too.

GUELPH BANTAMS TAKE FIRST O.B.A.A. GAME

HAMILTON, Aug. 14. — Guelph bantams took the first game of their first round O.B.A.A. playdowns with Ryerson Playground of Hamilton, when they defeated them by a score of 8 to 1 at Victoria Park Saturday.

The Leaflets sewed up the game in the third inning, when they tallied six times on four hits and five errors. Mason for the winners allowed but three hits and struck out 18. Valvasori of the losers whiffed 15, and King of Guelph led the hitters with four safeties.

PORT HOPE LEADS IN LAKESHORE SEMI-FINALS

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 14. — In the first of the semi-finals games in the Lake Shore League, Bowmanville were handed a 12 to 8 defeat by Port Hope at the local diamond on Saturday. Bowmanville, idle for two weeks, showed plainly their lack of practice and Bowman, the local hurler, was in trouble from the early stages of the game. He was taken from the mound in the seventh inning.

Bowmanville will play in Port Hope on Wednesday in the second of the series. If Bowmanville ties the series another game will be necessary to find a team to meet Cobourg in the league finals.

CHEMONG GIRL TAKES HONORS ON SATURDAY

Jean MacFarlane Scores 18 Points for Juniper Island Regatta.

ALL JUNIOR EVENTS.

Katherine Acton and Jack Barnes of Toronto Rank Second and Third.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Children's Regatta at Stoney Lake, held on Saturday noon scored a new high record in its list of entries which were bigger and better than ever. The number of children entering was larger than usual, but better still, there was more skill shown in handling the various craft.

Fourteen-year-old Jean Macfarlane of Chemong was the championship winner this year, with 18 points; the second was twelve-year-old Katherine Acton of Toronto, and third was Jack Barnes of Toronto, also in the twelve-year class.

In the fifteen events the average entry was ten, which was very gratifying. The attendance was good and boat loads came to Juniper from all over the lake including big contingents from Chemong and Kawartha Park. A good representation came from "Oakridge" Boys' Camp.

When the regatta was well started a sharp storm came up from the northwest and halted the events for a few minutes, but Juniper got merely the fringe of the storm which swept up to the Boschink and made havoc with the dinghies which were hit in the open water south of Otter Island. Every boat was overturned and rescue work provided an interesting interlude to the afternoon program. The wind, which was keen, made the work of the starters difficult, and also made the boats harder to control. The mixed tandem canoe races for both 14 and 16 year classes were run in two heats and were hotly contested. Terry Hall and Tom Currier were the starters; J. M. Gouinlock, the announcer; and the judges, W. H. Barnes, Mr. Law, and Arthur Wood.

Boys' single skiff, 12 years and under, 14 entries—Paul Zimmerman, Jack Barnes, Pete Acton.

Boys' single canoe, 12 years and under, 13 entries—Mike Wood, Jack Barnes, Terry Winslow.

Boys' single canoe, 16 years and under, 10 entries—Charlie Tanner, Ward Wright, Ross Pulkinghorn.

Girls' single canoe, 16 years and under, 5 entries—Jean Macfarlane, Beverley Rogers, June Fraser.

Girls' single canoe, 14 years and under, 10 entries—Jean Macfarlane, Katherine Acton, Jane Currier.

Mixed tandem skiff, 12 years and under, 5 entries—Katherine Acton and Jack Barnes; Olive Scott and John Cole; Mary Zimmerman and Bab Brouse.

Mixed tandem skiff, 14 years and under, 10 entries—Mary and Paul Zimmerman; Patricia and Arthur Cole; Madeline Charlton and Harry Blewett.

Mixed tandem canoe, 12 years and under, 8 entrie—Katherine Acton and Jack Barnes; Barbara Hartley and Terry Winslow; Betty Petterson and Mike Wood.

Mixed tandem canoe, 14 years and under, 14 entries, 2 heats; Finals—Katherine Acton and Hugh Winslow; Madeline Charlton and David Rogers; Eleanor Piper and Jack Barnes.

Mixed tandem canoe, 16 years and under, 12 entries, 2 heats; Finals—Jean Macfarlane and Ward Wright; Beverley Rogers and Charlie Tanner; Katherine Acton and Douglas Smith.

Girls' Swimming, 12 years and under, 4 entries—Merrill Smith; Katherine Acton, Barbara Sawers.

Boys' swimming, 12 years and under, 14 entries—Terry Winslow, Bill Fountain, Douglas Brownridge.

Girls' swimming, 16 years and under, 12 entries—Jean Macfarlane, Beverley Rogers, Leone Comstock.

Boys' swimming race, 16 years and under, 9 entries—Ward Wright, Ross Pulkinghorn, Jack Gouinlock.

Immediately after the regatta the crowd adjourned to the pavilion, where Mrs. J. M. R. Fairbairn graciously presented the prizes. The committee is to be congratulated on the efficient management of the event and the quality and variety of the prizes. The close of the regatta was marked by a discussion by those interested in the continuance of these events of ways and means to extend the interest in the executive work and to relieve the responsibility which a few men have borne for the past ten years.

2 Local Marksmen Leave For Ottawa

Two local marksmen, Gordon Wainwright and Floyd Wagar, left yesterday for Ottawa where they will participate in the Canadian Rifle Association meet this week. The two Peterborough entrants will likely concentrate on small-bore rifle shooting, going there for the experience found in competitive shooting against some of the outstanding marksmen in the country.

Peterborough Eleven Takes One-Sided Win

The match between Peterborough and the Whittaker elevens turned out to be a rather one-sided affair. There were too many catches dropped by the Whittaker fielders, which would have considerably reduced the score if taken, although two good ones were taken by Monkman and Wood respectively. Mahood played the best cricket of the day, and mention must also be made of R. N. Stuart, who gave a touch of his old-time form.

ABBOTT TO PLAY AGAINST SARAZEN

William Fairweather and Joe Kirkwood Also to Take Part in Exhibition.

The Peterborough Golf and Country Club will be the scene of an outstanding exhibition match Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 when Gene Sarazen and Joe Kirkwood tee off with Robert Abbott and William Fairweather. The former two are outstanding American golfers, Sarazen being British and American Open Champion in '33 and Kirkwood, an Australian, one of the leading pro tournament players in the U.S. Robert Abbott is a noted local golfer and William Fairweather is the pro at the Peterborough Club.

Much interest is evident among Peterborough golfers as it is the first time such players as Kirkwood and Sarazen have played here. They are touring Ontario. Kirkwood will give an exhibition, following the match, of trick shooting with explanations. He is noted for jumping stymies with unerring accuracy, imparting ten-foot backspins to a ball, dig one out of the turf with a brassie to send it two hundred yards down the fair, swing full-power with a niblick and catch the ball in his hand, blast a ball—back to the green—out of the sand over his head and onto the green, hit two balls simultaneously with one club slicing one and hooking the other, hit a ball hard from a tee in his caddy's mouth, and other amazing feats!

Much has been written of both Sarazen and Kirkwood, and much will doubtless be written of them before they close their glamorous career, but both must be seen in action to fully appreciate their great golfing ability. The two local players, Abbott and Fairweather, are both first-class players with long and noted record of fairways and green behind them. When these four hook up in an exhibition match on the local links, it will be a historical occasion in the history of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club.

ALL OF US

By MARSHALL MASLIN

IMAGINARY CONVERSATION

HE: The trouble with me is that I have an Inferiority Complex.

ME: The trouble with you is that you THINK you have an Inferiority Complex.

HE: No, I KNOW I have an Inferiority Complex. My family didn't understand me when I was a child. They never encouraged me. They gave me no confidence. My father was irritated because I was timid, and tried to shame me into doing things. Other children were pushed forward in school, while, I who needed to be pushed ahead, was left in the background and became a shrinking child who had no courage.

ME: Yes, that's what happens to many children Some of us get perhaps too much confidence. A bit of praise at an important moment sometimes swings a whole life into a definite course....I had a teacher, when I was a kid, who praised something I wrote. I wrote more, to get more praise, and decided that was the thing for me....Later on, in college, I though I'd like to be a teacher of philosophy, but a subtle fellow who corrected one of my philosophy papers wrote on the margin that I wasn't much of a philosopher, but I'd probably make a newspaper man. So I was practically driven into working for a newspaper....But you have not any Inferiority Complex.

HE: No?

ME: You can usually detect that Complex by a man's actions. If he has it, he's frequently loud, bumptuous, pushing. He suspects a little weakness in himself, some inferiority, so he makes a big noise to disguise his imperfection.....Napoleon, poor and skinny, probably had an inferiority....So have many of the great soldiers, inventors, explorers, business men, and writers. Particularly the writers. They're not content just to be themselves. They want to push out ahead and make a mighty splash in the waters of life. More egotism than you suspect is hidden in many a mild nature.

HE: Are you suggesting that my real trouble is not humility, but egotism?

ME: Well, I might not have been so frank as all that, but now that you mention it—I'll admit that's my idea.

HE: You've got a nerve. How about you?

ME: Let's avoid that subject.

FENELLA SOCIETY GUESTS OF HONOR

Ladies' Aid Society of Centenery Also Visits Roseneath.

ROSENEATH, Aug. 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular monthly meeting of the Roseneath Women's Missionary Society was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday afternoon, when they entertained the Fenella W.M.S. and the Ladies' Aid Society of Centenary, making a nice gathering of sixty-seven adults and several children.

The quilt pieces were received by Mrs. M. D. Brown, but are left until the September meeting for distributing among the members.

On motion, it was decided that a letter of condolence be sent to Mrs. Frank Allan, Chungking, Szechewan, China. The following program was given: Devotional leaflet, "The Woman of Faith," was read by Mrs. M. Davey. Introductory leaflet to study work read by Mrs. Turner. Leaflets on the work were given by Mrs. J. A. Nichol, Miss Gladys Blodgett, Mrs. George Mouncey, and Mrs. John Baxter, with the conclusion paper read by the president.

A poem, "Be a Friend," was given by Miss Gladys Blodgett. Mrs. Delbert Brisbin favored the gathering with a vocal solo. Mrs. Albert Halstead read a pleasing poem, "Take Home a Smile." A reading by Mrs. M. D. Brown, "When You Get to Know a Fellow." Reading by Mrs. Davey, "Can You Say," and by Mrs. D. Brisbin, "Ain't it a Fine Day to Day?"

Remarks and thanks were offered by Miss Florence Macklin of the Fenella branch and by Mrs. Dawson Timlin of Centenary.

Miss Hildred Taylor gave a humprous reading, taking the accents of the Scotch, Irish and English, which caused much laughter. The finding of Mrs. W.M.S. was the last number on the program and followed by the Mizpah Benediction in unison.

A sumptuous luncheon was served and a social time was spent among the visitors.

The offering taken was $4.51. September meeting will be held at Mrs. Archie Mouncey.

Does August Find YOU "Fagged Out?"

Do you wake up in the morning feeling "dead tired?" Unfit to tackle a day's work?
Do "little things" upset you to the verge of tears?
Does your Heart palpitate? Your Head frequently ache? Is your Digestion bad?

Ready to Give Up?

Thousands of other women (and men, too) have felt disheartened and ready to give up before taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Then, in a few short weeks, their shattered nerves and their Vitality were restored and their systems rebuilt. Life, once again, became worth living. Grateful letters from 72 different countries bear testimony to the benefits derived from these Pills.

There is a very definite reason for the proven value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a blood-builder. Recent scientific tests made by two practising physicians on over 50 people recorded remarkable improvement in the Blood Streams of these patients, and the resultant improvement in their Health was correspondingly great.

Act Through the Blood Stream

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act through your Blood Stream which is your Life Stream — and, be it remembered, the condition of your NERVES and the measure of your Vitality depend directly on the condition of your Blood . . . Dr. Williams' Pink Pills increase the power of the Blood to absorb Oxygen, which as any medical authority will tell you, is the great vitalizer of the body.

Oxygenizes Your Blood Stream

By oxygenizing your Blood Stream, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills invigorate and revitalize your NERVES — make your food digest and really feed your nerves and tissues—carry new strength to every part of your body.

Try these Pills. Your Druggist has them—50 cents a package.

LINDSAY DROPS LEAGUE POINTS

Scugog Eleven Lacks Finish Around Goal—G. Downer Plays Brilliant Game.

PACKERS 5, LINDSAY 1.

Lindsay dropped two league points on Saturday afternoon in Lindsay when Canada Packers beat them by five goals to one, before a meagre attendance. They gave the visitors a bitter agrument during the ninety minute tussle but they lacked the necessary finish around goal. G. D. Downer was the outstanding player through his perfect crosses into goal that brought three of the counters.

First Half

From the kick-off, Lindsay forwards travelled down the field to test Green, Packer's goalie, with a barrage of shots. Eventually Hakin and Downer replied with clean putting that helped their forwards to introduce the combination attack that suited the style of play of G. Downer on the left wing. An accurate pass into goal permitted Newt Downer to open the scoring, after ten minutes of play. A few minutes later, a penalty was awarded C.P.C. and Munt made a wonderful two handed save by tipping the ball over the bar. The resultant corner kick taken by the left winger landed into goal where Ross caught the ball with his chest to deflect it into the net. Lindsay retaliated with dangerous rushes to finally succeed in scoring through G. Dobie who scored with a rocket drive that had Green beat all the way.

Half time, Packers 2, Lindsay 1.

Second Half

On resuming, Lindsay carried the attack into the Packers' goal. The visitors travelled to the other end through the untiring efforts of Foster who beat Munt at close range. Exchanges continued even for a while with Lindsay around the goal. After confining the play to the Packers area. Ross took the fight out of the Lindsay players when he registered the count 4-1 with a beautiful goal. Towards the end, a fast and furious pace was set by the forwards until an individual effort by Newt Downer climaxed the battle.

Canada Packers 5, Lindsay 1.

Goal scorers—C.P.C., N. Downer 2, Ross 2, Foster 1; Lindsay, G. Dobie.

Canada Packers—D. Green, goal; E. Hakin and A. Downer, full backs; A. Bromley, J. Buchan and H., OToole, halves; N. Downer, J. Mayette, A. Ross, T. Foster and G. Downer, forwards.

DELORO OUT OF SOCCER LEAGUE

Deloro has intimated to secretary pro tem that they have decided to forfeit all the remaining games, and the following letter speaks for itself. The communication will be discussed at a meeting to-night in Chambers of Commerce rooms:

Dear Sir,— We, in Deloro hate complaining, but again we have to protest the system your board has of notifying Deloro when games have to be played.

The first we knew that we had to play the Caledonians Saturay was the paragraph that appeared in Friday's Examiner, August 11th.

The Deloro team have decided to cancel all future games and forfeit all points.

Yours truly,
JOHN HART,
Manager.

Lindsay Is Leading In Kawartha League

Following is the standing to date of the Kawartha Tennis League:

Clubs:	W.	L.	P.C.
Lindsay	35	18	.660
Quaker Oats	32	22	.593
Port Hope	29	24	.547
Peterborough	24	30	.444
Kawartha	22	32	.407
Lakefield	19	35	.352

Next Saturday the schedule will be completed with all six clubs playing here. Port Hope meets Kawartha, Lakefield plays at the Quaker courts, and Lindsay plays Peterborough. Last Saturday's games resulted in Quaker Oats beating Peterborough 5-1, Kawartha winning from Lakefield 4-2, and Lindsay taking 6 games from Port Hope, one being unfinished owing to darkness.

Lakefield defaulted their mixed doubles to Kawartha, and the latter club also won the ladies' singles and the two men's doubles. In the men's singles, Lionel Lawless won from Ted Rigby, 6-8, 6-3, 6-4. Miss J. Allin defeated Miss H. Burgess, 6-1 and 6-2, in the ladies' singles. The ladies' doubles saw the Misses C. Stuart and M. Fletcher win from Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy and Peggy Scott, 6-3 and 7-5. The mixed doubles were defaulted by Lakefield. H. R. Sills and W. T. Fanjoy captured the first men's doubles from Jack Petty and Jack Kimslie, 6-4, 4-6 and 6-3. The second went to S. O. Shields and W. M. Cruthers over Walter Spence and Ken Dawson, 6-4 and 13-11, the latter being an unusually hard-fought game.

NOTICE

All Citizens are requested not to place Leaves, Lawn Clippings, and other Refuse on the City Streets, except in proper Containers and on Garbage Collection Days.

Rubbish lying on the Streets and Pavements makes them look very unsightly, and in case of rain is apt to block the Catch Basin Tops.

Observance of the above request will be greatly appreciated.

By Order,
R. H. PARSONS,
City Engineer.

HOLLYWOOD

Sense and Nonsense

One of the oft-repeated rumors of the last few weeks was that Clark Gable had refused to play opposite Joan Crawford in "Dancing Lady." Hollywood gossips now can forget it, because Clark will go into the picture as soon as he convalesces from his operation for appendicitis.

Clark Gable

The decision to hold the part open for him was made yesterday when physicians reported the actor to be making splendid progress at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Unless complications develop, they believe he will be able to report for work in a couple of weeks.

Signs of relief greeted the news at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, where Director Robert Leonard has tried in vain to find an actor to replace Clark in the cast.

One of the funnier stories of the week is told by Heather Angel and Harvey Parry, Hollywood stunt man.

The English actress was questioning Parry the other day about his death defying feats.

"Yes," said Parry, "my wife threatens to divorce me unless I give up stunts. She says they make her so nervous she can't go on with her work.'

"What does she do?" inquired Heather.

"Oh," replied Parry, "she's the target for Steve Clemento, the knife thrower."

Writing as well as mining pays big dividends to Charlie Chaplin. The comedian is reported to have received $50,000 for his book delivered to a national magazine. . . . Meanwhile, Carlisle Robinson, who used to be publicity director for Charlie, will get in the neighborhood of $15,000 for the British, first American and serial rights of his observations about the little actor with the trick moustache, the trick cane and the big shoes.

Romance of the torrid variety interspersed with delectable comedy sequences make Ramon Novarro's new starring vehicle, "The Barbarian," which opens Monday at the Capitol Theatre, one of the most enjoyable of this star's recent photoplays.

The picture follows all the best traditions of desert drama its story making the most of several melodramatic and romantic incidents.

"The Barbarian" was directed by Sam Wood who has permeated it with the same fresh humor which made his Marie Dressler talkies so popular. Myrna Loy makes a delightful heroine, Reginald Denny is amusing as the dull-witted English fiance and Louise Closser Hale gives another of her droll portrayals as the heroine's companion.

Shyer of publicity than she used to be, Gloria Swanson, accompanied by Michael Farmer, got off the train at San Bernardino, clad in becoming pajamas, and motored in to Hollywood. In a brief stop at Glendale, she paid a visit to her mother. To friends, the actress said her future plans are still uncertain, but that she expects to remain in the film colony for some time.

CLERKS BEAT SAINTS 11-4

Sudden Death Game Win Gives Them Campbellford League Leadership.

ON SATURDAY NIGHT.

CAMPBELLFORD, August 14 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Counting an 11-4 win for top place in the Campbellford Town Softball League, the Clerks walked away from the Saints in a sudden death game Saturday evening on the Campbellford High School grounds, which was seen by a very large crowd of fans.

Facing each other in a quick take-off, before they clash in the play-offs next week the two battling aggregations, who had tied for top place in the league, battled it out to see which was the best outfit, the odds falling to the Clerks. From the first ball the Clerks had the play in their hands, knocking up three runs in the first innings to the Saints one, and counting in every frame of the game, while the Saits registered five blank innings. The game was keen, however, and spectacular, and gave the interested fans some real thrills a taste of what will be given them in the five play-off games.

The teams:

Clerks — Henry, lf; Bush, 3b; Campney, ss; McArthur, c; Holmes, p; Upton, cf; Reynolds, 2b; Denike, 1b; Gillespie, rf.

Saints.—Owens, c; Cowell, 1b; DeCarrol, 2b; Hopping, rf; Whitton, 3b; Stuart, ss; McComb, p; Little, lf; Keating, cf.

Umpires — Plate, H. Tinney; bases, Chas. Holmes.

Score by innings:

Clerks	321 131 x—11
Saints	100 003 0— 4

HASTINGS WINS 3 TO 2 VICTORY

Campbellford Beaten in First Game of Second Half of E. N. L.

A CLOSE BATTLE.

HASTINGS, Aug. 14 (Examiner Correspondence)—Hastings opened the second half of the East Northumberland League schedule which the locals won 3 to 2. Going through the first half with only one win to their credit the locals are out to lead the rest home in the last half and with "Spook" Scriver on the mound should quite easily do it.

Campbellford could do nothing with "Spook's" slants no less than fourteen of them going out via the strike out route. Richardson was the only batter to get anything like a hit. Hastings regular backstop "Curly" Scriver was unable to take his place, "Derby" Lemoire doing the backstopping. Considering this was the latter's first time behind the bat he did a goodd job of it.

Richardson on the hill-top for Campbellford "was inclined to be wild issuing three walks and hitting four batters. A very unfortunate accident happened in the fifth when "Mickey" Hogan, peppy first baseman of the locals was hit on the elbow with one of Richardson's slants, he was rushed to Dr. J. A. MacDonald's office where it was discovered he had cracked the bone in his left arm.

Arrangements are being made for a big street dance to be held on Wednesday, August 23rd. The club are considerable in debt and are taking this means of getting out.

Score by innings—

	R	H	E
Hastings	0	1	0
Campbellford	0	1	4

Batteries—Scriver and D. Lemoire; Richardson and Cowell.

Strike outs, Scriver 14, Richardson 8; runs batted in, D. Lemoire and Radford; stolen bases, Campbellford 5, Hastings 2; triples Scriver and W. Boyle; doubles, D. Lemoire; bases on balls, off Richardson 3, hit by pitcher, by Richardson (W. Boyle, Radford, Bonds, Hogan); left on bases, Hastings 7, Campbellford 3; umpires, Davidson and Wellman.

Campbellford Wins From Warkworth

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 14.—Another win for the Campbellford Lawn Bowling Club in the Trent Valley Bowling League gives them the lead so far in the second half of the schedule and a chance to feature in the play-offs. The win was registered against the Warkworth club at Warkworth on Friday evening, when the locals took three out of four games. The games were.

demanded political recognition and thereby changed the basis of the cabinet selection. A decidedly oppositionist government, and not a concentration cabinet, was consequently produced.

Dr. De Cespeds this morning announced his additional choices, among them: Secretary of Justice, Carlos Saladrigas, an ABC member; Treasury, Jacquin Martinez Saenz, ABC; Public Workers, Eduardo J. Chibas, ABS; Agriculture, Rafael Santos Jimenez, Nationalist party; Public Instruction, Guillermo Belt, ABC; Chief of the Havana Central District, Stanislao Cartaya, Nationalist.

The Liberal party, of which Machado is a member, and the Popular party were not represented.

Brilliant Man.

Dr. De Cespedes (pronounced Ses-Pay-Des) was 62 years old on Saturday. His father participated in the first revolution against Spain in 1868. Educated in Europe, he speaks six languages. In 1906 he was a Colonel of the insurrectionists, and afterwards became chief of the general staff.

From 1914 until 1922 he was the minister to the United States. On his return he was named secretary of state. In 1926 he was sent to Paris as minister.

The provisional president has high hopes for the future: "The plan of my government," he said in an interview with the Associated Press representative, "is fulfillment of the patriotic and representative desires of the entire Cuban people—restoration of normal conditions in every order of affairs throughout the country and establishment of normal peace everywhere in order that the free people may continue to follow the pursuit of life and happiness in their customary walks.

"I intend to carry out the program (for political reforms) in order that political parties may organize and go to the polls with a sense of safety."

Gerardo Machado took to political exile in Nassau, the Bahamas, with a group of close friends.

"My love is for Cuba," he said after he arrived, tired and without baggage, at a hotel.

"History has shown that my work has been good. Cuba is constitutional. If it is the people's will that I go, I obey. There will soon be stability in Cuba."

Police Guard Plane.

Police guarded the plane in which he flew from Havana on Saturday afternoon. Patrols were established about his hotel. Those with him included Dr. Octavio Averhoff former Treasury Secretary, and Eugenio Molinet, former Secretary of Agriculture and Labor.

His wife, Senora Elvira Machado several mmebers of her family, and a group of servants were reported to have left Cuba on a gunboat on Sunday for Key West.

Machadistas were relentlessly hunted yesterday. It was estimated that a score of persons were killed in Havana, bringing the toll during the two days to near 50. One man was killed at Santiago. Two were wounded in Camaguey. Thirty houses and business places were sacked in Manzanillo. Three were killed in Santa Clara.

The Army took steps to-day however, to enforce law and order and violence was on the wane. The students institute joined other groups in urging a return to tranquility. Students in the closed Havana University were expected to-day to issue an appeal for peace.

CHEESEMAKERS TO MEET AT NAPANEE NOV. 29-30

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 14 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The annual convention of the Central Cheesemakers' Association will be held again this year at Napanee the dates set for this event being November 29 and 30. This is the sixth annual conventon of this body, arrangements regarding which were made at a meeting of the executive, held in the office of the Dominion grader, J. L. Irwin, Belleville. On the 20th of this month, the members of the association, their families and friends will gather at The Outlet, Prince Edward County, for the annual picnic.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug 14—Brought to a standstill by measures adopted to meet recent emergency conditions, all grains stopped Saturday at the lowest prices possible until Aug. 16.

On that date an absolute fixed minimum level of quotations will be no longer in effect, and trade predictions are numerous that the markets would then quickly right themselves. Talk was general that any further declines in grain values appeared likely to result in an excellent class of buying, as many traders of late had remained apart from grain operations, while prices have been subject not merely to a daily 5-cent limit up or down, but banned altogether from going below the losing level of July 31.

In something of a general selling rush at the start, simultaneous with almost a complete absence of buyers, every kind of grain quickly reached the July 31 minimum, and the markets remained in a deadlock the rest of the day, closing flat, wheat 2½c to 3¾c under Friday's finish; corn 2¾c to 3¾ down; oats ¼c to 1¾c off, and provisions showing 7c to 27c decline.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 14. — Tumbling spectacularly downward from a maximum loss of 7¼ cents, wheat prices were saved from a complete rout in Saturday's trading on the Grain Exchange, by export purchases, estimated at close to 2,000,000 bushels, which checked the downturn and left values 6 to 6¾ cents lower at the close.

Recovery from bottom levels was difficult, but a moderate rally near the close was noted, and final quotations showed October at 72¼c, December at 74c and May at 78¼c.

Weakness in the Liverpool market started the decline, and heavy selling from Chicago and other United States interests kept it going. The English market regarded the official acknowledgement of the large wheat carryovers in North America as bearish, although they have been well broadcast for many weeks past. Chicago's five-cent decline had the effect of driving United States interests into the local mart for protection.

A little improvement was noted in the demand for cash wheat apparently on the resumption of the export trade. In the coarse grains futures, all commodities slipped off in sympathy with wheat. Oats and barley were off about three cents, while rye was six cents under the previous close, and flax about three cents lower.

Delegates to the conference on social and religious problems had waited in no little anxiety for their arrival and when they were at last satisfied no serious mishap had befallen, the meeting went on.

Obituary

MRS. JACOB SIDDERS

Following a short illness, the death occurred yesterday morning of Mrs. Jacob Sidders, formerly Mary Ann Little, of R.R. No. 8, Peterborough. The deceased has been a life-long resident of Peterborough and had many friends. She was a member of St. James' United Church, and was sixty-six years of age. She leaves her sorrowing husband, Jacob, and one son Harry, at home, and three brothers, Robert, Hugh and John all of Hall's Glen.

The funeral will be held Tuesday, August 15th, 2.30 Daylight Saving Time from the home of her niece, Mrs. Wesley Rose, 121 Morrow Street to Little Lake cemetery, the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe officiating.

MRS. LEONARD C. McNEIL

MILLBROOK, Aug. 14. (Examiner Correspondence).—The death of Mrs. Leonard C. McNeil took place on Saturday morning August 12, after a comparatively brief illness, in her thirty-fifth year. Deceased whose maiden name was Luella Staples, was a daughter of Mr. Joseph Staples, and the late Mrs. Staples, of Springville. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Margaret, aged four years; also by one sister, Miss Helen Staples, of Peterborough, and one brother, S. S. Staples, ex-M.P., of Cavan.

The funeral will take place on Monday, at 2 p.m., from the homestead, Eighth Line, Cavan, the Rev. William Simpson, B.A. rector of the parish of Cavan, officating. Interment in St. John's cemetery, Ida.

JAMES CASSIDY

MADOC, Aug. 14. (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late James Cassidy of Queensboro, who died at his home there after an illness which extended over more than two years was held in the United Church, Queensboro on Friday, July 22nd, and was conducted by the Rev. J. F. Everson, of Plainfied, his late pastor, assisted by the Rev. W. Cafley.

Mr. Cassidy was born in Napanee on December 4th, 1844, and spent about thirteen years of his life in that district when he moved to Cooper where he settled on a farm which is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Irwin, who keep a store and postoffice on the premises. Fifty years later, Mr. Cassidy with his wife, who before her marriage was Victoria Jane Blair, moved to Queensboro, where they lived a quiet life. Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy celebrated their 56th anniversary of their marriage on December 20th.

Mr. Cassidy was a very faithful attender of Cooper Methodist Church and also of the Queensboro United Church until three years ago when his health began to fail.

Left to mourn besides his widow are four sons and four daughters, twenty-seven grandchildren and one great grandchild. The children are Mrs. Jennie Clement of Belmont; Mrs. Herbert Brown, Ottawa; Mrs. Effie Manchester, Reg.N. Ottawa, who waited on her father during his last illness; Miss Ida, at home; Charles Edgar, Prince Edward County; Thomas, of Trenton; Robert of Mcordale, Manitoba; and William James, Elzevir Township.

The service was largely attended. Interment was made in the Cooper cemetery.

WINNIPEG GRAIN EXCHANGE PEGS PRICE OF FUTURES

PROBABILITIES
Light to moderate winds, shifting to southwest; fair today and Wednesday; becoming warmer.

The Peterborough Examiner

HOME EDITION

VOL. LXXI., No. 37 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, TUESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1933 — PRICE THREE CENTS

BRADLEY ADMITS FAMILY MASSACRE

HEAVY SELLING FORCED ACTION UPON EXCHANGE

Minimum Price for All Futures Set in Winnipeg.

DECLINE IS HALTED.

Closing Price on Monday, August 14 Set as Low.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 15. — Halting erratic fluctuations and ending a decline which had swept values down 12 cents in three days, members of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today imposed minimum prices for all grain futures. It was believed to be the first time in the history of the exchange such action had been taken.

Emergency Session

At an emergency session called for early today, members unanimously decided to make closing prices of August 14 the low levels through which prices could not drop until further notice.

Prices responded to this action by climbing upwards. Gains were 1⅝ to 1⅞ cents at the close. October future wound up at 71⅛, December at 73¼ and May at 78¼.

Persistent selling by Chicago interests, whose own market was artificially pegged, proved a crushing burden in the local pit and tended to demoralize trading. Minimum prices were imposed in Chicago, Aug. 1 and at the end of last week bottom prices were reached in that market. Finding no buyers there traders turned to Winnipeg and local values took heavy losses Friday and Saturday and received another setback Monday.

The pressure which drove wheat and coarse grain prices down presented another difficulty to the harassed Western Canadian farmer. Already beset by drought, heat and a plague of grasshoppers, he was forced to watch futures prices, which had soared to encouragingly high levels, slump in confusion as he began to harvest his grain and prepared to market it.

MRS. COSTELLO'S FATE WITH JURY

Prisoner Charged With Poisoning Pleads to be Sent Back to Children.

MAINTAINS INNOCENCE.

SALEM, Mass., Aug. 15 (CP). — The jury in the case of Mrs. Jessie Costello, charged with poisoning her husband retired at 11.52 a.m. today to consider its verdict.

The case was given to the jury after a charge delivered by Judge Frederick W. Fosdick.

District Attorney Hugh A. Gregg, in his summation of the Government's case, had branded Mrs. Costello as a scarlet woman who had engaged in an illicit affair with Edward J. McMahon, Peabody reserve patrolman.

William G. Clark, defence counsel, in his argument to the jury, had portrayed her as a loving mother of three small children, devoted to her husband and her home, against whom the State had proved no crime.

Mrs. Costello's fate lies in the hands of a dozen tradesmen who each morning, on their way to court, have stopped at a florist shop and bought blossoms for their buttonholes. They have spent their idle hours singing.

The prisoner closed her case with a direct appeal to the jury after the prosecutor had concluded his address. She asked the jurymen to "send me back to my three children. I loved my husband and I didn't kill him."

VERNON BEAVIS DIES FOLLOWING BRIEF ILLNESS

Star Rightfielder of Peterborough Seniors' Ball Club Passes This Morning.

A POPULAR PLAYER.

Connected With City Ball Since Public School Days.

It was with a distinct shock, that the many friends of Vernon David Beavis, learned of his death, which occurred at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. David Beavis, 184 Rubidge street, early this morning. He was in his 25th year.

Few if any, young men, were held in such popular regard, as was "Vern" Beavis, star outfielder for the Peterborough senior ball team. Not only was he highly esteemed by the players and followers of baseball throughout the city and district, but he was well liked by all who knew him. He always played the game, true to the highest sportsmanlike instincts.

His association with baseball goes back to his school days at the Collegiate Institute, and even as far as the years he spent at Prince of Wales' School. He learned to play ball with the minor leagues in the city, having played at various times with the bantams, the C.G.E. team and with the intermediates. For the past three years he had played with the local seniors.

Three weeks ago, while practising with his team at Riverside Park, he was struck in the chest with a fast ball. A fact which is believed to have contributed to the pleurisy which developed some time later, and which confined him to his bed a week ago last Friday. Other complications also set in, and despite the care of relatives, and the skilled aid of doctors and nurses, he passed away this morning.

For eight years past "Vern" Beavis had been employed in the accounts department of the C.G.E.

Evidence of the high regard in which he was held was evidenced by the continuous stream of callers at the home of his parents today, and which included Hugh M. Campbell, president of Peterborough Baseball Club and George H. Hewitt, a member of the Baseball executive.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother Gordon and one sister Betty, both of this city.

The funeral is to be held from the family residence on Thursday, August 17th, at 2.30 p.m., with the Rev. William McDonald, pastor of Knox United Church officiating. Interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

Kingston Senior Game Called Off

The Peterborough - Kingston senior baseball playoff game tomorrow (Wednesday) in Kingston has been called off owing to the death this morning of Vernon Beavis Peter' rightfielder. No announcement has been made regarding the time this playoff game will be staged, but further details should be known to-morrow.

Like Warehouse Without Roof Is Trent Canal Uncompleted

R. R. Hall, K.C., Affirms That Offensive Phrase "Political Racketeers" in "The Canadian Magazine" Article Does Grave Injustice to Long Line of Canadian Statesmen.

My attention has been drawn to an article which appeared in The Canadian Magazine, Toronto, August, 1933 entitled "Trent Canal—A Ravenous White Elephant. $20,000,000 has already been spent—Is this Political Racket to continue? By Hugh C. MacLean."

In this same article appears the following statement: "Naturally, as soon as the mental aberrations of the imaginative gentlemen of 1827 were announced, the political racketeers of the day seized upon the Trent Canal project and led it gently, but firmly, into the political arena—and it has never quite escaped."

The writer of this article does a very grave injustice to the statesmen of Canada from the days of Sir John Colborne, to Sir John Macdonald, to Sir Wilfred Laurier, to Sir Robert Borden and to those of the present day and other various supporters from time to time in Parliament in applying to them the offensive term of "political racketeers."

Phrase of Chicago Slums

The offensive term of "racketeer" as at present understood is a recent importation from the slums of Chicago and the systematic lawlessness of the underworld in the United States.

Although the large sum of $20,000,000 has been spent on capital account within these last 100 years, I challenge the writer of this article to produce any evidence of scandal in either political party in the making of any part of this expenditure and hence his whole criticism of the Trent Canal should be discounted on account of his unfair attitude.

He should truthfully acknowledge that until the canal is completed from Georgian Bay to Trenton, this large capital expenditure cannot be profitably used for the carriage of freight and until the Severn portion of the canal is completed the canal is like a large and expensive warehouse without a roof.

Large grain operators contend that it is as cheap to store grain in barges as it is in elevators with this difference, that although the barges may move slowly, nevertheless the grain is being carried at the same time to its destination at practically the same cost as it would be to pay storage charges.

Cheap Water Transportation

It is well recognized that transportation by water costs about one-fifth less than it does to transport by steam railway provided that time is not a material consideration. Experts claim that one horse will draw three tons one mile in one hour on a level clay road; the same horse will draw 15 tons one mile in one hour on a level steel railroad; and the same horse will draw 70 tons one mile in one hour on a waterway.

I remember very distinctly when the Quaker Oats Company, then known as the American Cereal Company, was induced to locate in the City of Peterborough in 1901, that of the strongest inducements for them to locate here was the assurance given to its directors that the Trent Canal would be completed in a very few years and would be open for transportation of grain over the Trent Waterway from the Georgian Bay to Trenton. On the faith of these representations the American Cereal Company did invest over $1,000,000 in land and buildings and the development of water power after the Company had made the fullest investigation as to the feasibility of carrying grain in barges from Georgian Bay to Peterborough and their products by barge from Peterborough to Montreal.

They further investigated the feasibility of getting slow moving freight on their returning barges from Montreal to various points along the route.

Contracts Actually Let

There is no question but that had it not been for the enormous obligations that Canada had to assume as a result of the War, that Sir Robert Borden's Government would have completed the Severn portion of the Trent Canal because as a matter of fact the contracts had already been let for the completion of that work.

Of course Canada, in common with other countries has its fault finders and its unfair critics who if they had the running of the country, would head it straight for stagnation and decay, and ultimate bankruptcy.

Dated at Peterborough this 15th day of August, 1933.

Board of Health Appointed Committee to Investigate Charges.

NURSE IS ILL.

Dyes and Refuse Not Contaminating Water at Inverlea Beach.

The intended investigation by a committee of the City Council into the city's administration of health was not mentioned today at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health.

However, a letter was received from Miss A. M. Price, matron of the Isolation Hospital, asking for the dismissal of the hospital's laundress on grounds of "inefficiency, gross carelessness and impertinence". Miss Price said she considered the laundress a "menace to the hospital and the public", because she had had a sore throat for three weeks and had gone on vacation while suffering from the sore throat, without reporting it. Also Miss Price said she "considers her unfit for work" because the laundress stated that while on vacation she had a hemmorhage from the lung.

To Investigate

Aldermen Stocker and McIntyre were appointed a committee to investigate the charges against the laundress and, if they deem it advisable, to discharge her.

Dr. T. W. H. Young reported that he feared that Nurse M. Stone

Shoots Down Uncle at Same Time as He is Attacked On Mentioning Mortgage—Picked Sister Off As She Runs For Help—Surprises Mother in Kitchen, Brother Coming Down Stairs, Confession Says.

ANGERED BECAUSE FAMILY "HAVING FUN" WITH MONEY HE INVESTED IN HOMESTEAD.

CAMPBELL'S BAY, Que., Aug. 15. —(CP)— Michael Bradley, 42-year-old farmer has confessed to killing five members of his family here July 21, provincial police said today. Bradley has been held here on a murder charge since a week after the wholesale killings.

According to police, Bradley in the confession said the wholesale killings started when his father threatened him with a pitchfork. Bradley said he left his own farm early in the morning of July 21, taking his rifle in the hope of shooting deer. When he reached his father's farm, about a mile and a half from his own he met his father, Joseph Bradley and his uncle, John Bradley.

Bradley said he asked his father about a mortgage and the father motioned to strike him with a pitchfork. It was then, according to the confession, that Bradley fired at his father and then turned on his uncle, killing him.

The sound of the shots attracted Bradley's sister, Johanna, the confession continued. She shouted, "I'll get Tom," referring to her brother, who was asleep in the farm house. Bradley fired at her when she turned toward the house, according to the police version, and then continued into the house.

Bradley's mother, the confession read, was cleaning her teeth in a corner of the kitchen when her son entered the door. He fired point blank at her, the confession said, and she fell to the floor at his feet. The brother, Tom was awakened by the shot in the kitchen and was on his way downstairs when Bradley met him, firing two shots at him, according to the statement to the police.

KITCHENER BARS STEEL HELMETS

But No Definite Ruling Set Regarding Further Swastika Meetings.

BECKER CHANGES MIND.

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 15 (CP) —Chief of Police William Hodgson declared to-day there will be no more such meetings of "Steel Helmets" as was broken up here last night by hecklers. Chief Hodgson, however, would not say definitely that Otto E. Becker, who called last night's meeting, would not be permitted to hold another gathering to organize a "Swastika" club.

Becker said to-day he would approach police about holding a future meeting.

Some time ago Becker was one of three local citizens who circulated a petition among Kitchener Jews protesting against alleged atrocities in Germany To-day he admitted a change in his attitude, brought about, he said, by the realization atrocity stories were untrue. Becker to-day appealed to civic officials for cancellation of the deportation order recently issued on his request. He was referred to Ottawa Government officials.

Secretary Is Found Tied to Tree, Slain

DOVER, N. J., Aug. 15. —(AP)— Miss Anna Ulm, 45, secretary to a New York chiropractor, was beaten to death Sunday and lashed to a tree trunk, police disclosed today.

Police said Miss Ulm's body was found wedged in between 2 trunks of a heavy tree stump. One end of a piece of rope was tied tightly around her throat, while the other was secured to the stamp. The victim had been struck a heavy blow which crushed her skull. There was also a small puncture of the skull behind the left ear.

Robbery apparently was not the motive, as two costly diamond rings on Miss Ulm's fingers were not removed.

WELSH MINING STRIKE ALMOST FULL WALKOUT

Owners Fear Loss of Their Hold on Canadian Anthracite Market.

EXPORTS BEEN BOOMING.

Figures Show 1,831,000 Tons Sent to Dominion First Half of Year.

SWANSEA, Wales, Aug. 15. (C. P. Cable).—Reports from Welsh Anthracite Coal Mining Union lodges to-day indicated a 100-percent strike would be in progress before the end of the week. Decision of the lodges, however, will be considered at a special delegates' meeting Thursday.

The strike yesterday sent 17,000 men out of anthracite pits and caused authorities to fear loss of the Canadian market through which they have increased exports during the last two years.

Officials said the Welsh fields had succeeded in partially ousting American anthracite from the Canadian market. Their exports for the first half of this year were 1,831,000 tons as compared with 1,666,000 tons in the first six months of 1933 and 1,518,000 tons during the first half of 1931.

Should the strike last for any considerable length of time, they said, they might never regain the Canadian market.

Pickets Withdrawn From East City Home

All was quiet on the "Unemployed War Front" this morning.

Pickets had been withdrawn from the home of Albert Cooper, 612a Armour road, and he and his wife and seven children still remained in occupancy, their few pitiful sticks of furniture still intact, and untouched by the landlord's bailiff.

Before going to live in his present house, which is owned by John Anderson, Cooper and his family had lived in a house owned by the Healy Estate at 338 Cameron avenue.

Last November Cooper sued his former landlord for trespassing on his own property and was successful in obtaining judgment for the sum of $30 and costs, on an interesting decision handed down by His Honor Judge L. V. O'Connor in Division Court here.

CUBAN NATIONAL LOTTERY LIKELY TO BE SUPPRESSED

HAVANA, Aug. 15. (A.P.)—As one of the results of the anti-Machado revolution the Cuban National lottery is tied up for the time being at least and may eventually be suppressed.

Because of the general strike the drawing scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 6 was postponed by government decree. Since that time Sebastian Planas, director of the lottery, has joined the numerous Machado adherents forced by the revolution to flee the island or go into hiding. His home was sacked.

Suppression of the lottery was one of the items in the program of the Machado opposition which now controls the government. Whether one more drawing will be held to clear up the tickets now out could not be ascertained to-day.

Officials Check Airway Pilot's Course on Tip From Kidnap Victim.

HEARD PLANE FLYING OVER

Desperado Changes Boast, of Never Being Taken Alive, on Facing Gun.

FORT WORTH, Tex. Aug. 15. (AP)—A storm, sufficient in intensity to force an airways pilot from his course, brought about the capture of Harvey Bailey and the discovery of the "prison" where Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire was held while his abductors negotiated for ransom.

Urschel reported to Department of Justice agents an aeroplane regularly passed over the house at 9.15 a.m and 5:45 p.m. daily, except one Sunday morning. He noted the date he failed to hear the plane.

Agents checked all airlines operating regularly through the southeast. The check narrowed to the American Airways. Pilots' logs and weather charts during the period of Urschel's nine-day captivity—July 23 to July 31—were closely scanned. They discovered that one pilot, on a Sunday morning, had swerved his course to miss a storm.

The pilot was asked to plot the course he took away from his usual route. The agents took the arc he made and completed a circle, then took to the air to search that area. They spotted the hide-out, aided by descriptions of the place as given by the oil operator. The capture followed.

Two Old Parties Contesting the 30 Seats in Legislature.

NO ACCLAMATIONS.

HALIFAX, Aug. 15. (CP)—Battle lines for the Provincial election on August 22 were being drawn officially to-day and at noon it appeared there would be 66 candidates in the field for 30 seats in the Nova Scotia legislative assembly.

Nomination day proceedings were going forward smoothly, with the promise of more excitement at joint debates in some constituencies before nightfall.

Both the Conservative government forces and the Liberal opposition planned to have 30 candidates—one for each seat; three-cornered fights loomed in six ridings, the big parties having one Labor, two Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and two United Front candidates to add to their worries.

Premier Gordon S. Harrington was standing in Cape Breton South where he was opposed by M. A. Patterson, Liberal, and Daniel McKay Co-operative Commonwealth candidate.

Angus L. Macdonald, 43-year-old opposition leader who never has been a member of the House, was nominated in the constituency of Halifax South against Hon. G. H. Murphy, Minister of Health in the Harrington Government.

"Really," she said, "but does he keep his promises?"

Briggs grimaced.

"I think he must," he replied rather coldly; "nobody sees or hears anything of them afterwards!"

NIPISSING MINE PROPERTY RAZED AT COBALT LAKE

Four Buildings, Including $500,000 Mill Are Included in Loss.

SHUT DOWN OVER YEAR.

Vice-president States Plant Will Not Be Rebuilt—Damage Covered.

COBALT, Aug. 15.—Four buildings on the Nipissing Mines property on Cobalt Lake were destroyed last night in a spectacular fire which lighted up the northern sky for miles around.

The low-grade mill, machine shop, storehouse and blacksmith shop were demolished, but at a late hour, with the fire still burning, it was reported that the electrical shop, boiler house and drying house would be saved. The blaze lasted all night.

In the absence of the manager, Hugh Park, no estimate could be secured here of the loss, which will be heavy.

Rapid Progress

The fire at the mine, which has not been operating since last year, broke out at 6.30 p.m., behind some stamping machinery, and in two hours the four buildings — frame with mental sheeting—were smoldering ruins.

The low-grade mill, which was built in 1911, cost $500,000 to erect and equip, it is understood. It was the largest mill in the camp.

The Cobalt fire brigade under Chief William Stimson laid hose from the nearest town hydrant to the fire, but ran out of hose when one line had been laid for 1,000 feet and consequently could play only one stream on the flames. The Nipissing Mines pumping equiment was useless, due to a short circuit, according to Chief Stimson.

Fourth Fire

The Nipissing mill is the fourth to have been destroyed in recent years. The O'Brien mill was burned on Labor Day, 1922; the Coniagas mill in May, 1924, and the McKinley - Darragh mill several years ago.

The local employment situation will not be directly affected by tonight's fire, since little activity had taken place on the Nipissing property since April, 1932. Some of the machinery had been removed from the buildings.

Covered by Insurance

Alexander Fasken, vice-president and secretary, stated in a telephone conversation from Port Credit last night that the fire loss is fully covered by insurance and there will be no financial loss to the company. He also stated that the plant will not be rebuilt.

Nipissing's operations at Cobalt were suspended last year owing to the low price for silver, and the

A Place to Eat

WILLOOWS, Calif., Aug. 15 (C.P.) — Five prisoners liked Glenn County's new $60,000 jail as a place to board, but they found it a trifle too confining. Sheriff Roy Head said they fashioned a key from a mop handle and took turns going out at night to visit friends, always returning in time for breakfast. The sheriff said they now would face charges of jail-breaking.

PICTURING RIOT TICKLISH TASK

Havana Mob Smashes Camera and Plates About to be Put Aboard Plane.

PHOTOGRAPHER CHASED.

NEW YORK, August 15. —A thrilling and near'y tragic story of adventure and adversity was pieced together yesterday from cabled bits of Havana news—the story of the heartbreaking battle of Associated Press staff photographers to fill an "assignment" against odds of revolution, bloodshed, and rioting.

As the last of a relay of planes dropped to Newark airport at noon with a realistic pictorial account of the Cuban revolt, it marked the successful conclusion of another phase of another "newspaper story" that cost many thousands of dollars and almost cost the lives of two Associated Press cameramen.

Seymour Ress, Associated Press photographer, lost his camera and precious plates on Saturday afternoon at the hands of an hysterical mob which descended upon the airways dock to prevent the escape of Col. Orestes Ferrara, former Secretary of State.

As the pilot took off in a hail of bullets, with the secretary and his wife safely aboard, the infuriated mob bore down on Ress and destroyed his camera and plates—which were to have gone to Miami aboard the plane.

At the point of pistols and rifles they forced him into a machine and after handling him roughly threw him out in the outskirts of Havana

Another Associated Press cameraman Jose Garcia who last week was dragged to safety as he was photographing the massacre of celebrating Cubans by soldiers before the presidential palace, dug out from vaults duplicate "shots" of the rioting of the week-end.

GUNMAN CAUGHT NAPPING ON FARM

Alleged Kidnapper of Urschel and Massacre Leader, Safe in Jail.

FIVE OTHERS TAKEN.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Harvey J. Bailey, identified as the leader in two recent major crimes in the United States, the Kansas City union station massacre of five men and the $200,000 ransom kidnapping of Charles F. Urschel, millionaire Oklahoma City oil man, was in jail here last night as the resultof the Federal Government's drive on racketeering.

Bailey, convicted bank robber and a leader of the Memorial Day prison break at the Kansas Penitentiary at Lansing in which the warden and two guards were kidnapped, was trapped as he slept heavily armed on a cot in the back yard of a farm house seven miles from Paradise, Wise County hamlet.

With five other persons arrested at the place, which was identified as the rendezvous where Urschel was held captive by his abductors, Bailey was brought to Dallas and placed in jail.

It was announced a "substantial sum" of the Urschel ransom was found in the possession of Bailey, who was heavily armed.

Fingerprints of the multi-millionaire Oklahoman were found on a bed, a bench and a water glass in a tenant house on the farm in which officials said Urschel was held prisoner until ransomed by his family.

Trent River Branch Is Donating Quilt

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 15 (Examiner Correspondence).—The August meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon at the summer home of Mrs. Hallowell, with an attendance of 21.

The members are donating the quilt on hand to the Outpost Red Cross Hospital at Apsley. The members discussed the proposed division of the 12 branches of Women's Institutes into six, but Trent River members favor no division. Mrs. Osmond, of Toronto, who is spending a few weeks at "Glendower," was present and spoke a few words regarding Institute work, being a members of Scarboro branch for more than eighteen years.

Mrs. Corbett, of Toronto, who is also at Glendower, gave a short address on the work of the Institute. Miss Isabel Alexander, of Toronto, guest at Windermere, gave a recita on.

A joint meeting of Seymour West branch and Trent River will be held on Thursday afternoon, August 17, at the home of Mrs. John Armstrong, Hillview farm, the roll call to be "home economics."

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mesdames Harry Mann, T. F. Ward, J. Garneau, Thomas Wight, George Brooks. Mrs. James Cook kindly offered the use of "Glendower" for the Institute for the winter months. The members are arranging for a sewing class in order to have the young girls of the community interested in needlework, the full particulars to be discussed at the September meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. Ward Glenn.

Mr. A. Fenten, of Toronto was a recent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith.

Miss Hazel Wetherburn of Brighton has returned home after visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Macklin.

Fall Wheat Yields 40 Bushels To Acre

MILLBROOK, Aug. 15.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A crop report for this vicinity includes the fact that hay and alfalfa are yielding good returns this season, the first cutting running two and one-half tons per acre, and red clover a yield of two tons to the acre. Fall wheat yielded as much as forty bushels to the acre in occasional fields, with the average running thirty to thirty-three bushels.

Early peas are not averaging over five and one-half, or possibly six, bushels to the acre, and some fields have not given a return of more than the seed. Late peas, however, are yielding from eighteen to twenty bushels to the acre. Two fields of alsike recently threshed gave a return of seven and three bushels per acre, respectively.

Early potatoes are spoken of as "no good," but late ones, especially after the recent rains, are likely to be a fair crop. Very few mangolds came up on many farms in this neighborhood, but what crop there is now appears to be doing "not too badly." Turnips promise a fair crop now that the much needed rain has come.

Oats and barley have not yet been threshed, speaking generally, but it is expected returns from these grains will be available within a few days. Though short in the straw, the heads are fairly well filled.

SHIPS COLLIDE ONE ABANDONED

Coast Guards Rush to Take Crew Off Rescuing Schooner.

FOG COVERS SCENE.

BOSTON, Aug. 15 (A.P.) — The United States Coastguord destroyer Wainwright arrived alongside the Norwegian freighter Horda at 2 a.m. (E.S.T.) to-day, prepared, if necessary, to take aboard the crew of a schooner believed the Gloucester fisherman Shirley M. Clattenburg, which was leaking badly after colliding with the Horda, bound for Philadelphia from Port Alfred, Que.

Apparently there was no immediate necessary to abandon ship. The Wainwright's wirelessed report to Coastguard headquarters here did not contain any details.

The Wainwright was not far off last night when the Hodra and the schooner collided on George's Banks, about 150 miles east of Chatham. The destroyer was taking an injured seaman to port and immediately changed her course to go to the schooner's aid.

A smother of fog made visibility almost nil over the Banks and the Coastguard vessel was obliged to proceed slowly. The Wainwright's officers described the dense fog as one of the heaviest in months.

Bank Probe Finishes First Public Session

VICTORIA, Aug. 15 (CP)—The Royal Commission on Banking today had concluded its first public session in its tour of Canada eastward to hear the opinions of witnesses in regard to the decennial revision of the Canadian Banking Act. Headed by Lord Macmillan, the Commission left last night for Vancouver where a two-day hearing will take place.

The Commission yesterday heard both sides of the question of bank advances in British Columbia. After the Government of the Province had suggested in a brief that the banks should be more generous, Mayne D. Hamilton, representing the Pacific sub-section of the Canadian Bankers' Association, declared it is only possible for banks to supply a portion of the working capital needed for industrial expansion, and fixed capital must come from other sources.

FLOODING RIVER CHANGES COURSE

Chinese Fear Hoang-ho Will Reach Old Bed Hundreds of Miles South.

TOWNS, CITIES MENACED.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 15 — Many thousand persons were believed already drowned by the rampant Yellow River, as its flooding waters continued spreading to-day over wide areas along its 2,600-mile course.

Breaks in dykes in Western Shantung resulted in new floods surging over villages and farms. Fears that the great stream, one of the largest rivers of the world, would renew its old bed through Kiangsu were expressed in despatches from Piangsu Province.

The floods in Honan were reported spreading southeastward, and the water had reached Lanfeng, east of Kaifeng, the point where the possible return of the river to its old channel is considered most likely.

(The Hoang-ho or Yellow River, which rises in Tibet and traverses Northwest China proper, Mongolia and then Northeast China proper, flowed into the Yellow Sea at a point several hundred miles south of its present mouth prior to 1853).

Suchow, in North Kiangsu, is an important city and railway junction, which now lies in the path of the old river bed. Emergency dikes were being constructed there to deflect the flood if it comes. Other large towns are also on the course.

Despatches from Hankow said flood conditions near the City of Szeshui were becoming worse. An area fifty miles wide, extending from Kunghsien to Szeshui and Chengchow, was reported completely submerged.

Property losses are said to be enormous.

Consolation

MCKIAN, Aug. 15 (C.P.)— Drought, crows and passing motorists made Si Handcronnie despair of harvesting any of his corn crop. He set up a scarecrow and one day carelessly hung a pail on it.

Later, while pulling up stalks, he found the bottom of the pail covered with dimes, quarters and half dollars he believes were left by motorists in exchange for ears of corn.

BUSH TRAGEDY IS UNCOVERED

Berry Pickers Find Part of Man's Skeleton 6 Miles From Englehart.

CHECK MISSING LIST.

ENGLEHART, Aug. 15.—In an effort to establish identity Provincial Police are checking up their list of missing persons in this district, followng upon the discovery Sunday of part of the skeleton of a man, which apparently had been lying in the bush for a number of years past. Berry pickers found the remains, which consisted only of part of the skull, several ribs and a shin bone, about six miles from town.

Constable Thomas Houldcroft was notifield and is investigating. With the skeleton were found also about a dollar in silver coins, a watch, faor, pocket-knife, spectacles and other small articles, but there was no trace of clothing which might have provided a clue to the identity of the victim. Some of the articles were almost eaten away by rust.

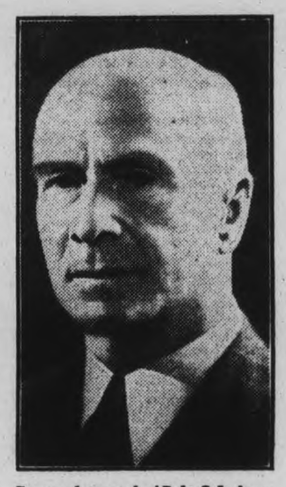
Why Doctors Order Light Exercise After 45

IT is not a medical whim that doctors so often order light exercise to men over 45. For more than 90% of men and women at forty-five, and for 60% at forty, it is dangerous to exercise strenuously. A humiliating admission for civilized society to make, for it is a situation that need not be.



From a photograph of Robt. G. Jackson, M.D., at 75. After eighteen years of increasing decrepitude, Dr. Jackson at 50 was given only four months to live by the great Sir Wm. Osler. By natural living habits and the use of alkaline foods, Dr. Jackson is today, at 75, able to do anything the average healthy man in his early thirties can do.

Scientists now hold that the "potential life of man is 187 years". The Bible and Zoology place the age of man at 120 years. A great scientific authority says, "Science knows of no reason why man should ever die, for his tissues constantly renew themselves. It is only that poisonous accumulations in his tissues destroy or prevent function that causes man to die."

Yet man has power to control largely the degree of poisonous accumulation in his body and thus control his length of life, also his health during his lengthened life. Men and women sin against their bodies with every breath and thus make exercise dangerous after forty or forty-five. Their chief sin pertains to foods and feeding habits.

I sinned thus in earlier years and was a "down-and-out"—an old "has-been" at thirty-two—and dying from forty-five to fifty. But at fifty I changed my food and other living habits and now take on daily exercises, in my seventy-sixth year, that are more strenuous than would be safe for 75% of men and women at thirty-five. At seventy-five I flout disease, dare it to attack me, do it safely, because I obey the laws of nature governing health.

Science shows that 80% of our food intake must be natural, vital and alkali-forming if we would be vital and youthful after forty-five and able to continue strenuous exercises after seventy-five. But the food intake of conventional civilized people is 98½% denatured, devitalized and acid-forming, which is why doctors find it unsafe for so many of their patients to exercise after they are forty-five. The accumulated residues from such foods have burned out the cells that build the body, and at thirty-five to forty-five the heart and other vital organs formed out of these devitalized cells cannot put forth great functional effort, save at the risk of collapse and death.

Proper foods are one-fifth of the means at our disposal for attaining such physical perfection that we can challenge disease. Proper skin care, exercise, sleep and mental control will do the rest. I observe all the health laws that rule these several groups of functions, and I safely challenge disease.

How do I feed myself? Very simply! And only simple diet can be natural, vital and alkali-forming.

Each day I have one full, large meal of Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy or Lishus, made thick enough to chew thoroughly, served with milk, cream or butter; a second meal is a large salad, and bread, muffins, or pudding made from one of the three cereals named, with butter and honey; a third meal consists of salad with grated cheese or nuts or cottage cheese. For this meal lightly steamed vegetables may be substituted for salad, and the meat, or egg-eater may substitute these for cheese, nuts, etc. Sweet dried or juicy fruits, berries, etc., form my desserts, and Kofy-Sub is my only beverage, served always with brown sugar and evaporated milk—as it always should be served.

Anyone who will adopt this diet before real organic destruction has set in from using wrong foods, can exercise as strenuously as at twenty-five, and he can do so until he is long past seventy-five, as I shall surely continue to do.

Yes, I do work harder for far longer hours, and exercise far more strenuously, at seventy-five, than 95% of men can do at thirty-five. And I constantly defy disease.—do it on the lecture platform before the public, do it now! And I am safe in doing it so long as I obey the health laws of nature.

There is hardly anyone who reads this message who cannot do the same if he or she will feed him or herself as I do, and thus obey nature's health laws and obtain nature's great reward for such obedience—HEALTH and immunity from disease. These foods are our best summer as well as our best winter foods. Don't doubt—try these foods and prove the statement true.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

In these days when there is so much talk about money, and especially the lack of it, it is well to remember that money is but a means to an end, and that it cannot do everything.

• • • • • • •

It is a means of exchange and as such the person who has "mints of money" has it in his power to procure for himself and his family the things which money can buy.

• • • • • • •

It is delightful to have a plentiful supply. One can know that as long as it lasts, material things are his, either actually, or at such time as he prefers them to the power to secure them.

• • • • • • •

All this is wonderful, but if the person exhausts most of his money through necessary or unforseen demands upon it, or through reduced values of investments, all is not gone.

• • • • • • •

It is at such times that one must take a fresh look at what remains of the good things of life. Apart from money what does life hold for a person?

• • • • • • •

Many and different are the answers to such a question, but among them there are some things in common and others which to individuals are varied but outstanding.

• • • • • • •

First and foremost of the things to count, is good health. If you have it, you have one of the greatest, if not THE greatest blessing. It is power, too, for a person can rally conditions and come out victorious, even in financial ways, if he has the back of health.

• • • • • • •

Another thing scarcely less valuable is family affection. This is something no money can buy. It can procure luxurious living, but this and affection are widely separated although there is a tendency to confuse the two.

• • • • • • •

Affection is the well-spring of comfort and happiness. It upholds one in times of distress, and makes it possible to face hard and difficult problems with the courage to succeed.

• • • • • • •

Those who have the love of husband or wife, mother, father, children or a family sometimes omit to calculate this element in their valuations of life. Lonely souls look with wondering pity on those who, having such a blessing fail to know its worth.

• • • • • • •

It is often the suddenness of a financial crisis which is so staggering that every other matter is swallowed up in the one absorbing sea of trouble. The appreciation of what is left, of the residue of bounty which remains in other sources than money, this will act as a life saver at such difficult periods.

• • • • • • •

It takes persistent determination at times to realize that good things remain, but this determination is the approach to appreciation, and that vision of existence which accounts the good things of life as only, in part, dependent upon money.

Your Health

by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Yesterday we spoke of the flags the body flies in health—the colors of the body and the composition of the pigments which enter into those colors. In general we found they were due to the metals in the body—iron makes red, copper and manganese tints of green and purple and orange (as in the eye), and sulphur black.

Dr. Clendening

There are flags of disease, too. The black death! The yellow jaundice. Yellow fever.

There is a fellow with the lemon yellow tint of pernicious anemia. The "ruddy glow" of health which is due to the red of the iron of the blood is gone, because he only has a fifth as much blood as he should have. He began to have a distaste for meat about 10 years ago because, although he didn't know it, his stomach juices dried up. He had heard that meat was bad for you anyway after the age of 40. So he stopped eating it.

There is another one with brown scruffy hands. He believed the vegetarians. Meat was bad for you.

That little baby with the red, weepy eyes. His mother heard that tomatoes were acid. So he didn't get any tomato juice, or any of the other things that contain Vitamin A. Now the baby has xerophthalmia. It's fun, they say, to be fooled, but it's more fun to know.

Certain other of the flags of disease are not so preventable. That chap with the peculiar yellowish, greenish tint of the skin. He has jaundice. The color is due to bile circulating in his blood. The commonest cause is infection making its way from the intestine up to the bile ducts. Next most frequent is a gallstone lodged at the opening of the bile ducts—damming back the bile. There is no sure way to foresee or prevent those conditions. Other cases of jaundice, however, could have been prevented—the jaundice due to cirrhosis of the liver from alcoholism, or the jaundice following degeneration from using too much cincophen, a drug which relieves the pain of chronic rheumatism; many such cases have been reported lately.

The blue color of the face due to heart disease is striking—"cyanosis" the doctors call it. The heart can't pump the blood through the lungs fast enough to get it loaded with oxygen, so it stays blue. The same color is present in people who take too many headache remedies—this time it is due to a change in the coloring matter of the blood.

A peculiar form of blueness of the skin is due to shoe dye poisoning. The material used to dye brown shoes black is absorbed into the blood through the skin of the feet; if the dyed shoes are worn too soon; if they are thoroughly dried first this does not happen.

Last of all the black flag of melanoma, the black, or dark blue tumors which arise from pigmented warts. All such warts should be removed to prevent the spread of this tumor.

2,000 EMPLOYES ADDED BY GENERAL ELECTRIC

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Aug. 15.—Gerard Swope, president of the General Electric Company, announced yesterday wage increases totalled $8,000,000 and addition of 2,000 employees to the company's payroll.

Mr. Swope, following a meeting of General Electric executives said the code for the national electric manufacturing industry will go into effect to-day, but added that pay jumps and hour reductions will be effective as of August 7 in his company.

Increases, he said, will affect more than 42,000 employees.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

Leila Hyams, one of the most popular of the younger screen actresses, lives all year 'round at Malibu Beach. Leila spends all the time she can snatch from the studio in a bathing suit. And she thinks that there's nothing like a good dip in the briny for cooling and refreshing the body during the hot summer months.

Gladys Glad

The fair-headed Leila certainly is right about that. Anyone who ever has been in the ocean knows what a gloriously invigorated feeling sea bathing gives.

Unfortunately, all women cannot indulge in ocean bathing.

However, any woman who is not near enough to a beach, or has not time enough to take ocean plunges as frequently as their beneficial effects warrant, can do her salt water swimming right at home. For she can easily make a miniature ocean of her bathtub. And a home-made salt bath is practically as beneficial as a real ocean plunge.

If you want your salt water bath to really duplicate the ocean, get a thermometer and see to it that the water in your tub is of summer ocean temperature—from 62 to 72 degrees. Elderly persons may prefer the water at blood temperature—98 to 100 degrees. To the bath water add a pound of salt, and reserve just enough to massage the muscles and the feet as a finish. You may use the pure salt crystals that are sold in drug stores for this purpose, or common table salt. They are equally effective. And always, before leaving the tub, rinse the salt from your body thoroughly.

If you have a shower in your bathroom, the process of taking a salt bath can be greatly simplified. First dampen your body. Then take handfuls of salt and rub your entire body thoroughly. While your skin is still glowing from the friction, turn on the shower and rinse every particle of salt away. Do not let any salty residue remain on your skin, as it might tend to have a drying effect.

Salt baths are excellent for people who work or play at the expense of nervous energy. They are immeasurably invigorating and refreshing. They will tone up the circulation of the entire body, will overcome the ill-effects of fatigue, and will help to counteract the debilitating effects of hot weather.

FINE WORK

It is a pleasure to watch as fine bidding and playing as the hand below brought out. North and South were vulnerable. East and West had no score.

	♠AQJ107 ♥A94 ♦4 ♣K782
♠None ♥K1085 ♦AQ10 95 ♣A854	North West East South	♠K842 ♥Q732 ♦82 ♣Q109
	♠9653 ♥J6 ♦KJ763 ♣J6

West opened bidding second hand with 1-Diamond, and bidding went on: North, 1-Spade; East, 1-No Trump, to show some values but no biddable suit; West, 2-Clubs; North, 2-Spades; East, 3-Clubs; West, 3-Hearts. North easily read that West had five diamonds, four clubs with a quick trick at least, and four very poor hearts. North passed. East saw that 4-odd might be made, either at clubs or hearts, but that game at clubs must be almost out of the question, so he closed bidding with 4-Hearts, doubled by North.

North could not open spades without losing a trick. Clubs and diamonds were poor openings, so North led his Ace of hearts, followed by the 4. West's K won the second trick. He led a small club towards dummy. North declined to win the trick. Dummy's Q won. The 8 of diamonds was led. South covered with his J. Declarer's Q won. West led a low trump. North's 9 fell to dummy's Q. The 2 of diamonds was led. South covered with his 6 and declarer's 9 held the trick. North discarded his lowest spade. The declarer led his Ace of diamonds. North and dummy let go spades. When the declarer led a club at the ninth trick North won with his K, giving his side its second trick, with very poor chances to defeat the doubled contract. Unless North could win a spade trick and his partner could win a diamond trick there was no hope of beating 4-odd, but it was useless forth North to lead his Ace of spades, setting up a spade trick in dummy, before the diamond trick was won by South. That player would lead a spade if he ever had the opportunity.

North made his exit by leading his losing club, putting the declarer in the lead, and giving him his eighth trick. Dummy and South discarded spades. Dummy ruffed a low diamond from declarer's hand. The declarer trumped a low spade from dummy, giving the declarer his 4-odd, and completing the twelfth trick. South won the third and last defensive trick with a diamond.

The bidding developed an unusual feature. West held four clubs and four hearts. Clubs were biddable but hearts were not biddable, according to ordinary standards. That is why West wisely bid clubs first, knowing that East would not support hearts upon less than four of the suit and a high honor. The whole strategy was good.

OUR GREAT TOURIST ASSET.

Reference was made in these columns a short time ago to the importance of the tourist trade to Eastern Ontario. Hope was then expressed that a letter by Hon. George Challies to the Ottawa Chamber of Commerce reflected a personal interest which might be utilized as a source of powerful leadership within the Ontario Government in a concerted effort to attract more tourists to this section of the province. It was pointed out that our three major chains of lakes lie east of Toronto, the Muskokas, Rideau and Kawarthas, and that these beautiful and extensive playgrounds comprise an asset that should be more vigorously exploited.

A number of Peterborough citizens who in the past have been actively identified with the Trent Waterways Development Association have expressed a wish to infuse new energy and vision into the association, and as a further inspiration and reminder of the importance of the tourist trade, we quote the following from the Cleveland Plaindealer, a newspaper that has been for years friendly to this section of Ontario and its asset of endless scenic beauty:

"Last year the tourist trade put more cash into Canadian pockets than did even the golden wheat fields of the Prairie Provinces or the sawmills and paper plants of the north woods. Visitors from south of the border left $165,000,000 with inn-keepers and merchants, Ottawa estimates. This is scant half of the amount spent in 1929. But even on the reduced scale purveying to the tourists remains in cash receipts the Dominion's largest single industry except mining. Part of the gain is offset by the spending of Canadians in the United States, but last year these did not amount to much more than one-third of the American expenditures in Canada.

"Beer or no beer, further reduction might be expected this year. But one feels that the Canadians need not be unduly alarmed. The Dominion is such a glorious vacation country that its holiday assets should continue to pay good dividends to those who help make the visitors' stay a pleasant one. And in spite of time-worn jests to the contrary, there really are thousands of American tourists in Canada who never have been bottle-minded."

"SOCIALIZATION OF HEALTH SERVICES."

At least one clause in the C.C.F. program that does mean something which the average man can understand and clearly visualize is their proposed "socialization of all health services."

It means, for instance, that all the hospitals in Canada would be assumed by a C.C.F. administration, probably with compensation to those who had built them. It also includes the idea of "state medicine" with doctors, dentists, nurses and all branches of this service being brought entirely under the Government's control.

This clause is brief and definite. Apparently hospitals under a C.C.F. regime would all be converted into state-owned and operated institutions whether or not their present proprietors assented. No exception whatever is proposed in this five-word sentence. As it stands, it represents a vastly different idea from the provision of public health services which many citizens would like to have established in this country, similar to Great Britain's system.

We have already adopted such social legislation as the Old Age Pensions Act, Workmen's Compensation, Mothers'-Allowance. Splendid accommodation and treatment for the feeble-minded has been provided in our modern specialized institutions. The orphans and aged are well cared for, but the wage-earning citizen, especially the head of a family, is left unprotected against the unpredictable financial losses of unemployment and sickness. In our society the married man, his family and his job have been essential basic units. He is the ultimate consumer and taxpayer. In a sense he is the state.

The C.C.F. is not the first political party to propose unemployment insurance, but its inclusion of socialization of health services does go farther than the policies of the other parties. It is a political promise designed, however sincerely, to attract popular support and votes for the C.C.F. And its appeal lies in the average man's fear of the costs of sickness. Even in the best of times his savings may be greatly depleted or entirely wiped out by illness that strikes himself or members of his family. Hospital and doctors' bills are the bane of the working man who can never be certain of escape from their levy upon his slender resources. He may not desire socialization of "all health services," but he would welcome at least the measure of relief which the British hospital system provides. For instance, several years ago a Peterborough man went to Scotland after local medical skill had failed him, and in Edinburgh his disease was promptly diagnosed by an expert without even a farthing fee. That is the opposite extreme to hospital and medical charges in this province that are so often serious financial setbacks to the wage-earning father whose family, by the way, is usually the largest in the community. Free hospitalization by a plan of contributory support would afford adequate protection for the ordinary citizen of this province at a small cost, would enlarge his security and happiness, and encourage him to seek immediate medical attention instead of delaying it and the involved expense he hopes to avoid.

We do not need to overturn our existing system and establish a socialist state to accomplish this public service. Great Britain didn't need that recourse, nor do we.

Africa, asserts a British geologist, is the cradle of the human race. There seems after all to be some justification for the "mammy" songs.—Los Angeles Times.

ASSISTANCE FOR BUILDING TRADES.

To the building trades the present season now running its course has been another summer of disappointment.

A few houses have been erected, but the aggregate investment has been small, and the extent of employment cannot be classed even as "spotty."

Several obvious causes of this continuing condition have been clearly discerned. Salaries and wages have shrunk to alow average; prospective home-builders have lacked sufficient money to undertake the expense of building new houses for themselves. Some who are already owners of homes have been hard pressed to protect their equity in the property. The lot of the freeholder on part time employment who has interest payments to make has been uncomfortable and in many instances unhappy.

The moratorium on mortgages has been another adverse factor in the suspension of activities in the building trades. It was put into effect by the Government with the best of intentions, but everyone realizes that it has shut off mortgage loans.

The man to-day with $4,000 planning to build a $5,000 house by giving a mortgage for the remainder soon realizes that all the ordinary sources of credit are closed against him. And in normal years, according to the local information, probably 95 per cent. of the houses are built on this old plan of financing.

Available money has been driven by the moratorium into other channels of investment, such as Government bonds, earning regular interest. Who would lend $1,000 to the builder of a house in the face of legislation that for the time being prevents him from securing interest if the mortgagor is unable to meet his payments?

If the Government withdrew the moratorium and established a fund, by loan if necessary, by which mortgagees would be assured of full protection, building loans would be encouraged and the old institution of real estate would be maintained as a sound and fluid investment.

And in all probability there would be more health and activity in the building trades and kindred industries, work for the carpenter, bricklayer, painter, and a better demand for lumber, hardware, and building supplies generally.

Some serious obstacle must impede this form of Government assistance with its possibilities of employment reaching out in many directions; but we can't imagine what it is. In the Old Country vast housing schemes have been successfully projected by the Government; the suggested plan of substituting for the moratorium an expedient of protecting or guaranteeing mortgage rights should not be a burden to the Government's credit.

Home-ownership has been long regarded as a basis of good citizenship. It is part of the citizen's contribution to the state, and as such is surely as sound an investment in the country as the purchase of a Government bond. One is practically as direct an investment in the state as the other. Why then should special concern surround bond investments with preferred security while real estate and the building trades are left in the relief line? Grant that the Government needs the money raised by domestic loans for extraordinary expenses arising out of the depression, but one means of moving the depression might be found in this suggested plan of promoting employment in the building trades and the industries that supply their materials.

Building schemes by the Government might properly be proposed to assist these industries and thereby increase employment, but the Government would not be required to assume so large an obligation if it could accomplish partial activity in these lines by encouraging mortgage loans to home-builders.

THE NORTHERN SETTLERS.

Ontario's Minister of Lands and Forests, Hon. William Finlayson, who has just returned from a visit to the new settlements in Northern Ontario, states that the progress of the settlers there is remarkable and that only fourteen out of three hundred families have returned to their former homes. In this connection it is unfortunate that there should have been any bitterness over the criticism of conditions as he found them made by Mayor Croll of Windsor, who with Mr. H. E. Gignac of that city, and formerly of Brantford, followed up the settlers who had gone from the Border Cities to study the situation at first hand. Mayor Croll was well advised in seeing to the welfare of his fellow-citizens, and his criticism was offered in good part and apparently was justified.

No matter how carefully they may be selected it is not to be expected that every settler can adapt himself to conditions in the North country. That has always been so of pioneering everywhere. Of those who went from Brantford, for example, some reported the arrangements as quite satisfactory, prepared themselves for the trials inseparaable from the life of a pioneer, and settled down to make good. Others had only unfavorable criticism to offer and hastened home at the first opportunity. In Oshawa, the settlers who have gone North from that place recently wrote a letter to the officials expressing their deep gratification for the assistance that had been given them in starting life anew under conditions which they regarded as entirely satisfactory. The experience of the Windsor expedition was apparently the reverse of Oshawa, and so it goes.

The idea of placing settlers from the more thickly populated sections of older Ontario in the North country was a good one, but in the anxiety to provide for the unemployed, the organization and the advance arrangements were probably inadequate to take care of the first settlers to arrive. These weaknesses have now undoubtedly been overcome, and when Mayor Croll of Windsor makes his second visit, which he promises will be in the early fall, he will likely find no further cause for complaint and that his criticism was, therefore, not altogether unavailing.—Brantford Expositor.

THE TUTTS By Crawford Young

JILTED

By Margaret Widdemer

INSTALMENT 29.

Patricia stood, small and slim and rather annoyed, with her hands behind her, and answered Ethan for the fifth time.

"I did not see any note," she reiterated. "You know I always tell the truth."

Ethan sighed. He knew she did.

"Why do you care so?" she demanded, her blonde brows knitting with her uncanny concentration on the problem at hand. He made no answer Suddenly Patricia spoke. "It has to do with my Helen. It was her note. . . . Is that why she won't come back, because she says she gave it to me? Well, then, I don't care." Patricia gave away her honor royally for love, her little face tense with the sacrifice "You can believe her and not me, if it will bring Helen back."

"It isn't that entirely, dear," he said.

"You look terrible," she announced. "Something's awfully wrong, and you're all being stupid about it, the way most people are. I'm going to see to things."

Ethan made no answer. He scarcely heard her.

Generous with love. That was it. That was the torment of it. Generous with love to him, had she been too generous to others? Would she never belong to him only?

He faced his own thoughts, he followed them back. Hard and dishonorable like Nina. Nina was hard and dishonorable. Yes. And it was Nina's word that Ronny was in love with Helen that he had accepted. It was Nina's amused suggestion that Helen's old lover had returned, and that Helen knew it and knew he was free and . . . was not to be trusted? Yes, that was what Nina had hinted subtly. He had taken Nina's word. He had been a fool. . . .

And yet—she had broken her promise not to see Ronny. She had said she had left a note explaining, and there it was her word against the child's. . . .

He walked the floor for hours, till it was so dark that if he had not known the room by heart he could not have paced the darkness.

He went to the telephone and called her.

Mrs. Birch answered him.

"She's gone to Doris Milliken's, that movie business they make such a fuss over," she said. "She won't be back till late."

That was where he had first known she belonged to him. He had a quick impulse to drive over there now, wait for her as before. But he checked himself. It wouldn't be fair to take her by storm again before the others. . . . He would write.

He sat down and wrote to her. He told her that he loved her and trusted and believed in her; that he was coming to see her next morning. He walked out through the fresh damp chill of the February evening, and down to the nearest letter-box, coming back with a lighter heart. He could see her at latest by ten. He would go down and start the office machinery—a very important matter must be at least shelved next morning—and go straight back to Helen's house. . . . He sighed with happin ss. . . . Helen again!

Patricia had made for the lodge, where Marietta at this time of day would be resting from her labors and talking to her husband about the affairs in Kingsway Village.

There was little concerning the Kingsway family which escaped Marietta, whether she had to discover it lawfully or unlawfully.

And as she earnestly desired things to go right with the Kingsways at all times, and Ethan's marriage was something she considered a good thing for future generations, for once she satisfied Patricia's curiosity.

"God moves in a mysterious way His wonders to perform," she confided to her husband afterwards. "And if that outlandish young one can do anything, I for one am for givin' her the chance. I never saw nothing like her anyway; I guess she'd a-had a short life of it in the early days in Salem."

"Where's the Higginson boy?" Patricia demanded.

"Ain't you the beatenest?" said Marietta in genuine admiration. "I did hear he was workin' in Defremne's Garage over Wayne way."

Patricia scarcely stopped for thanks. She sped through the darkening grounds, rushing into the dining room just in time to take her seat at the table, and demanded across the candles of Ethan, trying to talk to his mother as if nothing had happened, "I want five dollars advance on my allowance."

Ethan handed her a five-dollar bill absently.

Patricia held tight to her bill, and then surreptitiously thrust it up a bloomer-leg. Nobody said anything more, not even Marietta, who saw her in bed. She was up early next morning; she breakfasted betimes in the kitchen, and took with her unaccustomed riches not a bus but a taxi to Wayne.

She found Ronny in overalls, hosing down a car.

"You Ronald Higginson?"

"Yes. What is it?" demanded Ronny.

"I'm Patricia Kingsway, and I have to have an important talk with you. I think Ethan's lots better looking than you!"

"Oh, the little girl Helen looks after," said Ronny.

"I think you've wrecked Helen's life," said Patricia, using a phrase acquired at the movies, and saved for some occasion really worth it.

He woke at this, and stopped hosing. "What on earth are you talking about?" he demanded.

Patricia summed up the case against him with her characteristic briefness.

"And so you see," she finished, "they've broken off because of you And we simply have to have Helen marry Ethan. We need her round the house. And she does love Ethan lots more than you. I don't want to hurt your feelings, but I've noticed it, and I'm a very observing child. Everyone says so."

Ronny stared down at her.

"Mood heavens," he said. "Look here, little girl, wait till noon and I'll go over with you and see Mr. Kingsway."

It was two hours till noon. Patricia nodded. She had some of the five dollars still, and she thought she could amuse herself. She went out to explore the resources of Wayne, and was back on the stroke of twelve.

They drove like mad to Kingsway, in the battered Ford Ronny had never abandoned in his most socialistic moments.

Ethan meanwhile had gone to his office and called Helen again from there.

Mrs. Birch's nasal voice replied.

"She's went on a picnic with Tom Delamater. I s'posed you was on it too. She said she'd be home by four anyway."

"I remember. No, I couldn't make it. Tell her I'll be there at ten minutes past four."

He turned back to the business in hand. He was outwardly as unmoved and self-controlled as ustial. But underneath the quiet directions he gave his subordinates, the clear decisions he made, one thought went on and on, insistently, refusing to be checked or forgotten or dulled.

It was almost a relief to the dull terror that kept hammering at him when Ronny and Patricia, reinforced by Doris, walked in on him at midday. Ronny had gone straight to Doris' house and called her out.

"Here's Ronny and Doris," Patricia said. "Even you will have to believe them! Tell him," she directed tall Ronny, and he obeyed.

"Doris and I've been married some time," he said, coming straight to the point manfully. "Helen was in on it. If she's got into trouble with you through my fool pride and Dory's fool cowardice, I can never forgive myself."

He rushed on, telling Ethan that he was going to tell Doris' people, and his stepmother, asoon as he left her.

"I'm taking Doris over to Wayne to live," he finished. "I've found a splendid furnished room that's vacant tomorrow. And," Ronny ended frankly, "if I'd taken your advice that time you came over and talked to me, and used more common sense and less pride, none of it would have happened. Helen's been a wonderful sport straight through."

They were gone, leaving behind them an atmosphere of innocence and young love and folly that made Ethan smile a little, and then sigh. . . .

Helen—had he lost Helen? It was a hundred years till she would get back from her accursed picnic with that young rotter into whose arms he'd practically thrown her. . . .

Its a small world, but you can wander far on its broad, brown, green, gray, white surface....See the fields of New England, the tossing Great Lakes, the rolling prairies of the Middle West, the deserts of the southwest, the crags of the Rockies, the fields, plantations, and bayous of the south, the sunshine and white lands of the northeast. See the snows of the north, the jungles of the equator, the massive, liquid wastes of the restless oceans of the world....With your physical eyes or your dreaming imagination ,travel to every land under the full moon or the yellow sun.... Its not so small as one sometimes thinks.

• • •

And though life slips swiftly beneath your feet, theres time enough for growth and seeing and becoming....Time for being born, time for growing, time for learning a few things, time for making up your mind, time to be a failure, time to be a good success....Time to touch ignorance and wisdom, doubt and faith, fear and courage, hatred and love, and be shaped and patted and beaten and drawn into the human being that other people see and think they know....There's time enough.

• • •

We complain about life. Life, if it would speak to us, might well complain of us.

We complain of the shortness of living, but Time might retort that we do too little now with the hours he has allotted.

We are cramped by the world, but its vastness rebukes our small imaginations.

We are bored by our lives, and the immense variety of nature shames our peevishness into silence.

We talk of failure, but the only failure is within ourselves.

We speak of pessimism, and the only defeat is in the human heart.

Why do we fuss and fume?

Madoc Couple Are 44 Years Married

MADOC, Aug. 15. — (Examiner Correspondence).—Tufts family reunion was held as a joyous home gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tufts in Madoc, when their six children with their wives and husband and the grandchildren met to celebrate the forty-fourth anniversary of the wedding day.

A presentation was made in a touching address by E. G. Tufts, after which the whole company, twenty-three in number, sat down to a sumptuous dinner presided over by Mrs. W. J McCoy, a niece, as assistant hostess.

Deep regret was expressed that Jack and Patricia Tufts, of Saskatchewan, were not present, which would have completed a full family reunion of twenty-five.

Among those present were: E. Garnet and Irene Tufts and daughter, Helen, of Saskatchewan; Marguerite and Hector Thompson, George, Louis and Edith, of Ottawa; John M. and Ruby Tufts, Florence and Clancy, of Belleville; Marion and Adam Yearwood, Shirley and June, of Belleville; R. Kenneth and Eva Tufts and little Beverly, of Belleville; Mildred and James E. Bird, of Madoc.

Quotations For To-Day

Men fear Death, as children fear to go in the dark; and as that natural fear in children is increased with tales, so is the other.—Bacon.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE FIRST ELECTRIC CARS

On this date, in 1892, the first electric car was operated in Toronto by the Toronto Railway Company. It is a landmark in the history of the city, but there is no justification for the claim that it was the first in any Canadian city. Ahearn and Soper had already begun their wizard-like electrical developments at Ottawa and there is no doubt that Toronto's experiment (which proved the forerunner of its present service, was secondary. I am assured that the first electric railway n Canada (apart from an experimental toy which had been tested out at the Toronto Exhibition) was operated between Windsor and Walkerville on June 3, 1836 and that Mr. H. J. Pettypiece, editor of the Forest Free Press, was the first passenger on the first car operated. He has thus described the trip:

'A gangling, gawky-looking object resembling nothing quite so much as an unusually, long milk wagon, its wall broken by windows, groaned and creaked its way out of a big barn near the present Peabody bridge in Walkerville. The day was June 3, 1886. "Now we'll see if the darn thing will start," muttered the man at the lever. Twisting the bar around he felt a vibration beneath his feet. A moment later the weird vehicle was in motion rolling down Sandwich street toward Windsor, with a crowd of shouting men and boys behid it. When the car reached the centre of the town there was a call for a few passengers, but all in the street seemed reluctant about risking themselves, on the freak car. The first three passengers were Andrew Baird, W. J. McKee of Windsor and H. J. Pettypiece. Mr. Pettypiece has a distinct recollection of the event and knows that he was the first of the three to enter the car, which then made the run of two miles towards Walkerville and back."

Mr. Pettypiece's first act after the ride was to cross to Detroit to the Free Press and tell them about the great event at Windsor, and he adds: "All Detroit visited Windsor the next week to see the wonder." (En passant, it may be worth noting that Mr. Pettypiece has also the distinction of having been the first passenger on the first automobile ever run in the streets of Toronto.)

An authoritative article by Dwight Burrows in the Aera gives a comprehensive list of electric railway installations and confirms Windsor's claim. As early as 1834, Thomas Davenport, a Vermont blacksmith exhibited at Springfield and Boston a toy electric motor moving on rails, and in 1847, at Dover, New Hampshire, Prof. Moses G. Farmer operated a two-passenger experimental electric car. But excluding toys and experiments, and disregarding the cars shown at exhibitions (including Toronto), the record of regular passenger carrying electric railways is:

First in world: May, 1881, Lichterfelde, near Berlin, Gerany: Siemens and Halske electric line, a mile and a half long, with current first taken from running rails and later from overhead conductors.

First in Great Britain: 1883, Third-rail line from Portrush, Ireland, to the Giant's Causeway, operated by Siemens and Hopkinson.

First in America: August, 1885, Baltimore and Hampden line, operated on third rail.

First in Canada: 1886, Windsor, Ontario, Van Depoele, who had exhibited at Toronto fair and who had installed railways at South Bend, Ind. and Minneapolis, installed commercial lines not only at Windsor, but at Appleton, Wis., Port Huron, Mich.; Scranton, Pa., and Montgomery, Ala.

Second in Canada: 1886-7: Thorold and St. Catharines Van Depoela equipped lines at that point, and at Lima, Ohio; Binghamton and Jamaica, N.Y.

Some years since the Border Cities Star asserted: "Windsor has always had the distinction of having had Canada's first electric street car and she does not propose to relinquish it at this late date." That was in 1927, and despite the fact that electric railways are now fast being abandoned, Windsor still insists upon the distinction.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyst for the Readers of The Examiner.

Mrs. L. Briston,
Millbrook, Ont.

The outlines are not quite as well pronounced in pencil as they would have been in ink, but they show that you are sensitive and easily hurt through your feelings. Sometimes you are on the verge of doing the very thing that you desire most to do, then you change your mind for no apparent reason, and do not accomplish it. You are afraid to go ahead with your well made plans, because you do not want to be laughed at. This characteristic will have to be overcome if you really want to be successful. As it is, you cramp your style and cannot make the best of things. I do not advise a business career for one of your type, but there are many, many opportunities which will present themselves to you in the course of events. If you are ready to grasp them, you will find happiness and love.

Mrs. S. Anderson,
314 Townsend St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis shows that you are generally serious minded and that you prefer to do your own thinking and do not like to be made to do anything which goes against your better judgment and conscience. You are quite changeable and seem to desire to engage in new ideas and thoughts. You are capable of undertaking and carrying out these intelligent propositions too, but you do not appear to wish to engage in any project which necessitates too much time and mental energy. This is because your enthusiasm wanes when a proposition requires a longer period in the undertaking than that which you feel called upon to expand. There is a tendency to give way to imagination, and to dream dreams of future success. Dreams will not gain much recognition for you, but ambition will. You are not nearly as firm as you might be. It is because you find yourself giving in to others for the sake of peace and quietness? Your capital 'M' reflects a slight artistic tendency. This may be developed in the manner in which you wear your clothing, or in the manner in which you arrange your surroundings, but does not of necessity mean that you must paint.

Evelyn Lorne,
631 Oxford St., City.

The handwriting as delineated on your sample for analysis represents a 'pliable' nature. You are fairly easy to deal with except when you make up your mind that you want to do things in your own way. This cannot be depicted as will power, but rather a tendency to perverse. The rounded capitals reflect an artistic talent which might be developed into something definite and bring you pleasure as well as remuneration.

Muriel Jones,
Norwood, Ont.

The handwriting as described on your sample for analysis shows that you are a temperamental person. You like to have your own way, though you do not always manage to do so. Sometimes you enjoy work and sometimes you do not feel in a mood to undertake any labor whatsoever. Your will power is demonstrated to a normal extent. Your tall upper loops denote a good imagination. I think you could tell a good story and enjoy a joke even if it happened to be one about yourself. As a housewife, you would be most successful and the ultimate outcome of your life is love and happiness, free from care, where your cheerful disposition can have full sway.

Rosling Institute Field Day Withdrawn

THOMASBURG, Aug. 15.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The August meeting of the Roslin Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Winfield. There were eighteen members and six visitors present.

Old business and new was discussed. A field day, which was planned in July, to be held August 15, was withdrawn as another institute has chosen that date for their field day.

The flower fund box was given to Mrs. William White and Mrs. William Gillespie, as Mrs. Milton Forgey and Mrs. Charles Chapman have taken care of it the past three months.

At this point the leader for August, Mrs. Donald Leslie, took charge of the meeting.

Miss Ramsay gave a reading on hospitality. Mrs. Harry Sills read, "Do's and Don't's for Institute Members." Miss Reta Harrison sang a solo. This was grandmothers' day, but there was only one grandmother present. A contest, "Who's Who in First Photos," was won by Miss Velma Chapman, who was given a needle case.

The meeting was closed by God Save the King, after which lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. H. Sills and Mrs. Horace Palmer.

Routine Business At Fenella Meet

FENELLA, Aug. 16 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bruce Macklin, with forty-two members and visitors present.

Mrs. F. George gave a report of the trustees' meeting with regard to the work done in the Community Hall.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. James Waldie, with Mrs. Frank George and Mrs. M. Adams as program committee.

The meeting was then given over to the program committee. Mrs. Harrison George gave a roll call, "My Favorite Girl's Name"; reading, "Making the Most of Life," by Mrs. George Montgomery was greatly appreciated; solo, "Hard Times Come Again No More," sung by Miss Donna Talling was very much enjoyed.

A reading, "Do's and Don't for Institute Members," by Mrs. W. H. Sandercock, and a reading, "How to Make Your Institute a Failure," by Mrs. Fred Talling, were much appreciated.

A contest, "What Was Planted and What Came Up," by Miss Ruth McFiggin was enjoyed, and Mrs. W. Rogers moved a vote of thanks to the hostess; the usual social half hour being spent.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (AP) — The ceremony of blackboard exhibition of fictional quotations took place promptly to-day on the Chicago Board of Trade. About the only variation from recent experience of brokers and spectators was plaguarding of a notice that no Winnipeg prices would be available today until half an hour after the usual time, while Canadian trade authorities considered what to do in view of abnormal conditions here.

Virtually no dealings in any kind of grain were witnessed in Chicago, and prices which were formally posted were the minimum allowed under emergency rules, unchanged from yesterday and Saturday.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MINING EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, August 15 (C.P.).—Mining stocks broke their horizontal movement to turn moderately weak in the afternoon trading to-day on the Standard Exchange. Senior gold shares did not recede to any marked extent but secondary gold issues weakened.

Leading base metals were firm, Nickel holding at $20, Noranda at $33.85, and Waite-Ackerman at 2.40.

The rather unsteady action of the market leaders, attended by low buying power, opened the way for some selling in a few specialties, Eldorado and Reno particularly feeling the force of a selling drive. The Great Bear silver issue was forced to a new low for the current slump at 3.35 down 50 cents from the previous close.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, August 15 (C.P.).—Stocks mulled about in extremely dull trading to-day with prices at slight variations from yesterday's close. Mild buying in the afternoon advanced a number of the leaders fractions to around a point. Some were United States Steel, American Telephone, Dupont, American Can Chrysler, General Motors, Industrial Rayon, and Allied Chemical. American Commercial Alcohol rose more than two points.

TORONTO STOCK EXCHANGE

TORONTO, Aug. 15. (CP) — All sections of the Toronto Stock Exchange Board marked time to-day with prices holding on the whole but with moderate weakness showing in spots. Volume was small outside of Walkers common and the metal shares.

Distillery shares were practically motionless in the matter of price variations. Distillers Seagram, Walkers common, Industrial Alcohol did not change more than a quarter point and brewers and distillers was unchanged at the close.

Nickel and Smelters were the firm spots in the interlisted group, Nickel closing unchanged and Smelters fractionally higher at 30½. Brazilian lost ¼, Ford of Canada ¼ and C.P.R. was steady at 16⅞.

Trading travelled along in a narrow groove, showing a majority of losses at mid-afternoon but no definite weakness any place on the board. Patrons of the market appear to be awaiting the development of a definite trend one way or the other in the New York market.

Oil shares were less firm to-day and a little selling appeared in the food group but interlisted shares were steady, particularly the metals and Ford of Canada. Distillery shares also held well supported sentimentally by strength of National Distilleries on the New York Board.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, Aug. 15 (C.P.)—Although a slightly firmer tendency was experienced near the close, prices on the Montreal stock exchange closed lower to-day. Sales volume was light.

Canadian Pacific Railway at 16⅜. Montreal Power at 38⅝ were both up ⅛ while International Nickel held unchanged at 20.00. Brazilian Traction lost ⅛ at 13¾. Consolidated Smelters gained 1¼ points at 131.

Viau Biscuit preferred dipped 30 points at 40 on its first board-lot appearance this year. Cement preferred lost two points while Bank of Nova Scotia and Power Corporation both declined a point.

CHARGES FATHER SWUNG HIS FORK

was having "fun" with money he had invested in the homestead.

Although Bradley's statement failed to explain how the bodies of his father and uncle came to be found in a barn at the rear of the homestead, it was believed the men crawled there after being shot.

Bradley was arrested a week after the quintette-slaying on a warrant signed by Dr. Leopold Renaud, local coroner. He will face preliminary hearing Sept. 7, when it is expected his statement to the police will be produced against him. The hearing was scheduled for next Friday but will be delayed with the consent of defence and Crown counsel.

A RARE PLANT.

The lily stands five and a half feet high and this year there are 16 stalks and 91 blooms, each about 10½ inches across. The flower is white in color with yellow dots on the petals.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

TORONTO, August 15 (C.P.).—The following wholesale prices on fruits and vegetables were supplied by White & Company to-day:

Imported fruits—California grapefruit, per case, $4.75 to $5.25; hothouse cucumbers, per 11-quart basket, 35c to 40c; outdoor tomatoes, No. 1 per 11-quart basket, 25c to 30c; outdoor tomatoes, No. 2 per 11-quart basket, 20c to 25c; new cabbage per bushel 60c; spinach per bushel, 75c; Lawtonberries per pint, 6c to 7c; good dry blueberries, per 11-quart basket, $1.00 to $1.25; wet blueberries, per 11-quart basket, 50c to 75c.

Japanese Admits Scheme Aimed to Cause Friction With United States.

REVOLT TO FOLLOW.

TOKYO, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Testimony regarding a plan to assassinate an American Ambassador and Consul was offered today during the court martial of 10 naval officers charged with assassination of Premier Suyoshi Inukai and other terroristic acts in May, 1932.

The witness, Lieutenant Kijo Ito, one of the defendants said on the stand that two naval officers seriously considered the plot in order to cause friction with United States and thereby promote a Nationalist and Militarist revolution.

Lieutenant Ito testified he was wounded in the Shanghai campaign early last year and was still in the hospital. He could not therefore, participate in the Tokyo raids culminating in the assassination of the premier.

Consequently, he added he and Lieutenant Haruo Oba planned further assassinations as their contribution to the terrorists' cause, but were arrested as accomplices in the Tokyo outrages before they could act. At that time, he said, the American ambassadorship was vacant. Joseph C. Grew had not yet arrived, and W. Cameron Forbes had left for home.

Lieutenant Horishi Yamagishi, leader of the 10 officers undergoing court martial, testified that fears of "America's Ambition" motivated the terrorists.

GIRL IS VICTIM OF GUN PRACTICE

R.A.F. Gunner Swoops Plane Pouring Blast of Lead Into Boat.

MISTOOK IT FOR TARGET.

SHEERNESS, Kent., Aug. 15 (AP)—One of the strangest tragedies in British military annals occurred to-day when a London girl, Jean Chesterton, 17, who was rowing in a boat with her sister off Leysdown Beach, was shot dead by a machine gunner in a Royal Air Force auxiliary plane. The gunner mistook her boat for a target.

The girls were a quarter of a mile from the shore searching for a child's ball which had floated out from the beach.

Five planes roared overhead and began shooting at a string of buoys. One of the gunner's, mistaking the rowboat for a buoy, killed the girl instantly. The sister rowed frantically to shore.

The planes were manned by Territorials — Volunteers — on annual training.

Part of His Job

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 15 (CP) Calls on civic officials for unusual services are many but Alderman J. W. Jones believes he has the prize exhibit.

Awakened late at night by a ringing telephone, he heard a feminine voice demand he call out the fire department to chase starlings away from the resident's home. After explaining it cost $100 to call hard-worked fire fighters from their beds and that the best they could do if they were called was to chase the pesky birds to another tree, the alderman rolled over and went back to sleep.

HEAVY SELLING FORCED ACTION

ing debacle showed marked pickup, but belief was expressed it would have reached larger proportions had less uncertainty prevailed regarding action of the Winnipeg market.

What Will Chicago Do?

CHICAGO, Aug. 15 (CP)—News that the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day had decided to follow the example of Chicago traders, and establish an absolute fixed minimum for grain prices was received nonchalantly here. Inasmuch as the Winnipeg minimum was announced to be identical with yesterday's close, little importance at first was attached to the course adopted by the Canadian exchange.

Very different, however, was the reception given to the initial prices which came a few minutes later from Winnipeg. Delighted cheers went up from the crowd of idle Chicago brokers when the fact became evident that the Winnipeg market instead of standing still was rapidly advancing. More than four cents a bushel jump in Winnipeg quotations was shown. The maximum rise, though, was quickly followed by a three cent reaction, and Chicago enthusiasm soon faded.

Much attention was given by Chicago grain traders to-day to a statement by a large brokerage concern asserting that although selling orders would undoubtedly predominate coincident with lifting of minimum price pegs here, investment purchases on a scale down would prove extremely profitable in the end.

Unofficial announcement was made that the directors of the Chicago Board took no action on their decision of three days ago to remove at the close to-day the absolute fixed minimum price level, and rely hereafter on a fluctuation limit of five cents up or down in any one day.

MACHADO GANGS BEING RUN DOWN MAKE CUBA SAFE

New Government Steps Boldly to Task of Untangling Old Regime's Work.

EXILES HEAD HOME.

One U. S. Destroyer Remains in Havana Harbor on Guard.

By JOHN P. McKNIGHT
(A. P. Staff Writer)

HAVANA, Aug. 15—A new Cuban government set out to-day to find solutions for problems inherited from the upheaval that caused the overthrow of the Machado regime.

In the harbor, as a steadying influence, the United States destroyer Taylor rode at anchor. The navy cruiser Richmond was enroute through the Panama Canal to the Atlantic side to await orders.

The destroyer Hamilton was expected to arrive at Manzanillo today, but confidence in the return to normalcy was seen in the recall of the destroyer Claxton.

Dr. Carlos Manuel de Cespedes, the provisional President, gathered about him a young and inexperienced cabinet to cope with the political and economic troubles growing out of a widespread strike, now ending and disorders attending last Saturday's revolution.

They and the whole republic were asked by Dr. De Cespedes in his inaugural address to co-operate in recovery. He asked for unity so that "no one may doubt in the future, our democracy's capacity for self government."

Hunting Terrorists

Soldiers and squads of A B C opposition members continued to seek out and kill or imprison for trial, men of former President Gerardo Machado's strong arm squad who are charged with slaying Oppositionists in an effort to maintain the Machado dictatorship by force.

The popular temper against remains of the deposed government however, cooled considerably.

At least 18 members of the notorious Porra have been killed in the last three days. A score have been wounded. Military authorities estimated that at least 21 were in one prison or another.

Reports reaching Havana said a number of Porristas had barricaded themselves in General Machado town near here seeking protection of soldiers, who guarded nearby highways to prevent the sacking which has been visited on residences of every prominent Machado follower.

In the morgue today were 27 bodies of persons killed as Porristas or participants in street fighting.

It was considered likely however, that others had been buried without being sent to the morgue.

Exiles Plan Return

MADRID, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Scores of Cuban exiles here plan to return home immediately to attempt to resume their lives where they were interrupted by political differences during Gerardo Machado's administration.

The expatriates include members of nearly all professions and many students who have been attending Spanish universities, as well as institutions in other European countries, since Havana University was closed.

STORM LEADS

Bailey once boasted. But when he was aroused from sleep to look up into a machine gun, he changed his mind, and remarked:

"Well, it looks like it's just too bad, doesn't it?"

The machine-gun slaying of four officers and their prisoner at Kansas City, June 17 and the ransom kidnapping of Charles F. Urschel of Oklahoma City July 22 are only a few of the crimes charged to Bailey by authorities. Ransom for Urschel has been reported as high as $200,000.

Charges have been fyled, at Oklahoma City, against 11 persons in connection with the kidnapping of the oil millionaire. They were fyled under a federal law which provides for a life sentence. Federal officials withheld the names of those charged, but it was understood they included Bailey, Albert L. Bates, under arrest in Denver and identified by the department of justice as George Bates, a suspect in the Urschel case; and George Kelly, still at large.

In St. Paul, Werner Hanni, chief of the federal bureau of investigation, said that Sam J. Kronick, Charles Wolk, William Nelson and Sam Kozberg, under arrest there will be charged with conspiracy in the Urschel case.

Bailey, taken at a lonely farm cabin near Paradise, in north Texas, and the four other arrested there, were being held here for probable early return to Oklahoma City.

SPORT OF KINGS

By ART MURRAY
(Special to Examiner.)

A BANNER meeting is called for the second session of the 1933 season at Devonshire Park, Windsor which throws open its gates to the paying public on Saturday, Aug. 19. Walter Mara has been engaged to substitute for Starter Marshall Cassidy who will be engaged on that day at Fort Erie. J. A. Healey is slated to take eleven performers of the C. V. Whitney stable to the border plant.

* * *

FORT ERIE is enjoying a wonderful meeting so far. The fields are large and the competition is very keen. The Tout is up there ready to win at the first asking and he usually does cop a heat at this track, most times at juicy odds. Bylona is another that will turn on the juice when he is least expected.

* * *

THE GANG tells us that Freethinker is coming back to his oldtime form and if he does it will be just too bad for all these Canadian breds. When he belonged to the Seagram stable as a two-year-old he was considered the best in Canada. We also like the chances of Mrs. Foster to take a heat before many moons especially if she has a little mud under her feet.

* * *

WRIGLEY FIELD is enjoying a short rest but will be back one of these days to continue her good work. Partisan has not been doing much lately but the ex-Hatch colorbearer has a habit of dropping from the skies, so be on your guard. Pitchblende which won on Saturday is the first start he ever made is a half-brother of Frothblower. If he follows in his footsteps he will go on and win about seven straight. Miss Monoa is just raring to go and there will likely be a race at Fort Erie just made to order for her.

So Glad

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 15, (C.P.)—"Oh, I'm so glad you have adopted President Roosevelt's policies in Canada, too" said a young girl, a visitor from the United States at the Fort Erie race track, to Harry Bush, special operator at the track. "Isn't Mr. Roosevelt wonderful? I'm sure going to tell all the folks back home."

Bush was left wondering what it was all about until someone called attention to the "N.R.A." on his cap—the abbreviation for Niagara Racing Association.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN

TORONTO, Aug. 15. — Ontario grain, approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat 62c to 65c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Aug. 15.—Wholesale butter prices weakened, while other lines held unchanged on the Montreal dairy and produce market yesterday. No. 1 grade butter in cartons or less eased a quarter of a cent a pound from last week's close, generally selling for 18½ cents. Only 78 boxes of butter were offered for sale.

The cheese market held unchanged at 19c to 19¼c a pound for Ontarios, with Quebecs half a cent beneath these levels. Exports of cheese from Montreal last week totalled 15,578 boxes, compared with 32,775 boxes for the corresponding week last year. Cheese exports to date this year were announced today as 217,127 boxes, as against 347,417 boxes a year ago. Receipts today amounted to 251 boxes, bringing the year's receipts to date to 394,556 boxes. Last year at this time 510,043 boxes had been received.

The egg market was steady at 19c a dozen for extras, 15c to 16c for firsts, and 12½c for seconds, for graded shipments, in carlots or less. Offerings were 377 cases.

The old and new potatoes held unchanged on the potato market, with new Quebecs bringing 80c to 90c per 80-pound bag, and New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Green Mountains selling at $1.25 to $1.30 per 80-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—The Chicago grain trade yesterday nervously watched business go to Canada. Prices here became meaningless. Owing to an emergency fixed minimum grain price limit, which could not be removed until after the close of trading hours to-day, buying power here refused to assert itself, and sellers could not find outlet except at Winnipeg. Complicating the situation, which largely grew out of financial difficulties two weeks ago on the part of a New York trader whose holdings of grain and other commodities, as well as securities, totalled far up into millions of dollars, was the fact that Washington officials had disapproved a code for grain exchanges in the United States.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, August 15.—Rallying under the impetus of good export purchases, wheat prices came out of an early session tailspin to show net losses of 2¼ to 1⅞ cents at the close of the Winnipeg Grain Market yesterday.

After slipping down into the 60's in the initial 5-cent break, October came back to close at 70¼c, December finished at 71⅝c, and May at 76⅝c. Aside from the hectic period at the opening, trading was not very active.

No figure was placed on yesterday's export business, but the only support that checked the flood of selling orders from Chicago was credited to houses with export connections. It was said yesterday's sales for shipment would be at least 750,000 bushels, while Saturday's 2,000,000-bushel figure was raised to 3,000,000 yesetrday.

Demand for cash grains was moderate and spreads were generally ¼c to ½c better. Heavy selling in oats, barley, and rye featured coarse grains trading, while flax general y was negected.

Church Club Holds Enjoyable Picnic

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 15.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—The members of the T.O.G. Club of the Baptist church held a very enjoyable picnic on Thursday afternoon at the locks with a social evening following. The ladies had a very nice afternoon and evening and as a fitting climax, a presentation was made to Miss Pearl Walker, who is leaving shortly to enter upon her training as a nurse in Hamilton General Hospital. An address was read and a memento presented. During her residence in the village Miss Walker has contributed much to the service of the church and the club. As organist of the church, she has been a valuable worker and her singing has delighted the congregation on more than one occasion. Possessed of a pleasing personality, Miss Walker has made many warm friends who join in wishing her success in her chosen career.

The excellent program of dinner music played by Mr. Jack Lane and his orchestra was a feature of the lawn social of the joint parishes of St. Paul's church and St. Mary's church on Monday last. This was inadvertently omitted from the report of the social.

ORDERED DEPORTED

BUFFALO, N.Y.—After pleading guilty to charges of illegal entry, Mrs. Florence Whitmore, 31, formerly of Brantford, Ont., was ordered deported in federal court yesterday.

Mrs. Whitmore's arrest followed a hurried trip to Canada after two of her children, living with her estranged husband, were burned to death in July near Brancroft. She had been working as a domestic in Niagara Falls when the tragedy occurred.

She was released on her own recognizance pending completion of deportation arrangements.

Hurries to Cuba

MARIO GARCIA KOHLY

Resigning his post as Cuban ambassador to Spain, Mario Garcia Kohly is hurrying to Cuba to help solve the present governmental crisis. Senor Kohly has fought for years for constitutional leadership of opposition groups which paves the way for his possible nomination as provisional president.

FIFTEEN TEAMS IN TOURNAMENT

First Annual Softball Tourney at Lakefield Meets With Success.

GOOD PRIZES.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 15 (Examiner Correspondence).—Fifteen team entered in the first annual tournament in Lakefield, held on Monday afternoon on the Exhibition Grounds, under the auspices of the Lucky Strikes' softball team. The tournament, arranged as a prelude to the street dance held in the evening, was even more successful than its organizers anticipated.

Probably one of the greatest attractions was Harvey (Busher) Jackson of the Maple Leaf hockey team, who came down with a team from Bobcaygeon to enter the senior class. His presence was eagerly noted by the numerous hockey fans, who transfer the allegiance with the season.

From all over the district people flocked for the games, but the largest crowd followed the girls' series. The prizes were presented at the close of the tournament by E. Briant, who assured the crowd that the event will be an annual affair, with probably silver cups for prizes. This year, as the tournament was arranged as an experiment ,the prizes were bats and balls and were very acceptable.

The Senior girls' section provided a very close game between the two teams who entered, and was well worth seeing.

Rye's, who were runners-up in the Senior men's section, had three games without intermission and though tired put up a strong game against the Rangers in the finals.

In the Intermediate section, Keene had the same experience as Rye's, playing three successive games.

The umpires were E. Briant, C. Chittick, K. Junkin, W. Wingett, E. Northey and B. Blewett.

Two teams entered the Senior girls' section, Bailleboro and Warsaw, with the former the winner, 18-17. Prize, one bat and two balls.

Three entries were made in the Intermediate girls' First round—Lakefield 16, Young's Point 12; Selwyn gets the bye. Lakefield 21, Selwyn 11. Lakefield won the prize, two bats and a ball.

Five entries were made in the men's Seniors. First round—Rangers 4, Omemee 3; Rye's 12, Bobcaygeon 7; Crowe's Landing gets the bye. Second Round—Roye's 16, Crowe's Landing 10. Rangers get the bye. Second Round—Rye's 16, 9 Rangers of Peterborough won the prizes, 2 balls and 2 bats.

Men's Intermediate.—First round—Keene 6, Fishing Club 4; Norwood 14, Warsaw 11; Bailieboro gets the bye. Second round—Keene 16, Bailieboro 0; Norwood gets the bye. Final—Norwood 8, Keene 4. Norwood wins the two balls and two bats, which constituted the prize.

NIPISSING MINE PROPERTY RAZED

fact that all the high-grade silver ore had been cleaned up. It is understood that Nipissing has ended its mining operations in the Cobalt camp and the property will be permanently closed.

The Nipissing Mines Company was originally incorporated with an Ontario charter in 1917, with a capital stock of 1,300,000 shares of $5 par, all issued. It was one of the leading silver producers of the province, and during the 15 years of operation the company paid a total of $29,940,000 in dividends. At the present time Nipissing has stored at Cobalt and New York nearly 2,750,000 ounces of silver, which is being held with the expectation that the price for white metal will show favorable appreciation in the not distant future.

While Nipissing seems to be at the end of its career as a silver producer, it has hopes in other mining endeavor and at present is actively engaged in the gold fields of this country. Its principal interest at this time is in the Beattie Gold Mines, in Quebec, which recently entered the list of low-grade producers.

Obituary

JAMES STINSON

HASTINGS, Aug. 15 (Examiner Correspondence).—Friends from far and near were present to pay solemn tribute to the late James Stinson, whose sudden death by drowning on Thursday night shocked the whole district and whose funeral was held on Sunday afternoon.

Born in Prince Edward county in September 1850, Mr. Stinson came with his parents to Percy Township where they took up residence on the farm now occupied by F. Conway. After his marriage, on December 31st, 1874, he took up farming for himself on the farm now owned by L. Stinson. Nineteen years ago the late Mr. Stinson and Mrs. Stinson retired and moved to Hastings. Of a quiet disposition, the deceased gentleman made a host of friends, as was shown on Sunday afternoon by the very large crowd present and the many and beautiful floral offerings.

There are left to mourn his loss his sorrowing wife, who is quite ill at the present; two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Wilcox and Mrs. L. E. Kelley of Hastings; also two brothers, Harry of Cobourg and Lewis of Trenton.

Rev. H. J. Bell of Trinity United Church, assisted by Rev. M. L. Hinton of Castleton, conducted the services. Rev. Bell took his text from the book of Matthew, 20th chapter, sixth verse, "Lay up treasures for yourself in heaven."

The bearers were Messrs. A. Willson, M. J. Baker, W. J. Warner, J. F. Jones, Dr. J. H. Hess, and J. Cruickshanks.

Interment was made in Trent Valley Cemetery.

Search Continues For Freeman

KAWARTHA PARK, Aug. 15.—(Special.)—Search for the body of James Freeburn, 25, of Young's Point district, who is believed to have drowned in Clear Lake some time Friday, continued throughout yesterday. Cottagers and residents around the lake dragged the east shore of the lake hour after hour without result. Freeburn set forth Friday noon to cross the lake. He never arrived at the far shore, and the netx day his canoe, half filled with water, and paddle were found floating near the Rotary Boys'

LIBERALS AIM AT RECIPROCITY

Party United Behind King to Force Bennett Into Pact With U. S.

FIRM ON 1911 STAND.

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., Aug. 15 (CP)—The Liberal party in Canada to-day stands pledged by its leader, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, to drive Prime Minister R. B. Bennet to a reciprocity agreement with the United States.

Presenting the Liberal program to a great open air meeting here last night the Whig chieftain said: "The Liberal Party stands to-day for a reciprocity agreement with the United States. We intend to drive Mr. Bennett to it. The Liberal Party does not have to twist and squirm on the question of reciprocity. It stands where it stood in the days of 1911."

Mr. King declared indications of late that the Prime Minister now favored reciprocity with the Untied States showed a great change from the position taken by the Conservative Party in 1911, when Laurier had been defeated on the reciprocity issue. He added the Prime Minister had not taken the initiative in approaching the United States on the matter, but had waited until President Roosevelt intimated his willingness to discuss the subject.

In the course of his speech the Liberal leader briefly outlined the position of the party on unemployment, control of trusts and combines, establishment of a central bank and other matters. To meet the first problem he proposed a great commission to deal with unemployment and the institution of a system of unemployment insurance.

Mr. King will speak to-day at Assiniboia, Sask.

Bethany

Mr. Douglas Driver, of the Goodyear Company, New Toronto, with a number of friends, spent a couple of days last week the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Driver.

Miss L. Washington left on a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Mountjoy, of Enniskillen.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Driver were visitors in Peterborough on Thursday.

Mrs. J. J. Hamilton, who has been spending the summer at their cottage at Greenhurst, spent a couple of days at her home here last week.

Miss Winnie Nesbitt has been visiting friends in Toronto and points west for the past week.

Master Charles Morton, nephew of Miss Nesbitt, joined her on Monday to visit Niagara Falls and other points of interest.

The members of the W.M.S. of the United Church met for their regular meeting on Tuesday in the church parlors. Arrangements were made for the rally to be held in September and plans formulated for a quilting to be held on Friday, the quilt in making to be sent in the bale which goes forwarded where needed in the early autumn.

SCHOOL FAIRS ARE ARRANGED

No Championship Fair Will Be Held in County This Year.

SIXTY CLASSES

Arrangements for the annual series of rural school fairs in Peterborough County are being completed by the local office of the Department of Agriculture in co-operation with R. F. Downey, school inspector of West Peterborough, and Leo W. Copp, school inspector of East Peterborough. The prize list has been made up and is available for distribution.

A silver flower holder is to be donated by the T. Eaton Company to the high winner at each school fair in the county. A book entitled "Famous Canadian Stories" by Donald G. French will be awarded to the second highest at each fair, and a book, "Canada," by Beckles Wilson will go to the third highest, both prizes offered by the T. Eaton Company. The award of money prizes will be decided upon by the individual school's at each fair.

The prize list includes sixty classes under the following heads: Grain and vegetables, flowers, livestock, writing and drawing, nature collections, farm and home mechanics, sewing and cooking. Ten contests to be held at each fair are: Weed-naming contest; boys' judging competition; girls' judging competition; spelling match; horse naming; recitation (First Book pupils; Second Book recitations; Third Book reading; Fourth Book reading and an oratory competition open to all.

The program of each fair will be as follows:

9 to 10 a.m.—Placing of exhibits.
10 to 2.30 p.m.—Judging of exhibits.
10 to 12 a.m.—Competitions. Classes 49, 61 and 62. Races and sports.
12 to 1 p.m.—Lunch.
1 to 2 p.m.—Massed parades of schools and school choruses.
2 to 2.30 p.m.—Livestock judging.
2.30 to 2.45 p.m.—Judges' comments on exhibits.
230 to 4.30 p.m.—Inspection of exhibits.
330 to 4.15 p.m.—Contests. Classes 60, 63, 64, 65, 66 and 67.

No championship fair is being held in the county this year. The schedule of the fairs, as announced by A. D. Runions, Agricultural Representative, follows:

Burleigh, Sept. 18; Apsley, Sept. 19; Keene, Sept. 20; Westwood, Sept. 21; Warsaw, Sept. 25; Douro, Sept. 26; Bridgenorth, Sept. 29; Peterborough, Oct. 3.

Canadian Marksmen Start Second Day

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont., Aug. 15. (CP)—Close to 500 marksmen here from all parts of Canada for the annual meeting of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association got down to business to-day with the final shoot of the Banker's match, the rapid firing Borden Memorial match, the Geowski and Dundonald snapshooting competition and the big Walker service rifle shoot the order of the day.

Glorious weather helped to get the Canadian meeting off to a fine start yesterday. Toronto marksmen and a sharpshooter from Medicine Hat, Alta., got off in front of the parade when they split honors in the MacDougall service Rifle match, first of the events in the grand aggregate. Both Sgt. Major R. Kiddie of Toronto and Trooper H. W. Prebyn of Alberta scored possible of 35 at each of the two ranges, 500 and 200 yards, and after dividing first and second money they will shoot off for the Challenge trophy.

Hamilton Company Awarded Contract

HASTINGS, Aug. 15 (Examiner Correspondence).—The E. P. Muntz Construction Co. of Hamilton, have commenced pouring concrete in the new Fowlds dam.

The dam, which will be about one hundred and seventy-five feet long, nine feet high and six feet wide is to be finished in twenty days according to the contract. Mr. Watkins is the engineer and James Baskin of Norwood the foreman.

The new dam replaces the old one that was erected by the Fowlds over seventy years ago, when they dredged the raceway out to develop their own power.

Not to put the farmers to any hardship Mr. Walter M. Fowlds has arranged with the Dartford Mill to look after the chopping. Fowlds & Son trucks transport it both ways.
